

New City Hall Plans Near Reality Little League Field To Be Named After Harrigan

At Tuesday's City Council meeting, members agreed to enter into a written contract with Architect Murray Leibowitz who has been drawing up plans for the proposed new library and city hall building. When he submits specifications more definite action can be taken by the Council.

At the suggestion of Councilman VanDerveer, the members voted unanimously to name the new Little League Baseball Field after James Harrigan, former chairman of the city's recreation department. Mayor Joseph Carmello congratulated the Council for their choice and spoke of Harrigan as a man who did much for the improvement of the local recreation program.

VanDerveer went on to suggest that the Council request the residents living on property adjoining the alleys on First and Second Streets between Broadway and Stevens Avenue take action to see that bushes, hedges, and trees do not obstruct the alleys. He said that people using the narrow drives to reach their garages have complained that their cars have been scratched by the overhanging shrubbery. The councilman said that when he investigated the situation his car suffered a bent aerial.

Michael Matusek of Leftert Street was present to ask "if and when" that street would be repaired. He said that the recent rain storm has damaged the road further. Councilman Howley suggested that the Council move immediately to order the city engineer to draw up specifications so that advertisements for bids could be made at the next meeting. Plans for repair of Leftert Street include a "head wall" at the end of the street and repair of the road surface.

According to an engineer's report read by City Clerk, John Triggs, inlets to the sewer line must be constructed if Veterans Field and the new housing development in that area are to be properly drained and serviced. A meeting with the officials of Sayreville, Middlesex County, and the State Highway Dept. will be held to discuss this problem.

The Stevensdale Civic Assn. requested permission to hold a block party in the Pupek Street area of Lovely Drive on July 30. The group had originally planned to hold its picnic in the Water Works Park on that day, but, on finding that the facilities there had already been reserved, sought this area as an alternate place. Permission was granted pending an investigation by the police chief and the approval of the home owners in that section of the Stevensdale development.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Alexander whose home is adjacent to Veterans Field were promised a check for $325 for damages caused by baseball games held in the field. Upon signing a release Alexander will receive the money.

The second and third readings of Ordinance 650 were witnessed by council members and the few spectators. Since no objections were raised to the ordinance, which allows for improvements to the Progressive and Protection Fire houses and to the municipal garage, it was unanimously passed.

George Stader, chairman of the Salt Water Days Committee of the So. Amboy Boat Club was present to request a meeting to work out the details of transportation to the U. S. Naval destroyer which will be anchored in the bay for inspection by townspeople. Councilman VanDerveer had previously reported that the Boat Club had made a contract with a company who will provide the fireworks for the celebration. Baseball games, a demonstration and water show by the Boat Club, and music will also be featured at the event.

Councilman Al Jankowski reported that two new power mowers have been added to the city's equipment for the care of grounds. He expressed his feeling that they would effectively cut the grass and high weeds found on city property and especially in the area of the new baseball fields.

Councilman John Howley informed the members that the city's new "pay loader" had seen service after the recent rain storm. Because of it, he said, the city had handled the problems after the flood with no outside help. He also suggested that the Council investigate the possibilities of preventing the flooding of cellars in the lower John, David, Henry, and George Sts. He said that during storms, so much water infiltrates the sanitation sewers that residents in that area find water backing up into their basements. He called "roof leaders" that empty directly into the sewers the main creators of this problem.

Councilman Frederic Reese commented on the fine condition of the islands in the middle of Bordentown Avenue. He also said that he and the Police Chief Gleason were making a survey to find the illegible signs in town. He promised the Council a report on their findings in the near future.

AFTER THE BIG SPLASH—The torrential rains of the week-end brought this sight to the eyes of many local residents on Friday morning as they proceeded to and from work. The road at the intersection of Washington Rd. and Ernston Road was dangerously undermined as a result of the washout. A gas main under the road was threatened.

Workers of Public Service Electric and Gas Company removed large section of the roadway to relieve the pressure. One-way traffic was maintained until the roadway was filled and reinforced.

G. Manvel Applegate Sr. Honored by Rotary Club

G. Manvel Applegate, Sr. was pleasantly surprised at Tuesday's Rotary Club meeting when the membership and guests serenaded him on the occasion of his 50th Wedding Anniversary. There was a wedding cake at the party and the members of the club presented Mr. Applegate with a bouquet for Mrs. Applegate.

