

Board Sanctions Resumption of Athletic Meets Between Schools

Action taken by the Board of Education Wednesday night, when it sanctioned a resumption of athletic relations between the two local high schools, will bring joy to the hearts of local sports fans.

Some years ago relations between Hoffman High and St. Mary's were broken off and since that time, alumni and students alike have sought without success to have the team of the two schools meet.

The break came about as the result of an argument over eligibility of players and the lack of space in the Hoffman High School auditorium to accommodate the large gathering to see the games.

Commissioner Vail brought the matter before the board at its meeting. He declared there was a demand from those interested in both schools for the games and he felt a series arrangement could be made between the two coaches, without the intervention of the members of the board. His suggestion that the series be limited to two games met the unanimous approval of the board.

The board received the reports of the Medical Examiner, Dr. C. W. Hoffman and the first report of the new school nurse, Miss Kathryn L. Strauss. The members of the board expressed satisfaction at the completeness of the new nurse's report and Superintendent Barr reported that her services were highly satisfactory.

An application for appointment as school nurse was received from Ann S. Morgan Garley and the board ordered that she be informed these appointments are made according to the Civil Service regulations and are beyond their jurisdiction.

A request from the Parent Teacher's Association for the use of the hall next Wednesday evening, for a game social was granted.

The Middlesex County Tuberculosis Society Board of Directors, in a communication addressed to the board, reviewed the work accomplished in the local schools during the past year and requested that a contribution be made to make possible the continuance of this work. Action on the matter was deferred until the annual school budget is prepared.

Christmas Seal Sale Drive Begins Here

Chairman Zdanewicz Announces That Quota Of $800.00 Has Been Set for This City

John Zdanewicz, chairman of the South Amboy Christmas Seal Sale Drive has announced that $800 has been set as the local quota. The quota for Middlesex County is $15,550.

The Seal Sale began officially on Thanksgiving Day when six and one-half million seals were set to more than 33,000 people throughout the country.

Mr. Zdanewicz announced that Tuberculosis Sunday will be observed in churches throughout the county this Sunday. Plans are being made to have speakers address the school children, clubs, and other organizations. A large number of posters will be distributed and trailers will be shown in theatres.

The Tuberculosis League will use the proceeds of the annual sale to further its three-point program.

The program includes tuberculosis testing in the High Schools, the examination of others, and a widely used health education service.

The League plans to continue the tuberculosis testing program on a more extensive scale. Last year over 5,000 students were given the benefit of free tests and X-rays. In this survey active cases of tuberculosis were discovered and segregated. A large number of students in need of observation were found and placed in the care of their family physicians.

The health education program of the League provides year round education by means of movies, pamphlets, talks, posters, speakers and a health information service. This educational service, which is free of charge, is widely used by schools and organizations.

SNOW EMERGENCY MET BY STREET DEPARTMENT

This city was one of the few in the Metropolitan district that found itself equipped and ready to combat with the unexpected snow deluges that came over the past week end.

Michael F. Nagle, street commissioner immediately detailed two city trucks, equipped with snow plows to the work of cleaning the streets, and while the work was greatly handicapped by stalled automobiles, the streets were passable, shortly after the snow stopped falling. For two days the trucks and snow plows were kept busy removing the snow. Men in the employ of the street department also spent two days in cleaning the various cross walks about the city.

New Cars Crash; Crack A Skull; WPA Worker Held

N. Y. Woman Critically Injured; Pres. Park Man Held By State Police

HAND BAG IS MISSING

Mrs. Gusie Bartel, wife of Max Bartel, of 1094 Bryant avenue, The Bronx, New York, lies in the local hospital in a critical condition from a skull fracture sustained in an automobile accident Tuesday. Two brand new cars, a Studebaker and a Pontiac, figured in a head-on collision on the Cheesapeake highway some distance beyond the Farley roadstand shortly before noon and both cars were badly damaged.

Mrs. Bartel was riding with her husband at the time and the other car was occupied by Daniel Scartone and Joseph Pistoles, both of South Main street, Newark. All four motorists were brought to the local hospital by the First Aid and Safety Squad in their ambulance and there given treatment. Scartone and Pistoles were discharged from the local institution the same day they were admitted, and Mr. Bartel was able to leave the following day.

State Police investigated the accident and on a complaint of the husband placed James Smith, of President Park, under arrest. A hearing on the charge against Smith will be held at the City Hall here tonight unless postponed.

It is understood that the accident happened near where a number of WPA workers were engaged and that the injured woman was taken from her car by the WPA men and placed in the automobile of one of them for removal to a hospital. After placing her in the car it was decided that she was too badly hurt to be moved in the private car and that it would be better to await the arrival of the ambulance.

In the interval it was discovered that a handbag containing valuables a diamond ring and money was missing. Whether the bag was lost in the snow if thrown from the wrecked car, or how it got lost is expected to be developed at the hearing tonight.

MAIN STREET WOMAN INJURED BY CAR

While walking along the edge of the road on Main street shortly after seven o'clock last night, Sara Clark, of 517 Main street, was struck by an automobile driven by Henry Loser, of 61 Maxwell avenue, Ford. The woman was removed to the local hospital by the First Aid and Safety Squad where she was given treatment by Dr. E. A. Meacham.

A summons was issued by local police to Loser for appearance in the local police court on December 9th.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

Whereas, this year, 1938, promises to prove one of the healthiest on record in the community, state and nation, and

Whereas, improvement in the health of the population with reduction in illness and deaths from preventable diseases has been one of the outstanding achievements of the twentieth century, and

Whereas, the homes of our community continue to be threatened by infection, illness and death caused by tuberculosis, a disease which has been greatly reduced and may be controlled by modern scientific methods, and

Whereas, this disease remains an urgent health problem because of its high prevalence among young mothers and men who are heads of families, and its highly infectious character when allowed to progress to advanced stages before treatment;

Therefore, I hereby urge all South Amboy citizens to join in the support of the preventive program conducted by the Middlesex County Tuberculosis League. I urge that you not only buy and use the Christmas Seals on sale between Thanksgiving and Christmas to the fullest extent of your ability, but that you continue your interest and active participation throughout the year.

THOMAS F. GLEASON, Mayor.

As the result of the visit of City Solicitor John P. McGuire and John A. Conlogue, special sewage disposal plant engineer to Washington over the past week end, it is likely that the city will receive PWA funds for the construction of the plant.

