

Flashbacks of 1960

As 1960 draws to a close, we realize how swiftly time does pass. And, while there is no way in which to turn back, through reflection we are better able to express our gratitude for whatever accomplishments and improvements the city and its residents have known and at the same time profit by past mistakes and shortcomings.

Highlights during January included

On the political scene: Frederic L. Reese (Dem.) took office as councilman of the fourth ward after defeating John Szatkowski, GOP nominee. Reese succeeded Lee Swiatkowski who declined to run after serving one term. Al Jankowski, democratic councilman from the first ward returned for a fifth term.

William Kurtz who was succeeded by Maurice V. Brady as Middlesex County Assemblyman, took over the chairmanship of the Introduction of Bills Committee, the Appropriations Committee, Financial Reports Committee, and conference committee.

Joseph J. Wojciechowski, began a 5-year term on the Board of Education, succeeding Alfonse Kolakowski, while John Kelly began his second 5-year term as a member of the Library Board. Mrs. Robert Post began a 3-year term on the Shade Tree Commission, John Szatkowski took over as director of the local Civil Defense for a one-year term and Fred Kurtz began serving a full term as local engineer on the Planning Board.

Patrolman Charles Travinsky was named municipal court clerk at $625 a year. Joseph Kudelka took over a 3-year term as building inspector at an annual salary of $780. Mrs. Mary Bratus was named utility clerk for a 2-year term at an annual salary of $4,080 a post she later retired.

Frank Musolino was installed as president of the city's Board of Public Works and Thomas Vail was installed vice president of the board. Mrs. Ignatius Spina was elected president of the Library Board.

Elected chairman of the Zoning Board of Adjustment was Manvel Applegate, Jr. Richard Schultz returned as president of the Board of Health. Patrick Cleary took over as president of the Planning Board.

Also taking office in January were Bernard Maciel, City Fire Chief, and Joseph Rush, president of the First Aid Squad.

Community Wise: the construction of the Stevensdale housing project was begun and the Macedulski Terrace housing project, adjoining the Stevensdale tract, received approval. It was in January that the Jersey Central Power and Light Co. put into operation a 34.5 kilovolt transmission line to accommodate the growth in the city and surrounding area. Plans for a new city library were temporarily shelved only to be brought forth for more serious discussion and consideration in the ensuing months.

The city was credited with contributing $683.50 to the United Red Feather Fund drive.

Church items included a buffet supper at the Christ during which the pastor, Rev. Ronald G. Albury burned the parish debt, a result of the explosion of several years back. The Rt. Rev. Alfred L. Banyard, D. D. Seventh Bishop of Diocese of New Jersey made his annual visit to the church.

The Holy Name Society of the Sacred Heart Parish held their annual banquet during which prizes were awarded to the winners of the Nativity Contest sponsored during the Christmas season. Guest speaker at the banquet was Magr. Harold G. Colgan, pastor of St. Mary's Parish of Plainfield and founder of the Blue Army.

Sportswise, the Sacred Heart Grammar School emerged as champions of the Tri-County Provincial School Basketball Tournament, which is sponsored by the K. C. of South Amboy, Sayreville and South River.

The First Aid Little League baseball team was presented with the winning trophy for the previous season.

Personalities in the news... John Zdanewicz was voted as the outstanding citizen of the year of Polish descent at the annual banquet of the Polish American Citizens' Club.

Master Sgt. Joseph J. Colucci of 11 Bertram Ave. was named first sergeant of the newly formed 198 Armaments and Electronics Maintenance Squadron.

James Ryan received congratulations for answering the greatest number of first aid calls during the previous year.

Jules Olecko took over as president of the Cloverleaf String Band.

Another note worthy event during the month was the formation of South Amboy Senior Citizens Retired Group.

On the light side and strictly for the youngsters, TV personality Johnny Jelly Bean made an appearance at Briggs Chevrolet.

W. Urbanik Joins Insurance Agency

Walter Urbanik of 21 Roll Avenue, Sayreville, and secretary of the South Amboy Savings and Loan Assoc., has joined the William Kurtz Insurance Agency.

