Change In City Governing Form To Be Debated

Unusual Interest Reported in Subject To Be Argued by Young Ladies Sodality and Catholic Club

With all final details in the stage of completion, the debate between the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Mary's church, and the South Amboy Catholic Club is expected to fill St. Mary's hall on Sunday night, if the city-wide enthusiasm over the affair may be taken as an indication. The Athletic Association of St. Mary's High School, sponsor of the event, are now making arrangements to provide extra seating facilities to take care of the expected overflow.

The interest of the general public has been increased by the popularity of the question under fire, namely: Should Commission government be preferable to this city than the present council form. During the past few years this question has gained rising popularity in civic conversation and speculation, and the debate will serve it is expected, to offer many hitherto unthought of angles on the topic.

The judges of the debate are to be Mayor Charles T. Mason of this city; Mayor Edward Patten of Perth Amboy, and Mayor August Greiner of Woodbridge. Attorney John P. McGuire will act as chairman, and many prominent political and church figures are expected to be present to witness the discussion.

The Sodality will uphold the affirmative side of the question, advocating change to commission government, while the Catholic Club team will defend the present government. The event will be conducted on a formal discussion scale, and all details will be carried out to perfection, it is expected.

All persons in the city who are interested in this civic problem are cordially invited to attend. There is to be no admission fee for the debate but it is planned to accept small donations for the benefit of the Athletic Association.

Representing the Sodality will be the Misses Catherine Cleary, Rose McNeal, Catherine Coan and Doris Leonard, alternate, while the Catholic Club will take the platform represented by James Harrigan, Joseph F. Vail, Richard M. Mack, Jr., and Joseph M. Carroll, as alternate.

Sections will be set aside in the hall to provide organized seating for delegations from the Sodality, Catholic Club and St. Mary's High school. All other seats will be assigned on a first-come-first-served basis with the exception of seats reserved for visiting clergy and city officials.

Electrification Hearing to Take Place Tuesday

Expect Principal Objections Will Come From Those Fighting Grade Crossing Elimination

With the highway route problem officially disposed of this week, the next important problem facing the local governing body is action on the electrification project. This project involves the elimination of two local street crossings, David and Henry streets, and to give both proponents and objectors an opportunity to present their views there will be a public hearing at the Council meeting next Tuesday night. The hearing will be in connection with the consideration of an ordinance on second reading, which ordinance grants the closing of the street crossings subject to certain restrictions and provisos.

Since the introduction of the ordinance at the Council meeting last week, considerable opposition has developed, it is understood, to the plans of the railroad, particularly the closing of the street crossings. When the Council approached the railroad officials some weeks ago with a plea to have the electrification work extended to include the Broadway railroad station, instead of stopping at the end of the draw bridge, street crossing eliminations were not contemplated. But they were included in the plans that the railroad engineers had prepared. With the introduction of the ordinance the elimination of street crossings was officially made public. A few interested property owners were present at that Council meeting and a recess was held in order that the plans might be discussed by them with members of the governing body. To insure that all who might be affected by the electrification project or the street crossings eliminations might have ample opportunity to arrange their objections, or otherwise, the Council decided to advertise the public hearing for next Tuesday night. It is now expected that there will be quite an attendance of interested taxpayers and affected property owners.

Admittedly profiting by experiences of somewhat similar nature at Council meetings of the recent past, objectors to the street crossing eliminations are understood to have decided to pool their interests and secure one able representative to address the governing body. The speaker is expected to be a member of the legal profession and the selection of a single spokesman is intended to eliminate the distractions and the possible disagreements upon minor points that have consumed so much valuable time at other hearings.

A singular feature of the discussions about the railroad plans is that there appears to be little or no objection to the idea of electrification in general. Criticism seems to be leveled almost entirely at the street crossings closings. Along this line, it was noticeable that neither the petition, nor the letters approving the council action in seeking electrification, read at the council meeting last week, made any mention of this evidently important question. This week there have been two new petitions put into circulation. Both deal with the closing of the street crossing idea. One favors, the other, naturally opposes.

One branch of the State Legislature, the Senate, recently adopted a bill clarifying a statute already on the books of the State. The bill of amendment tends to give the railroad unquestioned authority to close crossings where they are only a certain distance apart, such as is the case here. The law itself has heretofore been interpreted to give similar authority.

PROGRESSIVE FIRE CO. AUXILIARY TO MEET

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Progressive Fire Co. will hold an important meeting at the Bordentown avenue firehouse on Monday evening. All members of the auxiliary are requested to be present, as business of importance to all will be discussed.

Snow Scrapers Prove Efficiency on First Try Out Wednesday

Tuesday Night's Snowfall Gave Opportunity for Street Dept. to Test New Equipment.

The first opportunity to use the new snow plows secured for the Street Department came Wednesday morning as the result of the snowfall Tuesday night. Superintendent Nagle had his men out early Wednesday morning cleaning the snow from the streets and the apparatus proved entirely satisfactory and it required but a short time to clear all highways.

Negotiations are now under way for the purchase of an auxiliary truck to be used for Water Department work. The snow plow-scrapers were purchased from the South Amboy Motor Sales, local Ford representatives, with whom negotiations are being made for the truck purchase.

NOTICE
Attention of all is called to the practice of throwing ashes on the paved streets of the city. This method of disposing of ashes is contrary to law and in addition to a number of other evils, tends to clog up the sewer system and contributes toward a general unsanitary condition locally. Those residents who are in the habit of throwing ashes on these streets are asked to discontinue doing so immediately.

Pending Bills In Legislature To Affect This City

Pending Legislation Would Give New Powers in Grade Crossing Elimination

Two bills now pending before the New Jersey State Senate may have an important effect upon what is now considered South Amboy's most important public question—electrification.

These bills concern primarily the point which appears to be the sole contention—the closing of David and Henry street crossings—and would, if passed, take away the effectiveness of any objections addressed to the local governing body.

Senate bill No. 66 introduced by Senator Hendrickson would give any railroad in the state the right to abolish grade crossings upon permission of the Public Utilities Commission. The bill is so worded that the City of South Amboy could make application to the Utility body for the abolition of crossings; or any single citizen or group of citizens might make such application to the Commission. If, after a hearing, that body ruled their application valid, it could order the crossing or crossings eliminated. In the present instance this would mean that the city council can make application for the closing of the streets in question, or any citizen or group of them who wished to have the crossings eliminated, to pave the way for the railroad to carry out its plans, might make application to the Public Utilities Commission.

Senate Bill No. 67 a companion measure to the bill sponsored by Senator Hendrickson, would give any railroad in the state the power after it applied to the Public Utilities Commission and that body ruled its reasons just, to condemn any property which was needed for extension or improvement of the facilities of the railroad.

Woman's Club Members Will Hear NJC Speaker at Sayreville Church

Dr. Emil Hickman Will Talk on "Impressions of Europe."

The members of the South Amboy Woman's Club will attend the Sayreville M. E. Church on Sunday evening when they will be the guests of the Parlin Woman's Club.

Dr. Emil Hickman, of N. J. C. will address the meeting on "Impressions of Europe." Particular mention will be made of Germany, where the speaker was recently the guest under the Karl Schultz Foundation.

Rev. Samuel Blair, pastor of the church has announced that Dr. Hickman will have something of interest to say to the women of the clubs in addition to her comments on the subject announced.

Another Point Advanced By Plan "A" Advocates

Advocates of This Plan are Carrying Their Arguments to Every Possible Conclusion. Now Active in Sayreville.

