REIMAN'S BODY FOUND IN BAY

Was One of Two Men Drowned While Out Canoeing Last Sunday—Still Searching for Joseph Farmer's Body—Victims of Two Sad Accidents off Morgan Beach.

The drowning of two men off the beach at Morgan last Sunday about noon threw the usually jubilant spirits of the members of the summer colony at that resort into deep gloom. The victims were Joseph Farmer, 20 years old of South River; and Carl Reiman, 25 years old, of Rahway.

There was a heavy sea running caused by the strong east wind and it was foolhardiness for any one to venture out in the bay except in a large and seaworthy vessel. Still these men went out in canoes, notwithstanding the warning of friends on the beach.

Joseph and Edwin Farmer, brothers, started out in their canoe, and about the same time Carl Reiman and Anthony Schelke, of Rahway, set out in a canoe for their home.

The Farmers had gone only about a half mile from shore when the canoe capsized. Both men clung desperately to the frail craft, when Joseph told his brother to hold fast until he swam ashore for help. After swimming a short distance Edwin saw him throw up his hands and disappear. Edwin was finally picked up by a motor boat and taken ashore. He was completely exhausted, and it was some time before he was fully revived.

Reiman and Schelke had their canoe loaded with camping outfit, making their risk the greater. When their craft upset Schelke told his companion to hold fast to the canoe, while he would swim ashore. He reached the beach near Perrine's dock in safety, and notified residents of Morgan Heights, who telephoned to the creek for a motor boat to rescue Reiman. Dr. Moss and Willard Cleveland started to the rescue in their respective motor boats, but were just too late as Reiman had sank.

On Thursday morning William Walters and Edwin Roberts while searching for the bodies discovered that of Reiman just this side of Perrine's dock, lying in about eighteen inches of water, with one of hand in an upright position extending just above the water. The body was in a fair state of preservation. Undertaker Mason took the body to his morgue, and is awaiting instructions from the dead man's friends at Rahway.

Joseph Farmer was a popular young man in his home town, and his drowning caused great sorrow among his friends. He graduated from the South River high school in 1912, and had attended the State Normal School in Trenton for two years, where he was also graduated. He was professor of manual training at School No. 2, of South River, and took up a short course at the Rutgers summer school this summer. He had made arrangements to resume his duties as instructor in the manual training department of the South River schools which opened Monday morning but fate seemed to decree otherwise.

Gundrum Withdraws From Primary Contest

To the Democratic Voters of the Third Ward:

Feeling that harmony should exist in the ranks of the Democratic party in this city, and not desiring to create any strife by contest at the primary, I have decided to withdraw as a candidate for county committeeman in the Third Ward.

Thanking those who kindly assisted in preparing my petition, and wishing success to the Democratic party this fall, I am,

Yours truly,
GEO. GUNDRUM.

Woman's Club Plans For Winter Sessions

Another busy year along numerous lines of activity is projected by the women of the Woman's Club, who held their opening meeting in the City Hall, Thursday afternoon, with nearly one hundred members present. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the report from the State Federation at Asbury Park, by the club's delegate, Mrs. Leonard Furman, the new programs for the season were submitted to the members.

Mrs. William P. Nichols, the club's newly elected president, presided, and after a very interesting talk along different lines, decided that the club would give a series of four entertainments at different intervals during the year, the price of which would be $1.00 for the four, or 35 cents for a single entertainment. Full particulars will be published later.

The newly elected officers are the following:

President—Mrs. William Perkins Nichols.

1st Vice-president—Mrs. Alfred Jamison Miller.

2d Vice-president—Mrs. John F. Emilussen.

Secretaries—Recording, Miss Bertha Fulton; Corresponding, Miss Gladys Emmons; Federation—Miss Gladys Emmons.

Treasurer—Miss Mary Mack.

Press Correspondent—Mrs. Richard Morgan Mack.

Directors—Three years, Mrs. Geo. Gundrum, Mrs. H. J. Berrien, Mrs. E. C. Jaques, Mrs. Chas. Safran; Two years, Mrs. Wm. S. Dey, Mrs. D. W. Reed, Mrs. Harvey Emmons, Mrs. C. M. Himmelberger; One year, Mrs. W. E. Parker, Mrs. Samuel Newton, Mrs. R. C. Stephenson, Mrs. John A. Coan.

The chairman of Department Committees are:

Literature—Miss Martha K. Buchanan.

Music—Emma Dayton.

Entertainment and Hospitality—Mrs. F. M. Little.

Civics—Mrs. Geo. W. Crane.

Junior Civics—Miss Helen Brown.

Program—Mrs. Leonard Furman.

1500 Children Sing in Unison

One of the prettiest and most patriotic sights ever witnessed in this city was that of Monday last when promptly at noon about 1,500 children gathered around the flag pole at the City Hall grounds and sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

As "Old Glory" waved from the flag pole, the children of the Public Schools in charge of Principal Hendrickson and teachers, St. Mary's Parochial School, in charge of Rev. E. P. Kennedy, and the Sacred Heart School, in charge of the Sisters, gathered in rows on the City Hall grounds, and led by Mrs. C. L. Cozzons, sang in unison this beautiful anthem, it being the one hundredth anniversary of its composition. Mr. Alex. Guinquinio accompanied on the cornet.

The plan of singing in the open air originated with City Superintendent Ball, and he feels highly pleased that all the schools in the city so readily and willingly joined in making the occasion one long to be remembered.

RALLY DAY AT CHRIST CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL

Special Rally Day services will be held in the Parish House of Christ Church on next Sunday afternoon at 2.30. In place of the ordinary instruction in classes a program will be rendered. Choirmaster Stults has provided a little surprise for the children in the matter of vocal and instrumental music, and besides, "The Church Porch," (the new hymnal for use in the Sunday School), a large number of copies having been purchased, will be used for the first time. The Rector will make a short address and will present to each child in attendance two beautiful Churchly souvenirs. It is recommended also that parents visit the school on this day. The attention of the Parish is further called to the fact that at 10.30 a. m., next Sunday, in place of Morning Prayer the special service of "Intercession for Sunday Schools" will be used, and the Rector hopes to make some pertinent remarks on Sunday School work in South Amboy.

NINTH YEAR CLASS

ELECTS OFFICERS

MAYOR ISSUES SPECIAL MESSAGE

Advises Council to Purchase Land to Widen Washington Avenue—Considers It Would be Good Business—Recommendation Strongly Opposed by Mr. O'Connor.

Special Message.

To the Members of the City Council:

Gentlemen:—As elected public officials of this city, it appears to me to be our plain duty to transact the public business with which we are entrusted, with the same care and fidelity that would mark the conduct of our own personal affairs. It seems to me that our attitude toward the Washington avenue matter displays too much apparent personal and party coloring. I think parliamentarism has its place in primaries and elections, but when the people have made their choice, then anything like partisan spirit should yield to the demands of our public duty.

It is our plain duty to provide the way of furnishing the Raritan River Railroad with the street lines, that they may proceed without unnecessary delay, to replace the Washington avenue bridge, with a structure that will ensure safety to the traveling public, by avoiding such an accident as the present unsafe bridge is liable to cause at any time. Public safety is surely one of our first duties. We cannot, with reason, shun this responsibility. To trifle with it, at a time like this, seems to be inexcusable.

Many attempts have been made to adjust this matter, the latest of which was before you last week. This was proposed as the most feasible plan that our advisers, and ourselves, could offer under present conditions. I frankly say, that I firmly believe, that your action at that time was plainly a mistake.

The company ask nothing of the city more than for us to accept a new modern structure, that will be wider, safer, than the present one, and in all respects up-to-date, in place of the narrow, dangerous, and out of date bridge that has long since passed its usefulness.

Before they can begin the work, they must know the center line of the street. It is our duty to furnish the company with that information.

This data is involved in much obscurity. Our legal rights cannot be clearly determined by any process heretofore tried. The plan now suggested, appears to be the only safe one open to us. Its cost to the city is so small, comparatively speaking, that it has much to recommend it.

For fully one year we have been trying to adjust the street line, and to agree upon the suitable width that the new bridge should be. This council has made many suggestions, and some requirements, all of which the company has very generously acceded to. No sooner has one demand been agreed to by the company, than this council has interposed another. We have reached a point, I believe, in this procedure, when our actions begin to appear, to intelligent on-lookers, as ridiculous. I am of the firm belief, that it is high time for us to act more like business men, that were impressed with a becoming feeling of public pride, and of becoming dignity. I believe that our calmest and best judgment should be exercised toward this important matter.

The plan proposed last week, was the result of a good deal of thought and balancing of ideas. If any of us know, as a certainty, that Washington avenue has ever had enough land dedicated to it, to allow of a bridge being across it of the width indicated in the present proposal, without buying any more, it is the plain duty of every member to produce that testimony. This would set at rest for all time, all dispute as to street lines at that particular point. If this cannot be shown to a certainty, it is clearly our duty to accept the best evidence that can be given by others, who are as earnest and as conscientious, and as intelligent as ourselves.

If we cannot be constructionists, we should not be destructionists. If we cannot find any assurance that the needed land is there, we truly have no right to steal the property of another to make up the shortage.

No surveyor, out of several, has yet been found who can assure us that this street is even 44 feet wide. It should be very clear that we cannot do better than they.

To employ technical talent to hunt up this matter further than has already been done, would cost the city more than is asked for enough land by adjoining owners, to make the position of the city secure in this matter. Two hundred and fifty dollars is the price asked. This sum would soon be consumed in costs of a more exhaustive search, and this would offer us apparently no assurance of availing the city anything.

Under these conditions, I believe that our duty is very plain. I therefore ask you, in all sincerity, to set aside every consideration that stands in the way of a prompt and a business-like adjustment.

I know of nothing better than the plan that you have recently rejected. If you know of a course that is safer, cheaper, and better for the city, it

Thos. Deats Gets Fire House Contract

The first item of business taken up for consideration last Tuesday night at the council meeting was the opening of bids for the remodeling of Protection fire house. There were three bids received as follows. Thomas B. Deats, $2,443; John J. Ryan, $2,513; and Morgan Lambertson, $2,598.

Upon motion of Councilman Slover the bids were referred to the fire committee and city engineer for tabulation. Later a resolution was passed awarding the contract to Thomas Deats, as his was the lowest bid submitted.

The full quota of membership in the council were present at the tap of the president's gavel which called the meeting to order. The various minor officials of the city were also in attendance with the exception of the street commissioner.

A petition was read from a number of property owners in Mechanicsville. They asked for an extension of the regular sized water main to the end of Wilnot street. They were, the petition stated, now dependent absolutely upon a make-shift means of water supply and that the flow was so light that only one house could have the use of the water at a time. The matter was referred to the water committee.

An application for the transfer of a saloon license from 87 David street to 50 August street by Michael Lewandosky was read by the clerk. Councilman Stanton moved that the application be received and referred to the license committee. Later in the meeting Mr. Slover presented a resolution which granted the transfer. Councilman O'Connor asked if the signers on the application for the transfer were the same as those that signed the original application for the license. Upon being informed that the clerk could not furnish the desired information at the time, he asked if it was necessary that they should be the same. He called attention to the case already in the hands of the court and stated that they should be sure they were proceeding in a legal manner with this one. President Stratton stated that he believed that the man was acting under legal advisement and in a perfectly legal manner, but that if the council was mistaken they would have to abide by the consequences. With that understanding the matter was put to vote and it was evidently satisfactory for the vote to grant the transfer was unanimous.

A communication from the Jersey Central Traction Company with reference to their bill for the paving of Stevens avenue stated that they understood that they were to have an itemized statement of the cost and that they would like to have this as soon as possible in order to make the first payment when due. Upon motion of Councilman Stanton the matter was referred to the street committee.

Another communication from C. S. Buckelew, health inspector, was received and referred to the committee on sewers. The communication called attention to the condition of the sewer outlet at the foot of Henry street and stated that it was filled with sand and refuse and that it gave off an offensive odor.

The bill of Mr. Michael Welsh for the Stevens avenue improvement was returned by that gentleman together with the explanation that he was overcharged for his lots on the corner of John street and requested that the matter be investigated. The motion of Councilman Slover that the matter be referred to the street committee was carried.

Another bill on this same improvement was also returned and took the same course as the preceding one. This was the bill of Anna Worthing. The accompanying communication stated that she was being rated on a basis of seventy-five feet of frontage when she had but seventy feet and asked for an investigation.

A resolution presented by Mr. Slover and adopted by the council reduced the bill of Ferdinand Tedesco for flagging and paving on Augusta street to $61.04 for curbing and $51.75 for flagging.

