BOARD OF EDUCATION AWARDS TRANSPORTATION CONTRACTS

The Board of Education received bids from only two firms for transporting trainable and educable students to other school districts last night. Splitting six contracts were McKeon Taxi and Morgan Taxi. Both bid on the six routes.

McKeon's contracts were: two trainable pupils to Keasby daily at $6 per round trip; four educable pupils to Wilson School, Sayreville, and return at $16 per day; and one trainable pupil to Samsel School, Sayreville and return, $3 per day.

Albert Oleksa of Morgan Taxi received the following routes: five educable pupils to Roosevelt School, Sayreville, at $12.50 per round trip; one special education pupil to Bruce Street School, Newark, and back, $28 per day; and two educable pupils to Roosevelt School, $5 per round trip.

Board members calculation costs for the 15 students will total $12,690 per year less the number of days the pupils do not attend schools for instruction. The state foots 75 per cent of this sum in addition to the same percentage of tuition costs.

A new teacher hired was Layton Shoemaker to teach geography and science in the seventh grades at $5,200. He will succeed the late James Powers. Miss Lynn Balas was appointed cheerleader coach and girls' intramural program supervisor at a stipend of $400 annually. Custodian Leonard Chrzascz was rehired for September and October at a salary of $333.33 per month. Physical education instructor John Kovaleski's salary was adjusted to $6,600, a master's degree level.

Roof Vandalism Repairs At $275

Madsen & Leslie was awarded a contract to make roof repairs on its bid of $275. An inspection of the roof indicated that much damage had been caused by vandals to the tar paper lashing of the elementary school where bottles and other debris have been left.

Superintendent of Schools Eugene Dobrzynski reported that the drain on the roof over the stage in the high school building is not functioning and that water settles in the area and is seeping through the roof and wall of the corridor. He also stated that repairs had to be made to the ceiling over the stairway landing on the stage where tar was seeping through to the floor. A damaged cast iron sewer pipe in the high school had to be replaced.

He also asked the board to consider an installation of an automatic fire detection system, mandatory by the state, at an estimated cost of $11,000 and the setting up of a program for painting the elementary school classrooms which have not had any paint applied since the school was built. Walls are washed each year, he said, and the paint in many areas has worn thin. He was authorized to purchase additional desks and chairs for the school.

Hired for the elementary school was David Jennings at $5,500. A contract given Mrs. Margaret Keenan was rescinded as she had not yet reported for her teaching assignment. She had requested an indefinite leave of absence due to a personal emergency which the board turned down on the basis that hiring substitute teachers to fill in is not good for the education of the children and not fair to them.

A request by the Recreation Commission for use of the gym on Saturday mornings for Little League basketball and on Monday evenings for senior men's basketball was received. The Commission, through member James Campbell, also requested use of a room or two five nights weekly for varied activities connected with the youth recreation program. The commission desires use of ping pong tables, checkers, chess and such activities of interest for children.

The request was referred to Mr. Dobrzynski so that he could contact the director for further details.

The commission deems this program a temporary one to see if enough interest is generated so that permanent plans can be made.

OWNERS MAKE FINAL ANTI-ROAD APPEAL

Amid entreaties by residents of Fourth St. extension not to have a road connecting their street with Pupek Dr., Mayor Richard J. Schultz made an appeal to the Planning Board and the Board of Public Works to give the matter more thought before making a final decision.

He said that this important matter deserves further consideration since three petitions have been submitted concerning it. One of the petitions having 60 signatures opposed the road; another listing 80 names, some of them "Mr." and "Mrs.," favored the road providing there is not another road linking Fourth St. with Main St.

A third petition was read at Tuesday's Council meeting signed by the directors, wardens and vestrymen of the Christ Episcopal Church listing six reasons why they object to the road. They were: (1) Approximately 200 children attend church school and the road would create more traffic; (2) the extra flow of traffic would be hazardous to the children coming to church school; (3) there would be speeding; (4) the flow of traffic would be heavy; (5) it would create a "lovers' lane;" and (6) the cul-de-sac is very good for the five houses and the church.

Residents who purchased homes there five and six years ago complained that maps in existence at the time of purchase showed a cul-de-sac, not a through road. Some of the residents stated that they even made inquiries about the purchase of the property

S.A.F.A. TO ATTEND CONVENTION

President Harold McLaughlin of the South Amboy First Aid Squad was announced that a local delegation will be sent as observers to the International Rescue & First Aid Conference at the Traymore Hotel in Atlantic City from Thursday, September 30, through Saturday, October 2.

The delegates from South Amboy will be President McLaughlin, Captain John Mulvey, Vice President Frank Nagle, Trustee C. Leslie Batchelor, and Instructor Advisor Michael Szraga.

