WILL ISSUE SCHOOL BONDS

Council Will Ask for Bids on $40,000 Worth at Five Per Cent. Interest—Other Business Transacted.

Bids for painting both engine houses were awarded to William T. Hammell by the Council at regular meeting last Tuesday evening.

Present—Mayor Welsh, Councilmen Manhattan, O'Connor, Slover, Stanton and Stuart; Clerk Mack, Solicitor Pearce, Engineer Mason, Treasurer Perrine, Street Commissioner Connors and Collector Sutliff.

Minutes of previous meeting were approved as read.

The clerk read petition of property owners against alteration of southerly line of Portia street. On motion of Mr. Manhattan it was received and referred to special committee appointed previously by council on adjustment of lines on this street.

The clerk read protest signed by E. McDonough, C. Straub and others against the flagging of David street from Broadway to Rosewell street.

After some discussion, on motion of Mr. Manhattan it was received and filed.

A communication was read from Protection Engine Company asking use of city team for hauling fire engine at parade in Perth Amboy. On motion of Mr. Manhattan, it was received and referred to the Mayor.

The clerk read letter from Edward W. Hines, secretary Public Service Street Railway Company, acknowledging receipt of letters from the city. On motion of Mr. O'Connor it was received and referred to committee on streets.

The Chapman and Merritt Wrecking Company sent a letter requesting payment of $1,000 due for resetting sewer pipe in the bay, which on motion of Mr. Stanton was referred to sewer committee and city engineer.

Clerk read a request for transfer of license from Wacław Cosmoskie to William Lyons. On motion of Mr. Stanton, it was referred to committee on licenses.

George Gundrum, David Quinlan, C. H. Smith filed liens amounting to $242.81, with the council against Tippet & Wood, contractors for standpipes. They were referred to committee on water works.

Bids for painting engine houses were read as follows:

C. H. VanDusen, both houses...	$230 00
Wm. H. Ward, both houses...	177 00
J. M. Faulk, both houses...	225 00
Wm. T. Hammell, both houses...	150 00
Wm. H. Parlsen, both houses...	198 00

On motion of Mr. Stanton the bids were referred to committee on fire.

The following bills were ordered paid:

J. F. Shanley Co.	$13,293 00
Yopp Johnson	5 00
S. J. Mason	75 00
M. & M. B. L. H. & P. C.	438 34
Public Service Gas Co.	2 50
Labor, water works	55 24
F. J. Schantz	14 60
P. A. City Water Works	681 75
South Amboy Printing Co.	14 60
Perth Amboy Evening News	3 08
E. E. Haines	16 50
N. Y. Telephone Co.	60
J. J. Brancy	39 00
Labor, sewers	2 21
Collins & Gundrum	512 00
Collins & Gundrum	242 55
Labor, sewers	5 00
Public Service Gas Co.	3 80
James Dolan	50 00
J. Sutliff	33 49
Yopp Johnson	61 63
Labor, garbage	41 70

A reduction for outage of $31.83 was made from the electric light bill.

Ordinance establishing line on Portia street was continued on first reading.

Lawyer John A. Lovely was given the floor, when he explained that he had filed claims for labor against any payment to Tippet & Wood, until his clients' claims had been adjusted.

Mr. Wilson, representing Tippet & Wood, explained that the claims were caused by failure of E. L. Matthews, to whom the firm had sublet contract.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor it was decided that all claims must be paid before any payment should be made to Tippet & Wood.

On resolution offered by Mr. Manhattan and adopted, 800 feet of water pipe was ordered purchased.

On resolution offered by Mr. Slover, it was ordered that a note for $12,000 be discounted, at 5 per cent. in First National Bank in anticipation of assessment on Broadway improvement.

A note for $5,000 falling due was ordered renewed for four months.

A resolution appropriating $1,300 for paying public dock bond due October 1 was approved.

On resolution a sale of school bonds to amount of $50,000 was ordered advertised in the Financial Chronicle, Wall Street Journal, Perth Amboy Evening News and South Amboy Citizen. Mr. Slover voted against issuing of school bonds.

A resolution was adopted submitting to voters at the fall election the acceptance or rejection of an act to regulate salaries of the police in this city.

The report of city treasurer showed balances as follows: City account, $3,541.44; Sewer account, $11,047.48; Water account, $642.66; Broadway improvement, $1,926.10; which was received and ordered filed.

Licenses for plumbing were granted to Thomas Vail and Kelly & McAlinden.

An ordinance granting permission to Public Service Street Railway Co. to place switch at Broadway and Main street was placed on first reading, and laid over under the rules.

Mr. Stanton reported that the sewer connections at John Cosgrove's property had been uncovered, and it was found that two taps had been made, thus refuting Mr. Cosgrove's claim that there had only been one made for two houses.

Mr. Manhattan stated that committee on Water Works with city engineer would go over the ground and consider the request of the South Amboy Terra Cotta Company for better fire protection.

Mr. Stanton stated the hook and ladder company are anxious to have their new truck in time for Perth Amboy parade, and offered a motion that the clerk communicate with the bonding company stating that if truck was not delivered by the Combination Hook and Ladder Truck Co. at once, the bonds would be considered liable, and the clerk to also notify the truck company to same effect. It was adopted.

Bond and contract of Liddle & Pfeiffer were accepted.

On resolution the contract to paint engine houses was awarded to William T. Hammell.

Adjourned.

Peterson—Hardy

The parsonage of the First Baptist Church was the scene of a quiet wedding on Monday afternoon, the contracting parties being Miss Edith B. Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hardy of Broadway, and Mr. Charles Peterson. The ceremony took place at one o'clock, and was performed by Rev. Thomas Neal, Jr., the ring service being used.

Miss Mary Hardy, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and Mr. George W. Cheesman, of Perth Amboy, was attendant to the groom.

The bride looked charming, being becomingly attired in a coat suit of white serge, with trimmings of blue moire silk and white felt hat with willow plumes. The bridesmaid looked sweet in a gown of white lingerie. The happy couple left on the 1:47 P. R. train for Philadelphia, en route to Washington, D. C. A reception will follow on their return. They will reside on George street at the home of the groom's mother.

STRUCK ON HEAD BY BRICK

While working as mason at School No. 2 on Thursday, Augustus Barkalow was struck on the top of the head by a brick, which caused quite a bad wound. The brick fell from the top of the wall alongside of which he was working. Dr. Kulner was summoned, and after making an examination of the injuries, took Mr. Barkalow home in his automobile.

SHOE SHOP ROBBED.

Thieves broke a window in the shoe shop of Mike Brancato of Augusta street last Sunday night, and secured about $16 worth of shoes. No arrests have as yet been made of the thieves.

MORGAN DRAW IS REMOVED

Tide Assists Contractors in Removing It to Temporary Bridge Over Cheesequake Creek—Work Will be Rushed on New Bridge Over Creek.

On Wednesday night the draw of the county bridge at Morgan was moved by the Owego Bridge Company to the temporary structure erected to be used while a new lift bridge is being constructed.

The transfer was made by the use of two scows as pontoons. The old draw was previously strengthened by under pinning it with huge timbers, so that in its weakened condition there would not be any liability of its breaking in two. At low water the scows were moved under the draw one each side of the abutment, and then long and heavy pieces of timber were placed so that the ends running across the center pier reached each scow. Blocks were placed from these timbers to the draw and wedged tight. When the tide raised the draw was lifted and the scows with their burden were allowed to drift to the temporary bridge. The iron cradle of the draw was then removed and securely fastened to the center pier. As the tide began to recede the draw dropped in its proper place.

All boat traffic was stopped for the night, but on Thursday the draw could be turned and water traffic was resumed. Trolley passengers were transferred afoot over the structure, but automobiles were compelled to take the Cheesequake road in order to reach Keyport. It is expected that by this Friday night, traffic will again be resumed over the creek.

A number of people from this city witnessed the transfer, among whom was Freeholder Kerr, who was present to look after the county's interest.

When the draw was erected fourteen years ago no one dreamed of the traffic it would be burdened with. At that time a half dozen wagons a day would be considered a rush, but now the travel over it by autos and wagons is continuous night and day. The old bridge is entirely inadequate to the traffic, and has become entirely worn out. The freeholders did not decide on a new bridge any too soon, and it has been miraculous that the old structure has not collapsed from the heavy loads that travel over it. The work of clearing away the debris of the structure is now under way, and soon the concrete mixer will be busy on the foundation of the new bridge, and probably by the first of February it will be completed.

First Contributor To Campaign Fund

Following an appeal of the Democratic National Committee of this State to the public for campaign contributions, Mr. George Gundrum was the first to respond from this city and the second in the county. He has sent his check for $50.00, which is very pleasing to the committee of which Hon. Thomas J. Scully is chairman.

LEON GAMBLE.

Leon Gamble, for many years a resident of Mechanicsville, died at his home on Sunday evening after several months' illness, at the age of 44 years. Funeral services took place at the St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning. Interment was made in the St. Mary's Cemetery, J. J. Scully acting as funeral director.

PINED FOR TAKING HORSE WITHOUT PERMISSION.

On Monday, Carl Martinson, of this city, was brought before Police Justice Birmingham on complaint made by his employer, George E. Applegate, of taking his horse out of his barn without permission.

Sunday last, Martinson took a horse from Mr. Applegate's barn for his own use without obtaining consent and later he was found intoxicated in a gutter with the horse at his side. The defendant pleaded guilty and his employer desired to be heard with him. "as he" with a re-

THIEVES ROB TENTS AT MORGAN BEACH

For years Morgan beach has not been molested by petty thieves, and articles left in the tents and schacks have always been considered as safe as though in a safe deposit vault. We regret to state that this fall things have changed, and the petty thief has been marauding the tents and appropriating wearing material, suit cases, shoes and blankets, etc. At this time of the year many tenters go home during the week, and return at the week end to enjoy Saturday and Sunday at the beach, and these people are the ones preyed upon. This sort of thieving should be nipped in the bud, and the matter reported to the proper authorities. There can be no doubt but that the goods stolen could be found with but little effort.

King—Kramer.

Miss Grace E. Kramer and Mr. Harry S. King, both of Paterson, were married on Saturday afternoon by the Rev. W. Owens, pastor of the East-side Presbyterian Church, of that city. Miss Josephine Slieve, of Orange, was maid of honor, and Mr. M. J. Maloney, of Paterson, best man.

Many beautiful presents were received, among them a set of cut glass from the Commercial Department of the N. Y. and N. J. Telephone Company, where Mr. King is employed as contract agent, and a beautiful leaded dome from the employees of the Grand Laundry, where Miss Kramer held a very responsible position as manager for the past three years.

It will be remembered that Miss Kramer is the daughter of the late John Whitworth, of this city and Mrs. L. Whitworth of 57 John street.

After a short wedding trip the happy couple will return to their newly furnished home at 129 Marion street, Paterson.

Miss Georgine Nichols.

Miss Georgine Nichols entered into rest about three o'clock on Friday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Nichols, of Henry street.

Miss Nichols had been ill a long time, and the best medical skill that could be obtained was called in consultation on her ailment but without avail. She was in her sixteenth year. Miss Nichols would have been in the Senior Class of the High School this term had not illness interfered. She was a sweet, kind and affectionate girl, and her death has caused great sorrow among her many friends by whom she was dearly beloved. Her parents have the deepest sympathy of the community by the loss of their only child and daughter, who was the bright star of their life.

The funeral will be held on Monday next, arrangements for which are being made by Undertakers Stillwell & Mason.

FANS LIKED THIS GAME

When Athletics Shut Out South River and Carried Off County Championship Honors—Borlund Pitched Great Ball—Notes by Innings.

Murray Borlund, outpitching Harry Applegate, shut out South River and incidentally pitched his team to the county championship when the local nine clashed with the South River nine on Saturday. Neither side scored until the sixth inning when Frank Delaney poked a safe single to center field, Atkinson made his second two bagger and Delaney scored on Higgins' sacrifice. Eight hits were collected off Applegate who has been touted as the county's best. Three of these were collected in the sixth when the lone tally of the game was recorded. Atkinson's batting was a feature in landing the game, but Jack Higgins, making two spectacular plays kept the South River team from scoring. The following is how the Athletics won the county championship:

First Inning—Murray got a good start by fanning Joe Mullen, the South River slugger. Green's liner was captured by Higgins. Heck was safe when his hot grounder went by Atkinson. Armstrong forced Heck, Delaney to Keating. No runs.

Keating fled to center, Borlund struck out, Stratton fled to Mullen. No runs.

Second Inning—Keating made a neat stop on Doker and threw him out at first. Sulu walked but was caught stealing second. Albert popped to Murray. No runs.

Delaney grounded out, Albert to Mullen, Atkinson walked but was out when Higgins got safe on a fielders choice. McDonnell fled to right field. No runs.

Third Inning—Murray whiffed "Poppy" Phair. He did the same to Applegate. Mullen made first base on four wide ones. Green poked a fine hit to center and Mullen tried to score from second base but was caught by a yard on a fine throw from Higgins to Borlund. This was a fine throw and Higgins got a big hand as he came in from the field. No runs.

Hardy out, Doker to Mullen, Murray got a single to right but Hardy running for him was caught on second, Keating singled, Borlund out, Doker to Mullen. No runs.

Fourth Inning—Heck grounded out to Atkinson, Armstrong got the second hit off Murray but was caught stealing second, Doker whiffed but got safe on A. Borlund's error. Sulu grounded to Keating who threw Armstrong out on second. No runs.

Stratton out, Albert to Mullen, F. Delaney called out on strikes. Atkinson got a nifty two bagger but Higgins struck out. No runs.

Fifth Inning—Albert out, Keating to Atkinson, Phair walked but was out on a double, Keating to Stratton to Atkinson. No runs.

McDonnell safe when Albert threw over Mullen's head. Hardy made a good single and McDonnell who tried to score from third, slipped in the soft sand and was out, Sulu to Green. Murray whiffed. No runs.

Sixth Inning—Higgins made a great one hand catch of Joe Mullen's liner. Green out, Delaney to Atkinson, Heck failed to connect with Murray's curves. No runs.

Stratton connected solidly with Applegate's offering and drove it to left field for a single. He was caught stealing. Frank Delaney got a nice single and Atkinson made a two bagger. Higgins sacrificed and Delaney romped home with the winning run. McDonnell fled to Sulu. One run.

Seventh Inning—Armstrong out, when Stratton grabbed his grounder near first base, a fine play. Doker safe on Delaney's fumble, Sulu walked, Albert out, Stratton to A. Non Miller, playing third for S. R. was out the same route. No runs.

McCluskey, playing left field for S. A., failed to connect with Applegate. Murray out, Applegate to Mullen, Keating drew a pass, Borlund fled to Doker. No runs.

Eighth Inning—Applegate out, Murray to A. Heck grounded out to Atkinson, Green safe on Delaney's error but was caught stealing. No runs.

Stratton, Delaney and Atkinson all were called out on strikes. No runs.

Ninth Inning—Heck hit by pitched ball, Armstrong fanned, Doker fled out to Stratton, Sulu singled and Heck went to third, Murray finished the game by fanning Albert in a pinch. No runs.

A PLEASANT SOCIAL.

A very pleasant social was held at the home of Miss Helen Havens on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of Mrs. House's class of the Methodist Protestant Sunday School, of which Miss Havens is a member. The attendance was extra large, and the time passed most enjoyably. During the evening refreshments were served. The proceeds will be devoted to the parsonage fund. The school is making a special effort to make this fund reach the $500 mark before the annual conference of the church, and as only $50 is necessary it is to be accomplished.

MANY RED MEN VISIT SENECA TRIBE

The visit of Grand Sachem Charles M. Curry and other great chiefs of the State to the wigwam of the Seneca Tribe, No. 23, Improved Order of Red Men, on Thursday evening, was the cause of one of the biggest powwows which has taken place in that council for many moons.

The chiefs and warriors of the Senecas, Po Ambo, Pasayunk, Osage and Chingarora Tribes gathered within the wigwam of the local Red Men to rejoice with them over the good fortune which has befallen their Tribe during the last moon. The members of the Ianth Council, Degree of Pochontas assembled with the warriors for the occasion. Many pale faces were also present at the festivities.

Chief of Records and Seals, George G. Oliver, presided over the conference and in a few remarks told of the progress which has been made by this Tribe during the past year. Since January 1st, 105 pale faces have been initiated into the tribe while twelve applications are pending and the warriors have twenty-seven prospective candidates in sight. This raises the membership of the Seneca Tribe to 250. In conclusion of his remarks showing the progress made by the order, Mr. Oliver called on Great Sannap Charles T. Grace, a member of the local tribe, for the remarks of welcome, praising him for his devotion and work for the tribe.

Mr. Grace thanked the chairman for his commendatory remarks, but stated that the results which had been obtained were gained only through the individual efforts of the members. In a few appropriate remarks Mr. Grace welcomed the ladies of the Degree of Pochontas and the pale faces who were the guests of the tribe.

The Great Sachem, Great Chief of Records and Seals, Great Prophet, and Great Wigwam Guard made remarks all commendatory to Mr. Grace and the work which he has performed for the order. Mr. Grace will probably be promoted to the office of Great Junior Sagamore at the next conference of the order which will be held at Atlantic City. This office is in line of promotion to the office of Grand Sachem.

After the addresses of the chiefs, Rev. F. F. Craig, of the Methodist Protestant Church, made the closing address, his remarks being very witty and interesting.

The music which was provided during the evening was excellent, Mrs. Edward English presiding at the piano.

After the entertainment refreshments were served by the ladies of Ianth Council and a social time was enjoyed by all.

Our Grand Jurors.

Sheriff Bollschweiler has selected, as usual, two good men from this city to serve on the Grand Jury for the September term of Court. They are Timothy Sullivan and Frank Hoffman. Mr. Sullivan is one of our stable business men, being for a number of years engaged in the general grocery and coal business, under the firm name of Conkley & Sullivan. Mr. Hoffman was formerly superintendent of the Raritan River Railroad and has had experience in county detective work. His experience in detective work will make him a valuable member of the jury, and his ability for quick action will cause all complaints to be thoroughly probed. With two such men on the jury, justice will be given all complaints, and no guilty one will escape indictment.

MAZIE—HONAN GO ON SEPT. 30.

(By Hughsey.)

Arrangements for a return match between Mike Mazie and Joe Honan have been completed and the boys will clash at the Perno A. A. on Monday evening, September 30.

The Walter will have to weigh in at 158 pounds on the evening of the bout and he is hard at work training for this event.

Honan and Mazie have met before at the Perno and the Staten Island boy was victor. Judging from the improvement the Walter showed in his bout with Seely at the last star, the chances are that he will give Mazie a hard battle.

This will be a special tag of the Perno and Matchmaker McNulty has arranged a full program in addition to the Mazie—Honan bout.

It is expected that Young Levins of New Brunswick and Kid Bender of Rahway will box in a six round semi-final.

High School Mentionings

The Senior Class have ordered their class pins and rings from Dieges & Clust Co., of New York. The members of the class are pleased with the design which they have selected. It is expected that they will arrive within a few days.

The members of the Junior Class held a meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Officers were elected for the ensuing term.

Harold Orr, a member of the Junior Class, is taking a course at the State Model School at Trenton. Orr was one of the most popular High School boys and has made an enviable record in school athletics. He has many friends who regret to have his leave.

Marlin Baird, who attended Borden-town Military Academy last year, has returned to the local high school and is taking a commercial course. During his first year in the high school, "Teddy" held the position of fullback on the football team and will, no doubt, hold down the same position on this year's team.

Milton Bloodgood, who was employed in the Pardee Works at Perth Amboy, has returned to school. Says he couldn't bear the thought of working while the other boys were having a good time studying in school, so he severed his connections abruptly and beat it back to his old stamping grounds.

The twelve manual training benches—which were ordered by the Board of Education for that branch of learning have arrived and have been placed in the vacant room in the basement. The branch is not compulsory in the high school, but a number of the boys intend to take a course. Miss Fulton will supervise the department.

Under the present arrangement of school hours it will be impossible to hold Literary Society meetings. The officers for this year were elected at the close of last term and it is expected that when high school is held in the other building the meetings will be revived.

He's back, and nobody killed a fatted calf, or nuthin'! We won't hear anything but wireless and aviation until next June.

The boys have been on Stevensdale for baseball and football practice during the afternoons last week. The afternoons are convenient for practice when school is held in the mornings. Manager Martin, of the Metuchen H. S. football team, wishes to arrange a game with the locals for October 5th. There has been a friendly football rivalry between the two schools, and the game will probably be played on the Metuchen grounds.

Birthday Celebration

The sixteenth birthday of Miss Zora Boyce was celebrated on Saturday evening by a surprise party at her home on Prospect street. A number of her friends gathered at the home of Miss Jennie Hendrickson and proceeded to the home of their surprised hostess. The evening was spent enjoyably in various games and music. Refreshments were served and late in the evening the guests departed for their homes leaving Miss Boyce many pretty birthday gifts and wishing her many more happy birthdays. Those present were: Misses Anna Bennett, Florence Buckelew, Myrtle Spangenberg, Ella Bennett, Tillie Slover, Elsie McDowell, Frances Gordon, Helen Agan, Clarvenia Larew, Iona Deats and Ethel Barber, of Jersey City, also Messrs. Russell Hardy, Thomas Kvist, Frank Disbrow and Lee Larew.

ORDERED TO LEAVE CITY.

Dennis Gallagher, aged twenty two, was apprehended on Thursday evening by the police as a suspicious character. Gallagher had been hanging around lower Henry street for several days and had informed several residents in that vicinity that he had just served a term of eight years in the State prison.

The police were informed and immediately arrested the man. He was taken to the City Hall and given a hearing on Friday morning. He told Justice Birmingham an entirely different story. He claimed that he was a deserter from the navy, having been a midshipman on the "Pensacola," and escaped while that vessel was in San Francisco harbor. His story was given little credit in view of the fact that his statements contradicted each other. It was the opinion of the police that the man was trying to "bun" his way across the continent and Justice Birmingham ordered him to leave the city immediately.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS.

"Broadway Jones."

Geo. M. Cohan and his company presented Mr. Cohan's newest play "Broadway Jones" at Pearson's Theatre, Hartford, Conn., last Monday night, and according to wide report scored a tremendous triumph. The new Cohan output is said to be the most agreeable vehicle the author star has written for himself down to date. It is in four acts, constructed around a logical story, which is told at the wizzing speed that characterizes all Cohan plays. Geo. M. Cohan himself appears in the title role, supported by his mother and father, Helen F. and Jerry J. Cohan, George Parsons, Ada Gilman, Myrtle Tannehill, William Walcott, Fletcher Harvey, M. J. Sullivan, Russell Pincus, John Fenton and others.

The first presentation of "Broadway Jones" in New York is scheduled to occur at the Cohan Theatre, Broadway and 43rd Street next Monday night, September 23, and that much interest in the event is being observed is shown in the advance orders for seats which already exceed the capacity of the theatre twice over.

Gaiety Theatre.