Another resolution presented by the same councilman was the same as the one presented at the last meeting of the council. It was the one authorizing the street committee to purchase from Isabelle Brophy a piece of ground adjoining the proposed site of the new bridge over the tracks of the Raritan River railroad on Washington avenue for the sum of two

RECOGNITION SERVICES

Rev. E. R. Tilton is Now Fully in Charge as Pastor of First Baptist Church—Many Clergy and Large Audience Present at Impressive Ceremony.

On last Tuesday evening the First Baptist Church was comfortably filled with members and local and out-of-town friends as it was the occasion of the Recognition Services of the church's new pastor, Rev. E. R. Tilton.

The services were presided over by the Rev. W. H. Bawden of Perth Amboy, and after prayer being offered by Rev. W. H. Berlew of this city, the speaker of the evening, the Rev. William H. Atchley, D. D., of Asbury Park, N. J., preached a most able and scholarly sermon appropriate to the occasion.

The Charge to the church was given by the Rev. J. L. Miner, of Red Bank, N. J., and the Charge to the pastor was made by the Rev. A. W. Hand of Keyport. Both of these speakers in their remarks congratulated the local Baptist Church on their success in securing such an able and efficient pastor as their leader, and they forcefully impressed the fact upon both pastor and church that each have an intimate relation with the other and that co-operation between the two is essential to success.

The welcome from the Monmouth Baptist Association, of which the local church is a member, was given by the Moderator, Rev. Samuel Bowers of Matawan.

The other churches of this city were represented by the following pastors: Rev. J. Edward Shaw of the M. E. Church, Rev. F. F. Craig of the Methodist Protestant Church and the Rev. H. C. White of the Presbyterian Church, all of whom welcomed the new pastor as a colleague and co-worker.

Brief speeches of felicitation were made by the Rev. W. W. Hoagland of Marlboro, Rev. Frederick W. Overhiser, of Neotown, Rev. George Dancy of George's Road, Rev. W. W. Allen of South River, and Rev. Geo. W. Lamborn of Pt. Pleasant, Pa.

Excellent special music was rendered by the church choir during the services.

The new pastor of the First Baptist Church is a man who already in his brief time in this city has made many friends by his pleasant, cheerful disposition, his intense earnestness and his high purpose and close attention to the duties of his position. His preaching has been to increasing congregations and his simple, clear style makes his pulpit utterances felt and remembered.

Mr. Tilton is a graduate of Monongahela College, Jefferson, Pa., and Crozier Theological Seminary of Chester, Pa., receiving from these institutions the degrees of B. A., A. M., and B. D. He was ordained in 1888 at Harmony, Pa., his first pastorate being at that place and Evans City, Pa. He also held charges in Library and Coldspoint, Pa., and at Alloway, Rhodestown and Phillipsburg, N. J., coming from the latter city to South Amboy. His wife is also an active church worker and experienced in the work. They have two sons, one attending Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, and the other at Bucknell University.

LEG CUT OFF BELOW THE KNEE.

Thomas Zepka, employed by the Eastern Coal Dock Company, met with a serious accident about four o'clock Friday morning. His left leg was so badly injured that it was found necessary to amputate it below the knee. He was taken to the emergency hospital, where Dr. Eulner amputated the limb, assisted by Dr. Kinney. Zepka was taken on the 7.25 P. M. train to St. Michael's Hospital, Newark.

A woman is seldom older than a man thinks she is.

HAY.

We have been furnishing our trade with the finest Jersey hay all summer, and we would remind the trade that we have just received a large shipment, and this will enable us to continue to supply the same fine style of hay as the only store on the block of roadway, between George street and Bordentown avenue.

FATHER W. H. MILLER PASSES AWAY

Father William H. Miller, for nearly twenty-two years the beloved pastor of St. Joseph's R. C. church, North Plainfield, and one of the best known among the Catholic clergy of the State, passed away at the parish rectory on Manning avenue, that borough, at 3.30 o'clock last Monday morning. With Father Miller when the end came was his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Miller; his sister, Miss Mary R. Miller; his brother, Frank Miller; Sister Felix, of the Bon Secour Order of Nurses; Sister Justina, of Mt. St. Mary College, and Father Poli, who has been the acting pastor of the church during the past few months.

Father Miller's death follows a long illness from complications throughout which he was a patient sufferer. Never did he complain and it was his constant hope that he might recover and be permitted to continue to minister to the faithful parishioners of St. Joseph's church. Everything known to the medical profession was employed for the restoration of health and strength, but without success and the trouble finally reached that point where it was beyond all aid.

Throughout his long residence in the borough, Father Miller held the highest respect and esteem of all who knew him. He succeeded Father John McKernan and from that time he worked hard and faithfully for the upbuilding of his parish, one of his greatest achievements being the erection of the present handsome new church edifice. On December 17, 1912, Father Miller celebrated his silver jubilee, the event being one of great pleasure to both himself and all the members of his parish.

There survives besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, a sister, Miss Mary R. Miller, and a brother, Frank Miller.

The body of Father Miller laid in state at St. Joseph's church Wednesday afternoon after 3 o'clock. The funeral was held at the church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock with a solemn high mass. Father Leahy, of Spring Lake, was celebrant; Father Dittick, of Atlantic City, deacon; Father Daniel Hogan, of Newark, subdeacon; Father P. J. Petri, of Atlantic City, delivered the eulogy, and Father John F. Baldwin, of St. Joseph's parish, was master of ceremonies. Bishop McPaul, of the Trenton diocese, was present and took part in the service.

Father William H. Miller, rector of St. Joseph's church, North Plainfield, was born September 20, 1863, in this city. After finishing his studies in the public schools, he entered St. Francis Xavier's College, New York, where he pursued the classics and higher branches. He then went to Seton Hall College at South Orange, where he studied philosophy and was graduated in the class of 1884. His theological course was made at the Seminary of the Immaculate Conception, South Orange, and at St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, Md.

Father Miller was ordained by Cardinal Gibbons in the Baltimore Cathedral, December 17, 1887. Shortly afterward he was appointed assistant to Vicar-General Kelley, at St. Mary's in this city. In July, 1889, he was sent to the Church of the Immaculate Conception at Camden, and after two years was sent as assistant to Monsignor O'Grady, pastor of St. Peter's church, New Brunswick. He remained at the latter place until he was appointed pastor of St. Joseph's church, April 17, 1893, by the late Bishop O'Farrell.

During his life Father Miller found time to travel to some extent, visiting Europe and Mexico, as well as the Pacific coast, and he had a fund of knowledge which he was always glad to impart to his callers. He possessed an unusual disposition and was a man of the highest type. Throughout his long residence in the borough he always took a lively interest in affairs there, and he was constantly being sought for counsel and advice by a large circle of acquaintances. He accomplished a great deal for St. Joseph's parish, being privileged to build a handsome new church at a cost of $80,000, upon which there is only a debt of $5,000. He has built up the Sodality and various other societies of the church.

After the funeral services in St. Joseph's Church, Plainfield, the body of Father Miller was brought to this city by special train.

He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Mary R. Miller, and a brother, Frank Miller.

MAY FORM MUTUAL

BENEFICIAL ASSOCIATION

A meeting was held in the Y. M. C. A. recently for the purpose of working up enthusiasm toward the Mutual Beneficial Association of Penn. Railroad Employees. A representative of the organization was present and explained the basic idea and principles of the association to those who were present. Word as to his coming was not received in time for the news to be spread about to any extent and the meeting was consequently rather sparsely attended.

It is very likely that the idea will be taken up by some of the local employees of the railroad and an effort to get a local assembly here put forth. The organization is pretty much the same as a great many of the other well-known fraternal organizations. A local medical examiner has been arranged for in the person of Dr. Kinney, of Main street. About all the expense attached to the entrant is a dollar for the entrance fee and fifty cents for the medical examination. The insurance rates are quite low, varying, of course, with the classification and amount selected by the applicant according to the age. Applicants between the ages of sixteen and sixty are eligible for membership, but they must be employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad or its leased or subsidiary lines.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

A number of friends tendered a miscellaneous shower to Miss Myrtle Compton at her home on Ward avenue last Tuesday evening. The occasion proved most pleasant to all, and the time whittled rapidly away in vocal and instrumental music, games and social chat. Refreshments were served, to which all did ample justice. Many beautiful gifts were presented to Miss Compton, among them being hand-painted china, cut glass, silver and linen.

Among those present were Miss Sarah Sprague, Miss Mabel Stover, Miss Nellie Wilson, Miss Cecelia Carey, Miss Kathryn Lyons, Miss Bertha Kaufman, Miss Cecelia Kaufman, Mrs. William Smith, Miss Lella Lisk, Miss Anna Malloy, Miss Vivian Magee, Miss Alva Compton, Miss May Compton, Miss Hazel Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Compton and Mr. George Morgan.

A SOCIAL TIME.

A social was held under the auspices of the Methodist Protestant Sunday School last Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris of Mechanicsville. There were about sixty present and a good social time was spent in singing, instrumental music, etc. Arthur Harris and Miss Georgeanna Harris, his sister, entertained with selections on the piano and violin. Among the refreshments served were very delicious peaches from their own orchard which all pronounced fine. A nice sum was realized for the school.

PASTOR SPEAKS ON WAR.

A large congregation attended the Methodist Episcopal church on John street last Sunday evening. The pastor, Rev. J. E. Shaw, delivered a sermon upon the cause of the present European war. The sermon briefly outlined the successive stages of development in the crisis and went back beyond the assassination of the Archduke for the real causes of the present conflagration. The speaker used a number of illustrative comparisons which clearly brought out the point that in being constantly prepared for war the nations were inviting the catastrophe which eventually befell. He also cited the instance of our peaceful relations with Canada and called attention to the three thousand odd miles of border without the evidence of a single gun, fort, or piece of armament of any kind upon either side. Upon the whole the sermon was most comprehensive in its scope and without exhibiting any partiality toward any of the contestants engaged in the present old world struggle, expressed the devout hope that this would be the last lapse of civilization back into barbarism.

A GOODLY LOT OF SECRETARIES IF THERE'S ANYTHING IN A NAME

A writer in the Chicago Daily Tribune in speaking of Y. M. C. A. secretaries, says:

"There is Angel at Oakdale, Cal.; Bishop at Kansas City; Deacon at South Amboy, N. J.; Dove at Adair, Ia.; Easter at Santa Barbara, Cal.; Israel at New York; Love at Pocatello, Idaho; Saam at Fort Worth, Tex.; Service at Chengtu, China; Sheppard at Jersey City; Wright at Mobile, Ala.; Grace at Boulder, Colo.; Virgin at Tronoto, Canada; Gott at New York, and then some."

MRS. BRIDGET McCaffrey.

On Tuesday, September 22, Mrs. Bridget McCaffrey, wife of the late Michael McCaffrey, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Nagle, on John street, after a lingering illness, at the advanced age of 89 years. The deceased with her husband came to this city in the early days of old Camden and Amboy railroad and had resided here ever since. Besides a daughter, she is survived by a son, Michael McCaffrey.

The funeral took place from the residence of her daughter at 9 o'clock on Thursday morning, thence to St. Mary's R. C. Church where high mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul, Rev. E. P. Kennedy being celebrant. Interment was made in the parish cemetery. The pall bearers were John Sutliff, John Connors, John Malloy, John Conkley, James McDonnell and Daniel Regan. Lee J. Thompson was funeral director.

COLUMBIA FLOUR

We have recently unloaded a car of this well known brand of Flour, ground from old wheat.

Columbia Flour has been on sale continuously with us for the past thirty years, and the sales are increasing all the time.

In a short time the mills will begin to blend the new wheat with the old, and you will not get as good results from that flour as you would of flour made from old wheat alone.

Protect yourself by buying a barrel of Columbia, we guarantee absolute satisfaction.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1914.

M. P. CHURCH NOTES

Don't forget the Oyster Supper to be given by the Ushers' Association on October 14th. Oysters served in all styles. This association deserve your patronage as they are willing and sacrificing workers.

The Thursday evening prayer service was brief last week owing to annual meeting that followed. Mr. Fulton had charge when special prayers were offered for guidance in the selection of class leaders, stewards, delegates to the annual conference and selection of a pastor for the coming year. A good attendance.

Last Sunday a. m. found the faithful ones present, also visitors from Baltimore Md., (the home of Methodist Protestantism), and other visitors also. The pastor preached on the text found in 2nd Solomon 2, 17, "Until the Day Break and the Shadows flow away." A quartet sang a special selection following the sermon entitled, "Jesus Knows and Cares."

