Referendum on Police Salary Increases Approved Unanimously by City Council

This week's council meeting had every promise of being brief and succinct. Several times it was about to be adjourned only to be extended by issue of importance extemporaneously introduced.

Among the most important times to be brought up was the police pay raise petition. Shortly before the council convened, city clerk John Triggs was handed a letter from the members of the Police Department thru Leroy Kurtz, its committee chairman. The communication was a request asking the council's permission to place a referendum before the voters in the November election for a $500 across-the-board wage increase.

The letter also requested that an appropriate pay increment according to rank be accorded council permission. In addition, the petition asked that permission be granted for circulating petitions among citizens which would be conducive to having the referendum placed on the coming ballot.

After the communication had been read, Councilman Jankowski called for a motion to recess, since the matter was not discussed previously.

Following the recess, Councilman VanDerveer made a motion that the request be granted. Councilman Howley noted that the police members gave sufficient indication of having considered the matter seriously and prudently prior to committing themselves and that fair procedure were observed. Council President Wisniewski added that the increases would average about $550. The motion was then carried unanimously in favor of the policemen.

The present police pay scale begins at $4700 with an additional $100 for a clothing allowance. Its complement consists of a police chief, three captains, three sergeants, ten patrolmen.

The Land Fill Area and recreation facilities again monopolized the council meeting. Councilman VanDerveer, who is honorary chairman of the Recreation Commission, introduced this topic by asking his council co-members if they had any objections to advertisements being made for seed and fill for the land adjoining the boat basin.

The inquiry brought immediate responses. Mild objections were made on the grounds that the land for which these items were considered did not belong to the city. The general opinion was that it might not be wise to spend money which might later prove to be a loss.

VanDerveer added that the advertisements were of an exploratory and expeditious nature. No money commitments were involved. This information would be sought in advance, he reiterated, so as not to delay the development of baseball fields by future discussions in the event that the city acquired the land from the state. Councilman Swiatkowski gave assent to this proposal.

Mayor Charmello then intervened that the move be a wise one since it indicated advance planning and foresight which might prove beneficial in the end. The entire council body appeared to reach rapport on the feasibility of advance advertising. However, several views were offered as to how this information was to be obtained. Council president Wisniewski suggested that possibly such information, being exploratory, could best be elicited conversationally from qualified persons. Councilman Howley proposed that since the land was up to fifteen feet above the normal level in places, it might be advisable to call in the city engineer to survey the area and submit recommendations of what should be done before accurate estimates can be made for fill and seed.

Earlier, Mayor Charmello inquired what determination had been reached concerning the Fourth Street School. Since circumstances made such a determination impossible, council president Wisniewski called for a special meeting to be held Thursday (tonight) at 8:00 p. m. to reach agreement on this issue. It was at this point that Wisniewski also proposed that the members of the Planning Board and the Recreation Committee be invited to discuss the Land Fill area.

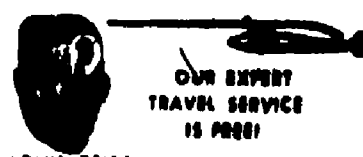

Councilman Howley then offered that the city engineer be called as well, since he would be most qualified to make recommendations. "That's why we have engineers and architects," he said, "to be called when the right time comes to do the work that is needed." Mayor Charmello added that business cannot be conducted unless what is of concern is known. It is best to call in the engineers and architects.

VanDerveer then informed the council that the city has been offered a revocable permit for use of the land for recreational purposes. Charmello turned to the City Solicitor John Mullane to define what does "revocable" specifically mean in this instance. Mullane defined it as meaning license to use the land but that the state reserved the right to terminate the permit at will. To this Mayor Charmello added that the city could be sold out from under should it agree to it.

Further questions arose concerning the possibilities of combining Veterans Field for both regular and Little League use. VanDerveer said that the stadium was too small to accommodate both simultaneously but that the Recreation Commission John Zdanevich recommended that the best use be made of this situation until permanent arrangements can be made.

Councilman VanDerveer added further that a master plan of the 38 acres of city owned land in the boat basin area has been drawn up in which a Little League field, a football field and eight tennis courts were laid out. In addition, provisions also include a parking lot for 300 cars. If something is to be done, it should be done now, he emphasized.

