DOWN TONICS UP TONICS

The diagnosing of the nation's ills is a popular thing with a great many people, but only the diagnosis of those who have attained some prominence receive much attention.

One person who recently attempted a diagnosis was Bernard Baruch who made the post-statement that the cause is too much talking, and not enough thinking.

However, Baruch is in close touch with the politicians of the nation, and may have formed that opinion by watching them, but what is true of the average legislator in the nation, is not true of other fields.

One need but walk into the kitchen of a modern home, and compare it with the kitchen of an earlier generation, to see a fine example of how much deep thinking is going on today. There one will find all sorts of labor saving and health improving devices, all the product of deep thinking by the inventor, the manufacturer, the distributor and the retail dealer. The examples of deep, productive and beneficial thinking one finds in the kitchen, may also be found in other rooms of the home, and also outside the home, almost every place one turns.

Only those who have had military experience can understand the fascination of a war souvenir can hold for the veteran.

However, too few of us appreciate the danger that lurks in these mementoes, and that men who fought to protect their loved ones, may be the means of causing their deaths, or injuring them seriously, by keeping souvenirs of the fight to protect them, about the home.

War souvenirs have killed 6,000 persons annually in the United States since the last war, and eighty per cent of the accidents have involved children.

Veterans are urged to have weapons they wish to retain as souvenirs deactivated, which may be done at a local police station or at the offices of the Treasury Department.

Another angle resulting from war souvenirs is their use by criminals, and it has been estimated that 75 per cent of present-day crimes, involving the use of foreign firearms, including many war souvenirs which have been obtained in many ways by criminals.

Money for Adventure

We Americans are accustomed to growth and change. We have seen our nation go forward. We moved ahead not because we conquered other lands or won territory. That kind of progress has not interested us. Our fathers did find a new and raw continent here. But even while it was being explored and peopled, the inventive minds and venture-spirited spirits of Americans were laying the foundations for living standards and for peaceful industry that never before existed.

Our progress may be measured in greater standards of living and in greater production for the people. Hard work has produced growth. Now, there is no earthly reason why we cannot continue to grow and grow—except one. We cannot have progress if we are willing to quit growing. Like so many great civilizations of the past, it is possible for us to hit the skids. We can do just that if we become unconcerned and stop wanting to grow.

Savings That Work

Certain seeds of decay are now planted in our economy. You see, industrial growth does not come by itself. Expansion of our great industries has depended upon venture capital. Yet, venture money is scarce today. But what is venture capital? Venture capital is the money that has built these great factories. It is the savings that are risked to help people like Henry Ford and Alexander Graham Bell get started—and keep on going.

It goes into trucks and motor cars. It is turned into automobiles and drag boats. It pays for the research that discovers new drugs and new plastics. It strings power lines to homes and factories. It buys tractors and dump trucks. It is a back of pay checks that men must have even before they begin to expect income. You see, if we want an adventurous industry we must have venture capital. We do all these things and more.

Business Is Thriving

Now, the big trouble is this. We have throttled down our supply of venture money. There are some who maintain that this source for new industrial activity has dried up. At least this is true: both young enterprises and established firms are starving for the capital which even today's normal growth requires of them. They are also hungry for the go-ahead signal to build new plants and to improve old ones. This requires much venture capital.

Consider the oil industry. Traditionally, the oil and gas business has been financed by private risk money. Yet, men in the industry say that 12 to 15 billion dollars more will be needed in the next ten years. Dollars for plant equipment and labor go less than half as far as they did 20 years ago, while risk capital has shrunk 75 per cent in that period. This industry is typical of many others that are hungry for capital.

Shortage Hits Us

Shortage of this venture money hits us hard at every point. Without it new products that might go far in enriching mankind are side-tracked in favor of the sure money-makers. New businesses, that must live almost entirely on risk capital, are handicapped. Without sufficient capital, production everywhere is curtailed, and this affects our jobs and our national well-being. No venture means a weak industrial machine that openly invites foreign aggression. Naturally, if no venture money is found for expansion, government always wants to step in and do it for us. We must remember that money for venture will be scarce and fearful until we cut down government expenses and revise taxes downward. It is your responsibility and mine to help keep our industry strong, adventurous, and free.

Tenant Farmers

Only a third of all U. S. farms in 1946 were operated by tenants, as compared with nearly two-fifths in 1929.

Eight Game Football Schedule For Rutgers

Relations With Syracuse To Be Resumed Next Year

New Brunswick. — An eight-game Rutgers football schedule, highlighted by the resumption of relations with Syracuse, was announced today by Director of Athletics George E. Little.

The 1949 slate will open on October 1 against Temple University in Philadelphia. Lehigh, perennial Middle Three foe of the Scarlet, will appear here a week later in the first of four home games.

The Syracuse engagement, which is scheduled for October 15, will mark the first meeting of the rival eleven since the Orange walked off with a 12-7 decision in 1942. The rivalry dates back to 1914. Seven games have been played since that time, and all have been won by Syracuse except the initial meeting which resulted in a 14-14 tie.

Syracuse is the only addition to the 1949 schedule. Columbia and Brown, two of the Scarlet's 1948 opponents, will not meet the Rutgers eleven next season.

In addition to the Syracuse and Lehigh contests home games will be played with New York University and Fordham.

The schedule:

Oct. 1, Temple at Philadelphia; 3, Lehigh at New Brunswick; 15, Syracuse at New Brunswick; 22, Colgate at Hamilton, N. Y.; 29, Princeton at Princeton.

November 5, Lafayette at Easton, Pa.; 12, New York University at New Brunswick; 19, Fordham at New Brunswick.

Function of Ripe Cheese

Ripe cheese added to foodstuffs containing oils will prevent the foods from becoming rancid.

ISRAELI BOMBS

This photo, released by the Israeli government, shows the Israeli air force bombing Gaza, seat of the Egyptian sponsored Arab government for Palestine. Direct hits are being scored on the Gaza marshalling yards where military stores were destroyed. Many of the Israeli pilots have seen service during World War II in the air forces of allied countries. Since this photo was made, the United Nations has succeeded in stopping much of the firing and bombings, although battle still rages from time to time.