Another of those interesting Junior C. E. meetings was held at 2 p. m. The superintendent addressed the little ones on the topic "What and What Not to Fear." She also read them an interesting story.

The Sunday School as usual was conducted by the superintendent, Mr. H. Bloodgood, and a very interesting study of the lesson, after which a meeting of more than usual interest was held by the officers and teachers. First thing done was to elect officers for the year. Following were the selections. Superintendent, Howard Bloodgood; assistant superintendent, Peter A. Stultz; 1st assistant, Ezra B. Clayton; secretary, Arthur Peterson; assistant secretary, Louis Clayton; organist, Mrs. E. English; assistant, Miss E. Jones. There were also two committees elected to be known as the Sunshine Committee, to visit the sick, needy, distressed and unsaved. Male Committee, Mr. Jacob Sprague, Mr. C. H. Berrien. Female Committee, Mrs. Annie House and Mrs. Sallie Petty. Visitors for the newly organized Home Department of Sunday School, Mrs. Lizzie English, Miss Ella Jones, Mrs. Sophia Sprague, Mrs. Edna Peterson, Mrs. Harry Petty, and Mrs. C. S. Craig. It is to be hoped that those visited and cannot attend the school to study the Bible will join this department to study the Bible lessons at home. Encourage the visitors by enrolling your name.

A new system of keeping the Sunday School records has been suggested and a committee appointed to perfect the same.

The Sunday School and C. E. Societies made their annual donations to the conference benevolences.

An extra large number at the Senior C. E. at 7 p. m., leader Mr. Jacob Sprague, who opened the service, read the topic and in a few well chosen words turned the meeting over for remarks, etc. It certainly was a very interesting service on "Sharing our Blessings."

Some very touching as well as appropriate singing was enjoyed at the song service and special singing by the choir of a piece on the evening's text, Psa 103, 13, "Like as a Father Pitieth his Children."

An increased attendance over the previous Sunday evening and a strong spiritual service, some not leaving the church till nearly 10 p. m.

Visitors again at this service.

The church and school express their sympathy to Mr. Joseph Pippitt and Miss Ethel Hill in their illness and serious disappointments.

Next Sunday morning is the last quarterly meeting for this conference year at which time the usual quarterly Experience Meeting and Love Feast will be held, also the administration of the Lord's Supper to which all Christians are invited, and especially we hope to find our own members present.

If any desire baptism of children or adults please be present. Also the reception of new members will be attended to.

But two Sundays remain of this old conference year. Several of the assessment cards and amounts have been turned in. We hope others are forth coming. If we cannot give the entire assessment do the best you can and don't forget the Superannuated Fund for worn out ministers and their widows. All gifts much or little will be appreciated.

The last quarterly conference of this conference year will be held this Friday evening. It is to be hoped that every member will be present as there is business of importance. This is the last official and final meeting before the annual conference, hence the necessity of all members being present.

The last offering for conference benevolences will be lifted next Sunday evening. As far as possible let us make it a silver offering in gratitude for what God has done for us.

In closing this year the pastor, members and friends of the church wish to express in this way their high appreciation of the length of space, work, etc., entailed upon the Editor of our local paper, The Citizen, and his staff in giving such systematic publicity of our church news for in this way the church and the cause has been helped and many has been the expressions of pleasure in reading the news and particularly by those shut in by affliction, etc., that cannot get out to church. So we vote The Citizen and its workers a generous unanimous vote of thanks.

THE SELECTION OF SEED CORN.

The corn harvest has already started. Husking will begin soon. At this time according to Mr. John H. Voorhees of the New Jersey Experiment Station, it is right that seed for next year should be considered. The selection of seed corn is important, and every farmer should take the opportunity at harvest time to select ears for next year's planting. Maturity is an important factor, and especially so throughout Northern New Jersey. It is necessary to have a corn adapted to climatic conditions, and the best way to secure a variety or strain of a variety adapted to your own local conditions is by selection of ears which conform in size, shape, length of grain, etc., at the time of husking. These selected ears may be stored in a well ventilated room or building during the winter, and resorted and tested for germination when work upon the farm is not so urgent.

THE STIFF FELT HAT.

We note with regret the disposition, so widely manifested since the first Autumnal change in the weather, to deride the stiff felt hat, yelet by the respectful derby or the bowler, but known now to the ribald as the iron hat or the boiler. Time was when the ordinary man possessed two hats, not counting the silk topper laid away for ceremonial occasions and the cap worn for outing. With a straw in Summer and a derby the rest of the year he was always in style, but there is a widespread movement now to discard the stiff felt altogether and substitute for it one of the objectionable soft hats of all shapes or none which the inconsiderate manufacturers and traders have forced upon the market. These soft felt hats, unlike those of a generation ago, have no character whatever. All the distinction they possess must be imparted by the wearer. In form, color, and trimming they are symbols of a decadent age.

A green soft hat with a drab band and a bow at the back will make a sage look like a clown, while one will impart to the naturally frivolous person an air of hopeless misery out of all keeping with his character. They are all an outgrowth of the college boys' hats of a few years back, originally designed to correct any existing impression that their wearers were in pursuit of knowledge or anxious to acquire it.

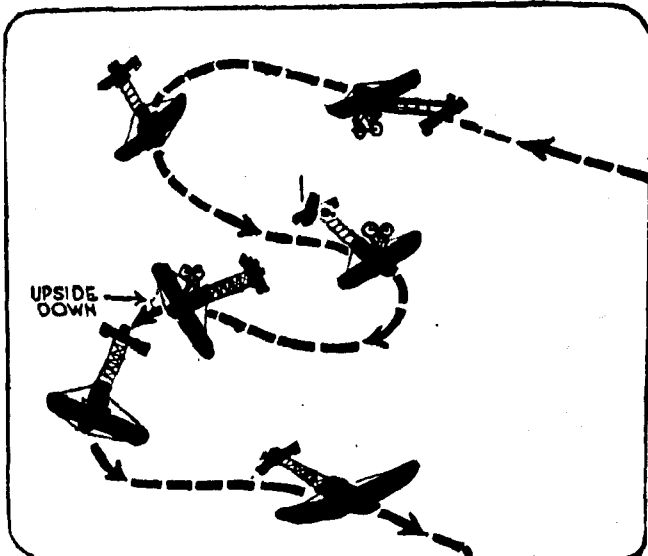

The derby, on the other hand, seems to be the true headgear of democracy. Almost any man derives an air of respectability from a decently brushed derby, and we hope that the conspiracy to suppress the good old bowler, which is suitable for all service except golf and motoring, in favor of the maddening contraptions of wily hatters who do not care what thoughts may be in the public head so long as they can cover it, will soon be suppressed. The evil must be sternly faced. Statesmen and clergymen are victims of the soft-hat mania. The green felt, the plush hat, the soft hat with a fuzzy surface protect the skulls of eminent men. They are not only unsightly and forbidding; when you consider the transformation they have effected in masculine humanity, they seem positively indecent. A society for the restoration of the derby hat cannot get to work too quickly.—New York Times.

FAIR WEEKLY TICKET SOLD AT REDUCTION.

The officers of Trenton Fair, which will be held this year from Sept. 28 to Oct. 2, have made arrangements to sell a weekly ticket for the Exposition at a reduction of $1. For a single admission a fee of 50 cents will be asked, but five coupons good for the week may be obtained for $1.50. These tickets are now on sale at the entry of the fair in the Commonwealth building, Trenton, and may be purchased through the mail when accompanied by the money and a self addressed return envelope.

SENSATIONS AT TRENTON FAIR
FEATURED BY DARING AVIATOR

Sky Sailor Niles Will Do Things a Bird Can't Do—Upside Down Flying One of Feats—"Whirl of Death" Before Grand Stand—Scores of Educational Features at Exposition.

FROM 2500 FT ABOVE GROUND TO 500 FT DROP IN 1/2 MINUTE

Snapshot of NILES
© by Underwood & Underwood, N. Y.

FEARLESS of dangerous wind currents and feeling that he is master of the air, Charles F. Niles, the famous sky sailor, will give at Trenton Fair the greatest exhibition ever witnessed in this part of the world. Although only twenty-four years old, this aviator performs feats never thought of before. He will turn somersaults in his monoplane, and he will fly upside down. He will topple wing over wing.

The Trenton Exposition is to be conducted this year from Sept. 28 to Oct. 2, and Niles promises to try out there some stunts that he has never risked before. This daring explorer of the clouds is the newest of the Moisant school of international aviators and has just returned from Mexico, where he has been doing scout duty for the Constitutionalist army in his machine. So nimble is he in the control of the air craft that he believes he could tumble his plane out of the range of the enemy's guns in warfare.

Deadly reliability of the monoplane in warfare will be demonstrated by Niles, and the use of such vehicles in the European conflict makes the exhibition of stirring interest.

In addition to the upside down flying and the spiral or corkscrew dive illustrated above, the aviator does the back flip from a height of 2,500 feet. In this stunt he falls to within 300 feet of the ground and then by suddenly swinging his levers rights himself and soars aloft again. He does things a bird can't do, for he topples wing over wing. He stands his plane on its nose and then hurls it back on its tail, sails along with his craft overturned. When he has been doing his upside down trick his engine has ceased working because the flow of gasoline has been stopped. When he finds he is falling to the ground too fast he switches his direction and checks his descent.

"Whirl of Death." Another sensational feature to be seen in the free show in front of the grand stand will be "The Whirl of Death," by Mlle. Tardieu. In this act this daring woman is sent in an automobile fastened to a parachute high in the air. When the retaining bars on it are released the automobile swings into space, describes a circle, turns a somersault and lands on a platform forty feet away. Everything has to be done with mathematical accuracy to insure the safety of the occupant of the machine.

Double Balloon Trip. A. Blondin Marsh is to have a thrilling act in a double balloon ascension. One aeronaut is to make three parachute drops and the other four. One of the drops is to be 500 feet before the parachute is opened by a wire attached to the balloon. Buhler, "the auto flier," will permit a big automobile to pass over his body, and Ed Geer, "the human comet," will present his trips to the clouds. He will do this on the highest trapeze ever built and will give an unusual exhibition of daring.

Mlle. Pontifex will give exhibitions with her high diving ponies and dogs, which will leap from a platform forty feet high into a tank of water. Billy Bouncer's circus has been booked with its "landslide of fun" and its "tornado of excitement." A revolving bound-ling pad will occupy the center of the stage in this act, and prizes will be given the spectators who are able to stay on the wheel.

Open Air Singing.

Tom Kenyon, said to be the greatest living outdoor singer, will give all the popular airs every day during the week in the grand stand. In many of the numbers he will be accompanied by Winkler's Military Band. "The Water Lilies," six beautiful women, will present the new water illusion. They will dive into a tank and will not be seen until they appear on a stage forty feet away. It will be left to the spectators to solve the way they do it. Sato, the poser, who can stand still longer than any living man, will give representations of statuary with another performer.

Daylight fireworks will be another novelty on the program. Comedy will run riot when the O'Brien troupe of clowns have their turn. They will not spare any one in their mimicry. The European war, the suffragettes and other persons and things prominent in public affairs will be caricatured. Bartlett's Nine Colored Musicians, who sing and play, will give numbers during the intermission between races. The Midway will comprise the greatest collection of freaks ever seen.

Horse Racing.

There will be fourteen harness races for purses Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and some of the fastest horses in the country will compete in them. Exciting brushes are always seen at Trenton, and this year promises to be better than any other. Running races have also been ordered for each day, and the thrill that accompanies the sight of a flying jockey will be enjoyed, as some of the best turfmen in the country will be at the Fair.

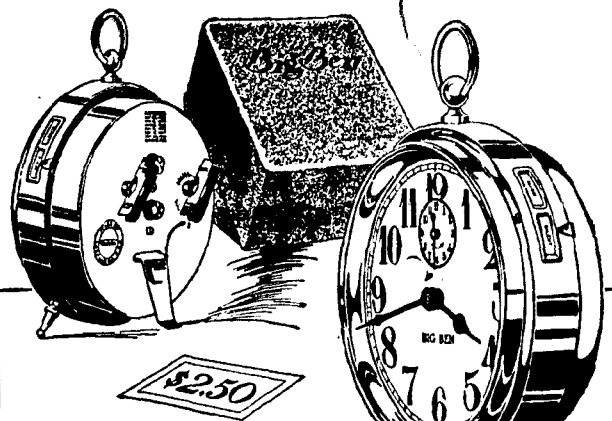

Automobile Contests.

