

POLICE DEPARTMENT RECEIVES PLAQUE

For outstanding service, Spiral Metal Company, Inc., has presented Captain Alexander A. Abbatiello, the officers and men of the South Amboy Police Department with a plaque for "outstanding public service assuring the safety and security of the merchants and residents."

In presenting the plaque, Jack Kaplan, Spiral's president, said the company was particularly impressed with the force's security precautions during the period Spiral was refining over 35 tons of coins, under contract, from the Republic of Ecuador.

"Over $1.5 million in silver was involved," said Mr. Kaplan. "The coins were shipped from Quito, Ecuador, to the Chase Manhattan Bank in New York. From there, the coins were brought to the First Bank & Trust Company in Perth Amboy where they were stored in vaults until transported to Spiral's plant for refining."

"Captain Abbatiello and his men took charge from the time the coins left Perth Amboy until they were safely in our plant. This procedure was repeated several times during the course of the job. The department's action was, and continues to be, a credit to our community."

Mr. Kaplan went on to explain the Ecuadorian coins were refined on behalf of the government of Ecuador because the silver content was worth about twice the face value. Spiral is one of the world's few electrolytic refiners of silver.

OFFICIALS TAKE STRONG STAND ON RISING VANDALISM IN CITY

During the past two weeks there have been serious outbreaks of juvenile vandalism which the city can no longer tolerate, Mayor Richard J. Schultz declared Tuesday. These acts of violence cannot be condoned, he said. He ordered that an intensive crackdown be instituted to stem further property damage.

Within the past week a cinder block had been hurled through a store window on Broadway during one night and a rock had been thrown through a window of another store. He urged witnesses to these acts to call police headquarters immediately after such incidents occur, not an hour later or the next day.

"Juvenile crimes are becoming a problem in the city," he declared. Perpetrators of such acts will pay full damages, he promised. In the same tone of voice he warned local tavern owners that harsh penalties will be meted out to them if they are caught selling beer to minors.

The mayor gave notice that he had asked the state Alcoholic Beverage Commission to come to the city to investigate some of the taverns which are suspected of making sales to minors. In talking over this problem with Councilman Joseph P. Rush, he said that agreement had been arrived at between them not to show any tavern owner any sympathy if they violate the law. Rush is the city's license commissioner.

One of the consequences of such sales to juveniles, Schultz said, is littering the streets with beer containers. Police, he added, will also make closer checks on taverns who sell beer to take out after 10 p.m. "Our city must not obtain a reputation where minors can purchase beer," he emphasized.

Mayor Schultz again requested that the time for garbage pickups on Broadway be changed. He said that, according to the present schedule, businessmen have their garbage put out on the street Saturday for collection on Monday. In the meantime, he said, children pass by and tip them over, giving the appearance that Broadway is always littered. "It is a sore eye for the city," he maintained.

Double parking on Broadway by trucks who are unloading merchandise is creating traffic congestion there, Schultz said. He asked the police to see about alleviating this situation.

Council Justifies School Budget Cut

A resolution was passed by the City Council this week stating that the council concurs with the sum of $311,806 which the Board of School Estimate fixed as the amount to be raised by local taxation for school purposes beginning July 1. There were some comments made about the "running debate" the council accuses the Board

MAYOR REQUESTS 2 NEW PATROLMEN; 3 MEN PASS CIVIL SERVICE TEST

In an unexpected move Tuesday at the City Council meeting, Mayor Richard J. Schultz requested the councilmen to open up the ordinance which defines the complement of the local Police Department and consider increasing the number of patrolmen on the force to 12. The present ordinance calls for 10 patrolmen.

The members of the council, as far as could be determined, were receptive to the suggestion. In making this recommendation, the mayor stated that the volume of traffic passing through the city had increased appreciably during the past decade, that there are ten new streets and 200 additional homes in the city. During the past six months, he said, one patrolman had been on the disability list, putting strains on the department.

It was officially announced that three candidates for patrolman positions have successfully passed the Civil Service examinations administered in Matawan several weeks ago. On record as having passed the written tests were: Steven J. Malkiewicz of 548 Main St. and Edward A. Sisko of 244 Cedar St., both of whom scored 77, and Thomas J. Noble of 244 David St., who scored 72.

Schultz disclosed that the starting salary for new patrolmen is $5,200 per year. He asked that a meeting be set for Friday at 8 p.m. at City Hall on this matter after Councilman John J. Howley urged quick action in view of the fact that the city budget will be up for adoption March 10. The budget, as prepared, will have to be revised to include the additional salaries if the patrolmen are appointed.

Two weeks ago members of the PBA, Local 63, had requested the city fathers to increase the manpower of the force, citing the increasing duties resulting from traffic flow, new homes and new streets. Along with this announcement, Schultz revealed that he will appoint a patrolman to head a Juvenile Department whose quarters will be in the PBA room at City Hall, where filing cabinets will be procured for record keeping.

Against Appointing Special Officer

A spectator, Gregory Maher, inquired of the mayor if a new patrolman will be appointed soon. Schultz replied that under the provisions of the present ordinance governing the Police Department, he is unable to do this. He and several councilmen tried to explain that appointments cannot be made until promotions are made within the department which will then create a vacancy in the patrolman rank.

At present Captain Edward O'Leary is functioning as chief until a permanent chief is named. John T. Gleason, the former chief, had retired after completing a three-month terminal leave February 15.

With the elevation of captain to chief, a vacancy will be created in the captaincy. Three sergeants presently on the force are eligible for promotion to captain. One of the 10 current patrolmen will then be in line for promotion to sergeant, creating the vacancy in their ranks.

Council President Fred Henry clarified one point in stating that it is the mayor's privilege to name anyone of the three present captains as chief, or anyone of the three present sergeants as captain when the round of promotions begins. Selections in both ranks are subject to council confirmation.

This is permissible in municipalities where the number of candidates totals three or less. Nevertheless, the scores each candidate receives in the Civil Service examinations will, undoubtedly, influence the governing body since at least three members of the council have gone on record in the past in advocating that police promotions be taken out of political maneuvering.

Meanwhile, Councilman Joseph P. Rush gave notice that filing applications for police promotions can be made until March 17, the closing date. In his comments, the mayor also noted that he cannot make any decisions on patrolman appointments until he is officially apprised of the results of physical examinations taken by the candidates.

During the discussion, the mayor declared that he will not name anyone as a special policeman, basing his judgment on what Henry said was a costly experience two years ago when the department did have a special officer on regular duty. Henry stated that at the time, the Police Department budget account had been overextended.