The discussion then digressed again to the state owned land. Wisniewski asked if this land was applied strictly for recreation purposes. Mullane informed the council that if ratables were put in, the state would ask a higher price for the land than if the land were to be used solely for recreational purposes. It would be to the city's advantage to use the land so.

Wisniewski proposed that Assemblyman Wm Kurtz be called upon to do all that he can to bring this land issue to some advantageous conclusion. Councilman Jankowski called upon all members to give concerted effort to this problem since South Amboy is a baseball town and wants to maintain this reputation.

Another point of issue involved the riparian rights of property owners of the upland area concerning the land fill. Councilman Howley reminded the members that by law a six month notice must be given to these property owners who had certain privileges extending to the former waterline before the land was filled, and that this move was already taken in the past. The city, he said, was progressing and that it was doing all it could at this time.

Mayor Charmello reminded motorists that school has reopened and that the motorists take every precaution to safeguard the city's children. Jankowski called for inspections of all streets to see that necessary stop signs are placed where needed if not already there. He also recommended that the Board of Education be requested to divert all tuition fees of students outside of city, of which there are over 50, to be earmarked for the school bond issue. The tuition fees amount to about $20,000. The motion was adopted and the city clerk instructed to forward this resolution to the Board.

Councilman Swiatkowski asked that something be done about the weeds and the refuse on several lots near Bertram Avenue and the highway. The weeds and refuse create a fire hazard. Councilman Howley said that valves were installed at some intersections and that vehicles passing over the refilled holes raised an unhealthy dust condition. It was suggested that some substance be poured upon the exposed dirt to keep the dust down. Council president Wisniewski remarked that the Board of Public Works has been contacted. Superintendent Nagle informed him that if oil is poured on the dirt, the dirt will not pack properly, for water would run off without entering. Moreover it might be a nuisance if children were to get oil on their clothing. VanDerveer suggested calcium chloride and Jankowski some filter such as gravel as alternative.

Tribute was paid to the Protection Fire Company, to the First Aid Squad and to the Cloverleaf String Band by councilman Howley for having taken top awards in their respective categories at the Spotswood anniversary parade.

Tribute was also paid the Police Department by Councilman Jankowski for having been awarded a safety plaque for the past two years in which the city had no traffic fatalities. The Department was commended for its efforts in maintaining good safety vigilance.

Independence Fire Company gave notice that doctors' certificates have been granted for Sylvester Ratz and William A. Creed, which action was confirmed by the council. Progressive Fire Company gave notice that Martin Loftus had been appointed to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Henry Sager.

Formal notice was given by Mayor Charmello concerning the appointment of Casper Poetsch to take the place of the late William Colucci on the Recreation Commission.

In other business, Patrick J. Vona of 210 Church Street was sold lot 34 in block 58 on Leffert Street on a written bid of $250. No other bids were offered. Other bids were received for properties on Prospect Street and the corner of David and Rosewell Streets. In the former, bidding was deferred as the property is part of a city playground. In the later, the city clerk was directed to notify Mr. Hess that the property was not for sale.

Community Chest Aides Prepare For Campaign

Ernest S. Lanning Jr., commercial manager of the Public Service Electric & Gas Company of Perth Amboy, and Chester W. Smith Jr., manager of the Perth Amboy office of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co., have been selected as co-chairmen of the 1959 Community Chest campaign which starts in October.

Lanning and Smith will solicit retail business firms with five or more employees in this area.

Ernest S. Lanning Jr.

Chester W. Smith Jr.

Lanning served as chairman of the business division last year and is a director of the Community Chest. He is a member of the Perth Amboy Chamber of Commerce and the Rahway Rotary Club.

Smith has served with the Ocean County Boy Scouts, the Burlington County Red Cross and the Ocean County Red Cross. He is a member of the Perth Amboy Rotary Club.

"It is our hope," they said, "that the bigger retail businesses in this area will recognize the important role that they must play in this most important community-wide Red Feather appeal. We can only succeed and provide our 12 local agencies with their minimum needs if retail business in cooperation with all other groups will give their share."

South Amboy's Last Farm Makes Way to Progress

Macedulski Farm, one of South Amboy's first farms and the last to operate in this city, is to be converted into a housing development according to Frank Macedulski, its owner. Located in the Stevensdale Section next to So. Amboy Gardens, it will be divided into 18 units for new homes.

