

TOWN TONICS

BY THE STAFF

As chairman of the law advisory committee of the Civilian Defense Council of the state, Attorney General David T. Wilentz has advocated the payment of compensation for civilian defense volunteers injured or killed in line of duty.

There is no question of a money grab in legislation of this kind, since the compensation is relatively small, but carrying out the suggestion would probably tend to give every municipality a much more efficient defense organization.

No real American gives a thought to compensation for his efforts in guarding the safety of his community, but the assurance that if he were injured in line of duty he would receive some small compensation, or if killed in line of duty, there would be something for those left behind, would relieve some of the worry any person serving as an air warden auxiliary fireman, plane watcher, or in other like capacities must occasionally feel.

There cannot be too much praise given to all defense workers who took part in the blackout test here Wednesday evening, nor is the cooperation afforded by the general population to be passed over lightly.

However, the majority of these people were adults, who realized the blackout was not an entertainment feature, but preparation for an ordeal that may mean the lives of many of our residents. It is natural that having the benefit of considerable experience and having lived through the "Morgue" explosion, they could realize the necessity of cooperation.

However, the mere lads who make up the personnel of the local Boy Scout Troops cannot be placed in this classification, and yet they did a splendid job, proving to the people of South Amboy, as has probably never been done before, the advantages of Boy Scout training and the big place these lads can play in a defense set up by maintaining a swift dependable set-up.

There is a place for every man, woman and child in America's home defense program, and the local Boy Scouts proved they can perform the same manner.

There could be no better indication that the people of South Amboy are aware of the gravities of the present situation or the need for community unity, than they expressed on Monday evening, by their attendance at the defense rally. The crowd filled the High School Auditorium to capacity, and because of lack of seating capacity, many were forced to stand.

It was a splendid tribute to the leadership of Defense Chairman Paul Milburn and his Defense Committee, when one recalls that a short time ago, before there was any real Defense Organization established here, a similar meeting was called, and thirteen people attended.

Lakewood resident Stanley Washburn, who served with twenty different armies and reported approximately a hundred battles since 1904, should know what he is talking about when he points out the importance to the soldier of letters from the folks at home.

Upon the publication of Washburn's plea, the Secretaries of War and Navy wrote to Washburn that they regard mail from home as equal in importance to the morale of the soldiers as food itself.

Sending a letter to the boys away in the armed service costs scarcely nothing in the way of money and very little of one's time, but it is greatly appreciated by the boys who are away. It's so little to do for the lads who are doing so much.

There is a demand for slogans in this war, since the last war proved they are inspiration builders and serve to keep people's minds on the importance of winning a war.

It seems however that those who are looking for the slogans are not looking in the right place, or are not looking hard enough, for almost daily some good ones make their appearance.

Recently a slogan appeared that has all the necessary ingredients, and it would be well to keep constantly before the public by every means possible, "So live that you can look MacArthur in the eye!"

Laurence Harbor Man In Two Pictures Shown In This Section

By a singular coincidence, Arthur Space of Laurence Harbor, who recently went to Hollywood and made good after no more experience than that gained in amateur theatricals, appears in two different pictures shown in this section with the space of few days.

Space has a prominent part in "The Blue Suede Shoes," a picture starring Wallace Beery to be shown to night and tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre, and he also appears in the famous MGM defense picture "Don't Talk!", to be shown at the Empire Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, April 22 and 23.

Men On Next Call Training For Army To Get Notices Soon

Will Assemble At High School Before Departure For Dix

The next date for induction under Selective Service regulations is set for the second Monday in May. The men that are being notified to report for the trip to Newark for examination as to their qualifications for service will assemble at the local High School Auditorium about eight o'clock, or shortly before, in the morning. Present plans call for taking a train from the local station at 8:30; if necessary arrangements for having the train make a special stop here can be satisfactorily made.

The requisition for men from the State Selective Service headquarters calls for just a few more men than were included in the April call, which was filled last Friday. Included in the list of men who are being sent to the usual induction notice in Board No. 5 area are the following:

Rationing Board Releases Two Autos To Local Residents

Are First of That Type To Come Before Board

The local rationing board released two new automobiles at the weekly meeting Tuesday afternoon on application submitted by local residents. The applications, the first such to come before the board, were filed by William A. Allen, of 265 First street, and Dr. C. W. Hoffman, of Henry street.

The Allen application received the unanimous vote of the board because of the applicant being clearly within the regulations as an engineer engaged exclusively in Defense work for the army. There was a division of opinion among the board members as to an interpretation of the regulations as applying to the other case and the result was a vote that was not unanimous, the first break in the heretofore unbroken record of unanimous decisions by the board.

The board recently approved the applications for two new tires of Max Weiss, 346-348 Bordentown avenue, for car transporting finished and unfinished products of the Weiss factory; G. T. Wilhelm, plumber, of first street, for two new tires; the Marathon Bus Line, Stevens avenue, for four recapped truck tires; and Morton E. Goldsmith, 7 Campbell street, one recapped tire, car used exclusively for delivering newspapers, wholesale.

Rev. C. F. Van Horn Made Commissioner Of Monmouth Presbytery

Will Attend Conference At Milwaukee, Wis.

The Rev. Charles F. Van Horn, pastor of the local First Presbyterian Church was recently elected as Commissioner from the Presbytery of Monmouth to the General Assembly meeting in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The selection of the Rev. Van Horn was made at a meeting of the Presbytery of Monmouth at Pleasant on Tuesday of the previous week.

The general assembly will be held in the western city, May 21 to 28th.

The Rev. Van Horn will complete ten years as the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in this city in October.

George S. Walker Is New Editor Of Madison American

Veteran Newspaper Man Will Revive Recently Established Weekly

George S. Walker, well known in printing and newspaper circles in the county, and who retired from active duty some eighteen months ago, doesn't seem to be able to withstand the lure of printer's ink.

Some weeks ago a newspaper known as the Madison American, was started in Laurence Harbor, but after a few issues it folded up, not because of lack of patronage, but because of incompatibility among the various partners.

The newspaper had hardly had time to announce its demise before Walker was scurrying around hunting up partners to continue its publication. In this he was successful, and a company to be known as the Madison Publication Corporation has been incorporated with the Secretary of State and a continuance of the publication of the Madison American is assured.

Mr. Walker is a former managing editor of the Perth Amboy Daily Chronicle, the Middletown Plain Dealer and the Morning Press to mention just a few of the newspapers with which he has been connected.