A special empanelled jury composed of the entire population of Greater New York and its environs which has been deliberating on the unusual behavior of "Officer 666" charged with creating a laughing riot in and around the Gaiety Theatre, City and State of New York, Borough of Manhattan, have handed down a verdict of guilty with a recommendation to Judge Hilari that "Officer 666" be allowed to remain on post duty and continue to excite the risibles of the good people of Gotham without let or hindrance.

Grand Opera House.

Henry B. Harris' production of "The Talker" which ran for twenty weeks at the Harris theatre last season, will play a week's engagement at Cohan and Harris' Grand Opera House, New York, commencing Monday night, September 23. "The Talker" is a play by Marion Fairfax which deals with domestic life in a typical American family and shows the results that are apt to follow the voicing of modern feminine ideas. The cast is headed by Tully Marshall and includes Florence Malon, Wilson Day, Mary Mallon and others.

"Little Miss Brown."

"Little Miss Brown" apparently has moved into the new Forty-eighth Street Theatre, New York, to stay. At all events there will be no change of tenants in this spick and span establishment for some time to come, as it is quite obvious from the steady growth of patronage that Mr. Bartholomae's farcical comedy is highly diverting to the general public. One line in the piece that was not spoken the first night has been the occasion of prolonged roars of delight at subsequent performances. When the young girl, who is the central figure of the complications, is explaining to the hotel telephone operator the troubles besetting her in a strange city late at night, she says: "A man outside spoke to me just now." "What did he say?" inquires the hello damsel. As little Miss Brown lisps innocently in reply, "Hello chicken," the spectators rise and fairly howl with mirth.

If Mr. Bartholomae had been a Frenchman instead of an American, it is quite easy to say what he might have done with his story after he had sent his ingenuous young heroine to a suite of rooms retained by wire for a man and wife, and then sent the husband of the other woman up to the apartment in the dead of night. Perhaps indeed the author may have been tempted to follow out the Parisian idea in such situations, but in that possibility he resisted successfully, so that "Little Miss Brown," while filled with incidents which often are convulsing, carries no taint of suggestiveness.

Matinees at the Forty-eighth Street Theatre are given on Thursdays and Saturdays, and for the former popular prices are the rule.

The Playhouse.

"Bought and Paid For," is nearing the end of its long run at William A. Brady's Playhouse, New York, but still no definite date for its final night has been set. This is due to the fact that as often as it seems to the management that the growing volume of new productions must logically weaken the oldest play in town, the receipts unfailingly spring upward again. This serves to disturb calculations, but not to grieve those in interest. It is extremely unlikely, however, that such a state of things can continue perpetually, and "Little Women" is being made ready to step in upon short notice. For the cast of this dramatization the engagements include Marie Pavey, Albee Brady, Louise Rial, Gertrude Berkeley, Beverly West, Julia Varney, Lynn Hammond, Carl Sauerman and others. An especially careful stage setting is being prepared, with a view to reproducing with the utmost fidelity the home scenes in which Jo, Meg, Beth and Amy lived their charming life at the old Alcott homestead in Concord. Mr. Brady's chief scenic artist and several assistants spent a considerable part of last week on the ground, taking photographs and making drawings.

HUGHES DOWNED CANNONISM

Perhaps one of the most important pieces of work accomplished by Congressman Hughes during his Congressional career, and perhaps the least known, was the part he took in the reconstruction of the rules of the House of Representatives, relating to the appointment of committees, after the repudiation of Cannonism by the voters of this country in the last Congressional election.

In the Sixty-First Congress a great battle was fought in the House of Representatives against the boss-rule of Speaker Cannon. It was not altogether successful, and yet it was not entirely a failure, as after events proved.

Under the rules of the House the Speaker had the power to appoint the committees of the House. This power in the hands of some would be safe, but it is too great a power to place in the hands of any one man, no matter how honest and conscientious he may be. Charges had been made that Speaker Cannon had abused this power, in that in some instances he had packed certain committees with men who were put there designedly to kill certain legislation that was to come before the House, while in other instances he had placed on certain committees men in favor of legislation, the sole beneficiary of which would be some one or more of the great corporate interests of this country. The Payne Aldrich tariff law was the work of a committee so appointed.

In the next campaign, in the year 1910, Cannonism was one of the main issues. The Democratic party promised, if placed in power, that it would amend the rules of the House so that this great power would be taken out of the hands of the Speaker, and lodged in the House itself. In that year the Democratic party was successful, and secured a majority in the House of Representatives. The question then presented itself as to how the Democratic House should redeem its promise. Many plans were presented, one of them being that the Speaker should appoint a Committee to be known as the Committee on Committees, whose duty it should be to name the members of the various committees of the House. This plan, however, met with strenuous objection because it was readily to be seen that in this event, the Speaker could still dominate the membership of the various committees through the men whom he appointed on the Committee on Committees.

Another plan was that the House should elect a Committee on Committees. The objection to this plan was that the members of this committee could get together and elect themselves to the chairmanships of the most important committees of the House, so that the power once held by the Speaker would simply be transferred to a dozen or so men, instead of being held by one.

The plan that was finally adopted was the one submitted by Congressman William Hughes, of New Jersey. Mr. Hughes proposed that the Democratic caucus should nominate the Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee, and that the members so selected for service on such committees should be ineligible for service on any other committee; that besides its tariff duties, the Ways and Means Committee should select the other committees of the House, and its action in this regard, would then have to be ratified by the House itself.

As a reward for having solved the problem which had vexed them for some time, the Democratic caucus insisted that Congressman Hughes take a place on the powerful Ways and Means Committee, and his work while a member of that committee shows that his party made no mistake in giving him an opportunity to serve on this important committee.

LUKE OLIVER TO BE SEEN IN ACTION.

"White Hope" of This Vicinity Will Go On With Steve Kelly, of Brooklyn, At Next Perno Show.

(By Hughsey.) Monday night, September 23, will be an eventful evening at the Perno A. A., Perth Amboy. Luke Oliver, Perth Amboy's heavyweight "white hope," will be seen in action with Steve Kelly, of Brooklyn. Luke is a likely looking boxer, having a well set up body and plenty of grit and determination in his makeup. Some time ago Oliver was victorious over Jack Ten Broeck, a heavyweight from California. The bout lasted about a minute and a half, Oliver swinging on his opponent's jaw with the force of a pile driver. Ten Broeck immediately lost his interest in the battle and was carried to his corner. Steve Kelly is from Brooklyn and has had a great deal more of ring experience than the local favorite. It is up to Luke to overcome this obstacle and "get" his man. We hope he can do it.

Johnny Carroll, of Union Hill, formerly of Perth Amboy, is a great favorite with the members of the Perno. His reputation of being a stickler and possessing cleverness, has made him well liked. He will box Irish Mahone, of Newark. Mahone has been seen in action at the Perno on several occasions and has made a favorable impression. This will be a good bout and one to satisfy the most rabid fan.

Young Handrahan, of Perth Amboy, and Young Nelson, of Rahway, are booked for a mill. These boys will surely mix it up and make an interesting go.

The first wrestling match of the winter season will be held next Monday night when Felix King, of Perth Amboy, will meet Young Mahoney, of Staten Island. The members who enjoy wrestling will be given a good match to witness.

In addition to this excellent card, fast preliminaries are booked, and the program is sure to please the most critical.

C. Howard Smith's military band will be on the job to entertain with musical selections in the intermissions.

Athletics Shut Out at New Brunswick.

The Athletics traveled to New Brunswick on Sunday and received a drubbing at the hands of Dave Driscoll's Professionals by the score of 5 to 0 although the Amboy team put up a game battle and Atkinson was deserving of a victory. The latter twirler received some brilliant support, Higgins and Keating starring in the defensive line. The New Brunswick pitchers, Fred Ritter and Steve White, of Princeton, received wonderful support and the Athletics had hard work to get their men on the bases. Keating and F. Delaney secured the only hits made by the South Amboy aggregation while the New Brunswick team got five safe bingles. Nearly two thousand fans were present at the game, a large number from this city witnessing the contest. Although their team lost, the locals were satisfied with the showing of their team as it was clearly shown that the Brunswick professionals were a little speedier than the Amboy team. The game had no bearing on the county championship title as Driscoll's men are all professionals and come from all parts of the State.

South Amboy fan after Saturday's game.

Little Bants About Bill's Bunch.

Jack Higgins sure has his name on the roll of honor for his performances during the last two games. On Saturday he caught Joe Mullen at the plate by a wonderful throw and later made a fine catch of that player's fly with two men on the bases. On Sunday he kept up his sterling field work and made some fine catches which were applauded by the Brunswick fans. His long sacrifice fly to center field sent in the winning run in the South River game.

McCluskey, a former pitcher on the St. Bonaventure's College team, was on hand both Saturday and Sunday ready to go in the box. He warmed up before the game and looked to have the goods but he was not needed as both Murray and Atkinson twirled fine ball.

Eddie Keating gave a fine exhibition of baseball last week. In the two games he accepted thirteen chances without an error, most of them difficult. He featured in two double plays and got three hits, two against South River and one at New Brunswick.

Ambrose Atkinson was a tower of strength in the two important contests last week. On Saturday he made two two-base hits off Harry Applegate and received a pass. On Sunday he twirled an elegant game against Driscoll's bunch and deserved to win. He got a big hand from the fans for his clever work.

Charley Gould, the professional umpire from New York, got into the fray in the sixth inning and again pleased the fans with his accurate decisions. He was greeted by the fans as he donned his mask and was there with his "ball tuh!" and "strike-like." "Doc" Coakley officiated until Gould got into the game.

This Saturday the Athletics will meet the Marlons, or All Stars, of Perth Amboy. This team will be composed of the pick of Perth Amboy players and the Perth Amboy sporting writers don't see how the Athletics can beat them. Well, we kinda think we will.

Borlund's throwing was accurate on Saturday. None of the South River men stole second on him. Andy was a little off form on Sunday and became rattled by the fans.

Frank Delaney is the boy who made a good showing Saturday and Sunday. "Bella" got a hit off Applegate and brought the only run of the game across the pan. On Sunday he was the only man to reach second against New Brunswick. He also fielded well.

Murray certainly fooled the South River boys on Saturday. When the players were dressing, one of them remarked, "Doker, do you think you will be able to pitch today? Young Borlund is going to pitch for the Athletics and we'll take out Applegate when we get enough runs and save him for tomorrow." Maybe he thought it good "dope," but when they faced the "kid" they surely were surprised.

The Athletics collected eight hits off Applegate on Saturday while Murray allowed but three. The fat inning was the sixth when the Athletics got three in a row. Stratton, who is one of the most reliable hitters on the team started the rally with a beauty single.

Mert Ingraham and William Bloodgood are planning to attend the World's Series games. Mert is sure the Giants will land the flag and it is a two to one bet that any others from this city who attend the games will be able to hear this couple rooting from any place in the Polo Grounds.

Saturday, September 28, the Athletics will meet the B. A. C. of Bridgeport, Conn. on Star's Field. George Marquard, a brother of Ruben Marquard, will twirl for the visitors, and as he is also reputed to be a classy flinger a good game is expected. Chas. Gould, the popular umpire, will officiate.

Special pains were taken to improve the Star Field grounds before Saturday's game. In the morning the diamond was filled in with sand and Shanley Brothers steam roller packed the field. The new sand, however, made the running rather slow and had not McDonnell slipped while coming home in the fifth inning the Athletics would have made another run.

Ed. Hardy didn't have much to do in the field on Saturday but his fine single in the fifth nearly put the game on ice for the Athletics. Eddie is always a good man in a pinch.

When Higgins made that fine throw and later got his great one hand running catch, a South River supporter on the bench turned Green with rage as he yelled, "By Heck, it ain't Phair, we ain't gettin' a chance to win."

Interesting Items.

The Sheridans of this city went down to defeat on Sunday before Chief Payne's Ironquols of Perth Amboy to the tune of 8 to five. Bob Manaker was on the mound for the locals and pitched good ball, striking out ten men. "Slippery" Buckalew who is good at any position on the diamond, received for him. The latter made the only home run of the game. Sharkey, the Sheridan second baseman, got three hits out of four trips to the plate.

The South Amboy Catholic Club will have a basketball team representing them this year. The only thing which handicaps them at present is the lack of a court. There is lots of good material and the boys are practicing in their rooms in Scully's Hall each night. John Casey will manage the five.

Manager Phillip Payne, of the Ironquols basketball team, is trying to arrange a game with the Neptune Juniors for the opening game on October 1. This is a fast five and a game will probably be scheduled. The Senior team will play the Crescents, of Milltown.

Manager Bill O'Toole of the Athletics is trying to arrange another game with Dave Driscoll's bunch on September 29. Bill thinks there will be a different result to the next game and it is likely that the contest will be staged.

Manager Abe Forgotson of the Neptune basketball club has refused to enter negotiations for a game against the Riversides in the Auditorium at Perth Amboy this Saturday night. The Neptunes are out of practice and do not care to go up against such a speedy bunch in their opening game on a strange court. After a couple of games they will get down to their usual stride and then a match will be arranged. It's a cinch that the Neptunes can make the Riversides take water. They did the trick more than once last winter.

Did you ever notice that the Raritan River Railroad is monopolizing all the pitchers these days? Ambrose Atkinson, the husky mound man and Murray Borlund are both on the office force. "Straus" is now warning up and threatens to make good in order to have another pitcher working for the road.

Perth Amboy's All Star team is going to play Driscoll's bunch on Sunday. Claim they're going to win, too, but it should be remembered that the Athletics have walloped the pick of Perth Amboy and if the boys from across the river really want to get beat they don't have to journey as far as New Brunswick.

If the Athletics do secure a return game with Driscoll's team, we sincerely hope that no player of the local team will become "thick" and spoil the pleasure of the rest of the team.

One "rattled" player can put a whole team out, and aid greatly in their losing a game.

Reciprocity?

The Riversides are a good basketball team, they have good players, a good court, and a good nerve! Their manager tried to arrange a game with the Neptunes for this Saturday night at the Auditorium and offered them the stupendous sum of $5.00. Manager Abe Forgotson nearly fainted when offered this generous(?) sum. The offer of the five dollars in itself, while a small sum, was not so bad, but when asked what they wanted to come over here and play, the Riversides politely said "No, no!" Evidently the Riversides do not know the meaning of reciprocity.

M. P. CHURCH NOTES

Mrs. P. A. Stults' class will have a home-made cruller sale next Thursday.

The Ushers' Association met last Sunday evening and discussed things pertaining to the good of the church.

One of the special features of the evening meeting was the song service and anthem by the choir, which was highly commended by many.

Next Tuesday evening a social will be held at the home of the superintendent, H. Bloodgood, on second street, by his class for the benefit of the parsonage fund.

The new hymn books were used for the first time in the Sunday School and all enjoyed the singing. Mr. Stults spoke of the intense interest in the school to make the collection before conference $500.

The choir will repeat by special request the several anthems which have been sung recently at the monthly service of song, September 23, at 8 p. m. All lovers of music are specially invited.

Attendance at the C. E. meeting at 7 o'clock p. m., was not as large as last Sunday on account of another meeting being held. However, with the aid of the new hymn books and Leader F. Leonard, the meeting was one of spiritual profit.

Services last Sunday were all of a very interesting nature. The morning service was favored with the presence of Mr. Day, of Asbury Park, who many years ago worshipped in this church. He made a beautiful prayer. In the absence of the superintendent, H. Bloodgood, P. A. Stults took charge of the Sunday School.

MANY DRIVEN FROM HOME.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping-cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Geo. W. Jaques.

A COURAGEOUS ACT.

Those who imagined that because Governor Woodrow Wilson is the Democratic candidate for President, he would keep silent as to James Smith, Jr.'s Senatorial candidacy, seriously misjudged the man.

Perhaps Governor Wilson could not have been blamed if under the circumstances he had contented himself with pointing to his previous utterances relative to Mr. Smith as a candidate, but the Governor did not read his duty that way. On the contrary, he takes the position that the very fact that he has been made the party leader in the nation, as well as in the State, renders it all the more imperative to point out what is involved in Mr. Smith's candidacy. And this he proceeds to do in words notably free from vituperation and invective, but stinging in their indictment of Mr. Smith as a persistent opponent of reform and a traitor to the principles of the Democratic party. Mr. Smith's record as an enemy of tariff reform is recalled, and the Governor thinks that it is of peculiarly sinister import that Mr. Smith should be seeking re-election to the Senate now, when the tariff is the chief issue, and when there is a prospect that a few Senators calling themselves Democrats may again, as in 1894, combine to defeat the party program.

Governor Wilson warns his party of the consequences that may follow Mr. Smith's election. He declares that if the Democratic party does not keep its promises now it will never have another opportunity to do so, and that Mr. Smith "could not, and would not, lend himself to any program of genuinely progressive legislation."

Governor Wilson has done a brave and manly, even if an unprecedented, thing. After this it is not likely that anybody will question the rigidity of his political spine. It took courage to publish Governor Wilson's statement, and the people admire courage.—Newark News.

Go to Primary Election next Tuesday and express your choice, and at the same time register for fall election.

New Brunswick, N. every voting district in the county, met to lay the foundation for the Progressive party in Middlesex.

Vastly different was the gathering from the political conventions of the old parties that have gone before. There were in place of the professional politician and ward heeler splendid types of womanhood. Instead of gag rule and the side room caucus there was free and clear expression of opinion in open meeting. Ministers of the gospel touched elbows with the workman from the factories, and dignified society women mingled freely as delegates. All seemed imbued with the one desire to establish without thought of personal gain the new party which promises so much for the betterment of conditions.

For the first time in the history of the county a woman presided over a political convention, Mrs. Frank Ambler Pattison of Colonia, formerly of Metuchen, taking the gavel from Chairman Dinwiddie while Mr. Dinwiddie placed in nomination for endorsement for the congressional nomination of the Third district the name of Mark O. Prentiss of Metuchen.

The convention was called for 2 o'clock. Former County Judge Adrian Lyon of Perth Amboy was nominated for temporary chairman by E. C. Potter of Metuchen. The chair appointed James E. Griswold of Perth Amboy temporary secretary.

Rev. H. P. Sloan of New Brunswick opened the convention with prayer.

Principles of the Party.

After the call had been read Judge Lyon stated briefly how old political methods differed from the principles of the new party. He said: "Time was when a young man had no opportunity of serving his country without serving some party boss. The old primary was not generally attended except by the faithful, who usually ran it to suit themselves or the boss. But we have seen a new light in this county of Middlesex. The people of this great country are aroused. Starting with the Progressive convention in Chicago in August, which grew out of a protest of the domination of the first convention by the old Republican party bosses who perpetrated such frauds as the wholesale stealing of delegates pledged to Roosevelt in the states of California, Indiana and Washington, the National Progressive party is here to stay. The old Republican party has served its period of usefulness." [Tremendous applause.]

"The party is not a means in itself. Party is simply a means to an end, and party names mean nothing. We stand in this country for what the Progressives stand in the nation, a party without a class controlled system. The boss system is in vogue in both parties throughout the length and breadth of this land. We want freedom from boss control. We stand for such laws and such legislation as will conduce to the good of us all and not for special privileges of the few. We stand for effective primary laws. We stand for a stringent corrupt practices act. We stand for the short ballot. We stand for equal suffrage. We invite to our party the noble women of the land. We invite the women to join our party because of their great intelligence, their unquestioned ability to suggest remedies for the high cost of living and the education of the children."

Committees Named.

The following committees were appointed by Judge Lyon:

Permanent Organization—E. C. Potter, Metuchen; W. R. Drake, Stettin; H. R. Groves, New Brunswick; Jacob Steinberg, Roosevelt; J. H. De Voe, Spotswood; Robert Fulton, South Amboy; J. P. Fenner, Dunellen.

Rules—Ralph Holman, New Brunswick; John Duffy, Raritan; Samuel G. Garretson, Perth Amboy; Charles Hermann, South River; Dr. J. C. Shinn, North Brunswick; N. H. Vreeland, North Brunswick; D. A. Brown, Woodbridge.

Resolutions—Henry Seidler, Roosevelt; F. W. Pugsley, Perth Amboy; Paul Buchner, Sayreville; Dr. Charles Burnett, South River; C. E. Dabrymple, New Brunswick; William Oberman, Deans; Israel Ward, South Amboy.

The committee on organization recommended William Dinwiddie of Metuchen for permanent chairman, Mrs. Frank A. Pattison of Colonia for first vice chairman, Adolph Hanneur, New Brunswick, second vice chairman; Charles H. De Voe, Old Bridge, third vice chairman; James E. Griswold, Perth Amboy, secretary; John Duffy, Raritan, and George Stead, New Brunswick, assistant secretaries; Jo seph Hansell, New Brunswick, sergeant-at-arms. They were unanimously elected.

Dinwiddie eloquently declined to take the chairmanship, saying he was a true Progressive and a true Progressive was not an office seeker, but he was hooted down and escorted to the stage.

In taking the chair Dinwiddie announced that he was not present to make a speech. Said he: "We are here on serious business. We are tired of being humbugged. We are tired of bosses."

Speech by Miss Rhodes.

Miss Anne Rhodes of New York, who is connected with the National Progressive headquarters, was introduced to the convention. Said Miss Rhodes: "Men and women (that is how Colonel Roosevelt addressed the Chicago convention), it was my pleasure and privilege to participate as a delegate in the convention that nominated Theodore Roosevelt and the convention that nominated Oscar Straus. I am for woman suffrage. I never made a speech on the topic, but I am a suffragette. I honor the party that stands for giving woman the privilege of standing beside the men and helping them to make the laws of the land. I honor the men and women of this land so whole souled and broad minded as to nominate for a high office a Jew, Oscar Straus." At the name of Straus all the delegates stood up in their places and yelled and cheered their approbation for many seconds. The excitement was intensified when Chairman Dinwiddie said: "Who is there who will say that this woman is not entitled to a place in our government and a right to vote? And there are hundreds of thousands of other women in this land like her." The crowd yelled its approval.

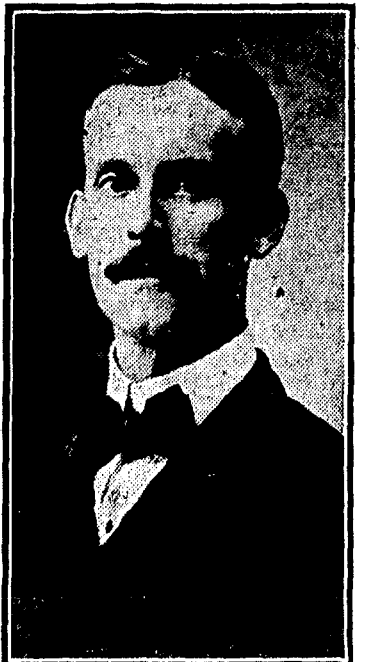

Bainbridge Colby made a hit right at the start when he scanned the hall full of delegates and remarked: "Well, this is what I call a middlin' good moose herd. True the voice is a little metallic (referring to the horns and cow bells with which the borough of Roosevelt delegates were armed). Scientists tell us the species is dying and will soon be extinct, but don't you believe it."

The speaker launched off into a detailed account of the Republican convention at Chicago and roasted Bosses Barnes, Penrose and Guggenheim of the Republican party, and Bosses Sullivan, Murphy and Taggart of the Democratic fold.