Due to the fact that this city's application for funds was sent to Washington, but a short time ago, long after other municipalities had forwarded their requests, it was believed the $940,000.00 appropriated for PWA projects would be exhausted and the council was informed there was little likelihood of South Amboy's application being granted.

Appearing before Colonel Clark, Asst. to PWA Administrator Ickes the local representatives found that there were thousands of applications already filed, which had preference over that of this city. However, the local men explained that the city was forced to construct the plant because of a decree of the Court of Chancery and already the city officials were facing contempt proceedings because of failure to comply with the orders of the State Board of Health.

Colonel Clark explained that a large portion of the $940,000.00 embracing the total PWA grant had been allocated to Virginia, Arkansas, Oklahoma and other states, which had not received their share of previous grants, but due to the fact that some of the communities in this section have changed their minds and have withdrawn their applications, funds were available for cases of extreme necessity in other sections, and the local representatives were able to convince him that the situation in this city is such that it demands special attention.

Attorney McGuire and Engineer Conlogue were able upon their return from the conference, to report to the Mayor and Council, that as a result for their visit, they have every reason to believe the application of this city will be granted and it will not be necessary to construct the plant with funds secured directly from the taxpayers by local taxation.

It is anticipated official word of the grant approval will be received within a short time.

Wage-Hour Law Will Be Discussed At Holy Name Forum

J. Ryan, of East Orange, a member of the state K. of C. speaker's bureau.

When the third in the series of discussions was held last Sunday evening in the Guild Hall, "Persecutions, Past, Present and Future" was the subject.

Most of the discussion was centered on the present persecution of the Jews and Catholics in Germany, Spain, Mexico and Russia.

Those taking part in the discussion were John Lucitt, James Vandever, James Harrigan, Raymond Lucitt, James Coakley, John J. Triggs, Emmet O'Toole, Edwin Scully, the Rev. Msgr. E. C. Griffin, the Rev. James Foley and the Rev. John Horan.

The wife of one of the burg's well known expressmen was lucky at a recent game social and won a turkey.

The next morning the expressman went to the coop to get his turkey and carefully looking them over, decided he'd take home the biggest one. He chased the bird around the yard for a while and when he leaned over to pick it up, the turkey, which had donkey blood in its veins, lifted up its leg and kicked the expressman in the face, inflicting a nice scratch, but who will believe when he tells them the scratch was caused by a kick from a turkey.

You call him "Mr." if you're on the WPA or you're a politician of a certain local party, but the other day, he gave the boys a laugh when he reported for work with his inferior well decorated and his face decorated with lip stick marks.

One day recently "Hot'n Dogs", the first street sportsman prepared for the deer hunting trip he has been planning for several months. He got up bright and early in the morning and after loading two cases of beer and four bottles of whiskey and some other hunting accessories into the car, he was off.

When the time he should have arrived at his destination rolled around, it was discovered "Hot'n Dogs" had gone on the trip well equipped, except that he had left behind his gun and his hunting suit.

The gun and suit were shipped off to Harrisburg by express, at a cost of $2.57 and "Hot'n Dog" had a twenty mile drive from the deer woods to Harrisburg to get them.

When his wife discovered he had left the most important part of the hunting equipment behind, she opened her mouth so wide in amazement, that her bridgework fell out on the floor and the plate broke, causing some additional expense. No matter how many prongs it has that will be a deer deer.

Broadway business man has been limping around and lying about it so much during the past week that he believes the story he tells about that limp himself.

You'd issue a smile if you knew the truth: he sprained that ankle in his rush to get a bagatelle machine out of sight when the word was passed around the other day that visitors from the county seat were in town looking for them.

A Conover street resident and a coal man are still trying to find out what became of a ton of coke delivered recently.

The coal man dumped the coke into a cellar on the street, and shortly after received complaints from the man who ordered the coke and two cans which were to be delivered at the same time. The coal man swore he delivered the stuff and the man who ordered it swore he didn't get it.

If a man a couple of doors away would have a heart and stop using the coke which was put in his cellar and using the cans for taking out the ashes, by George, the fellow who ordered the coke would be all right.

The "Duke of Bergen Hill," went out hunting for rabbits the other day. He saw a hole in the ground and stuck his hand in the hole, then quickly withdrew it, declaring the rabbit had bit him.

When his companions wanted to shoot the rabbit however, the "Duke" pleaded for its life. He said he wanted to stick his hand in there again to tickle the rabbit and make a goose out of him.

If you see 9330 walking about the Morgan plant all bent over, it isn't because he has rheumatism. He spends his spare time roaming about the plant picking up scrap iron, which he sells later.

A young married man of town recently bought a house in the main section, which was occupied by a man who owned a pony and cart. Some of the Broadway boys told the prospective tenant that the pony and rig went with the house when he got it, and for a time, he thought he had a problem on his hands to take care of the pony and cart, and was much relieved when a former cavalryman offered to take them off his hands. He arranged to sell the pony and rig to him for $25.

A local nurse living on Cedar street, is being rushed by a Bergen Hill lad and Sunday night about 11:30 he said, "Good night" to her, and what a "Good night" it must have been.

Along about 3 o'clock in the morning, everyone in the house woke up almost frozen to death, and her father rushed down stairs to investigate, and found the front door wide open. The nurse had been so thrilled by that "Good night" of her boy friend, that she forgot to close the front door.

When the boy friend comes to call when the boy friend comes to call this Sunday night, it is expected her father will carry out his threat to give him the front door key to make sure the door is locked when he leaves that night.

DESCENDANT of a long line of Revolutionary War patriots, the composer of "At Dawning", "From The Land Of The Sky Blue Water", "Dark Dancers Of The Mardi Gras", etc., etc., first saw the light of day in Johnstown, Pa. His great-grandfather built the first pipe organ west of the Alleghenies, so it was natural that that should be the first instrument he studied. He became a church organist in Pittsburgh music critic of the "Pittsburgh Dispatch", director of music at the Wolcott Conservatory in Denver and the University of Southern California. Smart Raincoats

WITH the weather experts predicting a wet cycle starting this year, it is wise to invest in a rainy day ensemble for preparedness. Here is one of the new dandy raincoats in white, which traffic experts say is the best of all "safety first" colors. Even the pooch has his little rainy day uster in white bound in a bright Scottish plaid.