Walker's background as a publisher and editor of newspapers, prompts the belief that the Madison American will flourish under his direction, but that no one but George S. Walker will direct the editorial policy of the newspaper.

Wardens of Zone 1 Will Hold Meeting Monday Night

A meeting of all persons connected with the air warden service in Zone 1 has been called for Monday evening in Sacred Heart Hall.

The purpose of this meeting is to bring together all the wardens in this district to perfect an organization, which will have as its objects the improvement, development and enlargement of the Air Warden set-up in this zone, which roughly embraces the First Ward of the city.

It is planned also to inaugurate within a short time, a series of classes in air raid performance instruction to acquaint the wardens with new instructions, and advanced training.

The Zone is divided into three sectors with the following Sector Wardens: Ruben Forgoston, Sector A; Ernest Weber, Sector B; Stanley Jurski, Sector C.

Many Veterans Will Appear In High School Show

Considerable New Material, Also Reports For Rehearsals

This week rehearsals got under way in earnest for the Hoffman High School Minstrel and Revue. The soloists and chorus are practicing daily under the direction of Miss Marion Bertram, and the emcees and jokers are under the direction of Mr. William Kurtz, while Mr. Thomas Vail supervises the specialty numbers.

Six veterans of last year's minstrel will be used as a nucleus for the new show. Among them are Emma Lear, Helen Kautel, Pearl Szabolsky, Emily Bryant, Evelyn Conway and Ethel Henry. Pearl Szabolsky will again perform in a comedy skit, and Evelyn Conway will entertain with a song and dance, "Wee Willie Munch". Max Kurtz and Tom Gleason are veteran emcees.

Material for this year's production is being gathered by the Hoffman High School Minstrel and Revue. Among them are the following soloists: Cecelia Wlechowicz, Dorothy MacDonald, Bonnie Burke, Doris Payne, Doris King and others. Joe Klinek, another newcomer, looks like a sure fire end-man. Willie Munck, Jane Burkard and Lily Hoffman, trio of senior syncretists get together in a plantation number "Bonnie Burke" and "Ruth Davis" western and Clara Archacki entertains with the piano accordion.

The presentation will take place on May 1, and the proceeds will be used to defray expenses of the annual class trip to Washington.

Salvage Committee Gets Almost Half Ton Of License Plates

Another Collection Of Tin On Wednesday

Chairman Louis Borlund of the local Salvage Committee, has revealed that almost half a ton of metal in bicycle and automobile license plates was deposited in the box the committee placed at the corner of Broadway and John street.

Mr. Borlund announced also, that in the future the Salvage Committee will not undertake the reclamation of paper, and has turned this work over to the Salvation Army and the Boy Scouts.

There will be another collection of tin on Wednesday, and local residents are asked to place the tin in containers on the curb for collection.

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, it has been brought to my attention that a critical shortage of workers exists in Northern New Jersey's vitally important and rapidly increasing war production industry; and

Whereas, surveys made by the United States Employment Service and the Area Labor Supply Committee of the War Production Board reveal that sufficient male workers cannot be found and the existing force of productive manpower is being depleted rapidly by the increasing needs of the military forces; and

Whereas, the preservation of our freedoms, the protection of our country, the effectiveness of our troops and the achievement of victory for our nation and its Allies in our war against the forces of Germany, Japan and Italy, depend so greatly upon a continuance and increase of our production of the elements of warfare.

Now, therefore, do I, Robert A. Casey, Mayor of the City of South Amboy, County of Middlesex, State of New Jersey, proclaim that it is the patriotic duty of every healthy, qualified woman between the ages of 18 and 35 years, who can be spared from her household duties, without detriment to her family, to render such service as she can in our war of production, and that this service may be most effectively rendered by all such women registering their skills, their willingness to take training that will fit them for productive work, and their willingness to work in war production at the nearest office of the United States Employment Service, located at 347 Main Street, Perth Amboy.

Given under my hand and seal, this 14th day of April, 1942.

Mayor of South Amboy.

City's First Blackout Wednesday Declared Success by Mayor Casey

Charles H. Muirheid Former Mayor Dies; Was 92 Years Old

South Amboy's first blackout, staged Wednesday night, was pronounced a complete success by Defense Chairman, Paul Milburn and Mayor Robert A. Casey. The only hitch in the plans was beyond the control of the local organization and consisted of the failure to receive the second or "blue" warning signal, which evidently neglected to notify this city. Notwithstanding this handicap, the local blackout went into effect as soon as the final alarm was received. The blackout signal was received here several minutes after the blackout went into effect in communities to the north, at this was according to the schedule outlined by the state.

No sooner had the signal begun to sound than lights began disappearing and by the time the last blast was sounded, the city was plunged into complete darkness.

For fifteen minutes the city was in pitch darkness and almost a death-like silence prevailed. Occasionally the tones of a radio turned up louder than the rest could be heard. Dogs barked vigorously for a time but soon they quieted down. Only the occasional exchange of brief greetings between air wardens, special police and other defense workers who met on the streets could be heard. For fifteen minutes the uncanny silence prevailed, giving the impression that civilization had suddenly come to an end, and everything living had disappeared from the face of the earth.

Then the "all-clear" signal broke through the silence and just as quickly as it had lapsed into death-like silence, the city came to life again. People who had been indoors came outside and greeted each other, exchanging their reactions on the blackout. Lights on the streets and in homes flashed on once again, and cars which had drawn to the curb and remained stationary with their lights out, moved again on their way with lights on.

Even those who had been closest to the organization of the Defense Council were amazed at the success of the different branches of the set-up; and the cool manner in which those working went about their duties as though they were veterans of a score of air raids and had become thoroughly accustomed to their duties through a long period of actual service.

Chairman Paul Milburn supervised the activities from police headquarters in City Hall, which was completely blacked out. At police headquarters, where the warning signals were received and contact with state headquarters was maintained, were stationed, besides Mr. Milburn, Chief of Police Quinlan and John Gleason, in charge of the auxiliary police. Also here were members of the Women's Motor Corps, who assisted in the handling of telephone communications. Vincent Higgins, in charge of all Red Cross services, also supervised the operation of the various units under his command from the Police Headquarters. Here too, was located the headquarters for the Boy Scouts under the direction of Floyd McKenna. The Scouts maintained an auxiliary communication system, and their work drew forth the special praise of all who observed their work. Equipped with bicycles, they were stationed at strategic points in the city, close to air wardens and special police, and they carried messages from these workers to the headquarters with almost unbelievable speed.