Blood Bank Mobile To Return May 21

The Red Cross Blood Bank Mobile will make a return visit to South Amboy on May 21, 1965 at Memorial Hall of Christ Episcopal Church.

Representatives of the church and local civic groups have met on several occasions to discuss and formulate plans to insure the success of this new drive and to insure that the donor quota will be realized.

A campaign to familiarize and inform residents of the needs, functions and advantages of participation in the South Amboy Community Blood Bank is now underway. In this connection, pledge cards will soon be distributed to various organizations and school children will be given pamphlets to take home.

The function of a community blood bank is to insure the availability of whole blood and its derivatives at the local hospital whenever needed by patients.

RECEIVES PROMOTION

David B. Kelly of South Amboy has been promoted to the rank of Colonel with the 78th Division (Training) New Jersey's U. S. Army Reserve Division. It was announced by Brig. Gen. John G. Cassidy, the commanding general. Colonel Kelly is assigned as the 78th Division Chief of Staff and also holds the rank of full Colonel as Superintendent of New Jersey's State Police force.

A combat veteran of World War II, Col. Kelly served with the 8th Armored Division in Europe. His decorations include the Silver Star, Bronze Star and two Purple Heart medals. He joined the army in 1941 and rose from the grade of private to First Sergeant with the 69th Field Artillery, 6th Armored Division. In 1942 Col. Kelly graduated from Officers Candidate School at Fort Know, Kentucky, with the rank of 2nd Lt. He was wounded in action in a battle near Rhineburg, Germany in 1945. In 1946, Kelly was discharged as a Major.

Since 1948 he has been a member of the 78th Division and has held assignments as Battalion Commander, Plans and Training Officer and presently, Chief of Staff. He is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and Seton Hall University. He and his wife, Geneva reside at 329 Henry Street, South Amboy with their five children, David, Brian, Mary, Sean and Dennis. Forty-seven years old, Kelly is a graduate of the Army's Command and General Staff College.

MARCH of DIMES ISSUES REPORT

John F. Connors, Chairman of the March of Dimes Campaign in "South Amboy," reports a total of $379.67 contributed by South Amboy residents.

The amount contributed in the March of Dimes matters was $286.00; coin containers, $113.67; contributions from various clubs and organizations, $30.00; other special contributions, $150.00.

Connors stated that contributions will still be accepted to assist the National Foundation-March of Dimes organization in its fight against crippling birth defects. He also expressed his appreciation to everyone who assisted him in conducting the March of Dimes campaign in South Amboy, and to those who contributed.

Proposed Car Lot Raises Objections

A petition, signed by 42 residents of Mechanicville objecting to the possible establishment of a used car lot in their neighborhood, was submitted to the mayor and council Tuesday by Democratic committeeman Frank O'Brien. Rumors of such a car lot have been circulating among the home owners, and their protests have penetrated City Hall.

Mayor Richard J. Schultz, and members of the City Council, gave assurance to the people that they will oppose the alleged used car lot plans. In a letter to the governing body, City Collector John E. Mullane revealed that a local dealer had been questioned on the matter by Sayreville's building inspector, according to information he received from the borough clerk, at a time when the auto dealer was clearing the property, and told him that such use of the land would be prohibited. Involved is land, .43 acres in area, situated between Highway 35 and Raritan St. Two-thirds of this property lies within South Amboy and one-third in Sayreville. Until 1963 it was classified as a business area, but since that time it has been zoned residential.

Mullane's investigation, at the behest of Council President Fred Henry, prompted city officials to state that the auto dealer would have to seek a variance from the Zoning Board to utilize this land for this purpose. Should such a request be made, all property owners within a radius of 200 feet of the lot would be notified of the dealer's intentions in advance, they said.

Mayor Richard J. Schultz remarked that he had checked the tax records and was informed that the land belongs not to the dealer but to another person now residing in Florida. He gave residents his word that the area will remain residential and that he won't permit it to be zoned otherwise. "Our building inspector will not issue any permits," he declared.

BARBER SHOP ORDINANCE ADOPTED
An ordinance regulating the hours of business for barber shops in the city passed unopposed on second and final readings. One barber, Michael Kalman, who has a shop on Pine Ave., inquired in what manner the new statute would be enforced. Mullane replied that a complaint of any violation of the ordinance would have to be filed with the city magistrate who would decide such a matter in court.

In response to a number of calls he had received from Henry St. residents about gas line main excavation work on that street, Councilman John J. Howley said that he had contacted Public Service and was assured by the company that the street will be placed in first-class condition when the work is completed. He added that the firm has posted a performance bond with the city, in any event.

Henry announced that work on the city's annual road and street paving program is being initiated early this year because of its time-consuming nature. He explained that it takes weeks, and even months, to get such a program underway, especially if state aid funds are involved. He urged all councilmen to submit their street surfacing petitions as soon as possible so that this program can be completed and expedited.

Since only a few streets can be reconditioned during any one year, he declared, a list of all the streets needing work will be drawn up and priority schedules will be established.

POLICE TO FURNISH WORK DATA

Because of the mayor's request that the governing body give serious consideration to the appointment of two additional patrolmen is very near budget adoption time, a meeting has been called for Friday to discuss this matter. The budget is slated to be adopted at a public hearing March 10. The Police Department has been directed to furnish the council with a typical month's work schedule to be used as a basis for determining the need of expanding the force.

The work schedule is to include information on how many police officers work each shift, the system by which they are allocated days off, their annual vacation program, and all other related data. Henry asked that the city treat members of the department as first class residents, the way other residents are treated.

It was the unanimous opinion of all councilmen that it would be better to include money for additional policemen in the present budget, should the council act favorably on this issue, than to resort to an emergency appropriation resolution at a later date.

Councilman Eugene Szeszko made an appeal to have Raritan St. resurfaced, just as Stevens Ave. had been repaved a year ago. He said that there is old concrete pavement on this street which requires repair work. He made a similar petition for Feltus St., from Sixth St. to Washington Ave.

NURSES HONORED FOR SERVICE

Four registered nurses of this area were among the honored guests at a dinner Tuesday night at The Brunswick Inn, East Brunswick, given by the Board of Governors of Perth Amboy General Hospital for 58 employees with ten or more years of service.

Mrs. Margaret Boniewski, Eugene Boulevard, was awarded a ten-year pin by board president Ernest R. Hansen. Metuchen. She is supervisor of the hospital's operating room.

Also honored were Miss Kathryn Nagle, 316 Pine Ave., Miss Constance Ryan, 338 David St., both members of the hospital's nursing service department, and Miss Cathleen McCormack, 300 Sunset Boulevard, Cliffwood Beach, assistant director of nursing education in the hospital's Charles E. FRIENDS HONOR GLEASON at TESTIMONIAL DINNER

AT CHIEF'S DINNER—Over 250 people attended the testimonial dinner in honor of retired Chief John Gleason of the South Amboy Police Dept. last Thursday evening at O'Hara's Restaurant.