Justice Kept Peace

When the West was wild a newly appointed justice of the peace was determined that the law be observed and peace be maintained, and so, when he saw a fight about to begin, he rushed between the two combatants and, drawing a knife a foot in length, threatened instant death to the man who should violate the public peace.

Henna is a Shrub
Henna is a shrub of the loose-strife family, native of tropical Asia. It has been cultivated as a dye plant in India, Arabia and Egypt since pre-historic times. The leaves yield the orange dye which is extensively used in coloring hair and leather.

Women in the Orient stain their nails with this dye, the custom dating back some 4,000 years in Egypt as evidenced by mummies. The flowers of the henna are used in perfumery and embalming.

ASSOCIATED PRESS ANNOUNCES PROMOTION OF RUTGERS GRADUATES

New Brunswick: Recent announcements by Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, citing appointments and changes in the personnel of this organization affected five graduates of the Rutgers university department of Journalism.

The new chief of bureau at Rio de Janeiro is Henry W. Bagley, of the class of 1932, who succeeds Ralph Ordorica, class of 1930, for the past six years chief at Rio. Ordorica assumed similar duties at Buenos Aires on October 1.

B. Gregory Hewlett, class of 1929, state editor in the Newark N. J. bureau, has been transferred to the New York office and his duties as state editor have been taken over by Samuel G. Blackman, class of 1927, former head of the state capital bureau in Trenton and more recently chief editor at Newark.

Clark Lee, class of 1929 former chief of bureau in Mexico City is now in Tokyo.

Other Rutgers graduates in the employ of the Associated Press include Robert Okin, class of 1932, whose splendid coverage of the Hindenburg explosion, to which he was an eye-witness, earned him an assignment to Spain early this year where he is covering the Loyalist army.

Joseph F. MacAvoy, class of 1932, is on the Associated Press staff in Newark and Milton Marmor, class of 1930, is now a reporter in the Newark bureau.

Business Guides

Director, Business Training School,

SOMEONE has said that competition is the life of trade. While it may put zest into trade, advertising is the power that continues to turn the wheels.

Every retail place of business is bound to advertise and the advertising will be good or bad, according to the way it is done. A clean store, a neat sign, attractive window display, courteous clerks, satisfied customers, all are forms of advertising. The little fellow on the side street may at least follow these forms of advertising. But progressive merchants long ago realized that only a small proportion of their prospective customers could be reached by these methods alone.

We should still be back in the horse and buggy days if the art of advertising had not made known automobiles, airplanes, air conditioning and other new products and explained the merits of goods and quoted them at advantageous prices.

One wonders if the average customer realizes why advertising must be, and what it does. It isn't without reason that the large department store employs up to fifty people on its advertising staff.

Thousands of sales can be made through advertising. Sales make possible lower prices and probably improvement in goods.

Calvin Coolidge once wrote this: "A great power has been placed in the hands of those who direct the advertising policies of our country, and power is always coupled with responsibilities. No occupation is charged with greater obligations than that which pertains to the nature of education. Those engaged in that effort are changing the trend of human thought. They are molding the human mind. Those who write upon that tablet write for all eternity. There can be no permanent basis for advertising except a representation of the exact truth. Whenever deception, falsehood and fraud creep in they undermine the whole structure. They damage the whole art."

"Although there is more personal wealth than real estate wealth in New Jersey, ninety per cent of the tax burden is carried by real estate alone," he said. "To put it another way, there is about five and one-half billion dollars worth of real estate in the State and all of it is on the tax rolls. The amount of personal wealth is estimated at six billions and only about $750,000,000 is on the tax rolls.

The net result is that the tax burden placed on real estate has become so great real estate is no longer able to produce the taxes levied against it. During the last ten years due to a combination of high interest rates, high taxes and conditions incident to the depression, owners have been compelled in many instances to relinquish their properties because of sheer inability to pay the charges."

As an illustration of the burden imposed by real estate taxes, which totaled $256,464,000 this year, most of it levied against home owners Mr. O'Brien cited a case in a North Jersey municipality, typical, he said, of conditions throughout the State. The property in question, nearly 50 years old, was assessed in 1910, which was 20 years after it was built, at $4,000. In 1930, when it was 40 years old the assessment was $9,500. In 1910, the tax rate was $1.71 and the owner paid $68.40. By 1930, the tax rate had soared to $3.64 and the tax bill was $345.80, an increase of 500 per cent during a period in which the house aged 20 years.

A property assessed at $10,000 and mortgaged for $5,000 was cited as another example of the inequity of real estate carrying the bulk of taxation. The owner, it was pointed out, was taxed on the full $10,000, his own $5,000 and the $5,000 of the mortgage holder. At the average tax rate the owner paid $453, while the holder of the mortgage, owning the same amount of wealth and receiving the same benefits of government as the property owner, was not taxed at all, even though, in addition to owning the mortgage he received interest on his investment. If the rate was six percent, of $300 a year.

The picture becomes dire when the increasing average tax rate levied against property is noted. In the six years beginning with 1933 and inclusive of that year the figure has advanced from $3.75 to $4.53. Authoritative sources see an average rate of $5.50 probable in 1939, a jump of 175 points since 1933.

"We are in favor," concluded Mr. O'Brien, speaking for his organization, "of spreading the cost of government over all the people of the State who receive the benefits of government and not limiting the cost to those who happen to own real estate. We are on record in favor of both sales and income taxes, providing those taxes will provide a reduction in property taxes.

"The income tax is a tax on the ability of a man to earn; the sales tax is a tax on the ability of a man to spend. Both are better yardsticks of a man's ability to pay taxes than the ownership of a home without regard to the owner's equity in the home. Home ownership is a very vital factor in the American scheme of things and is entitled to a better break in the matter of taxation than it has been getting."

St. Mary's School News

The Seventh Commandment is: "Thou shalt not steal". Here God commands us to respect our neighbor's property and all his rights. We must give to all men what belongs to them. We must not damage their goods or property. We must avoid fraud and deceit in our dealings with them. We must render them justice in all things. The Tenth Commandment is related to the seventh. It is this: "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, nor his servant nor his handmaid, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is his". (Exodus XX, 17) This Commandment commands us to respect our neighbor's property, even in our heart. We should not desire unjustly to possess his goods. We should not envy him his possessions. Thus God commands us to respect our neighbor's rights. He would have justice exist amongst all men. The civil law also protects the rights of man. Many laws are made for the welfare of society. They interpret the natural law. They define the rights and obligations of men. They set down rules of conduct. They prescribe the forms to be followed in the administration of justice. Civil laws that define rights, ordinarily band in conscience. They are binding even before a decision has been given in court. However, certain laws do not bind in conscience until decision has been given in court. Such are laws that annul actions that are by nature valid. They are generally called the formalities of the law.