A graduate of St. Mary's High School, Urbanik was certified from LaSalle University where he studied advanced accounting. He has been active in insurance underwriting and will serve as manager in his new post.

Local Businessman Gets Council Post

KEYPORT--Hyman Korobow of 105 Division Street and a partner in South Knitting Mills, South Amboy, at a meeting of the Keyport Borough Council last week, was named to the Keyport Borough Council.

The 48 year old businessman succeeds Alton D. Walling who resigned Dec. 15, and will serve until Dec. 1961.

Board Overrides Mayor, Votes Payment Of Work On Water Mains

The Board of Public Works concluded its final meeting of the year on a note of disagreement with Mayor Joseph Charnello. The disagreement involved payment of part or whole of $4,789.16 to local contractor Adam Sadowski for work performed on water main installations.

A letter from the mayor to the board explained that he is "thoroughly dissatisfied with the replacement of pavement on numerous streets excavated by the contractor." The mayor stated that in his opinion a good portion of the final payment should be withheld until the pavement is properly replaced.

In addition the mayor requested that a complete breakdown of appropriations made by the City Council to the board regarding bids and expenditures for the water treatment plant and the installation and extension of water mains be furnished him.

Boardmembers, meanwhile, defended the contractor and expressed satisfaction with his work. Moreover they contended that Sadowski's work for the city was performed at lower cost to the city than that of previous contractors and that he readily complied with all of their requests for changes and corrective work.

Mains Completed Months Ago

The water mains, for the most part, were installed in the Bergen Hill section. They were extended so as to cut into Thompson St. and Augusta St. Following completion of the work, the board forwarded a check to the mayor for final payment to the contractor. The check, warrant No. 2725, was returned unsigned by the mayor.

The board, meanwhile, passed a resolution by unanimous vote expressing its desire to pay the voucher and resolving that it be paid. The resolution has the effect of overriding the mayor's veto. A performance bond posted by the contractor remains effective for one year following final payment by the board.

Charnello also inquired why work on water mains on Catherine St. between Feltus St. and Highway 35 was eliminated although originally planned for. Supt. Michael Nagle explained that the water main on that street originally could not be located but that later it was discovered to be six feet below the ground surface instead of the normal three feet. Once located, he said, installation of another water main became unnecessary.

There were two additional letters from the mayor which were taken up. The first informed the board that there were two faulty fire hydrants on Prospect and Highland Streets. Nagle reported that the one on Highland St. was bent and has since been straightened out. Both hydrants, he added, were now in operation.

The second letter referred to poor lighting on Fourth St. just below Feltus St. The mayor forwarded a request from Joseph Nebus of 377 Fourth Street to have more light in that area which he described as being entirely dark.

Board Employees Get Pay

A motion by James Dugan to award all employees an end-of-the-year cost of living pay adjustment passed without dissent. Accordingly, a resolution was drawn up granting $100 to all full-time employees and $50 to all part time workers.

Sally Sullivan, secretary to the Planning Board, forwarded a surety bond from the Continental Casualty Co. in the amount of $20,249 to the board which was obtained from Rojay Homes Inc. following Planning Bd. approval of section two of the contractor's building program.

Final approval for construction of homes by the builder was given Nov. 23. Approval was given for lots 9 to 27 on block 199 and lots 48 to 56 on block 202-A.

It was reported that the map enclosed by the firm did not include numbered lots, hydrant locations and the city engineer's signature. Some board members explained that these were included on a preliminary map and that these omissions would be supplied at a later date. The board, however, elected to defer the matter until its next meeting.

A check in the amount of $800 was also enclosed to cover the costs of installation of utilities and inspection with the understanding that the firm was entitled to a rebate if the entire amount exceeded cost.

