

TRAIN TONICS BY "THE STAFF" TUNNY TUNICS

There is one school of thinkers who continually refer to the fact that it is impossible today for a person to do something without affecting another or for a person to live without being affected by the action of others.

On Primary Day, we had a splendid illustration of this, when some county candidates might have been nominated in certain wards. If some of those who did not vote had done so, these county candidates would have received their endorsement, but since there were no contests in their wards, and the selection of the county candidates was only of secondary interest, lack of a primary fight decreased the vote and the loss was suffered by county candidates which is another indication that our system of voting can still be greatly improved upon.

Naturally the chief concern of everyone in the United States at the present time is whether or not this country can keep out of the present European War. We have three assurances against getting into that war, the Army, the Navy and the Atlantic Ocean. The Atlantic Ocean is 3,000 miles wide, and we can't make it any wider, but we can make the Army and Navy bigger, and more efficient, and everything should be done toward this end, and the national motto "that old saying, "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Wednesday evening the American Legion of Middlesex County held its monthly convention in this city and the enthusiasm evident, as well as the business-like way in which the convention went about its deliberations, besides indicating the Legion is an organization which is a big asset to the county and city, presented an interesting study of the development of this great organization.

Not so many years ago, a group of young men, who had just emerged from the boyhood stage, came back from the World War and started posts throughout the county. They had a general idea of what they wanted to do, but found difficulty in finding how to do it.

In contrast, the American Legion of today is an organization of middle age men, who are working according to a definite, carefully laid out program and proceed toward its execution, in a deliberate business-like way that is accomplishing remarkable results.

And while on the subject of the Legion, it might be well to mention that the plan for a local emergency unit sponsored by Luke A. Lovely Post here, has met with the endorsement of a considerable number of influential local citizens, who realize the value of such an organization.

The plan has also served to elicit considerable favorable comment from state and county officers of the Legion, as well as members of various other Legion posts in the county that have learned of the scheme.

Complete details of the plan, it is expected, will be announced within a short time.

Notwithstanding the fact that the building of residences and the remodeling of old structures has stepped up considerably during the past several months, there is still a great scarcity of housing facilities in the city.

A waiting list of those who are endeavoring to rent homes in this city would probably amaze many of those who have not come in contact with the situation. In one case that has come to our attention, a family now residing outside the city has tried unsuccessfully for several months to rent a home in South Amboy without success.

All of which seems to prove the old assertion that South Amboy is an ideal residential city.

COUNCIL AWARDS BOND ISSUE TO J. G. KRESS & Co.

Five Firms Submit Bids For $34,000 Street Improvement Bonds

With five firms submitting bids, the Common Council Wednesday night awarded $34,000 worth of city street improvements bonds to Joseph G. Kress & Co., of Perth Amboy. The firm bid $34,034 for the bonds at an interest rate of 3.40 percent. Other bidders were J. B. Hanauer & Co., of Newark, $34,037.40 at 3.90 percent; M. M. Freeman Company of Philadelphia, $34,034, with an interest rate of 4 1/2 percent; H. B. Boland & Company of New York City, $34,176 at an interest rate of 3 1/2 percent; and the South Amboy Trust Company, $34,000 at an interest rate of 4 percent.

A public hearing on the report of assessors for the recent improvement of Conover street by the laying of concrete curb took place, but there were no objections. By resolution the City Collector was authorized to bill owners of property benefited, for the improvement, the bills to be paid in five equal yearly installments at six per cent annum interest.

An ordinance providing for the issuance of $13,000 worth of street improvement bonds, introduced at the previous meeting, was passed on final reading Wednesday evening.

By unanimous vote, the council accepted an invitation from the Mechanicsville Hose Company to attend a birthday party and block dance to be given in honor of Richard Neiltopp, Sr. in Mechanicsville tomorrow night.

A resolution introduced by Councilman Zdanewicz was passed, providing for the acceptance of fifty percent of $40.50 accrued tax interest on property at 309 Pine avenue, was passed.

Another extension of the completion date of the local sewage disposal plant was asked in a resolution introduced by Council President John A. Conlogue, engineer in charge of the work, to petition the Federal Administration of Public Works for the extension because it was claimed delivery of pumping station machinery had been delayed. The resolution asks for an extension of sixty calendar days.

FIRE IN TOOL SHED MONDAY AFTERNOON

Monday afternoon local firemen were called to extinguish a fire that started on the roof of a wooden tool shed alongside the New York and Long Branch railroad tracks, back of Weber's Radio store on Broadway. The shed was owned by the New York and Long Branch Railroad.