SOVIET RECEPTION. Russian Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin is all smiles as he greets U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark and Mrs. Clark on their arrival at the Soviet embassy for the reception commemorating the 31st anniversary of the Russian revolution. It was a brilliant affair, featured by the most unpretentious chow. Other important U. S. figures who attended included Henry Wallace, the nation's leading disciple of a soft policy towards Russia, and Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the American bureau of standards.

Steady Blood Smears

More than 6,000 blood smears from wild birds were obtained by scientists from the California division of fish and game and the Hooper foundation of the University of California, in an effort to get information helpful in their studies of encephalitis.

Typhoid Fever Decreasing

Typhoid fever deaths in 93 large U. S. cities have shown a steady decline from 85 in 1943 to 57 in 1947. The number of cities with no deaths from typhoid during the past two or more years has increased from 25 in 1941 and 41 in 1945 to 49 in 1946 and 1947.

Two radio cars blocked a street in Hoboken to form a temporary corral while Patrolman Thomas McIntyre nimbly lassoed and tressed a maverick calf that had been running loose for more than an hour in the vicinity of Tenth and Bloomfield Streets.

The calf, weighing 400 pounds, was taken to a livery stable. No one could say whence it came.

On Monday, buses equipped to function like railway mail cars, will be put into service in northern New Jersey to expedite the delivery of mail, postmasters in the area have been notified.

Bags of mail previously carried by trains and passenger bus lines will be picked up by special mail buses. Between towns, the mail will be sorted and re-distributed by postal clerks, as is now done on railway cars, so that letters will not be carried past their destinations to be returned later.

The routes will be operated out of Newark. One will serve Wanaque, N. J., and Middletown, N. Y., and later will serve Morris, Passaic and Warren Counties. The other will serve Bergen, Essex, and Hudson Counties. The special buses closely resemble railway mail cars, with rows of cubbyholes on one side and sorting tables before them.

A Federal refuge for migratory birds, covering more than 4,000 acres, north of Brigantine, near Atlantic City, will be created by the Department of Interior, as the result of recent condemnation proceedings.

The bird sanctuary, covering 2,625 upland acres and 1,364 acres of submerged land, will be about ten miles from Atlantic City.

During the condemnation proceedings, the Government deposited $26,896 with three commissioners to pay the present owners of the land $4 an acre.

Syd Kaplan, special assistant to the United States Attorney General, who represented the Government in the proceedings, said hunters would be prohibited from shooting in the area, which is one of the best duck centers along the eastern coast.

A mechanical explanation won an appeal for a Plainfield motorist, Charles H. Elliott, who had been fine $10 by Police Recorder Henry W. Clement in Plainfield, for failure to obey a stop sign.

Mr. Elliott contended that he did stop, but police failed to notice it because he was driving a car with a "hydraulically activated gear mechanism developed for Sherman tanks to permit swift acceleration from a dead stop". Judge Edward J. McGrath of Union County, held there was sufficient doubt involved, and reversed the lower court.

Blackie, an overly domesticated crow, wrought considerable havoc to the Monday wash on back-yard clotheslines in Little Ferry. The bird, owned by fourteen-year-old Bill Slavid, has a penchant for shiny white cloths. It snatches them and flies away, leaving the clean laundry to flutter to the ground. Blackie also has been accused of disrupting choir practice in churches, classes in schools and of jay walking in traffic. Police Chief Charles Shedivy is pondering the problem.

NARROW ESCAPE . . . This has been a bad fall for brush and forest fires. Scarcely minutes ahead of the roaring flames, 2,000 residents of Silverado Canyon and Medjoka Canyon, Calif., fled to safety as a 50-mile wind whipped the Orange county forest fire into fury as shown here. Three hundred marines from a base at El Toro were called to help fight the fire.

Board of Education Will Have Expert Insurance Survey

Authorized To Set Accurate Valuation On School Properties.

In order to secure an equitable appraisal of the local public schools properties and their contents, for the purpose of providing adequate fire insurance protection, the Board of Education will secure the services of a professional appraiser, who will begin his survey within a few days.

This decision was reached at the meeting of the Board held on Tuesday evening, after Commissioner Thomas Gleason reported the results of a recent investigation he has conducted into the present coverage of the property, which revealed it is not covered sufficiently to insure a return sufficient for proper replacements at present prices, in the event of fire. When Commissioner Gleason pointed out the discrepancies in the present coverage, other members agreed on the necessity for immediate action, and Board President Thomas E. Downs declared, "We might find in case of fire, that we were only 80% insured." It was agreed that the survey will be made by the Industrial Appraisal Company.

It was reported that a recommendation along these lines was also made by the State Board of Education, which the local Board contacted for advice on the situation.

A report rendered by Doctor Vincent Fazio, School Physician, indicated that as the result of a recent survey he made, the general health of the school children is good.

By motion, the Board confirmed the recent action of the Board of School Estimates, which authorized the transfer of $2,000 from the general account to the repairs and replacements account.

The Board received a number of requests from organizations outside the school system for the use of the school auditorium for various events. The Board granted permission to the Astoria Boy's Club, Dolphins A. C., Agnes Sweet shop, and the mid-let and junior leagues of the South Amboy Recreation Council for its use for basketball games, and also to the Youth Canteen Committee for the holding of dances.

President Downs named a committee consisting of Commissioners Gleason, Kurozowsky, Brinamen, and Superintendent of Schools Tustin, to meet with representatives of the various organizations to arrange dates for the use of the auditorium, and to explain to them the rules laid down by the school board governing its use.

Superintendent Tustin reported to the Board that whereas it had been expected it would receive $7,000 from cigarette taxes, the sum of $9,172 has actually been received.

It was revealed that word had been received from the Assistant Commissioner of Education, that as the result of a petition sent to it by local residents, representatives of the Department will come to this city within a short time to inspect the school buildings.

Upon the recommendation of Superintendent Tustin, the Board allocated the sum of $150 for the purchase of uniforms for the girl cheer leaders of the school athletes, teams. This sum will be used for the purchase of material for the uniforms for the eighteen girls, and they will be made by the girls in the sewing classes at the school.

Mr. Tustin also reported that the American X-Rays Surveys, will send representatives to the local schools on Friday, December 17th, to X-Ray the pupils in grades from 9 to 12 who are positive reactors. It was voted to extend these facilities to the pupils of St. Mary's School also.

