COUNTY MAY HAVE STREETS

After Long Drawn Out Fight Council Passes Resolutions Turning Portions of Certain Streets Over To Board of Freeholders—Plans For Main Street Storm Sewer Ready.

The resolutions passed by the Board of Freeholders offering to take over several streets within the limits of this city came up for action again last Tuesday evening at the regular council session. To the surprise of many they were passed by the council and the issue is now squarely up to Mayor Dey.

The first resolution was submitted by Councilman Parisen and was an approval of the Freeholders' resolution taking over and acquiring Bordentown avenue from Stevens avenue to Pine avenue, Pine avenue to the city line, a distance of thirty-one hundred and sixty feet varying from eighty to thirty-three feet in width. It was this resolution that called forth practically all of the discussion that was indulged in.

Mayor Dey asked if he understood the resolution to mean that the Board of Freeholders, simply acquired the roads in question and gave his opinion that a proper resolution would have been to the effect that the county authorities take over and improve them instead of simply taking them over. He wanted to know if it was the intention to improve these roads or simply hold them and what was the use in their acquiring them if they were not going to improve them. He said he didn't believe in putting up any political bluff and wondered why the county authorities didn't tell the council just what their intentions were. "If I were a member of the council," said the mayor, "I would refer the resolutions back to have the word improve added. And I would be ashamed of a resolution like that, if I was a member of the Board of Freeholders." He claimed that it wasn't fair to the taxpayers of this city.

Councilman Parisen stated that there had been a lot of talk about taking these streets over before and numerous objections brought up. Now these objections had been overcome and here were some others cropping up at a late hour. He made a motion that a vote be taken upon the resolutions.

Councilman Stratton stated that he agreed with the sentiments of the mayor on these resolutions and that he couldn't see why this kind of a move was made at this time. He called attention to the resolution he had offered and which had been laid on the table. He said he wanted a chance to get improvements for one of the streets that the county authorities were anxious to take over but that the opportunity had been denied him. Before he voted upon the resolutions now before the body he wanted to know what the county proposed to do with this particular street as well as with the others. He recalled, quite clearly, he continued, when the Board of Freeholders were in charge of some of the streets they now wanted but that he could not remember the time that they were in any better condition than they were at the present time and that he had no recollection of there having been anything done upon these streets while the Freeholders had them before. He said that there had been residents on Main street who had been unable to get curbing laid because the city and county authorities were dickerling as they had been for years. They had never done anything with the hole-in-the-wall or on Main street he concluded, and if they intended to do anything now he wanted to know it.

Councilman Stanton stated that he believed all would agree with his statement that the improvements the streets now had had been made by the county previous to the time that the changing laws had required them to be under the jurisdiction of the city authorities. Since that time, he said, they had not been taken care of nearly as well as when the county had them. He referred to the members of the council being in their present position solely for the best

Mrs. Frank Farrell Struck By Motorcycle

On Tuesday evening as she attempted to step up on the curbing at Smith and State streets, Perth Amboy, Mrs. Frank Farrell of this city was struck and knocked down by a motorcycle driven by Vinsen Skrzniek, of 282 Grace street, Perth Amboy. Her young son, who was with her at the time, was also thrown to the ground.

Patrolman Tonnesen witnessed the accident and placed the motor-cyclist under arrest for reckless driving.

Mrs. Farrell was taken to a physician's office, where it was found that no bones were broken, but she was badly bruised and suffered from shock. Her dress was torn quite badly. The little boy had a finger broken at the first joint.

Skrzniek was hauled before Recorder Pickergill on Wednesday morning, when sentence was dismissed pending settlement with Mrs. Farrell.

MRS. ALICE RUE.

Mrs. Alice Rue, wife of William Rue, and sister to Mrs. Robert Reamer and Mrs. Collin Stratton of this city, departed this life at her home, 140 Washington street, Perth Amboy, on Friday, August 27, at the age of 55 years.

The funeral service was held from her late home on Monday afternoon last, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The service was conducted by the Rev. James H. Northrup, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Perth Amboy.

After the service interment was made in Christ Church cemetery in this city. Stillwell & Mason were funeral directors.

FUNERAL OF S. HENRY PARISEN.

The funeral of Samuel Henry Parisen, whose death was mentioned in last week's Citizen, was held from his late residence on Monday afternoon, and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Chapman S. Lewis, rector of Christ Church, assisted by Rev. E. R. Tilton, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Both clergymen made some remarks of eulogy on the deceased and offered words of consolation to the bereaved family. Interment followed in Christ Church cemetery. The bearers were four nephews, Charles and Harvey Parisen of Harlem, Joseph Smith of Asbury Park, and William Parisen of this city, and two grandsons, John and Harry Dudley of Camden. Many beautiful floral pieces were presented by relatives and friends as tokens of love. Stillwell & Mason were funeral directors.

TWO CAMPERS ATTEMPT FOOLHARDY STUNT IN CANOE

On Sunday two campers at Morgan Beach came near losing their lives by attempting to run a canoe through the heavy sea that was running in the jetties of Chesapeake creek. They were stopping at "Kamp King Kola" located just at the rear of Willett's pavilion.

Seafaring men on noticing the foolhardy attempt of these campers prophesied that they would upset. From the way they handled the paddles it could be seen that they were not experts at the art of canoeing. When about half-way out of the jetties they upset. They tried to swim and tow the canoe, but the sea was striking them with great force and they let go of the canoe and swam for the jetties. The crowd on the beach was watching the men with great excitement fearing they would not make the jetties but would be carried out to sea. Relief was expressed when it was seen that the men would make the rocks. They climbed out and after resting until they recovered from their exhaustion, came ashore, perhaps wiser as to their ability in handling a canoe.

In the meantime the canoe with the fast ebbing tide had drifted a long distance down the bay. Later Edward Bloodgood with his motor boat went down the bay and finding the canoe brought it back to the beach. The young men who came near losing their lives were August Dohler and Charles Daly.

Council Approves of Budget For En-suing Year—Contractor Collins Wants His Pay on Sewer Contract—Councilman Stratton's Resolution Still on Table.

In a response to the agitation started by Mr. James Collins at the Council meeting Tuesday evening, the council decided to try and have another test made of the pumping station in Mechanicsville. Mr. Collins wanted his bill for the work done upon the sewer paid without further delay. A large portion of the bill, he said, had been due for three years now and he felt that it was high time the matter was squared up. Councilman Stratton seemed to express the consensus of opinion of the council when he said that they could not pay the bill until the work had been tested out. There had been no test made on account of the pumping station not being in shape for a test. He said that several efforts had been made to secure a meeting with the contractors and the engineer S. J. Mason, and have an inspection made but that the efforts had been unsuccessful.

In this connection Mayor Dey stated that he had been at the sub-station about two weeks previously and that he had tried to start the pumps working. One motor seemed to run all right, he stated, but the other refused to start at all. He spoke of the water increasing in depth and said that the station would soon be flooded and that a great deal of damage would undoubtedly result from the water getting at the machinery. He suggested that another effort be made to get action from the engineer in charge. Mr. Slover stated his accordance with the remarks made by His Honor and also moved that the clerk communicate with the contractors and with Mr. Mason with a view to arranging a meeting for Sunday, if possible. The motion was carried.

The legal technicality discovered by the council in the set of resolutions that the Board of Freeholders had passed with a view toward taking over certain roads in this city was covered by a certificate from Clerk Bissett. Clerk Mack read the certificate which he stated he had received in reply to the action taken by the council at their last meeting. The certificate set forth the fact that certified copies of the resolutions in question had been placed on file in the office of the county clerk on Aug. 27th. Upon motion of Councilman Stanton the certificate was received and placed on file.

The ordinance providing for the laying of sidewalk and curbing of a section of Bordentown avenue between Pine avenue and R. R. bridge was taken up on second and third readings and passed. They were then referred to the Mayor for his signature and were then to be published in the manner prescribed by law.

Councilman Stratton stated that he had presented a resolution some time previous appertaining to the "hole-in-the-wall" and the private right of way into this city. The resolution had been laid on the table, he said, and that it was still laying there but that he would like to see it taken up and acted upon. He stated his belief that the resolution was a good one that would result in the city being embellished thereby. Then Councilman Slover made a motion that the resolution in question be taken from the table. A roll call vote was taken upon the motion and the result was the resolution remained upon the table. The roll call showed Messrs. Stanton and Parisen against taking up the resolution with the other faction of the council on the other side of the controversy.

Councilman Slover presented the budget as approved and recommended by the finance committee. The budget was as follows:

Public Schools.....	$19,900
Salaries and Fees.....	12,150
Lights.....	5,500
Fire Department.....	4,000
Streets and Garbage.....	4,000

Sanitary Sewer Bonds and Interest.....	4,500
Contingent Fund.....	1,000
Poor.....	1,200
Printing.....	350
Board of Health.....	350
School Bonds and Interest.....	3,350
Payment of City's Share, Broadway Improvement.....	1,300

Total.....$64,000
Less resources from Licenses, etc.....18,000
Net amount to be raised by Taxation.....$46,000
Upon motion of Councilman Slover the budget was adopted.

Dr. Dilla Spoke in the Empire on Suffrage

Last Tuesday evening a brief address on the subject "A Present Social Problem," was given at the Empire Theatre by Dr. Harriette M. Dilla. In her talk Dr. Dilla spoke of equal suffrage as the present social problem before New Jersey and she asked for a fair and unprejudiced consideration of the issue. Dr. Dilla received her doctorate from Columbia University, New York City, and occupies the Chair of Government and Social Science in Lake Erie College, Ohio. She is especially interested in practical social service and has devoted much of her time to voluntary residence in reformatory and prison institutions to study the causes and conditions of criminality and the methods of care and treatment. She occupies the position of "Big Sister" to nearly a hundred young girls and boys whom she assists in getting a start after they are paroled from the reform schools.

She is conversant with social conditions here and abroad, and looks at equal suffrage as one of the means of improving many hard conditions of society. In part Dr. Dilla said: "The movement for woman suffrage is not based upon criticism of what men have done, and it is in no way hostile or violent in nature. We do not have any cause here in America for militant methods and the people who favor equal suffrage have never shown any violent or unfriendly attitude."

"The movement is based upon a desire to help the men electors in the management of a tremendous number of problems arising in this large family that we call New Jersey. It is not fair to expect only the fatherhood of the state to legislate adequately upon all matters, many of which come within a woman's natural sphere of interest, the home and the rearing of the family. The womanhood of New Jersey feel that they have a point of view and much experience which would enable them to help in the social legislation of the state in many ways. They do not say 'We can do better than you have done,' but they do say, 'You, the men of the state, and we, the women, can naturally do more and better together than you can do alone.'"

Dr. Dilla spoke of the fact that in her survey of the institutions of New Jersey last summer, she found that one potent cause for delinquency on the part of the boys and girls found in the institutions was the lack of parental care, very often the care of a mother. It is a mother's business to look after the home and needs of the children, and in her absence many things are neglected. In New Jersey we expect the men members of the great family to care for the financial, industrial and social welfare needs, and it is expecting too much. They have to neglect something and the social needs are liable to be overlooked.

It is in this field of child welfare, child labor, mother's pensions, women in industry and prison reform methods among other fields where women could help in New Jersey, because they have helped so much in the states where they have been given the right to vote.

Women by nature have shown themselves primarily interested in children and in unfortunate members of the community. Elizabeth Frye in England and Dorothy Dix in America were the pioneer reformers of the unbelievably bad prison conditions which existed in their day. The point was emphasized throughout the talk that the suffrage movement was based upon a desire to assist in social welfare measures of New Jersey.

Within the next two weeks Dr.

COMPLAIN OF FRESHET WATER

Property Owners Petition Council For Relief from Damages During Heavy Showers—The Board of Health Requests Council to En-force Ordinance.

The Council was presented with a petition Tuesday evening signed by nine property owners residing in the vicinity of Henry street and Broadway. The petition complained of the conditions existing at the point mentioned in case of a heavy rain storm, claiming that these conditions were the result of inadequate sewerage facilities and demanded that some action be taken with a view of affording relief. Councilman Stanton moved that the matter be referred to the street committee.

In connection with the above petition Assistant Prosecutor John A. Coan appeared in behalf of the signers of the petition. In his remarks Mr. Coan set forth the fact that water collected at this corner from John, Henry and to some extent David streets, the flow coming all the way from the upper sections of the city. He stated that in time of storm the cellars of the residences near this point were flooded and their contents destroyed. This condition had existed for years and notwithstanding that it had become general knowledge council after council had neglected to take any steps toward furnishing a remedy. Patience had ceased to be a virtue in this case, he stated, and the citizens felt that they were entirely within their rights in demanding that adequate facilities for taking care of the flow of water should be furnished and that immediate steps be taken for their protection.

Mayor Dey stated that he believed the present sewer on Henry street was large enough, but that the inlets were not large enough and that instead of the four inlets there at present there should be double that number. He thought that it would be well to test out this theory before going to the expense of putting in an additional sewer.

Councilman Parisen stated that the trouble could be overcome by building culverts under the railroad tracks similar to those on Augusta and David streets. He said that the ground sloped upward from Broadway to the railroad tracks and thus formed a dam to hold back the water.

Mayor Dey stated that in order to install culverts under the tracks it would be necessary to set the inlets down quite deep and that this would form a hole that would be dangerous to traffic. Also that the grade was such that it would be inadvisable to build the culverts. This would only throw the water further down Henry street and would undoubtedly cause other damage there that would result in another lawsuit such as the council had recently had on that street. He called attention to the fact that he had a letter from the engineer's office of the railroad in question asking for his opinion upon the matter. This was in response to a communication from Clerk Mack in accordance with a resolution introduced by Mr. Parisen some time previously.

Councilman Slover moved to amend Mr. Stanton's resolution so that the matter would be referred to the council as a committee of the whole in order that they might look the matter up at once and take immediate steps to furnish the desired relief and protection. The amended motion was then voted upon and unanimously carried.

An application for the transfer of a liquor license from Michael Lewandoski to George Borylinski was read by the clerk and upon motion of Councilman Stanton referred to the license committee. Later Councilman Slover reported that the committee favored the application and recommended that the said application be granted. A motion to that effect by Mr. Parisen prevailed.

A report from the Board of School Estimate recommended that certain changes be made in the appropriations for the use of the schools and

Local Jr. O. U. A. M. Will Parade at Newark

A. R. Chatten, Irving Reese, Lee Stults, James English, Charles Carlisle and V. Newell James, of Joel Parker Council No. 69, Jr. O. U. A. M., of this city, attended the monthly meeting of the Past Councilors Association of Middlesex County, held in New Brunswick on Wednesday evening.

Plans were formulated whereby sixteen councils of the county will participate in the big demonstration of the order in Newark on Wednesday, October 13, the opening day of the State Council session. Joel Parker Council expects to have their guards and about 100 members in the parade.

The parade is to be held at night and the committee in charge of the convention has announced that there will be in line over 25,000 members of the order in New Jersey besides over 500 from New York and Pennsylvania.

Committees in charge have been appointed and announcements of the plans will be made later.

The association members will also back the candidacy of William B. LaRue, who was recently appointed by the Board of Managers to the position of State Council Treasurer to succeed Rev. J. Morgan Read for reelection for the full term and will endeavor to advance Edward C. Johnson, present State Outside Sentinel to the position of State Council Warden.

The Middlesex County Past Councilors Association is one of the most active organizations within the Junior Order in the State and is recognized by all the prominent workers in the ranks and when it has undertaken anything it has generally been successful.

The meeting Wednesday night was largely attended. There was plenty of enthusiasm and the addresses of the evening were full of interest. The meeting was originally scheduled for Cranbury, but owing to the typhoid epidemic now prevailing it became necessary to make a change to New Brunswick. County Councilor George William Dunn presided.

In the roll call, Friendship Council of New Market was again awarded the honor banner for having the largest number of Past Councilors present. This is the second time that they have secured the banner, having won it last month at Monmouth Junction. The council to be visited by the committee, which has taken the place of the hammer, will be Metuchen council.

Rev. Isaac S. Yerks, pastor of the Pitman Methodist Church, of New Brunswick, and a member of Hightstown Council, was the speaker of the evening and delivered a very forceable address that was highly appreciated by the members.

Other speeches were made by State Council treasurer William B. LaRue, Past State Councilor Leslie L. Hand, of Milltown, State Councilor Rene P. F. von Minden, of New Market, and Past State Councilor Robert Carson, of New Brunswick.

The next meeting of the Association will be held with Puritan Council No. 305, of Cartaret, on Thursday, October 7th.

MRS. CATHERINE CARROLL.

Mrs. Catherine Carroll, wife of Capt. John Carroll, and daughter of former Councilman Patrick Campton, passed away about 10 o'clock on Thursday last at her home on Stevens avenue, at the age of 45 years.

Mrs. Carroll was highly esteemed by all who knew her, and deep regret is expressed by her early death. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved husband and six children, who have indeed lost a good wife and mother.

The funeral service will take place from St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock on Monday morning next. Stillwell & Mason are funeral directors.

WHOA, THERE!

What's the matter? I neglected to go to L. F. Meinzer's and get some of his machinery oil. No, I mean some of his harness oil, and my harness broke and I came very near having a serious accident.

H. C. Perrine and wife have transferred to John Bishop a 65 acre tract in Wolf's Swamp for a consideration of $6,825.00.

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS

FOR CELERY GROWERS

The celery bed should receive frequent cultivation, but this cultivation should be shallow, especially near the plants, as celery is a surface feeding plant. If the plants do not have a thrifty appearance, it may be advisable to rake a little nitrate of soda or chicken manure into the soil to give them a quick growth.

Celery needs an abundant and constant supply of moisture in the soil for its best development. Nothing injures its quality so surely as being checked in growth. There are times in even a wet season when water can be applied advantageously to this crop.

When the celery is almost half grown, the soil may be gradually worked up to the plants to encourage an upright instead of a sprawling growth. Never pull soil up to the plants while the celery is damp with dew, and at all times be careful not to get dirt down into the heart.

