Program For Salaries Offered by Teachers

The Salary Committee of the South Amboy Teachers Association recently met with members of the Board of Education and requested a revision of the present salary guide which is the State minimum schedule.

A spokesman for the teachers, in proposing a 3year adjustment program, declared "the critical need for this upward revision becomes apparent when one considers that only two other communities in Middlesex County presently operate with the State mandated minimum salary schedule.'

Three claims that merit the revision of the salary schedule which the teaching in this city is good, salaries are low, and the city's ability to pay for good schools is high, comparing favorably with other New Jersey districts, a spokesman of the teachers stated.

According to official State Department figures the average taxable wealth behind each pupil in Middlesex County is $28,411, and in New Jersey, $28,624, with South Amboy topping both with an average taxable wealth of $41,387 per pupil. This points out that the city's ability to pay rates high.

The figures compiled by the teachers association show the average local teaching experience to be 25.3 years to prove that the required salary advancement scheduled is "moderate, realistic and expedient, and deserving of public sup-

Phillip Sullivan Elected by Mayor's Vote at Board of Public Works Annual Meeting

Republican Mayor Joseph Charmello cast the deciding vote that elected Phillip Sullivan as chairman of the Board of Public Works at its organization meeting on Tuesday evening.

Frank Musolino, chairman during 1958, was nominated with Sullivan and a vote produced a 3-3 tie. In casting the deciding vote the mayor stated, "I'll make it short and sweet, I'll vote for Mr. Sullivan.

Start of the meeting was delayed eight minutes when three of the members were called to a meeting by Democratic Municipal Chairman Fred Leslie.

Musolino was named temporary chairman after James Duggan and Thomas Vail declined the nomination. Musolino then called for nominations for the chairmanship.

After the nominations of Sullivan and Musolino were accepted, City Clerk John Triggs called the roll for the Anton Foley, Sullivan and Duggan voted for Sullivan while Mussolino votes were cast by Musolino, Vail and John Stolte. All members of the board are "holdover" members, not having been reappointed at the expiration of their terms which exbire at two men per year. All are Democrats.

Foley accepted the nomination of vice president. The board voted to continue the practice of meeting the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month.

Three-Year Adjustment State Approves Sale of Land Fill Area to City

The first bit of expansion of the boundaries of the city of South Amboy were made possible today (Thursday) by the unnouncement from Trenton that the City of South Amboy received the go-ahead signal on the purchase of the landfill area along the water front.

The area which consists of about 85 acres, of which 68 acres are owned by the state, will soon be turned over to the city, the Dept. of Conservation & Economic Development announced today.

Representing the city at the board hearing in Trenton were: Assembly Speaker William Kurtz, City Solicitor John Mullane, Postmaster George Stader, representing the Mayor: Council President James Harrigan, Councilmen John Howley, Al Jankowski, and James Vanderveer.

The acreage is being turned over to the city to be used for recreational purposes, therefore the selling price to the city was of the minimum bracket approximately $100 per acre, which is about one-tenth of the fair selling price.

The sale of the property will not in any way have any detremental affects on the status of the South Amboy Boat Club which is located on the purchased acreage.

Richard Schultz, who was re-eleccted president of the Board of Health at its reorganization meeting on Monday, described the action taken by the board to remove several health hazards

Attention was called to the condition existing on Gordon and Upper Henry Streets. Schultz explained that the streets come to a dead end into an empty lot which is being used for a garbage dump. · He asked residents of the area to notify the board at once if any truck is seen dumping refuse on the lot.

Announcemnt was made that dog licenses for 1958 are available at the city clerk's office daily, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. Dog owners were advised to keep' their dogs tied up. Also re-elected for the

Interesting Breakdown of City Land Offered by South Amboy Planning Board

South Amboy has nine times as much land devoted to railroads as other American cities of similar size and characteristics. The Planning Board of South Amboy learned of these facts as part of a Master Plan Report on South Amboy currently being prepared by H. Thomas Carr, City Planner-Engineer of . th Amboy. To further illustrate this fact, over one fourth of the city is devoted to railroads, which is almost equal to the amount of land occupied by all the streets and roads in South Amboy.

"A large single industrial land use of this type tends to indicate a one industry town which in economic terms is very unstable", Carr informed the Board. "There is a very definite need for diversification of industry occupying the remaining industrial sites and every effort should be made to attract new industries to South Amboy."

"The total land use of heavy and light industry is less than average and tends to substantiate the "one industry view."

Oddly enough, South Amboy has more than an average business area for South Amboy actually has more of its net developed land in use as business than does Perth Amboy. The business area of South Amboy constitutes 6% while Perth Amboy only has 4.7%. It must be kept in mind that Perth Amboy is three times as large.

The park and recreational facilities of South Amboy are very small in comparison with average cities, since only a little over 1% of South Amboy is used for this important use while other cities show 4% to 5% with Perth Amboy having 2% in recreational use.