Off-Street Parking

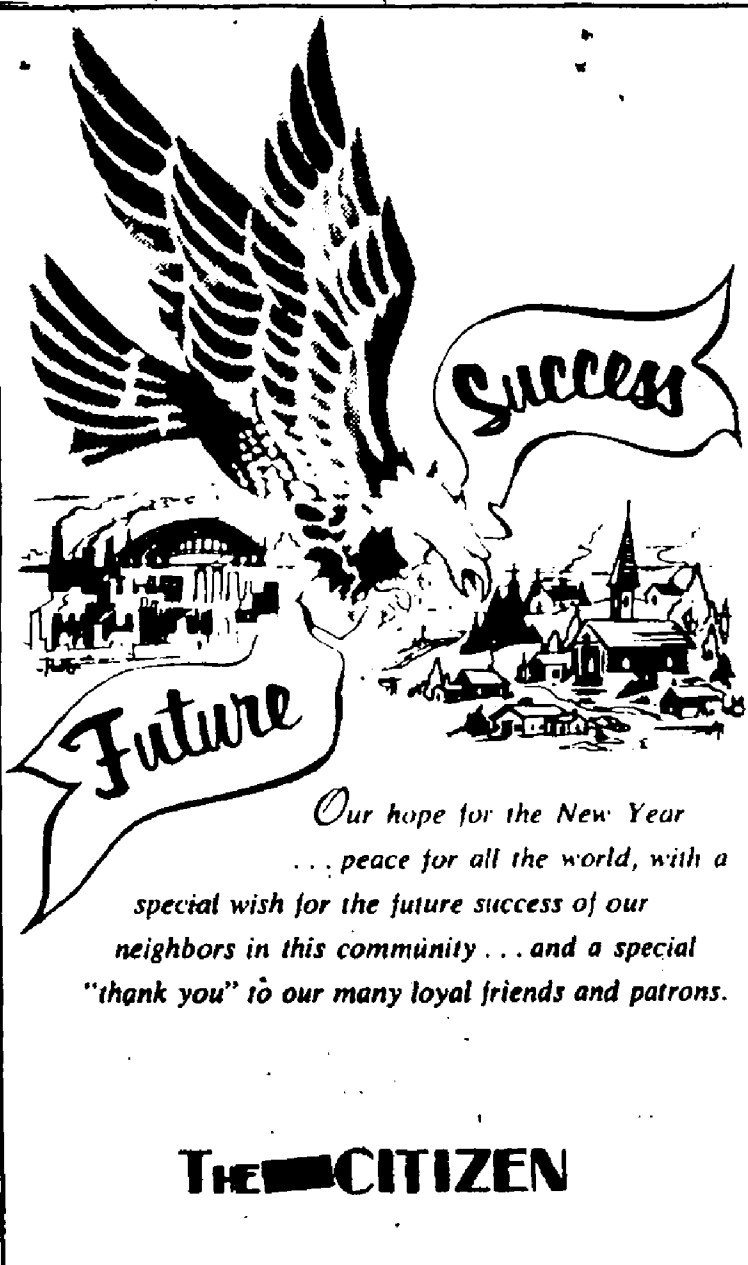

In view of the many residents who do not have garage facilities for their cars and must therefore park them in front of their homes, board member Thomas Vail proposed that a letter be forwarded the Planning Board to investigate the possibility of using vacant lots for such purposes.

Vail's motion was in reference to the difficulties encountered by snow plows in clearing roads because of the numerous parked cars which lined the streets. He made it clear that he did not intend to have such lots serve as public parking lots per se, but only for temporary use by neighboring residents in times of emergency. There was also a discussion to make such lots available to allow the city sweeper to clean the streets unimpeded.

The board also made mention of the ordinance which requires residents to clear their sidewalks of snow following a snow fall. Some members felt the provisions of the statute calling for removal of the snow six hours after the termination of precipitation too stringent and favored an amendment which would extend the time span to 24 hours.

A contract to supply liquid chlorine, estimated at 9 tons, at a cost of $0.125 per lb. was awarded to the Solway Process Division of New York. The company agrees to deliver 15 cylinders, 150 lb. each, with each trip and to give a refund if the market price during the year period declines.

Collections for November amounted to $13,322.35 compared to $7,706.74 for November of the previous year. Total collections up to December for the year amounted to $107,141.37 compared to $105,883.28 for the same period during 1959.