Use Governor as Alibi.

He said: "It is high time that the rank and file of both parties left the parties that have fallen so low. I would not say aught against your governor, but the Democratic party has at ways had a sprinkling of well meaning men in its midst. They use him as a sort of getaway. They use him as an alibi, as it were. It is true with the Democratic party that when they succeed in electing a high class man to office then do the corrupting influences back of him and all around him in his party jump to the fore and assert themselves. Take the case of Grover Cleveland the first time he was elected. You remember David B. Hill and what he did to Democracy. Then look at Cleveland's second term. You remember the Lexow investigation. My remarks are true and justified, for the Democratic party is trying to drag a herring across the trail at the present time. The Democratic party is like a bat. It shows its wings to the birds and hobbles with the rats.

JAMES A. EDGAR.

[Progressive party's candidate for member of assembly.]

"The greatest note in the Progressive party is sincerity.

"I never before now saw a party throw its platform into the ash heap until after election. The Democratic party has broken all precedents. Governor Wilson is very frank about it. He calmly says you do not have to accept the Democratic platform just because you want to vote for him.

"Then take the case of poor old Taft. Oh, it's a shame to pester poor old Bill. It's like spearing a mackerel in a barrel. The Progressive party is riding to one of the most stupendous political victories ever won."

Judge Lyon Nominated.

When nominations were called for H. Raymond Groves placed the name of former Judge Lyon in nomination for state senator. Mr. Groves likened Judge Lyon to Theodore Roosevelt and Oscar Straus and reviewed the clean record made by Lyon in the assembly and on the Middlesex common pleas bench.

E. C. Potter seconded Lyon's nomination on behalf of the Raritan Roosevelt club of Metuchen in a rousing speech, and scarcely had Potter finished before there was a chorus of seconds from all parts of the convention hall. The delegates broke forth in the biggest storm of enthusiasm of the day. Judge Lyon had repeatedly said that he was not a candidate for any office. He was escorted to the platform by a committee that probably would have carried him on its shoulders had the judge not been such a big man. Safe on the platform the judge began another argument on why he did not want the nomination, but the crowd hooted and howled and would not take up for an answer.

The Middlesex Progressives recognize Lyon as the head, front and shoulders of the Roosevelt movement in this county, and by his activity in the Progressive cause he is looked upon as a natural leader.

C. A. Prekitt on behalf of the Raritan Roosevelt club of Metuchen eloquently placed the name of James A. Edgar of Highland Park in nomination for the assembly. Frank Jennings of Jamesburg was also nominated, and Judge Lyon nominated Henry Seidler of the borough of Roosevelt. All three assembly nominees were unanimously endorsed.

Howard W. Bloomfield of Raritan nominated James M. Pettit of Metuchen for coroner, and his endorsement was unanimous.

No Congressional Nomination.

The convention could not nominate a candidate for congress, as there are three counties in the Third district, and Monmouth and Ocean counties each has something to say in the matter. Middlesex county is strong for having Mark O. Prentiss of Metuchen take the Progressive nomination. William Dinwiddie of Raritan placed the name of Mr. Prentiss before the convention for formal approval. Dinwiddie gave some strong reasons why it was an honor for Middlesex to have the privilege of endorsing a man like Prentiss. He told of how well versed Prentiss was in economic problems, how well known he is throughout the United States in the dry goods trade and how he is working hand in glove at the present time with National Progressive headquarters, being associated with George W. Perkins in the financial end of the campaign.

Judge Lyon of Perth Amboy and Henry Seidler of Roosevelt borough vigorously seconded the endorsement of Prentiss, as did Charles A. Bloomfield of Raritan. Many more delegates wanted to have their say, but the process of each man taking his turn was too slow for the majority, who again burst forth with a terrific cheering, horn blowing and cow bell jangling.

As Monmouth and Ocean counties have no candidate in the field it is likely that Prentiss will be the unanimous choice of the Progressives of the district. Prentiss will stump the district, he announces, and his connection with national headquarters will mean some big speakers for the Third district.

The selection of a county committee was left to Chairman Dinwiddie.

About thirty-five prominent women from various parts of the county took part in the convention. Some of them were Mrs. Charles A. Prekitt, Mrs. George W. Listerst, Mrs. Walter J. Harris, Mrs. Mark O. Prentiss, Mrs. Truman T. Pierson, Mrs. A. C. Hunt, Mrs. George Hayden and Miss Maud Harris of Metuchen; Mrs. O. R. Winfield of Piscataway, Mrs. William Dinwiddie, Mrs. John Duffy and Mrs. H. W. Bloomfield of Raritan; Mrs. Frank A. Pattison of Colonia, Mrs. T. S. Walsh, Mrs. Samuel Locker, Miss Fulton and Miss Everett of South Amboy; Mrs. Lucy Wilson of East Brunswick, Miss Emma McCoy, Miss Lilly McJoy and Miss Christie Bartle of New Brunswick and Mrs. F. W. Arnold of Highland Park.

ODDS AND ENDS

Items of Interest Presented in Short Paragraphs for Busy Readers.

Councilor and Mrs. John A. Coan entertained friends to a "500" party Thursday evening.

A supply from Rutgers' Seminary will have charge of the services at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

The Neptune A. C. will open the basketball season at K. of P. Hall on October 1, with the Michelin Five, of Milltown.

I. B. Mervine is preparing for the winter by having steam heat installed in his residence. V. N. James has the contract.

Miss Eva Forgotson, of Washington avenue, president of last year's graduating class, is attending the State Normal School at Montclair.

Miss Kate Bogart entertained the Thimble Club at her home on Thursday afternoon. Luncheon was served, and the time passed pleasantly.

Election of officers will take place at meeting of Court Raritan, No. 44, P. of A., Wednesday night, and all members are requested to be present.

The Empire Theatre will open tonight (Saturday) with an extra special moving picture show. The theatre presents a very attractive and cosy appearance.

Judge R. P. Mason will attend the annual re-union of the Twenty-second Regiment, N. J. V., at Hackensack today. Mr. Mason is one of the surviving eight members of Company F.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist Church will hold another clam chowder sale in the lecture room of the church on Wednesday, September 26th. The chowder will be ready to serve for dinner.

Albert Tomazewski, a graduate of the local Grammar school, is attending the St. Peter's College in Jersey City. Albert distinguished himself in his studies while here and promises to make a brilliant record at St. Peter's.

Rev. George Kane, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, was called to Hightstown, Md., on Monday, owing to the serious illness of his mother. Word was received Friday that she passed into eternal rest on Thursday morning.

The clam bake under the auspices of Court Raritan No. 44, P. O. A. at Roberts' crossing on Sunday last was attended by a large number of people, who had a most enjoyable time. The bake was prepared by William O'Brien, and was pronounced excellent.

In order that the members of the High School may be enabled to attend the funeral of Miss Georgine Nichols on Monday afternoon, the school schedule for the day will be reversed, the High School and No. 2 scholars attending in the morning, and No. 1 Grammar School in the afternoon.

Now that Judge John W. Wescott, of Camden, has withdrawn from the preferential race at the primary election on Tuesday next, there would seem to be only one choice left for the Democrats to select for U. S. Senator and that choice is Congressman William Hughes. Remember Hughes next Tuesday.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Edward Erickson appeared before Police Justice Birmingham and made complaint against her husband for disorderly conduct. A hearing was to be held on Friday morning at 9 o'clock, but Mrs. Erickson failed to appear to press the charge and the case was dismissed.

To-morrow (Sunday) the Central Railroad of New Jersey will run an excursion by rail and boat to Newburgh on the Hudson. This is a most delightful sail at this time of the year, and the autumnal scenery along the Hudson is most enchanting. Train will leave the city at 8:30 a. m. See adv. for further particulars.

It would now appear that the repeated efforts to provide for the flow of surface water at First street and Broadway had been solved. The basins erected there have been the cause of considerable debate for weeks. A number of plans had been prepared, but were found insufficient to take care of the water. Observation of the great flow of water down First street, finally suggested the plans now about finished, which would seem to be of such dimensions that will take care of the water. Councilman O'Connor, chairman of the street committee, has watched this work with untiring interest, and now feels greatly relieved that it is completed.

On Thursday next the Central Railroad of New Jersey will run an excursion from this city to Mauch Chunk, Glen Onoko and the Switchback, leaving at 7:55 a. m. This is the time of the year to visit this Switzerland of America, when the mountains and valleys present their most charming appearance. See adv. for price of tickets, and further particulars.

CHARGED WITH SHOOTING BOY

Charged with shooting six-year-old James Grace, an orphan, Harry S. Davis, of Sayreville township, was brought before Police Justice William Birmingham on Wednesday night and placed under $200 bail to appear before the Grand Jury.

Lawyer John A. Coan acted as counsel for the State against Davis while Lawyer John Lovely represented the defendant.

Mr. Lovely moved that the case be dismissed on grounds that the warrant failed to state the charge. Mr. Coan objected to this and was sustained by the court.

The first witness placed on the stand was eleven-year-old George Hughes, of Main street, who was placed under oath and examined. Upon being questioned the boy stated that he was coming from Conlogue's with milk when he saw Davis shoot at James Grace. John Quinlan, who is the guardian of the injured boy, was next placed on the stand and stated that he was not present when the shooting occurred but knew the boy had been injured. He said the boy was shot in the legs and that Dr. Meacham attended him.

Little James Grace was then questioned and admitted that he had gone to Mr. Davis's property after apples and was under the tree when Mr. Davis fired at him with "a long gun with a round handle to it."

Counselor Lovely claimed that there was lack of evidence against the defendant and moved a dismissal of the trial under the circumstances. Justice Birmingham stated he had no jurisdiction in the matter and remanded the case before the Grand Jury.

Mr. Davis stated to a Citizen reporter that he has been continually annoyed by boys entering his farm, taking fruit and vegetables, and destroying the trees. In many cases the boys fill baskets and take the fruit home to their parents, and that he claims the parents encourage the boys in their stealing. It is impossible to get near enough to the boys to identify them, as they keep close watch, and run away when anyone approaches them. This petty thieving is not only going on at the Davis farm, but in many yards about this city it is impossible to grow anything without it being taken by thieves.

High School Mentionings

Medical examinations of the students are now being made. Inspector J. C. Albright, M. D., examined the High School scholars during the week. The majority of examinations were excellent.

The new Remington Visible Typewriters which were purchased by the Board of Education have arrived and the typewriting course commenced during the week.

It appears that little progress is being made to the high school section of School No. 2. It will be impossible to get back into the old quarters during October and it will probably be the first of November before any change is made.

Annual Convention Christian Endeavor

Plans are almost completed for the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of Christian Endeavor which will be held in the First Reformed Church, of New Brunswick, October 2, 3, and 4. A splendid program has been arranged and no expense has been spared in securing speakers celebrated in the different departments of religious activity. New Brunswick, 1912, cannot help being a great stimulus to all who may attend.

The theme of the entire convention will be "Efficiency," explained, emphasized and worked out. The convention will open Wednesday at 2 p. m. with a conference and open parliament for all District Secretaries, County and Local Officers and all C. E. workers. This will be conducted by Miss Nellie Foote, of Elizabeth who has recently been elected State Secretary, and the inimitable Karl Lehman, Interstate Field Secretary of the United Society, one of the liveliest wires in and on Christian Endeavor. He will be present all through the convention and take part in the different conferences. He alone is well worth the trip to New Brunswick. The speaker for Wednesday night, the Rev. James T. Kittell, D. D., pastor of the First Reformed Church of Albany, is one of the most eloquent speakers in the Reformed Church, and is very highly recommended by all those who have heard him as a speaker who will interest and inspire.

Thursday will be full of good things commencing with its morning watch and followed by ringing messages from the State Superintendents and the emphasizing of the new campaign of efficiency by Mr. Karl Lehmann. Six papers on State, County, Local Union, Society and Rural Work will be presented by a number of efficient Endeavorers, with an address on the Bible by Rev. Edgar Whittaker Work, D. D., of New York, an address that will reveal to you the beauty of the Word of God. Then a word from the Far East by the Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Strother, Field Secretary for China. Closing that evening with an address by the Rev. John F. Carson, D. D., of Brooklyn, Ex-Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, a most forceful and brilliant speaker, one whose heart is very warm toward all young people and in most hearty sympathy with their work.

On Friday: Mr. H. A. Kinports, Secretary of Young People's Work for the Reformed Church in America, one who has been heard in our State many times with profit and delight. The Rev. Chas. H. Hubbell, General Secretary Board of Young People's Work, Methodist Protestant Church of Adrian, Michigan, wonderfully original and intensely interesting. Mr. Wm. Phillips Hall, the Business Man Evangelist, whose personal work has been so richly blessed. The Rev. C. H. Tyndall, Ph. D., S. T. D., of Mount Vernon, N. Y., with his wonderful illustrated talk to the Juniors and the closing address on Friday night by the great friend of New Jersey Endeavorers, Mr. William Shaw, General Secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, of Boston, one whom it is a delight to hear and whose messages always please and profit.

The committees have been hard at work since last February and with this splendid program there is no doubt that the convention will be the largest ever held in New Jersey.

Hidden Qualities in "Fine Shoes"

MAKE one experiment with really "fine" Shoes. Then you will understand why the few people who can afford to pay $15.00 to $20.00 per pair for certain "Custom-made" products are willing to do so.

If you knew all the additional Foot-Comfort, Satisfactory Service, and Pride-of-Possession, that really "fine" Shoes give, this is what you would do today.

You would step right over to the nearest Regal Shoe Store or Agency and (without any misgivings as to extravagance) you would ask the salesman to put on your feet a pair of the $5.00 Regals pictured herewith.

Observe that it isn't merely the Regal Style which alone makes these $5.00 Regals worth $7.00.

—It is the hidden Sources of Satisfaction put inside the Style, and which retain that Style till the Shoes are worn out.

—It is that surprising degree of Foot-Comfort—that new Appetite for outdoor Walking, and that bully feeling of being very well Dressed which makes the relatively small difference you pay per year (for "fine" Shoes) bring back enormous dividends in Comfort and Satisfaction.

Regal Shoes are made in four large Regal Factories, —for Regal Shoe Stores and Agencies only,—and on a factory profit of only 5% above Actual Cost.

That is one reason why Shoes equal in quality to $5.00 Regals are rarely, if ever, found in other stores that sell such quality of Shoes, at less than $7.00 to $8.00 per pair.

Step into the nearest Regal Shoe Store or Agency and verify this today.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS.

Grand Opera House.

A fascinating feature of Geo. M. Cohan's musical farce "The Little Millionaire" which is to be presented at Cohan & Harris' Grand Opera House, New York, for the week commencing next Monday, September 30, is the quantity of whistley song numbers contained in it. The popularity of Mr. Cohan's compositions is not difficult to explain. He has the happy faculty of tantalizing the ear with haunting melodies attuned to lyrics, that tell a clean story and presenting them in a scenic and ensemble surrounding that adds materially to their musical and verse value. Any number of instances of Cohan's skill in this direction are furnished in "The Little Millionaire," notably the songs "Any Place the Old Flag Flies," "New Yorkers," "We Do the Dirty Work," "Cohan's Musical Moon," "Barnum Had the Right Idea," and "Oh, You Wonderful Girl."

The presentation of "The Little Millionaire" at the Grand Opera House next week will mark its first New York production since Geo. M. Cohan himself presented it at the Cohan theatre all last season. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Geo. M. Cohan Theatre.

If the spectacle of a great big audience that completely filled Geo. M. Cohan's theatre, New York, applauding and laughing at Geo. M. Cohan's brand new play, "Broadway," is to be accepted as a token of real appreciation, Geo. M., in the vernacular of the times, can be said to have "put another one over."

"Broadway" Jones arrived at Mr. Cohan's theatre at Broadway and 43rd street last Monday night, and "Broadway" Jones is likely to stay there for many weeks to come.

The play goes fast. It starts at a speed, after a very brief scene at simply serves to show that the Mr. Jones, who is the hero of the work, is some sport and comes home very late in a condition one is not likely to arrive at very early. The outh is supposed to be very rich, but in morning after the night before discloses the fact that he has run through his money and has engaged himself to a rich old woman, in order to get cash to pay his debts. His best friend tries to break off the match, but fails and the announcement of the engagement is allowed to stand.

Then Jones, the hero, gets word that his uncle has died and has left him a big property in the shape of a chewing gum factory, and the real action of the play comes in, showing how the young fellow is brought around, from a desire to sell his new possession for whatever it will bring, to an earnest determination to keep it for the good of the little Connecticut town of which it is the sole industrial enterprise and "Broadway" Jones, money-spender, becomes Jackson Jones, factory owner and leading man in his community.

The development of the plot runs along at high speed and the story is told in the rapid fire manner that characterizes all of Geo. M. Cohan's plays.

Mr. Cohan played the name part in his new comedy, and he played him with the vim and individuality of style that has characterized his work in the past.

He knew where all the points were and the audience got them at their full value, so full in fact, that laughter and applause got into the dialogue to such an extent at times that only the actor's graphic pantomime was left to tell the story. But we got the story nevertheless.

Gaiety Theatre.

New York is the scene of many new theatrical productions these days, some of 'em "get over" and some more of 'em don't, but which ever way the amusement breeze blows "Officer 666" at the Gaiety theatre, New York, continues to crowd that Broadway and 46th Street playhouse with delighted audiences who find exhilaration in the thrills and surprises that punctuate this, the best farce that has been presented in New York in twenty years.

"Little Miss Brown."

"Little Miss Brown" is not to be a mere transient in the hotel scenes in which the piece is set upon the Forty-eighth Street Theatre stage, but evidently has moved in to stay. The audiences at this establishment are large in numbers and voluciferous in their expressions of mirthful approval. It is no unduly optimistic forecast to express the conviction that Mr. Bartholomae's newest farcical comedy will enjoy a career quite as long and profitable as that of his previous work, "Over Night." The hotel office in which the first act takes place was copied in detail from a real hotel in one of the large cities of interior New York, and the room in which most of the subsequent scenes are played is an exact replica—even to the pictures on the walls—of a sitting room in the new Vanderbilt, in Manhattan. Hotel men der've much amusement from Mr. Bartholomae's day clerk, telephone operator, bell boy and colored porter, all of whom pleasantly satirize their prototypes in real life. The piece is also regarded pleasantly by reason of its having introduced to Broadway the previously unknown and charming personality of Madge Kennedy, who sprang into general popularity with the first New York performance of "Little Miss Brown" and will emerge into stardom long before the termination of her five years' contract with Mr. Brady.

The Work That Tells a Story.

Better the ridest work that tells a story or records a fact than the richest without meaning. There should not be a single ornament put upon great civic buildings without some intellectual intentions.—Ruskin.

You cannot run away from a weakness. You must some time fight it out or perish.

FOR AUTUMN DAYS.

Something Perfectly New
In Knitted Sweaters.

COAT WITH SIMULATED FUR TRIMMING.

A real novelty in knitted garments has sprung up this season.

It is a beautifully fashioned sweater coat in one of the soft dark greens or browns with a collar and cuffs of white of white shetland wool imitating fur.

VICTORIAN COIFFURES.

Paris They Are Wearing Curls of the Second Empire.

We must be Victorian with our head as well as our feet. Over in Paris they are wearing ringlets—"les anneaux" they call them, though the curl of former days was as popular with the subjects of Empress Eugenie as with those of Queen Vic.

The ringlet today is more easily achieved than in the sixties. It is bought and plumed in. Those for day are not so long as those worn in the evening, so have two sets of curls.

One of the coiffures to be worn with a hat has a short single ring, quite full and thick, back of each ear and a third at the back under a chignon that comes low on the neck in the form of puffs or an oval arrangement of plaits.

For evening a coquettish arrangement is to wear a bunch of three or four ringlets back of the left ear, the longest reaching to the shoulder. The front hair is parted and loosely brushed back and rolled in a thick, loose knot at the back of the head.

There are some types of women to whom these ringlets are most becoming. On the wrong woman they look exaggerated and rather ridiculous.

A Little Lacking.

A woman, a strong believer in suffrage, spoke a few days ago of the necessity of educating the educated woman. She told of a charming young woman, a scholar and a lady, who was teacher of English in one of the fashionable finishing schools. This young woman, Miss X., was conservative by instinct and birth and took no interest in any of the new movements. Last year she chaperoned a party of girls abroad, and in London, as is the habit of girls, they expressed a desire to visit Mme. Tussaud's wax-works. There the girls were interested in a group of interesting looking women who stood as if talking. Underneath the group were the names Mme. Despard, Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Pethick Lawrence. The girls turned to Miss X. and asked who those women were. Miss X. looked puzzled, but finally said:

"You know, girls, I'm not quite sure about them, but I think they robbed a bank."

Hints to the Wise.

Keep a few pieces of camphor gum in your linen closet. It will aid in keeping the linen white.

If fish is wrapped well in oiled paper it will not impart a flavor or odor to the other foodstuffs in the refrigerator.

To revive and help potted plants that are drooping place a teaspoonful of ammonia in three quarts of water and water the plants thoroughly with this mixture.

To clean plaster busts dip them into cold liquid starch. When dry the starch is brushed off and the dirt comes off with it, leaving the busts as clean and white as when new.

A solution of chloride of lime and water, a tablespoonful of the lime to two gallons of water, is an excellent medium for removing the most stubborn stains. Soak the stained garment for hours in the solution, and in time the offending spots will disappear, and this without injury to the fabric.

For Greaseless Gravy.

A housekeeper who experiments naturally, tried dashing cold water into the roasting pan one day when she made her gravy. To her delight the fat rose and hardened quickly into a flake which was easily removed, after which the gravy was brought to a boil and thickened.

Easy Money.

"Old? He may live for ten years yet!"

"Marry him and do your own cooking."—Houston Post.

Sporting Comment.

Athletics Lose.

The Athletics, weakened by the loss of several of their players, put up a remarkably poor game on Saturday and went down to defeat before the All Stars, of Perth Amboy, by the score of 17 to 10.

Believe us, it was some game. Nothing but hits and runs from the time the first ball was pitched. The farce was finally ended in the eighth when Umpire Charles Gould called the game to allow the score keepers to keep up with it. Atkinson was given poor support by the patched up team and the Perth Amboy team had a walk-over although the locals did a big bit of scoring themselves. Atkinson starred at the bat, getting two home runs and a double. The game was interspersed with brilliant bits of fielding but they were useless as far as the result was concerned. Everybody helped themselves to hits, and Rodda, the sterling Perth Amboy second sacker, tore off five out of six trips to the bar. Atkinson, Murray and Stratton went in the box in succession but all received poor support. Louie Elle, the Perth Amboy boxman, was connected with safely seventeen times by the locals but they were unable to push seven more runs over the plate. The weather was very poor for baseball and the crowd much smaller than usually patronize the games.

Sporting Tips.

Sit up and listen, ye basketball fans! If all goes well Miller, the crack little forward of the South River Sterlings, will be seen in Neptune tugs when the referee's whistle blows for the opening of the basketball season in this city. "Non" wishes to appear with this city's representatives on the court and Manager Abe Forgotson will probably place him in the lineup. He certainly is a clever forward, playing on the style of Canton and would make a fine mate for Jimmy. Local fans would surely be glad to see Miller play in this city.