Friday this year will be devoted to the automobilists. It is expected that nearly every important driver of a racing automobile in the east will compete in the races. Ralph De Palma, of course, will be at the head of the list. He formerly guided a Mercer car, but is now piloting a specially built Mercedes, which he got out of France just in time to escape the war. He is known as "the king of the track" and has won two Vanderbilt cup races. He is regarded as the greatest all around driver the game has ever produced.

Grover Bergdoll of the wealthy Bergdoll family in Philadelphia is expected to appear in his fast Erwin Special, and Jack De Clair and George Jessop are to have Chevrolet Specials. Mort Roberts, Joseph Horan, Longstretch and Willie Haupt are others who are expected to be seen in the six events that have been entered. Fast Mercer cars will also compete.

Educational Exhibits.

In keeping with a still greater amusement program the value and variety of the exhibits in all the buildings have been increased. A visit to the Exposition will be an educational treat.

Every Big Ben we have sold has sold us another, for every man we've sold has told another.

There is something about him that seems to open everybody's eyes, he gets a rise out of the drowsiest sleepers.

And he's not merely a bedroom clock—he's good looking enough for the mantel piece or the writing desk, for the office or the living room.

Next time you walk by the store, see how well he looks alongside of our cut glass and silverware.

Charles H. Stratton Is Called by Death

Charles H. Stratton passed away on Tuesday morning at his home on John street at the age of 81 years. He had been ill for the past three years, and at times was a great sufferer.

Mr. Stratton was on the retired list of the Pennsylvania Railroad, having been in the employ of this road as well as its predecessor the Old Camden and Amboy Railroad. For many years he was dock foreman on the coal piers. After his retirement with the P. R. R. he took up the agency for the Union News Company in this city, which during his illness has been ably managed by his grand daughter, Mrs. Richard Lowndes. Mr. Stratton was a member of the General Morgan Lodge No. 96, I. O. O. F., and of Good Samaritan Lodge No. 52, K. of P. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John Taylor of this city.

The funeral was held from his late residence at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, the Rev. E. R. Tilton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating at the service. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends to pay their last respects. Interment was made in Christ Church cemetery. Stillwell & Mason were funeral directors.

PEACE SUNDAY IN

THE M. E. CHURCH

Next Sunday will be observed as Peace Day and also as Rally Day in the M. E. Church. In obedience to the proclamation issued some time ago by President Wilson, the preparations have been made for a day that should be of great interest to the whole church congregation. The two services of "Peace and Rally" will be combined. There is to be a prayer for Peace and appropriate hymns are to be sung. The pastor will preach a brief sermon on the subject of "Peace." There will also be the service of Holy Communion.

The first pulpit ever used in the church will be used for the services during the day and also the original organ. This organ is a small parlor organ that was used in the old church and it will be used for at least one of the hymns sung at each service.

In the afternoon the Sunday School will observe Rally Day also in all of its departments. All the pupils and teachers are expected to be present and an extraordinary big rally is looked for. The Epworth League will have a roll call at the service too.

Then in the evening the services will consist chiefly of an address by the pastor and a special service by the children of the Sunday School. It is the intention to make the day as a whole one of great interest and enthusiasm for the whole congregation and others as well.

M. P. CHURCH NOTES

In the absence Thursday evening of the class leader, Mr. Fulton, the assistant Mr. Clayton took charge and led a helpful class meeting, after which the pastor assumed charge of the prayer service.

Last Friday evening the last quarterly conference of the year was held when reports and representatives of each department of the church were present. The regular business was transacted and very encouraging reports were made and all voted the past year one of progress and success. A large attendance.

At the quarterly meeting a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Berrien for the provision they have made for a number of years in providing the elements for the Love Feast and the Lord's Supper; also was the same given to Mr. Peter Stults, the Ladies' Aid, and Usher's Association for special services, they all have rendered. Surely what they have done and are doing is highly appreciated by pastor, congregation and friends.

Last Sunday morning was the last quarterly meeting of the old conference year. The usual Experience Meeting, Love Feast and Communion of the Lord's Supper was observed. It was a deep spiritual service, and all were helped who attended. We were pleased to have some present, although weak in body yet they made a special effort to be at the communion service. Oh, that all professing christians would do the same.

The usual Junior C. E. meeting was held at 2 p. m. Sunday. A nice attendance, yet it is hoped that parents will instruct their children who come to attend and not simply stay outside around the door. It is getting cool and more comfortable to come.

The Juniors are still at the mastering of the books of the Bible. Cards with the names of the various books are being distributed so all can memorize them.

There was a fine attendance at the Sunday School and everyone of the officers and teachers present. This was a good showing. A nice review of the quarter's lesson was indulged. There was another surprise at the school last Sunday when a secret box (held by the Ladies' Aid who have done so nobly for the church) was opened and the contents of over $25.00 was given through the school to the parsonage fund, making very near $400 the school has turned to the fund this year. We would just like to thank the members and many friends for the help they have given this past year, and in fact the past pastorate of the present occupant of the pulpit who feels that not only the members of our own church but other churches and friends of the city, have done much towards making the work of this church a success. See Hebrews, Chapter 6, verse 10.

The new visiting (or sunshine) committee of the Sunday School has already entered upon their work of missionary effort, and the home class visitors, we expect, will perfect plans in the very near future for their visitation to various homes.

Mr. Fred Leonard led the Senior C. M. service at 6.45 and it would have done older people and Bible Scholars good to have heard this young man speak on the topic, "Every Christian a Missionary," and supporting his argument with very appropriate passages of holy scripture. A visit to this meeting will do you good.

The song service began at 7.30 instead of 7.45 the now hour set by the quarterly conference. Please note the change followed by preaching on Isaiah 43, 25, when a very interesting spiritual service was held.

The last monthly offering for conference was lifted last Sunday evening.

With the monthly offerings and assessments that came in the donation to conference work this year will be greater than last year by about $10.00, and $32.00 more than in 1912. Thus as we gave to others God has given to us.

We were very sorry that some were disappointed last Thursday in not getting any of that wonderful home-made hard clam chowder. There were almost enough orders in before it was done to take the whole 45 quarts. We hope the next time to solicit the orders ahead and make enough so all can be served and none disappointed.

Next Sunday is the closing Sunday of this conference year when the pastor and delegate, Mr. Peter Jorgenson, will next week leave for the seat of the annual conference of the Methodist Protestant Church, Eastern District, at Atlantic City. The pastor has received a unanimous call to return for the fourth year and delegate has been so instructed. Let us make this last Sunday one of spiritual blessing and thanksgiving to God for the many blessings received from him during the entire year.

The closing sermons for next Sunday will be appropriate for the occasion. It is to be hoped that those who very seldom get to church on Sunday morning will try to be present next Sunday morning as well as in the evening.

Subject next Sunday morning "What God Will Remember." Subject next Sunday evening "Holding up the Pastor's Hands."

The usual weekly social was given by the Ushers' Association of the M. P. Church, Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peterson on Augusta street, consisting of a fine watermelon cut, ice cream and cake. There was a good social time in games, humorous readings, etc. Charles Sprague, Jr., South Amboy's, popular barber, enlivened the evening with his fine phonograph, which was appreciated by all. A neat sum was realized for the association.

FINE WHITE VEILS.

Frenchwomen Are Wearing Them Now In Elaborate Patterns.

The Parisiennes wear fine white wash veils with hats. Many of the veils have elaborate spider's web designs worked all over them, but one of the latest beauty veils is made of fine white wash tulle, with spots worked all over its surface in colored linen thread. For example, a white tulle veil is worked over with butcher blue linen spots, or the same tulle is combined with pale heliotrope linen thread. The spots are at some little distance from one another, and the veils are delightfully light and summerlike.

Parisiennes are very careful about their veils. They have them frequently washed or cleaned, and they do not hesitate, in the first instance, to pay very high prices for them. It is a charming idea to wear wash veils, and these only, with hats covered with white fabrics.

Wear Jet Ornaments.

Jet will be worn by every one this season. Jet ornaments with a white gown or with a black and white costume are considered especially chic. Pictured here is a cut jet pendant.

JET PENDANT AND NECKLACE.

which may be worn on a band of ribbon velvet. The necklace, also illustrated, is an elegant affair and is made up of large cut jet beads alternated by ornaments built up of small ones. It is finished with a handsome pendant.

Fall Trimmings.

Among smart fall trimmings are radium cup spangles, beaded fringe, tassels, ornaments of jet and of fancy braid. Binding braids promise to have much use.

Thought Gorilla a Myth.

It is a strange fact of natural history that the gorilla was unknown to science until the middle of the last century, when there was a migration of the animals from the interior of Africa towards the coast, probably in quest of food. The first scientific investigation of the great ape was made by an American missionary, Rev. Leighton Wilson. He was met with fears that "there ain't no such animal," until, towards the close of 1846, he obtained a skull and sent it to the Boston Museum of Natural History.

CHRIST CHURCH CHRONICLES

"Peace Sunday," October 4, will be observed at Christ Church with appropriate services. The Holy Communion at 8 a. m. will be offered with special prayer and intention for a world-peace, and at the late service, at 10.30 the Rector's theme will be "The Crime of the Centuries." Let all our people be present and unite with us in a petition that the battle flags may soon be furled and the dreadful hostilities ended speedily. We would also remind our people that next Sunday is the first of the month, in order that they may be prepared to make their communion. Let the Altar Rail be thronged with the faithful on that day.

There will be a special meeting of the men of the Parish in the Parish House on next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of effecting the organization of a Men's Club, the aims of which shall be to promote acquaintance and fellowship among men of the parish and community and to minister in helpful ways to their moral and intellectual life. Let every man who is in any manner affiliated with Christ Church and its Chapels be present at that time. We do not care whether you are Episcopal Churchmen, or whether you are Churchmen at all. Any man in the community who is in sympathy with the broad and liberal purpose of the Club, as outlined above, is heartily welcome to join with us in this movement. It is probable that the Club will meet once each month during eight months of the year, and that each meeting will be made interesting and worth-while by some special feature, such as an address, or lecture, or discussion by some out-of-town speaker. There may be some special features of entertainment at the first meeting next Tuesday night, if time permit, although there will be much business to transact. Of course, those who love "the fragrant weed" will be permitted to bring their stogies or hookahs and make a "burnt offering" to their heart's content. Now, Men of Christ Church Parish, the women of our Church have shown us in St. Martha's Guild what can be done by effective organization, and let us show them that their example is not lost upon us. Therefore, get busy!

Let every loyal member of Christ Church Parish mark on the calendar the date, Thursday, October 8, and reserve it as sacred, for that is the time of the "Parish Social and Oyster Supper," which the indefatigable workers of St. Martha's Guild are preparing for our enjoyment. Supper will be served in the Parish House from 5 to 10, and a program of music and an hour of social converse will give you a most pleasant evening. At the low price charged for the supper—25 cents—it is impossible to make much more than expenses, but if the affair shall have helped to promote the social life of the Parish, we feel amply repaid for all the work involved. Let us show our appreciation of the efforts of St. Martha's Guild by coming out in full force.

At a special meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary held last Monday afternoon it was decided to take up the course of study recommended by the General Board of Missions, viz., the book entitled "The Social Aspects of Modern Missions." The Auxiliary will meet on the afternoon of the third Monday of each month at 2.30 at the homes of the members and there will be a leader appointed for the study at each meeting. We commend the faithful few who have carried on the work of the Auxiliary in this Parish, but there should be a much larger membership. The dues have been reduced from $3 per year to ten cents a month. Mrs. Alfred Miller is the new President. The other officers remain as last year. The Auxiliary has done noble service in the past, and we predict that it is now entering upon an era of enlarged usefulness.

A very important meeting is that to be held in the Parish House to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 4 o'clock. We speak of the call meeting of all who are interested in continuing the Sewing School. This is one of the few features of institutional work which the parish has attempted and it would grieve the Rector much to see the work abandoned through lack of helpers. If the work of the school is continued this year, we shall sorely need more teachers. Who will volunteer for this good work? Come and let us talk things over together to-morrow afternoon.

The Standing Committee of the Diocese of New Jersey has issued notice of a special convention to be held in Trinity Church, on next Wednesday, 10 a. m., for the purpose of choosing and electing a Bishop for the Diocese, and for any other necessary business that pertains to said election. Each parish is allowed two votes, one Clerical and one lay. The lay deputies from Christ Church Parish are: Messrs. Ambrose M. Gordon, William P. Nichols and George H. Mack; the provisional deputies are: Messrs. Joseph Wilson, Herbert S. Berrien and J. H. Courvoisier.

