

TOWN TALKS BY "THE STAFF" TOWN TALKS

A peculiar thing about a war is that everyone seems to want to do something about it and many of them feel that their biggest aid can come from their brains, with the result that governments at war, or governments likely to get into war, receive all kinds of suggestions and ideas for inventions.

Many of these ideas are not of the "crack pot" variety either, and realizing that it threw away many million dollar ideas during the last war, the British Government is giving all of them now substantial consideration.

At first glance, some of the ideas suggested, would seem to be too fantastic for even a passing thought, but among those the English War Department is considering at present are: The training of sea gulls to spot submarines; a torpedo which, if it misses the target ship on the first try, turns around and tries again, and a rifle with a curved barrel, which a soldier could shoot from a trench without exposing himself.

Although the United States is not at war, the War, Army and Navy Departments have received thousands upon thousands of suggestions, several of which came from this city.

For instance when asked about a story that the United States Navy will train cats to sit on torpedoes and steer them toward enemy vessels, Navy officials gave the story considerable credence by never cracking a smile and replying only that all such ideas sent in by outsiders are kept confidential for the sake of national security.

The arrest of seventeen alleged conspirators planning to overthrow the United States Government shows that no country today is safe from the designs of those with revolutionary tendencies and the keeping of a sharp watch in order to preserve liberty and the American form of government is imperative.

It is demonstrated again, that there are some people who are never satisfied with the best government in the world and they would seek to overthrow American democracy and supplant it with the dictatorial forms in vogue in Europe, notwithstanding the fact that the disadvantages and handicaps to all but the dictators, such forms embrace, are being daily demonstrated to the entire world.

If these conspirators, were to gain their ends, and overthrow the government, they would probably be the first ones to join in some other movement to overthrow the new government after it was set up.

This incident demonstrates that Washington and the founders of this nation spoke words of wisdom when they declared we must maintain a constant guard if we are to retain our prized liberty.

A young man and a young woman in New York who persisted in seeing each other despite parental objection and finally eloped and were married have continued to be front page news despite the mementous news coming from Europe.

Millions of people daily follow the romance of this couple that they had never met but whose romance they hoped would have a happy ending.

Shakespeare when he wrote the romance of "Romeo and Juliet" created a story that has held the interest of the world through succeeding generations and has struck a responsive cord in the hearts of billions.

Seldom has there been a truer statement than that famous one: "All the world loves a lover."

From a Flemington blacksmith comes the rather unusual information that he has more horseshoeing work and wagon repairing than he can take care of.

Horse lovers will greet with glee this announcement, which indicates that this faithful animal is again coming back into favor.

Small farmers throughout the East are rapidly abandoning the tractor and other machinery for the horse, as an economy measure. The "fuel" for the horse can be raised on the farm and is not so expensive and need not be transported, and in addition the horse can be used for many other purposes than surplinting the tractor.

During 1930, horse lovers were greatly concerned because horses were disappearing at a rapid rate and the art of breeding was in danger of becoming extinct.

However, since that time, it has been found that there are some uses for which the machine cannot replace the horse. It was found that the horse is the only efficient animal for hauling heavy loads, that it cannot be replaced by machines in certain types of military work, and now it is found is more economical and efficient for small farm work, all of which is welcome news to the vast army of American horse lovers.

Council Will Consider Budget Preparation Wednesday Night

A busy session appears to be prepared for the Common Council, when it holds its second regular meeting of the new year on Wednesday evening.

Paramount among the items of business to be considered will be the annual budget for the year 1940. A tentative budget has been outlined, which will probably have to be revised to some considerable extent before it is in shape for approval by state authorities. Several preliminary discussions of the financial setup for the coming year have already taken place, and because of the new budget law and other matters over which the local council has no control, there are a number of angles to the task of budget preparation for the coming year that have not been encountered heretofore.

Mayor Gleason, in discussing the budget problem this week, declared the new sewage disposal plant has presented considerable of a problem, since provision must not only be made for the financing of the cost of its construction, but for the cost of maintenance and operation during the coming year as well. Mayor Gleason declared that it is probable an advance of several points in the local tax rate will be caused directly by the new plant.

Another problem which may come before the council on Wednesday evening, is the appointment of a supervisor of the sewage plant, which it is expected will begin operation about the middle of February.

A plan to incorporate the office of City Engineer and supervisor of the sewage disposal plant is under consideration and is looked upon favorably by a number of the city officials. According to the provisions of this plan, the City Engineer would have charge of the sewage disposal plant as part of his duties and advocates of the plan declares revival of the City Engineer job incorporated with that of superintendent of the sewage disposal plant, would be the means of saving considerable, since it is now necessary to secure engineer service on a fee per job basis and at the same time, a man with considerable knowledge of engineering must be secured to take charge of the Sewage plant.

John A. Conlogue and A. T. McMichael, both former City Engineers are being considered for the appointment, it is understood.

TOWN TONICS
BY "THE STAFF"
TOWN TONICS

A peculiar thing about a war is that everyone seems to want to do something about it and many of them feel that their biggest aid can come from their brains, with the result that governments at war, or governments likely to get into war, receive all kinds of suggestions and ideas for inventions.

Many of these ideas are not of the "crack pot" variety either, and realizing that it threw away many million dollar ideas during the last war, the British Government is giving all of them, now substantial consideration.

At first glance, some of the ideas suggested, would seem to be too fantastic for even a passing thought, but among those the English War Department is considering at present are: The training of sea gulls to spot submarines; a torpedo which, if it misses the target ship on the first try, turns around and tries again, and a rifle with a curved barrel, which a soldier could shoot from a trench without exposing himself.

Although the United States is not at war, the War, Army and Navy Departments have received thousands upon thousands of suggestions, several of which came from this city.