Morgan Lambertson and other supporters of the proposed shore highway known as Route "A" have launched another attempt to arouse sentiment in favor of their plan. This time their activities are being centered in the Borough of Sayreville. They will point out that the proposed Route "A" will have a number of detrimental effects, in addition to destroying tax values.

Since the hearing here on Tuesday night, supporters of the Route "A" plan declare they have gained a moral victory, since their arguments at the meeting succeeded in changing the opinion of two councilmen. When the matter was first brought before the council, there was a unanimous vote in favor of Route "B," whereas at Tuesday's meeting, two councilmen voted against this plan.

Plans are going forward, declared Lambertson, to present the petitions already signed, before the State Highway Commission with the request for a hearing before that body.

A meeting of the Sacred Heart Athletic Association will take place in the club rooms on Sunday afternoon at 3:30, when important matters will come before the members.

Hoffman Republicans Make Further Plans for Pilgrimage to Sea Girt

Several Events to Raise Funds for Trip to Summer Capitol are Planned.

Further plans for the pilgrimage of the Harold G. Hoffman Republican Club to Sea Girt on the first Governor's Day this summer were discussed, when the club met Wednesday evening in Wilhelm's Hall. Several affairs to raise funds to take practically the entire membership of the club to the summer capital are being arranged.

At the next meeting to take place on Wednesday evening, March 13th, a speaker of considerable prominence will be present. At the Wednesday night meeting arrangements were made to secure prominent members of the party to speak at least once a month before the club.

Mayor Charles T. Mason presided at the business session following which a social hour was held.

Lions Club May Send Delegates to Mexico City Convention

Members From Metropolitan Area Plan to Take Boat Trip to International Meeting.

The South Amboy Lions Club will probably be represented by several members at the forthcoming annual convention of Lions International in July, it was revealed at the meeting of the club held Wednesday evening at Blodgett's on the Chesapeake Road.

The annual convention will take place in Mexico City, home of the largest Lions Club in the world and a number of features new to these conventions have been arranged for. It is expected the local delegates will join with others from the metropolitan area in making the trip by water. A steamer has been chartered. Sailing from New York harbor, the delegates will land at Vera Cruz and after a five day sight-seeing trip through various parts of Mexico will arrive in the convention city.

During the meeting a committee consisting of Laurence Kenny, Ferdinand Tedesco and Elwood R. Brown was appointed to arrange for a special meeting to take place in this city, at a location to be decided upon, on Wednesday evening, March 13th, when important matters will have the consideration of the members of the club.

School Board Members Negligent in Fighting Communist Propaganda

State Officer Tells Junior Order Members Assembled Here for Monthly Meeting.

Members of School Boards throughout the state in the main are failing to give sufficient attention to the efforts being made by communists to spread their propaganda in the public schools, declared Martin J. Schwartz, of Newark, State Inside Sentinel at the meeting of the Middlesex County Past Councilor's Association held in the local council headquarters Friday evening.

Mr. Schwartz declared that while the average person is inclined to regard statements concerning the communists and their propaganda efforts in the public schools as exaggerated his personal investigations have proved they have already made great headway.

Another speaker was Prof. M. Bayard of New Brunswick, who talked on the life and accomplishments of Washington and during his short discourse brought out some interesting points concerning the first president.

The meeting was the first over which Marshall E. Magee, county councilor presided during the entire session. He was installed as county councilor at the January meeting of the association.

The county organization will meet next on Monday, March 18th at Spotswood. For this session an interesting program has been arranged by the entertainment committee headed by O. H. Miller of the local council.

ST. MARY'S P. T. A. TO HOLD "OLD TIMER'S NIGHT"

On Monday evening, March 4th, St. Mary's Parent Teachers Association will sponsor an "Old Timers Night" to be held at St. Mary's Hall, and according to the favor which the plan is being met with, a large crowd should be in attendance.

The program will consist of many features to insure an enjoyable evening for all. Tom Barry's orchestra will furnish the music for dancing and singing, and those who have heard this musical unit are well aware of the fine quality of entertainment to be expected.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Education next Tuesday, March 6th at the office of the Superintendent of Schools in the high school building. It was announced through the columns of this paper last week that the meeting would be held next Wednesday, March 6th, but since that time it has been found advisable to make a change in the date of the meeting.

Advocates of Traffic Route 'A' Fail In Attempt to Have Council Change Attitude Toward Highway Route

Mason and Filskov Lead Fight in Defense of Previous Action of Governing Body—Kurtz and Kurzawa Register Dissenting. Votes—Claim Proposed Shore Route Would Not Lessen Dangers for Local Residents—Filskov Argues Tax Ratable Loss

"EFFECT ON BUSINESS, NO ARGUMENT"—MASON

For an hour and three quarters Tuesday evening, members of the local Common Council and the Mayor listened to a long series of pro and con discussions of the several relief routes proposed by the State Highway Commission for remedying traffic congestion here during week ends during the summer months. The governing body met in special session as an adjourned section of last week's Council meeting. The express purpose was to conduct a public hearing at which proponents of a modification of the State Highway Commission's route "A" might have unlimited opportunity to present arguments to support contentions advanced. These were to the effect that route "A" as modified would be superior as a remedy for congestion and a benefit to local citizens, taxpayers and businesses.

In the end the Council by a three to two vote refused to change the action taken at a previous meeting, which to favor route "B" in preference to other routes proposed tentatively by the highway body. The local body in thus deciding not to change its previous action voted on a motion offered by Councilman Filskov to the effect that the petition and communications under consideration at the meeting be received and filed. Councilmen Stanton and Grimley voted with Filskov; Messrs. Kurtz and Kurzawa opposing. Councilman Kurtz failed in an attempt to amend the Filskov motion, the amendment being to the effect that the Council go on record as favoring route "A" instead of route "B".

In the vote which killed the amendment (which was of course, taken first) Councilman Kurzawa sided with Kurtz, but the other three stuck together as above named.

Mayor Mason, prior to the vote being taken, expressed himself as strongly favoring route "B" because it would do the least harm to the greatest number of the local citizens. He interpreted the various speakers to have demonstrated by their remarks that they were asking the Council to favor something that they themselves didn't really believe they should have. The statements intended to support the route "A", for instance, had inferred criticisms of route "B" which really appeared to apply with equal force to route "A", or route "C" and vice versa.

The Mayor went on to explain that it appeared there was agreement that relief of local traffic congestion was unfair and unjust to local residents as well as expensive to the taxpayers. Half the police force, he said, devoted practically all their time to

Ex-chief Arthur Segar, Honor Guest at Hooks Annual Banquet

Head of Department During 1934 Lauded by Fellow Firemen.

Retiring Fire Chief Arthur Segar was honored by his fellow members of the Enterprise Hook and Ladder Company when he was the guest of honor at the company's annual banquet Thursday evening. The affair was surpassed only by the recent anniversary celebration staged by the company.

The accomplishments of Chief Segar while he headed the department were recalled by the various speakers and it was the outspoken opinion of every speaker that he would go down in history as one of the outstanding fire chiefs of the city.

Mr. Segar was presented with a gold ex-chief's badge, the gift of his fellow company members. The presentation was made by former mayor and past fire chief Frank Gordon. Among other speakers were: Chief Jerry Connors, Past Chief Arthur Segar; First Assistant Thomas Palmer, Second Assistant Jay Busky, Past Chief Michael Nagle, Past Chief Jay Lyons, Thomas Downs, John McDonald and M. C. Bloodgood.