"Justice is a firm and lasting intention to render everyone his rights". Those things that are due another are called his rights. These form the objects of justice. It is one of the four cardinal virtues. It pertains to our relations with others. It binds us to establish due proportion of things toward those around us. Justice constitutes the due position of things. It equalizes external things with external persons. Hence, the apothecary's balance is the symbol of justice.

Moreover, there are three kinds of justice. They are legal, distributive and commutative justice. To these vindictive justice may be added. Legal justice is also called general justice. It renders to the State what is its due. It regulates the relations of the individual to the State. Commutative justice is also called particular justice. It regulates the relations that exist between man and man. It demands that each man render to every other man his just due. Commutative justice establishes due proportion of things in societies and organizations that have legal statutes. They are incorporated. In a certain sense, legal and distributive justice are forms of justice, not justice. Justice is the proper arrangement of human rights. It is the basis of social order. It is the foundation upon which civilized nations must stand.

The virtue of justice, then, is a fundamental of the Christian life. To be a true Christian, a man must practice justice. The other virtues, in a manner, depend upon the virtue of justice. For this reason it is called a cardinal virtue. "The beginning of a good way is to do justice". (Proverbs XVI, 5)

LIBRARY POSTER CONTEST

In collaboration with the Library Poster Contest, sponsored by the H. W. Wilson Co. and the Junior Members Round Table of the American Library Association, several pupils have entered posters of outstanding merit. Among the any contestants' excellent productions were presented by Rita Fenlon, Helen Tracy, Catharine Dolan, Helen Bacenzski, Ermino Vona, Helen Spina, Rosalie Freeman, Margaret Sullivan, Mary Helm, Helen Fitzpatrick and Ann Tabasko.

The object of this competition was to stimulate interest in the advantages rendered possible by the use of Public and Private Libraries. The unique way in which the contestants so artistically portrayed their conceptions of these benefits informs us readily that they are library conscious and wake to the golden opportunities afforded them. The result of this contest will be forwarded by the sponsors of this contest on or about January first.

An enjoyable afternoon of dancing was made possible on Tuesday through the courtesy of the Federal Music Project. A splendid orchestra played from three o'clock until five-thirty for those who danced for the enjoyment of it and for others who with timid steps made their initial venture in dancing. All pupils are looking forward to the return engagement scheduled for December.

The Seventh Grades held a very successful game social on the Wednesday afternoon before Thanksgiving Day. Filled with holiday spirit, a larger crowd than was expected attended the games. Many attractive prizes were awarded.

ASSOCIATED PRESS ANNOUNCES PROMOTION OF RUTGERS GRADUATES

New Brunswick: Recent announcements by Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, citing appointments and changes in the personnel of this organization affected five graduates of the Rutgers university department of journalism.

The new chief of bureau at Rio de Janeiro is Henry W. Bagley, of the class of 1932, who succeeds Rafael Ordorica, class of 1930, for the past six years chief at Rio. Ordorica assumed similar duties at Buenos Aires on October 1.

B. Gregory Hewlett, class of 1929, state editor in the Newark N. J. bureau, has been transferred to the New York office and his duties as state editor have been taken over by Samuel G. Backman, class of 1927, former head of the state capital bureau in Trenton and more recently night editor at Newark.

Clark Lee, class of 1929 former chief of bureau in Mexico City is now in Tokyo.

Other Rutgers graduates in the employ of the Associated Press include Robert Okin, class of 1932, whose splendid coverage of the Hindenburg explosion, to which he was an eye-witness, earned him an assignment to Spain early this year where he is covering the Loyalist army.

Joseph P. MacAvoy, class of 1932, is on the Associated Press staff in Newark and Milton Marmor, class of 1930, is now a reporter in the Newark bureau.

Business Guides

By C. E. Johnston

Director, Business Training Schools,
International Correspondence Schools

SOMEONE has said that competition is the life of trade. While it may put zest into trade, advertising is the power that continues to turn the wheels.

Every retail place of business is bound to advertise and the advertising will be good or bad, according to the way it is done. A clean store, a neat sign, attractive window display, courteous clerks, satisfied customers, all are forms of advertising. The little fellow on the side street may at least follow these forms of advertising. But progressive merchants long ago realized that only a small proportion of their prospective customers could be reached by these methods alone.

We should still be back in the horse and buggy days if the art of advertising had not made known automobiles, airplanes, air conditioning and other new products and explained the merits of goods and quoted them at advantageous prices.

One wonders if the average customer realizes why advertising must be, and what it does. It isn't without reason that the large department store employs up to fifty people on its advertising staff.

Thousands of sales can be made through advertising. Sales make possible lower prices and probably improvement in goods.

Calvin Coolidge once wrote this: "A great power has been placed in the hands of those who direct the advertising policies of our country, and power is always coupled with responsibility. No occupation is charged with greater obligation than that which pertains to the nature of education. Those engaged in that effort are changing the trend of human thought. They are moulding the human mind. Those who write upon that tablet write for all eternity. There can be no permanent basis for advertising except a representation of the exact truth. Whenever deception, falsehood and fraud creep in they undermine the whole structure. They damage the whole art."

Henna is a Shrub
Henna is a shrub of the loosestrife family, native of tropical Asia. It has been cultivated as a dye plant in India, Arabia and Egypt since pre-historic times. The leaves yield the orange dye which is extensively used in coloring hair and leather. Women in the Orient stain their nails with this dye, the custom dating back some 4,000 years in Egypt as evidenced by mummies. The flowers of the henna are used in perfumery and embalming.

St. Mary's School News

The Seventh Commandment is: "Thou shalt not steal". Here God commands us to respect our neighbor's property and all his rights. We must give to all men what belongs to them. We must not damage their goods or property. We must avoid fraud and deceit in our dealings with them. We must render them justice in all things. The Tenth Commandment is related to the seventh. It is this: "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, nor his servant nor his handmaid, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is his". (Exodus XX, 17) This Commandment commands us to respect our neighbor's property, even in our heart. We should not desire unjustly to possess his goods. We should not envy him his possessions. Thus God commands us to respect our neighbor's rights. He would have justice exist amongst all men. The civil law also protects the rights of man. Many laws are made for the welfare of society. They interpret the natural law. They define the rights and obligations of men. They set down rules of conduct. They prescribe the forms to be followed in the administration of justice. Civil laws that define rights, ordinarily band in conscience. They are binding even before a decision has been given in court. However, certain laws do not bind in conscience until decision has been given in court. Such are laws that annul actions that are by nature valid. They are generally called the formalities of the law.