Gleason was appointed to the force on June 1, 1937, rose to the rank of sergeant in 1944 and was later promoted a captain. In February 1952 he was appointed chief. He retired October 15, 1964 and had been on terminal leave for the past 3 months. The toastmaster for the dinner was Chief John Egan of the Woodbridge of Education of conducting regarding the budget.

Police Dept., while the guest speaker was Ralph W. Bachman, agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mayor Richard Schultz presented Gleason with plaque commemorating his years of service on the police department.

Council President Fred Henry declared that "It is time to stop this dialogue. People should not be running to the press with statements. It looks like the council is having a running debate with the school board, which is not the case. If they have anything to say, the proper thing to do is to sit down with us and discuss it, not run to the press."

The center of controversy is the $18,000 the Board of School Estimate slashed from the school board's proposed budget. This money has cut into the surplus funds the school board had accumulated in past years.

At the same time, Henry stated that the board is trying to do a good job. Councilman Joseph P. Rush, in his turn, stated that the budget that was fixed in no way curtails the curricular program of the school system. "We did not cut them down on any money they said they needed. We took this money out of their surplus."

Mayor Richard J. Schultz agreed with Rush that the cutback will in no way hurt students. "They had $39,000 in their surplus fund," he said. "We took away $18,000 of this money for which the Board of School Estimate is being criticized. The school board is expected to pick up additional surplus money in the coming school year."

In the interchange of comments, Rush added that he felt the cut was justified since the surplus of $39,000 was indicated in the school board's proposed budget. "It was there, black on white," he declared.

When Councilman Eugene Szeszko mentioned that board members had wanted to use some of this surplus to fix up the old school building, Rush replied, "At no time during the hearing did they say that they wanted to use any part of this money to renovate the old school building."

Schultz concluded the remarks on this issue by saying that the reduction is a reduction of the surplus and not a cutback on funds the school system will need to operate during the 1965-1966 school term.

Some people get "lost in thought" because it's unfamiliar territory.

Drivers Fined By Magistrate

Eighteen-year old Wayne A. Grant of 461 South Pine Ave., Morgan, told Magistrate John R. Everitt in Municipal Court Tuesday that he went through the Hole-in-the-Wall on Stevens Ave. in the wrong direction February 12 because he was in a hurry and because there was another car using the opposite lane, the right lane, traveling too slowly.

Patrolman Robert Kelly, who ticketed Grant, told the magistrate that Grant went through the Hole-in-the-Wall with no lights on when he spotted him that night. Grant pleaded guilty to the charge and had his license revoked for 30 days. In addition he was assessed $10 fine and $5 costs.

William Bowes, 21, of 34 Kenneth Ave., Parlin, and Raymond J. Nitko, 23, each paid $5 fines and $5 costs for running stop signs. Bowes was charged with the violation at the intersection of John St. and Stevens Ave. February 22 by Edward Orłowski, a resident. Patrolman Kelly issued the summons to Nitko, 310 Madison Ave., Rahway, who pleaded innocent.

Gerald J. Plewa, 19, of 248 Washington Rd., Sayreville, pleaded guilty to having two containers of beer in his possession while operating a motor vehicle. He was issued a summons for the offense, in addition to being a minor, February 21 by Patrolman Kelly and was levied a fine of $40 and $10 costs.

William P. Moore, 19, of 81 Main St., Woodbridge, was cleared of a complaint of assault and battery lodged against him by Carmen Semenza, 22, of 112 Augusta St. In a countercomplaint, he accused Semenza of the same charge. Both men pleaded innocent, but the court convicted Semenza who was fined $20 and $5 costs.

BOAT LAW CHANGES STUDIED BY STATE

Proposed changes contained in Senate bill S-125, affecting New Jersey's boat numbering law, are presently being studied by the New Jersey Boat Regulation Commission, which serves in an advisory capacity to the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development. The proposed measure would require the registration of all power vessels and sail boats in excess of 10 feet in length, and would provide exemption from personal property taxes for all registered vessels.

Jack Sullivan, Chairman of the Boat Regulation Commission, said the recommendation report on the bill will be ready for the Legislature when it convenes Mar. 8.

MRS. HEIM HEADS S.A. CANCER DRIVE

Mrs. Albert J. Heim has been appointed 1965 Crusade Chairman in South Amboy for the Middlesex County Chapter, American Cancer Society's annual education and fund-raising drive. This will be Mrs. Heim's 11th consecutive year as crusade chairman here. A goal of $1,500 has been set for South Amboy. The drive will start April 1 and continue through the month. A special one-day campaign will be the focal point this year, scheduled for Tuesday, April 27.

Mrs. Heim stated, "The chairman in your community is ready at all times to give cancer patients and their families information where assistance is sought regarding dressings, drugs or medical and hospital attention. The success of the crusade will insure the continuance of these services."

Aside from her chairmanship, Mrs. Heim heads a cancer dressings group in the Rosary Altar Society of St. Mary's Church, which meets every Tuesday. She serves on the South Amboy Memorial Hospital Board of Directors and is a member of the American Legion Auxiliary Post 62.

She has three children and seven grandchildren and resides with her husband at 527 Main St., South Amboy.

Schultz and Fielek Offer Strike Aid

Once again Mayor Richard J. Schultz of South Amboy and Mayor Edward Fielek of Sayreville have offered their services and city and borough hall facilities to help end the costly strike at the Titanium Pigment Plant, National Lead Company, of Sayreville.

Workers at the plant have walked off their jobs at 8 a.m. February 1 and, to this date, there appears no immediate expectation of a settlement and a return to work. The issues of the disagreement are shrouded in mystery but, as far as can be determined, center largely around more liberal pension benefits.

Both mayors made similar assistance proposals two weeks ago when Nalco Division Plant of the National Lead Company, in Sayreville, was strikebound. Shortly afterwards, employees of this plant, members of the United Mine Workers, District 50, returned to their jobs.

Employees of the Titanium Plant belong to the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, Local 83360, and number approximately 1,400 hourly wage earners. Their union president is Adolph Wisnack of South River. A clamp has been placed on any news of the strike with the explanation that such intervention may jeopardize negotiation efforts. The local plant manager is Walter G. Moran, who is generally unavailable for comment.

Schultz declared at Tuesday's council meeting that the strike is affecting many residents of the city and is having an adverse impact on the community's economy. Speaking on the strike, Council President Fred Henry disclosed that he had received a number of calls from the workers petitioning him for municipal work during the interim. It is his unhappy lot to tell the unemployed strikers that there is no city work available for them, he said.