The demand for homes being what it is, the decision was inevitable. Macedulski discloses that he had received many offers for the land he bought from the Pennsylvania Railroad in 1944. In spite of his reluctance to sell, he has been prevailed upon by home seekers to yield. More than half of the units have already been disposed of and construction of the dwellings will begin soon.

The farm, a 4 1/2 acre tract, has long been a prominent landmark in this city. The Macedulski family has worked it ever since 1897, first by Frank's father, Andrew, and then by Frank and his brothers. Under their supervision, the historic home, which is almost a century and a half old, has been well maintained and preserved.

The nine-room structure is of the split-level type and is one of the sturdiest ever erected in South Amboy. Despite its age, it gives every indication of enduring another century.

It will be a fitting center for the planned Macedulski Terrace, the name by which it will be known. The Macedulski brothers will continue their residence there retaining about 3/4 of an acre.

One is immediately taken in by the edifice. The front section was originally used as a chapel for the hired help—the mansion servants and the many field workers of the fabulous Stevensdale Terrace—all of whom resided in six other buildings on the estate. The section still retains the chapel appearance, having a high dormer roof laid in with copper plates and sharply arched windows which once extended to the ground. The interior is in keeping with early 19th century architecture—high ceilinged rooms with simple and austere design. The exterior, Macedulski informs us, was elaborately decorated in pale-gray stucco, unlike today's modern cement stucco which it preceded and which was not yet marketed.

The Macedulskis continued the large strawberry patches once carefully cultivated by the Stevens. In many as 1800 crates per week would be shipped by boat to New York. They gradually drew away from the strawberries and began planting acres of beans, tomatoes, corn and lettuce. At the same time they maintained the orchards—pears, peaches and apples—left by their predecessors.

In later years the family converted the land to pasture, having as many as 18 cows. Since the fields were extensive, neighbors also brought their cows and other animals there to feed. The dairy business lasted almost thirty years and was discontinued only after companies commercialized the milk purchase and deliveries. Many South Amboyans still recall the horse and buggy wagon Adam Macedulski used in making his door-to-door milk stops.

Farming was continued on a small scale until 1954, disposed of their last horse. Up until that year, Frank was the only horse trainer and trader in these parts.

Some city residents recall the sumptuous displays of the venerable Stevensdale Terrace. They recollect the beautiful gardens along the acre-large oval lake and the ostentatious Golden Bridge which arched like a tiara above it. They will tell you of the stone-buttressed ditches and the miniature bridges which crossed them. Nothing, they insist, compares with the magnificent 335-room mansion built by French architects from red brick imported by the shiploads from England. They reminisce about the spacious rooms and ballroom built of the purest white pine and elegantly carved in flower designs. Water to the mansion entered through solid lead piping and under natural pressure, for the lake level was above that of the mansion.

A power line tower now marks the place where the lake was drained and filled.

A wing of this building was moved by teams of horses (Milges' Movers) to the corner of Main and Potter Streets where Kurzawa's Funeral Parlor is now located. Purchased by the Burke family, it was later used as an emergency hospital during the great influenza epidemic and the Morgan Explosion of 1918. It remained there until about twenty years ago when it was razed. Most middle-aged residents still remember the old "Pennsylvania Building," as it was called.

In the winters, the oval lake was brightly illuminated by bonfires and used for skating. The adjoining hills were once the scene of horse-drawn sleighs and swift-moving toboggans. (Some oldtimers still relish those days when gay young ladies climbed aboard the sleighs and toboggans. Others recall the snappy bicycle and foot races which later were held around the lake. Joe Weiman likes to tell about the 95-pound speed demon, Jack Emelison, wearing tight-fitting pants and a tasseled hat, racing around the ancient oak, hickory and chestnut trees to the delight of the many spectators who turned out each Saturday. Prizes were awarded to the winners from the proceeds of a hat collection.

Stevensdale Terrace dates to the Revolutionary War. It was then that Colonel John Stevens established his plantation on the site and grew wealthy from the produce he shipped to New York. South Amboy was then known as Redford's Ferry and New York was seriously challenging Philadelphia as the nation's first city. The fabulous estate, however, did not flourish into its prime until 1830 when the dynamic Edwin Stevens built the first railroad ever laid in the United States. The Camden and So. Amboy. Railroad revolutionized transportation in the country and transformed the city into a thriving railroad terminal. Much of the profits from this enterprise went toward beautifying the Stevensdale Terrace and toward founding Stevens Institute in Hoboken.