The Air Warden headquarters was set up in the City Collector's office and was under the supervision of Chief Warden William Nelikorn, who was assisted by Charles Eppinger, Frank Kabosky and Councilman Anton Walzak, who in addition to assisting Nelikorn in the supervision of the direction of Warden's activities, maintained large plot maps which showed the location of each warden.

Special police, shortly before the blackout, went quietly to their posts, and took up patrol work. The police department had previously worked out a patrolling system which covered the entire city and the special police augmented by practically the entire regular police force, maintained a complete patrol of the city all during the blackout.

At the headquarters of the Red Cross Chapter in Wilhelm's Hall on First Street, the members of the First Aid and Safety Squad stood ready with both ambulances to answer any call received over the special wire from police headquarters to the Red Cross. Here were located also, awaiting call if needed, the other workers in the Red Cross set-up, except those whose post, in the event of emergency, would be the Emergency Hospital on Augusta street. Here too, a squad of Red Cross workers were on duty.

The firemen too were out in force, prepared for any call that might be made on their services. Fire house doors were open and engines were ready for instant call to service. At some houses the engines were moved into the street so that seconds would be saved this way in the event of emergency.

At the High School, the Canteen Service under the direction of Tustin arranged a set-up as it would take place in the event of a real emergency. The members of the unit prepared their menu as they would during an emergency and carried food to defense workers when the blackout was over.

Superintendent of Schools Tustin took advantage of the blackout to test the precautionary measures and plans for the protection of the property and occupants of the High School.

Following the local blackout test, Defense Chairman Paul Milburn yesterday morning issued the following statement in which he praised the local defense workers and the public at large for their co-operation in making the test a success:

South Amboy, April 16th, 1942

To the Citizens of South Amboy:

South Amboy's initial blackout on Wednesday night was virtually 100 per cent perfect. The success was made possible by the fine co-operation of every one of you citizens.

A little over a month ago, in an open letter we asked for unity and co-operation in our local Defense Program. We felt at that time if the people were told what to do, how to do it, and when to do it, after being told the reason for doing it, they would co-operate. That has always been characteristic of Americans.

For the past five weeks you people have joined whole heartedly in demonstrating that South Amboy will take second place to no other community. Your Civilian Defense Council set a fast pace during that time in order to be prepared for the test blackout. Several times we wondered if the pace would prove too fast, but on last Monday evening, when we saw Hoffman's High School auditorium jammed with over 500 eager volunteer workers we were absolutely sure that our part in the area blackout would be successful.

The blackout on Wednesday night did not take desperate or heroic action on the part of any individual, but it did reveal that we can act in unity, that we have something in common, and that we can follow the lead of those in authority. It showed us signs of the revival of the old American spirit, that spirit in which we show the capacity to adjust ourselves to whatever conditions may arise during the progress of the war.

For those responsible for the success of the test blackout we have nothing but praise. The job was well done.

We now look ahead to several more "jobs" that must be done. One of our major tasks now will be to properly train the volunteer workers who have signified their willingness to be of service. A complete schedule of classes will be worked out within the next two weeks.

Another project that must be carried out is the establishment of a control board, that will enable us to better co-ordinate all our forces in case of an emergency. A special committee starts work on this next Wednesday.

A third project is a complete survey of the entire community work on the plans for this have already been started. A decontamination center, in addition to the Emergency Hospital is being planned.

Another important item is that of securing additional volunteers. There is a committee in charge of this matter which will take part in the city-wide survey, but in the meantime, volunteers who want to become a part of the Defense organization, and start immediately in the instruction classes may register by calling in person at either the Police Headquarters at City Hall or the Defense Council Headquarters in the Y. M. C. A.

Let me again thank every citizen for your fine co-operation.

PAUL MILBURN.

LALA PALOOZA — Vincent Is an In-and-Out-er

LOOKING BACK
22 YEARS

Issue of April 17, 1920

Probably ninety per cent of the railroad workers in the P. R. R. yard in this city, consisting of engineers, firemen, trainmen and yardmen, have joined the big strike that seems to have spread like a whirlwind through the United States. This action has brought the shipment of coal and other freight in this city practically to a standstill. Several train loads of cattle were brought to this city by volunteer crews and loaded on barges for shipment to New York. Several barges were loaded and towed to destination, but finally the crews of the tug boats refused to move the barges. The beef companies then sent large trucks to this city and the cattle are being removed by them. Some of the cattle from neglect are starving.

Meetings are being held day and night by men who claim to be taking a vacation only, but under closed doors and what proceedings are taking place are not known.

Groups of men are seen congregated at various points about town throughout the day and night discussing the merits of their action, but as soon as a non-interested person approaches their talking ceases. On Thursday a number of students from Princeton College, who volunteered their services to assist in the moving of trains, arrived in this city and were put to work as trainmen in the P. R. R. yard.

"Back to God's Country" is the title of the seven reel monster feature to be shown at the Empire Theatre Thursday evening, April 22. This is the same picture that played in New York City and also in Perth Amboy where it made a great hit. A Larry Semon comedy will also be shown making a splendid performance. There will be two shows as usual.

The performance is staged for the benefit of the Senior Class of South Amboy High School.

The employees of the Raritan River Railroad, being fully satisfied with their condition, did not go out on strike. While the work on this road is at a standstill on account of the strike, the company is keeping the men on full pay. The men of this road should certainly appreciate this action on the part of the company.

The regular meeting of the Edward I. Edwards Democratic Club was held in Walsh's Hall Thursday evening with an unusually large attendance. The greater part of the meeting was taken up by the Entertainment Committee and the Special Committee in reporting the full plans for the Edward I. Edwards Democratic Club's first annual ball which will be held in the High School auditorium on Wednesday evening, April 28.

Mayor Gordon, as chairman of the Special Committee to invite Governor Edwards met him and he has promised to be here for the ball.

"When the Clouds Roll By," featuring Douglas Fairbanks, will be presented at the Empire Theatre Thursday, April 29 under the auspices of the mail carriers. It is a magnificent production, one sure to delight the audience. A two-reel comedy will also be shown.

It is said that the police committee of the City Council is considering the advisability of stationing a special motorcycle policeman on Stevens avenue on Saturday, Sundays and holidays during the summer months to regulate the traffic on that thoroughfare.