Pickets continue to walk their beats at the entrance to the plant. A meeting at the Federal Mediation Office in Newark February 23 failed to bring union members and management closer to agreement, and the stalemate continues. The main office of the company is located in New York. The company also has a similar plant in operation in St. Louis.

"I would be very happy to see this strike settled," Schultz said. "It is a heavy burden on the workers, many of whom have families to support."

MANAGER ISSUES STRIKE STATEMENT

The following statement was today released by Walter G. Moran, plant manager at National Lead Co., concerning the strike of workers at the Sayreville plant that started February 1.

"Recent Court action has been taken in the matter of the strike of production and maintenance employees at the National Lead Company's Titanium Plant in Sayreville. The first of these was an injunction governing the location of picket lines handed down by U.S. District Court Judge Arthur S. Lane on February 19th. This injunction removed one of two picket lines on Chevalier Avenue leading to the plant and a secondary picket line on a private road leading to the site of new construction separated from the plant's present operations."

"The second action in the State Superior Court's Chancery Division of Middlesex County before Judge Frank J. Kingfield on February 26, 1965, resulted in a stipulation between the Company and the striking union. This stipulation governs the actions and number of pickets to permit unobstructed vehicular and pedestrian traffic to and from the plant."

"There have been two meetings between the Plant and striking union officials called by Federal mediators. At this time the next meeting for settlement of the strike has not been scheduled."

GIRL SCOUT WEEK STARTS MARCH 7

Over 9000 members of the Girl Scouts of the United States will celebrate Girl Scout Week from Sunday, March 7, through Saturday, March 13. The theme in action is "Girl Scout Week in the U.S.A." The Girl Scouts' 53rd birthday which occurs March 12. This date marks the anniversary of the first troop organization in Savannah, Ga., by Juliette Gordon Low, founder of the movement in the U.S.A.

Since that first troop of a few girls, more than 20 million members have made the Girl Scout Promise to do their duty to God and country, to help other people at all times, and to obey the Girl Scout Laws of loyalty, honesty, courtesy, cheerfulness, kindness and thrift.

This year, Girl Scouts are paying special attention to the "bridges" which give continuity to their program. The program adapts activities related to the arts, the home, and the out-of-doors, to the changing interests and needs of girls ages seven through 17, thus "bridging" the four age levels: Brownie Girl Scouts (ages 7 and 8) to Senior Girl Scouts (ages 13 to 17).

Special days are earmarked throughout Girl Scout Week to illustrate the various aspects of the Girl Scout program. They are: Girl Scout Sunday; Monday-Homemaking; Tuesday-Citizenship; Wednesday-Health and Safety; Thursday-International Friendship; Friday-Arts; Saturday-Out-of-Doors.

In observance of Girl Scout Sunday, March 7, thousands of Girl Scouts are expected to attend religious services in uniform. Jewish girls will celebrate Girl Scout Sabbath on Friday evening, March 5. Many schools, too, through the Crossroads area will join in the celebration of Girl Scout Week through flag raising ceremonies.

Safeguard Against Tetanus Infection

A small cut...any kind of a wound that punctures or breaks the skin...can be the entrance to the body for the killer germs of tetanus... more familiar to most people by the common name of lock-jaw.

While most people are aware of the dread disease, too many have old misconceptions of how it's caused and what can be done about it.

Tetanus is not only caused by dirty, rusty nails or tools that puncture and cut the skin. Medical men say even a small cut from what appears to be a clean looking instrument can harbor the germs of this disease that last year killed five people alone in New Jersey.

And, according to a spokesman for the New Jersey Academy of General Practice--the family doctor's organization in this state--once tetanus is established in the body, there is no known specific medical treatment for it, and half of those who contract the infection will die.

There is hope, however, according to Dr. Louis Kosminsky, head of the NJAGP. This lies, Kosminsky said, in what is virtually a painless immunization shot administered to you by your family doctor.

The immunization against lockjaw, known as tetanus toxoid, has a few allergic reactions, and was used extensively in World War II. The serum does not offer lifetime protection, Kosminsky said, and veterans should safeguard themselves against the possibility of tetanus by seeing their family doctor for booster shots.

If you have not had a tetanus toxoid immunization and suffer cuts or skin punctures--in the home, office, shop or garden--warns the president of the state's family doctors--the doctor who treats you may have to give you tetanus antitoxin made from horse serum which in many cases can produce severe and dangerous allergic reactions.

The best way to safeguard yourself, Dr. Kosminsky warns, is to get tetanus toxoid immunization shots now from your family doctor. This way, he said, you will be safeguarded against a dread disease, and at the same time, not have to face the doubts about reactions to tetanus antitoxin when your body is imperiled.

AT THE PUBLIC SCHOOL

Miss Mary Lou Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Henrietta Thomas, 518 Alpine Street, has been chosen by the Monmouth Chapter, DAR, to represent Hoffman High School as its Good Citizen. Miss Thomas is a senior at Hoffman and is the president of the Student Council; the vice-president of the National Honor Society and is a member of the Yearbook Staff.

On April 1 she will attend a luncheon in Trenton where she will receive a certificate of award from the National Society and a pin from the Monmouth DAR. She will also attend a reception on March 25 honoring all the Good Citizens sponsored by the Monmouth Chapter.

Mrs. Miriam Hollfelder, Guidance Counselor at Hoffman High School, has announced that at present, 20 students have applied to four year colleges for admission and that 3 students have already received "early decision" acceptances. Acceptances into colleges and universities are not usually received until the middle or latter part of March.

Do Child's Shoes Fit? Five Points Listed

Time for your child to get new shoes?

In finding the right answer to this question, which may come up every few months for a growing child, parents can help the shoe salesman by knowing guidelines for fitting.

Here are five main points to follow, according to Wolverine Shoe and Tanning Corporation, maker of Hush Puppies casuals:

1. Long enough? For normal growth, there should be at least

1/2-inch of empty shoe beyond the end of the big toe. Even better is 3/4-inch of room.

2. Wide enough? Toes should have enough room to spread out comfortably, enough to wiggle rather freely.

3. Instep full enough? Ample space should be provided for arch development and for circulation.

4. Does heel fit? The shoe should hug the heel gently but not too snugly, holding the shoe to the foot naturally. Friction or chafing will probably cause blisters.

5. Bigger foot fitted? One foot is slightly larger for nearly everyone, so shoe size should accommodate the larger one.

If the child's new shoes score right on every one of the above points, he's likely to sidestep serious foot problems.