During the last few years the dreaded celery blight has become very destructive. However, the most successful celery growers are using Bordeaux mixture of a 5-5-50 formula with good results. Bordeaux pulp can be purchased commercially and diluted with water or the material can be made up from the lime, copper sulphate and water at home, but it must be made up in a certain way to be efficient. The complete directions may be secured free of charge by addressing the State Experiment Station at New Brunswick, N. J.

CUTTING CORN FOR SILAGE.

There seems to be a tendency among some of our best dairymen, who realize the value of corn silage as a feed, to cut their corn into the silo at such an early stage of growth that it is practically impossible to make a first-class grade of ensilage, even though it is stored in a perfect silo. Silage cut at the right time and kept in a good silo is one of the most economical and palatable feeds which can be fed to the dairy cow. It is economical because a large amount of food nutrients can be raised per acre in the corn crop, and these nutrients can be handled and stored in a most economical and convenient way when the corn is cut and put in the silo.

Another point, which is of considerable value, is the action which corn undergoes when placed in the silo. This is a fermenting process during which the sugar in the corn is changed to several acids. This softens the fibres, makes the protein more digestible, and adds desirable flavors.

The proper time of cutting corn is when the majority of the ears are in the "glazed stage." If cut for silage at an earlier period it contains such a high percentage of sugar that the result will be silage containing such a large amount of acid that it will be unpalatable. It is much better to make the mistake of cutting too late rather than too early, as the only objection to late cutting is the loss of moisture, with the result that the stalks contain too much air and are liable to mold. This may be remedied by the addition of water while the silo is being filled.

Corn when cut during the "silk stage" contains practically one-half of the amount of dry matter and food nutrients as corn that is cut for the silo from 7 to 14 days after the kernels have begun to glaze. This emphasizes the importance of allowing the ears to get well glazed before the corn is cut for silage.

Battles in the Snow.

One of the most severe winters ever experienced was that of 1812, the year of Napoleon's great Russian campaign. On June 24 of that year he invaded Russia with an army of 600,000 men. Moscow was reached on Sept. 14, and a month later, after the Russians had burned that town to the ground, Napoleon commenced his retreat. The army of 600,000 was almost wiped out. Men froze to death by hundreds as they camped, and when at last the Russian frontier was reached only 150,000 men were left alive.

In the Crimean war England lost altogether 206,556 men. Actual fighting, however, was only responsible for 12 per cent of these deaths. Cold and disease were the causes of the other 88 per cent of deaths.

During the Franco-German campaign of 1870 another severe winter was experienced. To the thousands of Germans investing Paris the cold meant little. They had the whole country to draw on, but to the besieged and starving French it meant terrible suffering. The city surrendered in January after four months' siege.—Pearson's.

NEW JERSEY NEWS CONDENSED.

Items of Interest From all Parts of the State as Gleaned From Our Exchanges Briefly Paragraphed.

Free Mail Delivery at Hightstown.

Beginning November 1, Hightstown will have free city delivery of mail. Hightstown had 1879 population in 1910, but the postal receipts and pull govern the designation as a free delivery office, and no doubt Hightstown is blessed with both.

Ten Thousand Elks Will Visit Atlantic City.

Elks throughout the State are ready for what is expected to prove the greatest reunion in their history. The occasion is the second annual reunion of the New Jersey Association of the B. P. O. E., to be held in Atlantic City September 13 and 14, and at least 10,000 Elks and their families have planned to be present. Thirty-nine lodges will send representatives.

About 500 members of Newark Lodge will participate in the parade on Tuesday afternoon, September 14, which is to be open only to Elks in uniform. The delegates from Newark will be attired in white trousers and white hats and will also carry canes and wear badges. Brass bands and floats will be on view in the parade and prizes will be awarded to those making the best showing.

The lodge having the finest appearance in line will receive a silver loving cup, while a silk American flag will be awarded to the lodge with the greatest number of members present. There will also be prizes for the most unique uniform, the most attractive float, the best band and the lodge winning the base ball contest.

Hotel Porter Killed by Auto Truck.

On Saturday night Patrick Loughlin, of Perth Amboy, met death when he stepped from the sidewalk in front of Martin Oertel's automobile truck at High and Smith streets.

Oertel was driving the truck, which was heavily loaded and turned from Smith street into High, running close to the curb. Loughlin apparently did not see the automobile. He was crushed to death in the gutter. Oertel surrendered at once to the police and was placed under $3,000 bonds to await action of the grand jury.

Loughlin has lived in Perth Amboy about four years, being employed as porter in the Hotel Madison. He formerly lived in Rahway, where he held membership in the Foresters of America. His wife and two daughters live in Newark.

Flee With $5,000 Worth of Jewelry.

Smashing the window of the jewelry store of A. F. R. Lutz of Trenton with a hatchet, three burglars made away with about $3,000 worth of precious stones at 11 o'clock Monday morning. This is the second time within two years that Mr. Lutz has been robbed in this manner. On the former occasion the robber was captured.

Asbury Commission Grants Firm Bathing Privileges.

Bathing privileges at Asbury Park, the value of which is estimated at something like $85,000 a season, were practically promised to Mitchell & Frye by the City Commission Tuesday afternoon following the firm's offer to relinquish all rights to the Casino privileges. The question of the legality of the ownership of these privileges, which is now in the courts, it is believed will be settled by Tuesday's action of the city authorities.

Three years ago the combined bathing and Casino privileges were granted to Mitchell & Frye, and last year these privileges were extended through 1916 by action of the old public grounds committee before the commission government went into effect. Henry Rosenberg, who was turned down three years ago in his application for the Casino privilege, about a month ago brought proceedings through a writ of certiorari in the Supreme Court, asking for a review of the situation, claiming the extension through 1916 was illegal.

With a view of settling the controversy Mitchell & Frye recently sent a letter to the commission declaring their willingness to release the rights to the Casino providing a clear lease to the bathing privileges be granted to them.

The commission agreed to accept the offer relinquishing the Casino, and declared its intention of not submitting the bathing privileges to the regular bidding process when the resort leases are again granted. This is believed to be a practical acknowledgment of the company's rights to the bathing lease.

Keyport G. O. P. Indorses Bedle.

Harvey S. Bedle of Keyport was unanimously indorsed as a primary candidate for the Monmouth County Board of Freeholders at a meeting Monday evening of the Keyport Republican Club. Mr. Bedle's petition was filed at a dinner of the Monmouth County executive committee last Saturday.

Owing to the death of John S. Hendrickson, borough collector, that office will be filled at the coming election for two years. Eight candidates are already in the field. Four Republicans after the berth are all members of the club and for this reason a resolution was offered by one of the candidates that the club take no action as a club in indorsing any of the candidates for the primaries, but upon the nomination of any of them to give its undivided support to that nominee.

Minister's Pocket Picked.

As Rev. Dr. James W. Marshall, New Brunswick district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church and a resident of Ocean Grove, was waiting at the railroad station Saturday night, his pocket was picked of $14 and a railroad ticket valued at $18. He reported the loss to the police of Asbury Park.

Utility Board Advises Span Be Fixed.

The Board of Freeholders of Middlesex County was advised by a communication from the Public Utility Commissioners read at Monday's meeting, that the floorbeams in the approach to the Albany street bridge in New Brunswick should be properly strengthened. The condition of the metal in the floorbeams had reached the stage where trolley traffic over the bridge would have to be stopped unless repairs were made, it is said. The freeholders referred the matter to County Engineer A. B. Fox and directed the clerk, Asher W. Bissett, to forward a copy of the letter to the officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

The drawbridge is over the Delaware and Raritan Canal. The freeholders have been endeavoring for some time to get the Pennsylvania Railroad, which operates the draw, to build a new lift bridge there, but there is a controversy on between the railroad and county officials as to the maintenance of the draw bridge.

County Solicitor George Burton will file papers this week with the Public Utility Commissioners for a hearing upon the matter. The contract for the Commercial avenue and Weston's Mill paving work was awarded to T. H. Riddle for $33,571.10.

War Dep't Allows Removal of Old Pier.

Word was received at Keyport Monday from the War Department that it had decided that the removal of the piling of the old railroad pier would be allowed to proceed, as it deemed its removal a betterment to navigation and an improvement of the harbor.

Some of the property owners along the shore claimed the pier acted as a breakwater and its removal would make the shore an easy prey for storms. The War Department admitted that such might be the case, but the benefits reaped by the change would exceed the possibilities of such damage. The contractor is about three-quarters done and ought to finish next month.

Richard J. Drever Boys' Home Supt.

Adjutant Richard J. Drever, of the Home for Disabled Soldiers at Kearny, was notified on Tuesday of his election as superintendent of the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg. He succeeds John C. Kalleen, who with his wife, the matron, resigned June 22 last, the resignation to take effect September 1. Mr. Drever said he did not know when he would assume his new position and that he was ignorant of whether his wife would be the matron of the institution.

The election of Mr. Drever took place at a meeting of the board of trustees Tuesday night at the home of Dr. Frank M. Donohue, president of the board, at New Brunswick.

Mr. Drever was appointed as adjutant of the Home for Disabled Soldiers three years ago during the superintendency of the late General E. Burd Grubb. After the latter's death and until the appointment of James Connelly, the present superintendent, fifteen months later, he was acting superintendent. Prior to his appointment as adjutant Mr. Drever had been for ten years a letter-carrier attached to the Harrison branch of the Newark postoffice. Several years ago he was quartermaster of the First Regiment, N. G. N. J. He is a Spanish American War veteran and a member of Kearny Lodge of Elks.

Complainant Didn't See Any "Joke."

After surrendering diamond rings valued at $1,000, Walter Course of Highlands, who was charged with stealing them from George H. Carr of Jersey City while the latter was at the camp, declared in court Tuesday that he only took them as a joke. Recorder McCue, however, held Course under $500 bail to await the action of the grand jury. Course was sent from the Highlands to Pleasure Bay to bring Carr home and the rings were missed on the way. Blows were exchanged, and Carr had Course arrested.

Tried to Hang Wife.

On the charge of attempting to hang his wife, John Skricki of Perth Amboy, was committed to the county jail Wednesday when arraigned in police court. Skricki's defense was that the woman did not go to work when she promised to do so.

Michael Holub, Skricki's brother-in-law, also appeared to prosecute him. Tuesday night Mrs. Skricki fled from her husband, and took refuge with Holub and his family. Skricki located her and bombarded the house with stones, until Patrolman Joseph Gutowski seized him.

To Discuss Insane Hospital Site.

By request of Governor Fielder, Edward E. Reed, Jr., of Camden, has called a meeting of the special commission named by the Governor to secure options on land for a proposed new hospital for the insane in South Jersey. The meeting will be held at the State house September 10.

The commission is composed of Mr. Reed, Dr. John Nevin of Jersey City, Edward D. Page of Oakland, Assemblyman Ogden H. Hammond of Bernardsville, George B. LaBarre of Trenton, and James W. Trenchard of

MOTION PICTURES TO BE GIVEN FREE

State Department of Health to Have Public Display at Trenton Fair—Forestry Show.

For the entertainment and instruction of the public different state departments will have exhibits at Trenton Fair, which lasts from Sept. 27 to Oct. 1.

The state department of health will give a free display of motion pictures on the grounds to instruct the public on means of safeguarding themselves from disease. An exhibit will also be arranged to show visitors how the spread of tuberculosis can be checked.

Successful results gained in the past few seasons from an educational display on the fair grounds has led the department of conservation and development to further enlarge its work there. The protection and development of the New Jersey forests and the various forest products New Jersey can produce will be shown. There will also be on hand a collection of tools used in fire fighting and a miniature forest showing the effectiveness of fire lines in stopping fires.

The state experiment station will have prize products arranged to stimulate interest among the agriculturists, and representatives will be on hand to answer questions on improved methods of farming.

Monday For Children.

Children's free day at the Trenton Fair will be Monday, Sept. 27. Ladies' day will be Tuesday, Sept. 28, and special price tickets have been issued for the latter date.

COOK—THOMAS.

Miss Mary Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Cook, of Pine street, this borough, and Joseph Thomas of South Amboy, were quietly married at the rectory of the Polish Church of Perth Amboy last Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas are now living in South Amboy.—Keyport Enterprise, Aug. 28.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Hon. Elihu Root
On Woman's Sphere

The question of Woman Suffrage is an issue before the American people. Twelve states have adopted it, four more states vote upon it this fall and it is strongly urged that it become a platform demand of the national political parties. It is therefore the privilege and the duty of every voter to study carefully this subject. Hon. Elihu Root, in discussing this question before the constitutional convention of New York, recently said in part:

"I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to women, because I believe that it would be a loss to women, to all women and to every woman; and because I believe it would be an injury to the state, and to every man and every woman in the state. It would be useless to argue this if the right of suffrage were a natural right. If it were a natural right, then women should have it though the heavens fall. But if there be any one thing settled in the long discussion of this subject, it is that suffrage is not a natural right, but is simply a means of government, and the sole question to be discussed is whether government by the suffrage of men and women will be better government than by the suffrage of men alone.

"Into my judgment, sir, there enters no element of the inferiority of woman. It is not that woman is inferior to man, but it is that woman is different from man; that in the distribution of powers, of capacities, of qualities, our Maker has created man adapted to the performance of certain functions in the economy of nature and society, and woman adapted to the performance of other functions.

"Woman rules today by the sweet and noble influences of her character. Put woman into the arena of conflict and she abandons these great weapons which control the world, and she takes into her hands, feeble and nerveless for strife, weapons with which she is unfamiliar and which she is unable to wield. Woman in strife becomes hard, harsh, unlovable, repulsive; as far removed from that gentle creature to whom we all owe allegiance and to whom we confess submission, as the heaven is removed from the earth.

"The whole science of government is the science of protecting life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In the divine distribution of powers, the duty and the right of protection rests with the male. It is so throughout nature. It is so with men, and I, for one, will never consent to part with the divine right of protecting my wife, my daughter, the women whom I love, and the women whom I respect, exercising the blight of man, and place that high duty in the weak and nerveless hands of those designed by God to be protected rather than to engage in the stern warfare of government. In my judgment, this whole movement arises from a false conception of the duty and of the right of both men and women.

"The time will never come when the line of demarcation between the functions of the two sexes will be broken down. I believe it to be false philosophy; I believe that it is an attempt to turn backward upon the line of social development, and that if the step ever be taken, we go centuries backward on the march towards a higher, nobler and purer civilization, which must be found not in the confusion, but in the higher differentiation of the sexes."

Bread and Butter Education

Every child should get a "Bread and Butter" education first. The boy or girl who through practical training has become expert in Business Methods is financially independent for life. Higher education should follow business education. Necessities first, luxuries afterward.

Will you give your children this advantage?

Patrick Camplon has transferred to Thomas Deats property on Potter street for $600.00.

Martin Cerroll and wife have transferred to Frank Russell property in this city for $975.00.

Hilma Bolin and husband have transferred two lots on upper Main street to Otto Anderson for a consideration of $250.00.

Contractors Lambertson and Reese are rapidly pushing the erection of a home on Feltus street for Mr. George Nelius.

A new service pipe for water is being laid on David street below Rosewell street. The old pipe had completely worn out.

John Opola expects to build a fine home on Feltus street, near Portia. His present home has been moved back to make room for the more pretentious structure.

William Smith of Sayreville is again in the race for nomination as assemblyman on the Democratic ticket, having filed his petition with the county clerk.

Contractors Reese and Lambertson are building an addition and a large porch on the double residence of Messrs. O. Mathis and Arthur McKenzie on Second street.

The Jubilee Convention of the Middlesex County Sunday School association will be held in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, George and Liberty streets, New Brunswick, on Thursday, September 9th, 1915.

Patrick F. Fallon has filed his petition for nomination as freeholder with the county clerk. He wants to run on the Democratic ticket and names Michael McCarthy as his treasurer.

A Maxwell automobile broke a sub-shaft in the transmission gearing near Morgan last Sunday. In response to a call for help workmen from Miller's garage went and towed the helpless car to their garage. Repairs were made and the machine returned to its owner in Jersey City this week.

George Delaney had a new concrete floor put in his garage on Stevens avenue this week. Contractor Thomas Deats did the job. The new flooring together with the fire-proof construction of the building makes Delaney's an ideal place to keep one's automobile.

The unusual sight of a Ford automobile being towed to a garage was seen in this city last Sunday. The machine got stuck in the mud near Keyport and in trying to get out beat a radius rod. Miller's garage furnished the towing machine and brought the Ford to their shop for repairs.

C. H. Edwards, secretary of Joel Parker Council, No. 69, of this city, has been appointed as a member of the Boost Committee, which committee will push the candidacy of Wilbur B. LaRue for the office of State Council Treasurer of the Jr. O. U. A. M.

The Woman's Club will have to get after merchants who litter up the streets by sweeping rubbish from their stores. The Board of Health and the council do not seem to make much of an impression upon these merchants, but if the women get busy the merchants will wake up and take notice.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Workmen's Sick and Death Benefit Fund, Branch 38, will be held on Monday next, at August Rhode's Hotel and Park, Sayreville. A parade will be held starting at 1.30 p. m., after which there will be dancing and other amusements. Prof. Heilmann's full orchestra will furnish the music.

Among those from this city who won prizes at the baby parade at Keansburg were the following: Clifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davis; Harry, son of Harry Roxbury, Sr.; Melissa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frelschnect; James, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Dwyer;

WILL SPEND TIME IN THE COUNTY JAIL
The birds will have begun their migration to the Southland and the football season will be well started toward its close when Michael Dugan, of Gordon street, formerly of the Big Woods, back of Marlboro, returns from a vacation at the expense of the authorities. A friend in misery took the journey to the County seat along with him but Mrs. Frank Bucklew went stay so long, only half the time in fact.