Because of the Christmas holidays, the Board set the date of its next meeting for Thursday evening, December 16th.

The bride was escorted by her cousin, Andrew Love, of this city, and she wore a white satin gown with a fingertip length veil. She carried white orchids, roses and baby's breath.

Miss Theresa Carbone, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a pink moire taffeta gown, with matching accessories, and carried pink roses and baby's breath. Edward Kupos of Parlin, was the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Lizik left on a wedding trip to New York and Washington, D. C. They will reside at the home of his mother. For traveling, the bride chose a forest green dress, with brown accessories, Hudson seal fur coat and an orchid corsage.

European Viewpoint

A visitor from Europe had taken his first trip across the United States on the National highway, which is U. S. 40, running from the Atlantic to the Pacific. He was asked how he liked the trip and how the roads were. He replied that it was fine, that the fellow named National, head of the National Construction company, was certainly a great highway engineer, but that the Frenchman De Tour was no road builder at all.

'An Ounce of Prevention'

The farmer who leaves a stock watering tank uncovered is laying a death trap for some little boy who wants to "sail wood boats on the water." The helper who carelessly throws a pitchfork on the ground is planning a tragedy for a group of youngsters who rush outside to play "Indians." A ladder leaning against a building is an open invitation to injury to all children who like to climb.

Long Distance Vision

A person can see about 5,220,000,000,000,000 miles with the naked eye. This is the distance of a hazy spot of light which can be seen on a dark night in the constellation of Andromeda. Actually it is a great galaxy of stars like the whole Milky Way system, of which our sun is a part. Its light takes about 2,000,000 years to reach us, so astronomers usually give its distance as 2,000 light years.

Dr. Caryl P. Haskins Feature Speaker At Cancer Society Dinner

Meeting To Be Held At Hotel Traymore In Atlantic City Friday

Dr. Caryl P. Haskins, Director of the Haskins Research Laboratories of New York, will be a featured speaker at a dinner meeting of the American Cancer Society, New Jersey Division's Training School in Atlantic City next week.

Another featured speaker at the dinner meeting will be Dr. Goodner Gill, Vice President of Rider College. George E. Stringfellow of West Orange, President of the New Jersey Division, will preside at the affair which will be held at the Hotel Traymore on December 3. The three-day training school will open on December 2.

Dr. Haskins is a renowned authority on cancer research having spent the last 10 years specializing in the field of radiation, with the exception of the war years when he was technical aide to Dr. Vannevar Bush, head of the Atomic Energy Commission. A graduate of Yale Scientific School, Dr. Haskins also holds a Ph. degree from Harvard University. The Haskins Laboratory is connected with Union College, Schenectady.

All of the 21 counties of the state will send delegates to the training school. They will be given intensive training so that they will be able to instruct other volunteers in the educational and lay service phases of the program. In addition the medical program will also be described so that all phases of the work can be expanded during the coming year.

Delegates will register at Hotel Traymore Wednesday evening, December 1, and the first sessions of the school will be held the next morning. The lay service program will be discussed at the morning session with the physicians talking over in the afternoon. In the evening the cancer research program will be discussed by Dr. E.

Newton Varney of Princeton University a member of the Committee on Growth.

London's Old Curiosity Shop

A famous Dickens "haunt" which has changed very little in appearance since Dickens' time is the Old Curiosity shop in Lincoln's Inn Fields, London, where, it is claimed, according to the story by that name, Little Nell lived with her grandfather. Here are to be seen pictures by Hogarth which Dickens hung in his own rooms, a pen tray used by him, first editions of his novels and a variety of original etchings of London. As in Dickens' lifetime, the Old Curiosity shop is still an antique shop. It was a favorite port of call for G.I.s on leave in London during the war.

Cotton Thieves

Each year American cotton farmers are robbed of more than 250 million dollars by tiny cotton-eating insects. If the money taken out of cotton by insects over the past 20 years were divided equally among all cotton growers, each farmer would have enough money to buy a new automobile. Proper insect control measures by cotton farmers can do much to eliminate this tremendous loss.

GOOD MEDICINE . . . Walter Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers union, grins happily from his hospital bed as he scans messages which poured in as a result of the Truman victory.

Tractors on Farms

TURNING BACK THE CLOCK

The main argument against the capitalist, free enterprise economic system is that it is old-fashioned, has outlived whatever usefulness it may have had, and can't offer the bulk of the people enough benefits to justify its continued existence. That seems to be the point of view of all the left-wingers, ranging from pale pink to the deep shades of red, and they obviously think it carries a Sunday punch.

However, as Harold Stassen recently said, "Only a great, free productive nation, humanitarian in its impulses, could possibly provide more than eighteen billions of dollars worth of food, clothing, and materials for others since V-J day and yet continue to enjoy the highest standard of living in the entire world."

Every Soviet newspaper constantly harps on the brutal way capitalism treats its workers. Yet there is no other economic system in the world which has so improved the lot of the masses of people, or which has resulted in so wide a distribution of wealth, or which has given practically all of us possessions which would seem like the most unreachable luxuries to the average worker in most other countries. Only under capitalism can a worker quit his job if he pleases and go to work somewhere else. And only under capitalism do millions of people go to work in their own automobiles and, at the end of the week, go home with a paycheck which makes possible our standard of living. In Russia, which claims to be the workers' paradise, you work where the state tells you to. You put in as many hours as the state wants. If you complain, you get shot, or go to prison, or you become a member of a forced-labor gang beyond the Urals. And, unless you're one of the few with the high rank in the communist hierarchy, you get paid just enough to keep body and soul together and no more.

The whole western world is looking to this country for its salvation. It is looking to capitalism to produce the goods it must have to live. It is looking to the American worker, the American employer, and the American way of doing things, to save it from civil war, starvation, and another dark age. What country which has succumbed to the paralysis of socialism, communism or any other ism can say one-hundredth as much?

Finally, capitalism is more than a system of economics. It is the way of life which guarantees and protects the freedom of all the people. It is the base which supports representative government. Communism, by contrast, has turned back the clock, and can exist only in an atmosphere of oppression and slavery.

GOOD CITIZEN

The work of a utility company doesn't begin and ends with the production and distribution of electric power to all who want it. The typical utility is one of the most potent and aggressive factors in carrying on worth-while community activities.