As a matter of fact, except for the considerations of growth, adults also can follow the same guidelines for assurance of foot comfort.

Spring Arrives March 6 At Flower Show

Lovely, 18-year-old Susan Hawthorne surveys her floral domain at the 18th International Flower Show, March 6-14 at the New York Coliseum. The Penn State coed, a finalist in the recent America's Junior Miss Pageant, is Queen of this year's Flower Show. The theme of the 9-day floral extravaganza is: "Patios — Nature's Living Rooms". Many of the more than 40 major gardens and exhibits in the show emphasize the joy of outdoor living. The Flower Show also offers a host of informative, educational exhibits that will provide green-thumbs with many valuable "how-to" tips. Hundreds of thousands of cut flowers, blooms and plants of all kinds, sizes and colors from orchids to cacti and from dwarf trees to huge weeping willows, make up this dazzling floral salute to spring. The International Flower Show is the largest and most colorful exposition of its kind in the United States.

GARDEN NEWS

For the good health of your vegetable garden, do some pencil work now.

That's the advice of a Rutgers College of Agriculture specialist whose business is keeping plants healthy.

Dr. Spencer H. Davis, Jr., sees trouble ahead for you if you go buy seed now, and plants later, then decide where to plant them.

First, he suggests, sit down and sketch out the areas where you will grow each crop. If you can remember where you grew different kinds of vegetables last year, you can avoid planting the same ones in the same places this year.

JUST LIKE BIG-TIMERS
When you do this you're operating as the Garden State's big vegetable producers do. Crop rotation could be even more important on your small space than on a big spread.

Dr. Davis explains that many of the harmful fungi and bacteria that may have plagued your tomato plants last year are certainly still there, waiting for another victim.

But they may not have the same appetite for a bean or a cabbage plant, say. It's your job to rotate your crops so that everything gets changed around.

Dr. Davis would like to see no crop grown in the same spot in the soil closer than once in three years. This reduces the number of parasitic fungi and bacteria so the new crop has a better chance.

This kind of planning really isn't much trouble, but it's worth it. Chemicals might be easier, but the Rutgers specialist isn't suggesting any for home garden use.

PLAN PROPERLY FOR LENTEN MENUS

Are lenten menus a problem for you? Do you feel that your lenten meals lack interest and pep? There are many "remedies" for the problem, says Audrey C. Burkart, extension specialist in foods and nutrition, College of Agriculture, Rutgers University.

Fish is an excellent protein food to use throughout the year and fits well into lenten meals, too. Serve your family a different dish such as fish, crab or lobster croquettes, shrimp creole or crispy fish fry using fish fillets.

Chowders, either Manhattan or New England style, become the center of attraction when served with a salad, crisp bread and dessert. Or try another form of chowder such as haddock or cod chowder or tuna-corn chowder.

Does your family enjoy eggplant? For a change of pace, serve eggplant Parmesan or eggplant Parmigiana. Other vegetable main dishes can include a vegetable casserole or vegetable pie. Most all vegetable main dishes can include some fish or cheese and so we are not limiting our family's source of protein.

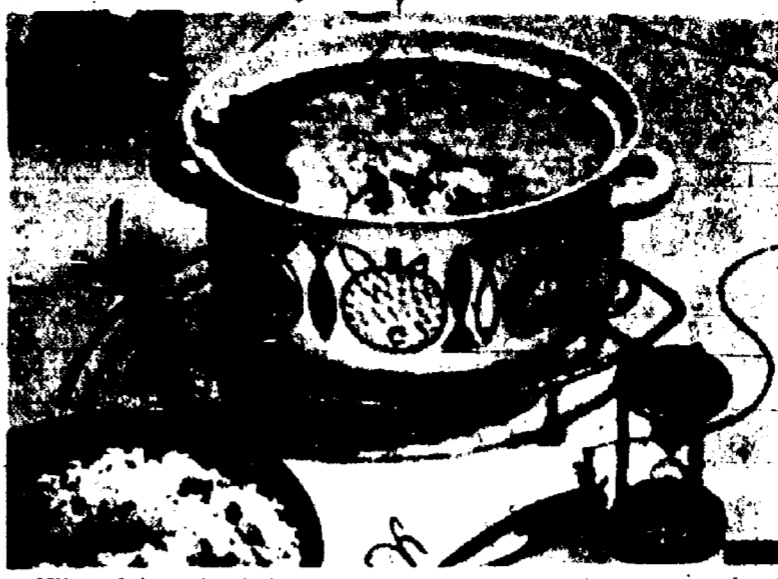

Cheese has always been a lenten favorite. Many families enjoy macaroni and cheese. But cheese can be used in many other ways, too, says Miss Burkart. Cottage cheese pancakes are a delightful luncheon main course. If your family enjoys hominy, serve scalloped cheese and hominy. Welsh rarebit served on crunchy toast, lettuce, and tomato is tangy and nourishing. A cheese souffle is an extra special treat during lent.

Eggs, normally looked upon as a breakfast food, can also be included in the lenten menu. Why not try egg 'n' chips. Made with hard cooked eggs, condensed cream of mushroom soup, and a sprinkle of potato chips, it is a dish that the whole family will enjoy. Or for something really different, serve eggwiches. Fill scooped out rolls with mixture of hard cooked eggs, cheese and spices, wrap in aluminum foil, and oven warm.

All these and many other recipes can be found in any good cookbook along with companion menu suggestions. Why not begin a lenten menu file? It will save you time later on.

Busy Day Entree

When fish is the dish you want to serve, consider a casserole of salmon, rice, peas, soup, and seasoning, a one-dish meal to please the family. Seven Seas Casserole is a fine choice for dinner after a busy working day, because this hearty entree takes less than a half hour to prepare. To complete the meal, add a fresh green salad and ice cream with fruit sauce for dessert. This casserole is equally good with a can of tuna or crab meat instead of salmon.

Seven Seas Casserole

1-1/2 cups water
1 can (10-1/2 oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup or condensed cream of celery soup
1/4 to 1/2 cup finely chopped onion (optional)
1 teaspoon lemon juice (optional)
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1-1/2 cups Minute Rice
1 package (10 oz.) frozen green peas, partially thawed (optional)
1 can (7-3/4 oz.) salmon, drained and flaked
1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese
Paprika

*Or use 1-1/2 cups drained cooked peas.

Combine water, soup, onion, lemon juice, salt, and pepper in a saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring occasionally. Pour about half of the soup mixture into a greased 1-1/2-quart casserole. Then, in separate layers, add rice, peas, and salmon. Add remaining soup mixture. Sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Cover and bake at 375° for 10 minutes. Stir; then cover and continue baking 10 to 15 minutes longer. Makes about 6 cups or 4 servings.