Mr. Szraga will be among the American and Canadian Red Cross judges who will review the various First Aid and Rescue Squads. He is the only active charter member of the South Amboy First Aid Squad and remembers riding in the Squad's first ambulance back in 1939. He is a Red Cross First Aid instructor and an individual member of the International First Aid (IRFAA). Locally, Mr. Szraga has conducted Red Cross first aid classes for various industries and civic groups and has also been a speaker on first aid at many public meetings.

The Atlantic City convention will be comprised of a series of workshops that will provide a practical, intensive opportunity to acquire the most up-to-date information and training from top medical and professional authorities.

The Workshops were planned and will be conducted under the auspices of the N. J. Committee on Trauma, American College of Surgeons with financial support provided by Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick.

The South Amboy First Aid Squad is a unit member of the IRFAA as well as the American Red Cross.

nearest the cul-de-sac at the auction. They felt that they had been deceived.

Spokesman for the group, William Weissmann, polled the councilmen, as the elected officials, to see if they had altered their positions. The line-up remained the same, with Councilman Eugene Szesko opposed and Councilmen John J. Howley, Peter J. Rush and John Connors favoring.

"Divide and Conquer" Charge Made

Mr. Weissmann criticized the manner in which the public forum on the road was conducted September 14, alleging that the whole gist of the meeting had been lost in an effort to "divide and conquer" the group. He added that the people of the city are "not as dull as they think."

A clarification of jurisdiction powers was asked of City Attorney John E. Mullane who, in a personal opinion, remarked that in view of the importance of the decision, felt that a public forum should be held and all the "pros" and "cons" stated prior to voting on the decision.

Planning Board chairman John Ploskonka reiterated that the council majority is in favor of the road, that his board is 90 per cent for it and that the

CONSERVATION MEN VIEW CITY AREAS

Some progress has been made toward beautifying the city, it was disclosed Tuesday at City Hall. Mayor Richard J. Schultz stated that he met with state Development and Conservation Department officials last Thursday in an informal way with Mrs. Eleanor Litts of Barklow St. to survey regions like the Water Works Pond, the Macedunski Terrace cliff and the land fill to discuss what measures can be taken to enhance them.

The experts, Neil Munch and F.D. Potter of Monmouth County, made some recommendations. Mrs. Litts had invited them in conjunction with her work with Brownies and Girl Scouts in promoting conservation activities in their programs.

Mrs. Litts explained that the idea behind the meeting with the experts was to devise worthwhile projects and have the girls (and Boy Scouts) participate in them. She said that a definite program will be set up as soon as more information is obtained. Plants and other vegetation will be donated and that the whole program will cost very little if anything at all. "All we expect from the city is cooperation," she stated. "We won't need money, only cooperation. We are waiting for the Planning Board to come up with a definite map for recreational purposes."

Schultz said that the experts will send a letter to the city suggesting what type of vegetation to plant on the steep hill. It was their opinion, he said, that vegetation could solve the washout problem at the cliff. They also recommended that shrubs be planted at the wall at the bottom of the hill.

Land Fill

"Priceless Property" In scanning the land fill, Schultz reported the experts as saying that the region is "priceless," that it is worth much money. They did not think that this land was suited for buildings of high level and proposed that it be used exclusively for recreational purposes. They said they would send plans for beautifying it. Schultz reported.

Regarding the Water Works Pond, Schultz is informed that there is no state program, as told him, for cleaning out and stocking the pond with fish. He said that all kinds of debris are thrown into the pond, including park benches, by vandals and litterers. He said that Mr. Potter and Mr. Munch were happy to hear that South Amboy has no water problem.

Resident Complains To Council About Parking Lot Rowdiness

A resident living in the vicinity of the Sacred Heart parish parking lot, representing a group of people in the area, complained to the mayor and council Tuesday of the nightly disturbances by youths at the lot. He said that there is skidding around the lot in cars up until 1:00 and 1:30 a.m., that beer drinking takes place, that there is cavorting there with girls and that all kinds of loud language is used there.

"These people are getting beer from someplace," he declared. Afterwards he maintained that the area is littered with garbage and broken glass.

Replying, Mayor Richard J. Schultz remarked that there has been a "little disagreement," but that as recent as last Thursday, he had a conference with Acting Police Chief Edward O'Leary and that a hard-fast policy had been determined in dealing with such trouble spots.

Explaining, he said that henceforth in places where complaints are made, the police have been given specific orders to drive the youths out and to keep them out regardless whether the property involved is public or private and whether anyone said they could or could not stay there.