"Justice is a firm and lasting intention to render everyone his rights". Those things that are due another are called his rights. These form the objects of justice. It is one of the four cardinal virtues. It pertains to our relations with others. It binds us to establish due proportion of things toward those around us. Justice constitutes the due position of things. It equalizes external things with external persons. Hence, the apothecary's balance is the symbol of justice.

Moreover, there are three kinds of justice. They are legal, distributive and commutative justice. To these vindicative justice may be added. Legal justice is also called general justice. It renders to the State what is its due. It regulates the relations of the individual to the State. Commutative justice is also called particular justice. It regulates the relations that exist between man and man. It demands that each man render to every other man his just due. Commutative justice establishes due proportion of things in societies and organizations that have legal statutes. They are incorporated. In a certain sense, legal and distributive justice are forms of justice, not justice. Justice is the proper arrangement of human rights. It is the basis of social order. It is the foundation upon which civilized nations must stand.

The virtue of justice, then, is a fundamental of the Christian life. To be a true Christian, a man must practice justice. The other virtues, in a manner, depend upon the virtue of justice. For this reason it is called a cardinal virtue. "The beginning of a good way is to do justice". (Proverbs XVI, 5)

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL NOTES

On Monday, November 28, a meeting of the Senior Class of St. Mary's High School was held in the Auditorium, for the purpose of discussing plans for the annual Prom. The Prom will take place immediately after Christmas. Watch this column for the date.

Chairmen were appointed for the various committees which are now being formed.

LIBRARY POSTER CONTEST
In collaboration with the Library Poster Contest, sponsored by the H. W. Wilson Co. and the Junior Members Round Table of the American Library Association several pupils have entered posters of outstanding merit. Among the any contestants excellent productions were presented by Rita Fenlon, Helen Tracy, Catharine Dolan, Helen Bacinski, Erinno Vona, Helen Spina, Rosalie Freeman, Margaret Sullivan, Mary Heim, Helen Fitzpatrick and Ann Tabasko.

The object of this competition was to stimulate interest in the advantages rendered possible by the use of Public and Private Libraries. The unique way in which the contestants so artistically portrayed their conceptions of these benefits informs us readily that they are library conscious and wake to the golden opportunities afforded them.

The result of this contest will be forwarded by the sponsors of this contest on or about January first.

An enjoyable afternoon of dancing was made possible on Tuesday through the courtesy of the Federal Music Project. A splendid orchestra played from three o'clock until five-thirty for those who danced for the enjoyment of it and for others who with timid steps made their initial venture in dancing. All pupils are looking forward to the return engagement scheduled for December.

The Seventh Grades held a very successful game social on the Wednesday afternoon before Thanksgiving Day. Filled with holiday spirit, a larger crowd than was expected attended the games. Many attractive prizes were awarded.

RISING MUNICIPAL TAXES

Discerning taxpayers are watching with keen concern the persistent rise in municipal tax rates in New Jersey.

Records show the distinct tendency for local tax rates to rise year by year. In 1928, for example, the average of all tax rates was $3.877. In 1932, the average rate is $4.535, the highest in New Jersey's history.

When, and at what figure this rise will stop and the ebb set in, is difficult to surmise.

Certainly it is a striking challenge to municipalities to put their affairs on a more efficient foundation. More than that, it calls for a united effort by citizens and officials in every New Jersey community to change the direction of the tax rate so that it will fall rather than rise.

Surely the threat of ever-increasing local taxes is a disturbing situation to the vast body of taxpayers in this state. The homes and welfare of our citizens are less secure under the pressure of overwhelming taxes.

It is urgent that we heed the warning given by this rising rate, and scrutinize closely the factors that increase local expenditures, and endeavor to correct the causes. Often the New Jersey Taxpayers Association has pointed out that extravagant municipal policies do bring about higher taxes. Obviously the elimination of these extravagances would cause a reduction in tax demands.

Many factors of course, influence tax rates throughout New Jersey. Outstanding indebtedness, payrolls, public improvements and services, operation of schools and departments of public safety, and many other municipal functions play their respective parts in affecting the extent of taxes. Normally, taxes are inclined to increase, unless there is a continual effort by taxpayers to keep them down.

It is impossible, however, to consider the municipal tax situation without admitting that local taxes are kept high to a large extent by State mandatory determination of municipal expenditures.

Actually three quarters of municipal disbursements are dictated by State mandatory spending laws that compel the local governments to spend money for services and salaries regardless of the amount they can afford.

Approximately 1,000 of these laws are on New Jersey statute books. They set rigidly the compensation of many officials and employees in every county municipality and school district in the State.

To relieve the tremendous pressure that placed many local governments on the verge of financial collapse the State Taxpayers Association, in 1933, sponsored legislation that suspended many of the mandatory spending laws. This suspension continued until the end of 1935.

The period of this suspension was the only instance in recent years of a material drop in the average tax rate.

From $4.048 in 1932, the average rate descended to $3.756 in 1933. Remaining at a comparatively low figure while suspension was in effect, the rate jumped again, in 1937, when suspension was not renewed, to $4.222.

A way to tangible relief from the demands of compulsory spending is offered in Assemblyman Osmer's Resolution. This calls for the appointment of a commission of three senators, three assemblymen and three laymen to investigate completely the extent of mandatory laws and to recommend repeal and revision where necessary to the public interest.

Although the resolution was pigeon-holed in the last session, a similar one is expected to be adopted when the legislature meets again on December 12th. As a direct practical attack on a major part of our municipal problems, it merits the concerted support of all who are determined to bring about lower taxation.

LOG OF THE U.S. MARINES

SAVED FROM BURNING PLANE
The motor of a seaplane piloted by a naval flyer roared noisily over the flying field at Pensacola, Fla., where Private Albert J. Smith, of the Marine Corps, was on duty as a sentry on a February morning in 1921.

From time to time other planes skinned over the waters of Pensacola Bay, rose into the air to circle over the naval reservation, and descended to safe landings on the water again.