South Amboy can be proud of the Stevens pioneers and for the prosperity they brought to the city. As long as the Macedulski home exists, it will remind us of the grand days of the first railroad and of the colorful history of a grand and noble estate.

Jr. Woman's Chairmen Meet Tonight

A meeting of the committee chairmen of the South Amboy Junior Woman's Club will meet tonight (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. John R. Everitt.

The group will complete arrangements for the 5th district Fall Conference membership department of the N. J. State Federation of Woman's Clubs, which will be held on October 9th at the Buttonwood Manor.

The South Amboy Junior Woman's Club will act as hosts for the conference.

The first business session of the Fall season for the group will be held on Monday evening, at the YMCA.

Bowling League Open at Sacred Heart Alleys

The 1958-59 bowling season will get under way when the Knights of Columbus Council 426 will start their league Monday and Tuesday evening of the coming week.

The Sacred Heart Club League will open on Wednesday with Frank's Market opposing the Holy Name Juniors; and Kubisak Agency vs. Scupps Market.

Team scheduled for Thursday are Boyes Rug Cleaning vs. Air Electric and Jackin and Cross vs. Catholic War Vets.

Officers of the league are: Stanley Boyes, president; Martin Ruzsala, vice-president; Geo. Cierpial, treasurer, and Robert Zera, secretary.

Kelly Baby Christened

Susan Ann was the name given to the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Kelly of 261 George Street during christening ceremonies on Sunday at St. Mary's R. C. Church. The Reverend Frederick Clancy officiated.

The child's sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carney of Carteret. A dinner followed at the home of the parents who also have another daughter, Eileen Patricia.

Service Notes

Army Specialist Five Frederick N. Thomas, whose wife, Wilma, lives at 359 Highway 35, Laurence Harbor, is serving with Task Force 201 in Lebanon.

Task Force 201 is made up of airborne elements of the 24th Infantry Division in Augsburg, Germany, and support command troops from Army units throughout Europe. They were airlifted in two phases by cargo-type aircraft from Augsburg, via Adana, Turkey, to Beirut.

His mother, Mrs. W. D. Thomas, lives in So. Amboy.

CANCER TAKES ITS TOLL

Of the 10,423 men, women and children, who died of cancer during 1957 in New Jersey, the majority, 2185 males and 1775 females, were victims of cancer of the digestive tract and peritoneum, according to figures compiled by the American Cancer Society, New Jersey Division, from records of the State Department of Health.

The second greatest number, 2100 females and 887 males, died of cancer of the breast and reproductive organs. Other causes were:

Respiratory cancer, 1299 males and 191 females; lymph and blood, 575 males and 347 females; pharynx and cheek cavity, 187 males and 39 females and other unspecified causes, 525 males and 413 females.

Figures for teenagers, up to 19 years of age, reveal that 113 died of blood and lymph cancer and 64 from unspecified cancer. Seventeen died of breast and reproductive organ cancer and eight from cancer of the digestive tract. None died of cancer of the pharynx or respiratory causes.

My Baby Went To School Today

My baby went to school today,
What better time than this
To pause for just a moment
And sort of reminisce?

That tiny little bundle
Was soft and warm and sweet;
He needed me for everything,
He made my days complete.

But time goes by so quickly,
He learned to sit and play,
He started to talk; began to walk,
There was progress every day.

With Daddy's hand to guide him
He walked a little faster,
He learned to feed and dress himself,
There was so much to master.

The time has come to go to school—
To learn—Oh, so much more!
I noticed, when I left him there
A look not seen before.

A sort of independence
Came over him, and then
I left for home—alone and lost,
Till noontime came again.

I rushed right back to school,
I knew he must have missed me.
Instead, he had so much to say,
He never even missed me.

"My teacher is Miss Cummings!
I played and learned a song!
I colored this nice picture!"
And not a thing went wrong.

I'm overjoyed with happiness,
And filled with pride and joy.
My baby went to school today—
Home came my grown-up boy!