With an attendance of twenty-five past councilors, Joel Parker Council No. 69, Jr. O.U.A.M. won the attendance banner "hands down" at the meeting of the Middlesex County Past Councilors' Association held at Plainsboro Monday evening. The local council, having won the banner six times straight, thus becomes the winner of a set of ivory gavels, which will probably be presented at the next meeting of the Association. The local past councilors went to Plainsboro in one of the Banker buses, accompanied by several private cars. There were sixteen visitors present from the local Council.

Secretary George A. Kress has issued a call for special meeting of the Edward I. Edwards Democratic Club to be held in Walsh's Hall on Thursday evening, April 22, when matters of importance will be brought forward. Every member is desired present.

Practice has already been held by the South Amboy High School baseball squad in preparation for the coming season which is expected to be the greatest in the history of the school. Fourteen games have already been booked by Manager of Athletics Raymond C. Dowdell, who is endeavoring to schedule eighteen games.

The season will be launched Tuesday, April 20th, when the varsity meets the Jamesburg High School. The first home game will be staged on the YMCA diamond on Tuesday, May 4th, the Jamesburg combination being the opponents of the local sluggers.

A PROUD RECORD

The Richmond, Virginia, News Leader recently paid the railroad industry a well-earned tribute for the superb job it has done. "After 1929," said the editorial, most of the railroads showed a power of adaptation of which some had not been thought capable. Complacent old men who were thinking in terms of 1890 were retired. Vigorous realists took charge of the lines. An aggressive majority, from 1930 onward, fought a gallant battle for survival. They had not won that battle when the war came, but they were preparing for the tests the war brought. The rail carriers, so to say, were in training and were mobilizing before the country was.

"Magnificently they have met the calls on them. Precisely what those calls were, it is not permissible at this time to say; but when the facts can be made public after the war, the people of the United States will be amazed. Of all the large industrial organizations that have been tested thus far in the war, the American railroads have come closer to perfect performance in the face of unimaginable demands, than any have. A proud record they have made—a record that should never be mentioned otherwise than with gratitude to the executives and to the army of workers."

We know what this means to the country. The train of cars on tracks takes raw materials from places where they are brought from the ground to places where they are made into instruments of war. The train of cars on tracks brings together the parts, the sub-assemblies and the final assemblies of the engines of war, and then takes them and the troops who are to use them to places where they are needed. The train of cars on tracks makes possible the rapid building of vast plants and camps in isolated places. The train of cars on tracks makes shipbuilding possible thousands of miles from where steel is made.

This is a war of movement—and the train of cars on tracks is the backbone of that movement. The Iron Horse is one of this nation's greatest warriors—even as, in happier days, he is one of the nation's greatest agencies of peacetime service.

WAKE UP, AMERICA — IT'S LATE!

An editorial in the New York World-Telegram says in part: "The nation needs to awaken to the full gravity of the peril that confronts it."

"Production Director Donald Nelson appeals for vastly increased industrial output on a 24-hour, seven-day basis—168 hours a week. Maximum production, in short."

"Can we get it?"

"Not until we quit thinking in terms of less work for more money."

"Not while farmer politicians are more interested in higher prices than raising more essentials."

"Not while government bureaus—created to meet a depression emergency that is ended—continue to grab for themselves money needed for armaments."

"Not while an army of Federal press agents clamor to promote and perpetuate activities that have no present need or value."

"Not while Congressmen try to put useless canals and river schemes and take up the time of defense officials clamoring for factories and contracts as if war were a great gravy train."

"Not while the life-and-death need for uninterrupted production is used as a weapon to put over the closed shop."

"Not while a man can't be employed on an army project or in a war plant until he pays $20 or $50 or more to a labor racketeer."

"Not while pressure blocs clamor for higher benefits, bounties and pensions."

This is a recital of conditions we all are familiar with, and which every last mother's son of us should help correct now—not next week, or next month, but now! Now!

THE DOCTOR'S PART IN WAR

"American medicine anticipated this present need," says a booklet released by the National Physicians' Committee for the Extension of Medical Service. "It has established a new place for itself—through service."

One very fine example of that is found in the response of American medicine to the needs of the Selective Service System. As soon as the act was passed, physicians volunteered their services to man the examining boards in every area and every state. Not one cent of recompense was asked or received. Today, with the army expanding at an ever-increasing rate, thousands upon thousands of doctors are giving more and more of their working time to the government—without thought of any financial return.

Still another example is found in the Medical Procurement and Assignment Service, which was established by Presidential order in October, 1941. This service is completely representative of American medicine. It has established headquarters for sub-committees in each of the nine military corps areas of the nation. These corps areas are supplemented by state committees in every state. As a result, organized medicine is in a position to meet our rapidly expanding military medical needs, and at the same time provide for adequate civilian health and medical services.

The importance of the doctor in wartime cannot be exaggerated. We may have an army in excess of 8,000,000 men if the war last—and each of those men must be given the finest possible medical care if he is to be physically fit. Other millions will be working, often under exposure to severe weather conditions, in defense industry—and the safeguarding of their health is absolutely vital to the war effort.

American medicine does its job with tireless enthusiasm and astonishing effectiveness.

St. Mary's Church News

Charity

The spirit of Christ is not to be acquired by a mere reading of the gospels, but rather by an assimilation of His teachings to our very souls. Thus as members of Christ's Mystical Body we participate in His life and our souls become Christlike. To take unto ourselves the book of the gospels is not sufficient that we may be identified with Christ. Faith alone without good works will not avail unto salvation. We must "put on" Christ by participating in the life of His Mystical Body on earth. This opportunity is afforded us in a very practical and living way today as we inaugurate the appeal for Catholic Charities in the Archdiocese of New York.

If our Blessed Saviour were 2,000 years distant from us, if He were as far from us as Bethlehem we might almost despair of ever acquiring a knowledge and love of Him. But Christ is divine and He is living in our midst today as He lived and walked amongst the suffering and the poor of Galilee. He is living in His Mystical Body as truly today as the day He was nestled against His Mother's bosom at Nazareth. His spirit is evidenced by all who, today, participating in His life, love justice and hate iniquity and who give expression to their belief by an exemplification of charity.

St. Paul reminds us, that "Charity is patient, is kind; charity envieth not; dealeth not perversely; is not puffed up; is not ambitious; seeketh not her own; is not provoked to anger; thinketh no evil; rejoiceth not in iniquity; but rejoiceth in the truth; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. Charity never faileth away. And now there remain faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity." Charity is love and love of its very essence combines in a mysterious partnership joy and sorrow. The joy that comes from our being charitable is a joy that is rooted in sacrifice which springs from the highest of all high motives—our love for God. Not for humanitarian purposes, nor for earthly rewards is charity to neighbor practiced. The reward and the motive for charity is God Himself. All of today's troubles, pain and war arises from the simple fact that charity has been rooted out of the hearts of so many and in its place seeds of hatred and selfishness have been planted. The right order of things has been perverted. Peace has been destroyed first in hearts and then in the world order.