Suddenly the plane piloted by Machinist's Mate P. M. Phelps went into an erratic spin and crashed to the flying field, imprisoning the pilot. Almost at the same instant the gasoline tank exploded and the plane burst into flames.

Without a moment's hesitation, and without knowing whether the pilot was alive or dead, Smith hurried to the burning plane, worked his way under the wreckage, cut the pilot loose and dragged him out.

The plane flamed like tinder and both Phelps and his rescuer were badly burned.

Before they were clear of the wreckage, however, a second gasoline tank exploded, spraying both men with the flaming liquid, but fortunately both recovered from the ordeal. At that time, such safety aids as asbestos suits to protect firefighters from flames were not in general use.

Smith could have performed his full duty by merely seeking help in the emergency. His heroic conduct was "above and beyond the call of duty," and he was awarded a Congressional Medal of Honor.

When the medal was pinned on his uniform some months later, Smith was serving in the West Indies, carrying out his duties in the traditional manner of the Soldiers of the Sea.

Kodiak Largest of Bears
Kodiak brown bears are the largest of bears, measuring nine feet in length. With other bears they share uncertain tempers, tremendous strength that enables them to lay low either men or beasts with a single, well-directed swipe of a sharply clawed paw.

Four Carriers in Snakebite
The quantity of venom injected into a victim when bitten by a poisonous snake depends upon the size of the snake, the length of time the poison has been accumulating, the depth of the fang thrust and the location of the bite.

Origin of Name Mackinac
The name Mackinac is an abbreviated form of Michimackinac and is derived from the name of a supposedly extinct Algonquin Indian tribe, the Mishimack or Mishimakinagag. The word means place of the big wounded person.

LEGION GETS PRAISE FROM CHICAGO BRANCH

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 1, 1933: Praise for The American Legion's efforts in having Armistice Day declared a legal public holiday has come from East Chicago Branch 1399 of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

"While there has been some public sentiment to make Armistice Day a legal holiday, the fact that we have it as such this year is due in no small measure to the untiring efforts of The American Legion", was the way L. G. Wilcockson, secretary of the East Chicago Branch expressed the sentiment of the mail carriers in a letter to national headquarters here.

"As members of the army of postal employees who carry out Uncle Sam's daily load of mail, we wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to The American Legion."

SEVENTY THOUSAND CHILDREN

Seventy thousand children are alive today because back in 1922 a few citizens with courage and vision determined that the dangers of the machine age must be met by education.

This good news comes from the Center for Safety Education of New York University. With it comes another bit of information that should provoke real thought. In a publication entitled, "A New Milestone in Safety Education," the Center says:

"Traffic accident statistics reveal two age levels on which special stress in safety must now be laid. In the period from 1922 to 1937, the death rate for children of school age decreased by 13 per cent, the rate for adult groups increased by an average of 160 per cent, and for pre-school children increased by 35 per cent. This indicates that these two age levels—adult and pre-school—are vitally important and will be considered in studies conducted by the Center."

What has been accomplished in the school classroom through safety education can and will be repeated in the home, on the streets and highways, in shop and factory, while the good work goes on with increased momentum and scope in our elementary and high schools. Such is the goal of the Center for Safety Education, which was established last July under a grant by one of the pioneers in the organized safety movement, the National Conservation Bureau of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives.

While the scope of the project extends over the whole field of safety education, the primary purpose is to train teachers to teach safety understandably, practically, thoroughly and effectively. Shortly the nation's accident prevention forces will be reinforced by increasing battalions of men and women who have been trained to teach safe living.

Thus America brings into play new and more effective weapons against that most ruthless of all public enemies—a killer who strikes at young and old alike, a wastrel who costs us more than $2,000,000,000 annually, a maimer who laughs at human suffering—the preventable accident.

A BACK-HANDED SLAP AT HITLER

Only on rare occasions do top-flight government officials openly and directly criticize the government or policies of another power. Thus, when President Roosevelt recently spoke of the Jewish persecutions in Germany as being horrible and almost unbelievable, he was doing the unusual and daring. The immediate response was a bitter campaign of vilification against this country in the inspired Nazi press. The response here was about 100 per cent favorable to President Roosevelt's stand.

Furthermore, there is a growing sentiment in this country for breaking off all commercial and diplomatic relations with the Reich. That would be an economic blow to Germany, which is shaky financially as it is. But few think it could produce much result unless other powers joined in, notably England and France. And inasmuch as these countries are now trying to cultivate German "friendship" there seems small chance of that.

More immediate is the problem of aiding the persecuted Jews. There is a fair chance that one of Germany's former African colonies may be turned into a Jewish haven and homeland. This would not solve the problem by any means, but it would do a great deal to lessen it. And, inasmuch as Germany has been seeking the return of these colonies, it would be an ironic, back-handed slap at Hitler.

In the meantime, don't be surprised if the American Ambassador to Berlin, who was recently called home to "report," doesn't return to Berlin for some time to come.

A BETTER RECIPE

There is sound thinking behind the formula for industrial peace recommended last week by Businessman Charles R. Hook. Said Mr. Hook: "If the element of compulsion and coercion were removed from current industrial relations, great progress would be made in the direction of industrial peace."

Certainly anything but harmonious relations have resulted from the current methods of which he speaks. The results are perhaps best shown by these appalling figures.

In 1937 a total of 1,860,621 American workers suffered the staggering loss of 28,424,857 days of work because of industrial strife. This represents hundreds of million dollars in wage, chargeable against National income. The final result: A reduction of the National purchasing power which hurt everybody.

What Mr. Hook proposes is to lift this rule by coercion and experimental lawmaking and let the employers and employees work out their own problems—for their own mutual advantage and the benefit of the Nation as a whole. Indeed, there is nothing to lose and everything to be gained.

A good beginning would be amendment of the National Labor Relations Act and control of agitators rather than business men and workers.

HATS OFF TO MASSACHUSETTS

"Massachusetts in 1773 rebelled against unfair taxes. Massachusetts remains fair in her own tax levies on industry."

This is the high-spot in an advertisement of the Massachusetts Development and Industrial Commission—a message which could be studied with profit by lawmakers of every state.

In Massachusetts, believe it or not, the state tax has not been increased since 1920, and the only local tax paid by manufacturing corporations is the tax on real estate. There are no onerous "extras"—and the result is that in Massachusetts, industry enjoys the lowest taxes in the United States.