Gift wrap paper has dozens of handy uses.

Planning a birthday party?

One mother-on-a-budget passed along this idea. Use gift wrap to make children's party hats. For young children, you can make a dozen simple hats from a package of gift wrap containing two sheets of 28" by 30" paper. From each sheet you get six squares that can be cut in triangles. Bind the triangles with plain or colored Scotch tape, and tape on cord or ribbon for tying them under the children's chins. You can scallop or pink the edges to be fancy, or top the hats with paper pompons.

It's also easy to cut place-mats out of "Happy Birthday" gift wrap to lend festivity to even a picnic table.

Children who are old enough can make their own trimpings. For place cards, plain white stationery can be decorated with designs cut out of gift wrap. Even a first-grader can make small baskets of gift wrap to hold mints. Children enjoy their handwork. And considering that a pack of gift wrap costs a quarter, it's a modest recreation fund. There are plain wraps and wraps picturing such favorites as Bugs Bunny and Donald Duck.

3-Way Mirror Grooming Aid

If there are teen-agers at home, a three-way mirror will be a boon to better grooming. A free plan tells how to make one that can be a decorative element in a room when closed.

The Masonite Peg-Board back makes a fine place for displaying pictures or art objects when the mirrors aren't in use. Easily built, the three-way mirror will fit on a wall or a door at least 28" wide.

A three-way mirror like this is indispensable also for the home seamstress.

Green Thumb Tips

The small plants of hollyhock and Canterbury bells grown from seeds last year and due to beautifully young garden in June should be shaded from the late winter sun. They undoubtedly look beautifully green and healthy right now, but it is well known that these plants rarely die from winter weather until late February or early March.

Examine your lawn now for signs of "permanent" paths across it. Either plan to construct a path where there are signs of constant use or get ready for an early spring re-seeding job. The idea that a frozen lawn is not hurt by regularly walking on it is nonsense.

Any warm day is a good time to repair your cold frame if you have one or start constructing one if you haven't. As small a frame as 2 feet by 4 feet will enable you to start seeds of annual flowers and vegetables for extra-early blooms and crops. As soon as these plants are out of the frame, it may be used for planting seeds of perennials — much cheaper from seeds than bought as plants.

Fun to start indoors from seeds are three vines: morning glory, black-eyed Susan vine and cathedral bells (also known as cup and saucer vine). Seeds of this last vine should be planted on a slant with the tip of each sticking out of the soil.

If you start these in peat pots, in a sunny window, and plant a light bamboo stake in each when you plant the seed, the vines will have support as they grow. When frost time to post the pots and all may be set in the garden where you want blooms. If by any chance there is an especially early flower, you can enjoy it in the house.

Any time now you can obtain seeds of hollyhock's buttons, poppies or California poppies over the areas in which you planted bulbs last fall. They'll bloom with or just after the bulbs, depending on whether you planted daffodils or tulips.

Do you know that you can grow strawberries from seeds? There's a variety named Baron Schomacher which will flower eight weeks after planting and will produce large, sweet, very fragrant berries for weeks. This is an Alpine type strawberry which does not produce any runners, but will remain small.

This little strawberry is especially useful as a border to a path or a flower bed, near the house of course so you can pick the berries as they ripen.

FEDERAL TAX FACTS

ERRORS IN INCOME TAX RETURNS

Checks for income tax refunds have already been mailed to many New Jersey taxpayers who filed their Federal income tax returns early in January.

Several thousand returns are being returned to taxpayers for correction and completion. Other refunds are being delayed because the returns were improperly prepared or because they had errors in arithmetic.

The errors in many of these returns are relatively minor but no returns can be processed by Internal Revenue's computers unless they are complete in every respect.

Your income tax returns must be properly and legibly identified. Your name, address and social security number should be typed or carefully printed. Dashes should not be used on name or address lines.

The blocks labeled FILING STATUS and EXEMPTIONS which are directly below the name and address block on the regular income tax form 1040 must be completely filled out. The information contained in these blocks is essential. It determines the particular tax table to be used in figuring the amount of your tax liability.

All items must be listed or reported on the proper line of the tax form. All W-2 forms (Withholding Statements) must be attached.

If supplementary schedules are used to report pension, annuity, rent, royalty, partnership, business or farm income or gains or losses from sales or exchanges or property; they too should be securely attached to Form 1040. These supplementary schedules are not tax returns by themselves. They must be filed with a completed Form 1040 and appropriate totals transferred from the schedules to the basic income tax form.

Official schedules or itemized lists used to support deductions reported on Form 1040 should also be securely attached.

The elimination of these common errors will insure prompt processing of your income tax return. Every return is given a mathematical check. In addition, a sampling of all returns requesting refunds are audited in detail before refunds are issued.

Finally, a tax return is not complete until it has been signed. Both husband and wife must sign a joint return.

The completed return, together with a check or money order payable to the Internal Revenue Service for the tax balance due, should be mailed to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Newark, N. J. 07102.

MILE SQUARE TALK

The fine weather here in Jersey brought about an exodus of the Florida vacationers: Among those who have returned from the South are: Murray Borland, Leon Wisniewski, and John Lagoda.

In the Spring a young man's fancy turns to love; and his older counterpart thinks of politics...with two councilmen contests coming up, names are starting to be mentioned. In the first ward two names mentioned are Frank O'Brien and Frank Cicala, and in the fourth ward John Jankowski is being boosted for councilman.

Being that things are "quieter" on the National Lead Company front--Ted Levandowski is filling in time behind the wheel of a hearse. A real change of pace...

A local hound, Tee's Pretty Lady took first prize in the Eastern Qualifying Derby Trials held last week in competition with 23 other dogs. The winner is owned by John and Teresa Jankowski of Thomas Street. The Jans also own Field Champ Tee's Dottie.

While on a recent fishing trip, Bill Erickson was instrumental in pulling aboard a pair of trousers that belonged to one of the plane crash victims. Papers in the wallet identified the youth as a soldier on leave from Texas. The papers were turned over to the coast guard.

Protection Engine Company has accepted an invitation to march in the 50th Anniversary parade of the Mahville Fire Dept. The PAL Band of the 122nd Precinct, under the direction of Harry Flanagan will accompany the local firemen.

At a regular meeting of the South Amboy Exempt Firemen's Association it was announced that the group will take active part in the 75th Anniversary celebration of the South Amboy Fire Department which will be held in September. A $100 donation was made to the executive committee to help defray the expenses of the parade. A float will be entered in the parade.

The members were encouraged to take an active part the Red Cross Blood Bank which will be held in the city on May 21st.