Included in such trouble spots are church and school properties and railroad property. Regarding the beer drinking, he said that a program was started last week in which private detectives are being used in taverns and elsewhere to catch businessmen and other people who sell beer and other alcoholic beverages to minors or make purchases for them.

He said that four places in the city are especially under surveillance for suspicion of such illegal sales. "If they can't learn the consequences by reading the newspapers, they will learn them in the courts."

Councilman Peter J. Rush, license commissioner and a frequent critic of beer drinking by local youths, again emphasized that violators will be shown no pity, that they will get the maximum penalties recommended by the state Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

Adult Purchases Called Cruel of Problem

Councilman Rush declared that in the past three years, eight local taverns have been penalized for sales to minors. Mayor Schultz and he made a special appeal to the people who have information of such violations to pass the information to them for action.

The most recent penalty was imposed by the ABC upon Red's Package Store, 108 South Broadway, for selling beer and a bottle of wine to a 17-year-old youth August 20. In this case, a recommendation as to the severity of the penalty was not made to the council by the ABC but imposed directly.

Because no previous offense had been recorded for the local package store and because the proprietor entered a guilty plea, five days of a 20-day suspension penalty had been remitted. The establishment is to be closed from 9 a.m. yesterday until 9 a.m. October 7.

In addition to a municipal court fine of $10 and $20 costs, a fine of $50 had been levied on the store operator by the state, Rush added.

Board of Public Works is unanimously advocating the road. No opinions have changed. He also added that because of this controversy the board is unable to conduct its other regular business. Particularly being delayed is a revision of the zoning ordinance.

When Weissmann asked if the council will recommend that Jersey Central Power & Light Company grant the easement for the road, Mayor Schultz said that he is waiting for the final word from the Board of Public Works, that he will not contact JCP&L Co. until the final vote is given.

Then the mayor explained that the city did not ask for this easement, that the city was asked to help secure it by the builders. Mullane asserted that it was pushed through by the council at the behest of the builders and boards who are averse to having dead-end utility lines. Approval of Section Four of the home project, consisting of about 24 lots, hinges on receipt of the easement.

Because of the combined appeal (Mayor Schultz has declared himself an opponent of the road), he prevailed upon Ploskonka to take another vote on the road at its special meeting yesterday. There was some apprehension that the board of nine members might not have a quorum.

RESIDENT

Rush announced that two other directives are being prepared by the mayor and council to help eliminate brawling and other problems in the city. He said that an ordinance is being revised requiring all convicted criminals entering the city to register with the police chief immediately instead of within 24 hours as the ordinance now reads. He said that in a period of 4 or 5 hours, such persons can cause quite a bit of disturbance.

Signs will be posted at all entrances to the city publicizing this revision. All individuals who have been convicted for criminal offenses by either the state, federal government or municipality must register, Rush said.

The Fire Ordinance is the other statute being revised. In its new form, Rush said it will define how many people can occupy a building safely. It is a measure being taken to counteract the present practice of patrons jamming into some of the more popular taverns where neighbors are constantly harassed and victimized.

Councilman Rush announced also that the Public Utilities Commission public hearing concerning the erection of a shelter for southbound railroad commuters in the city was scheduled for yesterday in Newark at 10 a.m. and that he would attend.

PLANNING BOARD APPROVES AMSHORE SECTION FOUR

At a special meeting last night the Planning Board passed a resolution allowing the approval of the Fourth Section of Amshore Realty Co. without the connecting road from Pupek Drive to Fourth St. extension. Approval is contingent on the acquisition of an easement for the road, an approved performance bond is posted and written approval is obtained from the county.

Board chairman John Ploskonka, following a caucus with the builders, barred public comments at the meeting stating that the issue had already been "thoroughly" around quite enough. Amshore, in addition, was granted an extension on its preliminary approval application for Section Five to November 30. There will be a public hearing scheduled.

Final approval for Section Four conditions included: a filing of a form to be approved by the city attorney; the amount of a performance bond to be approved by the city engineer; county approval in writing for development of the section; and acceptance of the road easement by the city. A surety bond in the sum of $25,330 and a balance of $3,837 for the extension road was mandated.

The only member to vote against the resolution was Mayor Richard J. Schultz. Four members voted affirmatively of the quorum office. Ploskonka declared that this matter is settled as of now.

When Ploskonka wished to transfer the meeting from the council chamber to the mayor's office, the mayor protested that the people present could not all squeeze in. A poll of those who wished to remain showed eight hands. However, as the meeting proceeded in the council chamber, no persons had left.