Firemen extinguished the blaze, and only a small hole was burned in the roof. The fire is believed to have been caused by a spark from a passing automobile.

State Commander Warns Legion To Guard Neutrality

A. E. McCormick Speaking Here At County Meeting Points Out Dangers

Speaking before members of the Middlesex County American Legion at their convention here Wednesday evening, State Commander Albert E. McCormick urged them to exercise extreme vigilance for propaganda being circulated from various sources concerning the present European War situation.

McCormick cautioned the Legionnaires to carefully analyze all information received before using it as the basis for a discussion of the situation overseas and to look at the war from all angles, always remembering that neither side gives a complete picture. He said that the Legion has not taken any action in this direction yet, but the matter of its neutrality policy will receive careful consideration when the national convention is held in Chicago next week.

Other speakers were State Vice Commanders Charles W. Linfante and Roy Anderson; Past State Commander Lester Block and County Commander Al Miller of Old Bridge. The recently elected members of the county Legion staff were installed by State Vice Commander, Roy Anderson, while local post officers were installed by Past State Commander Lester Block, who also presented Robert Pierson, retiring commander of Luke A. Lovely Post with a Past Commander's emblem, and complimented him on piloting the post through a successful administration during the past year.

Past State Commander Block also presented a Past County Commander's button to Roy Anderson. Truck-Sedan Crash; Burn Doors Off Car To Get Dying Woman

Three First Aid Squads and Fire Co. At Morgan Smash Last Night

Mrs. Ester Gray, 43 years old, 518 Grand Place, West New York, N. J., died at the local Memorial Hospital last night from injuries sustained in an automobile accident at Morgan about ten o'clock. Her daughter, Doris, aged 17, is confined to the local hospital with a possible skull fracture, while William Peter, of Grantwood, N. J., the third occupant of the wrecked car, was given treatment at the local institution for cuts on the forehead, chin and a possible fractured wrist and dislocated.

The party was riding in a sedan going north when a southbound truck crashed into them on the hill between the Morgan drawbridge and the bridge over the railroad a few hundred feet north of the creek bridge. Leonard Walling, driver of the truck, of Laurel avenue, Kearnsburg, was unconscious when taken off the truck and brought to the local hospital. He was found suffering from numerous cuts about the head and face and has several sprains. After being treated and then discharged from the hospital, he was turned over to the Sayreville police where he now awaits a hearing at police headquarters.

Riding with Walling at the time of the accident were Thomas Kelly, of 237 Henry street, and Vernon Tice, of 225 First street, this city. Walling is said to have told the police that he noticed something was wrong with the steering apparatus of the truck as he was starting down the hill and applied his brakes but the truck hit the sedan and he woke up in the hospital.

First aid squads from Laurence Harbor and Sayreville as well as the Morgan Fire Company were at the scene of the accident. The South Amboy First Aid and Safety Squad were summoned and with the aid of acetylene torches carried, as part of their equipment, cut the door off the wrecked sedan in order to get the dying woman out. Coroner Flynn has taken charge of the dead woman's body and is making an investigation, aided by the Sayreville police department.

Tustin and Walczak Winners in Primary Contests for Council Nomination Held On Tuesday

Anton Walczak and James Tustin were the winners in the councilmanic races in the First and Fourth Wards, that furnished the only major contest in the primary election here Tuesday.

Walczak, present incumbent in the First Ward, came through with a total vote of 337, a majority of 104 over John Stolte, his opponent. Walczak lost the first and third districts of the ward, but a majority of 220 votes in the second district, where he polled 252 votes against 32 for Stolte, was a sufficiently large majority to carry him thru with flying colors.

Tustin, a last minute entrant in the four way Republican Fourth Ward race, came through with 149 votes, a majority of 72 votes over his nearest rival, George Cronce, who polled 77 votes. Tustin was high man in every district of the ward. Yutes Romeo took third place with a total vote of 72, while Joseph DeMarco polled a total of 21 votes.

Charles Watson, unopposed Republican candidate for council in the First Ward, received a complimentary vote of 73, and William Nahrkorn, the Democratic candidate in the Fourth Ward, who was also unopposed, received 140 votes.

William H. Kehoe, local candidate running as an independent Democratic candidate for Freeholder, received a total of 499 votes here, being topped only by Thomas F. Dolan, of Sayreville. Kehoe received a good share of the votes in every district.