For instance when asked about a story that the United States Navy will train cats to sit on torpedoes and steer them toward enemy vessels, Navy officials gave the story considerable credence by never cracking a smile and replying only that all such ideas sent in by outsiders are kept confidential for the sake of national security.

The arrest of seventeen alleged conspirators planning to overthrow the United States Government shows that no country today is safe from the designs of those with revolutionary tendencies and the keeping of a sharp watch in order to preserve liberty and the American form of government is imperative.

It is demonstrated again, that there are some people who are never satisfied with the best government in the world and they would seek to overthrow American democracy and supplant it with the dictatorial forms in vogue in Europe, notwithstanding the fact that the disadvantages and handicaps to all but the dictators, such forms embrace, are being daily demonstrated to the entire world.

If these conspirators, were to gain their ends and overthrow the government, they would probably be the first ones to join in some other movement to overthrow the new government after it was set up.

This incident demonstrates that Washington and the founders of this nation spoke words of wisdom when they declared we must maintain a constant guard if we are to retain our prized liberty.

A young man and a young woman in New York who persisted in seeing each other despite parental objection and finally eloped and were married have continued to be front page news despite the mementous news coming from Europe.

Millions of people daily follow the romance of this couple that they had never met but whose romance they hoped would have a happy ending.

Shakespeare when he wrote the romance of "Romeo and Juliet" created a story that has held the interest of the world through succeeding generations and has struck a responsive cord in the hearts of billions.

Seldom has there been a truer statement than that famous one: "All the world loves a lover".

From a Flemington blacksmith comes the rather unusual information that he has more horseshoeing work and wagon repairing than he can take care of.

Horse lovers will greet with glee this announcement, which indicates that this faithful animal is again coming back into favor.

Small farmers throughout the East are rapidly abandoning the tractor and other machinery for the horse as an economy measure. The "fuel" for the horse can be raised on the farm and is not so expensive and need not be transported, and in addition the horse can be used for many other purposes than supplanting the tractor.

During 1930, horse lovers were greatly concerned because horses were disappearing at a rapid rate and the art of breeding was in danger of becoming extinct.

However, since that time, it has been found that there are some uses for which the machine cannot replace the horse. It was found that the horse is the only efficient adjunct for police handling parade crowds or riots, that it cannot be replaced by machines in certain types of military work, and now it is found is more economical and efficient for small farm work, all of which is welcome news to the vast army of American horse lovers.

George S. Walker,

Confined to Hospital

Received Broken Leg in Fall
Monday Morning

George S. Walker, veteran Citizen employee, and one of the best known newspapermen of this section of New Jersey, as well as one of the oldest active newspapermen, lays in the South Amboy Memorial Hospital, with a broken leg, rummaging on the tricks of Fate.

Walker, who is 77 years of age, has had many adventures during his life, among them many thrilling experiences and narrow escapes during his service with the American Army in the Spanish American and World Wars from which he escaped uninjured, but on Monday morning, while on his way to work, he fell on Broadway and broke his leg, to cause what he expects to be the greatest period of inactivity during his career.

Walker, believes an occasional layoff is a good thing for a man when he gets along in years, but he declares he is too young to think about such things and from his hospital bed is already making plans to carry on his editorial writing as usual.

Council Will Consider Budget
Preparation Wednesday Night

A busy session appears to be presaged for the Common Council, when it holds its second regular meeting of the new year on Wednesday evening.

Paramount among the items of business to be considered will be the annual budget for the year 1940. A tentative budget has been outlined, which will probably have to be revised to some considerable extent before it is in shape for approval by state authorities. Several preliminary discussions of the financial setup for the coming year have already taken place, and because of the new budget law and other matters over which the local council has no control, there are a number of angles to the task of budget preparation for the coming year that have not been encountered heretofore. Mayor Gleason, in discussing the budget problem this week, declared the new sewage disposal plant has presented considerable of a problem, since provision must not only be made for the financing of the cost of its construction, but for the cost of maintenance and operation during the coming year as well. Mayor Gleason declared that it is probable an advance of several points in the local tax rate will be caused directly by the new plant.

Another problem which may come before the council on Wednesday evening, is the appointment of a supervisor of the sewage plant, which it is expected will begin operation about the middle of February.

A plan to incorporate the office of City Engineer and supervisor of the sewage disposal plant is under consideration and is looked upon favorably by a number of the city officials. According to the provisions of this plan, the City Engineer would have charge of the sewage disposal plant as part of his duties and advocates of the plan declares revival of the City Engineer job incorporated with that of superintendent of the sewage disposal plant, would be the means of saving considerable, since it is now necessary to secure engineer service on a fee per job basis and at the same time, a man with considerable knowledge of engineering must be secured to take charge of the Sewage plant.

John A. Conlogue and A. T. McMichael, both former City Engineers are being considered for the appointment, it is understood.

Cold Weather
Causes Record Run
on Water Plant

Demand for January 8th Was Heaviest in History.

The recent cold spell was responsible for the largest daily usage of water in the history of the local water works, when on Monday, Jan. 8th, a total of 1,564,000 gallons was used during a twenty-four hour period.

The greatest Sunday usage in the history of the plant was reported for last Sunday when 1,350,000 gallons was pumped.

Increased demand from local industrial plants, as the result of the cold weather, is the cause of the jump in gallonage.

SINS AGAINST FAITH

There are sins of omission against faith. To neglect to learn the truths of faith is a sin. To fail to do what Faith teaches is also a sin. There are sins of commission against faith. To believe in superstition is a sin of excess. Then there is the sin of defect. This is the sin of unbelief. A person sins against the Faith by infidelity, heresy and apostasy. Unbelief is the lack of faith. A non-baptized person is an unbeliever or an infidel. He has not the habit of faith. Heretics and apostates are also called unbelievers. Unbelief may be due to the fact that the unbeliever has never heard about the Faith. It is then negative. It is not a sin. For it is not willful. Unbelief may be due to neglect. The unbeliever has the opportunity to learn about the Faith. Yet he neglects to do so. He feels that he should seek the Truth. He has reasonable doubts about his own religious tenets. This is a grave sin of omission.