During the course of the evening, two suggestions that apparently will be followed through to completion were made. Former Mayor Gordon advocated the formation of a local ex-chief's association; and Past Chief Nagle urged the organization of a social membership for the company. Music was furnished by the Enterprise Entertainers, a snappy jazz band and there were vocal numbers rendered by Robert Pierson, Reuben Buckalew, Thomas Conroy and Harry Covell.

First Assistant Chief Thomas Palmer led the members in a silent tribute to two departed members of the company, John Conroy and Harry A. Leonard.

Arrangements were made by a committee headed by Raymond Downs and Stephen Connors and a delicious turkey dinner was served by the Home Kitchen.

THE MESS KIT

By "Wood Burns"

Over in England, where they are making elaborate preparations for the silver jubilee of the reign of King George next spring, $500,000 was spent for a movie film "the story of the reign of his majesty, the King." The picture was supposed to depict the king's life and his accomplishments from the day when he was born up until the present time. Suddenly, when the film was completed, and had been previewed, there came the word that it would be scrapped and would not have a public showing. The announcement coming from the royal palace was to the effect that for "chemical reasons" the scrapping was being done. Movie men, familiar with the various reasons why films are scrapped, turned up their noses and murmured "taint true."

They passed among themselves the opinion that the film had been scrapped because old pictures of the king when he was a baby, or when he was a school boy, wouldn't be very inspiring.

It is possible that somebody who understands human nature was back of this scrapping of the picture and while they may have thrown away $500,000 of the English people's money, they permitted them to retain their illusions, which, in any country, and especially in one like England, is important for its future welfare.

After all, without our pet illusions, life to many people would be an unglorious existence. Take for instance the President of the United States. The popular opinion is that he is some sort of a "super man," placed at the head of the nation. Because he is generally regarded as a superman, throughout the nation there is maintained a certain feeling of security in the minds of most of the people. They regard him as someone far above the petty annoyances and problems with which they have to contend daily. They look upon him as something that while having the form and appearance of a man, is really a god.

In that huge mansion known as the White House, where the presidents have always lived, many things have gone on that have never been told and never will be told.

For instance, suppose the life of the president was an open book and some day, like John Smith, Bill Jones or some other common ordinary person he fought with his wife and maybe blackened her eyes or threw her down the stairs, imagine what a controversy would be started.

Picture the stir throughout the nation the next morning if the President decided the First Lady needed a good beating and he gave her one and the news got out. Life would be something entirely different to millions of people in these United States when they found that one of the pet illusions had been destroyed and the nation's first citizen was just like it's last citizen.

Maybe president's wives have been given back eyes in the White House. Who can say they haven't. Maybe George Washington let winto a rage and kicked his wife down the back stairs of the White House. Maybe some other president's wife caught him playing around with someone else's wife and began throwing the White House dishes at him and he began throwing them back. It is possible that it happened and the news never leaked out. Maybe we have had more presidents who had a bottle hidden down in the White House cellar and frequently sneaked down there and got a bun on and slept it off in the coal bin.

It may have happened, but you and I and the rest of the common people will never know for various reasons, the principal one that it is necessary that the majority of us retain the illusions with which we were born and we are destined to take them to our graves.

After we pass childhood, we look back and think of the Santa Claus illusion and smile. When we were not so wise, we believed it religiously, however. If we are truthful, with ourselves, we will admit that Christmas has never been quite the same to us since we learned there was no Santa Claus. We were happy laboring under that illusion and if given opportunity, we carry on the illusion to the next generation, by telling them stories about Santa Claus, just as they were told to us years before.

Destroying illusions is one of the wisest ways to arouse the ire of certain people. It was not so many years ago that Rupert Hughes, eminent American novelist and historian, brought out a book about George Washington that portrayed him as just an ordinary person like you and I, in many ways and showed that the father of his country had certain decidedly human weaknesses. Hardly had the book made its appearance before there went up cries that the statements made were not true. When Hughes produced proof of the statements he made, however, and then he was censured for revealing the facts and destroying illusions of long standing.

Did you ever read an English history of the Revolutionary War? If you did you know there is a great difference in the account appearing in American histories and those written by Englishmen. For instance, the story of the Battle of Bunker Hill as it appears in English histories differs in many ways from the stories in the American histories. Maybe the story that appears in the English histories runs closer to the facts than the story we are accustomed to reading in American histories, but you can bet every cent you've got in your pocket that two hundred years from now the story of the Battle of Bunker Hill that appears in American histories will be or if it is changed it will not be in the direction of the story as it appears in the English histories.

Whether the English king, the American President or the Italian dictator is concerned, it's important that illusions be maintained, in order that the moral of the country be maintained.

Many Gifts Rejected
For many years the Smithsonian has been obliged to reject gifts freely offered by citizens. The space available for the display of material was exhausted long ago, and a condition of overcrowding has been the distinguishing characteristic of the institution for several decades.

Fifty-eighth Six Day Bicycle Race Starts at Garden on Sunday

Eddie Cantor Will Start Cyclists on Long Swing Around Saucer.

Sunday night at nine o'clock New York's fifty-eighth International six day bicycle race will get under way in Madison Square Garden with Eddie Cantor, popular stage, screen and radio star, firing the starting gun to send the fifteen international teams on their way. The field, one of the strongest in the history of this cycle classic is made up of riders from the United States, Italy, France, Belgium, Germany and Switzerland.

In addition to all the old favorites, there will be eight new riders entered in the race.

Bill Honeman, Newark youth who is making his first appearance in a six day race is the American sprint champion and the fans are anxious to see how he fares. Other new riders are: George Shipman, Brooklyn; Carl Hurlgen and Fritz Krossmeier of Germany; Natale Medri, Italy; Roger Levat and Arthur Sores of France and Paul Egli of Switzerland.

Alfred Letourner of France, the American motor paced champion and leading six day rider of France and Gerard Debaets of Belgium, premier six day rider of that country, the team that won five six day races in a row last fall and winter, will not be teamed again. Letourner will ride with Franco Georgetti, Italian, and Debaets will be paired with Ewald Wissel, of Germany.

Beggie McNamara, the Iron Man, greatest six day rider the world has ever known, will be paired with Dave Lands. The coming race will be the 11th in which the Iron Man, who has suffered a fractured skull, broken nose, broken jaw, twelve collar bone breaks, a broken arm, broken leg and three broken ribs, has entered.

Food Market Advice

For an Outstanding Value
SOMETIMES this week FOWL, in the form of chicken fricassee or chicken pie, will appear on the tables of most thirty households. Not only is it an excellent buy, fine in quality and low in price, but it is a change from meat and roast chicken or other poultry. Several vegetables which go well with fowl are plentiful and low priced, including both NEW and OLD POTATOES, SWEET POTATOES and YAMS, CARROTS, ONIONS, BEETS and RUTABAGA TURNIPS. CAULIFLOWER and BROCCOLI are not so cheap but offer good value.

The scarcity and high price of GREEN BEANS and SPINACH is offset by the low-priced plenty of other greens including several types of CABBAGE, MUSTARD and DANDELION GREENS and ESCAROLE. All of these are eaten either raw or cooked, others such as CHICORY, CABBAGE, BOSTON and ROMAINE LETTUCE, WATERCRESS and BELGIAN ENDIVE are usually eaten raw. ARTICHOKE, CELERY and MUSHROOMS are moderate in price but good quality PEAS are high.