On Sunday the Maurer A. C. defeated the Sheridans of this city on the latter's diamond by the score of 9 to 7. Zehrer pitched great ball for the visitors but was outdone by "Slippery" Buckelew the Sheridan colt. This locals had a safe lead until the ninth when the Maurers slipped over five runs. The batting of the Sorrenson brothers, of the Maurer team, and Bob Manaker, were the features. Manaker got two doubles and a triple and scored three runs.

No more Saturday games will be played by the Athletics this year. Manager Bill O'Toole has cancelled his game with the Bridgeport, Conn. team and the other contests which he had arranged, on account of the weather. The last game was poorly attended. The locals have had a successful season, playing grand ball, with the exception of the last game which was played under unfortunate conditions. All hail to the County champs! They are the undisputed holders of that title.

Mister Charles Gould comes around on Tuesday and informs Bill O'Toole that "he's the guy that put 'bridge' in Bridgeport." "Allright," says Bill, "you can leave it play there, no more Saturday games." You never can believe an umpire.

Lis-ten fans! Don't get disheartened about the local baseball outlook. If Dave Driscoll holds out his promise the Athletics, the county champions, will journey to New Brunswick on Sunday, October 6, and hook up with that all-famed professional bunch. Manager O'Toole will have a strong lineup and promises a far different result this time.

Abe Forgotson has arranged to have the All Newarks, one of the best basketball fives in Newark, play the second game of the season on the K. of P. court on Saturday, October 5. This is a good attraction and should be well patronized.

Jimmie Canton played with the Athletics on Saturday and made a freak double play which gained much applause from the spectators. Jimmie ran way back in the field, caught a pop fly, and fell, at the same time throwing the ball to Higgins for a double. It was some fancy throw, and cleverly disposed of Rodda, the Perth Amboy batting demon. Canton got three hits and two runs.

Hats off to Aekle. On Saturday the fans went wild when he lifted the ball over left field fence for a home run. The first drive over the fence this season. In the seventh he again duplicated the feat, giving his reputation as the best slugging pitcher in these parts. He made a double in the fourth inning and also got a single in the eighth. Some swatting that. Aekle made the hits pay, for "Doc" Haines, who promised a dollar for every home run had to fork over two beans while Dr. Burnett duplicated the gift. A. J. Johnson and George Greene each presented him with a pair of shoes (for his feat). Knocking homers would prove to be a paying proposition in South Amboy.

Several hundred South Amboy baseball fans watched Dave Driscoll's bunch hand the All Stars, of Perth Amboy, a beating last Sunday. The score was 5 to 0. This is the same score by which the Athletics were defeated by the professionals. Applaud, Perth Amboy's pride, gave the N. B. boys eleven hits, while Atkinson, of the locals, allowed them but five when he twirled for the local team. Atkinson has beaten Applegate several times this season and many fans in the county consider him "Chuck's" superior.

RIVERSIDES WILL OPEN THEIR BASKETBALL SEASON

At The Auditorium This Saturday Evening—Skating Tonight (Friday).

This Saturday evening the Riversides will open their basketball season at the Auditorium, Perth Amboy, when they line up against the Michelin Five, of Milltown. This game will undoubtedly be fast and interesting. The Rives are eager for the fray after their long rest through the summer and that they will "play their heads off" is certain. Van Mulchaey, who became very popular last season as referee, will again be seen conducting the games at the Auditorium. In addition to a good basketball game there will be dancing before and after the game.

Tonight, Friday, the Auditorium will be devoted to skating. A feature of tonight's skating session is that the ladies will be admitted free. Many hesitate from attending the skating sessions saying they cannot skate. There is no reason to be timid. The management has several good skaters on hand who are always glad to teach anyone who cares to learn the art of keeping their equilibrium on the rollers.

NO MORE BOXING!

Is boxing ended for good in this State? We fear it is unless suitable laws governing the game are enacted at the next Legislature. The action of the authorities in stopping the Permo Stag on last Monday evening was a great surprise to the sports of this vicinity. The boxing game had progressed in the past two years with hardly any interference and the conclusion had been reached that it would continue unmolested for some time to come. The sudden action of closing all boxing shows came as a bolt from a clear sky. No one expected interference but it came, and it will be a long time before the shows will be re-established—probably not at all.

Anyone who attended the stags given by the Permo will express the same opinion—that they were conducted in a clean and sportsmanlike manner. Referee Monroe never allowed a bout to be staged in which the contestants were not pretty evenly matched, nor would he stand for foul tactics. It is to be lamented that boxing has been stopped here, as this is one branch of sport, which, when cleanly conducted, has always found popular favor in the sporting world. We hope the next Legislature will enact such laws as will allow the boxing game to be re-established.

GRIND OF DEATH AT TRENTON FAIR

Big Program of Motorcycle Races For the Opening Day.

Always up to the second in its endeavors to give its patrons the newest things in entertainment and thrills, the Trenton Fair will this year offer for Monday a program of motorcycle races that will introduce all of the champion professional riders, together with many of the leading amateurs of the country.

The professional races have been arranged by W. H. Wellman, who has created a national sensation this year with the motorcycle contests in the famous Brighton "bowl of death." Chappelle, Seymour, Peck, King and a dozen others will battle in a series of events that will furnish such exciting sport as has never before been witnessed on the Trenton Fair grounds.

The professional races will include two, three, four and six mile heat races and a match race, and the amateurs will have a two and a four mile heat race and a ten mile event.

The motorcycle races will supplant the running races, that have been the feature for Monday in the past two or three years.

HOW TO KILL YOUR TOWN.

Buy from peddlers as much and as often as possible.

Denounce your merchants because they make a profit on their goods.

Glory in the downfall of a man who has done much to build up your town.

Make your town out a bad place and stab it every chance you get.

Refuse to unite in any scheme for the betterment of the material interests of the people.

Tell your merchants that you get goods a great deal cheaper in some other town and charge him with extortion. If a stranger comes to your town tell him everything is overdone and predict a general crash in the near future.

Patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your own and then denounce yours for not being as large and as cheap as the city papers.

If you are a merchant, don't advertise in the home paper, but compel the editor to go elsewhere for advertisements, and howl like a sore head because he does so. Buy a rubber stamp and use it. It may save you a few dimes and make your letterheads look as though you were doing business in a one-horse town.

If you are a farmer curse the place where you trade as the meanest on earth. Talk this over with your neighbors and tell them the men are robbers and thieves. It will make your property much less valuable, but you don't care.—Price Current.

Nature.

The best definition of nature is perhaps Mill's in his "Three Essays on Religion." In that work Mill says, "Nature is a collective name for all facts, actual and possible, or a name for the mode, partly known to us and partly unknown, in which all things take place." Continuing, Mill says: "The nature of a thing means its entire capacity of existing phenomena. As the nature of any given thing is the aggregate of its powers and properties, so Nature, in the abstract, is the aggregate of the powers and properties of all things."

See adv. for further particulars.

The dates for the Sunday School fair to be held by the members of the Presbyterian Sunday School have been changed from September 24th and 25th to October 8th and 9th. It is expected that the improvements being made in the interior of the church will be completed about that time and all indications point to the affair being one of the most prominent church social affairs of the year. A supper will be served in connection with the fair and all who know the quality of the suppers which the ladies of the church provide will be on hand to partake.

clouds lawn on the property of Mayor F. E. DeGraw was a of a merry gathering last afternoon, when members of the family assembled to celebrate the anniversary of the marriage of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Mack. Altogether there were about twenty in the party, and as one family they made the event a memorable one, none entering heartier into the celebration than Mr. DeGraw himself, surrounded as he was with a jolly group of children, grandchildren and relatives by marriage. During the afternoon refreshments were served.

SILZER MAKES STATEMENT.

24th, 1912, it determined to find no bill against any person or corporation. An honest conclusion by a disinterested body, and a conclusion in which every honest man and every good citizen will probably join under the circumstances, and under the evidence. The Grand Jury has serious work to do in the public interest and it not designed to interfere in private suits for damages.

"The matter having been settled and determined by the Grand Jury on July 24th, nothing further was heard of the matter until Mr. Brown started suit for Logosh and Paulow, against the American Smelting and Refining Co., to recover damages for injuries received by them by being shot by guards or deputies while the mob was storming the plant and trying to burn it down.

"This came to my attention on August 18th, when the New York counsel for the American Smelting and Refining Company sent me Mr. Brown's complaints and asked me to appear as counsel for the defendants in the civil suit, which I consented to do.

Brown Wanted Silzer.

"Strangely enough in the month of June, while the Grand Jury investigation was still pending, Mr. Brown asked me to associate myself with him as counsel for Logosh and Paulow, if he brought suit. I was busy trying a case and told him to come and see me later. He did not see me but started his suits. The defendants came and I took their case as I would have taken Mr. Brown's.

"I would not 'rush into print' except for the reasons before stated, and for the further reason that I want the people of Middlesex county to know that their interests are being taken care of.

"Whenever I reach the point where I will betray my trust as prosecutor and fail to do my best to apprehend and convict criminals, I will resign.

"In the meantime no attacks of thoughtless attorneys, defending criminals, shall deter me from prosecuting a man indicted for selling on Sunday, when the peace officers of our county had a riot to deal with.

"If the court deems a second investigation necessary, it will undoubtedly order it, and every witness who knows anything will be subpoenaed. The Grand Jury is the only body having power to find indictments. The Prosecutor has no such right. All he can do is to present the facts he can find. Our Grand Jury are above suspicion in this county and have been so for many a year, and can be depended upon to do what is right."

Mount no Offense, Says Brown.

Prosecutor Silzer, immediately after the proceedings in court Wednesday wrote to Mr. Brown asking for an explanation of his remarks. He received the following reply:

"Hon. George S. Silzer,
"New Brunswick, N. J.

"Dear Sir:—

"I regret very much the conception you have of what occurred in court this morning. I had no desire nor did I assail your character either by innuendo or otherwise; consequently, there is nothing for me to retract in that regard.

"I did not say that you were retained by the American Smelting and Refining Company in a criminal charge against them, but I did say that you were retained by the American Smelting and Refining Company in two civil cases now pending which arose over the shooting during the strikes at Perth Amboy and requested the court to grant sufficient time for me to investigate the Skrocki case and not to bring the latter case on for trial until the civil cases were determined.

"I said further that the Prosecutor had disqualified himself in my opinion to prosecute the Skrocki case if the selling of liquor by Skrocki, as alleged in the indictment, occurred during the time of the strike, because of the interest you had taken in the civil proceedings for the American Smelting and Refining Company.

"I did not say that you protected any one before the Grand Jury, nor did I refer to the Grand Jury in this connection or otherwise, nor that you, by corrupt influence or practices, assisted the American Smelting and Refining Company in any way, and I regret very much that you have construed the address by counsel to the court in such a manner.

"I appreciate very much your standing as a reputable man of the community, and it would injure me very much to think that anything I said this morning in regard to your connection with the American Smelting and Refining Company could be construed as an interference on your part with the workings of the Grand Jury regarding the strike cases.

"As before stated, I did not charge you directly or indirectly nor by inference of representing the American Smelting and Refining Company in any criminal charge nor that you sought to protect them; consequently, not having made a charge, how can it be retracted by me? I deplore very much that anyone should draw such an inference from the address made to the court. You are at liberty to publish this letter.

"Yours truly,
"THOMAS BROWN."

JOE HONAN PUT

Perth Amboy Improver Draw

A su forgot A. on Joe Honan, the "Bull" Mer, put Joe Scelly, of Brooklyn away in the third round of a scheduled six round go.

The surprise was not that the Waiter licked his man, for he started out strong, and looked like a winner. It was the manner in which he dropped his opponent that startled and then petrified the spectators.

Scelly landed the first blow, a jab to Honan's jaw, but the Waiter was there all the time and came back with sledge hammer blows. Neither contestants showed any signs of weakening in either of the first two rounds. In the third they mixed up good and plenty. The round was just getting interesting and the boys had just pulled out of a clinch when the surprise came. Scelly started across the ring toward Honan. The latter crouched and started a rush. The Waiter's right arm shot straight out from his shoulder and encountered Scelly's jaw. Scelly dropped to the floor and was counted out by Referee Monroe. The blow was given so quickly that the fans were silent for the fraction of a minute, then one mighty roar broke forth for the Waiter and excited spectators started to climb into the ring to shake the hand of the victor. Scelly was helped to his corner and when he woke up looked surprised. He was probably thinking that one of the steel girders fell from the roof and caressed his "bean." Beyond a headache, Scelly was all right and proceeded to his dressing room.

The semi-final of six rounds between Kid Ginger, of Brooklyn, and Young Levins, of New Brunswick, was a fast, clean go and was considered a good draw. Both boys showed class and cleverness and were evenly matched.

Joe Parker, of Staten Island, and Al. Minkler, of Perth Amboy, went three rounds of a four round go. Minkler was substituted for Dan Caswell, of Freehold, who failed to show up. Parker had the best of the go from the start, landing on Minkler at will. At the end of the third, Minkler decided to quit as he was not in good condition, not having done any training for the bout. While it lasted it was a good exhibition of skill on Parker's side and determination on the part of Minkler to do his best.

Fingy Edwards, of Perth Amboy, went four with Young Dudock, of Fords. It was a slugging match all through and although some said Edwards shaded Dudick, it could be called a draw.

Young Neilson, of Rahway, proved too big an opponent for Young McCune, of S. I., and Referee Monroe would not let them continue the bout. The next show will be given on September 23, when it is expected that Luke Oliver, a 210 pound Perth Amboy scrapper, will appear in the main bout.

M. P. CHURCH NOTES

The new anthems are being highly appreciated by the congregations. The choir is to be commended.

Another lot of new hymn books have been secured and some new hymns will be heard at the church.

Pauls Clayton led a C. E. meeting Sunday that was largely attended, and some very helpful remarks were made on the topic.

The Junior C. E. Society will reconvene in the near future and begin their Fall and Winter meetings. It is hoped that the children will all be ready for the services.

Last Sunday a fine congregation assembled to worship the Lord and very interesting services were held the entire day, the singing being one of the most helpful parts of the services.

The pastor and family have returned home after two weeks' vacation and were met at the train and entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin of Broadway and Second street, prior to entering the new parsonage.

During the absence of the pastor the services were held as usual, Mr. Henry Rainor taking charge of one service, the monthly service of singing; and Mr. Logan, of Perth Amboy, Sunday, September 1, all of which was highly appropriate. The week night meetings were looked after by Mr. J. F. Fulton.

The Sunday School was nicely attended, it being the Sunday for parsonage offering and after all that has been done and the last vacation month, August, when people generally rest, yet the sum of $33.06 was contributed, making nearly $450.00 given by the school, and a last effort is being made to make the offering $500 before the Annual Conference which meets at Canarsie, N. Y., October 8.

FRANK THOMPSON SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

The annual reward of the two Frank Thompson Scholarships were made last week. Herbert Ridgway, of Camden, New Jersey, and Edward McKinley French, of Cleveland, Ohio, were the successful candidates on the Lines East and West of Pittsburgh, respectively, having received the highest averages in a competitive examination which was open to the sons of all employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad System. At present there are eight holders of these scholarships, which amount to $600 annually. This is the number maintained out of a fund endowed in the sum of $120,000 by the children of the late Frank Thompson, former President of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, as a memorial to their father.

Herbert Ridgway is the son of M. B. Ridgway, a passenger conductor on the West Jersey & Seashore Railroad. He is twenty years of age, and is at present attending Cornell University, where he expects to continue his studies.

Edward McKinley French is the son of H. A. French, deceased, formerly Division Freight Agent of the Marietta Division of the Pennsylvania Lines West. He has been attending the Case School of Applied Science of Cleveland, Ohio, where he expects to continue his studies.

The Frank Thompson Scholarship Fund was established in 1907. It was designed to afford to sons of living and deceased employees on all lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad System, an opportunity for a technical education. While the scholarships are awarded on competitive examination, the winners must qualify for admission to one of the technical schools approved by the Company, before receiving certificates entitling them to draw upon the Scholarship Fund.

Last year the successful candidates were Robert Francis Hohman of Fort Wayne, Indiana, who is now a student at Stevens University, and John James Caldwell of Greensburg, Penna., who is at present attending the University of Pennsylvania. In 1910, George F. Wolfe, of Youngwood, Penna., and M. Roy Strong, of Cleveland, Ohio, were awarded the Scholarships. Benjamin M. Snyder, Jr., of Elmira, N. Y., and Wallace B. Porter, of Youngstown, Ohio, were the successful candidates in 1909.

The examinations for the Frank Thompson Scholarships were conducted by the College Entrance Examination Board of New York City. They correspond in general to the entrance requirements of the scientific department of universities, colleges and technical schools.

A WORLD MYSTERY

Early Civilization of the Twin Continents of America.

THE SECRET OF THE PACIFIC.

A Riddle Still Unsolved Is the Origin of the Ancient Toltecs, Aztecs, Mayas and Incas—The Enigma That Lurks in Their Ruined Monuments.

"The Secret of the Pacific" is the title of a book which deals with one of the great mysteries of the world—the origin of the aborigines of the Americas. The author—C. Reginald Enock, F. R. G. S.—answers his own question, "What do we mean by the secret of the Pacific?" thus:

"Set between the world's mightiest oceans, the Pacific and the Atlantic, lies that greatest of all islands, the twin continents of America. A great mystery still shrouds these twin continents, a riddle still unread, for whose solution the world may be said to have waited 400 years. What is this mystery?"

"History will have us believe that until the end of the fifteenth century these great seas had roared defiant, uncrossed by man, with the exception, grudgingly admitted, of some shadowy northern from Europe, and that these great continents have been unvisited ever since the world began. Yet scattered for thousands of miles throughout the forests and deserts of these twin continents are the remains of civilized empires which once flourished there—the ruined temples, palaces, pyramids and habitations of peoples and nations who rose, fell and rose again ages before the caravels of the Vikings and the conquistadores turned their prow toward the setting sun.

"What I have ventured to term the secret of the Pacific is the mystery surrounding the ancient civilization of the Americas, the homes of the Toltecs, the Aztecs, the Mayas, the Incas and their predecessors. What was their origin? What was their connection with each other? Had they in link with the old world? Did they in olden times draw inspiration and knowledge from Asia, Egypt, Babylon? If not, and they sprang unaided from their own soil and created their own culture, what are or were the conditions of their independent development?"

"It has been my lot to traverse, at least in part, those great regions of North and South America forming the western world which we have erroneously termed 'new'—the ancient world of America before Columbus. My travels have taken me upon the trails of Cortes and Pizarro, trails which in some cases are almost as remote and difficult today as they were when first traversed by the white man from Europe and the horse first ascended the Andes.

"But to these journeyings we must add other incursions through space and time, both real and conjectural, which will take us from Mexico to Egypt, from Peru to Babylon, from the American shores to the strange islands of Polynesia. From those border regions where the Toltec, the Aztec and the Inca flourished we must seek to gather up those threads which some have conjectured lead to Asia.

"What are the monuments left by these ancient peoples, and what are the evidences of their civilizations? For 4,000 miles or more they lie upon the western American littoral and Cordilleras and seem to extend in isolated patches across the Pacific ocean in a northwest path to Asia. Like vast stepping stones between the old world and the new. In the rock ravines and scorching mesas of Arizona and California, wildernesses whose trails were first mapped out by the bones of hardy explorers, are the abandoned habitations of the cliff dwellers.

"On the high slopes and tablelands of Mexico are strange pyramids and mysterious courts and quadrangles, with carved stone halls about them, a puzzle to the beholder. In the dense tropic forests of Yucatan are the sculptured facades of palaces and pyramid temples of exceeding beauty and ingenuity, ruined and abandoned or surrounded here and there by the wattle huts of half savage Indians.

"In Central America sculptured stelae of great beauty and peculiarity protrude strangely from the jungle, while far away below the equator, along the scorching coast line of Peru and amid the bleak tablelands and snow crowned ranges of the Andes, are cunningly wrought temples and impregnable fortresses, which could only have been fashioned under the mandates of ruthless new world pharaohs or devout American Solomons.

"In the Mexican deserts and by the waters of the mysterious Lake Titicaca of the Incas the sun god and the moon god held sway, and centuries ago unnumbered ancient worshippers raised great temples to the 'unknown God.' "Deepening the mystery still, there arise strange and grim upon solitary sea girt Pacific islands in the track of the setting sun colossal images and fortresses whose origin no man can conjecture. Here, in brief, are the chapters, written in stone, of some great and perhaps universal history—a history which so far we have not been able to inscribe in the general plan of human record. This, then, is the secret of the Pacific."

He is not only idle who does nothing, but he is idle who might be better employed.—Socrates.

manufactures in the country, but there was a sufficient quantity of gray cloth (now known as "cadet gray") in Philadelphia. Scott ordered it to be made up for his soldiers, and in these new gray suits they marched down the Niagara river, on the Canadian side. In the direction of Chippewa.

It was just before the battle, known by that name, which occurred early in July. General Riall, the British commander, looked upon them with contempt when preparing for battle on the morning of the 5th, for the Marquis of Tweeddale, who, with the British advance, had skirmished with them all the day before, had reported that they were only "Buffalo militia" and accounted for their fighting so well and driving him to his intrenchments north of the Chippewa river by the fact that it was the anniversary of American Independence that stimulated them.

On account of the victory won at Chippewa on that day, chiefly by these soldiers in gray, and in honor of Scott and the troops that style of cloth was adopted at the Military academy at West Point as the uniform of the cadets.—New York Press.

MADE ALL FRANCE LAUGH.

The Political Fight Between Dumas and Paul de Kock.

When Dumas pere opposed Paul de Kock for the representation of a Paris arrondissement the historic campaign convulsed the whole of France. Dumas' address was very brief. Substantially it ran:

"I have written 400 volumes and thirty-five plays. The books have brought in 11,453,000 francs and the dramas 6,300,000 francs. My work and my success have kept 2,500 people alive for thirty years."

Paul de Kock was more than equal to the occasion in his reply:

"I have kept many more people alive. My sixty-three novels have brought in 63,000,000 francs. I live in the Boulevard St. Martin. From 5 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon I sit at my window watching the cocoanut vendors pass. All France knows it. So not a visitor comes to Paris without writing in his notebook that he must not forget to go and see Paul de Kock at his window watching the cocoanut sellers. Each of them naturally takes the omnibus to get to the Boulevard St. Martin—three pence; afterward, the omnibus again—another three pence. Twenty thousand shillings a year for twenty years! To the omnibus company alone I have brought £10,000. I pass over the Russian princesses who have been so eager to see me that they have not shrunk from the expense of a cab."—London Graphic.

The Lady or the Tiger.

Somebody told Henpeck the story of the lady and the tiger, describing vividly how the poor lover stood trembling before the door of the cage, wondering whether his fiancée would choose to surrender him to another woman or hand him over to the jaws of the tiger.