Jesse Wolff, president of the club read a short biography of the honored guest.

Applegate, one of the oldest members of the club, has been a member of the board of directors of the club for a number of years.

Board Accepts Kurtz's Resignation

Teachers figured importantly in last night's Board of Education meeting which was interrupted by a forty-five minute long Executive Session. The Board first accepted the resignation of William Kurtz who has taught in the high school for 29 years and has recently accepted the post of Deputy Director of Legislative Budget and Finance. After the secretary read Kurtz's letter which thanked the Board for its cooperation during his years as a member of the faculty, members expressed their appreciation of Kurtz's efforts and wished him success in his new position.

Dr. Frank Farrell submitted the name of Miss Rose C. McNeal for the position of vice principal of the high school. Her qualifications for the job include proper certification, long teaching experience in the local system, and her "interest and understanding of students and school problems." The members agreed to file the suggestion for future reference.

The home economics teacher's place was filled when the Board accepted the application of Mrs. J. Barbara Coles Kafes. Mrs. Kafes received her bachelor's degree from the University of Kentucky, has taken credit hours at Rutgers University and has had 3½ years of teaching experience. Her starting salary was fixed at $5400.

A change in the salary guide under which the school system operates was changed so that the stipulation that each teacher receive an increment of $400 yearly was altered to prevent possible "unpleasant incidents" in the future. Superintendent James Tustin explained that under the former condition a new teacher, not yet under tenure could demand the full $400 raise. "This," he said, "was not the Board's intention."

A representative of the Major Medical Expense Plan suggested that the Board look into the possibilities of adopting his concern's plan for employees. Major medical insurance takes over he said, where hospitalization plans leave off. The usual method of meeting the costs of such a program includes the Board's assuming a fraction of the premium. Further specific data will be sent to the chairman of finance and insurance for his study and consideration.

Supt. Tustin suggested that consideration be given to the planting of four sycamore trees between the curb and sidewalk of John Street in front of the new addition.

A summary report from principal Eugene Dobzynski was received as was a report and book order list from Mrs. Miriam Holfelder, school librarian.

After an inspection of the old auditorium, members authorized Mr. Tustin to investigate the cost of necessary curtain, backdrops, and stage equipment. The possibilities of a mural surrounding the stage will be (Continued on Next Page)

Sayreville Shopping Center Gets New Sears Catalog Sales Store

Sears, Roebuck and Co. announced Saturday the firm will open a store in the Sayreville Shopping Center.

A. O. Smart, Sears regional stores manager, said present plans call for an almost immediate start of operations in the center.

The new catalog sales store, will occupy one of the recently completed sections of the shopping center on U. S. Route 9, will give area residents easy access to the huge array of merchandise offered by Sears.

Most of the 138,000 items listed in Sears seven catalogs will be available in the store on a next-day delivery basis, Smart said.

Using "expedited service" a Sears exclusive in the area, orders placed in the new store before noon will be flashed to the Philadelphia Mail Order Plant by direct line teletype, recorded on tape and converted into punch cards.

The cards will be translated into filled orders during the afternoon. The order will be processed, packaged and loaded onto waiting trucks during the night.

Orders will be ready for customers at the Sayreville store the following day.

The leased one-floor unit contains 3,300 square feet, much of which will be devoted to merchandise display.

A telephone shopping unit will be linked into store operations. Any item listed in the catalogs will be available by phone order, Sears spokesman said.

Smart said in his announcement that the store sales staff will be drawn from the Sayreville area. In addition, the store will furnish a home consultant service—trained personnel to bring samples and demonstration units to the customer's home on request.

A full range of credit and charge accounts will be available to Sears customers, officials said.

All Sears merchandise is covered by the firm's "Satisfaction Guaranteed or Your Money Back" policy, Smart said.

He told her she was worth her weight in gold, but she just didn't pan out.

The Bible Gardens of Israel at Nearby Beth Israel Memorial Park

While driving north on the Garden State Parkway, how many times have you noticed the large sign on the right inviting you to visit the Bible Gardens of Israel and thought to yourself, "One of these days I'm going to stop and visit that place!" The gardens are located at the Beth Israel Memorial Park in Woodbridge at the point where U.S. Route 1 passes beneath the Parkway. A visit to this well-planned and maintained garden spot will be relaxing, educational, and interesting to both the Old Testament scholar and the average layman alike.