On the Democratic county ticket, John E. Toolan, Senator candidate, was high man with 967 votes and the General Assembly candidates ran close behind him. Edward J. Patten, the organization candidate for County Clerk, received 828 votes to 188 for his opponent Patrick J. Moran and Coroner candidate, William H. Jaqui received 478 votes against 447 for Robert H. Jamison.

Morgan R. Seiffert, unopposed Republican candidate for State Senator, led his ticket here with 369 votes and Nielsen, with 320 was the high Assembly candidate. Maxwell Mayer, of Laurence Harbor, organization candidate for County Clerk, polled a local vote of 337, against 71 for his opponent Leo Goldberger, of Perth Amboy.

Arthur W. Larson received 374 votes for Freeholder and his running mate, George Kantra, received 350.

In the three committee races on the Democratic ticket, Powers and O'Leary were defeated in the first district of the Third Ward, by Brennan and Schwarick, and in the first district of the Fourth Ward, Leonard won out over Foley 47 to 30.

An unexpected race for committeeman in the first district of the First Ward developed in which Martin Nelson running on the stickers, defeated Harry Stolte by a single vote, 12 to 11.

Now that the primary elections are over, it seems appropriate to announce that there are only 94 days left until Christmas; do your Christmas shopping early. Remember we were the first to remind you.

One of the things we're likely to hear referred to often in the future, is the fact that Monday afternoon when there was a fire alongside the Broadway fire house, the Protection and Mechanicsville companies, those farthest from the blaze, rushed down and put the fire out alongside the Broadway fire house.

Poland and the Republican party are pretty much in the same position now. Both of them are pretty well shot to pieces.

A Bergen Hiller, whose name is pronounced the same as that of a well known dictator, and who has as much to say as the dictator, learned Sunday that sometimes a horse don't take dictation.

This "Hill" resident went to Coney Island and decided to put on an act, after he mounted one of the horses, and kept telling the horse to go and would then stop him suddenly. Finally the horse decided to spoil the act and heaved the Bergen Hiller uncerimoniously to the ground.

The "Count of Stevens Avenue," one of the town's greatest sun dodgers was observed sitting beside a cellar window in the sun Monday afternoon. At first it was thought he was airing himself, but later it was discovered he was looking for an opportunity to air his views about the European war, about which he has some funny ideas.

As the result of his discussion, he made a bet concerning the war that will be paid off four years from now.

On that recently famous trip made by local firemen to North Tarrytown, one member of the company noticed he had only one American flag and deciding two would look better, rushed into the firehouse and came out with two flags.

He forgot, however, to return the flags, so he had to make another trip back to Tarrytown, to avert having "$30 or 30 days slapped on him.

If this country goes into war, it looks as though we will have little trouble in training some of these softball sharpshooters we have to become rifle sharpshooters, since they seem to be able to hit a target with a batted softball, and that seems to be more difficult than hitting a target with a rifle bullet.

The other day on lower First St., a group were playing softball and batting them toward the east. Almost a block away, a man was replacing a window pane.

Having made everything ready for the insertion of the glass he picked it up and carrying it over his head, walked for the window to place it there.

At the same time that the ball was pitched to the softball batter, the latter took aim and swung and the ball sailed off and broke the pane of glass the man was carrying over his head and he stood there looking foolish like, holding the ends of the pane in his hands.

A girl who works in a local hospital had a big assignment on her hands one recent day. Her boss was entertaining that evening and to make the entertaining effective, the girl tried to put on the dog as she served the boss.

She forgot, when she started to serve, however, that she had used liquid to kill flies and some of it had gone on the floor, with the result that her feet went out from under her, and she dumped a cup of tea in her boss's lap and made a salesman think she was falling for him. The salesman sat there looking at the interesting sight, the tea cup sat in the boss's lap and the girl sat on the floor, her face red too.

Local master mechanic, with the same name as a famous steamboat inventor, had a Robinson Crusoe vacation this summer, during which he wished he was a steamboat inventor himself, so he could get away from home once in a while.

He secured a summer home at Osbornville, South Jersey, where he could get the breeze coming off the water, but got too much water instead. He picked out a house located on a peninsula, but the water arose and made the peninsula an island so that he had to send out an S.O.S. call and have the Coast Guard boat come up to his front door and take him off the island, whenever he wanted to buy groceries.

Deciding to take a vacation, one city official recently set off to visit his daughter in Orange. When he arrived at her home, he found his three had arrived at the same time, and he began investigating to find the nearest oasis. He learned that there were no thirst quencheries in the town and it would be necessary whenever he wanted to slake his thirst, to hire a taxi at the rate of sixty-five cents per trip to carry him to an oasis out of town, and right then and there he almost made up his mind to return home immediately.