Ambulance haste

The speeding ambulance, siren wide open, is a dramatic sight on city streets. But is such haste necessary? According to a team of hospital physicians in Flint, Mich., the dash through traffic may do more harm than good. They studied 2500 consecutive ambulance runs. In 96.2 percent it would have

Stock Car Stars Point Fri. Night for "World's First" at Old Bridge

Five New York speedsters, two from Miami and two from Pennsylvania are making things tough for New Jersey pilots in the NASCAR stock car races at the Old Bridge Stadium, but word is that there will be changes made Friday night when the Garden State boys get their revenge in the 5-event program due to start at 8:30 p. m. Big race of the night is the 25-lap main event.

George Tet, Al DeAngelo, Johnny Zeke, Jim Hendrickson and Johnny Rocco are the Empire State flashes. Joe Kelly and Vince Conrad the Keystone State aces while Bob Malzahn and Bob Weismeyer are the Florida standouts on New Jersey's fastest half-mile speedway, and they have been taking most of the prize money so far.

However, Skeeter State stars are in high gear now and are counted on to do some winning themselves, among them Pete Frazee, who won the recent 100-mile national race at the Route 18 stadium. Don Stumpf who has been a whirlwind with a new car, Lenny Brown whose consistency has put him out front for the track crown, Bill Chevalier with a new car powered by a 1958 Pontiac, and others, who are regarded as fast enough to trim the "invaders."

All are in contention for the 50-inch-tall Pepsi Trophy, largest ever presented a winning driver in this state. The handsome prize goes to the point champion at the conclusion of the 1958 racing season at Old Bridge, which is some distance away.

Promoter Ed Otto is making plans for a super race meet to be staged here on Friday night, September 12, which will be unlike any meet ever seen on an east coast speedway. Details will be announced within a few days. All the night racing starts at 8:30 p. m.

Will Probated

William V. Colucci, who died August 1, named his wife, Mrs. Sophie L. Colucci of 146 2nd St., as executrix and sole legatee in his will which was offered for probate in the office of Surrogate Elmer E. Brown.

Dated May 7, 1957, the will was witnessed by Sylvia B. Dishrow and James F. Tustin.

The British have invented an automatic gadget that speeds up sorting of mail. The operator sits at a keyboard and watches through a window at a moving line of letters. Mass on Mars

Dr. William M. Sinton, of Lowell Observatory, examining spectroscopic studies of Mars made last year when it was close to earth, discovered that some parts of Mars absorb the same wave lengths of sunlight as do plants on earth. He concludes that part of the planet is supporting simple forms of plant life such as bacteria and lichens.

Stamps

The 4-cent Noah Webster bi-centennial stamp in the "Famous American" series, will feature a likeness of the noted lexicographer reproduced from an engraving by G. Parker after a painting by James Herring. Postmaster Arthur E. Summerfield has announced.

Noah Webster was the author of the first important dictionary written in the United States. He was born in 1758 in West Hartford, Conn., studied at Yale University, fought for American independence in the Revolutionary War, and actively supported the adoption of a Federal Constitution. Before his death, in 1843, the United States had acquired the Louisiana Territory and Florida, and the number of states had increased to 26. Webster's "Elementary Spelling Book," or "Blueback Speller," was so popular that in 1850 a million copies were sold.

An initial order for 120 million of these stamps has been placed, with printing by the rotary process, electric-eye perforated, and issued in sheets of 70. The color will be announced later.

The Noah Webster "Famous American" stamp will first be placed on sale at Hartford, Conn., on Oct. 16, 1958, and all first-day covers will be canceled at the West Hartford branch of the post office.

New Release Oct. 16

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Hartford, Conn., together with money order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed.

A bit of the old "Wild West" creeps into the forthcoming United States commemorative honoring the 100th anniversary of the Overland Mail. The 4-center will be placed on sale at San Francisco, Oct. 10.

The design features a coach and team of horses superimposed on a map of the U.S. with the route of the Butterfield Overland Mail shown between Tipton, Mo., and San Francisco. The man sitting next to the driver of the coach is shown shooting at some unseen attackers.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send their addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, San Francisco 1, Calif., together with money orders to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. The outside envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First-Day Covers Overland Mail Stamp." Send prior to Oct. 10.

There has been a slight revision in the forthcoming 4-cent Kossuth "Champion of Liberty" stamp announced in this column earlier. The color has been changed from ochre to green. The reason for the switch is that green is a predominant color in Hungarian symbols and denotes hope.