Police Justice Birmingham was the one to finally persuade the couple to visit Sheriff Houghton. The reason was a complaint of disorderly conduct made by Mrs. Edward Bucklew, against them. Chief McDonnell haled the couple into court for a hearing on Tuesday. Result: Thirty days for Mr. Dugan; fifteen days for Mrs. Bucklew.

EHS' MARKET

N NEW BRUNSWICK

blic market recently City of New Brunswick met with good market was opened of the farmers of nty working through range and the county riculture. purchased a plot of land with frontage on a trolley line at one end and water frontage at the other end. A cement walk fifteen feet wide was put down, the farmers being required to back up to this walk.

While the market is open every week day, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays are special retail days. On one of these special days recently, after the market had been open just three weeks, there were in attendance 150 housewives, 100 men who bought for home consumption, 100 peddlers and storekeepers, and sixty-five farmers. The success of this market to date is doubtless due to the fact that in its establishment the city considered the desires of the farmers and made the rules and regulations to suit their convenience so far as possible. This method is in marked contrast to many public markets in other cities which have been planned and regulated too often by city business men or others who had no real knowledge of the actual needs and requirements.

Mr. A. L. Clark, of the Extension Division of the New Jersey Experiment Station, was instrumental in securing for this market regulations and conditions which would meet the needs of the producers who have since marketed their produce there. Other cities interested in the establishment of public markets are invited to correspond with the Extension Division of the New Jersey Experiment Station.

Some National Flowers.

Every one knows of the rose, shamrock and thistle as the floral emblems of England, Ireland and Scotland and the leek, though not a flower, for Wales. The sugar maple leaf is the emblem of Canada. Other nations and cities have all their floral emblems, and the lily seems to be the favorite. Italy has chosen the lily and also the city of Florence, known affectionately as "Giglio," which means lily, and the city itself is spoken of as "the Flower of Cities and the City of Flowers." France, of course, has the lily in the fleur-de-lis. Germany's is the cornflower, while Prussia's choice is the linden tree, and the most famous thoroughfare in Berlin is known as the Unter den Linden. Spain's emblem is the pomegranate, and its wonderful city of Granada is named after that fruit. Egypt, with the glories of the Nile, appropriately chooses the lotus. Athens has the violet, while Saxony has the sweet scented magnolia. Pearson's Weekly.

Court Humor.

A legal journal gives the following instances of humor in German courts: In Berlin an ironworker was sent to prison because he had laughed at a policeman. It appears that as this man was proceeding along a street one day his risibilities were aroused by the sight of a particularly stout policeman giving chase to a dog. The offender was promptly haled to court and "sent up" for scandal.

A German in attempting to board a moving train fractured his leg. After six months in a hospital he was discharged, whereupon the state railway department at once prosecuted him for "infringement of regulations." He was fined a sum equivalent to $5.

Upon entering an omnibus a man trod on the foot of a woman, who was so incensed by the incident that she remarked that he walked like a hen. For this term of reproach the lady was fined 20 marks.

HEAD PIN TOURNAMENT.

Following is the standing of the contestants in the head pin tournament now being rolled at the Y. M. C. A. From the list it will be seen that Donnell leads the field with a percentage of 96.6. Next to Locker, however, Donnell has taken part in less games than any other player with the exception of Wortley, whose games equal Donnell's. Dixon, the medal winner, had more pins to his credit than any of the others except Hoffman. The latter has taken part in six more games than the former and incidentally has played more games than any of the others. The line of demarcation separating Dixon and Berlew is just barely perceptible.

	G.	P.	Ave.
Donnell	18	588	96.8
Dixon	54	5089	94.21
Berlew	54	5086	94.18

SPORTING NOTES.

Last Sunday was certainly some day for the sporting fraternity to hang around and try to kill time. The rain brought out the glooms in full force and to make it all the worse even the street corner talk-fests had to be foregone. Rotten luck all round, all right.

An employee of the DuPont Powder Company at Parlin has been appointed in the person of Mr. James K. Dwyer to act as an official for the coming football season. It is quite likely that he will officiate at most of the Rutgers games.

Must have been some game last Saturday when the Cranbury men could only get the ball out of the diamond five times during the entire quota of innings against the Milltown Colts.

An error, a wild pitch and a base on balls, together with a brace of hits and stolen bases put the game on ice for the Colts in the third inning last Saturday.

When a pitcher bats out three home runs, as Frey, of the Westinghouse team in the Manufacturers League, did against the Oxweld Stars last Saturday, what must the rest of the game have been?

Collins scored three of the five runs in the Cranbury-Milltown game last Saturday.

Garrett, the promising Rutgers football star, is already beginning to justify his nickname, the human bullet, in the scrimmages now and then being pulled at Eatontown, where the training camp is located.

Hermann gave the Cranbury team only two hits last Saturday. Of these one was a double and the other a scratch single.

It was the slugging of Percy Collins that was the feature of the game at Cranbury last Saturday. Percy, by the way, plays first base for the Michelin Colts.

The Keansburg-Keyport game had to be postponed on account of the unsavory weather conditions vouchsafed by Old Jupe last Sunday. The bitter contest for the championship of the Monmouth County districts will be staged tomorrow at Keansburg—weather permitting, of course.

Out of five times up Collins, the first baseman for the Michelin Juniors, made four hits in last Saturday's game.

Thirteen strikeouts in pine Innings is't so bad. That was Hermann's record against the Cranbury nine last Saturday.

Rutgers and Princeton will battle on October 2, for the forty-seventh time upon the gridiron. Out of this number of times the County Seat team has won only once. That was in the year 1869. Since then they have been trying to get a team together strong enough to repeat the trick.

From the names in the box scores it is rather difficult to tell whether it is the Michelin Juniors or the Senior team that has been playing.

Prospects are rather poor for a Scholastic eleven in this city this fall. Last year's team was awfully light and this year's crop is by no means heavy. Lack of weightier material, nothing more, tends to keep us off the gridiron.

Last Saturday the Michelin Seniors were disappointed for the second time when they failed to defeat the Bound Brook team in the Manufacturer's League. The score was 4 to 3.

Mendoker, the Helmetta pitcher, shut out Spotswood last Saturday afternoon with a record of eleven strikeouts and only one free pass. Eight hits were made off his delivery. And this is the pitcher that is expected to do mound duty for the Braves when they invade this city in the effort to take the Sacred Heart team's laurels.

Only thirty batsmen faced Hermann in the game between Cranbury and the leaders of the South Shore Industrial League last Saturday. Out of the thirty twenty-seven failed to get on the paths at all and the other three died at second. None reached the third station. In addition to his pitching Hermann made four asafets and got a put out all by himself and made a hit on top of all that.

With all the material that there must be around the plant at the Powder Works at Parlin it would be a shame not to have a football team. It would seem as though it should be quite easy to get together a rousing good squad with all the men that there are to pick from.

The Helmetta Braves-Sacred Heart A. C. game last Sunday was postponed on account of the rain. This is the second time that the local team has been disappointed in a game with the Braves but another attempt to have a game will likely be made before the season closes.

Lots of local baseball enthusiasts will undoubtedly attend the games at Amusement Park to-morrow to see the Saints-Pacer-Franklins play. A footrace or two may be an added attraction, too.

Our old friend "Ackie" Atkinson pitched a doubleheader for the Durham "Bulls" last Saturday afternoon and won both games from the Raleigh team in the N. C. State League. "Ackie" made two hits himself and allowed the other team but ten hits in the two games. Some pitching.

Looks like a "Rivie" team again this year. The old difficulty of securing a home court in the Pace-making City still exists however.

The Sacred Heart team will play the St. Mary's, of Sayreville, Sunday afternoon at Conlogue's Field.

On Monday the third game of the city championship series will be played between the Empires and the Sacred Heart A. C. A win for the latter team will give them the title. The game will be staged on Conlogue's Field, or Sacred Heart as it is becoming fashionable to term it, and will start much earlier than usual, about 1.30.

RUNNING RACE FOR GENTLEMEN RIDERS

Novelty Added to Program to Be Given at Trenton Fair. Daily Contests.

In addition to the regular running races at Trenton Fair from Sept. 27 to Oct. 1 this year, a novelty will be introduced in a contest for gentlemen riders. This event is expected to attract some of the most prominent riders in the east, as prizes will be offered to the winners.

The great sport of witnessing head and head finishes between thoroughbred running horses has been one of the attractions at Trenton Fair for years. Special attention, it is stated, will be given the feature this season. Three running races are to be on the program each day excepting Friday, when the track will be given over to automobiles exclusively.

Purses of sufficient size to attract wide attention have been placed. Stables that campaign over the Metropolitan tracks enter at Trenton, and many of the runners which have been at the Havre de Grace and other Maryland tracks during the early fall also compete.

The running at Trenton is conducted under the rules of the Jockey club, and competent officials act as judges. A regulation barrier is used for starting, the same as on the metropolitan tracks, instead of the ordinary flag adopted at most fairs.

Dictionary Readers.

That the natives of Nigeria are capable of advanced forms of education is apparently proved by this little incident told by Constance Larymore in "A Resident's Wife in Nigeria."

"My husband told me that in the course of the patrol they passed through a valley where the inhabitants of the rocks and hills above apparently made their homes in holes and caves. One member of the party idly asked what was the scientific name for cave dwellers, the word having slipped his memory for the moment. No one appeared to be able to supply the word. But then the native interpreter, plodding along behind, came up, saying: 'Pardon me, sir. Don't you mean troglodytes?'"

"The Englishman, amazed, asked where he had ever heard such a word, and 'George' replied placidly, 'I was reading a dictionary one day and saw it.'"

"I cannot imagine myself reading a German or Italian dictionary for pleasure and storing in my mind for future use conversationally a specially unusual scientific term. I only wish I could."

Spartans Kept in Trim.

The ancient Spartans paid as much attention to the rearing of men as cattle dealers in this country and England in modern times do to the breeding of cattle. They took charge of firmness and looseness of men's flesh, and regulated the degree of fatness to which it was lawful, in a free state, for any citizen to extend his body.

Those who dared to grow too fat or too soft for military exercise and the service of Sparta were soundly whipped.

In one particular instance, that of Naucles, the son of Polytus, the offender was brought before the Ephori and a meeting of the whole people of Sparta, at which his unlawful fatness was publicly exposed, and he was threatened with perpetual banishment if he did not bring his body within the regular Spartan compass and give up his culpable mode of living, which was declared to be more worthy of an Ionian than a son of Lacedaemon.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Napoleonic Famine Scare.

Britain was on the verge of a bread famine during the Napoleonic wars, and in 1800 a law was enacted prohibiting the sale of bread till it had been out of the oven at least twenty-four hours. "Food was so scarce and dear," writes F. W. Hackwood, "that a portion of the population refused to starve in silence, and rioting broke out in many parts of England. * * * A royal grant of £500 was made to one Thomas Toden to enable him to prosecute a discovery made by him of a 'paste' as a substitute for wheat flour. * * * The unfortunate seamen fighting Great Britain's battle on the high seas had to subsist on biscuits so badly made that when the weevils were knocked out there often remained nothing but empty shells." A plentiful harvest the following year saved the situation.—London Standard.

"Decimation."

A popular error which recurs with unvarying regularity whenever military engagements are reported is the use of the word "decimated" to imply a crushing defeat or something approaching annihilation. Yet, as a moment's consideration of the real meaning of the word suffices to show, the word is so used quite erroneously. "Decimation" means the destruction of one-tenth part of the force involved, and the loss of one in ten, though sufficiently serious, certainly does not mean anything like that wholesale destruction usually meant when "decimation" is talked of. Losses of one in three or one in four have been sustained by forces which still maintained their cohesion and discipline.—Westminster Gazette.

How Dr. Holmes Felt.

Dr. Oliver W. Holmes was small in stature. Upon one occasion he was present at a meeting which happened to be attended by a number of very large men, thus making his diminutive size rather conspicuous in contrast. One of these men—doubtless wishing to make him feel at ease—came up to him and said:

"Well, Dr. Holmes, I should think you would feel rather small among all these fellows."

"I do," replied the doctor; "I feel like a 3 cent piece among a lot of pennies."

Suicides in China.

The Chinese look upon all suicides with honor except when the suicide is from trouble caused by gambling. Frequently if a Chinaman insults another the quarrel is followed by the suicide of the insulted man, who thinks he has cast ignominy on his aggressor by taking his own life.

J. MORGAN READ MONUMENT.

Contract Awarded To Trenton Company—To Be Completed Dec. 1.

A contract has been entered into between State Council of the Junior Order United American Mechanics of the State of New Jersey and the Alexander McDonald Company, of Trenton, for the construction of a beautiful monument to mark the last resting place of the late Rev. J. Morgan Read. The latter's grave is in Riverview Cemetery, Trenton, in a plot of ground donated by members of the order. The monument will be the second highest in Riverview, the shaft which marks the tomb of General McClellan overtopping it by a few feet.

The Read memorial monument will be made in five pieces—three bases, a die and a shaft. The height will be thirty feet. The material is to be of the highest grade of light Barre Vermont granite, and the designer of the monument is A. R. Baxter, superintendent of the company which is to build it.

On the third base will be inscribed "J. Morgan Read," on the die will appear the emblem of the order in raised work, and below this emblem will be cut in square letters the words: "Erected by members of the Junior Order United American Mechanics of the State of New Jersey."

Under one corner of the monument will be deposited in a copper box the record of Dr. Read in the order, which is as follows: Admitted in Goodwill Council, No. 32, in New Brunswick, May 26, 1890; elected and installed councillor of that council in July, 1892; admitted to membership in the State of New Jersey Council, October 22, 1902; elected State councillor and treasurer, October 25, 1905, a position which he held to the day of his death which was March 16, 1915. In this box will also be deposited the names of each member contributing to the fund for the monument, together with the records of the State Council of New Jersey.

CHILDREN FIND INTEREST

IN MAP OF BOSTON BAY

The intrinsic worth of the Geological Survey's topographic atlas sheets as a means of education for school children is but little appreciated. Engineers have long realized the excellence of the Survey maps, automobilists and hikers have become educated to them, but the stimulus they afford to school children not only in the study of geography but of history and American literature is yet to be recognized.

A careful study of the Survey's atlas sheet of Boston and vicinity, for example, will convince the progressive teacher of the unlimited possibilities in this map. Of course the central feature of the map is the historic city of Boston, situated on the well-sheltered harbor of Boston Bay. Here was held the Boston Tea Party, while not far off to the west was "fired the shot heard round the world." Probably every school child in New England knows the story of Paul Revere's ride and doubtless many of them can recite Longfellow's famous poem; if you are familiar enough with Boston to point out to them the exact location of the Old North Church, where the signal light was hung for Paul Revere, they will be delighted.

In Cambridge can be seen the location of Harvard University, and farther north on the map is Tufts College. The boy will perhaps be more interested in the Charlestown Navy Yard, however, or that famous summer resort, Nantasket Beach. He will find it hard to believe when you tell him that in Emerson's time the bathing there was little appreciated and the beach was so lonely in summer that the poet withdrew there after graduation to spend his time in study and contemplation.

These are but a few of the interesting thoughts suggested by a Geological Survey map. The map of Boston and vicinity is double the size of the standard sheets and sells for 20 cents a copy. Orders should be addressed to the Director, U. S. Geological Survey, Washington, D. C., and accompanied by remittance.

CHRIST CHURCH CHRONICLES

Beginning with this issue, the "Chronicles" will appear regularly each week. When in doubt regarding any of our parochial dates, services and activities, consult this column.

Burial:—In Christ Church Cemetery, Monday, Aug. 30, Samuel Henry Parisen, age 79 years. May his soul rest in peace!

Marriage:—In Christ Church Rectory, Monday evening, Aug. 30, Samuel Hansel, of South Amboy, and Mabel Iverson, of Perth Amboy, the Rector officiating. The groom was attended by Mr. William O'Brien, of South Amboy, and the bride by Miss Marie Cook, of Perth Amboy. The newlyweds will make their home in Perth Amboy. We extend congratulations and best wishes to the young couple.

During the month of August there were 15 cases of sickness in the parish. We believe that this is the largest sick list that the present Rector has had in Christ Church Parish. While many of the sick above referred to have recovered, there still remain on the list the following members: Mrs. Philip Hemstreet, Mrs. Philip Dangler, Mr. Joseph Wilson, Miss Ruth Samuelson and Master Carlton Grace. Prayers were said for these in the Church last Sunday.

Next Sunday night our regular Sunday evening services will be resumed. We propose to do our utmost, by song and sermon, to make these evening services hearty and helpful in every respect. Now, you have your part to do also. You can't have a hearty, inspiring service with yawning pews. Gentle parishioners, it is up to you.

The attendance at the Sunday School during the summer has been remarkably good, the best, it is said, for a number of years. Barring the Sunday after "Home Day," and last Sunday, which was quite "moist," the average has hovered around the 100 mark. Not so bad, when we consider that many of our schools close up for summer? The school will continue to meet at the morning hour for a few more Sundays.

It grieves us to report that an alarming number of our people have been "vacationing" from the Lord's House practically all summer. Among these derelictions we note the absence of not a few faces regularly seen in Church at other seasons of the year. Now, let's all start with a clean sheet next Sunday. The Holy Communion will be celebrated at 10.30 a. m. next Sunday, and let us all start right by being present at the Lord's Table.

A good beginning has been made towards improving the Churchyard. The new cement walks have greatly beautified the property. Mr. Preston H. King deserves much credit for efficient superintendence of the work. We are grateful also to Mr. Ambrose M. Gordon for repairing the damage done to the driveway during the severe storm several weeks ago.