Meats, Butter and Eggs Still Higher
MEATS, BUTTER and EGGS have continued to go up in price during the past week. Not enough butter nor enough eggs are being produced to meet the demand. The situation is very temporary for eggs as we are approaching the big laying season. No great increase in butter production, however, can be looked for until late spring. LAMB LEGS, forequarter cuts of BEEF and PORK cuts other than LOINS offer the best meat values.

Eating Apples Now Large
EATING APPLES are now conspicuous for their large size, especially the DELICIOUS and WINESAP varieties. NAVEL ORANGES too, are running in larger sizes than a year ago. Good FLORIDA ORANGES are still available even though the damage by the freeze to the mid-season crop has turned out to be serious. GRAPEFRUIT are good, plentiful and cheap.

LEMONS are fairly cheap, more so than in hot weather and they are essential to many of our most delicious desserts such as gelatin, lemon meringue pie and lemon chiffon pudding. GRAPES, PEARS and PINE APPLES are available but fairly high. BANANAS vary little in price. At this season when it is difficult to get them fully ripe they should be cooked in various ways.

Here is a menu made up from foods which are both seasonable and moderately priced:
Stuffed Celery
Chicken Fricassee with Dumplings
New Parsley Potatoes
Carrots, Julienne
Lettuce and Celery Salad
French Dressing
Cherry Preserves
Rolls and Butter
Lemon Meringue Pie
Coffee

Politicians Forever
Joe Timkins says we may arrive at perfect government, since we are man aged to cultivate seedless oranges, although he don't see how there can ever be such a thing as politicianless politics.

Hongkong Harbor Beautiful
The harbor of Hongkong is one of the most beautiful in the world. As the city rises from the esplanade along the water front it assumes the appearance of a huge layer cake. The walls of Hongkong are 20 feet thick and in some places 45 feet high.

Cave Ornaments
Besides the stalactites and stalagmites formed vertically in caves by the dripping of water, there are the less frequent helictites which are spirals.

Hockey an Old Game
Known as hurley in Ireland, hockey was played on the beaches in Galway as early as the fifteenth century. The rules were then simple and the game rough. In 1883 a definite set of rules was drawn up by the Wimbledon club. London, and since then the game has been played in many countries.

PIPE DREAMS

By Nick O'Tine

At the corner of State and Smith streets in Perth Amboy recently, a large group of people were waiting for the local bus. Further along two girls waited on the curb. The driver ignored the larger group so he could stop the vehicle in front of the girls and they wouldn't have to walk. The other people had to wade through the puddle to get to the bus. When one of the girls got in the bus, she gave the driver a dollar bill and a smile. He answered the smile and squeezed her hand when she gave him the dollar bill—how sweet!

Funny how the big fellows when they get out of town always get a little too much and the little fellows try to tell how big they are. Now there's the case of the peanut fireman who goes down to the Spanish Tavern and giving "Skippy" that million dollar smile of his tells her how he's one of the big shots at the local coal dumper.

The Nazis are the big people over in Germany right now and one "Nazi" in this town thinks he's the berries too since Captain Joe made this lowed David streeter mate on the tug "Cleveland".

One young man of the burg was walking around last week with his hand done up. He was in the cast of "Spooky Tavern", the amateur show put on recently and while waiting to go on the stage he assisted the sound effect man and cut his hand on the thunder. Thank goodness he didn't handle the lightning, or he would have cut off his head.

If you hear a bus driver from town saying to the passengers "If I only had a thousand chickens," he's not wishing for a harem, he wants more poultry. He and another bus pilot have a continual argument over whose hens turn out the largest eggs. The one driver who lives in Melrose claims his chickens are the best egg producers, while the other announces his hens turn out eggs so big that if you put hair on them they could easily be mistaken for coconuts.

Two boys you should know spent all last week looking forward to a banquet they were to attend Sunday night. One of them, married not so long ago, refused to partake of a sumptuous Sunday night dinner his wife had prepared for fear it would spoil his appetite for the banquet—and the other didn't eat all day Sunday so he'd be prepared. When they got to the banquet in Perth Amboy, they found they had been given a bad steer and couldn't cut the meat. The only thing they could eat was cranberries and after the banquet they were still hungry—so they went to see Captain Tom (who recently went off the Gold standard and is now a Glaser) and appeased their appetites on the free lunch.

The new engine for the Independence Company was supposed to arrive several weeks ago and the members are worrying about the long wait. Two of the heavy members are worried about the wait for the engine and their own weight, they're getting so heavy they are afraid they won't be able to get on the engine when it comes.

They decided Sunday night to take early morning walks to take off the fat. The Assistant Chief was on hand at eight o'clock next morning as agreed, but the other heavyweight who lives down Augusta street, did not show up until two in the afternoon and the Assistant Chief had lost seven pounds by that time walking up and down Broadway waiting for him and didn't need to do any more walking.

The annual banquet of the Hooks Field recently was one of the most colorful second story affairs held in town in some time. "Rube the Wrangler" did the Ed Wynn act appearing with red as his predominant color scheme, the rims of his eyes were red, he wore a red tie and sang "The Red River Valley."

As I saw the Fire Chief and the First Assistant sitting side by side the other night at the banquet, I remembered that they represent one of the world's most famous drinks, Tom and Jerry.

At the banquet, the First Assistant Chief made a new kind of speech. First it sounded as though he was making a speech about the year 1931, then it sounded as though he was making a speech about the retiring chief, a little later on there was every indication that he was talking about himself, but then when he ended up by saying "I remain your first assistant chief" it was pretty certain he was dictating a letter.

One advantage of this electrification they're talking about will be that it will allow local commuters to get a later train to the city and that in turn will mean that they will have a little more time to check up and see if the lunches are O. K.

If a local commuter who lives on Church street had checked up the other morning before he left town he would have had egg sandwiches. When he opened his lunch in the New York office he found he had bread that goes with egg sandwiches but no egg because his wife had forgotten to put the eggs in the sandwiches.

The telephone rang in a local girl's room one night and inquiries revealed that a Henry street wife wanted to talk to her husband who was standing at the bar. When he came to the phone she told him to stop at a doctor's office on the way home and pick up a bottle of medicine that the M. D. was to leave on the porch. The husband stayed too long at the gin mill and on his way home stopped at the wrong porch and picked up a milk bottle instead of the bottle of medicine.

Some fire companies have trouble getting their members out to fires, but it looks like the Mechanicsville company will have to do something about getting "The Rabbit", who is a brother of the "Mechanicsville Terror" to do something after he gets to the fire.

When the watchman's shanty caught on fire one recent night, "The Rabbit" sat on the train that was stopped because of the fire and watched his fellow members work. The other night when there was a fire in a Broadway flower shop, he stood in front of the drug store and didn't do a thing to help put out the fire. When these boys from Mechanicsville get down on Broadway near the bright lights they seem to get bewildered.

A local woman who is rather particular about the way you pronounce her name, doesn't know that she has a name that is easy to pronounce.

Whenever she walks into a certain 5 and 10 over in Perth Amboy, the salesgirls whisper to each other "Here comes Mrs. Pickover". This local woman has the habit of leaving her fingerprints on every article in the store, and then walking out without having purchased anything.

For a while there I felt sorry for the Supreme Court having to give a decision on gold but after Sunday night I found they didn't have any problem at all. Four men about town carried a well known parrot hanger into a refreshment parlor for their shoulders like they do football heroes because he had promised to buy a drink.

When they got inside they tried to pull one over on him and steal his dollar bill, but when they got through they found the paper hanger still had the dollar bill but everybody else in the crowd had spent considerably more.