Unbelief may be due to ill will. The unbeliever has learned the truths of faith. Yet he refuses to

This does not make him a heretic. For he does not look upon the truths as doubtful. Yet he places himself in great danger. Doubts about the Faith may be positive. A person looks upon the doctrines of faith as doubtful and uncertain. He thus sins against Faith. He is a formal heretic. We must give full assent to the doctrines of Faith. We must accept them as true. We must rest secure in the authority of God and the Church.

Heretics, infidels and Jews are permitted to attend our churches. They may be present at sermons, at devotions and at all divine services. Yet they are excluded from the reception of the Sacraments. They can not receive the sacraments that are publicly administered in the Church. They cannot receive ecclesiastical burial. They can not take an active part in any public function of religion. The Holy Office has given forth many decisions concerning heretics and unbelievers. "It is not allowed to invite heretics into the choir during the sacred functions to sing the responses. Nor is it allowed at divine worship to give them the pax, blessed candles, blessed palms and other things that pertain to external worship. For these things are considered the marks of the interior union and consent.

Catholics are not permitted to take part in false worship. It is a profession of error. It is a virtual denial of faith. To sing at protestant services is to take part in false worship. To partake of their communion service is also a taking part in false alarm. At least, these things always include some intention of doing so. However, it is sometimes permitted to be present in a protestant church. This always supposes a reasonable cause.

Faith is indeed a gift of God. It brings the blessings of heaven to earth. It elevates man above the sordid world about him.

The Girls' Basketball Team opened the season on Friday, January 12th, with a game against Saint Peter's of New Brunswick. Although Saint Peter's had an excellent team, Saint Mary's girls won by three points, the score being 28 to 23. Jeanne Ryan, Mary Harvey and Marie Deolung were forwards. Marie O'Leary, Jeanne Crowe, Margaret Sullivan and Lucy Vona were the guards.

A large number of basketball fans were present at this game and they cheered lustily for the team.

The girls' next game will be played Saturday, Jan. 20th in the school hall. The visiting team is Star of the Sea Academy of Long Branch.

St. Mary's School Notes

Miss Edythe W. Chiovarou, Guidance Director of the Berkeley-Llewellyn Schools of East Orange, New Jersey and New York City, visited Saint Mary's High School on Wednesday, January tenth, and gave an interesting and instructive lecture to the girls of the senior and junior classes on "A Pleasing Business Personality". Miss Chiovarou told the girls that the most important thing in getting and holding a position in the world today is to have a pleasing personality. When a young man or woman applies for a position, the prospective employer takes for granted that he or she is able to do the work required for the position, but, in addition, the young person must have a pleasing personality. This does not consist in being beautiful nor in wearing expensive clothes, but it does mean that the young applicant must be well-groomed, possess the ability to get along well with others, and have the spirit of helpfulness and cooperation.

Miss Chiovarou used Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as an example of a woman who has developed a truly charming personality and she advised us all to read Mrs. Roosevelt's book, "This Is My Story".

We all thoroughly enjoyed Miss Chiovarou's talk and look forward with pleasure to her next visit.

A meeting of the X Y Z Club was held on Friday, Jan. 12th. Plans for the annual trip were discussed, but decisions were postponed until the next meeting.

After this discussion, Mr. Carl Wilbur, City Engineer, gave an interesting lecture and demonstration of the instruments used in his profession. Mr. Wilbur showed each of the students how the leveling rod and transit were used. He also allowed them to sight through the transit and make calculations. This proved most interesting and instructive.

The Importance of the Pythagorean Theorem was explained in a most vivid manner, since each student saw how necessary a knowledge of this is in surveying.

The Club members were more than sorry when the bell rang and forced the meeting.

We thank Mr. Wilbur for this most enjoyable demonstration and hope that we will be privileged to hear him again.

General Motors Builds 25-Millionth Unit

Brief ceremonies were held in the Chevrolet assembly plant at Flint, January 11, marking completion of this car, the 25-millionth unit built by General Motors. In behalf of the thousands of workers who had a hand in its manufacture, 75 members of the final assembly line crew handed M. E. Coyle, Chevrolet general manager, a commemorative scroll for presentation to W. S. Knudsen, president of General Motors. Veteran Chevrolet employees, and executives of the Buick and AC Spark Plug divisions, were present as special guests.

In photo, left to right: C. E. Wetherald, general manufacturing manager, Chevrolet; Mr. Coyle; H. H. Curtice, general manager Buick Division; A. P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board, General Motors; Fred Brown, veteran Chevrolet employee; C. S. Mott, vice president, General Motors; C. E. Wilson, executive vice president, General Motors; and Mr. Knudsen.

The car was taken at once to Detroit, to play a major part in the "March of Men and Motors" celebration staged that night in the Masonic Temple.

THE YEARS OF THE LOCUST

One of the most eventful decades in modern history has ended. And this nation enters a new decade during which, unless all signs are wrong, its people must face and grapple with problems, issues and responsibilities of the most far-reaching character.

The 1930's will be known to the historians of the future as the years of one of the greatest and longest depressions this or any other nation ever experienced. They will be known as years of experiment, of trial and error, of the weighing of our old values and our old traditions. And they will be known too as years in which the democratic process was consistently attacked by some who called themselves its friends, as well as by those who were its frankly avowed enemies.