The Autumn Vestry Meeting will be held in the Parish House on next Tuesday night immediately after the adjournment of the Men's Club. Very important business is to come before the meeting at that time and a full representation is imperative.

Seemed to Him Wasteful.
A young Frenchman was being shown about Calderstones park by an English friend. "What a fine place this would make for shooting. Look at the birds flying about," said the Frenchman. The Englishman replied to the effect that, with certain exceptions, it was the spirit of the country to encourage bird life. The son of Gaul shook his head and observed half-sorrowfully. "It does seem a pity that all this food should be flying around and no use made of it."

Evolution.
If the theory of evolution "has been overthrown" the fact is not generally known. So far from being "overthrown" the theory is stronger today, say the leading scientists, than it ever was. Indeed, so these scientists inform us, the theory of evolution is now accepted by the faculties of the great learned institutions of the world and is taught as part of the general education.—Chicago Examiner.

APPLY SLOAN'S FREELY FOR LUMBAGO

Your attacks of Lumbago are not nearly so hopeless as they seem. You can relieve them almost instantly by a simple application of Sloan's Liniment on the back and loins. Lumbago is a form of rheumatism, and yields perfectly to Sloan's, which penetrates quickly all in through the sore, tender muscles, limbers up the back and makes it feel fine. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatica and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS.

Grand Opera House.

"The Dummy," the now famous detective comedy, which has had a wonderful run at the Hudson Theatre, where it opened last season to instant success, will move direct to the Grand Opera House week of October 5, where it will be presented with the same remarkable cast that has delighted New York theatre-goers during its long run at the Hudson. The original company to be seen at the Grand Opera House consists of Ernest Truex, who plays the role of the "Boy Detective," Edward Ellis whose "Spider" has been one of the features of the play; beautiful Jane Oaker, Joseph Brennan, Edith Shayne, Frank A. Connor, H. A. LaMotte, Gus Forbes, John A. Wheeler, John Winthrop, Nicholas Judels and little Joyce Fair. "The Dummy" is too well known to require an introduction to Grand Opera House audiences, for it is one of the successes of the year that seems likely to take its place as a permanent laugh-maker of the American stage. It is what is known popularly as a "tattling good" comedy, written by Harvey O'Higgins and Harriet Ford, authors of "The Argyle Case," with four acts of good fun, exciting plot, "heart interest" and clever characterizations. It was founded on the "Detective Barney" stories of Mr. O'Higgins, originally published in Collier's, which chronicled the real exploits of a real boy detective. Hence the intimate hold this young sleuth of "The Dummy" has secured on audiences as a piece of reality and a loveable study of universal boyhood. "The Dummy" comes to the Grand Opera House direct from its long run at the Hudson Theatre and with the same splendid cast that has been delighting New Yorkers all summer. Prices remain the same as usual; Evenings 25c to $1.00; Saturday matinee 25c, 50c and 75c; Wednesday matinee 25c and 50c.

SHORT COURSES IN AGRICULTURE

The Short Courses in Agriculture offered in connection with the New Jersey State Agricultural College at New Brunswick, will open this year on November 16, and continue for a period of twelve weeks. Provision is made for a holiday recess during Christmas Week, but the students will be required to attend all lectures given during Farmer's week, which is scheduled to open on December 29.

Four separate courses are offered in connection with this work:

First: Course I in General Agriculture and Dairy Farming is outlined to meet the demand of the student who is interested or engaged in general farming. The subject matter offered relates primarily to farm conditions and practices that exist, or are adapted to New Jersey. Second: Course II is a special course designed to meet the demand of the fruit-grower or the man interested in market-gardening. New Jersey is notably a fruit and market-gardening State, and this line of endeavor is deserving of extensive development. Third: Course III provides for a complete course in poultry husbandry. It is admitted that the poultry industry of New Jersey is approaching extensive development and that the keen competition that prevails, requires special training and preparation. Fourth: Course IV provides work in domestic science and domestic art. Practical demonstrations in cooking, sewing, millinery and allied subjects are given, and the girls are thus trained to meet the many problems of home-making.

The work as outlined is eminently practical and fittingly prepares the student for actual work on the farm and in the home. Young men and women who have completed one of more of the courses, have found it of inestimable value. Residents of the State may enter without entrance examinations and with free tuition privileges. The new agricultural building provides additional lecture and laboratory rooms and equipment, and the teaching force has been reinforced to such an extent that it will be possible to care for an increased number of students during the coming winter. Those interested in the courses as offered, may obtain additional information and complete schedule of courses by addressing Frederick C. Minkler, Director Short Courses in Agriculture at New Brunswick, New Jersey.

Sporting Comment.

GAME ENDED IN DISPUTE.

The High School Football Team, headed by Prof. Hendrickson, Miss Fulton and several of the boys and girls of our school, hiked a trolley, to Metuchen last Saturday afternoon, to do honors in leading over the Metuchen football team.

Before reaching Metuchen it was necessary to exchange trolley cars. For size this car was so small that some of the boys had to stick their heads out of the window to sneeze, for fear the top of the dinky trolley would blow off.

Prof. Hendrickson was compelled to sit in the middle of the car because it was liable to lose its equilibrium, thus we arrived at Metuchen without an accident.

The toss was won by Metuchen who selected to defend the west goal. Our line composed mostly of new material was determined to make good, and held Metuchen scoreless in the first quarter.

In the second quarter our team did some hard pounding on the left wing of the Metuchen team and sent Grace over the line for the first touchdown, but Craig failed to make the kick on account of the heavy wind.

In the third quarter Kwilinski made a fifteen yard run around the right end of the Metuchen squad for a touchdown, then he kicked a goal, making the score 13 to 0 in favor of our team. Then Thompson of the Metuchen team succeeded in making a touchdown, and Robinson made a kick, which made the score 13 to 7.

Three times during the game we were penalized by Breen, the Metuchen referee. But it was not until Molineaux, Metuchen's right end who grabbed the ball which was dead, and made a touchdown without opposition, that a dispute arose, but Breen declared that the touchdown was fairly scored. This decision, however, was not approved by umpire McGregor who claimed that the progress of the ball had been stopped.

During the dispute a soccer game was started but shortly the Metuchen team left the field, leaving our husky warriors all alone by their lonesome. The night was coming on and we boys being afraid to go home in the dark, decided to put on our clothes and trolley back to dear old South Amboy.

The line up was as follows:

S. A. H. S.	Metuchen
Craig	Molineaux
Shaw	right end
Lewis, Furman	MacGuinness
Hoffman	right tackle
Dill	center
Kwilinski	right halfback
Grace	quarterback
Touchdowns, Grace, Kwilinski, Thompson, Goals from touchdowns, Kwilinski, Robinson, Referee, Breen, of Metuchen, Umpire, McGregor, of Perth Amboy, Linemen, Quackenbush, Scully and Green. Time of quarters, eight and ten minutes.

POWDER WORKS WIN

A DOUBLE HEADER

The Powder Works team played the Sayre & Fisher combine a double header last Saturday and won both games. The scores were 8 to 6 and 6 to 4. Hackett pitched both games for the Powder Makers and was easily the superior of his opponents. At all stages he apparently had the game right in the hollow of his large and capable hands. He was received by Witzlak in his usual brilliant style. Loches did the hurling for the brick makers and was received by Auer. Loches seemed to get stronger after the first game and in the second contest he fanned six of the first seven men to face him. A peculiar feature of the games was that the winners got their winning runs in the losing innings of each game. In the first of the second game, the Powder Works team won three men on base.

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

I. S. P. & C. Co.	11 7 .611
Sayre & Fisher Co.	8 9 .481
Herman-Aukam Co.	4 11 .263
S. A. Terra Cotta Co.	3 14 .176

SPORTING NOTES.

The Y. M. C. A. did not play any game in the South Shore League last Saturday. There was none scheduled for them and none of the postponed games had been arranged for.

The local Terra Cotta team and the Herman-Aukam team did not play last Saturday either. No reason is given.

Wonder what's become of the Female Basketball team that "Brosie" was so enthusiastically promoting early in the summer?

Forfeits are becoming surprisingly frequent when our local athletes go out to play.

The Empire baseball team is still anxious to arrange a game with the Y. M. C. A. team. How about it?

It is said that the manager of the local Empires, a strong junior team, had made arrangements with manager of the local Y. M. C. A. to play on Star Field last Saturday. None of Y. M. C. A. players knew anything about, however, and the Empire team were very much disappointed when they appeared and found no team ready to oppose them.

The manager of the Middlesex Embroidery Works team, so we heard the other night, called up late in the forenoon last Saturday and wanted to arrange a game between his team and the Y. M. C. A. for the afternoon. Arrangements could not be made to get a team together so no agreement was reached. (Wonder if they'll declare a forfeit in favor of the needlers?)

The Middlesex Embroidery Works team and the International Smokeless Powder and Chemical Company team expect to play their remaining game in the schedule of the South Shore League to-day (Saturday). The game will probably be played on the South River diamond, and it is expected that it will be a bitterly contested struggle throughout.

The Riversides will represent Keyport in the basketball world this winter. Which brings up the question, will there be a basketball team in this city this year?

The Charlotte Five of New Brunswick would like to arrange basketball games with any team rating from 120 to 140 pounds on the opponents' courts. Send all challenges to Harry C. Housell, Manager, P. O. Box 55, New Brunswick, N. J.

PROBLEMS IN MAGNETISM.

Work of the Carnegie in Charting the Erratic Currents.

When the Carnegie, the sailing vessel which circumnavigated the globe charting the earth's magnetic currents, returned recently to New York it had been away four years and covered a distance of 93,000 miles. The scientists of the Carnegie wished to chart the vagaries of the magnetic currents which the mariner relies upon to guide him safely across the pathless seas.

There are many things remaining to be learned about magnetism. Why do the magnetic poles change their location? They have changed in the course of the last century in some places as much as five degrees, and in some parts of the earth they may change ten degrees in the course of the same period of time. It is necessary for the sailor to know the worldwide as well as the local deviation in order to determine to what extent his compass will change in sailing a certain course, at what points the changes will occur and the allowance which must be made in each case to avoid shipwreck.

The supplying of magnetic charts and compass data is one of the chief objects of the magnetic survey which the Carnegie is making. It is expected that it will require fifteen years to complete this work. It is reported that many errors in existing charts were found and corrected. The instruments have been taken to Washington for tests in order that any inlets in the data may be detected and changed.

COAT FOR GOLFERS.

Useful and Smart Wrap For Early Autumn Sports.

For fall sports the coat pictured here is smart and pleasing. The wrap is of white cotton adorned with a stenciled border in blue and white and caught in front with a fringed sash. The coat may be worn with a little white sports hat of the same material.

LIGHTSHIP PERILS.

Safety of the Vessel and Its Crew is the Last Consideration.

Among the unsung heroes of this country are the members of the light-house service, which is entirely distinct from the life saving service. The entire lighthouse corps designed to warn ships of danger points covers 100,000 miles of coast line and reaches from Alaska to Panama, the maintenance of it costing approximately $6,000,000 a year. It has about 13,000 "aids to navigation," including light-houses, lightships, bell buoys, tenders, submarine signals, and fog signals.

A lightship must be kept always in one particular place. Anchored to the bottom of the sea, she has her steam always up, but she never sails unless relieved by another ship so that she may put into port for repairs. And such a boat is used because a warning must be given at a place where it is impossible to build a lighthouse and where even the clamor of a gigantic bell buoy is not sufficient to warn the navigator. No matter how fiercely the storm beats or how desperate may be the boat's plight, she must stay at her moorings. The only movement she is allowed to make under the regulations is to sink when at last she can withstand the gale no longer.

Throughout the service, both in the light-houses and on the vessels, there is one object, one dominating creed—to keep the light burning and the whistle blowing. This is the supreme work of the men's existence. And it would bring them deserved recognition if the government ever published a list of those who have lost their lives in the line of such perilous duty.

For about $1,000,000 a year these men and their craft save from disaster the billions of dollars' worth of shipping and commerce that come to American shores.—Popular Magazine.

Fortunate People.

It has been rightly said that "the fortunate people—the truly fortunate—are not so much those who succeed in life as those who succeed in living a beautiful life."