All of the good things of our day are the endeavors of Christian living and are the fruit of charity born of a belief in God and a love for our neighbor for the sake of God. Today we are called upon as followers of Christ to be militant Catholics and to exemplify our faith by our living. The martyrs of old by their death and blood spread the faith, for "the blood of martyrs is the seed of Christians." We, today, who are incorporated in Christ's Mystical Body, the Church, are called upon by the Archbishop Francis J. Spellman, to give expression to our belief in Christ by extending the hand of charity to the least of His brethren. It is a noble and a glorious thing to die for the faith, but it is also equally noble and glorious to live for the faith. Perhaps, it is harder to survive the famines of Europe than it is to give up the ghost in these days of strife. Likewise it may be harder at times to live for the faith than to die for it. At any rate we have today an opportunity to place the emphasis on true Christian living by an exemplification of the greatest of all virtues—Charity.

Lots of people are asking: "Is there any danger of a coal shortage?"

Our answer to that is "yes and no." In the mines of

For this reason the U. S. Government has broadcast this message:

Do this now and you need not worry over coal shortages next winter.

Mayor Requests That Women Enlist For War Work

Are Needed For All Types of Work

A call to the colors for women between the ages of 18 and 35 was issued today by Mayor Robert A. Casey in a proclamation which urged that they enlist promptly for service on the industrial front.

Acting in co-operation with the United States Employment Service and the Area Labor Supply Committee of the War Production Board, Mayor Casey urged that all women who can be spared from their households without detriment to their families register immediately at the local office of the United States Employment Service, located at 347 Maple street, Perth Amboy.

It was explained that the Employment Service will refer the registrants to jobs in war production or to training courses which will fit them for such work. Mayor Casey said he had been informed that there are numerous immediate openings for jobs or training and that it has become necessary to build up a reservoir of woman power from which to draw as more and more men are called to military service and more and more jobs come open through expansion of the war production program.

While the opening call was limited to women under 36, Mayor Casey said a call for women above that may be expected within a few months. Typists, clerks and stenographers are so badly needed by the Government agencies, including the United States Employment Service, the Mayor said, that they will be urged to civil service examinations rather than to go into actual productive work.

Explaining that many women had told him they feared to enroll for factory work because they know nothing of machine operations, Mayor Casey said he is informed that almost any woman who can operate household machinery, such as washing machines, vacuum cleaners, or sewing machines will be successful in actual war production work.

"As a matter of fact," the Mayor added, "many industries already have announced that they are finding women at least equal to men in many types of production."

Commenting on the vital necessity of women preparing immediately for industrial jobs to produce implements of warfare, Mayor Casey said: "We simply can't let our boys down. We can't have them crying on anger and dismay when their efforts are rendered futile by inadequate support."

"We can't let our country down. We can't abandon our freedoms of worship, of speech, of assembly, of citizenship. This is a total war. We are pitted against the most ruthless of destructive forces, determined to subjugate and enslave the world—including us. We must lick them and the way to lick them is to out produce and out-fight them. More than 100,000 additional workers will be needed in the war plants of Northern New Jersey within the next six months. There just aren't enough men to fill the jobs. There just aren't enough skilled men or women. So we have to train the workers—both men and women. But I want to emphasize that war of production is becoming a woman's war, and without the patriotic support of our women in the producing areas, our men are sadly handicapped and our safety is seriously jeopardized."

Samuel Stock Reports Satisfactory Bond Drive Results

Final Reports On Payroll Plan Soon To Be Rendered

After viewing preliminary reports received, Samuel Stock, chairman of the local bond committee to push the payroll allotment plan in local industries, yesterday predicted that when the canvass is completed, it will show that every employee in local industries has signed up.

"I am of the opinion," declared Mr. Stock, "that when the final reports are turned in, they will reveal that history has repeated itself, and South Amboy, as it did during the last World War," far exceeded the performance expected of it."

With the greater part of their canvass completed, the members of the various committees were this week finishing up their work in preparation for a final report.

Chairman Stock declared that the entire task will probably be completed within a week, when a meeting to review the results will take place and committee chairmen will render their final reports. The aim of the committee is to sign up every employee of local industry on a pledge to dedicate ten percent of their income to the purchase of defense bonds, and Mr. Stock reported that already several organizations have reported every employee signing a ten per cent payroll pledge.

Prevents Drying Hair

To prevent hair and scalp from dryness which usually comes from extra exposure to the summer sun, try this treatment: Between oil shampoos, apply just a touch of ointment to your scalp, parting the hair carefully, rubbing the ointment into the scalp using just enough to moisten the tip of one finger. Be sure not to get ointment on the hair. Once every four days or so is often enough for this.

There are 170,000 air raid wardens, auxiliary firemen, plane watchers and other civilian volunteers who would come under the act. Tentatively proposed are $20 weekly payments for incapacitation by injury in defense work and a flat $7,500 death payment, regardless of dependents.

The committee arranging the meeting consists of Miss Dorothy Stults, Miss Adelaide Bowen, Miss Dolores Newman and Miss Thelma Stratton.

Shampoos

Shampoos are formulated entirely for efficient cleansing but when they are chosen correctly, they can also help to relieve dryness or to counteract oiliness of a scalp, just as soaps are designed to correct such conditions of the face. But the best shampoo preparation in the world won't give you a gleaming auricle unless you use plenty of it. The difference between a dingy mop and one that dazzles is often that third soaping and some more "elbow-grease." To make all three soapings lather like mad and to strip dirt with a vengeance, get movement into water, as when you use a spray.

Mesa Verde Cliff Dwellers

Southwestern United States abounds with evidences of pre-Columbian Indians. Most important ruins of American cliff dwellings are found in Mesa Verde National park, a 77-square-mile area in southwestern Colorado. Cliff Palace, largest of the ruins, is located in a huge cave, hundreds of feet above the canyon floor. It is no palace, but a community house containing more than 200 rooms and 22 sacred or ceremonial chambers.

Dog Biscuit Like Bone

Carlton Ellis patented a dog biscuit shaped like a bone and made over $100,000 on the idea.