Although this point of natural beauty is a scant 10 minutes away via the Parkway, the lack of a northbound exit at that intersection makes it impossible for us to use that superhighway. Instead, we will cross the Victory Bridge and continue straight on Convery Boulevard to New Brunswick Ave. A left turn at that traffic light will lead us into Fords. At the center of Fords, we make a right turn onto Ford Ave. and follow that street to Route 1 (Beware of a slight jog to the right and left at one point). At Route 1 we turn right for about 1/2 mile to the entrance to the Memorial Park on the right. We continue bearing right after entering the cemetery and come immediately onto the Bible Gardens. An alternate route homeward which will avoid crossing traffic is to turn right on Route 1 and continue to the first circle. Another right turn on the first exit off the circle will take us to Route 9, a right turn on which will lead us to the Edison Bridge and South Amboy.

The Bible Gardens were formally dedicated on June 2, 1957 by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and a huge ten-ton stone monolith from Mt. Zion was placed at the entrance of the gardens to commemorate this occasion. The garden's most significant "trade-mark", however, is a long series of archways made of white concrete easily visible from the Parkway. A map of Israel, the names of Old Testament characters, and Biblical texts are inscribed thereon.

The actual Bible Gardens are divided into four parts, each at one corner of a huge grass square. The parts are titled: The Garden of Moses, The Garden of Jerusalem (Peace), The Garden of the Kings, and The Garden of the Promised Land. Each contains plants, trees, stones, pieces of wood, and other mementos — all imported from the Holy Land — which are significant to the subjects indicated in their titles. I found of special interest the small pond containing bullrushes in the Garden of Moses, reminiscent of the infancy of that Biblical hero. Also interesting were the walkways made of small cross-cut logs from the Cedars of Lebanon. Each item of interest is well labeled and explained with a small weatherproof sign. They bring to life vividly many parts of the Old Testament narrative.

There is no admission charge to the Bible Gardens of Israel. The Memorial Park is open every day but Saturday, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Why not plan a Jersey Journey to the gardens in the near future? What better way could there be to spend a summer Sunday afternoon?

NEXT WEEK: A visit to a deserted village.

South Amboyan Mends Fence, Avoids Fine

A suspended sentence was given to Edward Pardone, of 7 Jasko Street, Amboy Gardens for violating the swimming pool ordinance.

The law says that all pools must be surrounded by a fence four feet high. Pardone's fence was six inches shy of the mark. Since being charged, however, he has had the fence level changed. In view of this, Magistrate John R. Everett suspended the fine and ordered only court cost to be paid.

Safe Driving Tip: Clean Off Mud

Safe driving depends not only on how well you can see, but how well the other drivers can see you.

For example, mud can "black out" turn signals on some cars almost completely. Carry a roll of Kleenex paper towels in the trunk of your car to wipe off the lenses in sloppy weather. These now are available in a "jumbo" roll.

While you're at it, wipe off the lenses of your headlights in rainy or foggy weather, too. Mud splatters can cut their efficiency almost in half. The towels also are handy for cleaning up after making minor repairs.

Be sure to have the rubber blades on your windshield wipers checked regularly. They take a lot of punishment during a hard winter.

The last word in the movies is "Where is my other shoe?"

If, after you have dampened your family's freshly laundered clothes, you find you can't iron them for several hours, protect them from mildew this way.

Roll each article up tightly and store in plastic bags in the refrigerator. Or place them in a container with a tight lid. They'll be nicely dampened for ironing the next day.

Interest on Debt Big Budget Item

The fastest growing item in the national budget is the interest the Government must pay on the national debt. Interest will cost the taxpayers more than $9,500,000,000 in the 1961 fiscal year, starting July 1, 1960, or nearly one-eighth of all budget outlays. It is the second biggest cost item, topped only by national defense.

STEADY GROWTH STOCKS OFFERING GOOD VALUES Possible Sleepers in Today's Market

A great deal of attention is being directed presently to growth stocks, especially the so-called glamor issues. Yet the investor, intrigued by quick profits to be made in the sudden rise of these stocks, overlooks the attractiveness of a stock with a steady growth pattern. A continuing rise over a period of years in a company's earnings clearly indicates good management, a desirable product and a promising outlook for the future. Oddly enough many of the companies outlined here are not in the glamor field, but produce ordinary, run-of-the-mill items. As a consequence, they have not enjoyed the favor of the investor in our present market, but, on examination, they reveal that they offer unusually good values and could eventually gain recognition as their potential is uncovered. In some cases there are small capitalizations or floating supply of stock and therefore caution should be exercised in making any purchases. In making our selections we have chosen stocks selling at less than 20 times estimated 1960 earnings and companies which have shown a continual improvement in earnings every year for at least the last three or four.