The Recreation Commission had recommended the following facilities for the land fill area: combination football-soccer field, running track, football field with dimensions of 210 by 85 yards, a 300 by 100-foot parking lot suitable for 110 vehicles, a wading pool two feet deep and 20 feet in circumference, an ice skating rink, 100 by 100 feet at an estimated $3,000 cost, bleachers, court facilities, lights, grass, fencing and blacktopping.

Also picnic tables, grills, park benches, shade trees and tennis courts. The commission was asked to estimate total acreage needed.

An anti-climax of the road controversy were two petitions submitted, one with 36 signatures from Fourth Street and Fifth Street residents opposing the road and another with 24 signatures from Cedar Street home owners, also opposing.

Ploskonka reported that developers of Pine Estate, Milton Wasch and Irving Shore had told him in so many words to "mind his own business" over a catch basin installation which has been plugged up at the foot of South Feltus Street, awaiting an outlet to a creek or some other storm sewer system. Mayor Schultz asked that the developers be sent a letter reprimanding them for not attending a meeting when asked to.

The board chairman had suggested that certificates of occupancy for their homes be held up until the developers report to a called conference. He also announced that the regular meetings of the board will be held on the second Wednesdays of the month starting in October.

Howley Refutes Fire Boxes Charge

In response to charges leveled at the Democratic administration with regard to fire alarm boxes, Councilman John Howley, Chairman of the Fire Commission, had the following comments:

"As far as painting poles on which fire alarm boxes are located, it is common knowledge to the average adult that it is a violation of the law to deface them in any manner. Secondly, if it were permissible, it would be an unwise gesture for the city to bear the expense of painting poles belonging to a utility that can well afford the maintenance."

"However, in connection with painting of the alarm boxes, now that vacations are over, I have a program worked out with Councilman Henry whereby regular city employees will be used to do this work rather than place an extra burden on the taxpayers."

"As for the numbers on various fire alarm boxes being other than the actual call number, I might point out that at one time or another, the average citizen has heard the term 'vandalism' used in connection with fire alarm boxes and traffic light control boxes. In an effort to save the taxpayers the cost ($200 plus) of installing new boxes at these locations, the city electrician has been instructed to replace the outer shells of such boxes from an assortment of used boxes in which the mechanical mechanisms have failed. I might further add that no matter what might appear on the outside of the box, the inner mechanisms are in perfect working order and the firemen know where to respond when an alarm is sounded. Also, if disinterested people like Mr. Bradley would stay away from these locations when a fire alarm is sounded, it would greatly aid the firemen in doing their job even more efficiently."

SELOVER PTO HOLDS MEETING

The first meeting of the Jesse Selover School PTO of Morgan held on Tuesday featured a welcome address by school Principal James Moran and a talk by guest speaker Henry Counsman, newly appointed assistant superintendent of schools in Sayreville.

Introduction of the faculty and entertainment provided by the "Sweet Adelines", who sing barbershop harmony, were also highlights. The attendance banner and award was won by Mrs. Okin's second grade.

The next meeting will be held October 19 at 8 p.m. and the program will feature Gilbert P. Augustine, Principal of Samuel E. Schul School of Perth Amboy, guest speaker and demonstrations by Robert Troy and students of the Katame Judo Academy.

Social Security Law Increases Benefits

Most residents will be affected in some way by one or more of the changes made in the social security law by Congress this year, William A. Fogarty, social security district manager in Perth Amboy, announced this week.

The one change that will affect all residents who now get monthly retirement, survivor or disability payments is the 7 percent increase in the benefit rate.

The monthly rate was increased 7 percent for most people effective January 1965. The first regular checks reflecting the increase will be mailed in October covering September. In September, people will get an extra check. This check will be for the difference between the new and old benefit rates for January through August.

There is no need for anyone to come into the district office in order to get his benefits increased. This will be done automatically.

The minimum rate for workers who start getting benefits when they are 65 or older was increased from $40 to $44 a month. The maximum monthly payment for those now getting benefits was increased from $127 to $135.90. Since the minimum increase was $4 a month, those people whose benefit was between $40 and $56 a month actually are getting more than a 7 percent increase. Those now getting benefits of $57 or more a month will receive a 7 percent increase.

A worker who now gets $60 a month will get $64.20; one who now receives $75 will get $80.30; a person receiving $100 will have a new rate of $107; and a person now getting $120 will get $128.40 each month.

Family groups now get maximum benefits between $60 and $254 a month depending on the worker's rate. Under the new law, families will receive maximum benefits between $66 and $309.20.

The wage base on which social security taxes are paid and on which benefits are figured will increase to $6,600 in 1966.

The changes made in the law will permit workers who retire in the future with average earnings of $550 a month (equivalent to $6,600 a year) to get $168 a month, but this amount will not be payable for some years.