From the international point of view, the tragic 1930's came to a cynically fitting end in that most ghastly and unnecessary of events—a war which embraces much of the world. In nation after nation, the arts of peace have of necessity been put aside, to the end that war may be prosecuted to the utmost. And war destroys more than men and materials and machines and economies and states. It destroys those essential liberties for which men have fought and died in holy causes ever since the world we know began. It destroys those spiritual values which are at the root of all artistic, cultural and humanitarian achievement. It has been truly said that on modern war there can be no victors—there are only the vanquished. It is an ironic commentary on the times in which we live that those nations which are fighting this war in the name of threatened democracy, have been forced to use the methods of the dictators in order to meet the enemy on its own totalitarian terms.

The greatest blessing which this nation possesses today is its physical remoteness from the conflict abroad. That is a position enjoyed by no other of the world's major powers. There is profound wisdom in the attitude of the great majority of the American people who say, in effect: "We can keep out of war—and we will keep out of war." There is no war party in this country—no responsible statesman urges our participation. We can all feel a deep and abiding thankfulness that this is so.

Summing up, we have plenty to do at home during the years that stretch ahead. The current Congress and those which follow have their work cut out for them—but satisfactory results will be secured only if the people as a whole are awake and watchful, are conscious of their needs, are deeply aware of their American heritage and way of life. For in spite of the unproven claims of extremists, our only real progress has come from productive, employing industry, working under the American system of free enterprise which brought us from a minor power to a world power in a century and a half.

Here is America we have all that is needed to bring a greater prosperity than we have ever known—the industries, the men, the resources. But unless we maintain our basic liberties, material blessings mean nothing.

WASHINGTON SNAPSHOTS

By JAMES PRESTON

The new budget, presented to Congress a short time ago, is the eleventh straight edition of the Federal government's version of "Gone with the Wind."

It tells the same gloomy story as its ten predecessors of millions and billions of dollars blowing away down the gale. And it has the same old villains; a skyrocketing national debt, a huge deficit, and the prospect of heavier taxes hung like an anchor around the neck of Mr. Average Citizen.

The annual budget is a big book, and it's a dull book, but it's all written about your money. On that account, it's worthwhile spending some time digging around among the millions and billions and squillions to get at least some idea of what all the shouting's about.

In the first place, this is as good a time as any to clear up a misconception that's sometimes held by the average citizen. The misconception takes the following form:

J. Oswald Blimp picks up his newspaper, reads a headline that says, "Deficit in Budget This Year Cut Sharply by President," and remarks comfortably to his wife, "Well, it looks as though this reckless spending is beginning to stop. Debt isn't going to be as big as it was last year." Then he nibbles his buttered toast with real enjoyment for the first time in a long, long spell.

But the poor deluded man is confusing two very different items—the yearly deficit and the national debt. The deficit is the amount the government spends each year over and above what it is able to take in. The debt, on the other hand, is simply the accumulation of these deficits, which are added to the debt each year.

This will be the eleventh year in a row that there's been a deficit. And, as an inevitable consequence, it's the eleventh year in a row that the breath-taking curve of the national debt has continued to mount, mount, mount.

In other words, we've depended for eleven years now on something called "future prosperity" to make up for the fact that our government is spending far more than it has been able to collect. The significant point, though, is that the "future" is already catching up with us. The figure in the budget which tells how rapidly this process is going on is the amount set aside for interest payments on the debt.

If you as an individual borrow money for a number of years and finally reach the stage where you are paying most of the money you take in right back to your creditors in the form of interest, then you know that you've reached a danger point. The same situation holds true in the case of the Federal government.

The government this coming year according to the Budget, will have to pay out a new high total of $1,100,000,000 for this interest item. On the basis of estimated tax collections, that is going to mean that about one dollar in every six collected is going to be poured right back down the drain without performing any direct service for the taxpayers of this country.

This item may not seem overwhelming in itself. But when it's remembered that it's only one paragraph in a budget story that justifies the title "Gone with the Wind" from beginning to end—well, it isn't pessimism but just simple observation and arithmetic to "point with alarm."

WASHINGTON SIDELIGHTS: Dr. Leiserson, the latest addition to the National Labor Relations Board who was added because proponents of the Act figured that his appointment would forestall criticism of Board bias, has dissented from his colleagues in a number of important cases. His memorandums to the other board members, produced as evidence by the House Committee investigating the Wagner Board, have also showed that he often differed with them. Of this situation, a former trial examiner for the Board made the following analysis in a recent public address:

"Dr. Leiserson is either inviting the courts to reverse his associates on the Board, or inviting Congress to clarify its intent with respect to certain ambiguities of the Act by amendments. His dissenting opinions are tacit admissions that the Act is defective and that his associates on the Board cannot be trusted to administer fairly and impartially its provisions."

LOOKING BACK 22 YEARS

Issue of January 19, 1918

The largest number of men who have attended a meeting of the common council were on hand at the regular meeting held on Tuesday night to hear the discussion in regard to the proposed transfer of property to the Raritan River Railroad.

When remarks were called for, the attorney for the railroad withdrew their petition and offered in substitution one in which the railroad offers to buy from the city of South Amboy territory bounded by Stevens avenue, Ferris street, Tompkins Place and Gordon street, for which it offers to pay the sum of sixty-three hundred dollars. In addition to the cash price, the railroad will be willing to take the said tract subject to a reservation that the city may continue to use for present purposes Tompkins Home, now located on said tract, for a period of two years from the taking of the title.

Thursday evening four ladies of the Woman's Club met at the City Hall and packed up three boxes and one barrel of goodies for the boys at Camp Dix. At Wrightstown the State Federation of Women's Club rent and maintain a house for the purpose of entertaining the boys and their friends when off duty. Each week a different club is designated to furnish the goodies and this was South Amboy's turn and she fulfilled her obligation. These things will be sent by express to the women in charge of the Community House and at that place they will be sold to the soldiers at a very low price, as was explained, just enough to let the boys feel that they are not receiving charity.