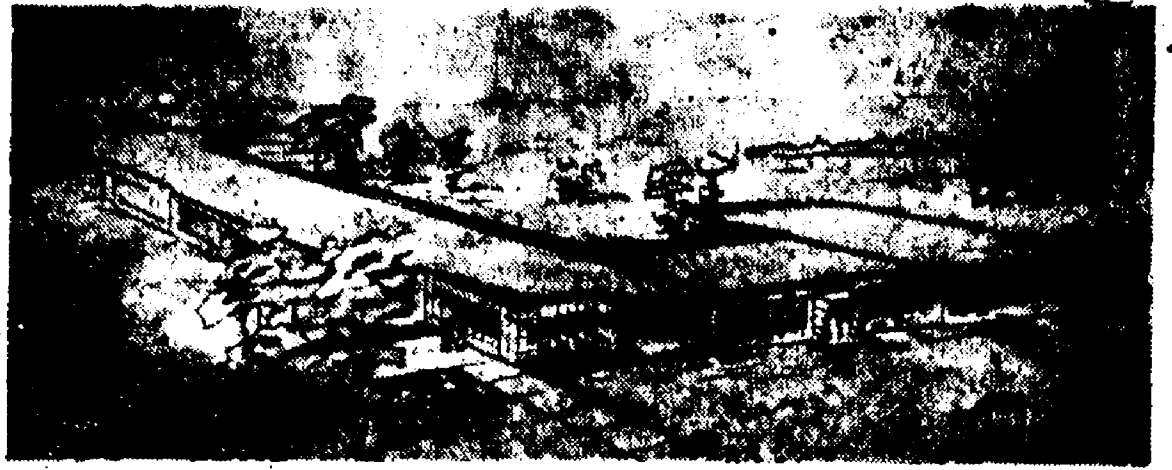

Liechtenstein has issued three new stamps featuring native trees and bushes. The 20-rappen brown shows maples of Lawena. The 50-rp green illustrates ivy at Schellenberg. The 90-rp blue-black depicts pine trees at Mauerrberg.

The Philatelic Sales Agency, Post Office Department, Washington 25, D.C., is waiving its requirement that remittances for mint stamps must be by money order or certified check only. It is now permissible to send personal checks for stamps ordered.

A special Pony Express trip between Mosbyrock and Tumwater, Wash., carrying mail via horseback, was made on July 26, 1958, under the auspices of the Olympia Philatelic Society of Olympia, Wash.

Bird sizes vary from 300 pounds for the ostrich to less than one-tenth of an ounce for the tiny hummingbirds.

Sayreville Voters O K School Bond Issue

By a vote of 742 to 716, the voters at a special election yesterday approved a referendum calling for the issuance of bonds in the amount of $1,752,000 to finance the construction of a new school in the Sayre Woods section and also additions to four other elementary schools.

A total of 1,459 votes were cast in the fourteen polling districts out of a possible registration of 9,654 eligible voters.

In addition to the new school proposed for the Sayre Woods section which will cost approximately $575,000 there will be additions to the Jesse Selover School in Morgan, the Roosevelt School the Washington School and the Emma Arlath

School in President Park.

Votes cast were as follows: Poll 1, 17 yes and 47 no; poll 2, 17 yes and 93 no; poll 3, 33 yes and 37 no; poll 4, 92 yes and 86 no; poll 5, 14 yes and 19 no; poll 6, 71 yes and 89 no; poll 7, 43 yes and 74 no; poll 8, 56 yes and 45 no; poll 9, 30 yes and 75 no; poll 10, 29 yes and 48 no; poll 11, 53 yes and 18 no; poll 12, 111 yes and 45 no; poll 13, 67 yes and 14 no; poll 14, 89 yes and 26 no.

Drawing is of proposed new construction at Selover School, where $282,810 would be the cost of nine additional classrooms.

LIKE HAVING SIX HANDS!

an ALL ELECTRIC LAUNDRY

Your home laundry is only half complete with just an automatic washer. Hanging that wash out to dry is an unnecessary job. By adding an electric dryer you can take care of all the washday drudgery — automatically. Simply take the wet things out of the washer, toss them in the dryer and forget them. Everything from chenille bedspreads to delicate lingerie tumble dry safely in clean, electrically heated air. Towels come out fluffier. Colors can't sun-fade. Clothes dry so soft and wrinkle-free they're easier to iron, and very often need no ironing at all. And there's no more worry about the weather. You don't need six hands to beat the work on washday. One's enough — to set the dial on an all-electric dryer.