PUBLIC SERVICE SHOWS GREAT INCREASE IN GROSS BUSINESS

In the financial statement issued by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, it is shown that the gross increase in business for July last was about $120,000, or a four per cent. gain over the corresponding month of 1914. The increase in gross for seven months ending July 31 was over $750,000, the percentage of gain for the whole period being within a fraction of the figure for July alone. The statement follows:

Month of July 1915.
Gross Increase in Total Business	$119,972 86
Percentage of Increase	4.0 per cent.
Balance available after payment of Operating Expenses, Fixed Charges Sinking Fund Requirements, etc., for Amortization, Dividends and Surplus	287,201 92
Increase in Surplus available for dividends over corresponding period 1914	37,150 34
Seven Months Ending July 31, 1915
Gross Increase in Total Business	$751,808 47
Percentage of Increase	3.7 per cent.
Balance available after payment of Operating Expenses, Fixed Charges Sinking Fund Requirements, etc., for Amortization, Dividends and Surplus	1,864,643 78
Increase in Surplus available for dividends over corresponding period 1914	186,746 15

WRITES ON SKY IN FLIGHTS OF AIRSHIP

Famous Pilot, Art Smith, Sensation in Display of Nerve, to Be at Trenton Fair.

As the most intrepid aviator who has ever made flights in this country Art Smith, the young Indiana boy, now performs feats which are called by everybody "aerial insanity."

His method of constantly introducing new stunts made him the most talked of performer at the Panama-Pacific exposition. On one occasion his engine stalled with him when he was on an air trip with his mother. They were 2,000 feet up at the time, but Smith managed to make a safe landing.

Colonel M. R. Margerum, secretary of the Trenton Interstate Fair, watched his sensational work and then made arrangements for him to appear in Trenton from Sept. 27 to Oct. 1.

The youth has a record of looping the loop thirty-two times in succession. "Art Smith, the boy aviator," one California paper said, "gave a demonstration of aerial insanity at the exposition."

Remarkable photograph of word "Zona" as it was written by Art Smith, with his plane at the Panama-Pacific exposition. Fuses attached to one end of the craft made the photograph possible at night although the ship itself is not visible. The "Z" begins at the second loop from the bottom of the picture, and the "O" and "N" are the top. Smith indulges in dangerous stunts at every ascension.

yesterday that outdid anything ever attempted by any aviator in the west. Men who have witnessed flights in many parts of the world say Smith eclipsed any performance they had ever witnessed.

"Ten thousand people thronged about the North gardens to witness the stunts of the aviator, and the orderly crowd behind the ropes was turned into a cheering concourse of hero worshippers by the time Smith cut off his engine and dropped to the greensward. "Smith appeared to lose all control of his machine, rolled and tossed about in the gale that swept through the Golden Gate like a ship tossed in a storm. His biplane tumbled over and over, forward and backward. Then suddenly the aviator, with a long, graceful loop, came out of the seemingly dangerous condition and would again sail away."

Just Aerial Insanity.
"What sort of aerial stunt was that?" asked a dozen men when the aviator reached the earth. "Just aerial insanity," laughed the mere boy, who had demonstrated his complete control of his frail machine in the air.

"When Smith left the roped inclosure at the North gardens he was surrounded by a crowd of several thousand men, women and children. They raised him upon their shoulders, cheered him and clapped their hands."

"The young aviator drove his bronze colored biplane in the teeth of the thirty mile gale far out over the Golden Gate."

Loops at 4,700 Feet.
"He rushed eastward and upward at a rate exceeding ninety miles an hour. "Around and around the course he circled until the aneroid barometer he carried strapped to his wrist, registered 4,700 feet."

"As he started to loop. "Then he turned his biplane upward for the first loop he touched the electric switch that ignited the spark to the smoke pot attached to one of the wings of the machine. A great column of white vapor shot out behind him as he looped the loop again and again. The smoke appearing like a great mass of white serpentine against the clear sky."

Tumbles About in Air.
"The world record for loops is reported as twenty, held by Smith, but his twenty-one loops of yesterday were not continuous and do not stand as a record."

"Having completed his looping program, Smith proceeded to really thrill the crowd. He dropped to a point about 1,000 feet above the crowd and many thought he was about to make a landing."

"Suddenly his machine turned its side to the wind. A gust caught it, and there was a groan from the crowd. They thought Smith was about to meet the same fate as Lincoln Beachey. His machine appeared to tumble about in the wind like a box kite after the string is cut. But he landed safely."

WINNERS OF SCHOLARSHIPS.

Louis T. Shannon of Pittsburg, Pa., and Robert R. Litehiser of Eaton, Ohio, have been announced by the General Managers of the Pennsylvania Railroad System, Lines East and West of Pittsburgh, as the winners of the Frank Thomson scholarships for 1915.

The Frank Thomson Scholarships were established in 1907 by the children of the late Frank Thomson, formerly President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, as a memorial to their father. Two scholarships are awarded each year, upon competitive examination, to sons of living or deceased employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad System. There were twenty-three applicants this year.

Mr. Shannon is the son of William T. Shannon, deceased, who was an engineman on the Conemaugh Division. He prepared for college at the Fifth Avenue High School of Pittsburgh, and intends entering the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Science Department, in the fall.

Mr. Litehiser is the son of Daniel R. Litehiser, Telegraph Operator on the Southern Division of the Grand Rapids & Indiana Railway. He received his preliminary education at the Eaton, Ohio, High School and expects to enter the Scientific Department at Harvard University.

The purpose of the Frank Thomson scholarships is to enable the holders to take technical college courses to fit themselves for entering the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad System.

REDUCTION in Telephone Rates

A new schedule of rates for measured telephone service in New Jersey is effective September 1st, 1915.

The general features of the new schedules are:

- (1)—The rate for Individual Line Message Rate Service where 600, 800, 1000 and 1200 messages are used is reduced $3.00 per annum.
- (2)—Two-Party Line Message Rate Subscribers are able to secure Individual Line Telephone Service for the same rate formerly charged for Two-Party Line Service. The Two-Party Line Message Rate Service is, therefore, withdrawn.
- (3)—A reduction is made in the annual rate for Private Branch Exchange Service and the requirements as to the minimum amount of equipment to be contracted for are lowered. The rate for telephones connected to a Private Branch Exchange switchboard where a considerable number are used is also reduced.

NOTE—No changes are made in the existing local calling areas or in the rates for Four-Party Measured Service, Flat Rate Service and Toll Service.

The September 1st bills of all subscribers affected contain a notice of the reduction.

For further information concerning the new low rates TELEPHONE our Commercial Office.

DR. DILLA SPOKE IN THE EMPIRE ON SUFFRAGE

Dilla will address an open meeting in the Empire Theatre on the subject "Suffrage or Anti-Suffrage?" She will conduct it as a monologue debate in which both sides will be fairly and fully presented, and the audience may judge for themselves
the correct side of the question.
There is a very strong sentiment throughout the county favorable to woman suffrage, and the hearty applause following the lecture Tuesday night proved conclusively the favorable attitude of a large number.
The address "Suffrage or Anti-Suffrage?" will be announced later and everybody will be welcome.
Sincere thanks are due Mr. Man-
duka, Director of the Empire Theatre,
for his kindness in according to Dr.
Dilla the privilege of speaking to the Empire audience.

THOMAS-COOK.

Mary Cook and Joseph Thomas were united in the bonds of matrimony in the Polish Catholic Church of Perth Amboy, by Rev. Father
Urban, Sunday, August 22, 1916.
Stanley Shultz was bestman and Helen Thomas, the groom's sister, was the bridesmaid. After the ceremony the happy couple retired to the home of the groom on George street, where refreshments were served. The couple will reside in this city.

REV. DANIEL MULHERN.

Rev. Daniel Mulhern, a former pastor of the Baptist Church of this city, but recently retired, departed this life at the Parker Memorial Home,
New Brunswick, on Sunday last. He had been an inmate there for several months.
Mr. Mulhern, who was a widower, is survived by one son, Donald Mulhern, who was formerly a member of the staff of the Home News, of New Brunswick, but is now with the Newark Star. He was a brother-in-law of George Sullivan, of Sayreville.

PRESENTED CUP TO PLAINFIELD COUNCIL

Thursday evening a large delegation of Joel Parker Council boys went to Plainfield to present Franklin Council No. 41, of that place with the handsome cup they won for having the largest number of uniformed men in line in the Mardi Gras parade of the Old Home Celebration. The cup was appropriately engraved by the parade committee. Lee Stults represented the Old Home Day committee at Plainfield. Although unprepared the Plainfield boys accorded the local members a cordial welcome and a warm vote of thanks.

Really square men are seldom

OTTINA CIGAR.

E. Popper & Co. Offer New Domestic Havana Cigar in Ten Sizes.

Ottina de E. Popper & Co. has at last made its debut among the better class of domestic Havana cigars. The line was offered to the trade a few weeks back and already is going well in the ten popular shapes.

Much interest is shown on all sides in this new product of the Popper organization. That, however, is but natural, since Mr. Popper, the genial head of the firm, enjoys the enviable reputation of being one of the most able and experienced manufacturers in the trade, so any brand of his is sure to attract widespread attention. His theory of successful merchandise may be summed up in two words: Maximum Quality.

In the Ottina, it seems that this theory has been put into practice, and many discerning dealers have been quick to recognize and appreciate it, backing up their opinions with substantial orders. At the office, 104
West 42nd street, New York, a most gratifying number of advance orders were reported. On the whole, the success of this interesting newcomer is assured and indications are that Ottina will soon take the place in the front rank of popular high grade brands.

Other staple brands of this firm are Aronas, 10 cent cigar, and the two well known five centers—La Famosa and Grand Republic. The modern and fully equipped plant on Feltus and David streets, this city, is working to full capacity, notwithstanding their output still falls short of their needs and they are somewhat behind in filling orders on all lines.

The Ottina is packed by Mr. Newmark, head of one of the departments.

PLUMMING ON SANDY HOOK.

Fishing and hunting were not the only pursuits that drew the New Jersey Indians at certain seasons to the Atlantic seacoast by way of the Minisink Path. There were beach plums in abundance to be gathered along the seashore, and particularly on the little peninsula of Sandy Hook. The Indians claimed that, when in 1666 they sold Sandy Hook and the adjacent land to Richard Hartshorne, they reserved the right to gather plums.

August and the early days of September are the season for plummings. The fruit grows on a high bush and is in size between a large cherry and a small cultivated plum. Many have been gathered this season at Avon along the banks of Shark River. They make excellent jams and jellies, and many like them in their natural state. Certainly, the Indians liked them that way, and possibly they preserved them by drying.

Twelve years after Hartshorne had bought Sandy Hook, he straightened out misunderstandings over the plummings on his land. An agreement, dated August 8, 1678, was drawn up between him and the Indians, which begins with this quaint preamble:

"Whereas the Indians pretend that formerly, when they sold all the land upon Sandy Hook, they did not sell, or did except, liberty to get plums, or to say the Indians should have liberty to go on Sandy Hook to get plums when they please, and to hunt upon the land, and fish, and to take dry trees that suited them for canoes. Now know all men by these presents, that I, Richard Hartshorne, of Portland, in the county of Monmouth, in East Jersey, for peace and quietness sake, and to the end there may be no cause of trouble with the Indians, and that I may not for the future have any trouble with them, as formerly I had, in their dogs killing my sheep, and their hunting on my lands, and their fishing, I have agreed as followeth."

The agreement provided that the Indians were to keep off on the payment by Hartshorne of thirteen shillings. On this agreement, two Indian representatives, Vowavapon and Tocus, made their marks.—The Loris, in Newark News.

TREADING THE BEATEN PATH

Mistake Made by Many is to Think They Have Discovered All Things Along the Route.

Most of us grow weary at times of what we call the beaten path. We have trod it so often that we imagine we know its mileposts by heart and believe that with eyes and ears closed to what is going on about us we could tell in a moment our whereabouts. This may be true to a degree, but such intuition is not given to everyone, and sometimes even to those who really think they have explored all the byways of the great path of life many things are yet undiscovered. It all really is a question of our own ability to appreciate and use to our advantage such conditions as influence our individual lives. Of course, if we have no desire beyond attaining a purely worldly success we limit our possibilities of enjoying life to its highest degree, because material success is not everything in this world. It is very good, to be sure, and very satisfying in a way, but even those who can bear personal testimony to its many advantages are the first to admit that wealth and high worldly position do not comprise the sum total of happiness. We must have an inner life, a consciousness of the existence of something better and higher than the world affords, before we can really deem ourselves wholly blessed. And that realization is often easier obtained by the man who has little or nothing of the world's blessings than by his more fortunate brothers who bask in its smiles.

M. P. CHURCH NOTES.

Sunday morning, September 26, will be observed the Quarterly Love Feast, and in the evening will be held our Annual Rally Day Exercises. An excellent program is being prepared and the Public is cordially invited.

The following is the result of the annual election of officers for the Sunday School: Mr. Howard Bloodgood, superintendent; assistants, Mr. P. A. Stults, Mr. Fred R. Leonard, secretary, Louis Clayton; organist, Mrs. Ed. English; treasurer, Jacob Sprague; Superintendent Primary Department, Mrs. Rachel Leonard; Superintendent Home Department, Mrs. Sallie Petty; Librarians, Thomas Havens, Harry Petty, Arthur Raynor, Maurice Steiner and Harold Dill.

The work in the Young People's Societies is moving along encouragingly and hopeful. Miss Ethel Dill has been selected to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Edna Peterson, Superintendent of the J. R. C. Society, and Mr. P. M. Jorgenson, Secretary to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. A. L. Peterson, who plans soon to enter the Westminster Theological Seminary to more fully equip himself for the ministry. The societies regret the loss of these active workers; but submit, believing that a larger field of service is opening for them.

To the great British statesman John Bright, a mammoth worshiper once said: "Do you know Sir, that I am worth a million sterling?" Instantly and incisively, though calmly, the great statesman replied, "Yes, I do; and I know that it is all you are worth." Is it not a sad thing for one to be worth only his money?"—Biblical Recorder.

EXHIBIT TRENTON'S FAIR.

Experts to Give Demonstrations on Trees and Fires.

Arrangements have been made by the division of forestry and parks of the state department of conservation and development to place novel features at the Trenton Fair from Sept. 27 to Oct. 1. The exhibition this fall will be developed from that of last year, which met with so much popular approval. The purpose of the display is to illustrate the protection and development of New Jersey forests and to show the various products New Jersey can produce.

The protection of forests from fire consists primarily of prompt discovery and extinguishment of every incipient blaze. To illustrate this work a collection of the various tools actually used in fire fighting and a miniature forest showing the effectiveness of fire lines in stopping fires are planned for the exhibit.

Scientific utilization of the forest is to be demonstrated by trees which are mature or defective and those which are in vigorous condition and suitable for future growth. The various industries using wood, such as the manufacture of baskets, crates, barrels and excelsior, will be illustrated by specimens at each step of the operation from the tree to the finished product.

Shade tree care and planting will also be demonstrated. A small plantation of white pine has been established in the back part of the plot on which the entry cabin is located, and a number of the various kinds of more serviceable shade trees have been planted on the borders of the plot. Methods of tree doctoring will be demonstrated specimens of injured trees. Within the cabin there will be a large collection of photographs illustrating various types of forests within the state and the work on the state re-

CHRIST CHURCH CHRONICLES

Very good congregations at all services on last Sunday, the rainy weather notwithstanding. We want more "Soldiers of Christ" who are not afraid of "spoiling the gold braid on their uniforms." There was an increase of about twenty per cent. in the attendance at the evening service.

In response to many inquiries, we beg to say that the first meeting of the Men's Club will be held on the second Tuesday of October, viz., the twelfth. The Rector would like to meet with the Board of Directors for just a few minutes after the mid-day service next Sunday.

Sermon subjects for next Sunday are as follows: Morning—"Conscript Soldiers of the Cross." Evening—"Playing in the Market Place."

It pains us to have to chronicle the death of another one of our faithful parishioners, Mrs. Maria Augusta Dangler, wife of Philip Dangler, who departed this life on Saturday morning, September 18, age 53 years. Although providentially hindered of recent years from active participation in the affairs of the parish, she always evinced a keen interest in all things pertaining to its welfare. She will be sorely missed in home and parish. In the words of the ancient Church, "Grant her, O Lord, eternal rest, and may light perpetual shine upon her!"

"Angels of life and death alike are his; Without his leave they pass no threshold o'er; Who then would wish or dare, believing this, Against his messengers to shut the door?"

Rally Day for the Sunday School on Oct. 3. There will be some fine Biblical pictures projected by the reflectoscope, and there will be other interesting features. The officers and teachers of the school are requested to meet with the Rector in the parish house on next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Girls' Friendly Society opened most auspiciously with a good meeting on last Monday night. Miss Claire Hamilton, who with Miss Edith Arnold represented our G. F. S. at the Conference on July 3 at Island Heights, read a "snappy" paper giving in detail an account of their pleasures and adventures at the "Holiday House." Miss Agnes Agan also gave an exceedingly interesting narration of a brief vacation spent in the "Holiday House" of the Girls' Friendly Society at beautiful Lake George, New York. It may be worth while, in passing, to remark that our local branch contributes $10 each year to the "Holiday House" at Island Heights, N. J.

Now and then we hear a plaintive wail (not unfamiliar, we trow, to many parsons or parishes) that "no one speaks to me when I go to your Church." To all such we beg to say these few words:

If you are a stranger in our parish, and if for some reason or for none, you do not seem to receive a hearty welcome when you attend church, do not consider it intentional neglect.

Remember the difficulties which may stand in the way of people speaking to you.

Remember that possibly some old parishioners have been rebuffed and given a "cold, gray stare" by people who did not want to be spoken to.

Remember that the congregation is really glad to see you.

Do your part. Take the initiative by giving your name to the Clergyman or some responsible person. Try to come to some of our Guild or Club meetings. Give the people a chance to "warm up" to you.

Remember, you must go a part of the way. It is hardly reasonable or just to expect others to go more than nine-tenths of the way.

Finally remember that as a Christian it is just as much your responsibility to see that the Church does its work as it is the responsibility of the minister or the old parishioners or anybody else.

Next Sunday is the day of the Rector's appointment at Doane Memorial Chapel and the Chapel of the Good Shepherd.