There were 14 persons present in the audience at this Tuesday's city council meeting, something unusual. One person ventured to predict that there will be less persons attending the budget meeting March 10 on the basis that "people do not like numbers."

Mayor Richard J. Schultz disclosed that a dog census is being conducted during the month of March with a person going from door-to-door asking residents if they are dog owners. He petitioned home owners to cooperate with the canvassers so that an accurate tally can be obtained. Licenses for dogs cost $1.25 a year. Owners of unlicensed dogs, he said, will be fined.

A small, dark-brown collie dog, the property of Harold Dennen, has been reported missing. Finders are asked to contact him by calling PA 1-1548.

Mrs. Mary Wenzel, South Amboy tax collector, reported $117,825.12 collected by the city during February and deposited in the local banks.

City officials have had a breather from tax money problems during the past two weeks after nightly sessions in preparing the budget. A public hearing on the new budget will be held March 10 at City Hall, beginning at 8 p.m. Council President Fred Henry has invited all residents in the city to attend.

Councilman Joseph P. Rush announced Tuesday that specifications for the new library will be ready for the next council business meeting. The contract, he said, is already drawn up, but not signed. Council President Fred Henry advised fellow councilmen to read over the 10-page contract carefully. He said that the contract covers some items which he does not agree with.

Police are cracking down on cars with expired license plates and inspection tags which line the streets. A survey was recently conducted by the police as to the number of such cars on the streets and more than a dozen have already been hauled away. Owners are contacted first, and if the cars are not removed, summonses are issued. Captain O'Leary, the acting chief, gave notice that anyone wishing to have a car disposed of should call police headquarters. Such cars are then taken away and junked by a neighboring dealer.

The mayor and city councilmen shudder at the thought of having to install new traffic lights to replace those in service, which the state does not like. The type the state recommends, such as the one at Walnut Street and Washington Avenue, costs about $2,800, excluding the cost of dismantling the old and installing the new ones. The present lights have been declared illegal by the state.

There are rumors circulating through town that several persons are being suspected, or have been questioned about using dope. There has been no official pronouncement on this. However, the rumor is that several out-of-town pushers are under surveillance for having infiltrated South Amboy with their wares.

William M. Kurtz, has been appointed by Mayor Richard J. Schultz to be bicycle safety coordinator in the city. The mayor made this appointment after Motor Vehicle Commissioner Miss June Strelecki had requested each municipality in the state to set up such an office.

A letter of thanks was received by the mayor and council from Councilman John A. Connors for the $100 the city donated to the March of Dimes campaign drive.

It looks like the Amshore Realty Co., Inc., will be prosecuted by the city for having built 11 illegal foundations in their development Section Four. City officials disclose that originally only four such foundations were constructed, but that since this issue has been brought to the attention of the Board of Public Works in October by Mr. Michael Nagle, the board superintendent, seven more have been added in violation of the subdivision ordinance. Developers Edward Piechota and Leon Kozior have finally made an appearance before the mayor and council last Monday in reference to this complaint.

The testimonial which is to honor Evening News sportscaster Lonnie Ayres will take place at the Bel Air in Perth Amboy April 23. Co-chairmen Gilbert P. Augustine of Metuchen and John Gutkowski of Sayreville have said that all donations will go toward the establishment of a "Lonnie Ayres Scholarship Fund" to assist students in the Raritan Bay area in lieu of trophies, purses, and the like, in compliance with a request made by Ayres. Names of all donors will be listed in the dinner program book.

Police are also issuing tickets to motorists who are not parking their cars properly on the streets. As many as three have been given tickets at one time last week.

Councilman Joseph P. Rush notified the mayor and council that Tuesday, the day of the last council meeting, legislation was passed in Trenton which entitles volunteer firemen to state compensation for any injuries they may receive in answering fire calls. One of the conditions made is that such firemen must take a physical examination within the next several months, he said.

In his remarks about juvenile delinquency this week, Mayor Richard J. Schultz warned motorists that they cannot pass through red traffic signal lights with impunity because they have been declared illegal by the state. He said that such motorists, if caught, will be charged with careless driving.

Police News

Two persons were injured Saturday at 2:15 a.m. when a car struck a utility pole and then rammed a tree in front of the Knights of Columbus headquarters, Fourth St. and Stevens Ave. Injured were Michael Glikas, 22, of 518 Center St., operator of the car, and a passenger, Theodore Tyrrell, no address available, who suffered a lip and arm injury. Glikas, who was proceeding north on Stevens and turning west on Fourth, was issued a summons for careless driving. He received a nose injury.

Three fires were reported during the week, two of them brush fires--lower Raritan St. at 12:28 a.m. Saturday and near the Route 35-9 ramp at 3:55 p.m. the same day, which Patrolman Francis Dziekan extinguished--and an oil burner fire at the home of James Vanderveer, 243 Augusta St., Tuesday, at 9:30 a.m.

Sunday morning workmen were seen installing new glass at the telephone booth at Felton and Main Sts. where youths like to congregate. The booth takes frequent abuse from the youths who pile out of their cars and use the corner for a hangout.

Fletcher Hartman of 365 John St. complained to police Saturday that someone, between 9 and midnight, smeared ice cream all over his front porch, including the door and the windows.

Raritan River Railroad yardmaster Raymond Stockton told police Sunday that vandals have broken into a caboose in the local railroad yard during the night and had taken several flares from it. Mrs. G. N. Carmichael of 707 Bordentown Ave. reported to police the same day that someone threw paint or some substance on her car which was parked by her home.

New manufacturers have taken over the factory at Washington Ave. and Felton St. two weeks ago after Hi-Lite Fashions, the former manufacturer, had discontinued operations there. The new firm is steadily gearing toward full production with a number of machine operators hired. When the burglar alarm was sounding there Sunday, police officers, investigating, found the front door pushed in and the latch broken.

Marty's Tavern at 500 Washington Ave. at 2:20 p.m. Sunday, they found the doors closed. A short time later police were notified, inquiring at the apartment above the tavern, they discovered the bartender, Joseph Flacido, 67, dead inside. He was officially declared deceased by Dr. Stephen Jonap and the body was sent to the Crabtree Funeral Home in Milltown.

LESSONS IN SAFETY Aided by student, Police Sergeant Carl Pike displays safety slogan as part of his "Safety Magic" show aimed at instilling proper safety attitudes in teen-agers. He performs feats of magic to point up lessons in safety. Sponsored by the American Trucking Association, Inc., the show is being presented at 28 New Jersey secondary schools through March 12 with the Council of Safety Supervisors of the N. J. Motor Truck Assn. as co-sponsor of the appearances in this state.