Nativity Contest Winners Announced

After reviewing 132 religious displays throughout the city and surrounding area, judges for the Nativity contest sponsored by the Sacred Heart Holy Name Society, awarded 1st prize to Sam Szarejko of 352 Fifth Street.

Winner of the second prize was Frank Kurawa of 338 Main Street; third prize went to Irene Ruszczyk of 354 Raritan Street.

Additional prizes in special categories were awarded the following: first prize for originality, Al Janas, corner of Augusta and Thompson Streets; second prize, George Wilus of Walnut Street with a tie to William Ifka of 116 North Pine Avenue and third prize to Edward Stochel of 101 Cleveland Avenue, President Park.

Mrs. Arthur Marczak of 329 Henry Street was awarded first prize for her window painting; George Cierpiel of 408 Washington Ave., second prize, and Anthony Gorczyca of 240 Second Street, third prize.

Stanley Wonski of 119 Bordentown Ave. received the award for the most beautiful outdoor shrine, and the Nebus Market on Feltus Street, the business establishment display award. Special commendation was given Hoffman High School students for their art efforts and special mention was made regarding the local city hall which supported the "Keep Christ in Christmas" theme with their outdoor creche.

Receiving honorable mention were Joseph Polguy of Orchard Street; Joseph Szarejko, Hilltop Ave., Sayreville; Dr. Paul Madura, 225 Walnut St.; Eugene Morris Paint Shop, First St. Nelson Plumbing, 230 Bordentown Ave., At Heim, 527

Exit: Two Jims

The South Amboy City Council will have a new look beginning with the reorganization meeting of the new administration Monday, January 2, at 12:00 noon. There will be two new faces gracing the council podiums. — Councilman-at-Large Richard Schultz and Councilman Fred Henry.

With the coming of Fred Henry, the council will have a second Fred along with Fred Reese of the Fourth Ward. By coincidence, there will be two less Jims — Council President James Harrigan, who declined to run for reelection, and unsuccessful candidate for mayor, Councilman James Van Derveer, representative of the Second Ward.

The most popular name in city governing circles, however, is John. Having that name are Councilman John Howley of the Third Ward, City Clerk John Triggs and City Solicitor John Mullane.

Mentioning first names may be somewhat facetious, but there is an impending loss with the departure of the two Jims who are retiring to private life again. Although public confidence has been given Schultz and Henry by their election, the shadow of the two Jims in the council chamber will not be effaced for some time.

In two years, James Harrigan has elevated the Council Presidency to new heights of nobleness, esteem and decorum.

Few public servants have applied so immense a degree of energy and diligence, as well as excellence, in the exercise of public duty and responsibility as Jim Harrigan. Few have been as conscientious as he in discharging the public trust that the people have invested in him.

The salubrious record that Harrigan leaves in departing from City Hall does not end there. During his term, not once has anyone been given a tart or discourteous reply or remark by him. There were times when Harrigan had to be firm and resolute but not without just cause. His uppermost concern has always been "What is good for the city" and not what is politically advantageous, prejudicial or discriminatory.

The most conspicuous characteristic which Harrigan forged on city matters is described by the word "progressiveness". Through his efforts he has established a firm framework for the future operation of the city. His valedictory in which he outlined his recommendations for the development of the Sand Fill area is typical of the sharp business mind which he virtuously and eminently engaged in all city concerns.

The nicest compliment that can be paid Harrigan aside from his judiciousness in public matters is his modesty and his self-effacement. There were numerous instances when he deserved appreciative pats on the back for his work. He could have easily monopolized press headlines. But Harrigan was essentially a "team" man who made sure that the laurels proportioned out equitably. These deferences to others have won for him the sincere respect of all.

James VanDerveer will be remembered as a bundle of energy, a man of action who made his influence felt in all government quarters. He can be described as a "workhorse" who took an active interest in all problems which affected the citizenry.

His knowledge of municipal functions will be sorely missed when he vacates his council chamber seat. Known for his organizing and administrative abilities, he will of a certainty be induced to participate in numerous civic projects by those in public responsibility who recognize his talents.