St. Martha's Guild held an important business session on last Tuesday afternoon, and although it was the first meeting after the vacation season there was a fair attendance. It was voted to hold a chowder sale on the afternoon of Tuesday, Oct. 12, the date of the next monthly business meeting, and a sale of home bakery products a few days later. Plans were also made looking toward a parish social of a somewhat unique nature, to be held during the latter part of October. Preparations for the "Alphabet Fair, to be held on Nov. 10, 11, and 12, are rapidly nearing completion. However, a number of the booths are still waiting for volunteers, namely the "N," "S," "Q," "Y" and "Z" booths. We respectfully offer the following suggestions for these booths: "N": Nuts, noodles, nicotine (tobacco) and napkins; "S": soups, scallops, soaps, sandals, saurkraut, sausages, salads, salmagundi, (chopped meats), scarfs, shawls, sherry, shrimps, and stews; "Y": Yokes, yarn and yeast; "Q" seems destined to be "quits," unless some one specializes on quilts and queensware; while the "Z" booth, we fear will be "Zero," since about all we can bring to mind under "z" is zebra and zoo. However, zeal and zest may yet be in evidence for this booth. Who will volunteer for any of the booths aforementioned. Report at once.

BOARD OF HEALTH GRANTS SPECIAL PERMIT ON TAP

(Crowded out of last week's Issue.) In response to the arguments put forth by Councilman Slover, who is chairman of the sewer committee, at the meeting held Thursday evening, the Board of Health decided to forego the provisions of its ordinances and permit the connecting of two adjoining properties on Broadway on one sewer tap. This action was taken in order to avoid the expense and detriment of breaking into and then repaving the pavement of Broadway. The properties in question are owned by Elwood R. Brown, the incumbent of the city treasurer's office, and are located between John and George streets. One house has a sewer connection on a Y joint, the other will now be connected on the Y. Mr. Slover stated that there would be an unusual amount of fall obtainable and he could see no reason why everything shouldn't be perfectly satisfactory. Mr. Slover called attention to the fact that the city council always adhered to the provisions and ordinances of the health authorities but that in the transaction of their own affairs they sometimes found it necessary to stretch an ordinance a little bit in order to be practical. In this case it was their desire to work together for the good of the city at large.

Inspector Buckelew stated that making this connection would be a clear violation of the ordinance but that the Board had the power to permit the violation if they saw fit to do so. The Inspector called attention to the precedent that would be established and said that if exceptions were allowed in one instance they would logically be expected in others.

In response to a request for his opinion the plumbing inspector, Mr. A. A. Hulise, stated that he believed that the connection in question would be satisfactory in view of the unusual depth of the fall obtainable.

Judge Mason asked if it would not place the board in somewhat of a ridiculous position if they acquiesced with the request of the council's sewer committee chairman? He said that the board had passed an ordinance and were now to be the first to break it. He believed that the question of expense should not be used as an argument to favor the infringement of the law and that a precedent would be established that would end no one could tell where.

Mr. Buckelew said that the whole matter resolved itself into a question of privilege and nothing more. The Board could or could not grant the desired permission, just as they saw fit. While he was anxious to see the council and the health authorities work together and would therefore favor granting the privilege, he was unalterably opposed to making any exceptions to the ordinances. Messrs. Heston and Mahoney expressed themselves as being in accord with the latter statements of the Inspector. Then Mr. Heston offered a motion to the effect that the request of Mr. Slover be granted. Mr. Mahoney seconded the motion and it was carried without a dissenting murmur.

President Dill appointed Messrs. Heston and Mahoney as a committee to draft a set of resolutions appropriate to the memory of their late departed fellow member, Mr. Joseph Wilson.

The application for a license as plumber was granted to Mr. Joseph Kierst. This matter has been hanging fire for some time and in granting the license the board wanted to know whether or not it was the intention of Mr. Kierst to engage in general plumbing work. Mr. Kierst replied that if it came his way he would do so, but that at present he was not exactly inclined to do so. The Inspector remarked that there should be a fee attached to the granting of licenses so that plumbers from out of town as well as others, who had only one job to do, wouldn't find it so easy and convenient to take out a license and then go their way.

The report of the registrar of vital statistics showed four marriages, fifteen births and fifteen deaths during the month just past. The treasurer's report showed $186.54 on hand, $21.00 having been received since the last meeting. Both reports were received and placed on file.

The following bills were ordered paid: H. Muldoon, $0.50; A. L. Hulise, $6.00; South Amboy Post Office, $5.62; W. R. Thompson, $25.00.

Councilman Slover told the board that the council had taken action with a view to seeing that their request regarding the dumping of decayed fruit and vegetables and other rubbish into the streets would be carried out in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance governing such matters.

NATIONAL GAS LIGHTING WEEK OFFERS CHANCE TO SAVE MONEY

National Gas Lighting Week will be observed by all the leading Gas Companies of the country from September 27 to October 2.

The idea is to direct public attention to the remarkable advances made in the art of gas lighting.

Clover Design Semi-Indirect Fixtures and the wonderful C. E-Z. lights are the very latest and very highest development of the gas lighting art.

We are going to feature these fixtures and these lights during National Gas Lighting Week.

To draw attention to these fixtures in a practical way, we will cut the price of them twenty per cent. during National Gas Lighting Week. This is a bona-fide reduction and will hold good for the week only.

For the benefit of other consumers we will also allow a reduction of twenty per cent. on domes, on reading lamps, and on our staple line of fixtures, sold during the same week.

On Humphrey inverted are lamps and on large Reflex lamps used in stores, halls, offices, and factories, we will reduce the price ten per cent. on all orders filed during National Gas Lighting Week.

For those who want mantles, we will sell four Reflex mantles for 50 cents. These mantles retail for 15 cents apiece.

We urge you to see the C. E-Z. light. It is something new. It is different from all other gas lights. We think it is the best yet produced.

We are making special prices on the C. E-Z. lights. We will put one in your home complete, ready to light for $1.40; two at $1.35 each; three or more at $1.30 each.

Nearly every home needs something in the way of lighting facilities at this season of the year.

Supply YOUR wants during National Gas Lighting Week and get the advantage of reduced prices. Also the advantage of partial payments, if you so desire.

Bill Killefer, Philadelphia Nationals' Backstop.

William Killefer, first string catcher of the Philadelphia Nationals, is considered by experts to be one of the best backstops in the game. He is lightning fast and throws the ball to bases with splendid accuracy and great speed. Very few bases are stolen when Bill is on duty behind the plate. In holding up pitchers he is in a class by himself. With the bat also Mr. Killefer is very handy, being considered the best sacrifice hitter in the National league, and as a pinch hitter he is feared by managers and pitchers. Killefer is a pupil of Charley Dooin, who is now catching for McGraw's Giants.

Developer of Pitchers.

If nothing else is absolutely proved by this year of baseball at least one thing will be established as almost undeniable in any quarter—Wilbert Robinson is the greatest developer and handler of pitchers in the game today if not the greatest of all time. The Brooklyn manager now has a pitching staff for his Dodgers that outclasses any other in the National league and that compares at least even up with the powerful hurling corps of the Red Sox and White Sox, which represent the class of the American circuit in this line. At the beginning of the current season the Dodgers' pitching strength was the most problematical element to be found anywhere in the field of sixteen clubs that faced the barrier. Robby has developed them into stars.

Bender Hopes to Come Back.

"Chief" Bender, the Athletics' ex-star pitcher, who has been released by the Baltimore Federals, declares that he has plenty of good pitching left in him and that he will come back.

Whether he will play again this season Bender does not know, but it is likely that he will rest until next spring. Bender refuses to "alibi" his release from the Baltimore Federal league team, but admits he had a poor year.

"I have never tried to alibi a defeat or a failure of any sort, and I won't start now. I had a bad season with a bad ball team, but don't think that I am through. I still have several years of good pitching left in me, and I will be back."

Gardner, Champion Golfer.

The amateur golf championship of the United States went to the west again, after several years' stay in the east, when Robert A. Gardner of the Hinsdale (Ill.) Country club, a former Yale golfer and world's champion pole vaulter, defeated John G. Anderson of the St. Anthon Country club of Mount Vernon, N. Y., in the final match at Detroit, Mich. The margin of victory was 5 up and 4 to play. Gardner achieved national recognition as a golfer in 1909, when he won the amateur championship from Chandler Egan of Chicago at Wheaton, Ill.

NEW JERSEY LEADS IN THE PRODUCTION OF RAW CLAY

According to statistics recently collected by the New Jersey Geological Survey in co-operation with the United States Geological Survey, more high-grade clay is dug and sold in New Jersey than in any other state. During 1914 there were 45 producers who sold an aggregate of 373,703 short tons, valued at $648,584, a decrease of $121,165 in value and 74,432 tons in quantity compared with 1913. These quantities are in addition to the very much larger amount of clay of all grades dug by the manufacturers. The value of this clay is not computed separately but is included in that of the finished product. Of the clay dug and sold, over 73 per cent. was fire clay, a considerable part of which was shipped to other states.

The chief clay producing district of the State is in Middlesex County near Woodbridge, South Amboy and Perth Amboy.

SOUTH RIVER A. C. AGAIN

INVADES THIS CITY

The South River A. C. in a tough game defeated the Sacred Heart A. C. by a score of 13 to 10 on Sunday last.

Dixie was in the box for the visitors while Moleksi and Barch twirled against him. Six of the Sacred Heart hitters fanned the air. Moleksi received ten strikeouts and Barch one. Murray Borlund was fooled when he had two strikes on him and a third was called making him a victim of the fanners.

This Sunday the Empire A. C. will meet the Sacred Heart A. C. in the fourth game of the series. The Empires won one and Sacred Heart two. S. H. A. C. ... 0 1 5 0 0 1 0 0 3—10 S. R. A. C. ... 1 0 3 0 0 4 0 4 1—13

SPORTING NOTES.

Only another week now before the Princeton-Rutgers game comes off.

If the infield had only held true last Saturday the Michigan Colts might have added another victory to their already long string. As it is they lost to Jamesburg by a big score.

The Colts came back strong Sunday, though, and cleaned up the Helmetta Braves like they had a grudge against somebody.

The Colts still have a game or two to play in the South Shore Industrial League.

On account of the activities of Old Jupe last Saturday night Amusement Park was stark and barren of population last Sunday and the Rahway-Roosevelt-Pacers games were postponed until to-morrow.

With the leaves beginning to fall the Empire lads are beginning to turn their attention from the diamond to the gridiron.

'Tis said by some that our friend McMichael wouldn't be entirely averse to giving Larry Smith's pets the benefit of some of his hard earned experience on the chalk-ruled turf-fields.

The Sayreville Whirlwinds will again be seen on the basketball courts of the county this winter.

Last Saturday the Terra Cotta lost to the Powder Works team by a score of 10 to 9.

McDonald and Manaker worked for Terra Cotta team against Hackett and Barry at Parlin last Saturday.

The Terra Cotta-Powder Works game last Saturday was quite an interesting slugfest match from all accounts.

His Investment.

The man with the hoe had just finished planting his sweet peas. "There," said he, straightening up. "I've spoiled a $5 pair of shoes and ruined a $6 pair of trousers, but if we have good luck we'll get a bouquet for which the florist would have charged about 50 cents."—Stray Stories.

TO INSPECT FOOD AT TRENTON FAIR.

State Health Department and Officers of Exposition Co-operating to Protect Patrons.

Greater efforts than ever before are to be made this year to insure the purity of foods and drinks sold on the grounds at the Trenton Fair, which will be held this year from Sept. 27 to Oct. 1. For several years the State Department of Health has had its inspectors visit the Fair for the purpose of preventing the sale of fraudulent or harmful foods and drinks. Most of the vendors of such products have honestly endeavored to supply the best, and they will receive aid to accomplish that object this year.

The food laws were strengthened by the last legislature, so that the authorities this year will be operating under laws that cover the subject more completely. Another important factor in the plans is an arrangement between the state department of health and the Fair Association whereby the two bodies are to co-operate for the benefit of the public who visit the Fair.

One provision of the contract between the Fair Association and all persons who obtain concessions on the grounds is that the concessionaire agrees to conform to the state laws in the exercise of the privileges granted under the contract. It is provided further that a violation of this condition shall forfeit all rights under the contract as well as the fees that have been paid for the privilege. According to the plan of co-operation between the state department of health and the Fair Association, persons who refuse to conform to the state laws in regard to the character of foods and drinks sold and the method of handling them will have their contracts immediately revoked by the Fair Association.

County Accounts Kept In a Businesslike Way

A tribute to the ability of the present Board of Freeholders has been unconsciously paid to its members by the Universal Audit Company, of New York City, which has completed a very thorough and efficient examination of the financial books of the Board of Freeholders, from January 1, 1910, to June 30, 1915. Middlesex county has been in control of the present Board of Freeholders since January 1, 1910, and the report of the auditing company is considered by the board's members to be the strongest argument in their possession for re-election. And, strange to relate, the audit was not at the request of board. Former County Collector Thomas H. Hagerty resigned on June 15, 1915, and requested an audit of his books, during his term of office, which was likewise begun on January 17, 1910.

Books Correct, Office Well Managed

Not only does the auditing company report that the collector's books are correct in every detail, but it generously adds a compliment to the board in its management of the office. It is stated in the report that every check and voucher has been examined—covering the entire five years—and not an error of account was discovered. The auditing company has had a representative in New Brunswick for several weeks, making a painstaking examination, and he has checked every item in the collector's books for the last five years.

The company concludes in its report as follows: "All bookkeeping entries were based upon correct and recognized authority and are in order. The books of account reflect neat and accurate work, and the condition of the records and documents indicate that more than usual care was displayed in the management of the office and conduct of the routine work. We believe that every record and transaction has been inquired into, reviewed in detail and verified in all particulars. The evident regularity and desire upon the part of those charged with the duty of conducting the affairs of the office justifies a complimentary tribute upon our part. We respectfully suggest further that proper recognition be made of the excellent conduct of the office during the period under review as our wide experience with municipal affairs prompts this statement, that those of your county are efficiently and capably managed."

A resolution was passed at the meeting of the Board of Freeholders on September 16, releasing Mr. Hagerty from his $100,000 personal bond, given when he assumed office in 1910, and which was renewed from appointment to appointment. The new collector, Edward Burt, gave a surety company bond. Mr. Hagerty's bond was signed by himself, and the following cosureties: Patrick Hagerty, the County Collector's father; Judge Peter F. Daly, Charles A. McCormick and Dr. F. M. Donohue, all of New Brunswick. Mr. Hagerty's brother Dr. John F. Hagerty, a Newark physician. Mr. Hagerty is naturally very much pleased with the auditing company's report, and asserts that it is a splendid recommendation for the return of the present board to office for another two years.

The resolution in full is as follows:

By Freeholder Kerr: Whereas, Thomas H. Hagerty, of New Brunswick, who has been County Collector and Sinking Fund Commissioner of the County of Middlesex from January 1, 1910, to May 5, 1915, tendered his resignation to become effective on the last-mentioned date; and

Whereas, At the request of Mr. Hagerty, an audit was had by the Universal Audit Company, certified public accountants, of New York, of all his books, vouchers, accounts, records, receipts and disbursements; and Whereas, The said Universal Audit Company has completed its audit and has reported verifying the receipts from all sources, the disbursement and the authority therefor, and the balances, together with its approval of the general management and conduct of the office and its records, and the transfer by Mr. Hagerty to his successor of all the monies, books records and papers;

Therefore, be it and it is hereby resolved, That said Thomas H. Hagerty, be and he is hereby released of and from any and all further obligation in connection with or pertaining to the office of County Collector or Sinking Fund Commissioner of the County of Middlesex.

Be it further resolved, That the report of Universal Audit Company be confirmed and approved; and

Be it further resolved, That the Board records its appreciation of the capable, efficient and thorough management of the said office by Mr. Hagerty during his incumbency, as his faithful and courteous relation with our membership.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE received by the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Middlesex, at their rooms in the County Record Building, at New Brunswick, on MONDAY, OCTOBER 18th, 1915, at 2.30 o'clock p. m., for the extraordinary repair of New Brunswick Avenue, in the City of Perth Amboy, from the Perth Amboy City Line at Florida Grove Road to the Easterly line of Mitchell Place, according to the plans and specifications on file at the offices of Alvin B. Fox, County Engineer, Perth Amboy, N. J., and Edward Burt, County Collector, New Brunswick, N. J.

A deposit of Five Dollars will be required for copy of plans and proposal sheets, which will be refunded upon the return of the plans in good condition. Such plans and proposal sheets may be obtained by bidders only from the engineer's office.

Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check in the amount of $1,000, without any conditional endorsement, which check shall be forfeited should the successful bidder fail to enter into contract and bond within ten days from the award of the bid.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids if in their opinion it is to the best interest of the County so to do.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY—Between Conrad Gaub, complainant, and Catherine Collins and John Collins, her husband, et al., defendants. Fl. Fa., for sale of mortgaged premises, dated August 25th, 1915.

By virtue of the above-stated writ to me directed and delivered, I will expose to sale at public vendue, on WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER SIXTH, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN, at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the Sheriff's Office, in the City of New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Said lot of land being twenty-five (25) feet front and rear and one hundred (100) feet deep, and is known and designated on the Recorded Map of South Amboy as Lot Number Sixty-one (61) on Block Number thirty-six (36), said lot of land and premises being the same lot of land and premises heretofore conveyed by Thomas Sheridan and wife to Joseph Mulvey by deed dated the third day of November A. D. eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, and recorded in the Middlesex County Clerk's Office in Book 162 of Deeds, Page 462.

ALSO all those certain four lots of land and premises hereinafter described, situate, lying and being in the City of South Amboy, in the County of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, known and designated on a map of South Amboy made by John Perrine, Surveyor, in June, 1835; and filed in the Middlesex County Clerk's Office as lots numbered thirty-one (31) thirty-two (32) thirty-three (33) and thirty-four (34) on Block Forty-five (45), said lot being twenty-five feet front and rear and one hundred (100) feet deep, said lots being the same lots heretofore conveyed by Charles C. Leavy, to Joseph Mulvey by deed dated the tenth day of September, A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy-three and recorded in the Middlesex County Clerk's Office in Book 162 of Deeds, page 465, etc.