The campaign for the Knights of Columbus War Fund, which will open in all parts of the state Saturday, January 19, will close at a public meeting Sunday evening, Jan. 27. The committees are working to have everything in readiness for the opening. The main recreation building of the Knights at Camp Merritt will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies.

The campaign in the nation will be for ten million dollars and the committee in this city will endeavor to raise $3,000 of this amount.

During the high winds of Saturday morning, the state wide famous City Pier was badly damaged. About a hundred and eighty feet from the end the ice struck the pier with such force that the weakened piling could not stand the strain and collapsed for a space of about 300 feet. The only thing that prevented the whole end of the dock going was that it was protected on both sides by barges. The heavy timbers were snapped off like pipe stems and the structure presented one flattened mass.

The coal situation in this city, according to Mayor A. T. Kerr, the local Fuel Administrator, is very bright indeed when compared to some of the surrounding cities. During the week, each local coal dealer received at least one car of coal. At no time has the situation become serious in this city with the exception of two weeks ago, when the Fuel Administrator took four cars of coal from the Susquehanna Coal Company and distributed them to the coal dealers in this city.

During the week, the Public Schools each received ten tons of coal and the City Hall six tons. The Mayor has not requested it, but a number of the churches have discontinued the mid-week services in order to conserve coal. Several persons have appealed to the mayor to obtain coal for them and he has succeeded in every instance. In the event of a coal crisis in this city Mayor Kerr has plans laid for a very efficient distribution of the much needed heating agent.

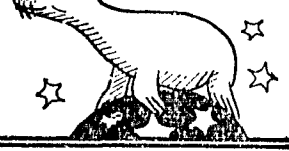

Council No. 426 of the Knights of Columbus are rehearsing nightly for their big minstrel which is to be held at St. Mary's Hall on Friday evening, February 8th for the benefit of the K. of C. Camp Fund. Some of the best talent in the city is included in the membership of the Knights and it is expected that the chorus of 55 male voices will delight the ears of the audience.

Chairman Michael J. Nagle of the War Camp Community Recreation Fund has received three more subscriptions to those already reported. The fund now totals $317.90.

Hundreds of starlings were killed by the heavy wind on Saturday morning.

On account of the shortage of coal, and in order to conserve power, the Elmsner factories in this city, which are making uniforms for the United States Government, will start working on a new time basis. The new house will be from seven in the morning until five in the afternoon, the idea being that they will get more benefit of the daylight.

Dr. Robert Clothier Praises N. J. Press In Finnish Drive

President Robert C. Clothier of Rutgers University, chairman of the New Jersey Committee for Finnish Relief, has announced that more newspapers are cooperating in New Jersey in the nation-wide Finnish Relief Drive than in any other three states in the union. Eighty-one Jersey papers, including dailies and weeklies, are giving publicity to the movement and are accepting contri-

Butler's contributions from their readers. Dr. Clothier announced that, although the State drive is still in the process of organizations, hundreds of contributions ranging in size from fifty cents to two thousand dollars already have been received. A substantial part of the total amount, he said, has come from the newspapers of the State which have made their appeal only through the printed word.

Inspection Dodgers Sought By Police

Warning that over 12,000 registrations have already been taken up for non-compliance with the motor vehicle inspection law, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Arthur W. Magee announced today that inspectors have been ordered to be on the lookout for delinquents.

The next inspection period will begin February 1.

Cars still bearing the last period orange and black sticker instead of the present black and blue sticker are the object of the inspectors' search in their patrol of the streets and highways. At the same time the Department is preparing to institute license revocation proceedings against all vehicles which, records in Trenton show, have not been inspected and approved during the period now drawing to a close.

DENTAL HEALTH

From Five to Seven

This article is one of a series of dental health messages published by the New Jersey State Department of Health.

From Five to Seven

The average parent does not realize that the care given the teeth from the fifth to the seventh year determines, to a great degree, the health of the mouth in later years. During these early years the first permanent teeth, or the so-called sixth year permanent molars, begin to show themselves, often erupting with small defects. If these defects are neglected large cavities will result, ending in the loss of teeth. During this period the first, or baby teeth, some of which should remain in the mouth until the 12th year, will require treatment. The importance of treating the first teeth should be understood by every parent. The false idea that because the first teeth are temporary they are in no need of attention and should be left to nature is still in vogue among many laymen. This neglect is not confined to poorer children. As a matter of fact, the healthiest mouth conditions are found in orphans where children are given the benefit of regular dental treatment and well-balanced diets. In order to grow sound teeth the child must obtain the foods that supply calcium and phosphorus which are to be found in milk, and in addition a plentiful amount of fruits, vegetables, fresh eggs, butter, etc. should be eaten so as to supply other necessary elements. Sunlight in summer and cod liver oil during fall and winter are needed for Vitamin D. By giving the pre-school child the benefits of skillful dental treatment, and by supplying him with the necessary foods, not only will the temporary teeth be protected, but the permanent teeth will be benefited also.

As a member of the State Tax Revision Commission and a taxpayer himself, James H. D. Cromwell has reached the inevitable conclusion of all studies of the New Jersey tax structure—that the present must be reformed. A part of the load it is called, to ease the burden of the whole system is to be reformed.