Seems even at high school people do not learn everything. For instance a girl who graduated from high school here not so long ago didn't think when she went out bicycle riding with the boy friend one day recently, to park the bicycles carefully enough, when they stopped near the old highway back of the Morgan plant, with the result that an audience learned several new points about Twentieth Century love making.

NEUTRALITY AND EMBARGOES

The United States Government is as neutral as it can be in this new European War. The President has carried out his duties in enforcing embargoes and restrictions that have curtailed shipping at sea and the travels abroad of American citizens. The entire power of the Administration is enforcing the policies laid down by the President. For the present, at least, our nation is neutral.

Before the adjournment of the regular session of Congress the President was defeated in his demands for the repeal of embargoes on the shipment of arms, ammunitions and implements of war. It should be understood that Congress refused to agree with the President because the passage of such an act at that time would have carried with it a transfer of legislative authority to the Administration. Congress refused to surrender that power to the President. It was the defeat of the system that Mr. Roosevelt had proposed, and not another "turn down for Roosevelt."

Now, the President again asks for repeal of the embargo, and he seems to assume that Congress will agree with him inasmuch as the war is on. In sounding out the members of the Senate and House he has suggested a course of action that he evidently expects the legislators to approve.

The declarations of Senators Borah, Vandenberg and others show that there are honest and varying opinions about what constitutes neutrality. Borah and Vandenberg represent a school of thought that is opposed to the theories advanced by the President. The Senators are opposed to the repeal of the embargoes because that would authorize the sale of planes, munitions and articles of war to European countries.

Therefore, it can be readily seen that there is sure to be a full discussion of the so-called "neutrality repeal" before Congress decides upon its new policies.

Inasmuch as the overwhelming majority of the American public is giving wishing thinking and vehement conversational support to the French and British, the chances are that the embargo laws will be repealed and that the cash-and-carry system will be put into operation, after Congressional deliberation and debate, and arrangements for patched-truces with the Administration.

It has been observed that the country looks to the President for leadership and to Congress for a sober realization of its responsibilities in times of crisis. If the Administration and the legislative branches of the Government can keep us out of war by putting their country above their party politics the Nation will be in luck.

St. Mary's School News

God hates sin. Yet He uses it as a means of good. There are certain virtues which presuppose malice. Penitence can only follow sin. Martyrdom is the result of homicidal crime. Forgiveness must be preceded by injury.

The inequality that exists amongst men does not seem to agree with our idea of Divine Providence. Some dwell in abundance, others in destitution. Some must toil and struggle whilst others recline in ease and comfort. Some are blessed with talents, friends, and honors whilst others are ignorant, despised and abandoned. Yet there is no injustice here. God has an eternity in which to equalize the conditions of men.

Equality of position and possession is utterly impossible in human society. Man is a social being; man depends upon man. The strong sustain the weak. The weak lean on the strong. Those in authority make laws. Those who are subject obey them. Thus is fostered in society a spirit of industry, benevolence, magnanimity, gratitude, vigilance and veneration. These are human virtues that constitute the bonds of society. Without inequality there can be no emulation. Without emulation there can be no progress. If all men were equally rich, wealth would be of no value. Wealth is valuable only in so far as it can be offered as a compensation for the labor of others. Equality of wealth would make all men poor.

Dignity is a relative term. There could be no dignities if there were no men without dignity. There can be no superior without an inferior. The social body, like the animal body, can not be all head. It must have eyes to see, feet to move, hands to work, and a back to bear the burden.

Happiness is not always found in the mansions of the rich. The sumptuous banquet is of little value to the millionaire who writhes in the pangs of dyspepsia. Peace and contentment are not weighed down with the cares of higher stations in life. If their fare is plain, they have the sweetest of all seasonings, a good appetite. "The life of man on earth is a warfare." The present life is merely a time of probation, a period of struggle. The eyes of God are upon us. To struggle bravely is to be victorious. The soldier must bear hardships during the time of war. He does not complain; he knows that his commander sees his trials. He knows that he will be rewarded for faithful service. He does not grieve if he is not rewarded on the field of battle. He is willing to wait until he returns home where his honors will be shared by friends and dear ones.

"Under God's government there are many things which we can not understand, and are to us like a dark enigma. This happens either because the Lord wishes to rebuke our arrogance by restricting our knowledge within narrow bounds, or because He wishes to raise our minds to eternal things."