ALSO all those certain two building lots of land, situate, lying and being in the City of South Amboy, in the County of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, each being twenty-five (25) feet front and rear and one hundred (100) feet deep, known and designated as Lots numbers Twenty-three (23), Twenty-four (24) fronting on Tompkins Place, in the Block twenty (20), as laid down on the Recorded map of the Village of South Amboy, County of Middlesex and State of New Jersey, and made by John Perrine, dated in June A. D. 1835—said two last mentioned lots being the same lots conveyed by David T. Wait and wife and Ephraim Martin and wife to Joseph Mulvey and his wife, by deed dated the ninth day of August, A. D. eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and recorded in the Middlesex County Clerk's Office in Book 88 of Deeds, page 672, etc.

ALSO three on Gordon street, and four lots on Block Eighteen (18) all the lots not herein mentioned which the said Joseph Mulvey conveyed to Mary Mulvey by deed of date on the twenty-seventh day of May, A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty-a. x. The three lots above mentioned as being on Gordon street are known and designated as follows: Those other lots Nos. Twelve (12) Thirteen (13) and Fourteen (14) on Block No. Thirty-three (33) and are bounded as follows: Southerly by Gordon street, on which they front; westerly by lot No. Fifteen (15) northerly by lots Nos. Sixty-five (65), sixty-six (66), and Sixty-seven (67). ALL of the above described lots are twenty-five (25) feet front and rear by one hundred (100) feet deep. Said lots being part of the same conveyed to Joseph Mulvey by Augustus Rappley by deed dated July 6, 1865, and recorded in the office of the Clerk of Middlesex County on Nov. 4, 1876. Known and designated on the Recorded Map of South Amboy, Lots Nos. Twenty (20), Twenty-one (21), Twenty-two (22) and Twenty-three (23) on Block No. Nineteen.

EXCEPTING THEREFROM Lots Twelve (12), Thirteen (13) and Fourteen (14) Block Thirty-three (33) and Lots Twenty (20) Twenty-one (21), Twenty-two (22), Twenty-three (23), on Block (19) Nineteen.

Got Their Share.
Seven communists in Paris during the 1848 revolution called on the head of the Rothschild house there, reminding him that now all wealth was to be divided and, intimidated that he better get ready. The wily financier pulled out a pencil, divided his own wealth by the population of France, gave each of the committeemen four francs and bade them good day.

Daniel W. Bunting has sold the building on First street, formerly occupied by him as a shoe repair shop, to Mrs. R. Weyd of Main street, Milltown. Mrs. Weyd will have the building moved to the beach at Morgan where it will be used as a summer bungalow.

The Central Railroad of New Jersey will run an excursion from this city to-morrow to West Point and off Newburg. The train will leave this city at 8.30 a. m., connecting at Jersey City with the swift steamer "Sandy Hook." The fare is $1.15; children 60c. See adv. for further particulars.

Miring deeply in some soft sand in the road upset a big Packard automobile near Dead Man's Curve on the Morgan Road last Saturday afternoon. The sand had been used to fill up a recent washout and was quite soft. The automobile turned over on its side and rested against a fence. A few feet more would have taken it over the embankment with serious results to the occupants. As it was no one was injured. Miller's

CAUGHT PLENTY OF FISH.

Mr. S. K. Garretson, of New Brunswick, and Mr. George A. Brower, of New York City, motored from New Brunswick to Morgan last Monday with intentions of spending the day fishing. They hired a power boat from Harry Bloodgood and sailed out to the Middle ground between Mt. Loretta, Staten Island and the boundary monument. When they docked on the return trip about four o'clock in the afternoon their catch showed the results of an excellent day's sport. The string totaled 48 prime weak fish and two blue fish. The catch was one of the best exhibited at Morgan this season.

One day last week these two fishermen spent an entire day in the bay and caught only three fish. Disgusted with their luck they returned determined to have revenge. Now their revenge is ample and is sweet indeed. On Monday's expedition their bait supply was exhausted about three o'clock. Two of the catch were cut up for bait but the fish bait didn't pan out very well.

HOW ARABIANS TRAIN HORSES

Familiar Old Stories About Housng Them With Human Belings Are Merely Fables.

So far as we know the Arabian breeders have no patented system of training their horses different from those prevailing among peoples of a similar degree of civilization, the Breeders' Gazette says. Naturally, the lack of pasture results in young Arabian horses being fed a considerable quantity of barley, and so, the story goes, at least, a not inconsiderable quantity of the fruit of the date palm, fresh and dried, by way of succulence.

The colts are broken usually bare-backed at two or three years old. Their subsequent handling is much like that of all other horses with perhaps the difference that as early in life as possible the young animals are accustomed to doing without water for increasing periods of time, in order to accustom them later on to the scarcity of liquids in desert journeys. The ancient stories about the Arab steed being kissed and bawled over by the sheik's whole family, kept in the living tent and foaled on the best silk rugs are picturesque fables containing about the same measure of truth as the one which dates the pedigrees of Arabian horses back to the mares owned in Biblical times by King Solomon.

DISEASED TREES IN THE PEACH ORCHARD.

Peach growers should now take time to remove from their orchards the trees upon which diseases have appeared during the past season.

Trees affected with peach yellows may be recognized by the fact that the fruit on one or more branches ripens before that on the remainder of the tree. These peaches are usually mottled and when cut open the flesh appears streaked with red. The taste is often bitter or insipid. The leaves have a yellowish color and are inclined to roll from the edges. Willy shoots growing out from the trunk and lower branches usually appear in the later stages of the disease.

Upon trees affected with little peach, as in the case of yellows, the fruit is smaller than it should be or smaller on some branches than on others. Instead of ripening prematurely however, the fruit is late. The leaves are yellowish, often grow out in bunches, and tend to hang down through the center of the tree.

These diseases are contagious, and if infected trees are left in the orchard the surrounding trees are in danger of becoming diseased within the following year. The New Jersey Experiment Station advises that diseased trees be pulled out by the roots and burned. Care should be taken to prevent them from coming in contact with healthy trees.

PROPOSALS.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE received by the Council of the City of South Amboy, N. NOTED PERFORMERS IN THRILLING ACTS
BEFORE TRENTON FAIR GRAND STAND

Exposition Will Have Entertaining and Educational Demonstrations; Art Smith, Aviator in Aerial Insanity; Motorcycle Looping the Loop; Human Bursting Bomb; Daredevil Schreyer; Forestry Display; Health Exhibits.

ART SMITH, FAMOUS AVIATOR, WHOSE DARING EXHIBITIONS IN A BIPLANE HAVE CREATED A SENSATION. HE IS TO FLY AT TRENTON FAIR FROM SEPT. 27 TO OCT. 1.

TRENTON Fair's free open air show in front of the grand stand from Sept. 27 to Oct. 1 will have the greatest number of sensational performers ever gathered at a similar exposition.

In addition to the amusement program, the Fair will be made more interesting than ever through the co-operation of state officials. They will have displays from the state department of conservation and development, health and agricultural experiment stations.

The open air show will be featured by Art Smith. His name stands out prominently in the list of those who are to give demonstrations of daring in masterful acts. Fearless in the air, which sometimes proves treacherous, he is constantly introducing new thrills in his flights. He has just established a new record of twenty-six loops in the air in fifty-two seconds. To enable Trenton Fair patrons to follow his turns more easily he will have smoke fuses on his biplane, and they will show the exact course of his machine when making the loops.

Because of the seeming recklessness that marks his work it is often spoken of as "aerial insanity." This "human comet" has been the sensation of the Panama-Pacific exposition, where his flights have been the most talked of act on the grounds.

Smith is to give two flights daily at the Trenton Fair. On one of them each day he will give ten loops in absolute succession and will give loops down to 300 feet above the center of the race track. His vertical dives will be from 2,000 to 3,000 feet straight down to landing. He will show tail slides and wing slides and fly upside down from one-half to three-quarters of a mile.

In a giant spiral tower and seesaw combination Pelouquin, globe trotter, is scheduled for bewildering and hazardous feats. This is declared to be the only act of its kind on earth. "This act requires great skill, unquestionable nerve and physical strength. On a globe twenty-five inches in diameter he goes up and down a spiral and out upon a seesaw. At each performance he travels a distance of nearly 500 feet and has no safety device of any description. On the plumbline he is thirty-eight feet above the ground, and at the center of the seesaw he is thirty-two feet. The act is a novelty for this section of the country.

Daredevil Schreyer.

Described as "the greatest act the world has ever known," the performance of Daredevil Schreyer is to establish a record in the length of the loop that is to be made by this daring performer. He is to jump across both the track and stage. To accomplish this feat the top of his platform will have to be 120 feet high. Down the steep incline he speeds on his bicycle. As he reaches the end of the platform and hurdles into space he jumps from the wheel. After going across the vaucluse stage and track he lands in a pool of water. He is declared to be the only man capable of performing this act.

Enclosed in a golden globe, with openings to bring them into view, the troupe of Cedora and company will try to loop the loop. This startling act, that combines risk with cleverness, was made a feature by Barnum & Bailey's circus at Madison Square Garden last March. It carries the largest globe of its kind over built, and out of it the riders must go squarely over the top center of the sphere at least twenty times in succession.

Jewell brothers, the aeronauts, winners of the International balloon contest at San Francisco, will give demonstrations of their dangerous feats. Harry Jewell will make a balloon ascension, and when 1,000 feet in the air he will cut loose and try to land in the track center. If he goes outside of the track he is not to receive any money for the ascension. The idea in this feat is to show patrons the manner of cutting loose from a balloon with a parachute and the way the aeronaut strikes the ground.

"The Living Propeller."

The Santey brothers, who furnished the special aerial feature of the mid-winter circus of the New York Hippodrome, are to be seen in Europe's latest invention, "The Living Propeller." In it they loop the loop in midair at a height of more than fifty feet.

Jewell's Pdrinl will make his first appearance in America with his bouncing balloon at Trenton Fair. Originality has been reached in this number, which promises to furnish surprise and entertainment.

There will also be a score of other acts.

For Crack Record.

With more attractive purses than ever in its history, the Trenton Interstate Fair Association is this year expected to have a better racing card than ever. More than $7,000 will be awarded in premiums.

The trots will be 2:14, 2:17, 2:19, 2:21, 2:24, 2:27, three-year-old. The paces will be free for all, 2:12, 2:15, 2:17, 2:19, 2:22, 2:25.

An extra cash prize of $500 is offered to the driver of the horse-breaking the track record of 2:07, made by Prince Alert, the famous pacer, in 1905.

Excellent cards of running and automobile races have also been arranged. The running contests will be a part of the program every day, excepting Friday, of the exposition, when the track will be reserved for automobiles. Ralph De Palma, Jack Le Cain and other famous drivers are to appear in the contests.

A Baby Health exhibit has been arranged, and mothers will be given instruction there on the best manner of caring for their infants. The co-operation of the Russell Sage foundation, which has great funds at its disposal, is co-operating in this work.

Monday of the Fair this year is to be for children, Tuesday for ladies, Wednesday for farmers, Thursday for politicians and Friday for automobiles.

TRENTON FAIR POULTRY SHOW

Harvey E. Rogers, superintendent of the poultry department of the Trenton Fair, expects that the show this year will far exceed that of last fall, when more than 1,000 birds were exhibited.

The building will be open for the reception of exhibits Sept. 27 at 8 o'clock, and Mr. Rogers has made arrangements to take care of all the birds.

On account of the increase in the first prize money for single classes of poultry—bantams, turkeys, geese and ducks—from $2 to $3, he expects this to be his banner year. The first prize for exhibition pens of poultry and bantams has been increased from $5 to $10. This is the second year that this department has been under Mr. Rogers' direction.

Trenton Fair, which will be held this year from Sept. 27 to Oct. 1, is one of the few shows that give cash instead of cups for first prize and besides this also awards a number of special prizes.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1915.

The people of Mechanicsville have been anxious for months to use the sanitary sewer buried beneath their streets. It is claimed as a reason for not allowing the property owners to connect with the mains that the contractors have not completed their contracts according to plans and specifications. This is not a good excuse for such a long delay. The contractors must have some provisions therein whereby the city could protect itself, and there must have been some time specified for the completion of the work. The city should serve legal notice upon the contractors to complete their work within a certain time, and if not the city do the work and deduct the cost from amount of the contract. This would seem simple. Should the contractors object, let them prove their case in court. This continual dillydallying will keep on forever unless some drastic action is taken. Give the people the use of the sewer which is theirs, and that at once.

It is regrettable that the Board of Education should find itself facing the unpleasant alternative of either giving up their authority without question or imposing discipline upon one of the teachers in our schools. It is regrettable, too, that one of our Public School teachers should leave herself open to criticism at the hands of the Board of Education and it is more than regrettable that this teacher should adopt a defiant attitude when discipline is imposed instead of submitting gracefully until an investigation can be conducted with a view to her exoneration. It would have been much more seemly if the teacher in question had attended the meeting of the Board of Education on Wednesday evening and thus shown a disposition to meet the Board at least half way. It is to be hoped that the matter will not find its way into the courts and thus bring upon this city some more disagreeable publicity and notoriety.

With the County tax rate down seven points, notwithstanding the new bridges and road paving under way and anticipated, speaks well for the present Board of Freeholders.

Conover and Raritan streets of Mechanicsville are certainly in a deplorable condition. The sand is so deep that it is almost impossible for light wagons to get through it, especially on the easterly side of Ridgway avenue. More attention should be given these streets, even if a little more money has to be placed in the appropriation for streets. The taxpayers in that section are entitled to some consideration, although a mighty patient lot they are. In some towns, "Rome would howl" if such conditions existed.

FALL RALLY C. E. LOCAL UNION.

The fall rally of Middlesex C. E. Local Union will be held in the Presbyterian Church, Perth Amboy, on Thursday evening, Nov. 4, at 7.45 o'clock.

Dr. S. Parker Carman, noted lecturer and preacher, will be the speaker. He is pastor of the Central Congregational Church, Brooklyn, N. Y. Banner will be awarded to society having largest percentage of members present.

Dwindling Helgoland.

Helgoland, in the North sea, the formidable German stronghold, is gradually yielding to nature's forces. This famous island, held by England from 1807 to 1890, is 45 miles northwest of the mouth of the Elbe and Weser, and though only a rock rising 175 feet above the sea, and less than a third of a mile in area, has acquired great importance as a German naval base. Attention has been called to the fact that a map in the possession of the British Geological society shows that the circumference in the year 800 was 12 miles. In 1300 the distance around it was 45 miles, and as early as 1849 it had been reduced in area to four square miles. Erosion by the sea has been the cause of the gradual effacement. The wearing away has been chiefly from the northeastern side, into which the sea has cut thirty miles or more—this having been due mainly to the set of the currents, but also to the greater hardness of the rock still left.

737 PUPILS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

on motion of Mr. Mason both the report of the finance committee and that of the custodian were received and filed.

The building and grounds committee reported that the repairs to School No. 1 were nearly completed. Subsequent discussion developed the fact that a new roof had been put upon the building. One section of this roof was of slag and the other of Asphalt cement. The slag was to cost about $195.00, the cement about $117.00. Both are guaranteed for ten years and the board felt that they would save the cost of the roof in the amount that would otherwise have been expended in painting the roof from time to time as had been customary heretofore. There was some shingling being done upon the tower that would cost another considerable amount. With this work nearing completion the old school was in pretty fair shape.

The committee on rules and regulations reported that they expected to have a new set of rules ready for submission to the board at the next meeting. These two reports were received and placed on file.

The report of Superintendent Barr was read. It stated that school had opened on Sept. 7th with every teacher in her place except Miss Everitt. The total enrollment to date was 737, there being 651 in the grammar grades and 86 in the high school department. The increase over the enrollment of last year was already forty-four. A suggestion was vouchsafed to overcome the congestion in the fifth grade. The suggestion was that the three seventh grades be combined under two teachers and the extra teacher be transferred to the lower grade. This would equalize the number of pupils and relieve the congestion.

The report then went on to state that on account of the large number of boys taking manual training this year it would not be possible to give each student a full hour period twice a week as had been the custom last year, but it would be necessary to limit them to about forty-five minute periods. The subjects taught by several of the teachers in the high school had been changed so as to relieve the commercial teacher who found it impossible to teach all of her subjects on account of the size of the classes. Two applications for physical examinations by physicians in order to determine the age of two students desiring working papers were handed in and the schedule of holidays, vacations etc., submitted. The report as a whole was adopted together with the suggestions contained therein. The applications for physical examinations were referred to the medical inspector for attention.

The calendar of holidays came in for a considerable amount of discussion on account of an item it contained. This was the spring vacation of a week around Easter time. Last year the students had been given this vacation. At a teacher's meeting Professor Barr stated that the matter of having a spring vacation had been put to a vote and the result was almost even for and against. It had therefore been decided to leave it to the Board. The consensus of opinion was expressed by Mrs. Miller when she stated that while additional vim might be obtained as a result of the rest period during the spring, the benefits derived would not offset the detriments that would result from the prolonging of the school year into the summer as would be the case if the spring vacation was authorized. Accordingly the board decided not to close the schools at this time.

The curricula for the present year as prepared by Superintendent Barr was also approved as submitted.

The report of Truant Officer Manduka stated that 42 visits had been made and 23 notices served. The report expressed the opinion that better results would be secured this year on account of the improvement in industrial conditions resulting in children being better cared for. It also promised quick and decisive action in the case of habitual truancy. Upon motion of Mr. Mason the report was received and filed.

The question as to the re-appointment of Mr. Manduka as attendance officer was brought up and discussed to some extent. Investigation of the school laws disclosed that attendance officers come under the tenure of office act after the first year of their service.

The medical inspector reported having made nine visits to the schools and stated that close attention was being paid to the vaccination question. This report was also received and filed.