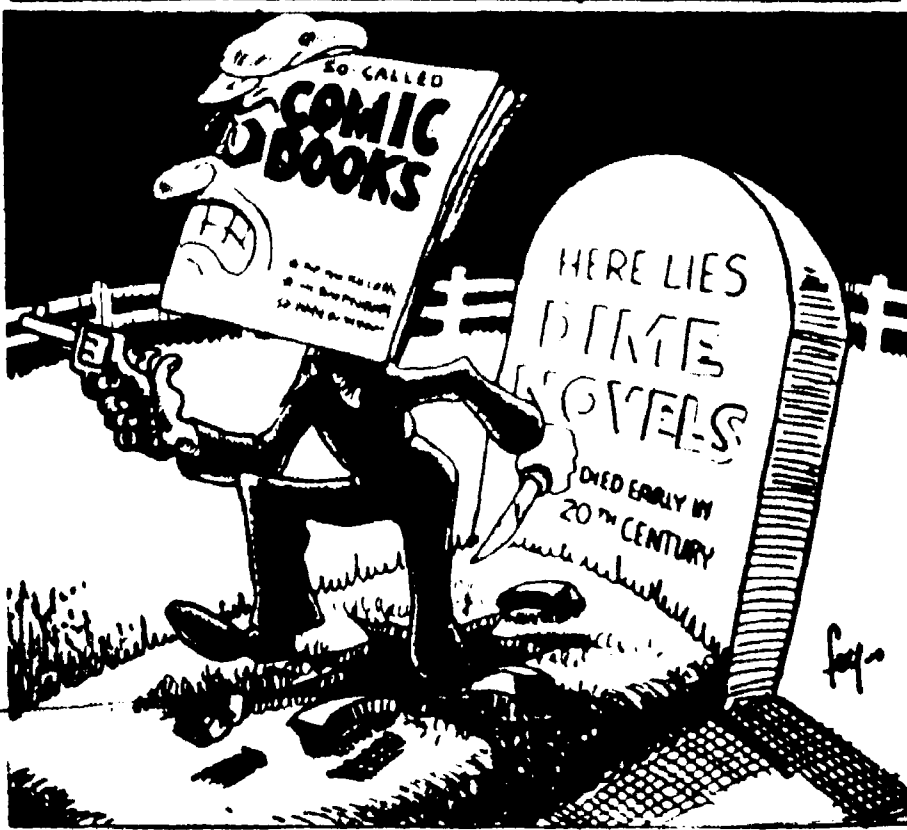

A recently completed survey shows that 94 per cent of all the operating power companies of the country maintain a direct and intimate relationship with community organizations, including chambers of commerce, civic clubs, the churches and schools, social and welfare groups, and so on. And the same survey finds that 66 per cent of the companies work through other agencies in the community in helping to bring in new industry and to strengthen already established concerns.

The utility, in short, is simply a good citizen. It knows that its own welfare and progress depends upon the welfare and progress of the community and the region in which it does business. It prospers when labor, agriculture and other industry prospers. And it suffers financially when they suffer.

The utility is a mainstay of the community in other ways. It is among the biggest and most dependable taxpayers. Every tax-levying body—the town, the country, the school district, the state, and the national government—gets its share. This is a contrast to the socialized systems, which pay little or nothing in taxes, which are dominated by political considerations, and which obliterate state and local control of a vital industry.

Free enterprise is a builder, and the utilities are fine examples of it.

After All These Years (and as bad as ever)

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

By DAVID O. ALBER

Even if Rita Hayworth should marry the regal gent with whom her name has been linked, it won't affect her Hollywood career. She has just signed to co-star with William Holden in Columbia's "Lona Hanson," film adaptation of the Thomas Savage novel. This marks the first time the two will be teamed and insiders are awaiting the results with interest.

RITA HAYWORTH

Sydney Greenstreet, who is all of 66, had to be made to look a little older for "Flamingo Road." They reddened his hair and whitened his face. Incidentally, another old song will be revived in that film when Joan Crawford sings "If I Could Be With You One Hour Tonight." Maybe Warner's hopes for the same kind of success they had in "Casablanca," which revived "As Time Goes By." The question is—can Joan sing like Dooley Wilson?

It would be hard to find a man who goes to greater extremes in business than Jack Barry. The young radio producer (he's only 30) has originated two of the successful programs on the air—"Juvenile Jury," in which a panel of youngsters aged up to twelve attempts to solve problems submitted by junior listeners, and "Life Begins at 80," in which a panel of charming oldsters aged 80 and over performs a similar stunt for listeners of all ages. The success of Barry's technique lies in the fact that he adopts no particular attitude towards his panels; he's not indulgent with the youngsters nor awed by the oldsters. He respects their opinions regardless of their age.

SHORTS: Pat O'Brien's new Hollywood gossip program will make no mention of divorce or unhappy marriages. (What kind of gossip is that?) Henry Koster is preparing a musical dealing with the life of Luciezia Borgia. A script entitled "The Hypochondriac" is making the rounds and Hollywood gag men have submitted over a dozen fitting suggestions for the lead. It may be a dog's life, but a lot of humans envy Daisy, the canine fixture in the "Blondie" series. In the past ten years, Daisy has appeared in all 26 of the Blondie films, has earned about $300,000.

JACK BARRY

Every anthology creates a little dissatisfaction, since an editor can't please everybody all of the time. But Martha Foley's compilation of "The Best American Short Stories of 1948" (Houghton Mifflin Co.) does a better than average job in a wide variety of tales. There are a couple of stories we would have liked included, but we have no quarrel with the selections made.

YOUR GARDEN This Week

Gardens often like to propagate plants, even though they may have to give or throw away most of those successfully rooted.

This is the season for making hard wood cuttings which are taken after the leaves fall and before a severe freeze. Most of the deciduous flowering shrubs, a few trees (notably elms and London Plane), climbing roses, grapes and currants can be propagated in this way.

Make cuttings of wood that was produced this year. The cuttings should be about 6 inches long, but will usually have at least three joints or buds. At the base, make a slanting cut through a joint or eye. This is especially necessary with hollow stemmed sorts. Usually a similar sort of cut is made at the tip, except where the terminal buds remain.