Since almost 2/3 of the city is devoted to commerce and industry it stands to reason that the residential area is small and indeed it is only 31.8% of the developed area. Again, Perth Amboy is similar at only 23.5%. But a typical American city of similar industrial nature has about half of the city in residence.

This is the first of many reports to be prepared by Carr in connection with the Master Plan which is currently being produced under the local Planning Assistance Program of the State Planning Bureau. Planning Board Chairman Joseph Herman cited the "great value obtainable to the city from these studies" and was anxious to complete the Master Plan now under way.

A Big Day For the Kurtz's and South Ambov

THE TEXT OF THE SPEAKER NURTZ'S

'Members of the General Assembly and Guests "Today, as we convene the 183rd session Legislature, I would like, first of all, to thank the honor you have conferred upon me. I am mindful of the great responsibilly that goes with office. I shall do my utmost to justify your expriof confidence.

"As we begin our deliberations, I ask that not lose sigh of the fact that we represent five an half million citizens of a vibrant state. The problem that confront us have been engendered by growth a prosperity.

"How well we capitalize on the opportunities that are peculiarly ours will determine the extent to which we have merited the public trust. The public, I need hardly remind you, will render its irrevocable estimate of our work on November third next.

"Analysis has already shown that last year the House of Assembly approached its work in a spirit co-operation that was a marked contrast to the conduct of affairs during the two preceding decades.

"Our rules were liberalized in order to encourage; minority participation. The degree of success we enjoyed can be gauged to some extent by the fact that on more than one occasion votes by minority members caused bills to be held up or released from Committee. This has sharply increased the extent to which bills can now be considered on the basis of merit rather than partisanship.

"Public participation was encouraged by increasing the number of public hearings given controversial measures.

'A good deal of our progress last year was made possible by the co-operation extended to the majority party by the minority leader, Mr. Beadleston, and I would like to publicly thank him for this. I know he will continue to be the voice of a loyal minority.

"I hope that the committee system will be further strengthened this year, and that the public will continue to be invited to express its opinion of pending legislation. I also hope that we can continue to work in the kind of atmosphere that discourages partisanship.

"I would like to suggest three procedural changes in the interest of economy and efficiency.

"I favor an arrangement whereby identical bills, each of which has been introduced and passed in one House, but not in both, be regarded as having passed both the Assembly and Senate. Such measures could then be sent to the Governor for his consideration.

"I also advocate a further study by the Law Revision and Legislative Commission that might result in a Joint House rule that would permit unpassed bills to be carried over for an additional year. I can forerse where such a rule would result in substantial savings of direct printing costs, as well as an indirect saving in filing and storage space.

"I further recommend a Joint House Committee to work on the back log of stalemated bills that pass in one house and do not come up for action in the other house.

"I offer these suggestions as part of a continuing review of the procedures by which we conduct our business. But in a larger sense, we must be guided by the mandate of those whom we were elected to serve. Our task is to encourage and inspire the fullest utilization of our human and material resources. This is the standard by which we will be judged.

Putting Our 'Knows' to the Grindstone...

SOUTH AMBOY VS. J.C.P.&L. CO.

In his annual message at the reorganization meeting of the Council on New Year's Day, Mayor Charmello expressed the opinion that the Jersey Central Power and Light Co. no doubt will again seek permission for a rightof-way for its feeder line along Rosewell Street. The mayor added that he would have no objections to the line providing that it were placed underground or underwater along the bay.

On the surface, this proposition appears feasible. However, it must be realized that as much as the company would like to accomodate South Amboy, it cannot dur so in the manner suggested by the mayor without jeopardizing its entire program of operation.

Since the company serves more than one community, at cannot in justice please one community without discriminating against several others. Other communities would immediately clamor for like treatment. The result would be a tremendous financial burden on both the company and the public, for such a policy would definitely reflect in much higher rates residents would have to pay for electrical power furnished.

Even more objectionable at this time is the precedent such a policy would establish. The company and the public could not sustain the huge outlay of expenditures required to install and maintain subsurface lines. Nor would the public stand for it, even if it could afford the increased rates.

It has been stated at the recent open public meeting that overhead lines are incomparably safer because of their ability to discharge through lightning rods, something underground lines cannot do.

Sayreville Bd .of Educ. Calls For a Record School Budget

A record school budget of $1,941,734 for the 1959-1960 school year was proposed by the Sayreville Board of Education at its regular meeting Monday. This sum represents about a $400,000 increase over the previous year's budget.

The budget, which was approved by all the members will be submitted for an open public hearing scheduled for January 21st at 7:00 p. m. The increase allows for the construction of addiwhich the residents of Sayreville gave bond approval recently. A new school is also planned for in the near future.