It wasn't until Sunday night that I ever discovered the advantage of being tall. The bar tender in a certain Broadway place left the bar to wait on people in the booths and a man who Kamps in front of the bar frequently stood up on the foot rail and leaning over the bar drew himself a glass of beer. You should have seen the disappointed look on his two companions faces. They were real short fellows whose chins barely came above the bar and they knew if they tried to lean across it, that they would probably fall in the water compartment back of the bar.

A call that probably beats anyone ever received by the local cops came in to City Hall one day recently. A Florence avenue resident called up the headquarters and told them to send up a cop. One of the biggest members of the force rushed up to see what was the matter. When he arrived, there the man in the house told him the steam heating plant wouldn't work in the house he was renting from another and asked him what he should do about it. The cop pretty sore, replied, "You'd better move".

There's a guy walking around town with a good head on his shoulders, but he's not entitled to wear it. Much interested in the race Saturday, he declared he'd bet his head and all his money on Equipoise. As you know, Equipoise lost.

If you heard a cracking sound coming from the back of the Empire the other night when they showed: "Lightning Strikes Twice", it wasn't a part of the sound effects of the picture to indicate lightning, it was the Big Number Man and the Top Kick of the Legion sitting up in the gallery. They brought themselves a box of peanut brittle and ate it while they were watching the movies.

Having heard that expression: "Say it with flowers," so long, one local youth tried it recently and it worked. This John Streeter grabbed off a bouquet and went over to Perth Amboy to see a Market Street girl that a certain David Streeter was supposed to have a mortgage on.

When the David Streeter, who lost his girl, learned the sad news that his girl had been copped by another young man who has the same last name, he sang with feeling that famous song: "There goes my heart."

It happened again Monday night: the Broadway firemen's bowling team and the Scribes came together. The Firemen bounced back with the decision but the Scribes won another moral victory.

The game was accompanied with all the usual noise, the firemen took the bell and siren off the engine and would have brought over the hose only they figured the Scribes were all wet already.

The Firemen came to the battle especially dressed for the occasion. They had on firemen's dress hats, red shirts and wore their badges. They figured the badges would give them the right of way down the alleys: the red shirts they wore to prevent them from getting a cold for they knew they would have to sweat to overcome such strong opposition.

The First Assistant Chief gave the firemen a pep talk before the game and threatened to take their badges away from them if they didn't win the match. The pep talk wasn't long enough however and his team ran out of pep before the match was over.

Palmer thought there ought to be some music at the match and tried to get some Tom Tom players, but decided that since the firemen are so used to blowing their own bugles he'd just let them act natural. He made the presentation of the Palmer cup to the first assistant captain of the Scribes shortly after the game got under way. The trophy came directly from Patstown, Pa. and was shipped by way of Chamberburg. It contained four lemons and when the Scribes got them, they had nine all

Paul Muni Has Colorful Role in Film at Strand

Betty Davis Also Stars in "Borderland" Beginning Run Tomorrow.

Once again Paul Muni comes to the screen with a blazing picture of real life—life that touches the rough, raw edges, but is so picturesque and colorful that it will grip the attention of every spectator at the Strand Theatre, Perth Amboy, where it will be shown Saturday for the first time.

In "Borderland" Muni instills both life and fire into the character of a foreign youth who is torn by conflicting emotions in his desperate struggle against insurmountable odds.

Stung by the injustices done his people, he decides that only the rich get the things worth while in life, and goes to a resort town on the United States border where he acquires both riches and power as the proprietor of a night club and gambling resort. It is in this picturesque setting that most of the scenes are laid; a community wild and lawless; a cabaret frequented by persons of every caste, rogues and together counting the five on the bowling team.

The firemen have always been looked upon as a bunch of yeggs, but their best bowler was Yeager.

An important question is this: What will the First Assistant Chief, who spends his evenings in the Enterprise firehouse talking and leaning against the old engine do for an arm rest when the new engine arrives and he can't lean against it?

Bette Davis has the role of a fiery adventuress, wife of Muni's partner, who slays her husband in the hope of winning the love of the younger man.

She does a splendid piece of acting in a tremendous emotional scene, where she vents her fury, the fury of a woman scorned, on the man she loves, by accusing him of the murder she herself had committed.

St. Patrick's Eve Dance Sponsored by City Catholic Club

Monmouth County Country Club Engaged for Dance on Saturday, March 16th.

An event which is expected to eclipse all previous affairs of its kind, will be the St. Patrick's Eve Dance, to be held by the South Amboy Catholic Club at the Monmouth County Country Club on Saturday night, March 16, it was related at a special meeting of that organization last night.

Tommy Troyano and his Collegians will be on hand to furnish the dance music, and many individual features of a "different" nature will be presented to those who attend. In order to assure the success of the dance, the committee in charge will carefully consider every detail which goes to make a most enjoyable evening.

The Monmouth County Country Club has a reputation which is nationwide as one of the most exclusive clubs in the east, and only after great effort was the committee able to secure the club as the scene of the coming affair. The beauty of the place itself is a feature well worth the while of those attending, and by a special government with the manage-

ORDINANCE NO. 350

The final hearing before the Common Council of Ordinance No. 350, which in brief covers an agreement to be entered into between the City of South Amboy and the railroad companies for the extension of the electrification program as far as this city, the construction by them of a new station, a new shelter shed, and a new street from Augusta street to Bordentown avenue, and the closing of David and Henry streets, will take place next Tuesday evening at the City Hall.

The laws of this state afford citizens the opportunity to voice their opinions pro and con on this matter, and those who desire to do so are urged to be present at this meeting, at which time it is expected final action will be taken. However, whether or not the ordinance is finally passed or discarded at this time, it will be too late after next Tuesday for any citizen to claim he or she did not have an opportunity to be heard.

The ordinance, according to law, is again published in this week's issue of the Citizen.

New Sinclair Lewis Novel Depicts Trials of Sudden Riches

"Seven Million Dollars" Now Running in Sunday Herald-Tribune Making First Appearance in Newspaper.

A new novel by Sinclair Lewis, winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature, is an event. And when this famous author allows his new novel to make its first appearance in a newspaper, that is an event which will be acclaimed by an enthusiastic public. "Seven Million Dollars" is the name of the new Lewis novel. It is appearing serially in the new Magazine Section of the Sunday Herald-Tribune.

No one, not even an habitual groucher, could read this story of a lovable, big-hearted man without indulging in a chuckle, and a furtive tear. As the reader accompanies Cordwood McGash on his journey toward disillusionment he shares in hopes and disappointments which are familiar to us all.

Cordwood McGash, fifty-five, an ex-sewing machine salesman, prospector, fortune teller, store-keeper and lumberman, became a multi-millionaire overnight. With $7,000,000 to his credit in a town of 1200 inhabitants of whom not even the most prosperous could afford two simultaneous pairs of suspenders, Cordwood found his ingenuously sorely taxed. How to spend it all?

Suggestions poured in. Cordwood did build a $500,000 Community House. He financed a would-be musician's education in Paris, and lifted a few heavy mortgages from the bowed shoulders of less fortunate friends. But it remained for the silver-tongued Percy Willoughby to solve the financial difficulties of this small town Croesus.

As Cordwood's secretary, business and social manager, Percy's efficiency was little short of miraculous. Under his tutelage Cordwood poured $30,000 into a mansion where he entertained with lavish and impartial hospitality his hard drinking cronies or the Ladies' Guild. This was only the modest beginning of a splendid campaign of spending which Percy, a financial genius as was later proved, planned to lighten the groaning coffers of one Cordwood McGash.