The cuttings are tied in bundles, 5, 10 or up to 50 or 100. In assembling them, be sure that the butts are pointing in the same direction and are practically even, so there will be uniform callusing. Make sure that each bundle has a durable label attached to the substantial tying material that is used.

Into a deep box place a layer of soil or sand. Then lay bundles of cuttings horizontal, covering each layer of bundles with a layer of soil or sand. Several inches should be above the last cuttings. Place the box in a cool spot in the cellar and keep the covering material just moist.

In the spring, some of the cuttings may be rooted and some will have callus tissue formed on the base of the cuttings. When the soil is fit to work outside, open a furrow into which the cuttings are place 6 or 8 inches apart, leaving only 2 or 3 inches projecting above ground. Firm the soil around them.

Usually roots will form on about 90 per cent of such cuttings, when suitable material is used.

Uncle Sam Says

Any day soon you may be faced by some real bugaboos if you are not salting away a part of your wages every pay day. Bugaboos can pop up unexpectedly and now is the time to prepare for them. They can hit you in many ways—money needed for your children's education, enough money to retire, or suppose your wife or your children should become sick? The best attack on these bugaboos is to buy U.S. Savings Bonds, week after week, month after month, year after year. So sign up today for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or, if self-employed, for the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank.

How to Put Out a Fire

When a fire is small, it can be put out easily. You can stamp it out with your foot, smother it with a rug or douse it with a pail of water. One of the commonest kinds of fires in a home—food or grease burning on the stove—can best be put out by placing a metal cover on the pan or vessel containing the burning food. Such action at the start of the fire may be more effective than the work of the entire fire department five minutes later.

The post will also sponsor a Christmas party for all children of the city. This party will be held at the Empire Theatre here on Saturday morning, December 18th.

The membership drive being conducted by the post, is already producing good results, and a number of new members have been added to the rolls. Vice Commander Harold Stratton heads his committee, assisted by Whitmore Pascoe, Joseph Lewandowski, Patrick Pizzillo, Joseph Ginn, James Anderson and Joseph Bilos.

Japanese Rice

All Japanese rice is of the short-grained type. It is classified in Japan proper as paddy and upland, or common (nonglutinous) and glutinous. Paddy rice is cultivated in paddy fields where it is irrigated throughout the growing period, whereas upland rice is able to complete its growth in the field without irrigation, as is true of wheat.

The young man at the left, a member of Notre Dame's famed gridiron Four Horsemen and one of the great all-time backs, always came up for more when he was smacked down by enemy tacklers. Recently, the poor showing of the Big Nine team he coaches invoked sophomoric abuse from undergraduates.
The following week, enraged at campus opinion, his team battled heavily favored Ohio State down to is he?

ANSWER: Harry Stuhldreher

O WOE IS HIM!

They are excellent for potato salad.

PROTECTING PRICELESS VIOLINS

Steinway Hall's Master-Maker Keeps
Rare Instruments Polished With Wax

Karl Berger, New York's famous violin maker, recommends household wax to keep his fine fiddles in top condition.

In New York's musical centre around 57th Street and 7th Avenue—people carrying musical instruments are the rule, not the exception. Those entering Steinway Hall bearing cellos and violins are most likely going to the seventh floor to see Karl Berger, one of the country's most famous craftsmen of violins and violas.

Mr. Berger makes and takes care of instruments for members of the New York Philharmonic, Radio City Music Hall, Chicago Symphony and hundreds of prominent musicians.
Born in Switzerland, he has the pride and skill always associated with the Swiss. His masters were Mellner of Basel and Postiglioni of Naples. He worked for Silvestro and Maucotel in Paris and has won medals at the Sesquicentennial Exhibit in Philadelphia, at the Exhibition Internationale de Musique in Geneva.

The beautiful Berger instruments follow the patterns of Stradivari and Guarneri, but he also has his own individual models. Such instruments cost a lot of money—not only hundreds but often thousands of dollars and Mr. Berger tries to have them always kept in top condition. After experimenting with all sorts of cleaners and polishes, three years ago he tried a well-known cleaning and polishing wax used in millions of homes throughout America every day. Since then he uses it exclusively. What's more, he urges his customers to protect their instruments with wax once a week, besides the daily rubbing with a soft cloth.

Cost of Fires

Nearly 400,000 places in which people live have fires every year with an average loss of $200 per fire. These fires cause the death of about 7,500 persons each year, and the majority of the victims are women and children.

NEW JERSEY'S modern AIRPORTS

Yes, New Jersey is "up in the air"—thanks to the excellent facilities for flying which are present in our great state!

There's the internationally-known Newark Airport, one of the busiest in the world, which serves as the terminal of principal airlines linking the important cities of the U.S.A., Canada and foreign countries.
And there's Teterboro Air Terminal, handling charter passenger and freight service on a world-wide basis.
Both of these large fields are owned and operated by the Port of New York Authority.

New Jersey has more than 100 smaller fields used by local charter planes and those privately owned.
Others are now being planned or are in construction.

Public Service, public servant of a great state, joins you in pointing with pride to the airport development of New Jersey.

UP-TOWN, DOWN-TOWN

NEW YORK VIGNETTE

by John Skinner

WILLY-NILLY: A tolerant woman we know who lives on a ground floor apartment in Manhattan has had her front windows busted three times in the last two months. Stickball, it was, that caused it, and with rubber spheres landing in her apartment the last two of the three times, she finally told the youngsters playing this byway relative of baseball in which a broomstick is used instead of a regular bat here, that they couldn't have their ball back at all. It took her about ten seconds to contemplate the chagrined faces of the youngsters, to toss them back the ball and to see the smiles return.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN: Stickball, it could be; or legally fishing in the lakes of Manhattan's Central Park and Brooklyn's Prospect Park, when you're under 16 years of age; or playing petats, as did this woman of whom we speak when a Brooklyn youngster; or vying in the games of ring-a-leevio; kick-the-can, and pussy cat. All tolerated they are in NYC, unless somebody's window is broken too frequently. The constant urge of youngsters to enjoy such sport is regarded here as just as much an inalienable right here as it doubtless is in your own community.