ODDS AND ENDS
Master John Fitch has been quite ill the past week.
Quite a number of local people visited the Trenton Fair this week.
Benjamin Strausser has sold his Mitchell automobile to William Allen of Elizabeth.
C. H. Muirhead and family have returned from their summer home at Avon-by-the-Sea.
The boys and girls in the eighth grade of the grammar school have separate recitations.
The Ushers' Union of the M. E. Church held a meeting Tuesday evening and planned out the fall work.
Mr. and Mrs. Emil Linke entertained a large number of friends at their home at Four Corners last Saturday in honor of Mr. Linke's birthday.
Sigfried Emilhusen, removed his place of residence from the corner of Broadway and Henry street to the corner of Broadway and George street last Tuesday.
The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Presbyterian Church this Sunday morning, October 4th. All members please bear this sacred obligation in mind.
Next Thursday night a prayer meeting will be held in the M. E. Church. A rally and a large attendance is desired in order to start properly for the season's work.
There were eighteen enrollments on Thursday evening for the night school which opens on Monday evening next. It is proposed to run the school ten weeks this year, instead of sixteen as last year.
It is said that the copying on the retaining wall along the grounds of No. 1 school is not designed according to the plans and specifications and the Board of Education have expressed themselves as being determined that they shall be adhered to.
For the first time in many years the old pulpit of the old M. E. Church will again be put in use in that church next Sunday. The old parlor organ formerly used in the church will also be used for the rendition of at least one of the hymns.
Two freight trains that operate between Camden and Jersey City over the Trenton Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be withdrawn next Monday between this city and Jersey City, and the trains will terminal here instead of at Jersey City.
The coal shipping business again seems to have reached its normal stage and work is consequently fairly plentiful for the men employed. The business does not, however, anywhere near equal that which was being done about this time last year.
Mr. Garrett Barry returned to his home on Henry street last Monday. Mr. Barry has been an inmate of St. Michael's Hospital for nearly a year. He went there for treatment for a broken leg received by falling from his porch.
The curtailment of expenses by the Pennsylvania Railroad still continues and evidences of it are cropping up from time to time. Beginning last Monday the car inspecting force at coal yards near Old Bridge was reduced by half, both the night and day forces being affected.
Next Monday night the Ladies' Auxiliary of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. V. Newell James. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans for the coming fall's work. A large attendance is hoped for as questions of considerable importance will be introduced.
BARGE DESTROYED BY FIRE.
A barge belonging to Oliver Costello, of Augusta street, caught fire early Monday morning and burned down to the water's edge. The barge lay at her moorings near the P. R. R. freight pier when the fire was discovered about three o'clock. She was too far up for tugs to get near enough to use a hose as the tide was low and the water not deep enough for them. Sparks from the blaze ignited several old wrecks near the old ship yard and caused considerable alarm on account of a string of box cars that were likely to catch fire. The wind, however, was in the wrong direction for this and the fire companies were able to extinguish the blazing wrecks and thus render danger to the cars. The barge named the "J. J. Costello" used for the coal shipping.

MORE TALK ON AVENUE'S WIDTH
wished to hold up the issuing of the tax bills the matter should be turned over to the proper committee. He did not think that the committee on streets had anything to do with the committee on taxes.
Councilman Slover stated that they were wasting time and accused the councilman from the Second ward of talking for the benefit of the gallery and the newspaper men as well as for the purpose of making himself heard. He stated that he would, however, concede to the objection in that the proper place for this matter was in the hands of the tax board. Mr. O'Connor apologized to Mr. Slover if he had offended him but said that otherwise he didn't think that the Second ward knew that there was a street committee for the streets over there. Councilman Slover withdrew his motion, and Mr. O'Connor substituted one to the effect that the tax maps be turned over to the tax assessors and if found correct be referred to the tax collector for immediate issue. This motion was then carried.
A resolution introduced by Councilman Chevalier provided for the placing of an arc light light between Stevens avenue and Pine avenue on David street. The resolution was adopted and a long and much needed improvement authorized.
Councilman Stanton stated that his attention had been called to a bad spot in Stevens avenue and he moved that the matter be referred to the street commissioner to ascertain the cause of the trouble. Motion carried.
A map of the proposed extension of the sanitary sewers on Catherine, Feltus, Leffert and Ferris streets was submitted by Councilman Slover together with a motion to the effect that the clerk advertise for bids for the construction thereof. Motion adopted.

UNDERWENT OPERATION.
Miss Maude Van Buren of Broadway underwent a serious operation in St. Michael's Hospital last Saturday.
For some time Miss Van Buren has been taking treatment for a trouble that resembled an abscess in the ear. On Friday last her trouble became suddenly acute and Dr. Meacham advised immediate removal to the hospital for an operation. The parents, however, consulted a Perth Amboy specialist before taking this course of action. The specialist's opinion coincided with the local practitioner. He also prescribed rather strenuous methods to prevent disastrous consequences occurring before the operation could be performed. The removal to the hospital took place Saturday morning and a hurried operation performed that afternoon.
Although the operation was of a very serious nature and the patient's condition was for a time also very serious her many friends will be pleased to know that at present Miss Van Buren is gaining beyond the expectations of the physicians in charge. As soon as she can be moved she will be brought to her home in this city and the necessary treatment continued by visitation.

THE SOUTH AMBOY CITIZEN.

Entered in the Post Office at South Amboy as second class mail matter.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1914.

J. David Stern, formerly owner of the New Brunswick Times, has purchased a controlling interest in the Springfield (Ill.) Evening News.

The outlook for a ship canal across the State is more promising than ever. Secretary of the Navy Daniels is greatly in favor of it, as it might prove of immense strategic importance in the event of war. On October 16, the members of the joint appropriations committee of the Senate and Assembly will make an inspection of the route.

Upon advice from the State Board of Education the Board of Education of Woodbridge has rescinded its rule on compulsory vaccination, and will leave the option entirely with the parents of the children. This would seem to be a very sensible conclusion to reach.

CARROLL-CONNORS.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated in St. Mary's Church at 7 o'clock on Wednesday morning, when Miss Mary Connors, daughter of Former Street Commissioner John Connors, became the happy bride of Mr. Michael J. Carroll, of George street. Rev. Father E. P. Kennedy performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass.

Miss Margaret Connors, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and Mr. Richard Carroll was bestman. A wedding breakfast followed at the home of the bride, after which the happy couple left town on a brief wedding tour.

A SOCIAL EVENT.

A very pleasant evening's entertainment was enjoyed by a number of young people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peppier on David street. The entertainment consisted of a party prepared by their daughters and some friends who were spending the week end with them. The evening was quickly passed and hugely enjoyed by all the merry-makers. Parlor games and music furnished the amusements and a very daintily served and delicate refreshments lent zest to the pleasures. The party broke up at the conventional time and the guests departed to their various domiciles. Amongst those present were: Miss Mabel Slover, Miss Bernice Bogart, Miss Josephine James, Miss Ruth Stratton, Miss Gladys Emmons, Miss Elva Peppier, Miss Beatrice Perkins, Miss Hazel Peppier, Miss May Locker, Miss Myra Deltrick, Miss Theresa Gager and Miss Edith Arnold, of Spotswood, Miss Millicent Hargit, of Newark, Mr. Holmes Oliver, Mr. Lee Stults, Mr. Arthur Allen, Mr. P. H. Locker, Frederick Lear and Frank Stephenson.

EXCURSION TO MAUCH

CHUNCK AND GLEN ONOKO

One of the most delightful excursions at this time of the year, is a trip to Mauch Chunk and Glen Onoko, the Switzerland of America. In order to give the people of this vicinity an opportunity to enjoy a day among the mountains in autumn, the Central Railroad of New Jersey will run an excursion to these places on Thursday next, leaving this city at 7.59 a. m., for the low rate of $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children. If a ride is desired over the world famous Switchback Railroad a ticket can be had for 50c extra, if purchased on the train. Should you have the time and the money this trip will afford you great pleasure.

OSCAR MICHAEL & CO'S OPENING, NEWARK.

One of the most interesting events in Newark this coming week promises to be the grand Fall Opening and Style Exhibition of Oscar Michael & Co., Broad & Cedar streets, Newark, who have chosen the event to show fashions and new Fall Merchandise that will add even greater prestige to that well known store, which was founded nearly sixty years ago by the late W. V. Snyder, one of the most noted of Newark's prominent merchants.

Since the transfer not long ago to the new owners, the store has undergone a thorough reorganization and rehabilitation making it practically a new store. On page seven will be found further details of this interesting opening event.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL.

I hereby inform my friends and patrons that on and after October 5, I will be located at No. 26 First street, near Broadway, where I will continue to do the very best work in shoe repairing, and at popular prices. Thanking all for patronage in the past, I hope to continue to receive the same in the future, and besides trust that my new prices will be the means of increased trade.

DANIEL BUNTING, Sr.

SCHOOL BOARD ACTS ON REPORT

whole grammar school of building No. 2 and thus pave the way for weekly exercises of and by the pupils themselves.

A calendar was prepared and submitted by Professor Barr with the suggestion that it be adopted. The calendar specifies the various holidays and times during which the schools shall remain closed. The calendar was adopted.

The night school came in for considerable discussion. Mr. Hendrickson was asked if he would care to accept the position of principal of the night school, to which he replied that unless it was the express wish of the board he would rather not do so. He called attention to the unusually long day that it would necessitate if he accepted which he almost felt it his duty to do. After much discussion of the subject the matter was left in the hands of the city superintendent and the committee on teachers. They are to provide the necessary teachers and the principal. From the discussion it was evident that the chief qualification sought in the principal would be that of a strong disciplinarian. Something of this kind will undoubtedly be needed for the pupils of the night school cannot be handled in the same manner as those attending in the day time.

A great deal of time was devoted to the discussion of the payment of substitute teachers when employed to fill temporary vacancies. The suggestion put forth in the report of the city superintendent was in effect that the board pay the substitute teacher and then deduct the amount from the regular teacher's salary check. Then at the end of the year their legal claims for refundment could be recognized. In this way the system would be much simpler and it would relieve the present necessity of auditing a large number of these bills for substitute teaching. The matter was finally referred to the committee on rules and regulations.

The next suggestion brought up was the need of a new and up-to-date encyclopedia. Professor Barr stated that the one at present in use was dated 1900 and that the need of a new one was paramount. He recommended the International and stated that this edition was just coming from the press and would cost about ninety dollars. The publishing company would allow the board about thirty dollars for the old edition that they had and the new edition would have to be paid for only as it came from the press. Thus the board would have approximately two years to pay for the edition. Upon motion of Mr. Littell the suggestion was adopted.

The manual training supplies came up for some discussion. It developed that the secretary had failed to notify the successful bidder of the awardment of the contract. He, the secretary, maintained that he had not seen the list of supplies as yet and had not therefore notified the contractor. Subsequent discussion enlightened the secretary to the effect that it was not necessary for him to see the list or to know what was wanted, just to notify the successful bidder would be sufficient.

Upon motion of Mr. Littell the report of the city superintendent that had received so much attention was ordered attached to the records of the board.

The principals of the two schools were present and upon being asked if they had any suggestions to make Mr. Hendrickson replied that there were two things he would like to consider. One was to ask them to definitely define the limits of his authority, the other was a suggestion that the board procure some one to teach the pupils to sing songs. He stated that there were about a dozen old ones that they could sing fairly well but that he thought they should be taught others. In connection with the first request he stated that being on the school grounds early and also during the noon hour a few things came under his observation that he thought would merit his attention if he only had the proper authority. After some discussion of the subject a motion was offered by Mr. Fulton to the effect that the principal of the high school be also considered the principal of school No. 2, and his present contract modified accordingly. The motion was adopted.

Mr. Dawson brought up the question of the proposed lawn at School No. 1 encroaching upon the present play ground. This view was discussed and it was brought out that there would be no encroachment to any extent. It also brought up the question of protecting in some way the plot of ground that is to be sowed in with grass seed. After a lengthy discussion it was finally moved and carried that the committee on buildings and grounds erect a four-strand wire fence around the grass plot when completed, posts to be erected at about ten feet apart. It was thought that without something of this kind it would be practically impossible to get the grass to grow.

Another question that came in for considerable discussion was the schedule and duties of the special teacher. The board expressed themselves at some length on this subject as there seemed to be a little friction in this department. In order to remove, if possible, this friction the city superintendent was instructed to interview the special teacher and ascertain whether or not the special teacher understood the wishes of the board as expressed.

Lyceum Course Will be Notable One

A feast of good things in entertainments that will not only entertain, but instruct and inspire, has been arranged for our community this season. The Lyceum course is becoming more and more a permanent institution in every town and city.