'Twill BE ALL THE SAME IN A HUNDRED YEARS

'Twill be all the same in a hundred years.
What a spell-word to conjure up smiles and tears!
Oh how oft do I muse 'mid the thoughtless and gay,
On the marvelous truth that these words convey!
And can it be so, must the valiant and free
Have their tenure of life on this frail decree?
Are the trophies they've reared, and the glories
they've won,

Only castles of frost-work, confronting the sun!
And must all that's as joyous and brilliant to view
As a Mid-summer dream, be as perishing, too?
Then have pity, ye proud ones -- be gentle, ye great!
O remember how merry becometh your state,
For the rust that consumeth the sword of the brave
Is eating the chain of the manacled slave,
And the conqueror's frowns, and his victim's tears
Will be all the same in a hundred years!

'Twill be all the same in a hundred years!
What a spell-word to conjure up smiles and tears!
How dark are your fortunes, ye sons of the soil,
Whose heirloom is sorrow, whose birthright is toil!
Yet envy not those who have glory and gold,
By the sweat of the poor, and the blood of the bold;
For 'tis coming, how'er they may flaunt in their pride,
The day when they'll molder to dust by your side.

Death unteth the children of toil and sloth,
And the democrat reptiles carouse upon both;
For time as he speeds on his viewless wings,
Disenables and withers all earthly things;
And the minister's pipe, and the scholar's book,
And the Emperor's crown, and the Cossack's spear
Will be dust alike in a hundred years!

'Twill be all the same in a hundred years!
O how magical fountain of smiles and tears!
To think that your hopes, like flowers of June,
Which we love so much, should be lost so soon!
Then what meaneth the chase after phantom joys?
Or the breaking of human hearts for toys?
Or the veteran's pride in his crafty schemes!
Or "the passions of youth for its darling dreams"?
Or the aiming at ends that we never can span?
Or the deadly aversion of man for man?
What availeth it all? O ye sages say?
Or the miser's joy in his brilliant clay?
Or the lover's zeal for his matchless prize --
The enchanting maid, with the starry eyes?
Or the feverish conflicts of hopes and fears,
If 'tis all the same in a hundred years?

Ah! 'tis not the same in a hundred years,
How clear soever the case appears;
For know ye not that beyond the grave,
Far, far beyond where the cedars wave
On the Syrian mountains, or where the stars
Come glittering forth in their golden cars,
There bloometh a land of perennial bliss
Where we smile to think of the tears in this!
And the pilgrim reaching that radiant shore,
Has thought of death in his heart no more,
But layeth his staff and sandals down,
For the victor's palm and the monarch's crown,
And the mother meets, in that tranquil sphere,
The delightful child she has wept for here;
And we quaff off the same immortal cup,
While the orphan smiles and the slave looks up!
So be glad, my heart, and forget thy tears,
For 'tis NOT the same in a hundred years!

'SAFETY MAGIC' SHOW SEEN AT ST. MARY'S

Feats of magic lent their fascination to rules of safety in a "Safety Magic" show presented this afternoon at 2 p.m. in St. Mary's High School, South Amboy.

The show featured traffic Sgt. Carl S. Pike, currently on leave from the Kent County Sheriff's Department in Grand Rapids, Michigan. The sergeant is now on a nationwide tour under sponsorship of American Trucking Association, Washington, D.C. While in New Jersey, where the show is being presented at 28 secondary schools, it will be co-sponsored by the Council of Safety Supervisors of the New Jersey Motor Truck Association.

Sgt. Pike, a professional magician prior to entering police work, combines his knowledge of magic with a keen sense of humor and experience gained as a traffic officer to get across his message of traffic safety to high school pupils.

In the show, Sgt. Pike made safety banners appear out of nowhere, colorful scarves pop from an empty purse, and an apparently endless stream of water poured from a small jug. These were just a few of Sgt. Pike's tricks, each illustrating an important traffic safety rule.

In emphasizing that "Safety is No Accident," the slogan of the safety magic program, Sgt. Pike recounted his experiences with reckless drivers and told how many accidents can be avoided. Throughout his talk, the sergeant used a teenage jargon to hold the attention of the students while they learned about traffic safety.

Actually Sergeant Pike is a lieutenant. Several years ago, in recognition of his fine work with teenage drivers, he was officially promoted to lieutenant by his department. However, because he has been known so long to thousands of youngsters by his old title, he prefers to be called "sergeant."

More than 3,500,000 students have seen the "Safety Magic" show, which has appeared in 48 states. The program has been endorsed by educators and civic leaders and organizations throughout the nation, including the New York University of Driver Education and Safety Institute and the Michigan Association of Insurance.

Sgt. Pike also has received commendations for his work in safety education from many state governments and police departments.

FIELD TRIPS DATA ON WHARTON TRACT

Student groups planning spring field trips in New Jersey can receive timely information and material from the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development. Among these are a color and sound movie on the Wharton Tract and a book on State geology and geography. Both are helpful as guides to what visitors may experience on projected trips.

"The Wharton Tract: New Jersey's Great Green Heartland" is a 23-minute sound and color movie set in the pine barrens of southern New Jersey. The Wharton Tract covers a 96,000-acre wilderness area, originally acquired by the State as a natural water reservoir. It also affords recreational opportunities for hunting, fishing and camping. The film includes the historic Village of Batsto which was an industrial center in pre-Revolutionary War days. Its history is closely linked with the origins of the New Jersey bog iron industry.

The film was prepared and produced by the Conservation Department's Public Information Office. Since its debut in June 1964, it has received the endorsement of noted historians and writers on the State and national scene, and has been viewed by an estimated 3,000 students, nature enthusiasts and members of civic groups. The movie may be obtained at a rental fee of $2.50 from the Public Information Office, N. J. Dept. of Conservation and Economic Development, P.O. Box 1390, Trenton, N. J. 08625.

State Geologist Dr. Kemble Widmer recently brought new insight to the layman's understanding of a significant aspect of the State by the publication of "The Geology and Geography of New Jersey." This book, already adopted for use in some schools and universities, traces the development of the State from 600 million years ago. Dr. Widmer explains why New Jersey is a state of contrasts, and describes the origin of New Jersey's barrier beaches, pallsades and the Delaware Water Gap.

Guided tours through natural areas have been a consistent favorite with student groups. Reservations for the guide service should be made ten days in advance of the planned trip. Requests mailed directly to the chosen area will assure proper service.

Descriptive information on all New Jersey State forests, parks and historic sites is available free of charge from Public Information, N. J. Department of Conservation & Economic Development, Box 1390, John Fitch Plaza, Trenton, N. J. 08625.