Adjournment was taken subject to the call of the chair.

INVESTIGATION OF CLAYS BEGUN

The investigation of New Jersey Clays advocated by the New Jersey Clay Workers' Association, and provided for by the last Legislature, has been begun by the Ceramics Department of Rutgers College, in co-operation with the State Department of Conservation and Development. Mr. S. M. Sharkey, of Trenton, is visiting each clay miner in the State and securing samples of each kind of clay found in each pit. These samples are sent to the Ceramic Department Laboratory where they will be carefully tested and the results published.

The value of this investigation to the manufacturing potter, as well as the clay miner, cannot be over-estimated. The Ceramic Department is continually being asked for information regarding clays for a variety of uses, especially since the war has shut off the supply of imported clays. With the information on file at the laboratory, the director can at once tell manufacturers where the clay he is looking for can be obtained. Thus the manufacturer is freed from his difficulty and the clay miner secures a new customer.

It is to be expected that, with a complete realization of the value of this work, the miners will give every assistance in their power to make the information collected, accurate and complete. Everything done to assist in this investigation will be greatly appreciated by the Ceramic Department of Rutgers College and by the State Department of Conservation and Development.

GOLDEN EAGLES ELECT OFFICERS

Following its election of officers to pilot the affairs of the associations for the ensuing year, both the Knights of the Golden Eagle of New Jersey and the Ladies of the Golden Eagle brought their annual conventions to a close Monday night in the Rihssam building at Trenton. As its officers the knights selected the following:

Grand chief, Frederick P. Cook, of Point Pleasant; grand master of records, A. L. Clark, of Trenton; grand high priest, John H. Lewis, of Asbury Park; grand sir herald, W. H. Bergantz, of Camden; grand vice chief, Percy Owen, of Bridgeton; grand keeper of exchequer, P. H. Bennett, of Plainfield; grand guard, R. S. Turpin, of New Brunswick; grand trustee, Robert W. Coffman, of Camden.

Following the election of Mrs. Mary Hannah of Bridgeton as grand temple, the Ladies of the Golden Eagle closed their session.

CANNING CLUBS CLOSE

SEASON WITH PICNIC

On Saturday, September 18th, the Girl's Canning Clubs of South River and Piscataway closed the season with a basket picnic and canning demonstration. This was held in the grove in the rear of the Piscataway church. A great deal of interest has been manifested in these clubs and during the season demonstrations have been held at the two places, and the various vegetables and fruit canned by the members. Many of these girls with the instruction that they have received at the demonstrations have carried on the work at their homes. Through these demonstrations they have learned the possibilities of canning the various vegetables and fruits that would otherwise go to waste, particularly in a year like the one just past in which fresh vegetables have been very cheap.

The demonstrations during this season have been conducted by Miss Anna Houser, and Miss Fannie Cooper of the New Jersey Experiment Station Extension. With the start that has been made this year, it is hoped that sufficient interest will warrant the organization of clubs in other parts of the county another season.

NEW DU PONT COMPANY CAN

TRANSACT JERSEY BUSINESS

E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., a Delaware corporation, constituting a part of the Powder Trust, filed a certificate with Secretary of State Martin at Trenton on Wednesday authorizing it to transact business in New Jersey. The company has an authorized capital stock of $240,000, of which $118,515.90 is issued and outstanding.

The New Jersey corporation, which operates several plants in this state, is known as the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Powder Company and has an authorized capital stock of $60,000,000, of which $45,495,700 is issued and outstanding. The du Pont companies have been engaged in making large quantities of explosives for the Allies and it is assumed that the authority granted will facilitate these and other transactions in which the corporations may be jointly engaged.

TEACHER DEFIES SCHOOL BOARD

From the discussion at the Board meetings it would seem that Miss Everitt had gone to California near the end of the vacation period. In returning via the Panama Canal route she would have been a week late in arriving home for the opening of schools and because of a land slide in the canal detaining the steamer upon which she was sailing she was two weeks late instead of one. An unofficial communication written previous to her embarkation for the return trip advised that she might be late. Although it was almost a surety that she would be late she had neither requested permission to be absent nor offered any explanation of her failure to report since her return. For a long time there has been more or less friction between Miss Everitt and the other teachers in the schools with consequent detrimental results. This condition had also existed with past as well as present boards. The rules and regulations governing the schools provide for the opening of school on the day after Labor Day and Miss Everitt's actions seem to be not only a violation of these rules and regulations but also a violation of her contract.

Superintendent Barr stated that he had notified Miss Everitt of her suspension immediately upon her arrival in the schools on Monday morning. In reply to queries he admitted that Miss Everitt had stated her intention to report every day and she had started to give out supplies but had been stopped by him and that he had also instructed her to keep out of the other teacher's rooms. Also that she had not done any teaching at all so far.

The investigation by the teachers' committee will be conducted privately and there will quite likely be another meeting of the Board of Education next Wednesday evening at which time the report of the committee will be received and acted upon.

BULGARS ONLY PARTLY SLAV

Have Few of the Characteristics of That Race—Are Intensely Practical and Hard-Headed.

"The Bulgarians are nominally classed as Slavs. So they are—partly," says a writer in the Century. "Yet the world too often forgets that the primitive Bulgarians were not Slavs at all, but an Asiatic people of Turanian stock who in the seventh century burst upon the primitive Slavs recently migrated south of the Danube, and settled down as masters. Less numerous than their subjects, the conquerors were soon absorbed, losing their speech and peculiar identity. Nevertheless, the blood was a potent one, for the Turanian Bulgars left behind far more than their name; they stamped upon the new folk traits which set it distinctly apart in the category of Slav peoples. A moment's analysis will clearly prove this.

"Your typical Slav whether he dwell on the Russian plains or the Servian hills, is an idealist, prone to lose sight of hard facts in daydreams. Capable of great accomplishments, when under the stimulus of his enthusiasms, in ordinary times the Slav is an easy-going, imprudent, open-handed person, essentially likable, but lacking that practical characteristic efficiency. How different the Bulgarian! Restrained, sober, dour, with occasional outbursts of passion, but usually taking even his pleasures sadly; intensely practical and hard-headed; without a trace of mysticism; frugal to the point of avarice; so solicitous about the future that this frequently becomes an obsession; above all, possessed of a dogged, plodding, almost ferocious energy translating itself normally into unremitting labor—such is the folk. 'The Bulgar on his ox-cart,' says the national proverb, 'pursues the hare, and overtakes it.'"

No Labor in Eden.

The inhabitants of Eden plainly lived without toil. They were born to that leisure for which we strive so fiercely in this work-a-day world. So far as the man was concerned, the sting of the expulsion was the fact that he had to go forth and eat bread in the sweat of his face. Jehovah did not enforce this sentence at hard labor by putting a guard over Adam. Eve was not placed in charge, nor yet the wily serpent. The offender was merely driven forth from the garden that was full of trees. The trees had made it paradise.

Every tree that was pleasant to the sight and good for food was there. The inhabitants walked about in the comfortable shade and ate. When thirst arose there were the juices of fruits and palm wine. The spontaneous products of the garden even supplied the first demand for clothes. On that bitter day of expulsion these erstwhile happy harvesters of tree crops were driven forth from this rich and fruitful shade, driven to the fields to eat the herb of the field and to win bread by the sweat of their faces.—Atlantic Monthly.

If all the brides are as beautiful as the reporters would have us believe, where do all the homely married women come from?

HELPFUL HINTS
FOR HOUSEWIVESTack Puller That Protects Hands From Injury.

There are all kinds of tack pullers, and some pull tacks in a very satisfactory manner and others do not, but most of them, good and bad, have unfortunate quality of slipping occasionally when the end is being pushed under the tack head, and the result is often a badly scratched or cut hand. The newest implement of this character is a tack puller with a shield, which makes it impossible to injure the hand in this manner. The shield is mounted on the shank in front of the handle and is curved to afford complete protection to the hand of the worker.

Creamed Chicken With Dumplings.

Take a chicken (not too fat), clean, joint and put in rather large stew kettle, pour in water to not quite cover and let come to boil, skim off scum and let boil slowly till done. The water should be well boiled down by now. Pour in rich milk or cream and milk enough to make a generous allowance of gravy. Thicken with flour rubbed smooth in a small quantity of milk or water, season well with pepper and salt. Have a pan of small light baking powder biscuits freshly baked. Lay these in the kettle over the chicken, cover and let steam for ten minutes, remove and place round the edge of platter. Put chicken in center and cover with gravy. There should be enough gravy to serve extra in pitcher or bowl.

Shoshone Baked Apples.

For each cored and pared apple allow one scant teaspoonful of honey and a bit of butter. Put the honey in the cavity and the butter on top. Arrange the apples in a deep baking dish which will just hold the number to be baked. Pour on enough boiling water to come halfway up on the apples. Cover closely and set on top of the stove. Boil about ten minutes, or until the apples begin to look clear. Then remove the cover and finish by baking until done in the oven. The secret is in boiling the apples first, which makes them puff up when baked instead of shrinking. If the honey is not at hand sugar can be used, though it is not so rich.

Apple Ketchup.

One cupful of sugar, one teaspoonful of pepper, one teaspoonful of cloves, one teaspoonful of mustard, two teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, one tablespoonful of salt, two grated onions, two cupfuls of elder vinegar. Wipe, quarter, pare and core twelve apples. Put in a saucepan, cover with boiling water, bring to the boiling point, let simmer until soft, when nearly all the water should be evaporated; then rub through a sieve. To each quart of apple pulp add the above ingredients. Bring all to the boiling point and let simmer one hour. Bottle, cork and seal while hot.

Stuffed Peppers.

Select one-half dozen sweet peppers. Cut the tops off and scoop out the seeds. Prepare a forcement of one pint of chopped meat or shredded fish, one cupful of mashed potatoes or a half cupful of breadcrumbs, a tablespoonful of parsley, one egg yolk, dash of salt and a few drops of onion juice. Boiled rice or macaroni may be used in place of the potatoes. Fill the peppers with the mixture, sprinkle breadcrumbs on top and bake in a hot oven for a half hour. They may be fried in deep fat if preferred.

Spiced Grapes.

Make a sirup of one cupful of vinegar, one-half cupful of water and one and one-half cupfuls of sugar. Add one teaspoonful each of ground cinnamon, allspice and cloves. When the sirup has become thick add the grapes, which have been carefully picked from the stems and washed. Simmer very gently for ten minutes; then seal in glass jars at once.

Ideal Sponge Cake.

Beat four eggs very light, then beat in, a little at a time, two cupfuls of sugar. Add one cupful of sifted flour, a little at a time, then another cupful of flour in which two teaspoonfuls of baking powder have been mixed, lastly a scant cupful of hot water. Stir in a little at a time. Flavor with lemon.

Ironing Lace.

Lace with a raised surface is better ironed between blankets or not ironed at all. It should be stretched, while still wet, with a pin at each point or at distances of an inch or less apart on a sheet of clean cardboard.

Once Great Waterway. The commercial importance of the Adriatic sea throughout the dark ages and the middle ages was great. This importance was somewhat impaired by the opening of the all sea route to India and by the determined growth of the Dutch and English merchant marines. With the opening of the Suez canal and the commercial and industrial awakening of Italy and Austria-Hungary, the Adriatic regained much of its old time significance. The most important commercial points are Trieste, Venice, Fiume, Ancona and Brindisi. Venice and Trieste, at the head of the Adriatic, are the two foremost cities.

ROAD MEN PULL FOR JUSTICE

Says Sunny Billy Smith, Runner Up of Billy Sunday.

Sunny Billy Smith, erstwhile South African evangelist and missionary and now a Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, street corner preacher and ardent equal suffrage advocate, told Jersey City suffragists recently that the equal suffrage movement was making rapid headway among the railroad men.

"All classes of men on the railroads today," he says, "are beginning to realize that they have two problems to fight in order to keep up their wages—the problem of immigrant and woman labor. Without a union or vote to help them, they are both called to work on the railroads in larger and larger numbers. Now they are thrown in the side of their fellow workers."

"On some of the railroads the women are working twelve hours a day as ticket agents where once we had men. Now that there are such changes in industrial conditions and modern times have driven the woman out of the home to earn a living she has become exploited labor to the great disadvantage of her own men.

"Now I see it that the unions must help to bring the women into the electorate, where they can protect themselves and assist to uphold the hand of democracy against the hand of despotism."

"The railroad men of America have always had great affection for the womanhood of their country. They know how faithfully the lady auxiliaries have stood by their organizations and how they have helped and cheered in times of need. They have often seen how brave the women are when they have been told that husband or son has been killed by the railroad and how, with the breadwinner gone, they have courageously faced the problem of earning a living for themselves and their children under much harder conditions than men."

"The railroad men realize, too, what women like Mrs. Otto Wittgen have done for our state and how women of this kind are ready to uphold justice in getting widows' pensions, eight hour days and other measures which aim to make the life of the workingman and working woman more worth living."

"I think on Oct. 19 you will find the railroad man pulling on the side of justice, and the men of the east will prove themselves as good as the men of the west because they want to set their mothers and their wives free."

The suffragist interviewers are not always able to find at home all of those women who believe that a "woman's place is in the home."—Elizabeth Daily Journal.

All a Part of Beauty.

"What's the use of discussing the question as to how 'homely girls' may secure husbands," said an observant Broadwayite as he watched the matinee crowd. "There are no homely girls in this city. You may see plenty that you think are homely, but do not feel sorry for them—they don't think so. There is not a woman who in her heart does not feel that she looks well. I know a young lady who is distressingly cross-eyed. One day I expressed sympathy for her. 'Don't pity her,' exclaimed another woman. 'She likes her eyes. She believes they are her chief beauty. And she makes her look cute.' And so it is with all women. Their blemishes are regarded as aids to beauty. There is a well-known actress who has a large pale brown mole on one of her cheeks. It is nearly as large as a dime. Do you think she regards it as a blemish? Not at all; she likes it and has suits made to match it in color."

An honest man is indeed a good thing—for his creditors.

Remember, girls, the onion should be omitted from love's menu.

CHRIST CHURCH CHRONICLES

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Men's Club held after service on last Sunday morning it was decided to have a "chowder" as the main feature of attraction at the first autumn meeting of the Club on Oct. 12, a week from next Tuesday night. It was thought that, with the election of officers as a part of the business to be transacted, there would not be enough time for a regular program.

We are sorry indeed to lose from our community and parish such people of solid worth as Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hillmann who are to move early next month to Newark. We wish them well in their new home.

The Junior Auxiliary will start off with the fall work by giving a party in the Parish House on next Tuesday afternoon at 3.30. Miss Zepp urges a large attendance.

Don't forget that next Sunday is Rally Day for the Church School. The school will open promptly at 9.30 a. m. The Rector is preparing to give some beautiful stereopticon pictures illustrating Biblical scenes and this feature will probably take the place of instruction in classes. There will also be the public roll call by classes, and it is hoped that every boy and girl will be there to answer "present" when such name be called. We recommend Rally Day as a good time also for the enrollment of new pupils. Parents are welcome to visit the school on this day. It is earnestly hoped that at least 150 children will be in attendance, and to assure adequate publicity, a "picture grand" (telegram) printed on canary paper has been mailed to every member of the school.

We are pleased to note that the choir has secured another good voice in the person of Mr. William Hayes, formerly of Trenton, N. J., but now employed as a chemist in the powder works at Parlin. Mr. Hayes was for 12 years a member of St. Michael's Church choir in Trenton. Mr. Hayes is making his home with Mr. Whitfield Albright, at 64 First street.

Would it not be a good idea to extend "Rally Day" next Sunday to the Church services? Almost every Sunday we note some who have "come back" to their Mother Church and to the Old Homestead, after a long absence from "the Father's House." Next Sunday would be a fine time for you to join that goodly procession of "home-comers." If you have been "in the far country."

A letter from the Rev. H. M. P. Pearse states that he finds it possible to accept the invitation to be with us at the mid-day Communion service on next Sunday and to preach for us. Let us therefore have a well filled Church to greet our former Rector. Mr. Pearse also writes that he is attending the consecration of his friend, the Rev. Charles M. Fiske, Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Central New York, in St. Michael's Church, Baltimore, on Wednesday of this week, the Feast of St. Michael and all Angels.

Remember the chowder sale to be given by St. Martha's Guild on Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 12, in the Parish House at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Locke, the Matron of Christ Church Home, has volunteered to take the "S" booth at the Alphabet Fair. The "N," "Y" and "Z" booths are still waiting for claimants.

Query: What is the difference between the man who sleeps in church and the woman who goes to church because she wishes people to see her new bonnet or dress? Answer: The first goes to church to close his eyes; the second goes to church to eye her clothes."

Frequently we accidentally hear of cases of long-standing illness in the Parish which should have been brought immediately to our attention. At it is impossible for us to know of these circumstances by any "wireless" methods or telepathic wishes, the attention of the congregation is called to the rubric at the beginning of the Order for the Visitation of the Sick, which reads, "When any person is sick, notice shall be given thereof to the minister of the Parish." Always, when you are ill and desire to see your pastor, there is one sure method: Communicate with him in some manner.

We are very sorry to hear that the Rev. W. H. Ledford, the pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, has signified his intention of accepting another pastorate at the close of his year's work in South Amboy. He is a man of sterling worth and a capable leader and has made many friends outside, as well as in, his own congregation. By his ministerial brethren in South Amboy also he is held in high esteem and they sincerely regret his going.

Supplications for Motoring Males, recommended for daily use:

Give us horse power to stop skidding into other people's affairs.

Retread our daily life and throttle down our every rash action.

Show us the value of flexibility on the Hills of Life and remove from our Hearts the lowness of the Cowl Dash.

Teach us to spare not the gasoline in rides for our friends and relatives.

Help us to open the limousines of our hearts to those who are framed up by fate and misfortune.

Next week, "Petitions for Phenomena."

Thirty Years' Fire.

A fire which raged for thirty years and defied all attempts to extinguish it sounds like a fantastic tale, yet this phenomenon actually took place a century ago.