JUST IMAGINE: It was the youngsters—all under 12—of the "Juvenile Jury" broadcasts who brought most of this back to mind the other day when they were sitting about in an MBS NYC studio before the program. They talked us into one of the imaginary baseball games they frequently play at such times —everyone's assigned to proper fielding and batting positions, the rest of the game being followed through by plays being called in rotation. Afterward I asked them if they knew about stickball and a faster string of sentences were scarcely ever heard.

FOR SPORTS FELLOWS AND GALS: For years we've watched youngsters surreptitiously dropping bent pin fishing tackle into the waters of Central and Prospect Parks and being chased away by cops whose hearts really weren't in it. Now it's legal for citizens up to the age of 16; in fact, a 7-year-old has just won a rod and reel in a Central Park fishing contest, beating out nearly 300 others by reeling in a fat one-inch sunfish. As for the other games mentioned, the Juvenile Jurors tell us that "petats" is a game like hop scotch, with circles being chalked on the sidewalk instead of squares; "ring-a-leevio" is a tag game in which a tagged member of either side must go to a base and stay there unless released by a swift-moving teammate re-tagging him; "kick-the-can" is a variation of baseball with a diamond chalked out as circumstances will allow, the can being kicked from home plate and the runner having to get on base before the can is retrieved by an opponent and run back to home plate, and "pussy cat," the game in which a six inch length of broomstick is placed on the edge of a curb and whacked with a two foot length of the same material. The wins come from the catching of the shorter stick. If not caught, the longer stick is stood on end and an effort is made to knock it over by a throw with the smaller stick. Same the country over, doubtless—just with different names. Now you're it!

CANCER SOCIETY TO GIVE FINANCIAL AID TO LOCAL CLINIC

Among the new projects to be effected in the immediate future by the Middlesex County Chapter of the American Cancer Society are provisions for the financial support of the cancer clinic at the South Amboy Memorial Hospital, so that diagnostic aid can be extended to cover all indigent cases; the establishment of a sick room supply system, so that necessary items for home care of patients such as hospital beds, bedpans etc., can be provided to any cancer victim within the county who is unable to pay for this type of equipment; and provision for treatment of cancer at any recognized clinic within New Jersey, where the type of treatment desired cannot be secured within Middlesex County.

Death and health losses suffered from stomach worms, lungworms, flukes, nodular worms and tape-worms in livestock continue to be tremendous, notwithstanding that science has shown the way to control most of them. In sheep, parasitisms outstrip all other diseases in importance.

FRUIT FLUFF PIE

No wonder we look forward to holidays with treats like this! Dissolve 1 pkg. A&P's SPARKLE GELATIN DESSERT in 1 1/2 cups boiling water. Chill until syrupy. From the pre-historic forked stick to the modern tractor plow on rubber, from the flail to the combine, modern farm machinery has transformed a world of scarcity into one of plenty.

Effects of Brucellosis
Brucellosis in human beings causes a lingering fever. In cattle it results in reproduction failures. Brucellosis is a definite problem in rural populations and among those people who drink raw milk.

Radio Script Writing Contest For School Students

Open To High And Elementary Grades.

The third annual radio script writing contest for New Jersey school students has been announced by Commissioner Charles R. Erdman, Jr., whose Department of Economic Development is again sponsoring the competition. For the first time, the contest is open to individuals and groups in both high school and elementary grades.

Prizes in each of the two classes have been donated and include Remington Rand portable noiseless typewriters, RCA Victor portable radios and autographed copies of the book "The Ivy Years," a story of college life at Rutgers University, by Earl S. Miers. For the one best script submitted by a group, there will be a day's outing by bus.

Commissioner Erdman explained that the radio series THIS IS NEW JERSEY, prepared by the Department of Economic Development, and presented by local radio stations a total of 19 times weekly, has become a regular in-school listening project for more than 100,000 students in the State.

Program topics include present day life in New Jersey, historical events, community ventures, achievements of distinguished residents and government projects of particular significance to the State.

In addition to a teacher advisory committee, the Department receives suggestions for broadcasts from student listeners. The annual contest gives this group further opportunity to indicate the type of programs they would like to have presented.

In April and May, prize-winning student scripts are dramatized on the THIS IS NEW JERSEY broadcast series.

The contest closes January 31, 1949. A formal entry card, available from the Department of Economic Development, must accompany each student script. Further details of the contest and model scripts may be obtained on request to the THIS IS NEW JERSEY Script Writing Contest, Department of Economic Development, 520 East State Street, Trenton.

Paul J. Solis, Jr. of 333 George street, was awarded a five year pin.

Growing Red Raspberries

Red raspberries grow best on a light or medium loam containing a liberal amount of organic matter.

Avoid putting them in light sandy or heavy clay soils. Adequate moisture and good water drainage are essential. Although a location protected from strong winds is desirable, good air drainage will help in reducing trouble from certain diseases. Elevation is relatively unimportant, because raspberries usually blossom late enough to escape spring frosts.

Electric Motor Production

Of 25,000,000 electric motors produced last year, 4,000,000 went into washers, 3,400,000 into refrigerators and 1,600,000 into industrial plants.

LOOKING BACK 22 YEARS

ISSUE OF NOVEMBER 26, 1926

Mrs. James Dolan, newly elected president of St. Mary's Parent Teachers Association, has announced the appointment of the following ladies to serve as chairladies of these committees: Mrs. O. W. Welsh, Entertainment; Mrs. R. Mack, Ways and Means; Mrs. James Wallis, Hospitality; Mrs. Wm. J. O'Connor, Decorations.

The next meeting of the Association is to be held on the evening of December 14th, the second Tuesday, in St. Mary's Hall at 8 o'clock. Usually the meetings are held in the afternoon but this one is to be changed so that the fathers of children can arranged to attend with a minimum of inconvenience. All parents are invited to be in attendance.

A novel advertising scheme was put into practice during the week by the committee in charge of the R. of C. Bazaar. An old time "carry all" used in by gone days as a pall bearer coach at funerals, was decorated and driven about the city. The curious crowds were attracted and the scheme had its telling effect.

The land adjoining St. Mary's School extending from Setvens Avenue to Potter Street on Second Street now used as a school yard is to be developed according to an announcement made during the past week by Dr. E. C. Griffin, pastor of St. Mary's church.