Plans for the annual membership drive of the YMCA here were made at a meeting of the Committee of Management held on Monday evening when a special committee submitted campaign plans.

C. T. Mason, chairman of the Board of Management and General Chairman of the drives conducted during the past two years, was selected to head the forthcoming drive. C. W. Johnson, local yardmaster, was selected as Associate Chairman.

As in the past several years, there will be two main divisions in the campaign organization. The Community Division will be led by Donald W. Reed, Jr. and the Railroad Division by A. E. Hadley. In addition there will be four special teams, including the Ladies' Auxiliary, the Special Gifts, the Hi-Y Club and the Businessmen's team.

Mrs. L. L. Sheppard will be the leader of the Ladies Auxiliary team and Mrs. Harold Fliskov will head the Special Gifts Committee, while the Hi-Y team will be in charge of Burton Lewis. No leader has yet been selected for the Businessmen's team.

The campaign will open with a dinner meeting on Thursday, Oct. 5th and will close with another dinner meeting on Tuesday, October 17th.

The committee again set 500 members as the goal and will endeavor to secure $1,000 in cash during the campaign. Last year 532 members and $800 were secured.

Chairman Hadley, of the Railroad Division has announced his three team captains will be the same as last year, Lloyd Worley heading the Yard Team; R. C. Blair, the Enginehouse team; and L. L. Sheppard, the Industrial and Raritan River Railroad division.

Three bowling league presidents will act as captains of the Community Division: Tom Lagoda heading the City League; Ed Kelley, the Community League; and John E. Coogan, the Club League.

A supper meeting of the general chairman, his assistant and division leaders and their team captains as well as the leaders of the special divisions will be held Wednesday evening at 6:30 P. M. in the YMCA, when the drive workers will be selected and plans made for the drive opening.

FEDERAL COMMISSION DENIES PETITION OF ELECTRIC COMPANIES

Monday the Federal Power Commission denied petitions for a rehearing of its decision that the New Jersey Power & Light Company's acquisition of 341,350 shares of Jersey Central Power and Light Company common capital stock, without prior order from the commission, was a violation of the Federal Power Act.

Both firms contended the transaction was not within the jurisdiction of the commission.

Satire and National Life
Satire, like the poet's Lily of Ma-lud, is born of corruption; and the "secret mud" that generates it is full of poisonous germs of suspicion, envy, hatred, malice and all unchar- itableness. In the literature of a nation satire is generally one of the latest forms of self-expression to be developed and brought to perfection. For the natural impulse of literature, and especially of poetry, is the celebration of what is beautiful and revered.

LOOKING BACK 22 YEARS

Issue of September 22, 1917

In an event that will long be remembered by those who participated, the members of the Enterprise Hook and Ladder Company honored the men from their company who have been selected for service in the new National Army. The event took place last Saturday evening and festivities were begun when the parade of the apparatus and company formed at the engine house on Broadway.

The company was headed by the Sacred Heart Fire and Drum Corps, followed by the chief and ex-chiefs of the department. The Mayor, Councilmen and other city officials were also in line. After completing the long block, the company returned to their headquarters where refreshments were served and speeches were made by a number of prominent citizens.

The Royal A. C. an organization composed of several young men of this city are going to enter the field of sport by placing a basketball team on the floor this season. Clifford Davis, who is the manager, expects to be able to play the first game on Friday evening, October 12. The players Manager Davis has to start with are: Grace, Buckard, Donnelly, Miller, Grover, and Steve and Edward O'Connor.

Once again the city of South Amboy has set the pace for celebrations when the men from this city who have been called to the colors were honored in a monstrous parade followed by an enthusiastic demonstration in the Empire Theatre. The parade exceeded all expectations and even the committee were surprised at the demonstration.

With bands playing, flags flying and red fire burning the long line of men turned from John street into Broadway where they were greeted on both sides of the street by cheering throngs. Headed by a huge American flag, the line consisted of Mayor A. T. Kerr, and Hon. T. L. Scully, followed by a representation from the police force which in turn were followed by the Italian band of Perth Amboy who furnished the music. Next in line were the recruiting detachment from the Red Bank Coast Artillery, who were followed by men from this city who had entered the volunteer service of the country.

Then came the drafted men, headed by the sixteen boys from this district who have been at Wrightstown for about a week fully equipped. A large delegation from Joel Parker Council Jr. O. U. A. M., with Joel Parker Guards in uniform were in line together with a number of other organizations.