Some communities which have had a Lyceum course for years boast of a larger per cent. of their young people in colleges than towns of similar size in the same localities which have not maintained a course. Many of our national problems, now considered paramount, were first presented in a forcible manner to the American people from the Lyceum and Chautauqua platforms. Much also has been done to elevate music and the entertainer's art from these platforms and to abolish or decrease the attendance upon mediocre and questionable shows.

The course of entertainments which are to appear here this season under auspices of The Woman's Club is booked through the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, the oldest and largest Lyceum in the world. The course will consist of the following attractions:

Friday, November 13—"The Hussars."

Thursday, December 3—"Maurer Sisters."

Friday, January 15—"Majorie Lacey."

Thursday, February 4—"Hinton-Verdi Co."

Work was begun last Monday on the grading of the grounds adjoining School No. 1 in anticipation of the completion of the retaining wall.

The Actor Headsman

He Conceived Himself to Be the Real Thing.

By F. A. MITCHEL

The tragedienne had played the role of Mary, queen of Scots, to a crowded house. Throughout the play the audience had sat spellbound, and during the last scene—that in which the queen is led to execution—not a sound was to be heard in the theater except what pertained to the melancholy procession on the stage. Then when the curtain fell just before the ax was supposed to fall on the beautiful neck resting on the block the hush gave place to long drawn breaths. The audience arose and passed out without the usual hum of conversation, but silently, as if the real tragedy of several centuries ago had been enacted.

The tragedienne entered her carriage at the stage door and was driven to her hotel. No one was about except the night clerk in the office and a call-boy. The tragedienne passed up to her room, in one of which a table was spread with a few light dishes. Throwing off her wraps, she seated herself and partook of the meal.

It was summer, and the window doors were open, giving access to a stone balcony without. The tragedienne was in the act of lifting a morsel to her lips when she paused and listened. There was a sound on the balcony. Then a figure stepped into the room.

Though a man, tall, lithe, muscular, his tread was as noiseless as that of a cat. He was clad in tight fitting black and on his shoulder carried an ax. On his head was a conical cap, and his features were covered by a mask. Notwithstanding this concealment the tragedienne recognized John Coyne, who through a long series of performmlt me to partake of meat and drink to gain strength to endure the ordeal.

"There is time for that," said Coyne, lowering his ax to the floor and supporting himself by the handle as he had done so often on the stage while waiting for her to speak her lines.

The tragedienne tried to resume her meal, but could not force herself to swallow the food. She drained a glass of wine and poured out another. This she did to give her strength to withstand the man who was bent on beheading her.

"John," she said by way of keeping her mind employed, "how did you come up here?"

"By means of a lattice."

"Could you go back the same way?"

"I could."

"I'll not be convinced unless I see you do it."

"That your majesty will never see. Before I go from here I'll sever that fair neck."

He said this with such determination that she saw her ruse had failed. She did not dare urge him. She was silent for a time, then tried another plan.

"When my neck is on the block, John, I wish you to strike with true aim. Let there be no bungling. To steady your arm drink a glass of wine."

She filled a goblet with the beverage and held it up to him with a pleading look. He refused it.

"If my arm is to be steady," he said, "the hand that directs it must be steady. Would you have me put an enemy into my head to steal away my brains?"

Another ruse had failed. The tragedienne sat trying to force herself to eat, while the madman stood resting on the handle of his ax waiting for her to finish.

"John," she said, "would you not go to my cousin Elizabeth and make a last appeal for me?"

"I go to the queen of England to ask for mercy for your majesty! A headman would not be admitted to audience, to say nothing of being granted the boon he would ask. Besides, so long as there is a queen of Scotland there is a barrier to a queen of England."

"Do you suppose that my cousin will, at my death, proclaim herself queen of the Scots?"

"You ask me questions of state, whereas I am but a headman. Come! I am ordered to strike the blow that leaves Scotland without a queen. Hark! The bell is tolling. The hour has arrived."

Though she could not see his features for the mask, she knew that his eye was wild with insanity. He lifted his ax, and she feared that he might swerve it against her.

"The block!" she cried. "Where is the block? Blindfolded, I cannot see it."

Extending his hand, he grasped hers. She arose from the table and took a few steps under his guidance. Then it occurred to her to direct by will power the way they should go. She tried to lead him to the electric button that she might ring the bell, but she had not dominated him, and they moved rather toward the window. Stopping before it, she said:

"Is your ax sharp? Can you finish the work with one blow?"

"It will serve its purpose."

"Let me feel of its edge."

Gently taking the ax from him, she ran her thumb over its blade and was somewhat relieved to find that it came from the property room of the theater, was the one he had so long used in the performance and was made of wood. There was consolation in this, but the weapon, if not sharp enough to cut off her head, was sufficiently formidable to beat out her brains.

"What?" she cried. "Do you propose to sever my head from my body with that blunt instrument? I'll submit to death, but not to mangling."

She tossed the ax out of the window.

The actor, who thought himself a veritable executioner, was disconcerted at his loss. He went out on the balcony, bent over the stone balustrade and looked down for his ax. The tragedienne, quick as a flash, closed the glass doors and turned the latch. Since they were not to be opened from the outside the lunatic could re-enter the room only by smashing the glass. But the tragedienne did not wait for him to do this. She ran to the door of the room, down the stairs and on reaching the night clerk fell fainting on the floor before him.

When she had revived and told her story the clerk called an officer, and together they went to the scene of what had nearly been a tragedy. All was quiet there. The policeman opened the window. The balcony was deserted. Evidently John Coyne had descended by the way he came. A search was made for him, and he was found on the street muttering to himself incoherently. He was taken to his lodging and the next day removed to an asylum.

The evening on which this incident occurred was the last on which the tragedienne played Queen Mary. Her manager, who was loath to lose and have her lose the profit that would accrue from her marvelous impersonation, used all his persuasive powers to induce her to continue, but without avail. She said she had driven one man mad under the strain and declared that if she continued to play the part she would in time follow him to bedlam. This ended the argument, and the next play in which she appeared afforded her a more cheerful part.

She also made a change in her habit of eating her supper after the night performance. Since her escape from an actor headman with a wooden ax she invariably has some friend to sup with her. If she fails to secure such a companion she goes to bed without a sup-

JERSEY FIREMEN OPPOSE

DIVISION OF $1,500,000

Charges from forces friendly to the Exempt Firemen's Association of the State, that the annual convention of the New Jersey Firemen's Association is a "junker," costing $11,500 that might be better devoted to the widows and orphans, evoked a storm of indignation among 1,200 delegates, representing 20,000 volunteer and paid firemen of New Jersey, on the Steel Pier at Atlantic City last week.

The Exempt Firemen's Association is fighting for a division of the princely surplus of $1,500,000 amassed by the State Firemen's Association and an allotment of one half of the 2 per cent. tax upon premiums now paid by all foreign insurance companies in New Jersey for the maintenance of firemen injured in the performance of duty and of their widows and orphans.

Roars of approbation greeted President E. Bird Spencer's report of how devious efforts at Trenton last winter to divide the State Association's huge reserve had been defeated after a strenuous fight in the closing hours of the legislative session, and the State Association voted, with delegates on their feet shouting defiance for their rivals, to fight to the last ditch a movement already on foot to vest control of the administration of this great fund in the State Department of Banking and Insurance.

President Spencer said the entire cost of administration last year, including salaries paid the officers of all of the 276 local relief associations in the State, had been but $7,198.38 and he challenged the enemy to produce any record of a private corporation doing so large a business so economically. All of the associations received a total of $264,396 last year and disbursed $254,367, of which amount $159,000 was paid directly to widows and orphans.

Secretary William Exall, of Newark, in resenting the junketing charge of the exempt associations of which there are 75 in the State, chiefly in Hudson county, asserted warmly that 263 of the 276 associations in the State Firemen's Association are composed of volunteers who receive little or no compensation and buy their uniforms and frequently their apparatus.

Administration forces were in control of the big meeting and President Spencer was re-elected for his 37th consecutive term. Other officers were chosen as follows:

Vice-presidents, first district, William Eldridge, Salem; second district, J. P. Saar, Palmyra; third district, Jesse Lawrence, Jr., Highlands; fourth district, Chief Willard Henry, Raritan; fifth district, Fred A. Trowbridge, Morristown; sixth district, J. J. Coleman, Hamburg; seventh district, John Kennell, Passaic; eighth district, Chief George Koeber, Bloomfield; ninth district, Chief Theodore S. Farrand, Verona; 11th district, Thomas B. McKee, Weehawken; 12th district, John W. Child, Jersey City.

Secretary William Exall, Newark; assistant secretaries, T. Howell Johnson, Bloomfield; Evan S. Benners, Moorestown; financial secretary, G. T. Everett, Hackettstown; treasurer, John J. Lane, Summit.

Cut Down in His Prime.
Early Brown county history says the first stake driven in laying out the county was soaked in whisky and placed in position by Brummett, who was the first commissioner of the county. Brummett was thrown from a pony when one hundred and years old, and killed.—Clatsop quiler.

"IT IS TIME FOR YOU TO PREPARE FOR THE BLOCK."

ances had taken the part of executioner in the play that was making her famous.

"Why, John! What brings you here at this time of night—without having changed your dress?"

"I have come to announce that it is time for you to prepare for the block."

Had the words not been spoken with evident seriousness the tragedienne might have fancied that the man was joking. Another feature conduced to make her think he was in earnest. It had been noticed that Coyne had recently been acting strangely. Some time before that he had asked to be given another part. The one he performed he had played so long that it had begun to pull on him. Night after night he had looked upon the queen of Scots enacting the scene leading up to the execution and had been under the influence of her impersonation of one whom he was about to behead. He had not given this as a reason for his desire to change; he had said that he was ambitious for a speaking part, whereas that of executioner was a silent one. But he had confessed to the tragedienne that while enacting the role he had felt himself to be a real headman.

It was this that caused the tragedienne to shudder at the solemn manner in which he had announced what he had come for. Indeed, she caught at once at an explanation of his strange coming. He was mad; he was armed with an ax. She was alone, with no means of summoning assistance except by an electric button, between which and her stood the lunatic. Besides, there was no one she could call who was capable of protecting her.

Persons when cornered by one whose mind is unbalanced, if they keep their own heads, naturally feel it necessary to humor the person they dread. The tragedienne saw at once that to oppose John Coyne would be to excite him. All she could hope for was to delay him that she might in the meanwhile conjure up some expedient by which to save herself.

"John," she said, "I ask but one boon of you. Before I pass to that bourne whence no traveler returns per-

WEEKLY LETTER TO FARMERS.

(By F. R. Stevens, Agriculturist, Lehigh Valley Railroad.)

Dr. Samuel Dixon, Commissioner of Health of the State of Pennsylvania, has issued a very timely interview on the subject of the control of rats about farm buildings. He calls attention principally to the damage done by these rodents. It is not necessary to repeat these statements here as every farmer knows only too well all of these damages. One damage emphasized by Dr. Dixon is less familiar than the others and that is the great damage done by rats in carrying disease to humans and animals from farm to farm. In this way, hog cholera, tuberculosis and many other diseases appear upon the farm and we cannot understand their source.

"Trapping is the most successful of all methods when followed by an experienced trapper. Rats have learned to be wily after their long and historical association with man and therefore cunning in tripping traps.

"There are many varieties of traps, such as the wire cage, the spring and barrel traps. A barrel can be arranged with a funnel, preferably made of metal, put in the end so that the rat can easily find its way into the barrel, from which it is difficult to escape owing to the small aperture through which he has entered in the center of the barrel."

It is a difficult matter to poison the rats. The preparation of mixing crude phosphorus in four times its bulk of oat meal, grated cheese or molasses is very satisfactory, but likely to set fire to the buildings. It is very hard to use a poison of any kind with the many chickens, hogs, dogs, etc., which we wish to protect.

Fumigation, if handled properly is very successful and the carbon bisulphide method recommended by him is most successful. "This is a volatile liquid, the fumes of which are heavier than air, which causes it to sink into holes or burrows of rats or other rodents and kill by asphyxiation. It is valuable in bubonic plague as it not only kills the rats, but any parasites that may happen to be on the animals, such as the fleas and lice."

Fall and Winter is the time for this work. At this time the rats are more about the buildings and by the joint action of the farmers of a locality they can be practically cleared out.

The largest hoisting machines in the world are installed in the mines of South Africa, but outside of these, a notable installation of this character is to be found in the Granite mountain shaft of the North Butte Mining company. This shaft is about being completed and will ultimately have a lift of 4,000 feet. The capacity from this point will be 200 tons an hour, while from the 2,000-foot level it will be 800 tons an hour. The hoisting drum is 12 feet in diameter, and will be driven by a direct connected electric motor supplied with power from a generator set provided with a 50-ton flywheel. The hoisting motor has a maximum intermittent rating of 4,500 horse power.