BLACKOUT WEDNESDAY WAS A SUCCESS

School building. Palls of sand were placed in the halls, with shovels for its handling. Hose was connected to faucets and laid along the floor of the hall for instant use. The preparations here went to the point of the placing of a ladder so that instant access could be had to the cupola on the high school building.

When the "all clear" signal sounded and lights went on again, Air Wardens and special police began reporting to City Hall headquarters and a careful general report was compiled from the individual reports handed in by the police and air wardens.

The test was observed from several points about the city by observers previously appointed, and Mayor Robert A. Casey personally observed from the roof of the South Amboy Memorial Hospital.

Following the blackout, Mayor

Casey said, "I am highly pleased with the results of the blackout and it exceeded my most optimistic expectations. I felt sure that the organization General Chairman Milburn had set up would function efficiently when called into service, but when it was performed as a veteran unit that had been in operation for a year or more, rather than one which was facing the first test of its efficiency.

All defense workers merit high praise for their performance and the general public too, should be commended for the splendid cooperation given the defense organization. One indication of this cooperation is the absence of an accident of any nature during the blackout, which is a record few municipalities can boast of.

I trust all will continue this good work, maintaining their interest and lending their cooperation, so that in the event of a real emergency South Amboy will be prepared."

PIPE DREAMS

We note people constantly passing unusual things about town nights, without even noticing.

For instance, many people are every night passing the porch of a certain Second Ward house without stopping to think that there is always a milk bottle on it at night, but no one in the family drinks milk and they are not the customers of any milk man.

The boy friend of one of the women in the house leaves notes in the milk bottle when he comes home from shift work at the "H-3" plant.

There seems to be no need to worry that because of the shortage of rubber, gasoline or anything else, people who live in town will get out of touch with Nature.

After searching around for a suitable place to get dandelions for wine making, two well known Bordentown avenue residents discovered just what they wanted, and of all places, on Broadway back of the sign board on the John street corner.

One must smile as he thinks back to a few years ago when there was a great deal of talk about annexing Sayreville, and it was told how it would be a big job and would require, among other things, a special act of the legislature.

Now the war has made the bringing of a portion of Sayreville into South Amboy, a simple matter that will be handled by two or three men. It has been decided to take the sand for combating incendiary bombs from our water works property, which is located within the boundaries of Sayreville.

There were probably more dates arranged by local boys Wednesday night than ever before in the history of the city. The boys like the idea of being compelled to put the lights out and pull up alongside a country road for fifteen minutes. They're hoping the blackout wasn't a success and another one will be necessary.

Probably he reasons there is so little interest in politics nowadays in town, is because people are more concerned about what will be dropped on their heads from above, than they are about who will stab them in the back.

The council meeting at least two council members will be absent. They may go on for some time, those inside who have studied what went on at the last council meeting predict.

Some of the boys will be good infantrymen when they take them in to the army, they are becoming so accustomed to walking.

Take for instance, the "Street Commissioner of Old Bridge." He's spending considerable time walking around a girl's house in town, but she's someone else's girl.

A Broadway resident, whose name is the same as the name of one of the days of the week, recently attended a farewell party held in Old Bridge.

He gloriously celebrated the occasion downing a considerable amount of "glory water" and soon he passed completely out of circulation, slumped in a chair.

The bounced him around, pushed him around, and turned him around, but couldn't bring him too.

Then somebody got what they thought was a happy idea, and walking over to the piano, played the "Star Spangled Banner." Hearing the music, the local jumped to his feet, took off his hat, and stood at attention, when the last bar was played, slumped down in his seat and promptly passed out again.

Tuesday afternoon two cops were observed on Augustat street, making the dog survey that is destined to rid the city of stray dogs and keep dogs not on the end of a leash, but off the street.

The cops making the stray dog survey had a little companion walking with them as they made their rounds, it was a stray dog.

Maybe no one will ever find out all the funny things people in town are doing nowadays because of the way.

For instance, there's the case of the local bus driver's wife, who lives in the Fourth Ward. Tuesday afternoon she rushed over to Perth Amboy to buy a suit case, then rushed back and packed it with her clothing.

Even though Wednesday night's affair was only a test, she is suffering from Morgan explosionitis and remembers what happened during that big blow up, when she rushed out of town without an auxiliary clothing supply, and when she sent her brother back to town for more raiment, he grabbed two left foot shoes.

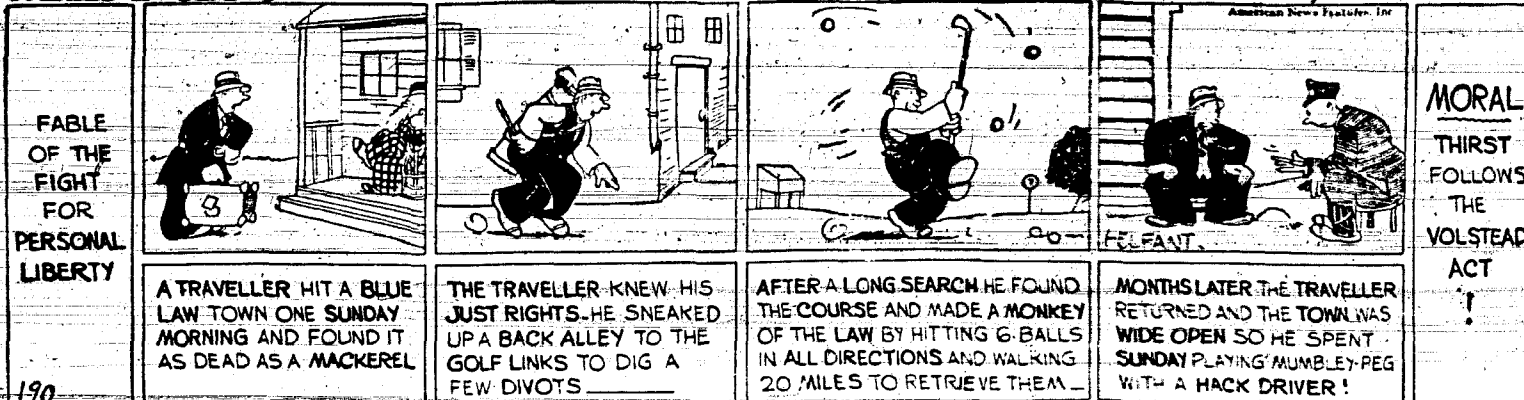

This time, if something happens she's O.K. so far as clothes are concerned, for she plans to grab the suit case on the way out the front door.