Salient among "Van's" accomplishments are his efforts in coordinating the activities of the five fire companies with the policies of the council and in establishing the Senior Citizens' organization.

These and other "extra-curricular" engagements on his part have made him an outstanding public figure and a reliable servant of the people working for their welfare.

Perhaps with a little prodding from the electorate and a mile more aggressiveness on his part, VanDerveer might not have suffered defeat at the polls in the past election. But Van is a condescending person who does not impose his will or his feelings too strenuously on the people.

There were also certain conditions of a political nature which did not work fortuitously in his favor, disadvantages which are the undeserved lot of candidates who merit better political fortune.

In any event, there was much accomplished during his eight years as a councilman. He has set a target for his successor to emulate and attain, which will not be an easy task.

To the two Jims, we hope we have not heard the last of them. In fact we are certain that should they decide to hibernate, the public clamor for their services will cause them to once again sit at the helm of things to help direct the city.

CHRIST CHURCH SETS NEW YEAR'S DAY PLANS

Christ Church will observe New Year's Day, the Feast of the Circumcision, with services at the usual hours of 7:30, 8:45 and 11 a. m. The first two services will include Holy Communion.

At the 8:45 a. m. Family Service, the Church School Advent offering boxes will be collected. The money will be used to aid missions in the Diocese of New Jersey.

At the 11 o'clock service, the newly formed young Children's Young Churchmen's Choir, under the direction of Clinton C. Hertz, organist and choirmaster, will present a holiday cantata entitled the Christmas Story of Harry Brooks. The group, with 20 teenage boys and girls made their initial appearance at the Christmas Eve carol service.

The annual holiday open house will be held at the rectory for all parishioners and their friends between 2 and 6 p. m. Leaders of the parish women's organization will pour the punch.

Church school classes, the Junior-Hi Fellowship, Senior V.P.F. and Adult Confirmation class will be omitted during New Year's Day.

Three Year Approval For State Institution

Dr. J. Berkeley Gordon, M. D., Medical Director, announced today that the New Jersey State Hospital at Marlboro has been approved for three years by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. Dr. Gordon said Marlboro was inspected for three days on Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2, by Dr. William B. Talbot, Field Representative, of the Joint Commission. Last year Marlboro was approved for a one-year probation pending re-inspection this year.

The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, which granted the Certificate of Accreditation to the Marlboro State Hospital, is comprised of five national medical and hospital organizations. They are The American College of Physicians, The American College of Surgeons, The American Hospital Assn., The American Medical Assn., and The Canadian Medical Assn.

Welcome to

it will bring good health, happiness, and warm
friendships to everyone.

News highlights recorded in the area during February

Plans were formulated by the National Lead Company for the construction of a new plant on a 95-acre site to produce a new product.

The city's municipal garage reached completion. City Council undertook discussion of the present tax rate and a 39-point tax increase was proposed for 1960. Although the school budget had been pared by $71,000, teachers salaries were increased. Joseph Hermann was appointed to the board of education to succeed Mrs. Howard Ervin.

Other Events during the month: A ten-member delegation from the Christ Episcopal Church—Young People's Fellowship attended the Bishop's Ball at Synod Hall, Trinity Cathedral in Trenton.

The Sacred Heart CYO held a successful minstrel with "Deep Old South" as its theme.

It was during February that the South Amboy Old Timers Club celebrated their first anniversary, and the Cloverleaf String Band participated in the Winter Carnival Festivities at Saranac Lake.

The South Amboy First Aid Squad sponsored its second annual drum and bugle competition with the Melrose Corps serving as hosts. The Melrose Drum and Bugle Corps won seven trophies at the standstill competition, sponsored by Major O'Brien's Post of Neptune earlier.

Miss Geraldine Lewandowski was elected queen of the ball to reign at the 20th anniversary celebration of the Union of Polish Women in America, Group 81.