Percy had a fertile imagination but he had hardly hit his stride when Cordwood had his Real Inspiration. Sinclair Lewis is a past master of gentle satire, and Cordwood McGash who makes his first appearance in the Sunday Herald Tribune on Feb. 24th is an even more enjoyable character than the well known Babbitt. The serial will run for four weeks, in the new coloratura Magazine, "This Week."

LOCAL YOUTHS WILL PLAY WITH RUTGERS PREP IN TOURNAMENT

Two local youths, Louis Meizer and Howard Little are members of the Rutgers Preparatory School basketball team which has been chosen to compete in the annual New Jersey State Interscholastic Championship Basketball Tournament. Both local athletes play the forward position.

This is the sixth consecutive year that Rutgers Prep has been selected for tournament competition. Only four institutions were named to represent more than forty prep schools in the state.

Loretta Young and Ronald Colman in "Clive of India," a 29th Century Picture, released through United Artists.

Coming to the Majestic Theatre, Perth Amboy, for Seven Days Starting With Prevue Tonight

"Clive of India" Comes to the Majestic Theatre

The black crime of the Black Hole of Calcutta is brought to light on the screen for the first time in "Clive of India" starring Ronald Colman, which comes to the Majestic Theatre in Perth Amboy tonight.

Not even the Bastille of France or the Tower of London housed greater horror than that infamous cell, some 18 feet square, into which, on June 20, 1756, in the city of Calcutta, India, one hundred and forty-five men and one woman were crammed by the soldiers of a cruel potentate and left to die in a night of hideous suffering.

Hoping to seize treasure, as well as to satisfy his lust for torture, the Nawab Suraj Ud Dowlah, fiendish young ruler, had sent his men to attack Calcutta. Outnumbered, the leaders of the city rushed in panic to the ships in port and left the rest of the residents to the mercy of the invaders.

Only 23 Survive
The Nawab's guards seized all present and carried them off to the Black Hole. Two small, iron-barred windows admitted the only ray of light, the only breath of air. Crushed together as by a vise, the prisoners were denied even water. The heat of the summer night added to their torture. Those near the windows begged the taunting, laughing guards outside to shoot them. Others clutched at their own throats in a pitiful attempt to end their agony.

Not until six o'clock the next morning was the door of the prison opened. So crushed were all the bodies that it took twenty minutes to sort the living from the dead, 23 survivors managed to crawl out of the death chamber, among them a young bride, who was laced in Suraj Ud Dowlah's harem.

In their current London stage success, "Clive of India," W. P. Lipscomb and R. J. Minney could only refer verbally to the tragedy. In their screen adaptation which Richard Boleslawski directed for release through United Artists, however, they have reproduced the scene and events of that night exactly as described by the few survivors. In the title role, Colman leads the small army which avenged the outrage.

Spider Web In Camera Lens Achieves Unique Film Effect

Grace Moore, Appearing in "One Night of Love" at Empire, Is First Star To Be Photographed Through Spider Web.

A spider may revolutionize portrait photography! Grace Moore, Columbia player appearing in "One Night of Love" showing at the Empire Monday and Tuesday, is the first star to be photographed through a spider web.

About a year and a half ago, Columbia studios ordered a portrait lens from Germany. Lost in transit, it reached its final destination last week. In packing, the elements had been separated; and in putting the portrait photographer, discovered a spider had spun a fine web in the lens. As an experiment, he left the web intact, and made a couple of portrait shots in the gallery. The result was a very soft quality on the negative, eliminating any need for retouching.

The following day, Grace Moore spent hours in the gallery. The resulting photographs were unusually beautiful in quality.

Fraker is now trying to figure out how to get the tiny spider out of the lens without injuring the web.

AUNT BERTHA'S HEALTH AND HOUSEHOLD HINTS

One of the simplest and most effectual means of relieving pain is by the use of hot water, externally and internally, the temperature varying according to the feelings of the patient. For bruises, sprains and similar accidental hurts, it should be applied immediately, as hot as can be borne, by means of a cloth dipped in the water and laid over the wounded part, or by immersion if convenient, and the treatment kept applied at once, the use of hot up until relief is obtained. If water will generally prevent, nearly, if not entirely, the bruised flesh from turning black. For pains resulting from indigestion, and known as wind colic, etc., a cupful of hot water, taken in sips, will often relieve at once. When that is insufficient, a flannel folded in several thicknesses, large enough to fully cover the painful place, should be wrung out of hot water and laid over the seat of the pain. It should be as hot as the skin can bear without injury, and be renewed every ten minutes or oftener, if it feels cool, until the pain is gone. The remedy is simple, efficient, harmless and within the reach of every one; and should be more generally used than it is. If used along with common sense, it might save many a doctor's bill, and many a course of drug treatment as well.

Dolan Reports Unusual Interest in Kelvinators

Predictions That 1935 Will Be Banner Year in Electric Refrigerator Industry Are Being Fulfilled.

Predictions that 1935 will be a banner year for the electric refrigerator industry already are showing promise of fulfillment, it was indicated in a report received here by Dolan Bros., local Kelvinator sales agency, that Kelvinator Corporation has had the biggest January sales volume in its 21 years of existence. January shipments to customers were 43 per cent ahead of those for the corresponding month of 1934, the announcement said. February orders from all sections of the country also indicate that this month will see a continuation of the demand for quality electric refrigeration equipment. "Early sales both in this community and throughout the nation as a whole bear out early predictions regarding the promise held by 1935 to the refrigerator industry," Mr. Dolan said. Kelvinator Corporation, with a line of domestic refrigerators, commercial refrigeration equipment and air conditioners, has improved these products to meet the demands of modern refrigeration and air conditioning. The company has expressed itself as being very gratified to note a considerable increased public acceptance of the products of all the important members of the industry. Mr. Dolan said that unusual interest is being shown by people of this section in the 1935 Kelvinator household models which are now on display in the company's showroom at 130 N. Broadway. This year's group of domestic refrigerators have been judged by many critics within the industry to be the most efficient and complete Kelvinator ever has offered.

Pennsy Used Many Dollars and Men on Electrification Job

Large Part of $56,910,000 Went for Wages, Company Reports.

Wages paid and orders placed during 1934 by the Pennsylvania Railroad, under its electrification and improvement program financed by the Public Works Administration, totaled $5,910,000, the company announced. Of this sum, wages paid directly by the railroad amounted to $10,194,000, and purchases from the equipment and supply industries to $46,716,000. A very large part of this latter sum goes into wages paid the employees of suppliers and producers of materials in their various stages of processing, up to completion.

The direct wage payments by the railroads, chiefly to employees on furlough from regular service, included $8,400,000 for roadway electrification, $194,000 for electric locomotive construction at the Altoona Works, and $1,600,000 for labor in the building of 7,000 freight cars.

Orders placed for materials, supplies and equipment included $11,000,000 for the New York Washington roadway electrification, $8,300,000 for electric locomotives completely built by outside companies, $11,000,000 for materials and parts for electric locomotives built or assembled at the Altoona Works, $12,600,000 for materials and supplies used in constructing the 7,000 freight cars, and $3,700,000 in round figures, for 100,000 tons of new steel rail.

Under the contract between the Government and the railroad company, covering the advance of PWA funds, the company is required to report each individual order or purchase, regardless of size. Approximately 25,000 separate items were so reported during the year, ranging from two purchase of four cents and one cent respectively, to such items as a single order of more than $5,000,000 for electric locomotive propulsion and control parts, nearly $3,700,000 for fourteen streamlined electric engines, and more than $1,800,000 for locomotive chassis.