The largest individual organization to turn out was the Bergen Social Club who were headed by the Sacred Heart Fire and Drum Corps of this city. The division consisted of practically the same number who paraded in honor of the men from their organization Monday night. Probably one of the most interesting organization in line was the newly formed State Militia Company of this city. About fifty in number, they were applauded along the line of march. The company was under the direction of Captain Fourat of the Old Home Defense League.

Veterans of the G. A. R. were conveyed in automobiles. At the corner of John Street and Stevens Avenue the city officials fell out of line and reviewed the procession and again took their places in line when the parade passed Broadway. Colored fire was provided by the celebration committee and this together with the small American flags carried by nearly every man in line made a natty appearance.

After the parade the crowd assembled in the Empire Theatre where speeches were made by Mayor Kerr, Congressman Scully, Hon. Scott Ferris, Congressman from Oklahoma, and Hon. Jacob E. Meeker, of Missouri.

Next Tuesday the primary elections throughout the state will be held, when State, county and local candidates will be nominated by the respective parties.

John Sutliff is a candidate for the Freeholder nomination on the Democratic ticket, and William S. Dey on the Republican ticket.

Another interesting contest will be between Peter Coakley and George Kress who are seeking nomination for City Clerk on the Democratic ticket. J. F. Fulton is running without opposition for nomination as city clerk on the Republican ticket.

The Common Council has created by resolution two polling districts in each ward, and voters should acquaint themselves of this fact.

While excavating for a house on the property of J. J. Quaid of Sayreville, the men unearthed one 6 pound cannon ball, supposedly a relic of the Revolutionary War. While working on the same property a coin dated 1775 and marked George III, Rex, was found. Some time ago while working near this piece of ground Mr. Quaid found a flint arrow head and an old Indian battle axe.

A number of local men were at the county Republican Club's annual clam bake and outing held at Highland Park Thursday. Among those from this city who were present were Elias Mason, Lloyd Worley, Russell Hardy, James Hackett, Fred Delbert, Frank Fulton, W. S. Dey, Samuel Newton, and E. H. Jaques.

Local Men Are Enrolled for Rutgers Fall Evening Course

Classes Begin Monday With 400 Early Registrations

The following students from this vicinity are among the early enrollees for the fall evening course at Rutgers University, College and Extension Division: Kenneth I. Bergen, Ralph B. Davis, Rudolph K. Foraman, Victor Oppenheim, and John C. Ploskonka of this city; Preston H. Lawrence of Morgan and Henry L. Martin of Laurence Harbor.

As classes begin Monday, the 400 early registrations include only about half of the entire student body. Final registrations are being made this week at the University College headquarters, 77 Hamilton street, and catalogues may be obtained locally at the First National Bank.

The majority of students are interested in the university's program of business administration, for which the degree of bachelor of business administration is granted upon the completion of the regular college requirements in evening study. Those who are not working for degrees may obtain three-year certificates in accountancy, finance and management, marketing, finance and chemistry, or take individual courses.

DeSantis Capture First Playoff Series Game On Sunday

Capturing the first of the series of playoffs Sunday afternoon the DeSantis team downed the Romeos to put themselves into second place and earn the right to meet the Tigers next Sunday in the double header playoff for the City League title. While the DeSantis clan were piling up ten runs, the Romeos narrowly averted a shutout securing but one run.

Ted Winnegar and "Lefty" Jankowski were the rival hurlers and Winnegar turned in one of the best games of his diamond career, by setting down fifteen Romeos hitters.

Winnegar was in splendid form and did a wonderful job of putting them where the Romeos batsmen could not find them. In addition he yielded but four hits, while Jankowski was touched for fourteen.

Up until the sixth inning the game was a close affair with the DeSantis team leading by a single run. In the sixth they added two, then four more in the seventh, another in the eighth, and two more in the final frame.

Satsky and Jankowski were the batting stars for DeSantis with three apiece while Crowe got two of the hits Winnegar permitted the Romeos.

UP AND DOWN THE ALLEYS

By JOE KER

The scene was a familiar one, an impromptu bowling match: one of those things that crop up on the spur of the moment. It seems that there were six men to a side, and the anchor-man of the first team had just finished rolling, leaving the score such that the lone remaining keger had but to garnish 12 pins and sweet victory was his. To coin a phrase, "The ducks were on the pond."

The spectators leaned closer as said anchor removed his ball from the rack, took his position on the runway, and gracefully striding to the foul-line delivered his ball. As true as true can be it sped to its mark, arcing slightly and striking the massed pins in the 1-3 pocket, and then it happened... yep, you guessed it... the ten-pin stood up... good old mother-in-law stick!