MARCH

Community News during March revolved around the lack of a deed for the land fill area purchased from the state by the city for a sum of $100 per acre for 68 acres. The dispute arose when a deed had not been forwarded after the check covering the original amount requested above was remitted by the city and accepted by the state. The delay resulted when the state announced the price for the land was very low in comparison to prices paid the state for similar sites in seven other municipalities.

The city's budget was ratified. Total general appropriations reached a total of $860,724.52, which was $69,852 higher than the budget for the previous year.

Politics Again hit the headlines as Councilman-at-Large James Harrigan (Dem.) announced that he would not run for re-election in November. Petitions were filed for candidates posts. Mrs. Howard Ervin, it was announced, would be the GOP standard bearer for the councilman-at-large seat; Richard Schultz, the Democratic candidate for the seat.

Joseph Charnello (Rep.) announced he would run again for mayor. Councilman of the 2nd Ward James VanDerveer (Dem.) announced he would oppose Charnello for the mayor's post. Newcomers on the local political scene included Fred Henry who became the Democratic candidate for council representing the 2nd Ward, and Paul Farrell, Republican candidate for the council from the 2nd Ward opposing incumbent John Howley.

A report was issued estimating the cost of snow removal during a recent blizzard totalling $1,000.

City Council and other agencies again reopened the discussion for a new library and city hall.

Discussion began on the widening of the railroad underpass at Erma Road, on which construction began in November.

Other events included a testimonial dinner for the Rev. Walter Urbanik, in honor of his 25th anniversary as pastor of the Sacred Heart Parish.

A pilgrimage to the shrines of Canada was announced by the Sacred Heart Holy Name Society.

Otto Miller, retiring warden of the Christ Episcopal Church was honored at a testimonial dinner.

Vincent J. Nebus was presented with the Pelican award, highest scouting award, by the Rt. Rev. George W. Ahr, Bishop of Trenton, for his work with the local scouts.

The Harlem Magicians basketball team played the College All Stars with the Magicians scoring 68, the All Stars 52.

SOME NEARBY SPOTS FOR SLEDDERS

With the great quantity of snow which has fallen in our area during recent weeks you may have gotten the old sled out of the garage and cleared the rust off the runners. But most dyed-in-the-wool sledders soon tire of the ruts on Stockton Street and have a guilty conscience about coasting down the hospital terraces with "their" "Keep Off The Grass" signs. For those who seek greater thrills, here are two suggestions, both in parks operated by the Union County Park Commission.

At Echo Lake in Westfield, a fine slope is available for coasters. We get there by crossing the Edison Bridge and gaining access to the Garden State Parkway which we follow northward to Exit 135, Central Avenue. After going three-quarters of the way around the traffic circle, we follow Central Avenue for several miles to its end in the center of Westfield (about 2 1/2 blocks after going under the Jersey Central Railroad). We turn right here on Broad Street. At the first corner, we turn left on Mountain Avenue and follow this road for a mile or so through the center of the village of Mountainside to Route 22.

At this intersection, a road leads to the right into Echo Lake Park. About three-quarters of the way through the park a long hill can be seen to the left. It's just past a circular building; opposite a water wheel and has a flagpole on top. The slope is about 100 yards long and has one level shelf.

To reach our other "sledder's paradise", we also drive north on the parkway, this time a bit farther to Exit 138. Galloping Hill road is bisected by the parkway and boasts a public golf course with numerous hills which are fine for sledding. Some years ago an automatic starting device for tobaggons was available here, and may still be in operating condition. If so, there are additional thrills in store for you. Since the hills at this park are on the fairways of the golf course, sledders are only allowed to use them when they are well covered with snow. Before making the trip, it is best to check on snow conditions by calling the Park Commission at CHestnut 5-2212.

Have a good time. Steer clear of stumps, trees and rocks. And be sure there is plenty of hot chocolate on hand for your arrival at home.

NEXT WEEK: A trip to Morristown Historical Park.

Vanderveer Will Head County Heart Fund Drive

James VanDerveer of 243 Augusta Street, councilman of the 2nd Ward and the city's fire commissioner, has been appointed to head the Middlesex County Heart Fund campaign, according to an announcement by Dr. Arthur L. Roth, president of the Association. It will be the third consecutive year for VanDerveer to head the drive.