If you see a former ball player, who used to be a horse at playing first base walking around nowadays, tell yourself, the lad is in training and you will be right.

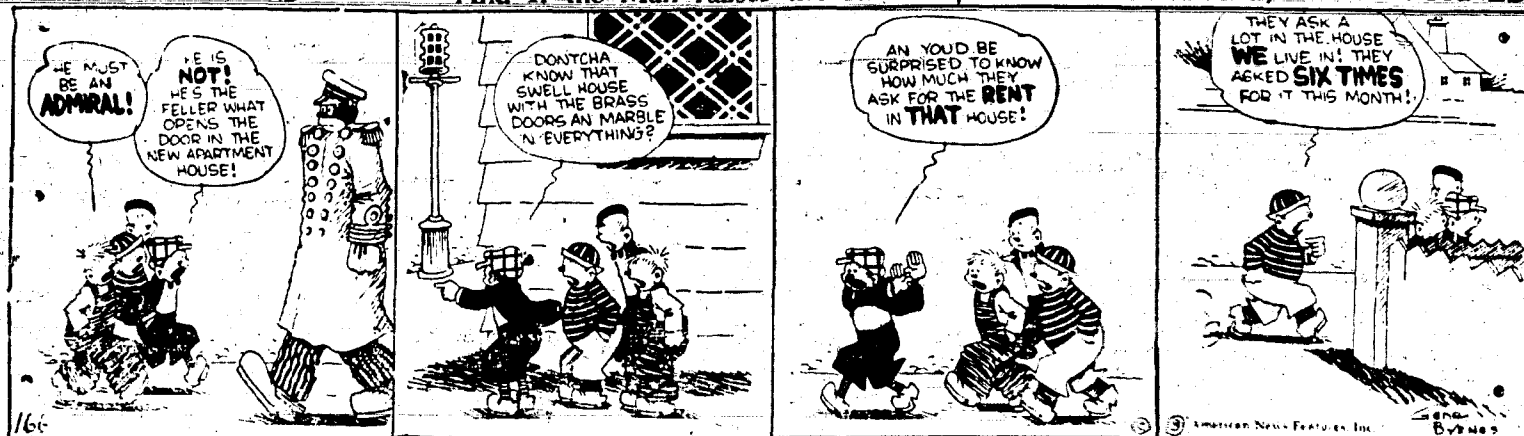

He recently got into the shiftless or working for years in the film plant on shifts.

He figures now that with all the young fellows in the army, an old man like him has a good chance of getting back into the limelight.

REG'LAR FEELERS

And If the Man Raises the Rent Pop Can't

By GENE BYRNES

The woman she was visiting disappeared and she finally decided something might have happened to her, so she started investigating. Her sister finally found her down in the cellar cleaning off the cellar ceiling with a vacuum cleaner. She cleaned so thoroughly that she took part of the plaster out during the cleaning up process.

Starting at the bottom may be all right, but it shouldn't be done when one has visitors.

If you don't like your drugist, and think he is a mean old thing, just walk into the drug-store and ask him for a tube of tooth paste without giving him an old tube in exchange. He'll get a three year term in jail and during those three years you can walk around telling yourself, "I got revenge, I got revenge."

These tooth paste tube regulations are really something though—if you are accustomed to using tooth powder and want to switch to tooth paste, you can't do it because you have no tooth paste tube to turn in.

The council meeting at least two council members will be absent. They may go on for some time, those inside who have studied what went on at the last council meeting predict.

Some of the boys will be good infantrymen when they take them in to the army, they are becoming so accustomed to walking.

He figures now that with all the young fellows in the army, an old man like him has a good chance of getting back into the limelight.

A former fire chief playing solitaire, and getting all worried because he had no more moves. Then along comes a girl, who walks over to him and points out a couple of plays he could make but missed up on.

The fire chief of Pier 18 Jersey City, got in bad recently because of two women he didn't know, and a baby.

The two women stopped at the this station where he was working and since gasoline stations were closed and they needed some water for the car they were hiding in, he thought he would put on the galant act, and going upstairs to the proprietor's house, he picked up a pan, filled it with water and filled the radiator of the car.

He got an intensive bawling out when the proprietor's wife discovered he had used the baby's bath tub to carry the water in to the car.

A Raritan street resident recently came home with packages in his hand and a package on himself. Being a great pipe smoker, he had his packages came home and in endeavoring to get into the kitchen, he tripped on the sill and his pipe flew out of his mouth. A long search failed to reveal the place where the pipe had landed, but the next morning when he opened the refrigerator he discovered where the pipe was.

It had been in the refrigerator on cold storage all night.

There was a touching romantic scene in a "Hill" beeratorium one recent night when the "Street Commissioner of Old Bridge" was in there and a certain girl wanted to show what she thought of him by kissing him before the boys.

He was so short however, and she was so tall that the only way the problem could be solved was for her to pick him up and place him on the penny weighing machine so that he would be close enough to her for the osculating operations.

Keep Your Telephone Always Ready for Use

EVERY WEEK over 2,000 telephones in New Jersey are temporarily out of service—not because there is anything mechanically wrong with them—but because the receiver has been left off the hook (or is held up by a book or other object that prevents the switch hook from going all the way down).

When this happens, these telephones register "temporarily out-of-order" at the central office. No one can reach them until the trouble is corrected, which may be a few minutes or even hours.

Today, keeping every telephone always ready for service is highly important, for the telephone is being used to a record-breaking extent to help speed our nation's war effort.

Komar A. A. Team Takes First Place Honors For Season in "Y" Women's League

The Women's Bowling League of the Y.M.C.A. finished in a hair-raising win-up at the local alleys last Friday night with the Komar A. A. taking first place honors. It was a fighting finish with four teams furnishing the principle excitement and an alleged error in score keeping that wasn't noticed until the closing minutes of the matches, furnished a complication that took a special meeting of the league to iron out.

When the final matches started, the line-up showed the Littell's Blue team needing to take all three games, the K. C. team, in order to tie for first place with the Komar A. A. The Komar A. A. was bowling the Komar S. C. needed all three games to hold first place, could lose the league championship by losing a single game provided the Littell's took all three from the K. C.'s.

The Komar girls, both sets of them, put on an exciting match with everybody trying with everything they had to get the best of their respective opponents. The match was so interesting that the other teams gave too much attention to what the Komars were doing, at the expense of perfection of their own games.

In the end the Littell's team members were more than a little bit surprised to find they'd lost a game to the other hand, the Komar A. A. to tie for first place honors. On the other hand, the Komar A. A. came out ahead by a narrow margin in their match with the Komar S. C.