Hats off to the Pilgrim State for that development. And, by indirection, this is a telling commentary on other state and federal laws, many in number, which have made productive industry the butt of a thousand crack-pot, depression-making tax measures. In such states, a large part of the time and energy of industry must be given to keeping up with the tax collector. The result is obvious—investors are frightened, business and employment lag, and good times remain a mirage.

What one state can do, the others can do. And the time is long overdue for a return to tax sanity in every one of the forty-eight commonwealths, as well as the federal government.

TRAIN SERVICE DELAYED
WHEN FIRE DESTROYS
"S. A." R'WAY TOWER

Shortly after four o'clock Saturday morning, a fire broke out in "SA" tower of the Pennsylvania Railroad, located close to the track junction near the bridge over the Raritan River. The fire had gained such headway, that firemen were unable to prevent the complete destruction of the building. It is believed the fire started from an overheated stove.

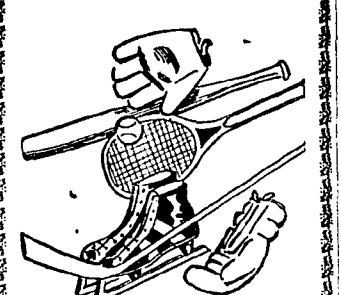

The fire put the signal systems out of commission and electric power was temporarily shut off and this was said to have caused the cancellation of three electric trains. Many commuter trains were late as the result of the fire and it was necessary for a few days to make all the train movements through the local area on hand signals.

Books as Prisoners
The destruction of the Bastille in Paris, shortly after its seizure and the release of its prisoners on July 14, 1789, revealed hundreds of books that were also serving sentences. All had been duly arrested, says Collier's Weekly, tried and convicted of containing criticism of the past four kings.

When your dog feels slight symptoms of sickness, instinct prompts him to eat certain grasses. Your complex system requires more delicate treatment, but you have a better guide in your intelligence. At the first sign of illness, intelligence should decide you to seek your doctor's care immediately, and to have his prescription compounded by a dependable pharmacist.

LOOKING BACK

Issue of December 2, 1916

The meeting of the Board of Education held Friday evening, Nov. 24, brought out the fact that this city is not to have any new hundred and fifty thousand dollar school building as was at first contemplated the reason being that the valuations in the city are not great enough to permit the necessary bond issue to cover this amount. It developed that the State laws limited the bond issue for school purposes to five per cent of the tax ratables of a city of the third class. The outstanding bonds for the rebuilding of the present School No. 2 caused a further reduction of the amount for which the city could be bonded for school purposes at this time and it was then found that but eighty-five thousand dollars could be raised by bonding for the proposed school.

With the above facts before them the Board then proceeded to adopt resolutions requesting the city council to cancel the unused portion of the fifty-five thousand dollar bond issue authorized in 1912 of which some fifteen thousand was for the repairing and rebuilding of School No. 1 and which still remain unsold, but which would constitute a further lien against the amount that can be raised for the new school building.

Tonight the Riversides will put on their war togs and give battle to "Pop" Lyons' Belmar Mystics, runners-up in the 1915-16 East Jersey Coast League. The shore boys have set up a good "rep" on the court, and should give the Rivies a hard rub, especially since the Amboyans are to perform without the services of clever little Johnnie McCreery, just who will take the place of the redoubtable "Mac" has not been decided, but it is likely that some well known county topper in all probability Elroy Sterdie, will be in the Riverside livery for the one night.

Packed to the doors was St. Marys Hall last Wednesday night on the occasion of the presentation of the popular comedy in three acts, "The Man on the Box" by St. Marys Dramatic Association. It was a great success and delighted the audience from the opening to the close. Here again it was shown that we have some excellent talent in this city, as all of the cast rendered their parts in a most admirable manner. Those present expressed their delight by frequent wholesome outbursts of applause. The scenery and settings were fitting to the play and added greatly to its rendition.

The following were members of the cast: James McDonnell, Thomas Downs, John Conlogue, Francis McLaughan, Raymond Fleming, William Brophy, Francis Coan, Daniel Dunn, James Holton, Joseph Cleary, James Kelly, Helen Welsh, Julia Delaney, Hannah McNeal, Pauline Watts, Mrs. George Kress, Miss Mary Dooling, Miss Bessie Hensberger, John Kean, Peter Cunningham, Miss A. Gunkel, Miss J. Delaney, Miss M. Delaney, Miss M. Dooling, Miss B. Hensberger.

Attempt on the part of counsel for Robert Carson Republican candidate for Congressman in the 3rd New Jersey District, to have set aside the order granting to Representative Thomas J. Scully for a recount of the vote cast, failed Tuesday, when Supreme Court Justice Samuel Kalisch handed down a decision at Trenton holding that the recount order was justified both in court and in justice.

The opinion written by Justice Kalisch sustaining the recount order is a lengthy one, covering all of the technical points raised by Theodore Strong as counsel for Carson. The claim that the election law did not provide for recounts of votes cast in Congressional elections, but only referred to candidates for State Senators, Assemblymen, Surrogates and other county and municipal officers, is held to be without merit. Justice Kalisch finds that

The Raritan River Railroad is constructing an electric turntable at the shops near the foot of Stevens avenue and also putting in several additional side tracks at that point. Recently the shops were covered with an asbestos roofing and further improvements are contemplated.

On Tuesday evening, Miss Mary E. Bennett daughter of Mrs. James Bennett, and Counselor John A. Lovely, both of Red Bank, were united in marriage at 7 o'clock at St. James Roman Catholic Church, Red Bank, by the Rev. Father Casey. A large number of friends were present to witness the nuptials. The best man and matron of honor were Mr. and Mrs. James Quigley, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of grey velvet and carried a bouquet of bridal roses.

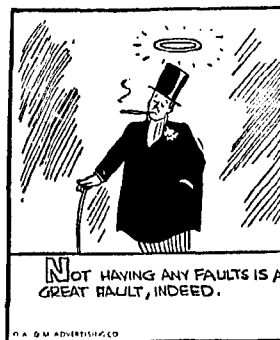

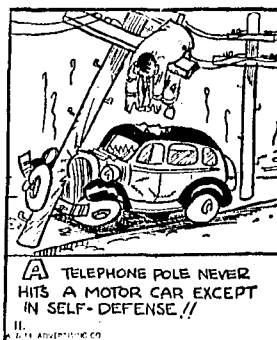

Mr. and Mrs. Lovely will reside in Red Bank. The groom for a number of years has maintained a law office in this city, and has been very successful. His many friends here will now wish him happiness and prosperity throughout his married life.