The crowd just gasped.

But all that was needed was the spare with a two-or-better fill. Again our hero ambled over to the ball-return, secured his ball and with the same gracefulness rolled it down the alley. Like a thing alive it sped along, at the same time nearing the edge of the alley, nearer, and nearer, and then... plopp... right into the gutter.

Not a word was uttered, either in joy, elation, dismay, or disgust, as Steve Szaboltsky slowly walked away, dolefully shaking his head, for that ball, dear little readers, cost exactly $3.60... they were bowling stuck.

Don't let it getcha Steve! Some mighty good men have missed that pin.

Those alleys that George Brennan has just had installed are a little bit of all-right. Lots of luck to ya. Confidentially George, don't you think it would be a good idea to put up a sign or placard cautioning bowlers to lay the ball down instead of dropping it. If you'll notice, the first four or five feet of the alleys proper will become dented by the balls dropped there by the novice bowlers. True, you're not supposed to keep them from bowling, but there's nothing in the books that prohibits giving them a little friendly advice... improves the bowling too.

Hats off to John Massing... he has just organized a bowling league at the local "Y", consisting of four teams of the members of the Massing Club. As you probably know, Johnny has teams in other fields of athletic competition which speak for themselves. This town could use a few more men of his type... men who will go out and organize the young fellows... does a world of good... So again I say... Nice going, Jack.

The Sacred Heart A. A. held a recent meeting at which time three leagues were organized... which are starting this week. Brennan's Recreation has also organized two leagues.

MUSINGS AND MUTTERINGS

Gosh, wonder why Joe Flaga of the John's HWH doesn't revert back to his old style of bowling... that slow hook he's heaving up now is proving disastrous... seventeen splits in six games... they'll surely wreck your average, Joe.

Vic Norton, Butler's quintet manager, is giving his boys an early quit and trotting them over to the Y on Saturday nites for a secret skull session and practice... they hit some dandy little scores.

After a two-week hold, out siege, Pete Pavich, South Amboy's gift to baseball, has joined the ranks of Sorrentino's Big Five.

JCP&L Co. flash, Percy Tompkins, has come into his own with a WPA hook. It's a lazy sweeper.

Wonder why the Perfect Vest outfit changed over to the Club League... the going there is a lot tougher than in the Community, and they wound up in the second division of the Com. League last season.

All bowling experts emphasize on the 1-3 pocket as the target for all bowlers... that is, right-handers... but have you noticed Ralph Steiner of the Scribes... ninety percent of his tosses are cross-hits... and his average substantiates the fact that he's doing OK by himself.

Pat ("who swiped the milk?") Dugan, erstwhile cue star, is expected to receive a trial with the George's Tavern team in the near future.

"Yours Until Brussels Sprouts."

RUTGERS TEAM SHAPING UP FOR OPENING GAME

Scarlet Gridders Will Meet the Wesleyan Team in the Opener

With the opening game with Wesleyan less than two weeks away, Coach Harvey Harman settled down to polishing his 1939 edition of the Rutgers football team this week.

With more than two weeks preliminary training grind behind the squad including almost two weeks spent at Sea Girt the players appeared to have attained a degree of physical condition that satisfied the coaches.

Physical condition is one of the headaches that Harman must struggle with this year for his team faces a schedule that is more than two weeks longer than the one faced last year. Consequently the boys must be brought along slower if they are to reach the peak of form around mid season and hold it for the later games.

One combination lined up with Ralph Schmidt, a sophomore on left end, Len Cooke, the veteran tackle, at left tackle, Johnny Verbitski, a sophomore at left guard, Otto Hill, also a sophomore at center, Will Dorn and Vince Kramek alternating at right guard, Char Craig at right tackle, and Ralph Russo at right end.

Lauer-Coyne Team Wins Match Featuring Local Alley Opening

The two man team consisting of Mike Lauer and Tom Coyne of New Brunswick defeated Joe Bailey and Joe Hmiesleski by forty-seven pins in the five game match featuring the grand opening of the bowling alleys at Brennan's Tavern Monday evening.

Lauer and Coyne finished with 1886 pins against 1839 for the Bailey-Hmiesleski team.

Individual honors went to Bailey with a five game total score of 959 while Lauer hit 952. Coyne was third with 933 and Hmiesleski totaled 800.

Coyne was tops with 24, while Lauer led the field in perfect hits with a total of twenty-two strikes. Bailey and Coyne made twenty each. Hmiesleski collected fifteen.