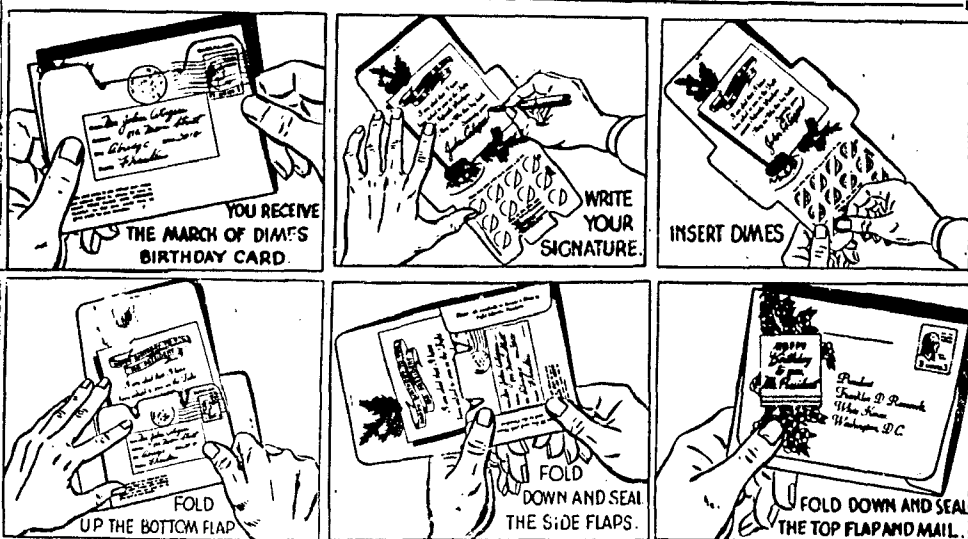

Under title of a "New Jersey Taxpayer Looks at Taxes," Mr. Cromwell in a recent discussion set forth some observations summing the problem in terse form. His approach to the question as a taxpayer was with the thought, and here, he explained, of stirring other taxpayers to interest themselves in the point of demanding the action for which the situation cries. It is not enough, he pointed out, simply to mumble; there must be emphatic and aggressive insistence upon application of the remedy—a reworking and broadening of the tax base.

"Since our citizens always object to taxes, but at the same time want increased services and expenditures, the great political hocus nocus has been to get the most feathers with the least sawdust," declared Mr. Cromwell. "In our State, this hocus nocus has taken the form of shouting 'No New Taxes!' while simultaneously plucking new handfuls of feathers each year from an almost denuded general property bird. The levy for 1939 was about $30,000,000 greater than that for 1933. This increase in the general property tax runs counter to the national trend, which shows a 17 per cent decrease from 1930 to 1938. "But, because of the shrinkage in the tax base, the increased burden in New Jersey has been even greater than the $30,000,000 would indicate. Instead of broadening her tax base as other states have done, New Jersey has actually narrowed it, and the gross increase in the levy has, inevitably, been accompanied by a decrease in rates. This has resulted in a rise in the average state rate from 3.76 in 1933 to 4.62 in 1939. And yet, according to hocus nocus, we have no new taxes. "Thoughtful citizens, quite naturally, have honest differences of opinion as to the best method for stabilizing local revenues, improving municipal credit and relieving the burden of taxation on general property."

Winter Tough on Heart The rigors of winter pile added work on the human heart. As a result, heart trouble is about 30 per cent deadlier in winter than in summer. January sees more heart disease fatalities than any other month, August the fewest.

Republican's Elephant The elephant as the symbol of the Republican party was originated by Thomas Nast in a cartoon published in 1874.

How You Join the "March of Dimes"

See it in the movies—listen to it on your radio—read about it in your newspaper. The March of Dimes of 1940 has begun. In every state thousands of citizens are enlisting in the March of Dimes, sending their contributions to President Roosevelt at the White House. In this way they are joining with the President in the national fight against infantile paralysis. All March of Dimes contributions will be returned to the state or county from whence they came, to be turned over to chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for helping those who have been crippled. The other half will go to the National Foundation to provide the ammunition in the national fight against the maiming disease. Diagrams above show how to fill out the March of Dimes birthday greeting to the President. If you have not received your card, apply to your local chairman. If he cannot supply you, wrap your dimes securely, place them in an envelope and mail them to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, The White House, Washington, D. C. Be sure and include your name and address and the name of your county.

Cumulative preferred stock; $1.75 on the seven per cent. ## PIPE DREAMS

By Nick &amp; Tim

Some of the boys are watching, with interest the actions of a downtown avenue young man who frequently visits the new roller skating rink at Perth Amboy and always skates in the middle of the rink, never getting near the sides.

The real reason he stays out in the middle is that he can't be sure of himself when he skates fast and can't stop when he wants to, and whenever he gets on the outside of the rink the temptation to speed overcome him, so he overcomes the temptation to speed by overcoming the temptation to get on the outside of the rink.

Every year there are Christmas presents exchanged, that have interesting stories behind them.

This year among the interesting exchanges were those between a local unmarried garage man and a married woman living on Market street, Perth Amboy. She gave the local man a pair of bedroom slippers and he gave her a cedar chest.

How did she explain the presence of the cedar chest to her husband, you ask? Oh that was easy she simply told him she won the chest at a bingo party.

If you notice an unusual number of five and ten dollar bills about town, don't get excited and think they are counterfeit.

To some people in town, there came a late Santa Claus, and it was all in five and tens. Five hundred dollars in five and tens makes a lot of green, even when it comes to one person receiving it and when there's more than one, there's naturally more green.

In the future, when politicians are stalling for time to get themselves out of a difficult position, it will probably be said they are waiting for a mercury switch.

The fello win the Fourth Ward, they call "Ed Wynn", had his car stolen recently, but wanted to keep it all a secret so he could prove he was a good detective and find out who stole his car himself.

Perth Amboy police found the car and a local policeman called up "Ed Wynn" to tell him the car had been recovered. "Ed Wynn" whispered back over the phone to the cop "Don't say anything about it, it's a secret between you and me, I'm going to find out who stole it."