A meeting of the league was held immediately after the matches during which it was decided not to hold a dinner to mark the close of the league season, as had at first been contemplated. The meeting also considered the scoring discrepancy and for some reason or other the usual score cards furnished the newspapers were mislaid or otherwise disposed of, so details as to team scores and individual records are missing from the accounts this week.

A list of prize winners, averages, etc., is being prepared by the league secretary and a copy of it will probably be available when the figures are all worked out.

Mike Piskin Heads Card At Highland Park

Holder of Two Victories Over Red Cochran To Battle Phil Norman

HIGHLAND PARK—Mike Piskin, the Freehold farmer, who holds two victories over Red Cochran, world's welterweight title holder, headlines Promoter Benny Rubin's boxing show at the Masonic Hall tonight when he battles Phil Norman, New York City Negro, in what promises to be the best fistie scuffle of the waning indoor season.

Fresh from a spectacular 10-round victory over Gene Pinter, the Blond Tiger from McAdoo, Pa., and well on the way to crash the front ranks of welterweights, Piskin will find no sinecure in his six round-tit with Norman, but the Freehold Puncher, whose fistie career has been impeded by injuries and illness, is now at a peak of fighting perfection and his recent performances augur well for a victory tonight.

Twice in the past five years Piskin has beaten Cochran, who lifted the world's welterweight crown from Fritz Sivic of Pittsburgh last summer in Newark. The Freehold puncher gained a 10-round decision over the present world's champion in April, 1937, and two years later he repeated his earlier victory over the same route. Both victories over Cochran were in Newark.

Piskin has beaten some of the best welterweights around but untimely injuries, coupled with sickness, slowed his climb into the limelight, which he is about to crash. One of Piskin's most impressive conquests of the ring came Friday night when he ended the 15 bout winning streak of Pinter, who had lost only two fights in New Jersey.

Although short on reach and weight, the Freehold scrapper gave Pinter a thorough boxing lesson at Perth Amboy last Friday when he battered his taller rival with punishing body blows. The Freeholder took six rounds, lost three and one was even.

Norman, who has beaten Slugger White and fought a draw with Kid McCoy, will be making his third appearance in the local ring. He will be making his third appearance in the local ring. He will be making his third appearance in the local ring.

Two other six round bouts threatening to steal the show will pit Ralph Griffin of Newark against Gregory Hidalgo of Puerto Rico and Frank Ahearn of Jersey City against Gus Johnson, negro heavyweight from Plainfield. The latter six is a return match in which Ahearn, victor in his last 14 fights, will attempt to make amends for the three-round knockout administered by Johnson in Jersey City last year.

Frankie Van, of Bayonne, who put Tony Pappa of Old Bridge on the shelf for several weeks with a cut over his left eye, will meet Joe Sneider of Dunellen in the top four-round tiff. Bernie Campbell and Bill Eickhardt, Morristown fighters, will take on Joe Griffo of Newark and Osoiah Glover of Trenton in the other four round fights.

The first bout will go on at 8:30 p. m.

Newark Bears Expect To Retain International League Championship

Although the season has just opened, the champion Newark Bears will be put to their first strenuous test Sunday afternoon at Ruppert Stadium when they meet the club they will probably have to beat to retain the International League pennant, the Montreal Royals. In a doubleheader, the Royals who beat the Bears in the playoffs last year on a bad hop in the last inning of the final game, have been greatly improved by a flock of players who featured Brooklyn's spring training campaign this year.

Thanks to the development of several young pitchers, the Bears appear as strong as they were last year. They have Gene Corbett, the leading hitter in the league; Frank Kelleher, the home run king of 1941; George Struwick, the outstanding baserunner; and Heeny Majeski and Bud Metheny, who always been 300 hitters in the Int-Loop, to worry opposing pitchers.

In addition there will be Lord Christopher, a powerful slugger and great fielder from Kansas City, between catcher and pitcher in the outfield. With Struwick back at second Corbett will play first this year and Majeski will again cover third. The shortstop position is still undecided with Bud Johnson, the Montclair boy who was a Florida hitting sensation, and Bud Perry, last year, with Detroit, battling it out.

The veteran Tommy Padden and Leo Bartola, the Hillside lad from Birmingham, are the catchers. Pitchers—Tommy Byrne, George Bartley, Walter Stewart, Milo Candini and John Babich are old names to fans, but rookies Al Gerheuser, Pandy Gumpert, Joe Page, Ed Carrott and Ken Holcombe have pitched great ball this far.

There are direct bus connections to Ruppert Stadium from all sections of North Jersey. Change to the South Orange avenue No. 31 line anywhere on South Orange avenue, Market and Broad streets, or Penn Station in Newark.

Until further notice all weekly games except Saturday contests will start at 4:00 o'clock. The Saturday games will start at 3:00 P. M. and Sunday doubleheaders at 1:45 P. M., as usual. Fans attending Ruppert Stadium are presented cards on which they are asked to designate the time best suited to them. After the first home stay the majority will rule.

Field of Forty Will Line Up For Sunday Auto Races

Tenth Annual Natural Championship Races At Reading

READING, Pa., April 16.—A field of 40 big time race drivers will answer the call of the roaring road, Sunday, April 19, when Promoter Ralph Hankinson presents his 10th annual championship auto races on the Reading fair grounds track.

In one of the most ambitious speed programs ever offered on a racetrack throughout the east, the monarchs of the nation's raceways will launch their annual drive for national title recognition. The inaugural speed card will consist of nine exciting events, including two three-cornered match races for U. S. defense bonds in place of purse money.

Hostilities will get under way promptly at 1 p. m. (E.W.T.) with the initial series of qualifying time trials. First competitive event is scheduled for 2 p. m., and a special added attraction will be a parachute jump from high above the fair grounds by Captain Gary Garrison, noted stunt man, and former aviator in World War I.

Outstanding speed talent: corralled for the 1942 curtain raiser, will include Ted Horn, third place money winner at Indianapolis last year and possessor of the 1941 national dirt track crown; Joe Chitwood, Eastern states speed champion in 1939 and 1940; Tommy Hinnerhult, tenth place finisher at Indianapolis last year; Everett Saylor, former CSRA national champion, and a 1941 qualifier at Indianapolis; Mark Light, only driver in history to win two consecutive spring auto races on the Reading track, and Bob Gail, former Eastern AAA champion, and runnerup to Horn in last year's national dirt track championship.