Some Scotch "moonshiners" had set up a still in the workings of a disused coal mine, but an accident entirely independent of the revenue officers compelled them to change their quarters. They discovered that one of their furnaces had caused a smoldering fire in the abandoned coal seam, and falling in their efforts to put it out, they left the place in a hurry and, needless to say, without making a report to the authorities.

The fire in the old pit continued to smolder until at night the flames issuing from the mouth of the shaft attracted the attention of the inhabitants of the country round about; but it was found that the fire had reached a point where all attempts to put it out proved futile.

YOUNG FOLKS' CORNER

An Apple "Stunt."

When you wish to mystify and amuse one of your friends try the trick of cutting an apple into quarters without apparently breaking the skin. It is so old a trick that it will probably be quite new to many of the people you know.

Select a large red apple. Thread a long, slender darning needle with about a yard of strong white linen thread and, beginning near the stem of the apple, take a shallow stitch an inch or so in length toward the blow end.

Draw about two-thirds of the thread through, and be careful to make the break in the skin as small as possible, and when you take the second stitch set the needle exactly in the place out of which it came. Sew entirely round the apple to the opposite side of the stem from where you started.

Now, hold the apple firmly between your knees and, crossing the ends of the thread, take one in each hand and give a strong, steady pull. The thread will cut its way through the fruit and come free in your hand. Repeat the process, beginning again at the stem, but going at right angles to the first cut.

When your friend peels the fruit she will find it neatly quartered. The small punctures that your needle makes in the skin will pass unnoticed, unless the apple is very closely examined.—Youth's Companion.

Jumbled Animals.

To make the game of animals interesting about four persons should play. Of course, the more persons the better the game.

Say, if six persons play, write on six slips of paper the name of an animal—that is, a different animal on each slip, but change the letters all around. For instance, if one animal was to be monkey it should be changed like this: komeyn (2), or if it were hyena it should be changed like this: eynah (3).

Give each one a slip and a pencil, and also a larger piece of paper. The slips should be numbered—that is, from 1 to 6, when six play. Then on the larger slip have numbers from 1 to 6. Then tell the players to pin their slips to their waists or coats. Then each one must go around to each player and try to guess the name of the animal on his or her slip. Each player must guess his own too. When they have guessed the animal they must write the name of it alongside of the corresponding number on the large sheet.

For instance, if 3 was donkey they would write donkey alongside of No. 3. Time the players, giving about twenty minutes if six play and more time for more people. At the end of the allotted time the one having the most names correct should receive a prize.

The Useful Owl.

A family of barn owls will number from three to seven birds. It is hard to believe what an amount of vermin a family of owls will consume. An owl will capture as much food as a dozen cats in a night, or more. The owls are always hungry. They will eat their own weight in food every night, and more, if they can get it. A case is on record where a half grown owl was given all the mice it could eat. It swallowed eight, one after the other. The rapid digestion of birds of prey is shown by the fact that in three hours the little glutton was ready for a second meal and swallowed four more mice. If this can be done by a single bird, what effect must a whole family of owls have on the vermin of a community?

It would be difficult to point out a more useful bird than the barn owl in any farming country. Like many other birds, it deserves the fullest protection, but man is often its worst enemy.—American Birds.

Game of Pictures.

A large paper curtain is hung up near the end of the room. There are square holes in it, gilded around the edges like picture frames. Half of the players go in back of the curtain and each puts his or her head in a frame.

The rest are seated in front of the curtain, and each takes it in turn to criticize the pictures. As soon as a picture laughs he or she must immediately withdraw his or her head from the frame. When all the pictures are gone it is the other side's turn. The two that keep up longest on either side receive a prize.

Old Joe.

Jolly old Joe is a fiddler man. Who whistles and fiddles as fast as he can. He waggles his head and he taps all his toes. And always makes music wherever he goes.

He lives in a little red house by the brook. A snug little, tight little, bright little nook. Where all the small children run when they can. To visit with jolly the fiddler man.

For Joey will whistle and fiddle and sing. And happily show them each wonderful thing. The ducks and the geese and his little red hen. The pig that will dance when he fiddles again.

But, oh, best of all, when he whistles so clear. The birds from the woodland come fluttering near. They twitter and chirp from each laden fruit tree. And answer old Joe as true as can be.

But when he sits down on the bench by his door. And takes up his sweetly tuned fiddle once more. The children are quiet and stand in a row. And silently worship good fiddle old Joe.

SERIES NOW TIE BETWEEN EMPIRES AND SACRED HEARTS

In a hard fought battle, the Empires were victorious over the Sacred Hearts, last Sunday afternoon, in the fourth game of the city championship series, which now makes two wins for each team, and making it necessary to play the fifth game, which is scheduled for this Sunday afternoon, on Conlogue's Field. The score of Sunday's game was 3 to 1 and the large number of fans, that turned out, despite the windy and threatening weather, were afforded much excitement as the game was a thriller from start to finish.

Murray Borlund was again on the mound for the Empires and for the second time proved to be the stumbling block for the Sacred Hearts. He allowed but six hits, which were kept well scattered, and also fanned eleven of the Sacred Heart batters.

Molly, who was in the points for the losers, also must be credited with pitching a good game. Though he only secured five strikeouts, he allowed but seven hits. Eddie Keating made his first appearance with the Empires and put up a grand game at short. Lenahan, who covered the keystone sack, picked everything up like a regular "Eddie Collins," which checked the Sacred Hearts to a great extent.

Moran in center grabbed everything that came near him despite the fact that the strong wind made fly-balls difficult to catch.

Curley, who covered short for the Sacred Hearts, made some hard stops, that seemed impossible to be gotten.

C. Dametich in left field, for the Sacred Hearts, featured with a "shoelace" catch, which enabled him to double a base-runner and thus prevented the Empires from scoring, when things looked promising for them to do so.

In general the game was not lacking, as the excitement and interest manifested by the loyal rooters of both sides proved that the game was a hummer, and this Sunday's conflict promises to be even better. A record breaking crowd is expected to turn out for the rubber game, to show that their lungs are still in good condition after last Sunday's rooting.

DUPONT'S DEFEAT

MICHELIN COLTS

In an exhibition game on Michelin Field last Saturday the DuPont South Shore League team defeated the Michelin Colts, champions of the League, by a score of 7 to 4. In the League schedule the Colts had trimmed the DuPonters twice and in turn had been defeated by the Parlin team on two occasions. The honors being even and a doubt existing as to the superiority of the teams the managers got together and arranged an exhibition game. The result seemed to give the honors of supremacy to the Powder Works team.

Maxfield pitched for the Parlin team and allowed only seven hits and struck out eleven of the Colts, issuing only one free trip to the initial sack. Diddy's side-kicker, Manaker, did the receiving and as usual held up his end of the team work in fine style.

With Hermann on the mound the Colts felt perfectly safe but the beans got spilled before the high-school wonder really got settled down to business. In the first inning Pierson and Keating got on the paths as the result of a miscue and a single. Lanky Bob stepped up and rapped out a triple and Diddy's long sacrifice fly to right scored Bob with the third run. Jackin got on because of another error and advanced the same way. Then a long single by Spring brought him home. By that time Hermann bethought himself to tighten up and his doing so quickly ended the inning when Shinn and Grover did some wind-splitting. After that inning Herrman worked effectively until the seventh when two runs came on as the result of errors and again in the last inning the DuPonters scored.

The Colts started a rally in the ninth inning but succeeded in making only a couple of runs. Starting too late, they found the lead of the other side too much to be overcome. They used twelve men in the game, about all of their eligible list but all to no purpose. Eight errors were chalked up against the Colts which, it is said, is the result of not practicing much lately probably because being champions they figured on their reputation seeing them through.

Following is the score in detail:

SACRED HEART BOYS WILL

PLAY BASKETBALL

Sacred Heart Hall is being prepared for a basketball court, as the Sacred Heart Club will have a representative team this season.

At a meeting, last Sunday afternoon, Jack Miller was elected as manager of the team and he is now a hustling booking some first-class attractions; as he has plenty of promising material to pick from, to secure a strong team.

The season is expected to be started by the middle of October, thus local basketball fans will be given the opportunity of witnessing some good attractions in their home town.

SPORTING NOTES.

Murray Borlund pitched three innings for the South River Lukers at Jamesburg last Saturday. It looked as though Murray was saving himself for the Empire-Sacred Heart contest the following day for the Keyport crack didn't last.

Malusky, who oft-times pitches for the Sacred Heart team, also occupied the mound for a time against the Jamesburg team but the Lukers lost by some sixteen runs nevertheless.

Efforts to get together a football team at the Parlin plant were begun early this week. With the material that is available at the Powder Works they should be able to put the strongest team in the county on the field.

Having perfected the use of the forward pass the Rahway H. S. eleven began their season with a win over Woodbridge on Saturday afternoon.

Basketball is receiving quite some attention by lovers of the game around the Parlin powder plants. It is thought that a five will be organized in the near future to play during the winter. Grace is mentioned as one of the team and if a squad is gotten on the floor it will undoubtedly be a good one. As in 'most everything else there is an abundance of material available.

The Michelin Colts haven't altogether won that pennant in the South Shore League as yet and if last Saturday's contest with Parlin was repeated and both games counted in the percentage column they wouldn't either—that is not without a struggle.

Pete Bloodgood, "Dizzy" Disbrow, "Less" Stratton and "Diech" Grace are practically scribes in the lineup if the Parlin boys get together and place an eleven on the field this fall. There are a number of celebrities working at Parlin and not a few college men could be relied upon. Among these latter are players from Lafayette, Princeton, Rutgers and Syracuse.

Manaker caught for the DuPont team at Milltown last Saturday and did some fine work. The box score shows he made two runs off a triple, made three assists and only one mis-play in the game.

In pitching for the DuPonts in the Michelin Colts exhibition game at Milltown last Saturday Maxfield, the erstwhile freight and express hustler, made two runs and one hit. Eleven Colts failed to connect with his offerings and his sacrifice fly also brought in a run.

The Parlin team made four runs in the initial inning of the Colt game at Milltown last week. Manaker's triple scored the first one and Diddy's sacrifice brought in Bob. The other two were made before Hermann woke up and struck out Grover and Shinn in a desperate and heart-breaking effort to save the bacon.

The Sacred Heart basketball team should have quite a successful season if it is formed this winter. It is quite certain that the game would prove quite popular in this city this year and with a good team such as the S. H. boys are more than likely to have and an excellent court, which they have, games and attendance is all that is lacking.

This Saturday is the day for which the Rutgers football team and its coaches have been working for so long a time. With the players already in mid-season form and the cloven said to be one of the heaviest on the gridiron this year the Brunswick team goes up against the Tigers quite confident of victory. It is said that Princeton has been and still is considerably worried for the Tiger team isn't what it has been in years gone by. Coach Sanford's boys have our best wishes and they sure deserve to win this game, which will be the forty-seventh contest between these two teams with only one victory for the Rutgers team.

Curley, playing short, was the only one to score for the Sacred Heart team last Sunday.

Amusement Park will again be attractive this Sunday when the long-expected game between Rahway and the Pacers will be staged.

Bob Manaker and Murray Borlund both landed on the ball for a three bagger off Molly's pitching in last Sunday's game on Conlogue's Field.

The score card credits the Empires with three earned runs against the Sacred Heart team with none in last Sunday's game.

That was some throw that Campbell made in the first inning when he nailed Curley coming home. The throw came from deep right, too.

Mothers—Watch Irritable Children.

That fever, paleness, grinding of teeth while asleep, and coated tongue are indications that your child has worms in its system. Kickapoo Worm Killer quickly gets rid of these parasites. It is perfectly safe for even the most delicate children. It is pleasant to take, has three effective medicinal qualities:—acts as a laxative, expels the worms, and tones up the system. Begin treatment to-day and eliminate the cause of irritability. 25c.

A number of barbers of this city will close their shops at 12 o'clock noon on Columbus Day, and keep open on the Monday night previous to accommodate their customers.

Mrs. John T. Dill, of Fourth street, was awarded second prize for an exhibit of solid work in white cotton embroidery at the Trenton Fair this week. The piece submitted was a large centerpiece.
Mrs. Joseph Fenton and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Hammell attended the thirty-seventh annual reunion of the 14th Regiment, New Jersey Volunteers held at Clark's Landing, Point Pleasant, on September 20th last.
It cost one of the butcher shops of this city over a hundred dollars in one year for the paper bags in which meat packages are placed, after being wrapped in the brown paper, according to figures recently compiled.

William "Diddy" Maxfield came into the office of this paper one day last week carrying a three-hundred pound box of metal and apparently handling it as easily as most men would a third of that weight.
Joseph Sexton was routed out of bed early Wednesday morning to go out near the Hillmann residence on the Cheesequake road and bring a party whose automobile had broken down to the railroad station in this city.

Contractor John Ryan, of David street, has the contract for the erection of a school house at Cheesequakes. Mr. Ryan went there on Monday morning to commence operations.

Mr. E. C. Aken and family will shortly move from this city. Mr. Aken has resided here 37 years, and was in the grocery business about fifteen years. For the past eighteen years he has been janitor of the public schools, giving most satisfactory service during that time.

A social gathering under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Sodality of the Sacred Heart Church will be held in the Sacred Heart Hall on Wednesday evening next, October 6. Kerr's orchestra will furnish the music for dancing. Cake and ice cream will be on sale.

A Dodge touring car also got stuck in the hole-in-the-wall Sunday evening. The machine had stopped to take the curtains down and when the owner tried to start again his engine wouldn't start. Delaney, when called on, soon located the trouble in the magneto and removed it.

Frederick Semonte secured an attachment against the goods and effects of William Schmidt the latter part of last week. It is said that Semonte endorsed a note for Schmidt and that the latter failed to make payment when same fell due. The writ, was issued by William Birmingham.

One of Riley's moving vans, from Red Bank, couldn't shift gears one day early this week. The discovery was made at Broadway and Main street just before starting down the long hill at that point. Delaney's garage was called on for help and the trouble overcome by workmen from there.

While out for a walk on Thursday morning, Mr. W. C. Gough found a lot of school books near the turn from Main street road to Rose's corner. The name of George Byur is on some of the papers. The books do not belong to the High School in this city. Owner may have same by applying to Citizen Office.

On Monday Undertakers Stillwell & Mason buried the remains of John Forrest in Eraston Cemetery. The deceased had passed away in the Perth Amboy hospital early last week from pneumonia. The man had only recently secured a position at the powder works plant near Parlin. Relatives could not be located.

Did you notice quite a large crowd of young men hilariously parading along Broadway Monday evening? If you did you saw the entire membership of the Empire A. C. They were celebrating the victory of their team over the Sacred Heart's on Sunday afternoon when the series for the city championship was tied up two and two.

A writ of attachment was issued by Police Justice William Birmingham last Saturday on behalf of Halstead & Davidson, of Red Bank, on a motor truck belonging to the David Stevenson Brewing Co., of New York City. The truck was held on Stevens avenue near Henry street until late Sunday night and then removed to the residence of Officer Maxfield.

Whitehead Bros.' truck, the one that was struck by a trolley car near Sayreville recently, was returned from the repair shops on Saturday of last week. It has been in the shop for exactly two weeks and has received a general overhauling in addition to the repairing. Efforts are being made, it is said, to secure payment of the repair bills from the Public Service Company.

A big truck stalled in the hole-in-the wall Saturday morning had to be pulled out. It seems that the first gearing was stripped and having no low speed the machine couldn't be started on such a heavy pull. Delaney's garage on Stevens avenue was called on for help in opening up the right way through the tunnel and the truck was hauled out and up the hill. After that it was able to go on by itself.

The delegate meeting of the Methodist Protestant Church selected Howard Bloodgood, delegate, and Jake Sprague, alternate, to represent the church in the approaching Annual Conference, which assembles Oct. 6, in the First Methodist Protestant Church of Lynbrook, L. I., N. Y. Rev. C. D. Sinkinson is president of the Conference and Rev. Dr. Roby P. Day, secretary; and Rev. F. W. Varney, pastor of the conference church.

Tuesday evening a few of the members of the Cypress Club and their friends enjoyed a watermelon cut at their bungalow on Morgan Beach. There was a profusion of melons and 'tis said that some regretted their indulgence in the delicacy the following day. Among those who were in on the treat were the following: Miss Susie O'Brien, Miss Anna Crozier, Mrs. Irving Reese, Lewis Bloodgood, Russell Deats, Warren Donnell, Ansel Morris and Irving Reese.

While bowling along at a merry clip last Friday afternoon Coakley's delivery auto broke a steering knuckle and plunged headlong into the ditch along Washington Road near the Deep Cut telegraph office on the Pennsylvania R. R. No one was hurt although there were several young lads in the machine. Delaney was called on for assistance, and after some time spent in making temporary repairs the machine was towed to the garage on Stevens avenue where permanent repairs were made.

Miller's garage on Bordentown avenue was called upon Sunday afternoon to hunt trouble in a Marathan touring car that had broken down on the Parlin road near that place. The machine was from New York City and Miller found that it had broken the rear axle and stripped some gearing. The crippled machine was towed to this city and housed in Miller's garage where repairs are being made to it. On Monday Miller was called to nearly the same place to fix a Ford machine. This time it was a Jersey City machine with a broken crank shaft. It was brought to the garage on Bordentown avenue and repairs made later in the week.

The High School orchestra has taken up practice again.

J. Alfred Johnson purchased an Oakland runabout this week.

The extemporaneous speaking course in the local High Schools was resumed this week.

The W. C. T. U., at their last meeting, decided to hold a tag day in the latter part of October for the purpose of adding to the fund being raised toward the erection of a public drinking fountain on Broadway.

Wednesday morning a Detroit Limousine automobile broke an axle on the Cheesequake road. It was towed to Delaney's garage on Stevens avenue and repairs made to it. The machine belonged to a Rahway party named South Farrington, formerly of Perth Amboy.