Plans for the 1961 campaign are now being made by the fund raising advisory committee headed by Joseph DeCoster of Perth Amboy, vice president of the Association.

$50,000 Goal

VanDerveer said the volunteer fund raisers will be "shooting for a goal of $50,000" to support the year-round battle against heart disease. "We intend to break the record of almost $42,000 contributed two years ago," he said.

More than half of the 36 local chairmen, who will head drives on the community level, have already accepted appointments, the county leader reported. VanDerveer said anyone interested in working for the Heart Fund in any municipality can contact the county Heart Association at 263 Loring Avenue, Edison.

Resident for 31 Years

A native of New Brunswick and a graduate of that city's public schools as well as Rutgers University VanDerveer has been a resident of South Amboy for 31 years. He is employed as a supervisor for the Western Electric Co. in Newark and is treasurer of its Supervisors' Club.

He is also a member of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, Knights of Columbus Council 426, the Loyal Order of Moose, and the So. Amboy Yacht Club. He has served as scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 99 in South Amboy for the past 15 years.

Ronald E. Coles of 369 N. Main Street, Milltown and asst. treasurer of the Edison Bank, will again be VanDerveer's top assistant in the post of campaign treasurer.

The month-long campaign will be officially launched at the annual kickoff dinner on Feb. 1. Volunteers will begin canvassing their area early in February building up to the Heart Sunday climax on Feb. 26, during which day the Edison bank will be open to receive funds directly from the local chairmen.

Garden State Parkway Adds Milk To Free Drinks January 1

RED BANK--The Garden State Parkway will add milk to its annual New Year's Day offer of free drinks for safety.

Katharine E. White of the New Jersey Highway Authority said the fourth annual invitation to Parkway motorists on New Year's Day will include milk as well as coffee and tea with the traditional doughnut, toast or a second drink.

The Authority's invitations, passed out in card form to motorists at Parkway toll booths, are aimed at promoting maximum road safety year-round as well as during perennially hazardous driving period from midnight to noon each January 1st.

The invitations will greet the early New Year's Day drivers and urge them to stop at the next Parkway restaurant ahead for coffee tea or milk as guests of the toll road. Some 6,000 invitations are expected to be issued by toll collectors between midnight and 11 a.m. Sunday.

Commissioner White said the program seeks to remind motorists of the need to pause in their late-hour travels for a refreshing break. She noted that Parkway drivers are permitted to stop along the right roadside for an emergency rest or nap as well as at service areas.

The invitations will be distributed only from those toll barriers which are located in advance of a restaurant gasoline station service area. They will be honored at the restaurants until 12 noon. The program was first introduced on the Parkway Jan. 1, 1958.

GOVERNORS TRIPPED BY JAMESBURG

The Hoffman High School Governors experienced a total trouncing at the hands of the Jamesburg Indians last week at the Jamesburg court by a convincing 78-30 score.

The Indians excelled in everything the Governors lacked; ball hawking, shooting, and back-board strength. The Governors had a poor day percentage wise hitting for 13 field goals, four in the first half, and converted but four charity tosses. With a 30-10 lead in the first half, Jamesburg switched to a fast break and really broke the game wide open, outscoring Hoffman 48-20 in the end half. The Governors failed to put anyone in double figures. Gene Lopez getting team honors with six points, and Carl Wernett and Ronald Jurski contributing that total with five apiece.

Wherever possible, the Internal Revenue Service will incorporate the most advanced developments in telephone service in providing tax information to individual taxpayers during the '61 filing period, according to District Director, Joseph F.J. Mayer of the Newark Office.

The program which started six years ago has, Mayer said, expanded each year to aid taxpayers to greater accuracy in their forms 1040, 1040A and 1040W.

Area residents seeking taxpayers assistance may contact the Perth Amboy office Hillcrest 2-3800.

He urged all to fill out their forms early and take advantage of the service for the last minute rush.