The current expense estimate in the budget stands at $1,655.052 as compared to $1,350,275 for the previous year. The major appropriation in this account is teachers' salaries at $832,701, an increase of over $150,000 and includes salaries for 13 new teachers as well as salary increments for current teachers. The bus transportation estimate remains the same at $271,000. The borough expects to receive $273,435 in state aid and $52.500 in tuition fees.

On February 5th the board will receive bids for additions to two schools, Washington and Roosevelt Schools. Ground has already been broken for additions to the Jesse Selover and Emma Arleth Schools. Contracts for electrical work at the latter had been awarded to Mid State Electrical Co. for $12,900 and $13,190 respectively.

The board also purchased 12 acres of land from the JCP&L Co. in the Ernston Section for $8,910. A new elementary school is intended to be built there. The board also announced that it will receive bids for miscellaneous equipment and furniture which will be needed in the new school additions. C. Joseph Gavin, a board member, moved that vendors put items of furniture on display in a place determined by the superintendent prior to the awarding of contracts. A heated argument took place concerning a motion made by Gavin involving a resolution requiring notification to be given to all members of the board of all committee meetings. Gavin argued that it would take at most 6-9 minutes for the school secretaries to notify board members of meetings called by committee chairmen. Gavin also moved that all committee meetings be open to the public.

The latter proposal was passed but the former brought strong objections. James Keenan remarked that no members were ever refused admittance to any committee meeting and that he saw no reason for any changes at all. He added that the procedure used is one other communities are using and one that has been standing for over 50 years. Moreover, he said, members "get everything" at the regular meetings. James Callahan added that everything is done legally and with the knowledge of all board members. Keenan asked Gavin if he is free to attend meetings every night. Charles Lynch stated that Gavin's proposal was unworkable because of the number of meetings held. He offered to modify the motion by having only the most important meet ings announced. Keenan then added that if Gavin's proposal is adopted, there will be no need for committees. The motion was defeated by a 5-2 vote. Gavin and Puchalski voted for the proposal while Lynch and board president Paul Karbowski passed their votes.

Another sensitive issue was brought up by Joseph Bellan, president of the County Taxpaver's Federation. Bellan requested that the superintendent's reports be made public. Callahan retorted that the board still feels the same as before on this point. The reports, he said, contain confidential items involving teachers and pupils whose interests must be protected. Therefore, they are not for public, knowledge.

Bellan then asked that the confidential material be excluded. Callahan said that to take out private reports would mean extra time and expense. Besides, he added, everything in the report acted upon is read in full and becomes part of the public record.

In other business Miss Walsh, principal of Sayreville High School, was voted $200 expense to attend a convention at Atlantic City. Superintedent Richard Pollack reported that work is still in progress for the assignment of pupirs to schools for the next term. Mrs. A. Cwilina and Mr. Romeo were added to the substitute teachers' list. Bedside instruction, recommended by Pollack, was adopted.

Fines and Jail Sentences Meted Out to Four Youths

Four youths were arrested on Sunday evening for disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace but 5 appeared before Magistrate John R. Everitt on Monday evening in Municipal Court.

The fifth youth made his appearance in the cell where the others were being held, his exact intention not being known. A routine check of the cell block brought surprise to the police when they found the fifth had sneaked into the cellar with a crowbar.

Police Chief .John Gleason identified the fifth youth as Arnold Ziola, 18, of George St., and stated the boy had gone down into the basement of City Hall after his four buddies were arrested, armed with an 18inch crowbar.

When Ziola reached the bullpen he found it already open, as his friends h a d wedged a plate from a drain in the cell floor, between the door and the wall forcing the door open according to Gleason. However, all remained in the cell.

Arrested Sunday night, were John Roberts, who claimed to be 18, but actually is 17, of 425 Gordon St.: Samuel Hughes, 19, of 113 George St.; Robert Roberts, 18, of 433 Feltus Street, and Walter Kozak, 19, of 426 Catherine St. All were jailed when they could not raise bail of $100 each.

Juvenile complaints were lodged against John Roberts when his true age was discovered. The others were fined $50 and $10 costs on each charge made, a total of $120 each.

In addition to the fines, Everitt imposed a jail sentence of 45 days on each count, to run consecutively, on each of the four, or a total of 90 days each.

In court, testimony was made by Miss Judy Hensberger of 339 Division St., who is employed at O'Connor's Candy Store, that a fight broke out at the store between the defendents and some other youths including her brother.

She telephoned her father B. G. Hensberger, who she stated came to the store to received a cut lip.

Francis Waitt, a member of Morgan Hose and Chemical Co., became Sayreville's 32nd Fire Chief when he was presented with his badge of office by Councilman Jos. Ziemba, chairman of the fire committee.

Ziemba also presented badges to Raymond Betzler of Sayreville Engine Co. No. 1 and Frank Wisniewski of Melrose Hose Co., as they assumed the offices of first and second assistant Chiefs respectively.