"Pooh!" commented Henpeck. "That's how it is with me at home. Every time I go in the gate I never know whether I'm going to meet a lady or a tiger."

An Old Time Sweet Perfume.

An ancient recipe for making a sweet perfume for the ladies runs as follows: Take storax, calamite and Benjamin, of each half an ounce, laudanum one ounce, musk two grains, and put them together in a fair brass mortar, which you must first warm so hot in the fire that with the heat thereof and beating with a little pestle it may work like wax, which, being thoroughly wrought, you may make it in little cakes or balls and so lay it up.

His Natural Death.

A clerk who acted as accountant to a London firm was charged by the head of the firm with embezzlement. He admitted his guilt and went home and cut his throat. The wound was not immediately fatal, but caused an abscess, from which he died afterward in hospital. The jury summoned to the inquest returned the amazing verdict of "death from natural causes."—London Mail.

Saw the Finish.

Matrimony.

Matrimony resembles a pair of shears so joined that they cannot be separated, often moving in opposite directions, yet always punishing any one who comes between them.—S. Smith.

Underbrim Trimming
on Smart Hats.

A NEW IDEA IN HAT DECORATIONS.

For the semidress chapeau this moderately broad shape in black velvet is an excellent model.

It is trimmed with folds of white satin and a fringed silk scarf, one end of which is run through the brim and formed into a cabochon on its under-side.

DRESSING HINT.

How to Make a Matinee of Bordered Material.

A matinee that is new and easily made by the home dressmaker is of a silk bordered marquisette or bordered lawn, cotton voile or any of that style goods, so simple is the construction.

It is of a black and white stripe with a twelve inch border of black ground, with a design of blue ribbon bowknots and full garland of pink roses. The square neck and yoke of the matinee, back and front, are of deep valencienne lace, with the deep, large scallops of the lace forming the lower edge, from under which comes the plaited fullness of the striped material with the border attached.

The lower edge of the border is finished with a band three inches wide of the black and white stripe. It is about thirty inches in length. The elbow sleeves are full, formed of the border, with blue satin ribbon bows on the shoulder and, as a finish, with lace at the elbow.

In the Fashionable Indian Red.

This new shade of red has nothing crude or glaring about it, but is exquisitely soft and rich in tone. The gown pictured shows an interesting little tunic of embroidered red chiffon over a skirt of crepe de chine in the same rich color.

The soft skirt has a deep hem, and a small train clings gracefully about the feet, the dancing boots being very gay little affairs of red satin with high Louis heels and flat smoked pearl buttons.

The décolletage is finished with a lace tucker outlined with red beads, and below it falls a deep fringe, also of red beads.

A Buttonhole Hint.

In nearly all of the ready to wear shirtwaists and lingerie blouses sold in the shops the buttonhole will be cut parallel with the opening, and if there is the slightest strain on them when the blouse is worn they will either come unfastened or will gape open in a most discouraging way.

There is really no way to remedy this fault in the bought waist unless you are able to match the material and cut away the strip of material having the buttonholes in it and stitch on a new piece, in which you can work the buttonholes horizontally, as should always be done on every blouse that is to be worn buttoned in the back.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS.

Grand Opera House.

Messrs. Klaw and Erlanger will present the popular musical comedy "The Pink Lady" at Cohan and Harris' Grand Opera House, New York, next week with all the New York and London favorites including Frank Lalor, Miss Hazel Dawn, Miss Alice Hegeman, Jack Henderson, Cranford Kent, Miss Louise Kelly, Jed Prouty, and the entire production from the New Amsterdam Theatre. There will be the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. This should be a gala week at the Grand Opera House for this is the first time since its production about a year and a half ago that "The Pink Lady" has been seen in New York save at the New Amsterdam Theatre.

Geo. M. Cohan Theatre.

Monday, September 23, is the date set for the opening of the season at the Geo. M. Cohan Theatre, New York. On that evening "Broadway Jones," a new comedy from the pen of young Mr. Cohan will receive its initial New York presentation with the author in the title role, supported by his father and mother—Jerry J. and Helen F. Cohan and their company. The preliminary sale of seats and boxes for Geo. M. Cohan's Broadway re-appearance will begin at the Cohan Theatre box office on Thursday morning, September 19th.

Gaiety Theatre.

Few policemen on duty in New York City are enjoying themselves as much as "Officer 666" at the Gaiety Theatre. "Officer 666" accepts a $500 bribe, loans his uniform to a perfect stranger and is dismissed from the force once every 24 hours. In spite of all this he is right back on the job the next night, and the whole town is laughing at him.

W. A. Brady's Playhouse.

At William A. Brady's Playhouse "Bought and Paid For" maintains such unusual longevity that the management hesitates to place a fixed limit upon its continuance, even at this late day. Several times during the career of this play it has been thought improbable that a serious drama could continue very much longer, but upon each occasion the box office receipts have taken on renewed impetus, at once gratifying and surprising to those immediately in interest. It now is stated at the Playhouse that "Little Women" will be produced when "Bought and Paid For" is withdrawn, but beyond that indefinite forecast the official prophet is uncommunicative. Mr. Broadhurst's comedy drama meanwhile has exceeded all of last year's New York attractions in length of endurance. It was produced some time ahead of "Bunt Pulls the Strings," the last of its rivals to survive until the present moment, which finds "Bought and Paid For" alone of the all-the-year-around plays.

Forty-Eighth Street Theatre.

"Little Miss Brown" will retain possession of the new Forty-eighth Street Theatre for a period of indefinite duration. Like "Over Night," the previous comedy from the pen of Philip Bartholomae, this piece began climbing into New York favor by daily steps rather than in one bound—a condition regarded by theatrical managers as indicating with certainty a long and commanding career. It is a fact that since the first performance each succeeding audience has been larger than that of the night before, while the entertainment with repetition steadily has grown more rapid and attractive. Miss Madge Kennedy, the young girl of twenty, with but little previous stage experience, who made a remarkable success at the opening of "Little Miss Brown," has been engaged by Manager Brady for the next five years. It is interesting history that Miss Kennedy was "discovered" by Grace George while playing in Cincinnati. The young girl was at that time appearing in a minor musical comedy which Miss Grace George went to observe one afternoon when she had no matinee of her own. A letter to Mr. Brady followed, saying that here was a new personality worth securing, and Mr. Bartholomae was requested to go and see the young actress. Shortly afterwards she was engaged for the number three "Over Night" company, where she rapidly developed such ability that the author re-shaped his central character in "Little Miss Brown," which he was then writing, to fit her. This narrative indicates, first, that Mr. Brady's unceasing search for youthful persons with talent is not without reward, and second, that when an inexperienced youngster possessing genuine capacity comes along, the road to success is not so filled with obstacles and conceptions as some pessimists would have us believe.

POISONING BY TEA.

When the Cup That Cheers May Be
Come a Menace to Health.

It is only in comparatively recent times that tea drinking has been at all prevalent in this country. Coffee is the national drink and is more largely consumed by far than any other beverage. But tea drinking is making great strides, the reason for which is not hard to find. The advantages of tea over coffee as a stimulating and cheering drink do not consist in a superiority of its component parts, but in the fact that a good tea can be more easily produced than a good coffee and that it is more easily made than coffee.

A very great deal of the virtue of coffee consists in the manner in which it is converted into a beverage, and seldom is the art carried out efficiently. Many of the concoctions which are sold as coffee in restaurants and consumed in private houses are not worthy of the name. On the other hand, tea is easily made, the chief point being that the water used for the infusion boils and that the infusion is drunk when fresh and not allowed to stand.

However, there are occasions, and these not infrequent, when tea drinking is harmful. Tea poisoning is a more or less common condition in those countries in which the habit of drinking tea is prevalent, as in England, for instance. Among the working classes the women often become addicted to the tea habit and not only drink to excess, sipping tea throughout the day, but drink it in such a state that the poisonous properties are most evident. The tea is in a stewed condition, the pot being kept on the stove the whole day. Men, too, who work at indoor trades and at trades which from their nature tend to create thirst often become excessive tea drinkers.—Medical Record.

Women in Politics.

As long ago as 1878 women were among the speakers at both Republican and Democratic national conventions, and in 1900 Mr. Bryan's nomination was seconded by a woman delegate from Utah. The first woman's suffrage convention was held at Seneca Falls, N. Y., in 1848. But the movement was by no means new even then. Abigail Adams and Mary Warren tried to secure recognition of women when the federal constitution was made, and in colonial days Margaret Brent, as executrix of Lord Baltimore, demanded a seat in the assembly of Maryland.—Chicago News.

BIG GAIN IN RECEIPTS FROM AUTO LICENSES

State Revenue $91,497.19 More Money
This Year Than in 1911—Reciprocity Seems to Have Vindicated Itself.

The amount collected by the State Motor Vehicle Department in motor vehicle fees for the eight months of 1912, ending August 31, was $440,509.89. For the corresponding period of 1911 the State's income from this source was $359,012.70, showing a gain in revenue to the State this year of $91,497.19. These figures were given out Monday by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Job H. Lippincott, in a statement showing the operations of his department this year.

Commissioner Lippincott shows that for the eight months of this year registrations were issued to 43,373 automobiles and to 5,563 motor cycles, a total of 48,938 registrations. For the corresponding period in 1911 the automobile registration numbered 34,776, and to motor cycles 3,590, a total of 38,366, this shows a total gain in registrations this year of 10,572. The statement was issued at this time by Mr. Lippincott because on September 1 began the period during which registrations will be issued at half-rate for the remaining four months of the year.

Commissioner Lippincott points out that in 1911 under the old law there were 12,000 touring privileges issued, giving eight-day privileges to non-resident tourists in this State for the nominal fee of $1, while in 1912, up to April, when the reciprocity law became effective, there were 85 touring privileges issued. In this statement no account is made of the 12,000 touring privileges of last year, as in the opinion of Mr. Lippincott they were not really registrations. Discussing the figures, Mr. Lippincott said:

"In analyzing these figures, it would appear that there has been a great gain under reciprocity. I would, however, call attention to the fact that reciprocity did not become effective until April 1, and it is, therefore, impossible to use these figures as an absolute guide to what will happen in New Jersey under reciprocity. A number of the gains for 1912 were made during the months before reciprocity became effective. I am of the opinion, however, that if the reciprocity law be properly enforced, the State will issue many more licenses and collect a much larger revenue for the State.

"In order to make possible a strict enforcement of our reciprocity law," declared Commissioner Lippincott, "it will be necessary for the next legislature to pass a law compelling owners of garages to establish books which will keep a complete record of all machines that come in and go out of their places. Such a supplement to our law already has been drawn and will be presented to the legislature next year. The importance of the law can be readily seen from the fact that it is very difficult now to enforce the fifteen-day touring privilege under reciprocity and if such garages keep proper records it will add greatly in the enforcement of this provision of the act. It is also important, under the changed conditions brought about by the adoption of reciprocity, that the department have a sufficient number of inspectors to enforce the law. With only eight paid inspectors it has been found very difficult even to approximate an enforcement of the fifteen-day touring privilege."

Mr. Lippincott declared that if outside tourists are to use New Jersey's

Improved roads it is absolutely necessary that the revenue of the automobile department be greatly increased, if the roads are to be maintained at their present standard.

RIVERSIDES WANT TO MEET THE NEPTUNES

(By Hughsey.)

Manager Joe Billott, of the Auditorium, Perth Amboy, told us on Monday night that the Riversides would like to meet the Neptunes. On Saturday evening, September 28, the Riversides will formally open their season. They have the clever Michelin Five, of Milltown, booked for that evening and we are looking forward to a good tussle.

"If the Neptunes wish to meet the Riversides," said Manager Billott, "they can do so any Saturday night that can be arranged between the two teams. The South Amboy boys are a fine lot of sportsmen and we would like to have them come over to see us at their convenience."

Following last season's games between the Rivies and Neps, the rivalry is pretty keen, and we hope that a game or series of games can be arranged for this season. With Cantion, Manhattan, Schwartz, Olsen and Deegan in the lineup (not forgetting those new suits) the team assumes a very aggressive appearance, and we are confident that this aggregation of players can "bring home the bacon."

The Sheridans of this city defeated the Clover A. C. of Perth Amboy, last Sunday by the one-sided score of 19 to 2. The Sheridans have secured the services of several Morgan players and have greatly strengthened their team by placing them in their lineup.

High School Mentionings

Small Enrollment This Year.

High School opened last Monday afternoon in School No. 1 with a much smaller attendance than usual, and under entirely different circumstances than last year. Several changes have been made in the faculty. Prof. Paul S. Miller having been engaged by the Board of Education to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. J. E. Crane, and Miss Charlotte Miller, of this city, serving as commercial instructor in place of Miss Miriam Minnich, resigned.

The half-day session plan will, no doubt, interfere somewhat with the usual schedule and the high school scholars will be detained a quarter hour after the other pupils. This will make the afternoon session extend to 4:45 and the morning session until 12:15.

Seniors Organize.

This year's Senior Class consists of fourteen members, eleven girls and three boys. On Monday a class meeting was held for the purpose of organizing for the year, and last year's officers, with one exception, were re-elected for the term. Miss Ellen Parlsen was elected treasurer in place of Fred Bloodgood, who does not intend to return. Crimson and gold were decided upon as the class colors and the carnation adopted as the class flower.

High School Items.

Back again! But it don't seem like home.

Fred Bloodgood has qualified to enter the Senior Class but has accepted a good position in Elizabeth and does not intend to return. Fred was one of the most popular boys in the high school and his many friends will be sorry to see him go.

The Freshman Class this year will be very small, only a small number entering high school from the eighth grade. Misses Frances Perrine and Mildred Learned, who qualified to enter, are attending the State Normal School.

The members of the Senior Class greatly regret that Miss Georgina Nichols, one of their number, will be unable to attend school this year, on account of serious illness. Georgine is of a happy disposition and was one of the most popular members of her class. On Wednesday the members presented her with a large bouquet of carnations, their class flower.

Athletics.

The outlook for Athletics this year is promising. Prof. Miller takes an interest in athletics and will do all in his power to aid the boys. If it can be arranged the girls will have a basketball team as well as the boys. On Tuesday afternoon a meeting was held for the purpose of organizing for the coming year. The following officers were elected: President, Mr. Miller; Vice-President, Harold Orr; Secretary, Hobart Johnson, and Treasurer, T. Kwilinski. The manager and captain of the basketball, football and baseball teams will be chosen at the next meeting of the association after the members have qualified for their respective branches of sport. A number of last year's baseball and football suits are in the possession of members of those teams who do not intend to return and the secretary was instructed to write to the boys having them and request their return before the season opens.

A RALLY DINNER.

Apropos to the celebration of Rally week at the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Ladies' Auxiliary will hold a rally dinner in the basement of the church next Friday evening, September 20. Supper will be served from 5 to 8 p. m., but no suppers will be sent out. Tickets are 25 cents. Ice cream and cake will be on sale.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

To the Editor of THE CITIZEN:

Nearly every one who possesses fruit trees has suffered from the depredations of juvenile thieves, who have stolen their fruit before it was ripe, broken down branches, and trodden under foot growing vegetables. Every year some of this kind of work goes on, but this year it seems to have been quite universal. Of course, I know that the theft of growing fruit is not considered as heinous an offense as stealing food out of another man's house, but to my mind both are equally violations of the Commandment, "Thou Shalt not Steal," and it would seem to me that if this kind of stealing is not "nipped in the bud," it will surely lead to stealing of a kind which when detected will land the perpetrator behind the bars of the State prison.

These thefts are often perpetrated in broad daylight. Where are the police? ONE WHO HAS SUFFERED.

Council Will Ask for Bids on $40,000 Worth at Five Per Cent. Interest—Other Business Transacted.

Bids for painting both engine houses were awarded to William T. Hammell by the Council at regular meeting last Tuesday evening.

Present—Mayor Welsh, Councilmen Manhattan, O'Connor, Slover, Stanton and Stuart; Clerk Mack, Solicitor Pearce, Engineer Mason, Treasurer Perrine, Street Commissioner Connors and Collector Sutliff.

Minutes of previous meeting were approved as read.

The clerk read petition of property owners against alteration of southerly line of Perth street. On motion of Mr. Manhattan it was received and referred to special committee appointed previously by council on adjustment of lines on this street.

The clerk read protest signed by E. McDonough, C. Straub and others against the flagging of David street from Broadway to Rosewell street.

After some discussion, on motion of Mr. Manhattan it was received and filed.

A communication was read from Protection Engine Company asking use of city team for hauling fire engine at parade in Perth Amboy. On motion of Mr. Manhattan, it was received and referred to the Mayor.

The clerk read letter from Edward W. Hines, secretary Public Service Street Railway Company, acknowledging receipt of letters from the city. On motion of Mr. O'Connor it was received and referred to committee on streets.

The Chapman and Merritt Wrecking Company sent a letter requesting payment of $1,000 due for resetting sewer pipe in the bay, which on motion of Mr. Stanton was referred to sewer committee and city engineer.

Clerk read a request for transfer of license from Wacław Cosmo to William Lyons. On motion of Mr. Stanton, it was referred to committee on licenses.

George Gundrum, David Quinlan, C. H. Smith filed liens amounting to $242.81, with the council against Tippet & Wood, contractors for standpipes. They were referred to committee on water works.

Bids for painting engine houses were read as follows:
C. H. VanDusen, both houses... $230 00
Wm. H. Ward, both houses... 177 00
J. M. Faulk, both houses... 225 00
Wm. T. Hammell, both houses 150 00
Wm. H. Parlsen, both houses 198 00
On motion of Mr. Stanton the bids were referred to committee on fire.

The following bills were ordered paid:

J. F. Shanley Co.	$13,293 00

Labor, garbage	41 70

A reduction for outage of $31.83 was made from the electric light bill.

Ordinance establishing line on Perth street was continued on first reading.

Lawyer John A. Lovely was given the floor, when he explained that he had filed claims for labor against any payment to Tippet & Wood, until his clients' claims had been adjusted.

Mr. Wilson, representing Tippet & Wood, explained that the claims were caused by failure of E. L. Matthews, to whom the firm had sublet contract.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor it was decided that all claims must be paid before any payment should be made to Tippet & Wood.

On resolution offered by Mr. Manhattan and adopted, 800 feet of water pipe was ordered purchased.

On resolution offered by Mr. Slover, it was ordered that a note for $12,000 be discounted at 5 per cent. in First National Bank in anticipation of assessment on Broadway improvement.

A note for $5,000 falling due was ordered renewed for four months.

A resolution appropriating $1,300 for paying public dock bond due October 1 was approved.

On resolution a sale of school bonds to amount of $50,000 was ordered advertised in the Financial Chronicle, Wall Street Journal, Perth Amboy Evening News and South Amboy Citizen. Mr. Slover voted against issuing of school bonds.

A resolution was adopted submitting to voters at the fall election the acceptance or rejection of an act to regulate salaries of the police in this city.

The report of city treasurer showed balances as follows: City account, $3,541.44; Sewer account, $11,047.48; Water account, $642.66; Broadway improvement, $1,926.10; which was received and ordered filed.

Licenses for plumbing were granted to Thomas Vail and Kelly & McAllinden.

An ordinance granting permission to Public Service Street Railway Co. to place switch at Broadway and Main street was placed on first reading, and laid over under the rules.

Mr. Stanton reported that the sewer connections at John Cosgrove's property had been uncovered, and it was found that two taps had been made, thus refuting Mr. Cosgrove's claim that there had only been one made for two houses.

Mr. Manhattan stated that committee on Water Works with city engineer would go over the ground and consider the request of the South Amboy Terra Cotta Company for better fire protection.

Mr. Stanton stated the hook and ladder company are anxious to have their new truck in time for Perth Amboy parade, and offered a motion that the clerk communicate with the bonding company stating that if truck was not delivered by the Combination Hook and Ladder Truck Co. at once, the bonds would be considered liable, and the clerk to also notify the truck company to same effect. It was adopted.

Bond and contract of Liddle & Pfeiffer were accepted.

On resolution the contract to paint engine houses was awarded to William T. Hammell.

Adjourned.

Peterson—Hardy

The parsonage of the First Baptist Church was the scene of a quiet wedding on Monday afternoon, the contracting parties being Miss Edith B. Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hardy of Broadway, and Mr. Charles Peterson. The ceremony took place at one o'clock, and was performed by Rev. Thomas Neal, Jr., the ring service being used.

Miss Mary Hardy, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and Mr. George W. Cheesman, of Perth Amboy, was attendant to the groom.

The bride looked charming, being becomingly attired in a coat suit of white serge, with trimmings of blue moire silk, and white felt hat with willow plumes. The bridesmaid looked sweet in a gown of white lingerie. The happy couple left on the 1:47 P. M. train for Philadelphia, en route to Washington, D. C. A reception will follow on their return. They will reside on George street at the home of the groom's mother.

STRUCK ON HEAD BY BRICK.

While working as mason at School No. 2 on Thursday, Augustus Barkalow was struck on the top of the head by a brick, which caused quite a bad wound. The brick fell from the top of the wall alongside of which he was working. Dr. Bulner was summoned, and after making an examination of the injuries, took Mr. Barkalow home in his automobile.

SHOE SHOP ROBBED.

Thieves broke a window in the shoe shop of Mike Brancato of Augusta street last Sunday night, and secured about $16 worth of shoes. No arrests have as yet been made of the thieves.

MORGAN DRAW IS REMOVED

Tide Assists Contractors in Removing It to Temporary Bridge Over Cheesequake Creek—Work Will be Rushed on New Bridge Over Creek.

On Wednesday night the draw of the county bridge at Morgan was moved by the Owego Bridge Company to the temporary structure erected to be used while a new lift bridge is being constructed.

The transfer was made by the use of two scows as pontoons. The old draw was previously strengthened by under pinning it with huge timbers, so that in its weakened condition there would not be any liability of its breaking in two. At low water the scows were moved under the draw one each side of the abutment, and then long and heavy pieces of timber were placed so that the ends running across the center pier reached each scow. Blocks were placed from these timbers to the draw and wedged tight. When the tide raised the draw was lifted and the scows with their burden were allowed to drift to the temporary bridge. The iron cradle of the draw was then removed and securely fastened to the center pier. As the tide began to recede the draw dropped in its proper place.

All boat traffic was stopped for the night, but on Thursday the draw could be turned and water traffic was resumed. Trolley passengers were transferred afoot over the structure, but automobiles were compelled to take the Cheesequake road in order to reach Keyport. It is expected that by this Friday night, traffic will again be resumed over the creek.

A number of people from this city witnessed the transfer, among whom was Freeholder Kerr, who was present to look after the county's interest.

When the draw was erected fourteen years ago no one dreamed of the traffic it would be burdened with. At that time a half dozen wagons a day would be considered a rush, but now the travel over it by autos and wagons is continuous night and day. The old bridge is entirely inadequate to the traffic, and has become entirely worn out. The freeholders did not decide on a new bridge any too soon, and it has been miraculous that the old structure has not collapsed from the heavy loads that travel over it. The work of clearing away the debris of the structure is now under way, and soon the concrete mixer will be busy on the foundation of the new bridge, and probably by the first of February it will be completed.