The forty or more trees which have done their share toward contributing shade during the summer months for many years are to be cut down. Dr. Griffin wishing the trees for use as firewood may have them, if they are chopped down, and removed from the ground.

The plans for the latest of improvements at St. Mary's have not been made known as yet, but it is the general belief that the land will be developed into a high class playground. An important item in the new development would be the building of a baseball diamond.

Campbell Terrace, a new real estate development along Main Street, inside the city limits is now ready for inspection by and sale to the public, it is announced. Mr. J. Alfred Johnson, of 324 Main Street, has the agency for the disposal of the property for which it is expected there will be a substantial demand.

Campbell Terrace, it is claimed, is the highest, healthiest part of this city. In the tract there are some thirty-five lots or parcels all of which are to be sold at reasonable prices and probably convenient terms. Conlogue Avenue is to succeed the former lane of that name, which borders the property on one side, is to be opened out to the full width of a city street, sufficient property having been deeded by the respective owners to guarantee the improvement. There are three streets already laid out, Charles, Thompson and Campbell street, all of full city width.

The two Christmas Clubs maintained by the local banks will shortly begin the distribution of over $126,000 which has been accumulated by South Amboynans during the past year. Starting next week there will go into the mails Christmas Club checks that will help make merry the holidays of many a local resident's family, and incidentally, help South Amboy business at this time of the year by sending large amounts of money in circulation.

There has been a large increase in the amount put into the Christmas Clubs this year as compared to last year although the increase in the number of members has not been so noticeable. There are about three thousand members of the two clubs for this year which is fairly close to the number recorded last year. It is understood that one bank that has had a number of members fully paid up far in advance have already sent out checks to them.

For this year the First National Bank reports the Clubs totaling about $68,000 and the Trust Company has a total of approximately $58,000. Last year the figures were $60,000 and $50,000 respectively. Throughout the county of Middlesex the Christmas Club savings amount to about $1,110,600. On this basis South Amboy's total would be nearly nine per cent of the total for the county.

What was said to have been the most successful mission ever conducted in St. Mary's church came to a close Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, when the Redemptorist Fathers, after two weeks in this city, imparted the three-fold benediction, customary at the close of all Missions of this type.

The first week of their stay in this city, the Mission Fathers gave their series of talks and sermons to the women of the parish. The second week was for men. The Rev. Father Turner, known throughout the country as the greatest Missionary of the Redemptorist Order was in charge of this Mission. He was assisted by the father Rev. John O'Connor of the same order.

Tonight St. Mary's Hall will be the scene of one of the most elaborate social functions ever held in this city. On this occasion the St. Mary's High School Athletic Association will hold their annual November dance. Many similar affairs have been undertaken by the athletic association, but this year's entertainment bids far to surpass all previous doings of the association.

Rev. Henry Faber is very much elated over the combined efforts of the chairlady, Miss Alice Kennedy, and her able committee in bringing about the already assured success.

The auditorium will be especially decorated for the occasion and will present a fine appearance at the experienced hands of Mr. Chris Oleson, decorator, of this city.

Because of the very large expenditures for plant and fixtures in this city a reduction at present in the lighting rates here was not at all warranted, the Board of Public Works was informed by a representative of the Jersey Central Power and Light Company at a meeting of the local Board held Wednesday night. The representative went on to explain that the utility concern was working on the schedules and every effort was being directed toward the end that reduction might be made possible. While it was hoped that such a reduction might be forthcoming some time in the future, it was not advisable or likely just now, the representative said.

The Board of Works considered a suggestion on the part of one member relative to carrying

IT IS important that the boys who join the army as draftees for the Roosevelt Memorial War with Russia shall eat their spinach, hear no vulgarly but their own and write home once a week. But it will be very hard to hire good officers if the public continues to hold them all arbitrarily up to contempt as an incompetent, parasitic class.

SOLDIERING IN MAN'S BUSINESS EVEN WHEN BOYS ARE EMPLOYED. The Union Army in the Civil War was younger, on the average in the ranks, than the West Point football team of today. Stray news pictures from here and there show that kids of 16 and up are still out hunting other kids of 16 and up with realistic guns and hard ammunition.

There is abroad in the United States a propaganda against officers which, with a little more emphasis, might deter the men who are needed most from entering or continuing military careers.

A first-class man won't take that kind of abuse or derogation. And when the rate of pay is considered in comparison with that of construction workers, the man with the true qualifications for rank must reflect that he is only a peacetime Tommy Atkins himself.

When bricklayers can get $25 a day regardless of incompetence or production, a colonel's $125 a week after 20 years service is not impressive.

Officers in Big Wars This time it will be necessary to start over with the induction of the elected Federal Government. Big wars have always lowered the average competence, character and reputation of the officers, although they suffered far less in these particulars in World War I than they did in the second one. There were several obvious reasons. The first war was soon ended. There were far fewer temporary officers. Woodrow Wilson had a personal code as austere as that of the West Point corps of cadets and of the corps of officers of the army.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, on the other hand, debauched not only his own office by his open contempt for honesty as an institution but every other office from the supreme court to the park service. He revealed in his title of commander-in-chief, but the o-in-c's family had had their feet in the trough for years, fattening on the by-product of our highest elective office in a way that would have disgusted even Warren G. Harding.

He let the air force clique pull Elliott out of the cruel war to bull through a contract for Howard Hughes and accept from Hughes the equivalent of thousands of dollars in feasting and boozing.

Under the 95th and 96th articles of war, Elliott could have been court-martialed. He defaulted his debts to John Hartford and others, which is a triable charge entailing dismissal, and in accepting the favors of Howard Hughes, he violated a direct order and warning from Gen. H. H. Arnold.

General Arnold should have made charges, but he was holding his job by Roosevelt's whimsical favor. Had he made a move, Roosevelt would have quashed the charges against Elliott and Arnold would have been sent to the University of Missouri as an instructor.

Racket in Last War Everyone knew this and the enlisted soldier, being no fool and army-wise, realized that all life was a racket in that army. The outrageous cheapening and inflation of rank to accommodate Hollywood draft dodgers, timid New Deal lawyers from Harvard Law and thousands of restless white-collar bums who were having with trouble was a calamity to the prestige of command. Captains became majors and majors colonels who were absolutely useless for any military duty. But they consumed the best rations and whiskey, broke up more than their quota of homes, including, in many cases, their own, and occupied quarters according to rank, all to the denial of the combat officers and soldiers.