While the greater part of the New York Washington electrification project has been completed and the line opened for through passenger service, approximately 9,500 men are still actively at work on the job, including those completing the roadway electrification system and men employed on electric locomotive construction at the Altoona Works.

Hundreds of other men are working on electric locomotive parts and construction in the shops of the electrical and equipment companies.

The railroad expects entirely to complete the roadway electrification within the next sixty or ninety days and open the line for through freight service in the early spring. On orders for twenty-eight new streamlined electric locomotives placed last July and fifty seven ordered in November, 14 engines have been delivered and seventy one are under construction at the railroad's Altoona Works and in the plants of equipment and electrical companies.

Jersey Central Hears Reports of Improved Business Conditions

Many Speeches at Light and Power Co.'s Conference Monday Reflect Up-trend.

Signs of improving business conditions, slow perhaps but still encouraging, cropped out in many of the speeches at the semi-annual sales convention of the Jersey Central Power and Light Company held on Monday of this week in Ashbury Park and in the company auditorium in Allentown. The convention wound up with a dinner at the Berkeley-Carter Hotel. Company sales for the full year 1934 were shown to have increased slightly over 2 per cent above those of the preceding year.

Thomas R. Crumley, President, set as a goal for the current year the sale of electricity equal to 675 kilowatt hours per customer, which would be an increase of 60 kw over the record of last year, and said that if this goal could be attained he thought it might help solve other company problems.

P. W. Lovejoy, sales manager of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, gave an address on salesmanship. E. Gilbert, of the Frigidaire Corporation, told of sales plans made by his company for a large increase in this year's production after a survey canvassing over 100,000 potential customers. This concern has doubled its advertising appropriation. It expects to build and market a half million Frigidaires this season. Representatives of other utility appliance manufacturers were heard from in similar vein. Bernard A. Seiple, Jersey Central Power and Light Company's sales manager, was in charge of the convention and acted as toastmaster.

In the President's address Mr. Crumley, after reciting that the utility industry is passing through trying days, continued:

"The average family pays to the utilities only about 2 per cent of its income. It spends the same for tobacco, and double that for amusements, and it spends on automobilizing from five to six times what it pays the utilities, but in spite of these facts and in spite of all facts, the utilities have been unable to get their position over to the public, and the public today thinks that their rates are too high. The common stockholder we need not consider for the present and the rights of the bond holder we recognize, but what of the rights of the preferred stockholder. You and I have sold these preferred stocks to the public. About their rights I leave you to judge but I do not believe that we can overlook the rights of security holders."

Youngsters Storm Sports Stadium to See Famous Film Fight

Filming of "Jealousy" to Show at Empire Next Week. Attracted Hollywood Youth.

Hollywood youngsters had the time of their life recently while Columbia Studios was producing "Jealousy," which will be at the Empire Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday. Hundreds of youngsters stormed the doors of the famous Hollywood Legion stadium where a portion of the picture was filmed, to watch the thrilling prize fight scenes between heavyweight boxer, Lee Ramage, who is also a contender and challenger for Max Baer's crown. Some half dozen other gladiators with local reputations, idols of the younger boys, were also engaged in bouts before the camera.

Girls from six to sixteen years of age also swarmed into the stadium to get prized autographs of Nancy Carroll, Donald Cook, Arthur Hohl, George Murphy and other players in the cast. The boys who thought collecting autographs was the mark of a "sissey" showed their sturdier stuff when they approached Ramage and other ring heroes.

So much noise did the shouting children make outside the Stadium that director Roy Wm. Neill told them he would allow them to come inside if they would agree to be quiet. The youngsters readily promised, for to watch a motion picture in the making is as much a thrill to Hollywood children as it is to anyone else. The doors were opened and they swarmed in.

Some 700 extras, hired as fight spectators, occupied seats around the ring, but the rest of the space in the building was taken over by the children. They cheered and booed lustily or command, behaved themselves, and generally had the time of their lives.

Disabled Veterans

Protest Exemption of Aliens From Army Duty

Resolutions Adopted Against Announced Intention of Congressman O'Day.

At a meeting of Sgt. Michael Krockmally Chapter Disabled American War Veterans of Perth Amboy, action was taken to frustrate the announced intention of Congressman Mrs. Caroline O'Day of New York, to grant citizenship to aliens even in face of their refusal to defend the United States in time of war or invasion. Some time ago Mrs. O'Day in a newspaper dispatch stated she would introduce in Congress a bill to grant citizenship to aliens otherwise eligible even though they refuse to bear arms in defense of the United States. The disabled veterans in consequence adopted the following resolutions:

Mrs. Caroline O'Day, Representative at Large of New York, has signified her intention to introduce in Congress a bill to grant citizenship to aliens otherwise eligible who refuse to bear arms in defense of the United States. As an organization we are unalterably opposed to any measure which grants to an alien a privilege of exemption which is denied every other citizen whether native or foreign born.

Since its inception this organization (every member of which was disabled in defense of the United States) has been opposed to War; but if war does come to us, we are ready and willing to do all in our power to help our beloved country. And we insist that no citizen, otherwise qualified, be exempted from defending the United States on the frivolous and transitory excuse of foreign birth.

We are not unmindful of the many thousands of foreign-born citizens who served this country in the World War, and we would be remiss in our duty as veterans of that conflict and untrue to the memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice if we failed at this time to enter a vigorous protest against legislation which would grant citizenship to aliens unwilling to defend the United States against its enemies. It is therefore:

Resolved that Sgt. Michael Krockmally Chapter No. 30 Disabled American War Veterans of Perth Amboy and vicinity, hereby voices its opposition to the proposed measure of Representative O'Day and we urge other patriotic organizations and individuals to take similar action. Be it further:

Resolved, that the two United States Senators and the twelve Congressmen from New Jersey be informed of our opposition to the measure, and that a copy of these resolutions be furnished the newspapers of the vicinity.

LOCAL GIRLS IN FRENCH COMEDY

Two local girls, Miss Marie Jerome and Miss Ruth Humphreys were among the students of the Scudder School for Girls, who took part in a French play, "Nous Verrons," given recently in the studio of Modern Center in New York City.

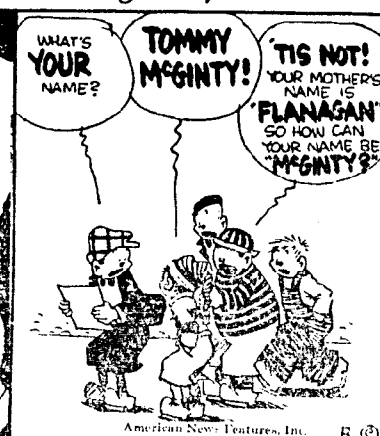

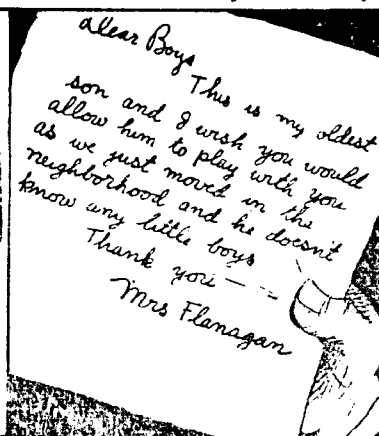

Miss Jerome took the leading role in the play which was entirely in French. The lively comedy was well received by the audience of about seventy-five people from the educational and dramatic worlds. It was under the direction of Mrs. Mikhailov, French teacher at the Scudder School and director of dramatics at Modern Center.