First Contributor To Campaign Fund

Following an appeal of the Democratic National Committee of this State to the public for campaign contributions, Mr. George Gundrum was the first to respond from this city and the second in the county. He has sent his check for $50.00, which is very pleasing to the committee of which Hon. Thomas J. Scully is chairman.

LEON GAMBLE.

Leon Gamble, for many years a resident of Mechanicsville, died at his home on Sunday evening after several months' illness, at the age of 44 years. Funeral services took place at the St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning. Interment was made in the St. Mary's Cemetery, J. J. Scully acting as funeral director.

FINED FOR TAKING HORSE WITHOUT PERMISSION.

On Monday, Carl Martinson, of this city, was brought before Police Justice Birmingham on complaint made by his employer, George E. Applegate, of taking his horse out of his barn without permission.

Sunday last, Martinson took a horse from Mr. Applegate's barn for his own use without obtaining consent and later he was found intoxicated in a gutter with the horse at his side. The defendant pleaded guilty and as his employer desired to be lenient with him, he was let off with a $3 fine and a reprimand.

THIEVES ROB TENTS AT MORGAN BEACH

For years Morgan beach has not been molested by petty thieves, and articles left in the tents and schacks have always been considered as safe as though in a safe deposit vault. We regret to state that this fall things have changed, and the petty thief has been marauding the tents and appropriating wearing material, suit cases, shoes and blankets, etc. At this time of the year many tenters go home during the week, and return at the week end to enjoy Saturday and Sunday at the beach, and these people are the ones preyed upon. This sort of thieving should be nipped in the bud, and the matter reported to the proper authorities. There can be no doubt but that the goods stolen could be found with but little effort.

King—Kramer.

Miss Grace E. Kramer and Mr. Harry S. King, both of Paterson, were married on Saturday afternoon by the Rev. W. Owens, pastor of the East-side Presbyterian Church, of that city. Miss Josephine Steve, of Orange, was maid of honor, and Mr. J. M. Maloney, of Paterson, best man.

Many beautiful presents were received, among them a set of cut glass from the Commercial Department of the N. Y. and N. J. Telephone Company, where Mr. King is employed as contract agent, and a beautiful leaded dome from the employees of the Grand Laundry, where Miss Kramer held a very responsible position as manager for the past three years.

It will be remembered that Miss Kramer is the daughter of the late John Whitworth, of this city and Mrs. L. Whitworth of 57 John street.

After a short wedding trip the happy couple will return to their newly furnished home at 129 Marion street, Paterson.

Miss Georgine Nichols.

Miss Georgine Nichols entered into rest about three o'clock on Friday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Nichols, of Henry street.

Miss Nichols had been ill a long time, and the best medical skill that could be obtained was called in consultation on her ailment but without avail. She was in her sixteenth year. Miss Nichols would have been in the Senior Class of the High School this term had not illness interfered. She was a sweet, kind and affectionate girl, and her death has caused great sorrow among her many friends by whom she was dearly beloved. Her parents have the deepest sympathy of the community by the loss of their only child and daughter, who was the bright star of their life.

The funeral will be held on Monday next, arrangements for which are being made by Undertakers Stillwell & Mason.

When Athletics Shut Out South River and Carried Off County Championship Honors—Borlund Pitched Great Ball—Notes by Innings.

Murray Borlund, outpitching Harry Applegate, shut out South River and incidentally pitched his team to the county championship when the local nine clashed with the South River nine on Saturday. Neither side scored until the sixth inning when Frank Delaney poked a safe single to center field. Atkinson made his second two-bagger and Delaney scored on Higgins' sacrifice. Eight hits were collected off Applegate who has been touted as the county's best. Three of these were collected in the sixth when the lone tally of the game was recorded. Atkinson's batting was a feature in landing the game, but Jack Higgins, making two spectacular plays kept the South River team from scoring. The following is how the Athletics won the county championship:

First Inning—Murray got a good start by fanning Joe Mullen, the South River slugger. Green's liner was captured by Higgins. Heck was safe when his hot grounder went by Atkinson. Armstrong forced Heck, Delaney to Keating. No runs.

Keating fled to center, Borlund struck out, Stratton fled to Mullen. No runs.

Second Inning—Keating made a neat stop on Doker and threw him out at first. Sulu walked but was caught stealing second. Albert popped to Murray. No runs.

Delaney grounded out, Albert to Mullen, Atkinson walked but was out when Higgins got safe on a fielders' choice. McDonnell fled to right field. No runs.

Third Inning—Murray whiffed "Poppy" Phair. He did the same to Applegate. Mullen made first base on four wide ones. Green poked a fine hit to center and Mullen tried to score from second base but was caught by a yard on a fine throw from Higgins to Borlund. This was a fine throw and Higgins got a big hand as he came in from the field. No runs.

Hardy out, Doker to Mullen, Murray got a single to right but Hardy running for him was caught on second, Keating singled, Borlund out, Doker to Mullen. No runs.

Fourth Inning—Heck grounded out to Atkinson, Armstrong got the second hit off Murray but was caught stealing second. Doker whiffed but got safe on A. Borlund's error. Sulu grounded to Keating who threw Armstrong out on second. No runs.

Stratton out, Albert to Mullen, F. Delaney called out on strikes. Atkinson got a nifty two-bagger but Higgins struck out. No runs.

Fifth Inning—Albert out, Keating to Atkinson, Phair walked but was out on a double, Keating to Stratton to Atkinson. No runs.

McDonnell safe when Albert threw over Mullen's head. Hardy made a good single and McDonnell who tried to score from third, slipped in the soft sand and was out, Sulu to Green. Murray whiffed. No runs.

Sixth Inning—Higgins made a great one hand catch of Joe Mullen's liner. Green out, Delaney to Atkinson, Heck failed to connect with Murray's curves. No runs.

Stratton connected solidly with Applegate's offering and drove it to left field for a single. He was caught stealing. Frank Delaney got a nice single and Atkinson made a two-bagger. Higgins sacrificed and Delaney romped home with the winning run. McDonnell fled to Sulu. One run.

Seventh Inning—Armstrong out when Stratton grabbed his grounder near first base, a fine play. Doker safe on Delaney's fumble. Sulu walked, Albert out, Stratton to Ackie. Non Miller, playing third for S. R. was out the same route. No runs.

McCluskey, playing left field for S. A., failed to connect with Applegate. Murray out, Applegate to Mullen, Keating drew a pass, Borlund fled to Doker. No runs.

Eighth Inning—Applegate out, Murray to Ackie, Mullen grounded out to Atkinson, Green safe on Delaney's error but was caught stealing. No runs.

Stratton, Delaney and Atkinson all were called out on strikes. No runs.

Ninth Inning—Heck hit by pitched ball, Armstrong fanned, Doker fled out to Stratton, Sulu singled and Heck went to third. Murray finished the game by fanning Albert in a pinch. No runs.

A PLEASANT SOCIAL.

A very pleasant social was held at the home of Miss Helen Havens on Wednesday evening, under the auspices of Mrs. Hauke's class of the Methodist Protestant Sunday School, of which Miss Havens is a member. The attendance was extra large, and the time passed most enjoyably. During the evening refreshments were served. The proceeds will be devoted to the parsonage fund. The school is making a special effort to make this fund reach the $500 mark before the annual conference of the church, and as only $50 is necessary it is said it will be accomplished.

MANY RED MEN VISIT SENECA TRIBE

The visit of Grand Sachem Charles M. Curry and other great chiefs of the State to the wigwam of the Seneca Tribe, No. 23, Improved Order of Red Men, on Thursday evening, was the cause of one of the biggest pow-wows which has taken place in that council for many moons.

The chiefs and warriors of the Senecas, Po Ambo, Pasayunk, Osage and Chingara Tribes gathered within the wigwam of the local Red Men to rejoice with them over the good fortune which has befallen their Tribe during the last moon. The members of the Tanthe Council, Degree of Pocahontas assembled with the warriors for the occasion. Many pale faces were also present at the festivities.

Chief of Records and Seals, George G. Cliver, presided over the conference and in a few remarks told of the progress which has been made by this Tribe during the past year. Since January 1st, 105 pale faces have been initiated into the tribe while twelve applications are pending and the warriors have twenty-seven prospective candidates in sight. This raises the membership of the Seneca Tribe to 250. In conclusion of his remarks showing the progress made by the order, Mr. Cliver called on Great Sannap Charles T. Grace, a member of the local tribe, for the remarks of welcome, praising him for his devotion and work for the tribe.

Mr. Grace thanked the chairman for his commendatory remarks, but stated that the results which had been obtained were gained only through the individual efforts of the members. In a few appropriate remarks Mr. Grace welcomed the ladies of the Degree of Pocahontas and the pale faces who were the guests of the tribe.

The Great Sachem, Great Chief of Records and Seals, Great Prophet, and Great Wigwam Guard made remarks all commendatory to Mr. Grace and the work which he has performed for the order. Mr. Grace will probably be promoted to the office of Great Junior Sagamore at the next conference of the order which will be held at Atlantic City. This office is in line of promotion to the office of Grand Sachem.

After the addresses of the chiefs, Rev. F. F. Craig, of the Methodist Protestant Church, made the closing address, his remarks being very witty and interesting.

The music which was provided during the evening was excellent, Mrs. Edward English presiding at the piano.

After the entertainment refreshments were served by the ladies of Tanthe Council and a social time was enjoyed by all.

The following program was carried out:

Our Grand Jurors.

Sheriff Bollschweiler has selected, as usual, two good men from this city to serve on the Grand Jury for the September term of Court. They are Timothy Sullivan and Frank Hoffman. Mr. Sullivan is one of our stable business men, being for a number of years engaged in the general grocery and coal business, under the firm name of Conkley & Sullivan. Mr. Hoffman was formerly superintendent of the Raritan River Railroad and has had experience in county detective work. His experience in detective work will make him a valuable member of the jury, and his ability for quick action will cause all complaints to be thoroughly probed. With two such men on the jury, justice will be given all complaints, and no one will escape indictment.

High School Mentionings

Medical examinations of the students are now being made. Inspector J. C. Albright, M. D., examined the High School scholars during the week. The majority of examinations were excellent.

The new Remington Visible Typewriters which were purchased by the Board of Education have arrived and the typewriting course commenced during the week.

It appears that little progress is being made to the high school section of School No. 2. It will be impossible to get back into the old quarters during October and it will probably be the first of November before any change is made.

Annual Convention Christian Endeavor

Plans are almost completed for the Twenty-fifth Annual Convention of Christian Endeavor which will be held in the First Reformed Church, of New Brunswick, October 2, 3, and 4. A splendid program has been arranged and no expense has been spared in securing speakers, celebrated in the different departments of religious activity. New Brunswick, 1912, cannot help being a great stimulus to all who may attend.

The theme of the entire convention will be "Efficiency," explained, emphasized and worked out. The convention will open Wednesday at 2 p. m. with a conference and open parliament for all District Secretaries, County and Local Officers and all C. E. workers. This will be conducted by Miss Nellie Foote, of Elizabeth who has recently been elected State Secretary, and the infatigable Karl Lehman, Interstate Field Secretary of the United Society, one of the liveliest wires in and on Christian Endeavor. He will be present all through the convention and take part in the different conferences. He alone is well worth the trip to New Brunswick. The speaker for Wednesday night, the Rev. James T. Kittell, D. D., pastor of the First Reformed Church of Albany, is one of the most eloquent speakers in the Reformed Church, and is very highly recommended by all those who have heard him as a speaker who will interest and inspire.

Thursday will be full of good things commencing with its morning watch and followed by ringing messages from the State Superintendents and the emphasizing of the new campaign of efficiency by Mr. Karl Lehmann. Six papers on State, County, Local Union, Society and Rural Work will be presented by a number of efficient Endeavorers, with an address on the Bible by Rev. Edgar Whittaker Work, D. D., of New York, an address that will reveal to you the beauty of the Word of God. Then a word from the Far East by the Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Strother, Field Secretary for China. Closing that evening with an address by the Rev. John F. Carson, D. D., of Brooklyn, Ex-Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, a most forceful and brilliant speaker, one whose heart is very warm toward all young people and in most hearty sympathy with their work.

On Friday: Mr. H. A. Kinports, Secretary of Young People's Work for the Reformed Church in America, one who has been heard in our State many times with profit and delight. The Rev. Chas. H. Hubbell, General Secretary Board of Young People's Work, Methodist Protestant Church of Adrian, Michigan, wonderfully original and intensely interesting. Mr. Wm. Phillips Hall, the Business Man Evangelist, whose personal work has been so richly blessed. The Rev. C. H. Tyndall, Ph. D., S. T. D., of Mount Vernon, N. Y., with his wonderful illustrated talk to the Juniors and the closing address on Friday night by the great friend of New Jersey Endeavorers, Mr. William Shaw, General Secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, of Boston, one whom it is a delight to hear and whose messages always please and profit.

The committees have been hard at work since last February and with this splendid program there is no doubt that the convention will be the largest ever held in New Jersey.

Hidden Qualities in "Fine Shoes"

MAKE one experiment with really "fine" Shoes. Then you will understand why the few people who can afford to pay $15.00 to $20.00 per pair for certain "Custom-made" products are willing to do so.

If you knew all the additional Foot-Comfort, Satisfactory Service, and Pride-of-Possession, that really "fine" Shoes give, this is what you would do today.

You would step right over to the nearest Regal Shoe Store or Agency and (without any misgivings as to extravagance) you would ask the salesman to put on your feet a pair of the $5.00 Regals pictured here-with.

Observe that it isn't merely the Regal Style which alone makes these $5.00 Regals worth $7.00.

—It is the hidden Sources of Satisfaction put inside the Style, and which retain that Style till the Shoes are worn out.

—It is that surprising degree of Foot-Comfort—that new Appetite for outdoor Walking, and that bully feeling of being very well Dressed which makes the relatively small difference you pay per year (for "fine" Shoes) bring back enormous dividends in Comfort and Satisfaction.

Regal Shoes are made in four large Regal Factories, —for Regal Shoe Stores and Agencies only,—and on a factory profit of only 5% above Actual Cost.

That is one reason why Shoes equal in quality to $5.00 Regals are rarely, if ever, found in other stores that sell such quality of Shoes, at less than $7.00 to $8.00 per pair.

Step into the nearest Regal Shoe Store or Agency and verify this today.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS.

Grand Opera House.

A fascinating feature of Geo. M. Cohan's musical farce "The Little Millionaire" which is to be presented at Cohan & Harris' Grand Opera House, New York, for the week commencing next Monday, September 30, is the quantity of whistley song numbers contained in it. The popularity of Mr. Cohan's compositions is not difficult to explain. He has the happy faculty of tantalizing the ear with haunting melodies attuned to lyrics, that tell a clean story and presenting them in a scenic and ensemble surrounding that adds materially to their musical and verse value. Any number of instances of Cohan's skill in this direction are furnished in "The Little Millionaire," notably the songs "Any Place the Old Flag Flies," "New Yorkers," "We Do the Dirty Work," "Cohan's Musical Moon," "Barnum Had the Right Idea," and "Oh, You Wonderful Girl."

The presentation of "The Little Millionaire" at the Grand Opera House next week will mark its first New York production since Geo. M. Cohan himself presented it at the Cohan theatre all last season. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

Geo. M. Cohan Theatre.

If the spectacle of a great big audience that completely filled Geo. M. Cohan's theatre, New York, applauding and laughing at Geo. M. Cohan's brand new play, "Broadway" Jones is to be accepted as a token of real appreciation, Geo. M., in the vernacular of the times, can be said to have "put another one over."

"Broadway" Jones arrived at Mr. Cohan's theatre at Broadway and 42nd Street last Monday night, and "Broadway" Jones is likely to stay there for many weeks to come.

The play goes fast. It starts at high speed, after a very brief scene that simply serves to show that the Mr. Jones, who is the hero of the work, is some sport and comes home very late in a condition one is not likely to arrive at very early. The youth is supposed to be very rich, but the morning after the night before discloses the fact that he has run through his money and has engaged himself to a rich old woman, in order to get cash to pay his debts. His best friend tries to break off the match, but fails and the announcement of the engagement is allowed to stand.

Then Jones, the hero, gets word that his uncle has died and has left him a big property in the shape of a chewing gum factory, and the real action of the play comes in, showing how the young fellow is brought around, from a desire to sell his new possession for whatever it will bring, to an earnest determination to keep it for the good of the little Connecticut town of which it is the sole industrial enterprise and "Broadway" Jones, money-spender, becomes Jackson Jones, factory owner and leading man in his community.

The development of the plot runs along at high speed and the story is told in the rapid fire manner that characterizes all of Geo. M. Cohan's plays.

Mr. Cohan played the name part in his new comedy, and he played him with the vim and individuality of style that has characterized his work in the past.

He knew where all the points were and the audience got them at their full value, so full in fact, that laughter and applause got into the dialogue to such an extent at times that only the actor's graphic pantomime was left to tell the story. But we got the story nevertheless.

Gaiety Theatre.

New York is the scene of many new theatrical productions these days, some of 'em "get over" and some more of 'em don't, but which ever way the amusement breeze blows "Officer 666" at the Gaiety theatre, New York, continues to crowd that Broadway and 46th Street playhouse with delighted audiences who find exhilaration in the thrills and surprises that punctuate this, the best farce that has been presented in New York in twenty years.

"Little Miss Brown."

"Little Miss Brown" is not to be a mere transient in the hotel scenes in which the piece is set upon the Forty-eighth Street Theatre stage, but evidently has moved in to stay. The audiences at this establishment are large in numbers and vociferous in their expressions of forthright approval. It is no unduly optimistic forecast to express the conviction that Mr. Bartholomew's newest farcical comedy will enjoy a career quite as long and profitable as that of his previous work, "Over Night." The hotel office in which the first act takes place was copied in detail from a real hotel in one of the large cities of interior New York, and the room in which most of the subsequent scenes are played is an exact replica—even to the pictures on the walls—of a sitting room in the new Vanderbilt, in Manhattan. Hotel men der've much amusement from Mr. Bartholomew's day clerk, telephone operator, bell boy and colored porter, all of whom pleasantly satirize their prototypes in real life. The piece is also regarded pleasantly by reason of its having introduced to Broadway the previously unknown and charming personality of Madge Kennedy, who sprang into general popularity with the first New York performance of "Little Miss Brown" and will emerge into stardom long before the termination of her five years' contract with Mr. Brady.

FOR AUTUMN DAYS.

Something Perfectly New
In Knitted Sweaters.

COAT WITH SIMULATED FUR TRIMMING.

A real novelty in knitted garments has sprung up this season.

It is a beautifully fashioned sweater coat in one of the soft dark greens or browns with a collar and cuffs of white or white shetland wool imitating fur.

VICTORIAN COIFFURES.

In Paris They Are Wearing Curls of the Second Empire.

We must be Victorian with our head as well as our feet. Over in Paris they are wearing ringlets—"les anneaux" they call them, though the curl of former days was as popular with the subjects of Empress Eugenie as with those of Queen Vic.

The ringlet today is more easily achieved than in the sixties. It is bought and pinned in. Those for day are not so long as those worn in the evening, so have two sets of curls.

One of the coiffures to be worn with a hat has a short single ring, quite full and thick, back of each ear and a third at the back under a chignon that comes low on the neck in the form of puffs or an oval arrangement of plaits.

For evening a coquettish arrangement is to wear a bunch of three or four ringlets back of the left ear, the longest reaching to the shoulder. The front hair is parted and loosely brushed back and rolled in a thick, loose knot at the back of the head.

There are some types of women to whom these ringlets are most becoming. On the wrong woman they look exaggerated and rather ridiculous.

A Little Lacking.

A woman, a strong believer in suffrage, spoke a few days ago of the necessity of educating the educated woman. She told of a charming young woman, a scholar and a lady, who was teacher of English in one of the fashionable finishing schools. This young woman, Miss X., was conservative by instinct and birth and took no interest in any of the new movements. Last year she chaperoned a party of girls abroad, and in London, as is the habit of girls, they expressed a desire to visit Mme. Tussaud's wax-works. There the girls were interested in a group of interesting looking women who stood as if talking. Underneath the group were the names Mme. Despard, Mrs. Pankhurst, Mrs. Pethick Lawrence. The girls turned to Miss X. and asked who those women were. Miss X. looked puzzled, but finally said:

"You know, girls, I'm not quite sure about them, but I think they robbed a bank."

Hints to the Wise.

Keep a few pieces of camphor gum in your linen closet. It will aid in keeping the linen white.

If fish is wrapped well in oiled paper it will not impart a flavor or odor to the other foodstuffs in the refrigerator.

To revive and help potted plants that are drooping place a teaspoonful of ammonia in three quarts of water and water the plants thoroughly with this mixture.

To clean plaster busts dip them into cold liquid starch. When dry the starch is brushed off and the dust comes off with it, leaving the busts as clean and white as when new.

A solution of chloride of lime and water, a tablespoonful of the lime to two gallons of water, is an excellent medium for removing the most stubborn stains. Soak the stained garment for hours in the solution, and in time the offending spots will disappear, and this without injury to the fabric.

For Greaseless Gravy.

A housekeeper who experiments naturally, tried dashing cold water into the roasting pan one day when she made her gravy. To her delight the fat rose and hardened quickly into a flake which was easily removed, after which the gravy was brought to a boil and thickened.

Athletics Lose.

The Athletics, weakened by the loss of several of their players, put up a remarkably poor game on Saturday and went down to defeat before the All Stars, of Perth Amboy, by the score of 17 to 10.

Believe us, it was some game. Nothing but hits and runs from the time the first ball was pitched. The game was finally ended in the eighth when Empire Charles Gould called the game to allow the score keepers to keep up with it. Atkinson was given poor support by the patched up team and the Perth Amboy team had a walk-over although the locals did a big bit of scoring themselves. Atkinson started at the bat, getting two home runs and a double. The game was interspersed with brilliant bits of fielding but they were useless as far as the result was concerned. Everybody helped themselves to hits, and Rodda, the sterling Perth Amboy second sacker, tore off five out of six trips to the bat. Atkinson, Murray and Stratton went in the box in succession but all received poor support. Louie Ellis, the Perth Amboy boxman, was connected with safely seventeen times by the locals but they were unable to push seven more runs over the plate. The weather was very poor for baseball and the crowd much smaller than usually patronize the games.

Sporting Tips.

Sit up and listen, ye basketball fans! If all goes well Miller, the crack little forward of the South River Sterlings, will be seen in Neptune tops when the referee's whistle blows for the opening of the basketball season in this city. "Non" wishes to appear with this city's representatives on the court and Manager Abe Forgotson will probably place him in the lineup. He certainly is a clever forward, playing on the style of Canton and would make a fine mate for Jimmy. Local fans would surely be glad to see Miller play in this city.

On Sunday the Maurer A. C. defeated the Sheridans of this city on the latter's diamond by the score of 9 to 7. Zehrer pitched great ball for the visitors but was outdone by "Slippery" Buckelew the Sheridan colt. The locals had a safe lead until the ninth when the Maurers slipped over five runs. The batting of the Sorrenson brothers, of the Maurer team, and Bob Manaker, were the features. Manaker got two doubles and a triple and scored three runs.