With the late Lord Strathecona's gift of $25,000,000, the first leper colony in the United Kingdom will be established next fall in a deserted part of Essex. There are now only 20 cases of leprosy in the entire United Kingdom. They are isolated, but widely scattered, and the bringing them together for care at a central colony will not only assure more comfort for the afflicted but will enable new research into the disease. A specially equipped hospital will be a part of the new colony.

The Canadian preacher who says the time will come when there will be no wars is probably thinking about the time when the earth will be covered with ice and the rays of the sun will no longer be warm enough to support life.

According to a symposium held in Brussels; the perfect woman should have the elegance of Frenchwomen, the complexion of an English girl, the hair of an Austrian, the eye of an Italian, and the profile of a Spaniard. Might as well give up the search.

Shriners Parade at Atlantic City.

Eight hundred members of Lu Lu Temple of the Mystic Shrine of Philadelphia paraded at Atlantic City Saturday afternoon. The column was led by the mounted patrol of the temple, under the command of Potestate W. Freeland Kendrick. After the parade the patrol gave an exhibition drill at Virginia avenue and the beach.

Borer—Chamberlain.

Miss Elva May Chamberlain of Cranbury was married to Edward W. Borer of Philadelphia at noon Monday at the home of the bride. Rev. J. E. Curry of the First Presbyterian Church, Cranbury, performed the ceremony. The couple left on a wedding tour and will be at home after November 15 at 5924 Carpenter street, West Philadelphia.

Miscellaneous Shower.

A miscellaneous shower was given Miss Fannie Carlisle, Thursday, Sept. 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Sayreville, in honor of her coming marriage to Joseph Norman. She received many beautiful gifts, consisting of china, cut glass, linen and silver ware.

Bishop Transfers Priest.

Bishop McPaul, of the Catholic diocese of New Jersey, has transferred the Rev. Peter J. Hart from Mount Holly to the church at North Plainfield. Father Hart went to Mount Holly fourteen years ago, and during his long rectorship his work for the welfare of the Sacred Heart church has shown remarkable results. In addition to spending thousands of dollars in improving the church property he has successfully reduced a church debt of about $14,000 to less than $1,000. The congregation also has greatly increased.

Seventeen to New Parishes.

Seventeen changes among the clergymen under his jurisdiction have just been announced by Bishop James A. McPaul, of Trenton.

Rev. John Kucker, a Trenton priest, has been made chaplain of Morris Hall at Lawrenceville. The present chaplain, Rev. Joseph Mahoney, will go to St. Joseph's Church at High Bridge.

Rev. Thomas Gribben, another Trenton priest, and formerly curate at the Sacred Heart Church there, has been appointed to the Sacred Heart Church in New Brunswick. He is now at St. Rose's Church at Belmar. Rev. Thomas Maher, now curate at St. Joseph's Church in East Trenton, has been appointed to the Immaculate Conception Church in Camden.

Hopewell and Florence are also affected by the changes. Rev. Peter Corr, now of St. Alphonsus Church, Hopewell, will go to St. Dorothy's Church at Eatontown. Rev. William H. McKean, now pastor at St. Clare's Church in Florence, has been named to the Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Bernardsville.

Other changes are as follows: Rev. James Hendrick to the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel at Moorestown; Rev. Joseph Rigney to Sacred Heart Church at Riverton; Rev. Thomas Hennessy of May's Landing to St. Clare's Church, Florence; Rev. Patrick J. Hart, from Mt. Holly to North Plainfield; Rev. P. J. Kelly to Mt. Holley from Oxford; Rev. Edward Whalen of Stone Harbor to Oxford; Rev. Aloysius Quinlan of Eatontown to St. Rose's Church, Haddon Heights; Rev. John Caulfield to Hopewell, St. Alphonsus Church; Rev. John P. O'Connor of High Bridge to St. Francis's Church, Metuchen; Rev. Alfred Scully of Hampton to St. Joseph's Church, Woodstown; Rev. John Caton of Asbury Park, to St. Ann's Church, Hampton.

Connor of High Bridge to St. Francis's Church, Metuchen; Rev. Alfred Scully of Hampton to St. Joseph's Church, Woodstown; Rev. John Caton of Asbury Park, to St. Ann's Church, Hampton.

Charged with Striking Crippled Boy.

Only the greatest diplomacy on the part of the officers of the State Home for Boys, Saturday afternoon, prevented a riot taking place. The trouble arose following the removal of "Heinie" Waldman from the game of baseball being played by the Home Stars and the Jamesburg Juniors. Officer Peter Carey, the umpire, sent the Waldman boy to his officer, at Griggs' cottage, in charge of James Bennett. Bennett is alleged by several eye-witnesses to have struck Waldman in the face with his fist, knocking him down. The Nicholson boy is charged with throwing one of his crutches to the Waldman boy to defend himself with, and this act is said to have caused Bennett to strike Nicholson over the head with the remaining crutch, cutting a deep scalp wound and rendering him unconscious. The Nicholson boy was received at the Home about a year ago and at the time was suffering from gangrene. He was taken to St. Peter's Hospital, New Brunswick, and had both legs amputated. The matter will probably be heard by the board of trustees on October 5.

Plan $400,000 Hotel at Long Branch.

Plans are being drawn for a $400,000 hotel on the site of the West End cottages at Long Branch. The structure will be four stories high, with 200 guests' rooms. It has the financial backing of Harry Content, a New York broker. The New York Club, which adjoins the West End Cottages site, may be purchased for part of the new hotel site.

Miss Deegan Re-Elected President.

Miss Margaret Deegan, of New Brunswick, was re-elected president of the Ladies Auxillary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, of Middlesex county, at the annual convention of the order, held at Chrome, Sunday. Miss Deegan has served as president for three consecutive terms. The other officers elected were: Miss Kathryn Kelly, of Chrome, vice-president; Miss Margaret Francey, of Perth Amboy, county recording secretary; Miss Mary Eldridge, of New Brunswick, county treasurer; Miss Agatha Gillis, of Highland Park, mistress-at-arms, and Miss Mulverhill, of Chrome, sentinel. After the installation of officers by Miss Deegan, the delegates enjoyed a bountiful collation, served by the members of Ladies' Auxillary, Division No. 3, of Chrome.

Women Ready for State Convention.

Although nearly a month will elapse before the semi-annual meeting of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in the First Reformed Church, Hackensack, Saturday, October 24, most of the plans for the program have been completed and all the speakers have been selected for the meeting.

Among those who will contribute to the program is, as already announced, Dr. Katherine B. Davis, Commissioner of Corrections in New York, who will speak of her work in dealing with delinquents. Don C. Bliss, superintendent of the Montclair schools, will speak on "Extension Teaching in Domestic Science for Home Women." This section of the program will be in line with the work of the home economics department and will be under the auspices of that department, of which Mrs. Lemuel Skidmore of Summit is chairman.

Mrs. M. Anna Hanser, extension specialist of the agricultural department at the State college at New Brunswick, and Mrs. William K. Draper, secretary of New York County Chapter of the American Red Cross, will speak of their work.

Frank Alvah Parsons, president of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, will speak of woman's attire in its relation to art. This talk will be the outcome of a resolution adopted at the annual meeting last October, when the federation went on record as being opposed to the extreme fashions in dress.

Mrs. William Shipman Douglas, chairman of the sub-committee on State College for Women, will have a report to present to the federation and all of other department chairmen will be heard from regarding their work. Mrs. William T. Ropes, State president, will give a resume of the biennial meeting of the general federation at Chicago in June.

Mrs. M. P. Gardner of the Hackensack Club is chairman of the local committee making the arrangements for the meeting. Her committee is making every provision for the entertainment of members and guests, and by applying to her entertainment for over night will be provided, as most of the Hackensack club members are eager to provide accommodations for out-of-town members and guests.

Veterans to Meet in Plainfield.

Announcement has been made by President Michael Gaffney that the twenty-third reunion of the Second New Jersey Cavalry Veteran Association will be held Saturday morning, October 10, in the rooms of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., at Plainfield. The association will be the guest of G. A. R., posts in Plainfield and vicinity.

Judge Lloyd's Auto Upsets.

The automobile of Circuit Court Judge Frank T. Lloyd of Camden ran into a fence at a sharp turn in the road, just outside Pemberton, and was overturned in a field Sunday night when Judge Lloyd and a party of guests were returning from Seaside Park. The occupants were thrown out, but escaped with a few bruises. Parts of the machine were damaged, but the chauffeur was able to make repairs and continue to Camden.

Two are Named by Governor.

Governor Fielder on Tuesday appointed Fire Chief William H. Matthews of Orange to succeed John J. Towey, resigned, as a member of the board of managers of the New Jersey State Firemen's Home. He also appointed Joseph Kussey of Newark as a member of the State Board of Registration and Examination in Dentistry to succeed Cornelius Kiel.

Norman—Carlisle.

Miss Fannie Carlisle, a sister of Mrs. George Albrow, of Parlin, N. J., was united in marriage to Joseph Norman, stepson of Cornelius Chevalier, of Sayreville, at the Parish House of Our Church of Our Lady of Victories by Rev. W. A. Gillilan at eight o'clock Monday evening. The attendants were Miss Della Smith as bridesmaid and August Masur as best man, both of Sayreville. After a short honeymoon they will make their home in New Brunswick, where Mr. Norman is engaged in the candy business. Following the ceremony an elaborate reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Albrow at Parlin.

FIFTEEN INCH GUNS.

Britain's Standard Naval Weapons and What They Can Do.

The fifteen inch gun, which now becomes—though for how long no one knows—the standard weapon of British battleship armaments, is the heaviest weapon now carried or intended for carriage in modern fleets. It weighs ninety-six tons and fires a shell of 1,950 pounds, with a muzzle velocity of 2,455 feet per second, and the projectile is capable of penetrating nearly six feet of wrought iron at the muzzle and just over two feet of tough steel at a range of two miles.

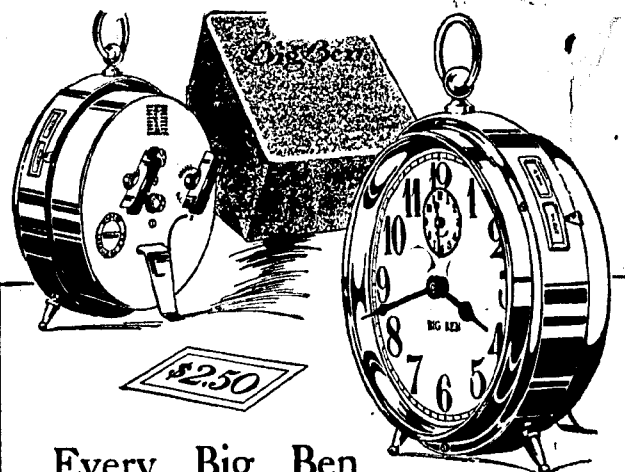

Twenty-five years ago three battleships were built for the navy (Sans Pareil, Victoria and Benbow) armed with two 16.25 inch 110 ton guns, but these fired a shell of only 1,800 pounds, while the projectiles of the famous "Woolwich Infants"—sixteen inch eighty ton muzzle loaders mounted in the old battleship Inflexible, launched in 1876—weighed 100 pounds less.

The two battleships which Germany is laying down this year will carry the same armament as the Queen Elizabeth—eight fifteen-inch and sixteen six-inch. The Krupp fifteen inch gun, however, fires a shell of only 1,675½ pounds, so that they will be considerably inferior in weight of broadside to the British ships of the 1912 program.—London Leader.

Stockholm's Telephones.

There are in Stockholm about 80,000 telephone subscribers for a population of a little over 350,000, or one for every four and a half inhabitants. Practically speaking, there is not a person in Stockholm who has not the telephone or who cannot be reached by it. The telephone exists not only in nearly every house and every shop, even the humblest, but in most houses on every floor and in hotels and pensions in every room in the establishment. In the principal streets and thoroughfares there are telephone kiosks which any passer by can enter and use by dropping a penny in the slot.

Birds of a feather have reason to be thankful to the Audubon people.

Every Big Ben we have sold has sold us another, for every man we've sold has told another.

There is something about him that seems to open everybody's eyes, he gets a rise out of the drowsiest sleepers.

And he's not merely a bedroom clock—he's good looking enough for the mantel piece or the writing desk, for the office or the living room.

Next time you walk by the store, see how well he looks alongside of our cut glass and silverware.