Show's End Opens Door to Film Career for Helen Vinson

Plays Prominent Supporting Part in "Broadway Bill" Soon To Be Seen at Empire.

Suddenly it happened. And that briefly describes how Helen Vinson, popular screen player, who plays a prominent supporting role in "Broadway Bill," Columbia picture, produced by Frank Capra, starring Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy, showing next Friday and Saturday at the Empire Theatre, entered motion pictures.

Miss Vinson closed in "Fatal Alibi" a Broadway show on Saturday, and on Wednesday she was in a plane bound for Hollywood and a screen career.

When she arrived in Hollywood, instead of accepting the romantic type of roles she had played on the stage, she actually fought to be cast in an unsympathetic role in "Jewel Robbery," her first film. Miss Vinson won her fight, and now she's wondering whether the battle was a wise one. She's been playing unsympathetic roles ever since and she's made fifteen pictures in two years.

But to get back to where all bio-ographies begin . . . Helen Vinson was born in Beaumont, Texas. She is of German descent. She began her schooling at the Margaret Allen school for girls in Birmingham, Ala., attended high school in Houston, Tex., and later matriculated at the University of Texas.

She then went to the city for the stage became more and more dominant. She became associated with the Houston Little Theatre. Her work with this group eventually led her to Broadway. Her initial Broadway appearance was in Kidding Hollywood, and then she was snatched up by Thursday evening firemen were called to the Flower Shop on Broadway from which huge clouds of smoke were issuing. The firemen had considerable difficulty in discovering the cause of the smoke and it was finally found that crossed wires against a cellar beam were responsible.

Spring heralds the task of housecleaning

Weeks will pass before daffodils bloom and the full symphony of birdsong is heard, but signs of spring are to be seen and to the practical minded, spring is closely associated with spring cleaning.

Down will come the curtains to be washed; rugs will be taken up; floors will be cleaned and polished, woodwork scrubbed; windows washed and shined.

Housecleaning requires a generous supply of hot water if cleaning tasks are to be performed properly and quickly. The best way to be sure of having plenty of hot water is to use an automatic gas water heater which keeps a plentiful supply of water at 135 degrees.

Gas is the best fuel for heating water. Because of its flexibility, it responds instantly to automatic control. It is clean, free from dust and dirt, soot and smoke. It is always available and need not be purchased in advance. It is economical. For the cost of only a few cents a day you can have a dependable supply of hot water, adequate for your household needs.

Install automatic gas water heating now and be ready for spring cleaning tasks.

CRIME CONFERENCE AT TRENTON, CALLED BY GOVERNOR HOFFMAN

With all plans for the New Jersey State Crime Conference, called by Governor Hoffman for Friday and Saturday of this week, in Trenton, finally completed, it is almost a certainty that more than 2,500 of the most prominent men and women in the State will be in attendance. Probably a dozen persons from here will attend.

The sectional meetings are to go into session on Friday morning at 11:30, but prior to that all delegates will attend a general assembly in the War Memorial Auditorium for the purpose of hearing an address of welcome by Governor Hoffman who is responsible for the Conference having been organized. The chairman of the general meeting will be Attorney General David T. Wilentz, who also is chairman of the Governor's Committee.

Arrangements had been made for a Conference dinner on Friday evening, but this plan had to be abandoned because of the number of delegates scheduled to attend. Instead there will be a mass meeting in the Auditorium of the War Memorial Building on Friday night which will be addressed by several speakers of national prominence.

ADVOCATES OF ROUTE "A" FAIL TO CHANGE ATTITUDE OF THE COMMON COUNCIL

deserved for so long was not afforded by the plans finally settled upon. Because of the expense involved, the work would not be expanded or modified for a very long time even the expected relief was not realized.

Mr. Rose attached considerable importance to remarks of various speakers which reflected their belief that the construction of any highway was detrimental to adjoining property intended for residential use.

City Engineer A. T. McMichael spoke in favor of route A. He recited the disastrous effects on business of a Keyport drug store because of the construction of a cut-off route near that Borough and implied similar effects on local businesses. He minimized the objection that the new route would cut off access to the local bathing beach and explained how the objections might be overcome.

Charles S. Bucklew, of Florence Avenue favored route C because it would materially improve property in which he was interested. He took the stand that the presence of a highway in proximity to a site was an advantage, not a detriment. He remarked that Broadway as a business center was "dead" and had been for years, despite every artificial stimulation for a long time to save it from passing entirely out of the picture. "Broadway," he said, "has always demanded more than it deserved" and he contended that it had been too often given far more consideration than its importance warranted.

J. Lee Lawe disapproved of route A because it would take away valuable water shed area at the local water plant. He disapproved of route C because it would present an additional traffic hazard between this city proper and the potential and present residential area in the higher section of the city and to the west.

He thought route B to be the best choice of the plans because it would take the traffic out of the city entirely.

The high light of the evening was touched, unintentionally, perhaps, by Wm. C. Lewis, a life long resident of John street. In a semi-humorous resume of the developments of the evening, the speaker said if he understood the proposition he got the impression that the immediate result of route A would be to orphan the section of the city below the railroad entirely. The section now had an oil plant, an ice plant and a coal yard. If they could get a church, a school and a department store, the residents might assent to the city going ahead with its plans, let the railroad build a board fence. The hamlet folks could whitewash their side of the fence and stay in their own place for safety. There was much laughter and the only applause of the evening rewarded Mr. Lewis' speech.

E. R. Brown and Thomas A. Downs favored route A because of the beneficial effects on local businesses and because the route providing the only real solution of the local traffic problem.

James A. Tustin brought up the question of the probable effect of route C on the hospital property. Mr. McMichael said that the plans called for the new highway going under Bordentown avenue, which would require a deep cut for the highway where it passed the hospital. The highway boundary line would abut on the hospital grounds line, it appeared.

TO THE PUBLIC!

ORDINANCE NO. 350

published elsewhere in this issue has been passed on first reading by the Council?

PLEASE READ IT!

Do you realize that it will vacate Henry and David Streets at the tracks—and that George Street Bridge will be removed and only a foot-path substituted?

Do you know that if this Ordinance is finally passed that you will have no entrance to your shore front for vehicular travel, except the Bordentown Avenue Bridge, Augusta and John Streets, from Broadway?

Do you realize the great depreciation of property values that will result in the whole lower end of your city?

Do you realize that any reduced assessments because of this depreciation will have to be made up by the other Taxpayers? You included.

Do you realize that if these two streets can be so easily vacated that your own street might be next on the list?

Do you know that First Street was closed without much opposition?

If David and Henry Streets are vacated, how much trouble would it be to close John Street, or any other Street?

DON'T BE MISLED

No one is opposed to electrification. But, there is a right and wrong way of getting it.

South Amboy, THE GATEWAY TO THE SHORE, is a natural for electrification.

We can enjoy the advantages of electrification without closing or vacating any of our streets. The Mayor and Council, as representatives of the people, can, if they want to, negotiate a new electrification plan and protect the property rights of their constituents. THEY SHOULD BE THE SERVANTS AND NOT THE MASTERS OF THE PEOPLE.

The Ordinance as it now stands is dangerous and destructive—however commendable its objectives. It is simply the work of those who believe in the philosophy that the end justifies the means, a philosophy that has in the past bred suspicion, discontent and revolt.

No matter in what part of the city you live, or for whom you work it is your duty as a citizen to take an active part in the affairs of your City Government.

Go to the City Hall, TUESDAY, MARCH 5th at 8 P. M. and help keep your streets open.