Preceding the match, Mayor Thomas F. Gleason and Councilman William Neirkorn officially opened the alleys by throwing down the first two balls.

The scores:

Hmiesleski 159 177 213 169 162-880

Bailey 193 161 213 203 189-959

Much Postponed Romeo-Ernston Game Finally Played

The Romeo-Ernston game postponed seven times, and played Friday night to a 2-2 tie, was finally played off Sunday morning, when Romeo took the contest and earned the right to meet DeSantis in the Sunday afternoon playoff.

Bill Stratton, who had been playing all year with a flinx on his back, shook it off Sunday morning and besides striking out six Ernston batsmen, permitted by 2 passes and added to his performance by securing two of the seven hits collected by his team.

Up until the fifth, the game was a scoreless affair, but in that inning, Romeo rallied to put across three markers, and in the following inning sent over one. Ernston averted a shutout by coming through with a single run in the final inning.

Tigers Will Face Irvington Eleven In Game Sunday

Starting off their season Friday night, the Tigers football team won over the Manville Yellow Jackets at Manville, 6-0. The game was played under floodlights.

This Sunday the Tigers will appear at Irvington, where they will meet the Campdowners and announcement has been made by the Tiger managements that arrangements have been made for ample parking space for the large number of local fans planning to attend.

Winners of conference championship honors for the past two years, the Tigers expect to duplicate the performance again this year. Last season they won nine games and lost but one, when they dropped the final game of the schedule to the Carteret Sporting Club.

How To Judge Quality of Glass

By Jane Floyd Buck
The question of how to judge the quality of glass, which frequently proves rather baffling to lots of us when buying a mirror, has been settled once and for all by the Federal Trade Commission which has just passed a ruling regarding the labeling of glass.

Now, according to the Trade Commission's regulation, each mirror must bear a label as to whether it is plate glass or window glass. Thus, when one goes shopping for a mirror which will give back true reflections with that gleaming clarity characteristic of polished plate glass, one will not have to be a mirror expert to distinguish the quality. A label will carry the information.

Perhaps while on the subject it would be a good time to discuss briefly the difference between mirrors made of plate glass and window glass. Window glass is fire-polished only as it comes from the glass making machines, while plate glass is rolled in blanks which are given the additional treatment of grinding and polishing, a process comparable to that applied to optical glass.

The final process gives the glass that gleaming luster which is a distinguishing characteristic of plate glass.

Wow, has yours truly been on the spot during the past week. No less than four different persons attempted to put this correspondent in his place by means of hand-powers. But I managed to escape all threats. I always win out, either by my potent vocabulary or my fast traveling feet. But Napoleon met his Waterloo. But then again I'm not Napoleon.

Numerous Ernston fans approached this corner and still admit that the Mechanicsville player interfered on their shortstop in the Mechanicsville-Ernston game. If he interfered how did the shortstop scoop up the ball cleanly. Because the ball cleanly is the reason this reporter believes there was no hindrance on the play.

The Mechanicsville player who was supposed to have interfered on the play admits he did so while other managers who witnessed the play and voted in the affirmative, informed this column there was no interference whatsoever.

With Jersey City slumping as they did in the International League playoffs, Pete Pavich stands a brilliant chance of staying with the Skeeters after spring training next baseball season. Giant scouts focused their eyes principally on the Little Giant infielders during the playoffs and none of them performed very well, thus prospective players such as Pavich will receive more than their equal share of attention during the forthcoming baseball season.

pitched a beautiful game against When the football Tigers defeated the Manville gridgers last week, yours truly was more than surprised. Because the locals were not in tip top shape, I believed that they would receive a drubbing but due to superb blocking on the part of all the Inman gridgers, they emerged victorious. Boy, would I like to see the Tigers triumph against the Irvington Camptowners this Sunday. Notice that George Stader, the Tigers ace ground-gainer, scored the lone touchdown on a beautiful end run from the fifteen yard line. I still believe that the Tigers chances this year will be based on the old slogan, "As goes Stader, so goes the Tigers."

As you will remember a few weeks back I stated that the DeSantis team would win the city league championship even though I was rooting otherwise. Well, I am still of the same opinion. They will beat the Tigers.

During the past week, I have noticed that some sentiment has arisen whereby Les Stratton, city league president, has relinquished his duties as executive of the circuit. I for one am in favor of having the team managers approach Stratton and interest him in returning to his post. After all, he has performed his duties thoroughly during the city league schedule and therefore it is only proper that he return to his position and terminate his presidency in glory that he is worthy of.