No more Saturday games will be played by the Athletics this year. Manager Bill O'Toole has cancelled his game with the Bridgeport, Conn. team and the other contests which he had arranged, on account of the weather. The last game was poorly attended. The locals have had a successful season, playing grand ball, with the exception of the last game which was played under unfortunate conditions. All hail to the County champs! They are the undisputed holders of that title.

Mister Charles Gould comes around on Tuesday and informs Bill O'Toole that "he's the guy that put 'bridge' in Bridgeport." "Allright," says Bill, "you can leave it stay there, no more Saturday games." You never can believe an umpire.

Lis-ten fans! Don't get disheartened about the local baseball outlook. If Dave Driscoll holds out his promise the Athletics, the county champions, will journey to New Brunswick on Sunday, October 6, and hook up with that all-fared professional bunch. Manager O'Toole will have a strong lineup and promises a far different result this time.

Abe Forgotson has arranged to have the All Newark, one of the best basketball fives in Newark, play the second game of the season on the K. of P. court on Saturday, October 5. This is a good attraction and should be well patronized.

Jimmie Cantlon played with the Athletics on Saturday and made a freak double play which gained much applause from the spectators. Jimmie ran way back in the field, caught a pop fly, and fell, at the same time throwing the ball to Higgins for a double. It was some fancy throw, and cleverly disposed of Rodda, the Perth Amboy batting demon. Cantlon got three hits and two runs.

Hats off to Ackie. On Saturday the fans went wild when he lifted the ball over left field fence for a home run. The first drive over the fence this season. In the seventh he again duplicated the feat, giving his reputation as the best slugging pitcher in these parts. He made a double in the fourth inning and also got a single in the eighth. Some swatting that. Ackie made the hits pay, for "Doc" Haines, who promised a dollar for every home run had to fork over two beans while Dr. Burnett duplicated the gift. A. J. Johnson and George Greene each presented him with a pair of shoes (for his feat). Knocking homers would prove to be a paying proposition in South Amboy.

Several hundred South Amboy baseball fans watched Dave Driscoll's bunch hand the All Stars, of Perth Amboy, a beating last Sunday. The score was 5 to 0. This is the same score by which the Athletics were defeated by the professionals. Applegate, Perth Amboy's pride, gave the N. B. boys eleven hits, while Atkinson, of the locals, allowed them but five when he twirled for the local team. Atkinson has bested Applegate several times this season and many fans in the county consider him "Chuck's" superior.

RIVERSIDES WILL OPEN THEIR BASKETBALL SEASON

At The Auditorium This Saturday Evening—Skating Tonight (Friday).

This Saturday evening the Riversides will open their basketball season at the Auditorium, Perth Amboy, when they line up against the Michella Five, of Milltown. This game will undoubtedly be fast and interesting. The Rivies are eager for the fray after their long rest through the summer and that they will "play their heads off" is certain. Van Mulchaey, who became very popular last season as referee, will again be seen conducting the games at the Auditorium. In addition to a good basketball game there will be dancing before and after the game.

Tonight, Friday, the Auditorium will be devoted to skating. A feature of tonight's skating session is that the ladies will be admitted free. Many hesitate from attending the skating sessions saying they cannot skate. There is no reason to be timid. The management has several good skaters on hand who are always glad to teach anyone who cares to learn the art of keeping their equilibrium on the rollers.

NO MORE BOXING?

Is boxing ended for good in this State? We fear it is unless suitable laws governing the game are enacted at the next Legislature. The action of the authorities in stopping the Perno Stag on last Monday evening was a great surprise to the sports of this vicinity. The boxing game had progressed in the past two years with hardly any interference and the conclusion had been reached that it would continue unmolested for some time to come. The sudden action of closing all boxing shows came as a bolt from a clear sky. No one expected interference but it came, and it will be a long time before the shows will be re-established—probably not at all.

Anyone who attended the stags given by the Perno will express the same opinion—that they were conducted in a clean and sportsmanlike manner. Referee Monroe never would allow a bout to be staged in which the contestants were not pretty evenly matched, nor would he stand for foul tactics. It is to be lamented that boxing has been stopped here, as this is one branch of sport, which, when cleanly conducted, has always found popular favor in the sporting world. We hope the next Legislature will enact such laws as will allow the boxing game to be re-established.

GRIND OF DEATH AT TRENTON FAIR

Big Program of Motorcycle Races For the Opening Day.

Always up to the second in its endeavors to give its patrons the newest things in entertainment and thrills, the Trenton Fair will this year offer for Monday a program of motorcycle races that will introduce all of the champion professional riders, together with many of the leading amateurs of the country.

The professional races have been arranged by W. H. Wellman, who has created a national sensation this year with the motorcycle contests in the famous Brighton "bowl of death." Chappelle, Seymour, Peck, King and a dozen others will battle in a series of events that will furnish such exciting sport as has never before been witnessed on the Trenton Fair grounds.

The professional races will include two, three, four and six mile races and a match race, and the amateurs will have a two and a four mile heat race and a ten mile event.

The motorcycle races will supplant the running races, that have been the feature for Monday in the past two or three years.

HOW TO KILL YOUR TOWN.

Buy from peddlers as much and as often as possible.

Denounce your merchants because they make a profit on their goods.

Glory in the downfall of a man who has done much to build up your town.

Make your town out a bad place and stab it every chance you get.

Refuse to unite in any scheme for the betterment of the material interests of the people.

Tell your merchants that you get goods a great deal cheaper in some other town and charge him with extortion. If a stranger comes to your town tell him everything is overdone and predict a general crash in the near future.

Patronize outside newspapers to the exclusion of your own and then denounce yours for not being as large and as cheap as the city papers.

If you are a merchant, don't advertise in the home paper, but compel the editor to go elsewhere for advertisements, and howl like a sore head because he does so. Buy a rubber stamp and use it. It may save you a few dimes and make your letterheads look as though you were doing business in a one-horse town.

If you are a farmer curse the place where you trade as the meanest on earth. Talk this over with your neighbors and tell them the men are robbers and thieves. It will make your property much less valuable, but you don't care.—Price Current.

Nature.

The best definition of nature is perhaps Mill's in his "Three Essays on Religion." In that work Mill says, "Nature is a collective name for all facts, actual and possible, or a name for the mode, partly known to us and partly unknown, in which all things take place." Continuing, Mill says: "The nature of a thing means its entire capacity of existing phenomena. As the nature of any given thing is the aggregate of its powers and properties, so Nature, in the abstract, is the aggregate of the powers and properties of all things."

WEEKLY LETTER TO FARMERS.

(By F. R. Stevens, Agriculturist, Lehigh Valley Railroad.)

I have been much gratified, in going the rounds this year, to find that so many farmers have started little patches of soy beans and vetch for seed next year. One farmer harvested about twelve bushels of vetch per acre last year, from a mixture of rye and vetch; he is selling the seed at $6 per bushel and has calls for more than he has on hand. This is a pretty good return on thirty-dollar land.

The vetch seed can be easily separated from the rye, and, if grown with the rye, it stands more erect and is easily harvested. The demand for vetch for a green manure crop is constantly increasing, and it is questionable if the price will be reduced much in the next five or six years. It has proven a great success as a cover crop in corn, and as a forage crop grown with rye it gives a large amount of feed, high in protein, early in spring.

The seed at present seem to be very expensive for the average farmer who wants to buy a bushel per acre for cover crop work. However, if one has the money, it will undoubtedly pay on that basis. For those who have not put in vetch for seed this year, I strongly urge them at this time to get one or two bushels of the seed out this fall, so that they may have a supply of the seed for next year. The experience in handling it will also be valuable, as they will know more readily its character when attempting to handle it another year on a larger scale.

The fields of soy beans that we put out this year to get seed for silage are also coming very well. The experience with artificial inoculation for soy beans has not been uniformly successful. This does not mean that I want to condemn unreservedly cultures for inoculating soy bean seed, for they have met with some success. Soy bean seed seem to carry their inoculation much better than do alfalfa seed, and good results are obtained from seeding with plenty of phosphorus and some lime; thus a fairly good crop is obtained and the ground is inoculated so that the following year plenty of bacteria are left in the soil.

Care should be taken in saving the seed from both these leguminous crops. First, they should be thoroughly ripe before cutting, and, second, they should be kept in a dry, well ventilated place both before and after threshing. About the very best place to keep seed of this type is in the attic over the kitchen. There the stove pipe or chimney gives some artificial heat. The windows should be kept partially open so to insure ventilation.

For the dairy farm the soy bean is very important; for other types of farms the vetch is important because the manure problem is a serious one and goes to the foundation of good agriculture.

Agriculturist, L. V. R. R.

$7,000 IN PURSES FOR HORSE RACING

Unusually Classy Program For the 1912 Meet at the Tren- ton Fair.

In view of the fact that the Trenton Fair track has been greatly improved this year and placed in such condition as stamps it as one of the best, safest and fastest half mile rings in the country, some unusually spirited racing is expected Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of Fair week, which opens Monday, Sept. 30. There will be no horse racing Monday, that day being given over to motorcycle contests.

Racing Secretary Horace P. Murphy has arranged a program of fourteen races, ranging from the free for all pace to the 2:27 trot, and the money to be distributed in purses will be approximately $7,000.

Early entries have been of a class that speaks well for the character of the racing, as it indicates that the cream of the half mile ring stars will compete. The entry list will be large for each race, thus insuring the kind of contests that have made the Trenton Fair the Mecca for horse lovers during all of the twenty-five years of its prosperous existence. The list of events follows:

TUESDAY, OCT. 1.
2:27 class trotting.....	$500
2:22 class pacing.....	500
2:15 class trotting.....	500
WEDNESDAY, OCT. 2.

CERTAIN CANAL WILL BE SAFE.

Army Engineers, Satisfied Fortifications Are Going to Be Impregnable.—Planned By Ablest Minds.

Army engineers are satisfied that the Panama Canal will be made impregnable, notwithstanding adverse European comment upon the sufficiency of the defenses under construction.

An article from a correspondent at Panama in the London Times declares that, in order to hold the Panama Canal, the United States will be compelled to increase its proposed fortifications, and will also need to enlarge the navy. This article states that a hostile fleet could lie hidden behind the islands of Taboga and Taboguilla, which are outside the Canal Zone, and, if in command of the sea, could mount guns on the summits of those islands, from which the forts could be "pounded to pieces."

The fortifications on the Pacific side of the canal were planned by the ablest minds in the army and navy. The joint board, composed of half a dozen of the ranking officers of both services, first made a careful study of the military and naval problems involved nearly five years ago.

The tentative plans then laid were placed in the hands of experts, including General Crozier, chief of army ordnance; Colonel Goethals, the canal builder, and himself an army engineer; Major-General Arthur Murray, then chief of the coast artillery, and a number of able subordinate officers. It is believed at the War Department that their work embodies all that human foresight can produce at this stage.

President Roosevelt, President Taft and the secretaries of navy and war in office since the canal project was undertaken, all are on record as declaring that the waterway would double the efficiency of the American navy by enabling it to pass freely from one side of the continent to the other in time of war. It is true that a small minority of naval officers felt that the waterway might also be a menace if it should fall into the hands of an enemy, but the great weight of naval opinion remains unchanged.

There is no fear that the Panama defenses could be attacked successfully from any of the islands outside of the present zone. A distinctively American device, the disappearing coast defense mortars, unknown in practice to European critics, will be so placed as to rain a fire of twelve-inch shells upon the decks of any fleet that sought shelter behind the outlying islands.

But even if that were not sufficient, the United States already has power under the treaty with Panama to take possession and fortify Taboga and Taboguilla islands if they shall become a menace to the existing fortifications. Article Two of the treaty in exact terms confers upon the United States the control "of any other lands and water outside of the zone * * * which may be necessary and convenient for the * * * protection of said canal."

The Lure of Opiates.

"It is human nature to wish to ease pain and to stimulate ebbing vitality. There is no normal adult who, experiencing severe pain or sorrow or fatigue and thoroughly appreciating the immediate action of an easily accessible opiate, is not likely in a moment of least resistance to take it," says Charles B. Towns in the Century. "Every one who has become addicted to a drug has started out with small occasional doses, and no one has expected to fall a victim to the habit. Indeed, many have been totally unaware that the medicine they were taking contained any drug whatever. Thus, the danger being one that threatens us all, it is every man's business to insist that the entire handling and sale of the drug be under as careful supervision as possible."

Queen Elizabeth's Pedigree.

One of the most interesting curiosities at Hatfield is the pedigree of Elizabeth, which is to be seen in the gallery. Those entrusted to make out the document wisely discovered that her descent could be traced through every important person, and especially through every beautiful person, straight back to Adam and Eve. It is on record that the virgin queen highly commended the work.—London Standard.

The Purist.

"Now, Rastus," said the visitor at the southern hotel, "I want some coffee, corn cakes and two fresh eggs."
"Ah don't know about dem algs, boss," said Rastus, shaking his head dubiously. "We have all we kin do keepin' our algs fresh enough without havin' 'em too fresh, suh."—Harper's Weekly.

URGE SHIPPERS TO MOVE THEIR TRAFFIC EARLY

Instructions have been issued to all freight solicitors and agents of the Pennsylvania Railroad to urge shippers to move their traffic as early as possible, with a view of precluding the possibility of car shortage or congestion later in the fall.

In a statement which emanated officially from the Pennsylvania Railroad it was said that the tonnage being offered for shipment at present was enormous, and it was predicted that the fall traffic would tax the country's railroad facilities to the utmost. Shippers are being asked by the Pennsylvania to assist the railroads by loading and unloading cars promptly, and by loading cars to their capacity.

That there was little likelihood of a car shortage on the Pennsylvania Railroad, if shippers would assist the road to get the greatest service out of each car, was the import of the notice issued Monday by the management of the road.

The statement which came from the Pennsylvania Railroad called attention to the action of the National Industrial Traffic League of Pittsburgh, which just issued an "Important Notice," saying:

"Whereas, It is considered by railroad officials who are in a position to know, and we also believe, judging from commercial conditions and reports generally, that the volume of traffic which will be offered to the carriers during the coming fall and winter will tax to the utmost their transportation facilities, and

"Whereas, All shippers, and especially the consumers, are vitally interested in the efficiency of the service, "Resolved, That the Executive Committee of the National Industrial Traffic League recommend that all members of the League, and all shippers generally, be urged to make all possible effort to release promptly the equipment of the carriers, and further,

"Resolved, That all shippers be urged to load cars as near their carrying capacity as commercial conditions will permit, and thereby increase the efficiency of the available equipment in the interest of all concerned, and that the President be instructed to mail a copy of this resolution to every member of the league, and give as great publicity to it as possible."

THEY PREFER WILSON.

(From Newark News, Sept. 25.)
For the second time within a year the Democratic voters of New Jersey have emphatically demonstrated that they prefer Woodrow Wilson and what he stands for to James Smith, Jr., and what he stands for.

The first test was last May, when Mr. Smith ran a ticket of delegates to the Democratic national convention hostile to Governor Wilson. It was overwhelmingly defeated in every county, except Essex. At that time Mr. Smith failed to put his personal popularity to a direct test throughout the State. He ran as a candidate for district delegate in Essex County, and was elected, although his success was futile to prevent the nomination of Governor Wilson.

In the contest yesterday Mr. Smith appealed to the party voters through the State for an endorsement on his record. Governor Wilson in turn frankly told the voters why, in his opinion, Mr. Smith should not receive the Senatorial nomination. The result proves conclusively that the Democrats of New Jersey have accepted Governor Wilson as their leader, and have finally and for all time rejected Mr. Smith.

Outside of Essex, where the power of local patronage, combined with some degree of local pride, has again given Mr. Smith a plurality, he failed to carry a single county in the State. And everywhere the vote against him was overwhelming and decisive.

There is no disposition to gloat over the defeat of Mr. Smith. He was the representative of the old order that is passing, and he made the mistake of attempting to stem an irresistible force. The result is gratifying because it shows that the Democratic party in New Jersey is really awake, and has allied itself under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson with the nation-wide movement for the restoration of popular government.

THE NEW JERSEY PRIMARIES.

(From Philadelphia Bulletin, Sep. 25.)
Although weather conditions operated to cause a light vote, the apparent rejection of the Senatorial candidacy of "Jim" Smith is an indication of the attitude of the people toward the old school of politics which should be heeded. The personal interest of Governor Wilson was, of course, an important factor, but back of this, even, is to be recognized the dissatisfaction of the rank and file of the electorate with the old organization and its characteristic methods. This applies to either party, and to the country at large as well as to New Jersey. President Taft's greatest handicap in the campaign for re-election is not in the fault of his own record as President, but in the organization on which he must, in a large measure, depend for support and for which he is, unjustly, held responsible.

The falling off in the Republican vote in the New Jersey primaries yesterday should be significant if, on further analysis, it proves to have been due to nonparticipation of Progressives, who, by voting for Republican candidates would have forfeited their right to Third Party primaries next year as well as to independent nomination proceedings in the near future. In Massachusetts, where there has been a lively contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, the total vote of that party appears to have been less than that of the Democrats, which is suggestive of a similar permanent defection.

SCHOOL FUND RELEASE
WILL COME QUICKLY.

Nearly a Million of Held-Up 1912
Railroad Taxes to Be Distributed at Last—Plan of Attorney-General.

Under a plan proposed by Attorney-General Edmund Wilson, and informally assented to by the fiscal officers of the State, it is probable that there will soon be a distribution of the bulk of the school moneys collected from the railroads for taxes levied in 1910.

The proposed adjustment contemplates the deduction of the franchise valuations of three railroads of nearly $1,000,000, and the immediate payment of the balance regarding which there is no dispute.

In a letter to President W. G. Schauffler, of the State Board of Education, the attorney general has outlined the plan which is subject to the acceptance of certain stipulations by the protesting railroads, and has also informed the State board that Comptroller Edward I. Edwards has signified his willingness to make the disbursements.

The State treasurer, Daniel S. Voorhees, has already stated that he was willing to pay out the moneys due the schools as soon as he received the comptroller's warrants. The attorney general does not assert that there is any strict legal authority for making partial disbursements, but expresses the belief that in view of the circumstances such action by the treasury officials will be proper.

The comptroller's department will first determine how much of the funds may actually be disbursed, and then proceed to figure out how much is to be paid to each school district. Inasmuch as the rate will involve a sixteen point decimal, it is probable that several days will be required to complete the calculations.

In the mean time there will be a conference with Collins & Corbin, counsel for the Long Dock Company, at which it is expected, a stipulation will be entered into that will make it safe for the comptroller's department to disburse a part of the money paid by that company in taxes.

In expressing his views to the State Board of Education, Attorney General Wilson said:

"It appears that various railroad corporations have paid into the State treasury taxes for the year 1910, payable in 1911. All the corporations making these payments, I am informed, have raised no question as to the validity of the assessment, or as to the amount actually due the State, with the exception of the Long Dock Company, the New Jersey Junction Railroad Company and the West Shore Railroad Company. The three corporations last named are seeking to review the valuations, which were made in due course, and appropriate proceedings to that end are now pending.

"Notwithstanding that fact, I am of the opinion that a certain definite sum may be, with safety and propriety, disbursed from the State treasury for use of the public school system.

"The method by which this might be accomplished is as follows:

"The comptroller might reduce the total railroad valuations in the State for the year 1910 by the amount of the valuation of the franchise originally assessed against the three companies named. I am informed that the pending reviews already referred to have relation to the assessed valuation of the franchise of each of these corporations.

"When this deduction has been made the local tax originally levied against all the corporations should be reduced by the amount of the tax levied upon the value of the franchises of the New Jersey Junction Railroad Company, the West Shore Railroad Company and the Long Dock Company. An allotment made upon this basis, less, of course, the amount due the State and the amount already disbursed, would involve, in my opinion, no element of peril to the State or to its disbursing officers.

"I have just had a conference with Edward J. Edwards, State comptroller, and he has informed me that he is willing to make a distribution in accordance with the plan here presented.

"I have secured from the attorneys of the New Jersey Junction Railroad Company and the West Shore Railroad Company, a stipulation to this effect—that the companies just mentioned do not contend, nor will they hereafter contend, that the proceedings on certiorari to review the taxes affect any moneys heretofore paid by said companies to the State for the year 1910, except upon the assessed valuation for franchise. I hope to obtain similar stipulation from the attorney representing the Long Dock Company.

"As I informed you in our recent conference this matter cannot be definitely disposed of until the appropriate officer of the Long Dock Company confers with Messrs. Collins & Corbin, on September 20.

"The securing of these stipulations, however, in no way controls the distribution and allotment above indicated, since the plan involves the casting out from the calculations not only the value of the franchise, but all tax assessed thereon.

"If there is anything further I can do in the matter to which our recent conference related, I will cheerfully respond."

The conference referred to by the attorney general was held with the advisory committee of the State Board of Education when he was urged to proceed with steps to bring about the distribution of the school funds.

REPUBLICAN CLUB FORMED.

In Princeton the Republican Club, which has been for many years a force for good in the town, has recently been reorganized and held two meetings which were attended by over 200 members. Ex-Assemblyman Henry D. Thompson, who is a professor in the University, was elected president, Mr. James L. Briner, once Mayor, first vice-president, Mr. Lloyd W. Grover, second vice-president and Mr. William L. Briner, Jr., Secretary and Treasurer.

Many new members have joined the club, including Dr. John Grier Hibben, President of the University; Dr. Andrew F. West, Dean of the Graduate School; Mr. H. G. Duffield, Treasurer of the University; Dr. W. E. Magie, Dean of the University and a son of Chancellor Magie; Professor Alexander H. Phillips of the University, who is also Mayor of Princeton; Professor C. F. Brackett formerly head of the Electrical School; S. H. Stillwell, Ex-Mayor of Princeton; A. R. Schanck who represented the town for a number of years in the Board of Freeholders; Joseph Priest, former counsel of the town, and many others.

"GET-RICH-QUICK WALLINGFORD" AT PROCTOR'S THEATRE.

Scene from "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," which will be presented at Proctor's Theatre, Perth Amboy, this Saturday afternoon and evening.

In speaking of the play a popular critic says:

"There is a laugh raised within the first minute after the curtain is raised on the first act of 'Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford.' After that the laughter is well nigh continuous. Geo. M. Coburn, who wrote the piece from Geo. Randolph Chester's book of the same name, might have called his stage version of it 'Get Laughs Quick Wallingford.' In the dramatic form it is a Coburn musical show without music. Everything and everybody is kept moving so briskly it well nigh makes one dizzy."

The Mystery of Mark Island

A TRUE STORY

By F. A. MITCHEL

There is no more attractive region on the Atlantic coast for summer outings than Casco bay, Maine, and the many islands it contains. There the hot waves of July and August are dissipated. It is seldom that there is not a breeze there.

In winter the inhabitants of the islands fish, mostly with huge nets. In summer those owning boats turn an honest penny by taking visitors out upon the glorious waters. At almost any time one may see the sail of a pleasure boat bending to the breeze, and the engines of motorboats are always throbbing like a rapid drumbeat.