Some of the cops recently worked a psycho-suggestion trick on one of the blue coats that was a complete success and they kept telling this cop, who was in the headquarters, that he was under the influence of intoxicating liquors. The cop heard it so much that he began to believe it himself, with the result that after a while he walked out to the hall, staggered and down he went, performing just like a drunken man because he had heard so frequently that he was

The same cop was at home sleeping one day when he was awakened by a buzzing sound. He asked what it was and his children replied that it was the "Green Hornet". "Get that hornet out of the house," the child explained it was the "Green Hornet" program on the radio. He continued to insist that "Green Hornets" were dangerous things and insisted that the children shut off the radio. He said that a woman in the vicinity of Midwood was stung by a green hornet once and died.

There is a butcher in town who thinks a great deal of his dog "Prince", who recently had a birthday present through the mail, but he won't tell you about it, except in whispers.

If your powers of observation discern upon the countenance of the famous "Half Pint Fireman", of the Mechanicsville fire company a look of disappointment, it will probably be the result of a great disappointment he suffered during the holiday season.

He was invited to a Christmas party staged by a relative in Sayreville one night, and when they passed out the presents, he was handed a package, which when he unwrapped it, made his lips smack, because it was a whiskey bottle bearing the label of a well known brand of the same name as a former president.

His thirst rapidly mounting, the "Half Pint Fireman", hurriedly opened the bottle, but when the smell of vinegar came to his nose, he hesitated, sampled and was disappointed, for what looked just like whiskey, was really vinegar.

The Common Council, however, reserves the power to employ an additional counsel or attorney, in any matter, when in their best judgment, the interest of the city requires, and to pay such counsel or attorney, as they shall deem best, but no part of such compensation shall be deducted from the salary of the City Solicitor.

UP AND DOWN THE ALLEYS

By JOE KER

A new alleged sport made its debut at the local "Y" last Tuesday P. M., parading under the monickered "Swing Bowling."

The only resemblance of this game to that from which its name is obviously derived, is that ten pins and a ball are part of its complement; also the scoring (such as is done) is kept in a like manner.

The ducks-size pins are arranged on a marked off board in the same manner as the big pins, and a ball, also the size of those used in the ducks) suspended from the ceiling by a chain, is used to batter the pins down. Said battering to take place on the down-swing or back-swing of the ball. Thus we have "Swing Bowling."

According to the gentleman demonstrating this game, it has been on the market for the past two years and is rapidly gaining in popularity.

On its introduction last week the lads seemed to be a little wary and skeptical and also a bit amused but a tryout, in which they discovered that a certain amount of skill was essential, tended to alter their opinion considerably.

The scores clicked off are mostly on this side of the century mark, with the exception of a few of the boys whose efforts are rewarded by scores bordering on the 150 count. We are given to understand that a prize is awarded weekly to the person with the highest score.

All in all, we honestly think that the game will catch on in due time, and all that we have to say about it right now, is, swing it, yea man!

This corner would like to take this opportunity to wish Lou Rynetz, one of our local kegling aces who is seriously ill, a speedy recovery.

Wonder when the roll-off in the City League is gonna take place. Our suggestion for the determining of the winner of the first half, is to have each of the three teams involved roll their games on the same night, a different team on each set of alleys and all three outfits to roll a game on each set of lanes.

The winner to be determined by the highest total pinfall or high games, as the case may be. This would certainly be an improvement over the "draw" system where one of the teams draws a bye. We're sure that this method would find favor with both participants and spectators. True, there would be no direct competition but it would be a sure-fire way of getting things straightened out.

This set-up may be contrary to the rules of the circuit, but that's where the Executive Committee comes in. That Wednesday Ladies Nite affair up at the Sacred Heart lanes seems to be sorta flizzlin' out the main trouble lies in the lack of ladies-weight balls. The pills adorn the racks at present being mainly of the man-size heavyweight type with which the members of the weaker sex have trouble in manipulating.

A tip of our hat to Joey Poulson, of the Swan Hill combine in the "Y" Club league, for the sterling 700-set he gathered last Thursday nite games being 249, 245, 206.

Lou "Pirp" Nemeth, of the JCP&L in the same loop, also set the boys on their heels with a lively 658-set knocking the pins for 216-212-230. In collecting his set, Joe amassed a total of 19 strikes—all three games being clean. While on the other hand "Pirp" snared 21 strikes in his go—his games being marred by a total of four misses and one split.

So we see that if "Pirp" had "marked" when he didn't his final score may have been a bit better than Joe's.

By this comparison we don't mean to cast any reflection on the efforts of these two kegglers—after all, they DID hit some pretty FAIR scores.

While we're talking of Joe P., it begins to look like that worthy one is too good for his own good—last week in a series of after-match doubles (and not for peanuts, either) J.P. was quite bluntly told that he was too good to participate. His informants being supposedly Class A bowlers.

Well, I guess we may as well give 'em credit for being honest in admitting the fact—phooey.

We don't just how the local bowling would fare if it was torn for the efficient tally-keeping of that dipper killer-dipper, that one and only "Caddy" Coddington, scorekeeper Juan of Melrose, that hipper-par excellence.

Our Scandal Dept.: It has been rumored that Pat (Nite-Owl) Dugan is slowly undermining E. J. Moran's position as general manager of the Milltown combine of the Women's County league for a shame, for a shame.

Our Oddities Dept.: If you didn't know it, now it can be told there are at least 24 pin combination splits possible. As for the other combination we ain't a' sayin'.

Give a cheer for George Lagoda on his rapping off of a 702 set up at the Hearts City loop Mon. nite—the guy's red hot....

Anybody want free sodas? See Joe Toth of late he's been very liberal when it comes to settin' 'em up for the boys.

An ugly rumor has been going the rounds to the effect that the Sor-rentinos five of the Com. league are on the verge of trading off "Boo-Boo" Snover for an old deck of pinocchio cards.

Yours Until Palm Springs

THRU THE HOOP

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed here are those of the writer and do not necessarily agree with those of the management.