It was, altogether, a disgraceful imposition on the fighters to throw commissions to such sightseers and tomcats. The injury continues now in the morose prejudice against officers.

The Roosevelt politics also continues today in the regular services all the way from the office of the Secretary of Defense down through the desks which are known by the esoteric name of echelons. The roll of victims with long and honorable service whose careers were stopped dead because they wouldn't play politics is the roster of a silent pogrom.

Red Cross Activities
Red Cross arts and skills workers helped with recreation programs in 188 military, naval and veterans' hospitals last year.

When Canning
New rubber rings for canning should be rinsed in boiling water in order to remove the fine powder on the surface, which may impart a foreign taste.

It's a good idea to space your party line calls!

• With many residence telephones on party lines, people are finding it a good idea to allow time between calls... instead of making one right after another. One reason, of course, is that while you're making or receiving a call no one else can reach you and you may miss an important message.

• Another reason is that spacing your calls helps to make service better for everyone else on your party line... just as it helps to replace the receiver gently when you find the line already in use... and to release the line promptly in case of emergency.

Miss Rose E. Kusic Wed Here Saturday To L. J. Schaefer

At a nuptial mass, celebrated at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at Sacred Heart R. C. Church, Miss Rose E. Kusic, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kusic, of 200 Second street, became the bride of Lawrence J. Schaefer, son of Mrs. Helen Schaefer of Lincoln and Pine Avenue, and the late Lawrence Schaefer.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev John I. Wall of Brooklyn, N. Y., cousin of the bridegroom.

Miss Marie F. Kusic, was her sister's personal attendant, and Miss Barbara Ann Rojek, of South River, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Henry Sager was the best man, and the ushers were Edward Skarzynski, cousin of the bride, and Cecil Hockenjos of Sayreville, cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride wore an ivory satin period gown with a long train, a long veil of illusion, and she carried a prayer book marked with a white orchid and streamers of bouvardia.

The maid of honor and the junior bridesmaid, wore amethyst taffeta, headresses of wreaths of ivy with green velvet streamers, and they carried cascades of rubrum lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer are on a motor trip through the southern states, and upon their return will reside with his mother. For traveling, the bride chose a black princess style coat, grey dress, black accessories, and an orchid corsage.

The bride attended Ohio schools, and is a graduate of Hoffman High School here. Her husband is a graduate of local St. Mary's High School, and attended Ronnsellaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, N. Y., and at present is attending Rutgers University. He served three and a half years with the U. S. Navy, with two years duty in the European and Middle East theatres. Both are employed by the E. I. DuPont Photo Products Company at Parlin.

VETERANS' COLUMN

Q. From Sussex County comes the question, "Is it necessary that a veteran, who applies for out-patient treatment, file a claim on VA Form 8-526?"

A. No. VA Form 10-2827 is used.

Q. A Warren County veteran writes, "If a veteran is placed on the waiting list for admission for hospital treatment, may he be maintained in a domiciliary institution?"

A. Yes, but only if the veteran was honorably discharged for a disability incurred in line of duty, or is in receipt of compensation for a service-connected disability.

Q. "If a veteran who received a dishonorable discharge has not filed a claim for compensation, and does not intend to do so, would he be entitled to hospitalization in the event of acute illness?" asks a man in Bergen County.

A. Yes, if he meets the eligibility requirements.

Q. From Essex County comes the query, "Are relatives or dependents of veterans entitled to hospital care or treatment?"

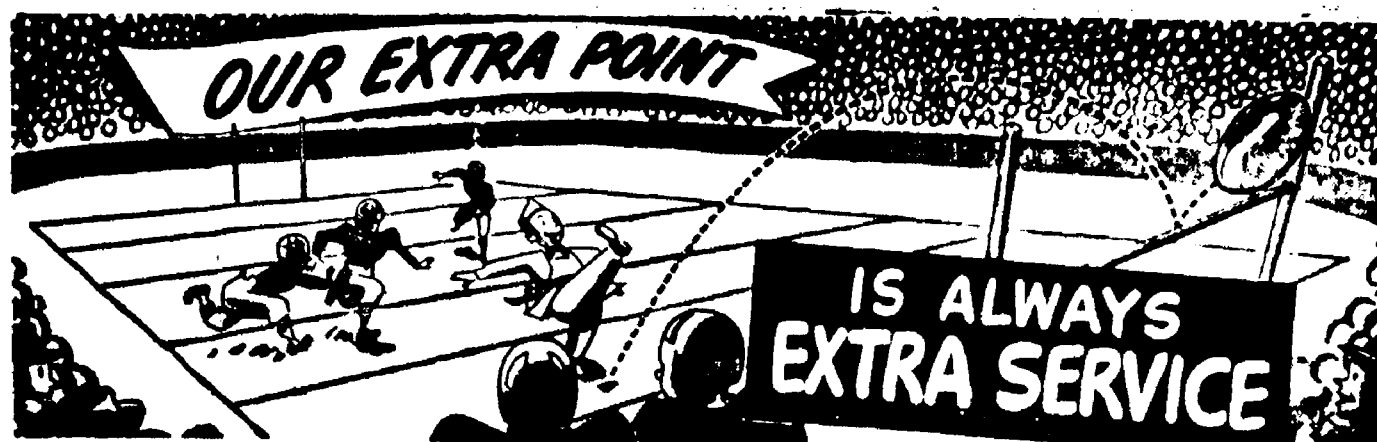

A. Not as beneficiaries of the VA, unless they have attained eligibility in their own right by reason of service in the armed forces.

Q. A veteran in Burlington County asks, "Is a wife entitled to apportionment after an interlocutory decree of divorce has been granted?"

A. Yes, and until the decree becomes final.

NAVAL MANEUVERS U. S. naval maneuvers in the North Atlantic included simulated amphibious attacks on Newfoundland's grim and rocky shores by units of the marines clad in special arctic assault gear. Here is the initial phase of a tactical exercise. As a mortar group hits the dirt under the watchful eye of a naval helicopter, the supporting naval vessel maintains a simulated covering fire, theoretically against a heavily defended air base occupied by a major world power. The exercises were the most extensive held since World War II.