Rutgers Basketball Season Opens Saturday With Delaware Game

Three Letter Men and Two Sophomores in Scarlet Starting Lineup

A Rutgers basketball team with three lettermen and two sophomores in the starting line-up will open a fourteen-game schedule Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Rutgers Gymnasium when it faces the University of Delaware quintet, also playing its first game.

George Buttle of Scotch Plains, six foot six inch senior, who won his letter in his sophomore and junior years at center, will again be at the pivot post. At the guard positions will be Boris Schwartz, senior letterman from Metuchen, and Frank Brock, high-scoring star of the freshman quintet last year. Brock, particularly effective with his set shots, starred at New Brunswick High before coming to Rutgers.

At the forward berths will be lanky Bob Simms of Morristown, a letter-winner last year as a reserve forward, and sophomore Joe Varju, of New Brunswick, a former Rutgers Prep School star. Varju, who won his letter this fall as a reserve end on the football team, did not play last year as a freshman but will be used by Coach Frank Hill in the bucket this season.

Capable reserves who will be available for duty include the veteran letterman, Harold Kaplan at guard; John Pennino, veteran understudy of Buttle at center and a number of potentially strong but untried sophomores, among whom are Bob Bunnell, Ken Omeley, Harry Rockafeller and Bob Sater.

The game Saturday will be the seventh between Rutgers and Delaware. The teams first met in 1908, Delaware posting two victories that season. In 1921, they met again, Rutgers winning, and the last three seasons, the Scarlet has continued its domination over the Gold and Blue, with a victory each year. The series now stands with Rutgers holding four victories, Delaware two. Last year, Rutgers met Delaware in the season opened, and triumphed handily, 43 to 26.

THROUGH THE HOOP

Editor's Note: The opinions expressed here are those of the writer and do not necessarily agree with those of the management.

The Governors inaugurate their season against an easy Alumni team on December 9th. Here's a good argument: Who is the better player, Bill Ryan or Ernie Reid?

The Tiger A. C. will celebrate a very good football season with a banquet on December 17th. George Stader and Company will play the Carteret Sporting Club this Sunday at Carteret, weather permitting, and Sunday night they will be crowned county champs. I mean the Tigers.

The DeSantis players are still waiting patiently for the sport jackets that "Hot'n Dog" was supposed to purchase for the players. Better hurry, John, winter is drawing near. Gene Thomas tells us that Ted Winneg and Lefty Zebro are certain to go South this spring. He also claims that Bill Terry has intentions of sending Pete Pavich to New Orleans.

Shorty Stivers' Notes from the Y—When the Daylight Bakery bowled the Paulus Dairy team the other night one of the dairy men calls Dodge Gorchess' delivery the "cross country ball." Joe Bailey calls it the "punch ball." They are all riding Dodge, but I wonder if they remember the time that Dodge's freak delivery won the Middlesex County Bowling championship for the South Amboy Aces. Mrs. Otto Ducha is one of the most improved bowlers of the fair sex. It's a known fact that if Clara Garmowitz bowled regularly she could trim Mrs. Burk Lambertson.

Mrs. Art Jensen is leading all the women bowlers in the women's league. Are you listening, Mrs. Burk Lambertson? Expect Joe Poulsen to finish the season with a 212 average. He's hitting 218 at the present time for thirty games. I case you didn't know, Shorty Stivers is hitting 205 at the present time.

Joe Bailey asserted that he would top Joe Poulsen's 712 set before the regular league season terminates. Say, how about another Joe Bailey-Joe Poulsen game as a benefit for the Red Cross drive?

FREEHOLD ALUMNI WANTS COURT GAMES

The Freehold Alumni Athletic Club, composed of former Freehold High School star athletes has organized its basketball team for the fourth season and seeks games on visiting courts.

Joseph Horowitz, the manager, who claims the team this year is the strongest ever to wear the colors of the organization, can be reached at 104 Center street, Freehold.

Bill Ryan, Tom Weinman and Ed Grimbowski will form the nucleus of the team and a promising array of green players is available.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

BY CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM H. SUTPHIN

AIR DEFENSE

Recent joint proposals by the Secretaries of War and Navy for increased appropriations for national air defense again puts the Lakehurst Naval Air Station forward as a possible heavier-than-air base. The large capacity of Lakehurst for airplane traffic with its miles of modern runways, and the need of the industrial areas of the Northeastern seaboard and hinterland for defense against assault from the air prompts this suggestion, which I have made to the Navy Department on several occasions, with the thought that perhaps now is the right time for this development.

The wars in Spain, China and northern Africa have displayed the inhuman use of air armadas in bombing industrial points. For that matter, any point where there is congestion of civilian population may expect the bombs of the aggressor nations in any modern conflict. Objectives cannot be won and held with aircraft, but the bombing plans have been demonstrated as effective aids to warfare in preparing the front for occupation by invading armies, in destroying industrial plants, and for the psychological demoralization of the civilian populations. Also it has been demonstrated that an adequate force of pursuit planes with which to destroy the enemy before the objective is reached.

From the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic ocean lie hundreds of industrial and commercial centers, which would be of vital importance to the United States in time of war. We must be prepared to defend them in the air, preferably before the shore is reached, and there is no existing air base in the entire metropolitan area not already crowded with commercial traffic except Lakehurst. Here aviators in our armed forces could train for their defensive tasks and become thoroughly familiar with defense problems designed to protect these vital metropolitan areas.

BOON TO AMERICAN LABOR. Last year storekeepers learned that Japan's aggression in China was not helpful to sales of Japanese-made goods in American stores.

John Lanning of Laurence Harbor and D. B. Heneby of this city are the first two community chairmen to accept their duties in the finance campaign of the Raritan Council, Boy Scouts of America, which will be conducted about the middle of February 1939.

Mr. Lanning last year served as the chairman in Laurence Harbor and Mr. Heneby was one of the workers in South Amboy, and will this year take over the leadership of the program.

The finance committee, of which Monroe Weint of Perth Amboy, is chairman, will meet on Thursday evening to complete plans for the opening of the campaign. The budget of the Council for next year will be a little less than that of 1938.