Notice that the Sacred Hearts have won two games from out of town teams and yet the Massing team, which is twice as good as the Sacred Hearts, has yet to defeat a team outside of the city limits. Possibly the Massing team is trying to maintain "good will" amongst its neighbors.

Do you know that at the present time yours truly wouldn't be afraid to bet that Chet Sprague, The Governors best athlete since Pete Pavich, will score three hundred points before the termination of the present basketball campaign.

Here are two arguments in which this corner became entangled recently: In number one argument I was of the belief that Ernie Lombardi weighed fifty pounds more than Charley Keller of the Yanks. Others claim that Lombardi did not weigh more than twenty-five pounds above Keller. What do you think?

Number two argument: This corner strenuously argued that Pete Pavich, because of his formidable reputation as an adept infielder, will be carried along with the Jersey City team when the International League season begins. A score of others claim that Pavich at the present time is only a Class B ball player and won't hit the double A circuit for three more years.

Well, the latter argument remains to be seen. But don't forget a number of pessimistic fans were sternly convinced that Pavich would be released before the completion of his first year in organized ball, yet he is about to sign for his fourth year.

The above fans say Pavich won't play double A ball for three more years. I'm convinced he'll hit the Big Show in three years. In fact, I wish I was of the feminine sex. I'd make sure I was his steady girl friend. Because in three years Pavich would have enough dough to buy me a limousine for a birthday present. The line forms at the left, girls.

A fan writes in, calling himself the "Old Timer" and picks an All-City basketball team: The selections are Bob McGowan and Bub Opola, forwards; S. Triggs, center; Bill Ryan and Tom O'Leary, guards. Reasons for his selections are: O'Leary and Triggs are good men under the basket....Opola is a good shot and a very cool player and McGowan and Ryan are good guards and good scorers.

A fan lifts this corner to discontinue giving Sprague so much credit and be more free with my compliments toward Wally Woods because he is largely responsible for the former's high scoring record due to the fact that he feeds Sprague the ball with his timely passing.

I'm almost inclined to believe that if the regular players on the St. Mary's court team were not on the sick list they may have defeated St. Benedict's Prep recently. As you know St. Benedict's Prep isn't as good this year as in recent years.

I understand that numerous representatives of city league baseball teams are also being friendly toward F. Dugan since he has been proclaimed a scout. Well, it won't do these representatives any good because the Romeo team has a working agreement with Pat "I can get a guy a tryout" Dugan. Pat receives a short beer for every player signed by the Romeo team and if the player proves to be a prospect Dugan receives a pickled egg for a bonus.

Be sure to read this column next week because yours truly will select the winner of the forthcoming St. Mary-Hoffman High School game.

Sorry to hear of Benny Hart's passing.... He was a great pitcher with the Du Pont team in his hey-day.

New Ruling Will Ban Bowlers From Non-Sanctioned Leagues

Regulations Of County Bowling Association Effective As Of Yesterday

According to a recent ruling of the Middlesex County Bowling Association, a regulation went into effect last night that will considerably curtail the activities of a number of local bowlers in the future.

According to the regulation, any bowler who takes part in a league not sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress after yesterday, will be liable to suspension for five years in all leagues affiliated with the Congress.

The effect of this ruling will be to debar a number of local bowlers enrolled in sanctioned leagues, from rolling with leagues not sanctioned, as has been the custom with many in the past.

Among the unsanctioned leagues in Middlesex County listed by the county association are the Sacred Heart City Club, Business Men's and Community Leagues.

Hoffman High Has A Narrow Escape In Rumson Game

Hoffman had the closest call of its season Tuesday night, and it was only a last minute rally that brought victory to the John Street quintette, who nosed out the Monmouth County lads, 34-32.

Hoffman gained the edge in the first quarter with a two point lead, then the second quarter netted a dozen points for each team so that they came to the half with Hoffman but two points in the lead. Rumson gained a single point edge in the third quarter and the final quarter netted five points for Hoffman and four for Rumson.

With all ears strained for the closing gun and Hoffman trailing by two points, Ed Hess heaved an almost impossible shot half the length of the court for a two pointer and then Huff and Bubaltz contributed fouls to add an edge to the score in Hoffman's favor.

The Hoffman Jay-vees team had an easier time, gaining victory by a score of 41-15.

More Than 300,000 Pinmen to Compete In National Events

Total of 12,945 Prizes Will Be Awarded In Red Crown Sweepstakes

CHICAGO, Jan. 19—More than 300,000 bowlers—ABC sanctioned pinmen in all parts of the country in the $50,000 Red Crown Handicap Sweepstakes and will continue prize play activity for seven weeks until March 2. Three of these weeks, to be designated by a jury of sports writers on March 8, will be regarded as prize score weeks.

Details of the prize play activity were revealed by the Red Crown sweepstakes secretary, who reported that the nation-wide sweeps this season again broke its own world's record for individual participation in any major sports event.

Participation in the sweeps handicapping in leagues sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress. Between the opening of the season and mid-December, participating teams established an average score, which was used by the Red Crown secretary to compute each team's handicap. The teams were given 75 percent of the difference between the average and a scratch figure of 1,100 as their prize play handicap.

Bowlers will share 12,945 prizes of cash and bowler's merchandise, in addition to free open bowling certificates on their home alleys. Like prizes will go to winners in three geographical sections of the country.

Red Crown officials said the new record for individual participation in any major sports event established by the handicap sweepstakes was due to a new high in bowling enthusiasm this season. They cited authentic figures which show that 15,000,000 men, women and children are now regular devotees of the sport.

Federal Beaver Project
It's not exactly a federal project, but 20 beavers are building a dam at a site surveyed by federal engineers near Rockingham, N. C. Last year the soil conservation service surveyed several dam sites for creating small lakes in that area. The dams were never built, but the state conservation department has put a score of beavers on the land. They lost no time in getting to work.