PLANS FOR PARK AT LANDFILL BEING STUDIED

This city's Planning Board last week received from the state a "revokable permit" to use a portion of the landfill at the waterfront as a recreational park. The authorization was received by letter from Trenton according to Councilman James Vanderveer, recreation commissioner, and city engineer Edward J. Riley.

Approximately 38 acres of the landfill's total acreage has been allotted in the over-all map which was prepared by Riley for the Planning Board for sports. The type of permit granted is the same as one held by the South Amboy Boat Club which uses a portion of the landfill as headquarters for a boat basin for pleasure craft. It allows the state to claim the area if it is required at any time for state use. Vanderveer stated this would be highly unlikely especially if the area is being used for recreational purposes.

Preliminary plans already drawn up call for the construction of three baseball fields, an adult, a Little League, and a Midget League field. Vanderveer stated that he hopes construction on this phase of the facilities could begin as soon as possible so that the Little Leaguers could be assured of a place to play next year.

Also included in the long-range plans are the construction of eight tennis courts, a regulation-size football field, built inside a full-size cinder track, and a parking lot for 300 cars. This area would be the back half of the landfill, near an existing home development.

Members of the City Council and the Planning Board along with the city engineer will meet tonight to further discuss plans for the area. This meeting was arranged after doubts concerning the wisdom of spending such a sizable sum of money on land that the city did not actually own were expressed during the council's regular meeting earlier this week.

City Attorney John E. Mullane stated that he felt the state permit was merely a license to use the landfill, at the state's will. Councilman John Howley declared all possible progress has been made with plans to acquire title to the shore front fill, but that the city would have to wait out the six month period to receive decisions of property owners with riparian rights.

SECOND WARD — Second District:

CARELESS DRIVING IS KID STUFF

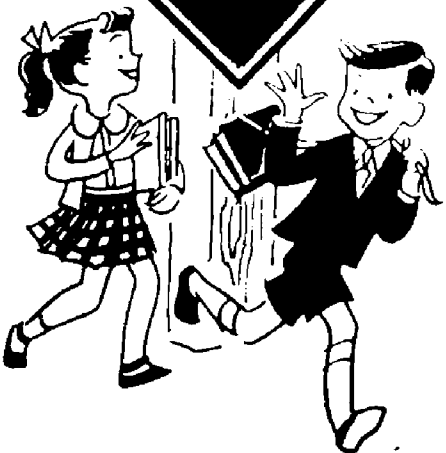

SCHOOLS OPEN

PROTECT OUR CHILDREN... drive carefully!

... and with them comes the greater need for safe driving. Yes, a watchword for drivers: Watch out for children near schools... and practice the ABC's of safe driving at all times. As the youngsters head back to class, safe driving is especially important in school zones. But remember, on any street, there may be children on the way to or from school or at play. Be safe... not sorry... be always ready to stop for kids on the go!

● Be certain your car is mechanically safe: Your driving skill and attitude are helpful... but not enough if your brakes fail, your tail lights don't work, or your car stalls in heavy traffic. Have your car safety-checked now!

● Be sure you are alert and your emotions under control: Driving safely requires your full attention. If you're emotionally upset, ask someone to take the wheel for you. That's the only safe thing to do.

● Practice courtesy at all times: Many of our traffic laws could be considered simply as common courtesy... yield the right of way, give adequate hand signals, watch for pedestrians and many others. Drive with courtesy and you'll automatically be a better driver.

● Understand and obey local traffic laws: Although the laws governing drivers are essentially the same everywhere, there are variations that govern existing conditions in each area. Whether you're a resident or a visitor, it's important to know and adhere to the local laws—for safety's sake.

● Adopt caution as your constant companion: There is no such thing as being too careful when you drive. Always exercise extreme care... don't be too sure the child on the sidewalk will not suddenly dart across the street. You may be obeying the laws, but someone else may be careless.

● Don't speed: One of the major causes of accidents today is speeding in excess of existing laws and road conditions. Speed limits, like all other laws of traffic, are to protect you! Be prepared when danger appears... take it easy!
