Lucille Ball

Lucille Ball, one of America's most beloved comedians, was born on August 6, 1911, in Jamestown, New York. Although Ball got her start as a singer, model, and film star, she is best remembered for her lead role on the 1950s television sitcom I Love Lucy, where she co-starred alongside her husband Desi Arnaz.

I Love Lucy ran for six seasons before wrapping up in 1957; by 1960, Ball and Arnaz had divorced. Ball went on to star in two other acclaimed sitcoms, The Lucy Show and Here's Lucy. In 1962, she became the first woman to run a major production studio when she took the helm at Desilu Productions. Ball remained a force on-screen and behind the scenes up to her death in 1989.

In 1971, Ball became the first woman to receive the International Radio and Television Society's Gold Medal. Over the course of her career, she won four Emmys, was inducted into the Television Hall of Fame, and received a Presidential Medal of Freedom at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.