Of our selections the stocks listed in order which offer the best statistical values are Akron Brass, Air Control Products, Drackett, H. W. Lay & Co. and Broadway-Hale Stores.

Those offering the best cash dividend yields in order are: Akron Brass, Scott & Fetzer, Drackett, Air Control Products and Witco Chemical.

Those whose earnings have increased the most percentage-wise in the last five years are: Apache Corp., Scott & Fetzer, DeJure-Amaco, Air Control Products and H. W. Lay & Co.

On the basis of products manufactured when evaluated in terms of future potential growth, we feel that the following companies are most promising: Broadway-Hale, DeJure-Amaco, Diebold, First Charter Financial Corp., H. W. Lay & Co. and Thermo King.

It should be recognized that there is always a greater element of risk in investing in small, unknown companies but the record of these companies which we have mentioned have been sufficiently outstanding, especially in recent years and with excellent growth prospects indicated so that we feel these stocks are good media for capital appreciation for the investor willing to assume a businessman's risk.

Annual Summer Classic To Be Held Saturday

Twenty-four modified-sportsmen stock cars will take starter Johnny Zeke's green flag Saturday night in the season's third 100-lap race of the year — the annual Summer Classic. Although 100-lap Memorial Classic winner Bobby Allison will not be on hand, Spring Classic winner Joe Kelly of Coshohockton, Pa., will head the fleet field of modified favorites.

Kelly, and the rest, will be out to break the 100-lap record of 23:06.50 set last year by Kelly's car the XL1 when it was driven by Norman Kidd.

Tommy Elliott of Perth Amboy, Bill McCarthy of Rumson, Bill Chevalier of Sayreville, Frank Myroncuk of New Egypt, Don Stumpf of Ridgefield Park, Ralph Perkins of Trenton and Tony Battle of Emerson are among the other pre-race favorites for the 33 and 1/3 mile contest.

Freehold's Parker Bohn, driving the purple No. 4 is expected to have fuel injection system for the event for the first time this season. The car he drives is the replacement for the No. 4 which Tony Battle set the 12-lap record at Wall earlier this season.

The program will also headline a 20-lap novice feature race, in which Bob Howard of Port Monmouth needs only to finish ahead of Steve Ferrara to take over the lead in that division. Ferrara holds a two-point edge in the close novice fight. Also in contention in this division are Dick Lewis, Frank Fraley and Stan Van Brunt.

The complete program will feature 154 laps of racing, including two 12-lap modified-sportsmen heats, a 10-lap modified - sportsmen consolation race, the 20-lap novice feature and the 100-lap Classic race.

Joe Kelly Wins Third Feature at Wall

Joe Kelly of Coshohockton, Pa., racing's hottest driver won his third feature event of the season Saturday night at Wall Stadium as he beat out former modified champion Tommy Elliott of Perth Amboy in the 30-lap contest. Third in the extremely tight battle was Rumson's Bill McCarthy.

McCarthy was the early leader, taking over from Tony Battle of Emerson during the early laps of the race. He was caught midway through the event by Kelly, and after a five-lap fight with the fleet No. XL1 Lincoln, McCarthy went wide on a turn and Kelly got by.

Ten laps later Elliott came up and also caught the Pontiac 2 Jr. of McCarthy and nearly came on to win it. But Kelly held his ground to record his third feature win.

Fourth was Don Stumpf of Ridgefield Park in the No. 2 while fifth was Battle. Sixth spot went to Al Pomponio, defending champion from Lakewood; while Wally Dallenback of East Brunswick took a seventh spot.

The 20-lap feature was another thriller as early leader Bob Howard of Port Monmouth was caught in the final lap by Dick Lewis of New Egypt. Lewis won the race by less than two feet over his rival.

Third in the novice contest was Orville Grant of New Egypt. Fourth was Tom (Doc) Green, -also of New Egypt.

Kelly's modified victory was the fifth in two weeks. The Penna. star won two features at Old Bridge stadium last weekend, one at Wall Stadium last week and Friday night at Vineland Speedway in South Jersey.