Not far from Orr's island, where Harriet Beecher Stowe laid the scene of one of her stories, and to the eastward is Mark island. It contains possibly half a dozen acres and is densely wooded. It stands alone, there being no other land within several miles of it. Its shores are rocky, and the waves curling up on them even in fair weather warn skippers to keep off, while during storms they send watery plumes high into the air.

During the last decade of the nineteenth century Mark island was purchased by a man living in Portland, some dozen miles distant, who made a summer residence of it. In the early summer he would go there in his yacht, remain during July and August, and when the height of summer boards to the city came around, the 1st of September, he would lock, bar and bolt his house and sail away by the same conveyance.

Who was the owner of Mark island the people living on the neighboring land did not know. Orr's and Bailey's islands, well stocked with summer cottages and borders, lie to the westward, while Sebasteo is not far to the eastward. No one at any of these places ever made the acquaintance of the owner of Mark island. He neither visited any other locality nor invited his neighbors to visit him. Indeed, no boat was allowed to make a landing upon his shores. Several persons at different times approached with the view of going ashore, but they were always warned off.

The denizens of Mark island, so far as those who were used to sailing by it noticed, were two white men and a colored man who acted as a servant. Besides, there was a white woman who was occasionally seen sitting in a leafy bower above a rock against which the waters swished. Sometimes she would be reading; and as boats sailed by would look up at those aboard. But usually she sat idly gazing upon the beautiful bay and the islands lying tranquilly upon its bosom. Yet, whether reading or dreaming, there was always a sad look on her face.

No one could be better situated to keep a secret than on Mark island for the reason that there was no liability to suspicion of having a secret to keep. The only neighbors are those passing in boats. Each island in Casco bay is a locality of itself. Within sight of Orr's and Bailey's islands are a number of these small cases of the waters, on some of which are one or more houses, while others have no inhabitants whatever. Some are wooded, some barren rocks. Few persons know to whom they belong, and no one cares. Some are occupied by the same persons year after year, some change hands often, while the barren rocks are always desolate.

The only excitant of curiosity at Mark island was the desolate lady. Had she been constantly in sight of the same persons some of them would doubtless have been sufficiently curious to make an attempt to discover the cause of her sorrow. But the yachts and the other different kinds of boats that sailed by never contained the same persons, and the vision they saw lasted but a few moments.

For several years Mark island was occupied by the same persons. The desolate lady sat in her bower, and landing there was prohibited. Possibly the secret attached to it might have been kept forever had it not been for a mistake of judgment made by one of its denizens.

The northeast Atlantic coast is subject to fogs. One summer a low, almost invisible line appeared on the horizon from Mark island. It broadened until it became a bank of fog which spread itself over the whole bay. We all know what a fog is to those who traverse the waters, both ships out at sea and small boats near the land. It happened that a boat load of pleasure seekers from Bailey's island were caught out in this fog. For hours they drifted, not knowing whether they were going out to sea or toward the land. The bay is full of reefs, and no one is fitted for a skipper on its waters except one who knows every reef. The occupants of the befogged boat did not know what moment it might strike one of these reefs, a hole be made in its bottom and they would all perish.

Suddenly they discovered within a dozen yards of them a shore in one part of which was a narrow indentation in the rocks by which they might make a landing. They were so relieved that all raised their voices in happy exclamations. As they were making their way to the landing place the dim figure of a man appeared on the shore and shouted:

"Keep off! You can't land here!"

"We will land here," replied the skipper, "and we'll stay here till the fog lifts."

"You won't land here," said the other doggedly.

As the nose of the boat scraped the shore of Mark island the man who prohibited the landing pushed her away. A man on the boat seized an oar and was about to bring it down on the other's head when he stepped back and, drawing a revolver, threatened to shoot the first man who attempted to come ashore.

There was a violent protest on the part of the occupants of the boat against being turned back in the fog, possibly to their death. There were women aboard, and they begged the men to leave the inhospitable place and finally prevailed upon them to do so. So they drifted away, muttering curses upon the man who had refused them a landing.

A deathknell had been sounded for the secret of Mark island. Had the man permitted the landing the party would not have remained long on the island and might not have gone 100 yards from their boat, for the fog soon lifted, and they got safely back to their destination with the story of their inhuman treatment.

But why had they been thus treated? The reply was that something was going on at Mark island that the perpetrators were unwilling to have known. The story and this supposed reason for the party having been refused a landing at the point of a pistol passed from mouth to mouth. It was suggested that the desolate lady was kept there a prisoner. But if this were so why had she not asked to be taken away by those on some of the passing boats? Others thought that some other person was held there and the desolate lady was a party to the outrage; but, though they differed as to the crime, they all agreed that Mark island was used for a criminal purpose.

Meanwhile Mark island remained an unknown place. All were curious to know what was going on there, but it was no one's business to find out, especially since this could not be done except at the risk of getting shot. More boats sailed about it than before, and on every boat persons stared at it wonderingly. All had heard of the desolate lady and expected to see her sitting on a rock, like a mermaid, combing her hair. But the lady did not appear. Indeed, no one was to be seen on the island. Yet the house was located in its center and so surrounded by trees as to be invisible.

Meanwhile the story of Mark island reached a person who pricked up his ears the moment he heard it. Later, when the Portland boat touched the landing at Orr's island, he stepped ashore and put up at one of the hotels. He listened attentively to any one who would talk to him about the mystery, but said nothing himself. The next day several other men arrived at Orr's island, each man bearing a rifle. When asked why they were armed they replied that they were going on a hunt for moose in the Maine woods. Since it was about the 1st of September, not far from the shooting season, the story was believed.

One morning the man who had first arrived, accompanied by the hunting party, hired a boat and sailed out through the cut separating Orr's and Bailey's islands; then they turned their course to the eastward.

A few miles' sail brought them to Mark island, and instead of gazing at it they made straight for the shore. On reaching it the men cocked their rifles and jumped on the rocks. Their landing was not opposed, and they went up to the house. They found it shut up, barred and bolted. Not even a dog barked or a cat meowed.

They broke in the doors and began a search of the premises. In the cellar they found a complete counterfeiter's outfit.

The leader of the party, a United States government detective, had long been looking for the makers of certain spurious bills that had been finding their way into circulation. A few of these bills had been put out in New England, but the bulk of them in other locations. A man of education and refinement was finally discovered to be the perpetrator, and the man who had refused the befogged party a landing was his assistant. The desolate lady was the former's wife, who, believing that her husband would some day be exposed, was simply waiting for that day. The assistant, while the principal and his wife were away from the island, had very foolishly refused those sought refuge a landing.

WILL CELEBRATE ITS ANNIVERSARY

Trenton Fair Program Will Commemorate Twenty-five Years of Progress.

Every little detail of the 1912 Trenton Fair, which opens Monday, Sept. 30, and continues Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4, has been arranged with the express idea of fittingly celebrating the silver anniversary of the great educational and amusement enterprise.

It was just twenty-five years ago that the Trenton Fair first opened its gates. The beginning was modest, but year by year it has grown and developed. It has widened its scope until now it is regarded all over this continent as one of the most distinguished leaders in the fair ranks. It has created more new ideas than other fairs and has always lived up to its motto of adding to its reputation each succeeding year.

Every one of the twenty-five years have been years of conquest—years of noteworthy achievement in fair history. Of late years Secretary Margerum has been lending every energy along educational lines, and the result has been marvelous advancement in the horticultural, agricultural and floricultural shows, the cattle, sheep and swine department, the horse breeding department, school children exhibits, art exhibition and poultry show, until it is generally admitted that it is an education to attend the Trenton Fair. These years of conquest will be celebrated this year by giving to the public the most remarkable fair along every line that has ever been designed and thrown open to all who desire to attend.

MAMMOTH EXHIBIT OF FRUIT, FLOWERS AND GRAIN

Undoubtedly the Trenton Fair, which opens Sept. 30 and closes Oct. 4, has no peer in the world of fairs in its horticultural and agricultural exhibits. More than 20,000 square feet of floor space is devoted to these fascinating departments, which are directed by Professor Maurice A. Blake of the New Jersey experimental station at New Brunswick.

From year to year these departments have been improved upon until last year such a degree of excellence was reached as to win unstinted commendation from experts who came from all parts of the country attracted by the reputation of previous exhibits.

The Trenton Fair draws its exhibits from the richest farming territory in the east, and under even ordinary circumstances the display would be noteworthy. However, under the system inaugurated by Professor Blake it assumes so great an importance as to win national notice.

Flowers of the rarest varieties are shown, including a most wonderful display of orchids. Not only are cultivated garden flowers, greenhouse flowers and conservatory gems shown, but there is a special class for wild flowers, making a complete exhibit that has not been approached by any other fair.

The same perfection applies to the fruit, grain and vegetables. The exhibit simply exhausts every variety grown.

The New Jersey agricultural experiment station will make an exhibit covering the entire side of one of the great halls. Experiment station experts will be present to discuss problems concerning the control of insects and diseases of plants, etc., and general farming problems.

TRENTON FAIR TO HAVE UNUSUAL POULTRY SHOW.

So great has been the development of interest in poultry and pigeons in the territory of the Trenton Fair that it has become necessary to enlarge the floor space for the exhibit of 1912. The poultry building has been increased, so that now there is about 10,000 square feet of floor space, and a safe prediction is that all of it will be taken and more demanded.

Fred Huyler of Penapack, N. J., who has so successfully conducted the Trenton Fair poultry shows in recent years, will be in charge again, and this insures courteous treatment and square dealing. The judges will be selected from among the best in this country, and every detail will be carefully arranged to produce a record breaking show.

In connection with the poultry show this year there will be a comprehensive exhibit of all sorts of poultry supplies under canvas immediately adjoining the poultry show building. The dates of this year's Fair are Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

AUTO VERSUS AIRSHIP.

An automobile versus an airship in a five mile race, the automobile dashing madly around the Trenton Fair track and the airship immediately overhead! This is one of the big special attractions of the Trenton 1912 Fair, that opens Monday, Sept. 30 and continues Oct. 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Guiding the Curtiss airship will be that daring air man, Charles F. Wulsh, and Hugh Hughes, the star racing driver of the Mercer Automobile company of Trenton, will be at the wheel of the champion Mercer car. This novel race will be an every day feature and should develop an endless amount of excitement.

M. P. CHURCH NOTES

The new hymn books in the school have become quite popular.

Captain Hickman, of the Salvation Army, attended church and made an address to the school.

There are but two Sundays left of this conference year. Let all double their diligence.

Mrs. Annie Hause has charge of the C. E. meetings for October and will lead or secure a leader.

Mr. Arthur Peterson led a very impressive C. E. service last Sunday evening, Mrs. William Clark, of Mayville, officiating at the organ.

The pastor's class will hold the weekly social next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Andrew Dill, a member of the class, on North Main street.

Last Sunday was a high day at the church when all of the services were nicely attended and a large number of new faces visible at the evening service.

Several of the choir were absent, being out of the city, yet the song service was held as usual and Mrs. Marion Dill and Mrs. Jennie Carlisle sang a beautiful duet.

The Sunday School Review next Sunday will be conducted by the superintendent with a teacher or officer speaking on one of the lessons of the quarter. Come and hear.

The evening service was largely attended when the pastor preached on the text, "Christ in you the Hope of Glory."—Col. 1:27. The flowers at the church were numerous and beautiful and some were remembered with the bouquets.

The Sunday School had a regular rally session and large school. Mr. Howard Anderson, wife and son, members of the large M. P. Church of Philadelphia, paid us a visit and Mr. Anderson made a brief address, complimenting the school on its successful work.

In order to raise the balance to make $500 a general bakery and pastry sale will be held under the auspices of the school Friday, October 4. All classes assembling at the church at which there will be home made pies, cakes (different kinds), bread (ginger cake and bread), crullers, muffins, etc., also the celebrated Berrien and Rue biscuits for sale.

Next Sunday evening will be the monthly service of song at which service several anthems will be sung by special request. The whole service is singing. All lovers of music come. Bring an extra offering, as it is for the conference collections. Meeting of conference at Canarsie, (Brooklyn) N. Y., October 8th. The fourth and last Quarterly conference will be held next Thursday evening after devotional exercises. This is important. Let all the members be present.

REST HOUSE AND BUNK ROOMS FOR RAILROAD MEN

In pursuance of its policy to provide comfortable rest accommodations at all points for its employes in train service, the Pennsylvania Railroad announced on Monday that plans had been prepared for new rest houses at Sunnyside Yard, on Long Island, New York Station, and Waverly Transfer, New Jersey.

The railroad is erecting a two-story brick building, forty feet by sixty-six feet at Sunnyside Yard. It will provide a lunch room and kitchen on the first floor, while the second floor will be used for lockers and sleeping rooms. The two-story brick structure at New York Station will have lunch and locker rooms, and the one-story building which will be built at Waverly Transfer is to be used by employes during lunch hours.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has rest houses and bunk rooms at all terminals. These are in addition to the facilities furnished by the twenty-eight railroad branches of the Young Men's Christian Association on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

WHAT WE NEVER FORGET

According to science, are the things associated with our early home life, such as Bucklen's Arnica Salve, that mother or grandmother used to cure our burns, boils, scalds, sores, skin eruptions, cuts, sprains or bruises. Forty years of cures prove its merit. Unrivaled for piles, corns or cold sores. Only 25 cents at Geo. W. Jaques'.

Big Slabs Laid For Bridge.

The Pennsylvania Railroad placed into position Sunday four concrete slabs, each weighing more than sixty tons, forming a concrete bed for the new bridge over Manalapan Brook, Jamesburg. The actual time consumed in laying the tracks for the derricks and placing the slabs in position was one hour and forty-five minutes. The work was in charge of Supervisor Charles E. Whitlock, of the local division, and George Robbins, of Bordentown. Sparks & Evans, of Philadelphia, are the bridge contractors. But one supporting pier is used and at each end is a four-foot abutment sloping into the water. The bridge has been in course of construction for two months.

Barber Commits Suicide.

After an illness of two years Anthony Wengert, sixty-nine years old, and the oldest barber in Trenton, committed suicide Monday by taking carbolic acid. He leaves a wife and two daughters.

Rise Increase In Farm Value.

In the sale of the George Kennedy farm at Jamesburg for $12,000, probably is recorded the largest advance in farm land in the period of three years. Kennedy bought the farm, paying $8,000 for the eighty acres, and has disposed of the property to Watson Conover, of Manasquan, who will shortly remove to Jamesburg. Owing to ill health Mr. Kennedy was compelled to retire.

Boy Dies From Lockjaw.

Charles Jeffrey Read, six years old, of 818 Grove street, Elizabeth, died Sunday night at St. Elizabeth's Hospital from lockjaw. He was removed to the hospital Saturday evening. Read had been in good health up to Saturday. His parents cannot account for his illness, but say that it may have resulted from his vaccination one month ago.

Senator Blodgett's Widow Dies.

Mrs. Christina Simpson, eighty years old, widow of former United States Senator Rufus J. Blodgett, died at Long Branch on Sunday at the home of her son, William W. Simpson. Mrs. Blodgett was born at Wentworth, N. H.

Injured By Fall From Ladder.

While at work Saturday afternoon on the top of a twenty-five-foot ladder, Frank Garrity, of Highlands, missed his footing and fell the entire distance to the pavement below. He is in the Long Branch Memorial Hospital, where there is said to be no hope for his recovery. When the accident happened Garrity was in the act of tying two ladders together so as to make a pyramid.

Death of John Lawrence.

John Lawrence, former State commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, died suddenly at his home at 264 Suydam street, New Brunswick, Sunday morning. Up to Saturday he was active as ever, filling his duties as assistant to County Collector Thomas H. Haggerty. Mr. Lawrence was taken ill at midnight Saturday. A doctor was summoned and he seemed to rally, but he had another attack several hours later which proved fatal. An internal hemorrhage caused death. The veteran was born at Denny, Stirlingshire, Scotland, October 15, 1839, and came to America at the age of fifteen years. He took up the work of block-cutting, his brother-in-law, John Braidwood, being foreman of this department of the Janeway & Co., wallpaper factory. He was still learning the trade when the Civil War broke out and August 13, 1861, he enlisted in Company G, First New Jersey Volunteers, of which G. M. Way, of New Brunswick, was captain. This company was attached to Kearney's First New Jersey Brigade, the reunion of which was held recently in Camden, and was attended by Mr. Lawrence. During the second battle of Bull Run Mr. Lawrence was taken prisoner. His service as a soldier did not end, however, until August 1864. Returning to New Brunswick, Mr. Lawrence resumed his place which had been left open for him, and completed the trade of blockcutter. In 1876 he was promoted to the position of book-keeper at the wallpaper factory. He held a position in this factory for more than fifty years, having resigned a year or so ago. Mr. Lawrence served on the Board of Education from 1889 to 1893, being chairman of the teachers committee in 1901 he was elected ed State commander of the Grand Army of this State. He was a member of Boggs-Janeway Post No. 57, G. A. R.; Palestine Lodge No. 114, F. and A. M.; and Raritan Lodge No. 6, A. O. U. W. He was a trustee of St. James's M. E. Church of New Brunswick. A widow, formerly Miss Anna Slayback, and a daughter, Mrs. Sherman G. Pitt, of Atlantic City, survive him; also a brother, William Lawrence.

Struck Down By Truck In Red Bank.

Struck on the head with a brick at Red Bank Monday night, Samuel Boetner, forty-five years old, Washington, D. C., is in the Annapolis Memorial Hospital, at Locust Branch, with a fractured skull. Boetner was found lying unconscious on the sidewalk opposite the residence of Mrs. John Holmes, in Wallace street. He was taken to the office of Dr. Manning Wilson, where his wound was temporarily dressed. He was later removed to the hospital in an automobile. Although a small amount of money was found in Boetner's pocket, it is thought the man was waylaid, and that the highwayman was frightened away before he secured anything of value. Boetner went to Red Bank several months ago and secured employment as a salesman in a local clothing store. He left the store late Monday night remarking that he would take a walk before retiring. It is believed the highwayman stepped from behind a tree when he struck Boetner, as the wound was on the side of the man's head.

Elopers Offend Mother.

The elopement of a Red Bank couple Sunday has not resulted in permanent parental forgiveness. The couple were Miss Gladys C. Anderson, sixteen years old, daughter of Mrs. B. C. Anderson, of Wallace street, Red Bank, and Harry E. Denise, twenty-one years old, of Jersey City. For the past few weeks Denise had been visiting at the home of the bride's mother. Sunday he said he and Gladys were going for a walk. When they returned, Mrs. Denise showed a marriage certificate to her mother. The couple were forgiven. Monday morning Mr. and Mrs. Denise said they were going down town to shop. They have not since been seen or heard from. The forgiveness has been withdrawn. Tuesday morning Mrs. Anderson said that she would break up housekeeping and that she would not forgive her daughter. Mrs. Anderson's husband died a few years ago. He was a Middletown Township farmer.

Maurice A. Rogers.

Maurice A. Rogers, whose election as President of the New Jersey State Senate, caused a division in that body in 1892, died at his home at Camden Monday night from blood poisoning, as the result of paring a corn. Rogers was chosen to preside by the Republicans of the Senate and the Democrats refused to recognize his authority and elected their own officers. The election of Rogers was sustained by the Supreme Court. He was fifty-four years old, and was prominent in the oyster industry. He had wide fraternal affiliations.

Flag Accepted After Debate.

Following a lengthy session the Board of Education of Jamesburg, Monday night decided to accept the proposed gift by Mechanics' Home Council No. 71, Jr. O. U. A. M., of an American flag for the new $18,000 High School building. Several members opposed the plan, insisting the taxpayers should purchase their own emblem. An extensive program will be arranged for the flag raising October 11.

Dog Injures Boy Seriously.

Alexander, the nine-year-old son of Victor Morvay, a clothing manufacturer of Vineland, was seriously injured by a bulldog belonging to J. C. Stevens of that place Monday. Mrs. Stevens ran out to drive boys away from a chestnut tree and the dog bit Morvay a dozen times. Some ball players wanted to use bats to beat off the dog, but Mrs. Stevens was fearful the beating would further enrage the beast, and by an almost superhuman strength she finally choked the animal off.

Girl's Uncle Charged With Beating Caller.

Telling the caller that he had been mauled by a dog, a young girl called on her uncle, who was charged with beating her.

by which he made his visits—a bley—David Soden Monday charged William Dorian and William Connell, of that place, with atrocious assault on a battery and malicious mischief. The accused men pleaded non vult before Justice of the Peace Phineas M. Downe at a hearing in Spotswood and were held in bail of $200 each for the grand jury. Soden said Dorian had warned him several times to cease his attentions to Miss Cottrell, but that he paid no heed to threats. The alleged assault occurred Sunday evening. In pleading non vult the two men declare they were intoxicated and were not aware of what happened.

Gelsel Free Again.

"Rev." Theodore Harmer Gelsel, of Basking Ridge, who styled himself the Bishop of God's Cathedral, was released from the Mercer County workhouse last week, after serving a two-month term. He visited the federal buildings, where he had been sentenced for sending objectionable cards to Rev. Thomas Conover, of Bernardsville. Mr. Gelsel would not talk of his plans for the future.

Clunions—Clunions.

The marriage of Miss Malvina Clunions, daughter of Mrs. and the late Welcome G. Clunions, of Helmsburg, and E. Wardell Ivins, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Ivins, of Trenton, was solemnized in St. Peter's Church of Spotswood by the Rev. W. E. Dawson Saturday. Only the members of the immediate family were present. The bride was gowned simply and beautifully in a brown traveling suit and hat to match. Over the hat a white chiffon veil was artistically draped and her hands were gloved in white. The groom was attired in a navy blue suit.

THE FLYING OFFICE.

In the annals of naval and land warfare we have heard much of "flying squadrons." It remained, however, for the telephone to make it possible for railway officials to have what may be termed a "flying office." A prominent railroad official recently said: "We railroad men don't have to be tied down to our city offices any more. We can get around over the lines, and see what is going on with our own eyes. Neglect our routine business? Not much! We do just as much if not more, with modern methods."

This is all brought about by the fact that the majority of the private cars in the United States are now equipped with Western Electric telephones, which may be connected at each stopping place to the telephone line by means of a line pole. Over the telephone circuit thus established, the official transacts his routine business as well as takes care of any emergency which may arise. He dictates his memoranda, and even his more lengthy letters, to his secretary or stenographer, who is at headquarters. His private car is his office and without neglecting every-day matters he can make inspections or personally supervise any work, such as clearing up a large wreck, the replacing of a bridge or the clearing of a snow or land slide, while keeping his finger upon the "pulse of the road."

In the days before the telephone began to supplant the telegraph for dispatching the message work on railroads, this would not have been possible, for even if a temporary telegraph circuit had been rigged up, it would have been necessary to employ experienced operators at both ends. This would have meant that a personal message between the General Manager and the Superintendent would have had to pass through two intervening minds, which would of course have detracted from the personal-touch element. This is one of the many points wherein the telephone is vastly superior to the telegraph for use on railway systems.

THE MEN WHO SUCCEED

As heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, to-day, demands health. To all is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga., "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders, and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them.