As the worker's rate increases because of the new $6,600 wage base, so the maximum amount payable to a family will increase to as much as $368 a month.

If you have any questions about this or other recent changes made in the social security law, write, telephone or visit the district office at 93 Smith St., Perth Amboy. The telephone number is Valley 6-4407.

The annual parade attracts nation-wide attention and early in September a proclamation was issued by President Lyndon B. Johnson acknowledging the bravery of patriot Pulaski with the Continental Army during the American war for independence.

DROP BEER PURCHASE CHARGE AGAINST YOUTHS

Acting Magistrate Samuel Sladkus refused to give credence to testimony given by two youths in a hearing against Paul Nagy of 209 Catherine Street who was accused of purchasing beer for two 17-year-old boys on August 6. He was perturbed when one of the youths was brought before him just minutes before the case for assaulting his mother. Both youths gave conflicting testimony.

In the presence of a court stenographer, who had recorded the judge's remarks, the case was dropped pending notification from the county prosecutor regarding dismissal of the charges. Presenting the case for the city was Patrolman John Duggan who was told by the magistrate that he had proceeded with the prosecution as he had to do in view of the complaint.

Also having charges dismissed against him for driving in a dangerous manner August 7 was Joseph Strzykalaki, 19, of 438 John Street, for insufficient evidence. A complaint against the youth was made to police by a Perth Amboy man who said that his car was forced off the road by drag racers on outer Main Street, but the witness did not appear in court.

Allen J. Bloodgood, 22, of 145 Second Street, paid the court $10 and $5 costs for having an abandoned vehicle on Leffert Street. He was issued the summons by Sgt. Anthony Tarallo July 28.

John R. Lukie of 324 Oak Street pleaded not guilty and was so found on a careless driving accusation by George Frothingham who said he was cut off by the defendant on Stevens Avenue Sept. 3. Frothingham also was absent from court. Found innocent of driving 30 miles per hour on Main Street, a 25 m.p.h. zone, August 20 was Michael Ciavolino of 4 Westbrook Rd., Lakewood who was represented by an attorney.

Edwin Schaeffer, 18, of 15 Cedar Ter., Parlin, paid $5 and $5 costs on a charge by Duggan that he failed to exhibit his license August 27. He had pleaded innocent.

A fee of $15 and $10 costs was assessed Harold Mehrlander of 421 Summit Avenue, Perth Amboy, who was charged with assault and battery on a 17-year-old boy September 6 by the boy's mother. He pleaded guilty.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

Mr. Bradley has complained about the Democratic Inter-party fight that is "seriously affecting the administration of city affairs" and that "the average Democrat doesn't know who his boss is now. This is causing confusion among city administrators". Since he has bubbled over to condemn the elected officials of all wards I wonder if he would stop speaking in generalities and give us concrete examples of the "affected administration" and "confusion". One of those Democrats represents my ward and if he is having trouble, my fellow ward voters and I should be made aware of it.

Specifically what "Democratic mismanagement demands that all buildings . . . be held up"?

As for the Democrats consistently cutting back monies requested by the Board of Education, revenue exceeded expenses by $39,000.00 for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1964. A profit was also made for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1963. Maybe these Democrats had foresight in knowing the budget was high.

(Signed) Richard A. Servis

To The Editor:

It is time that there was something done for the underprivileged children who attend Hoffman School. The children who now have the misfortune to attend this public school will someday be required to compete with other children in the world who are now receiving an education.

During the final weeks of first grade my son was given an eye examination, by a specialist, because the school board informed me he had an eye defect. There was absolutely no physical defect in either eye. We were fortunate to learn that he finished first grade trying to read from right to left.

I received no reply from letters informing his teacher, and learned he was going to second grade able to read twenty words. The Superintendent of Schools said a child should remain with his own age group regardless of scholastic ability. He advised me that there is a remedial reading class at Rutgers University. Rutgers accepts children for a remedial reading class after they have failed third grade. How can my son fail third grade? He must remain with his age group.

Being of the opinion that my son will someday graduate and leave Hoffman to enter college or the business world, and had best learn to read enough to answer the questions on his unemployment questionnaire, I spent a long, hot summer teaching him 100 words. I did better in two months than qualified (???) teachers had in nine months. My son does know what side of the page to start on now.

However, this year Hoffman School has at their disposal one qualified remedial reading teacher. They have placed her teaching the fifth grade class and she may teach some children to read.

Our Board of Education should realize that if our children can't read the Want Ads, they can't get a job. There are unemployment checks, public welfare, and the Federal Government's Anti-Poverty program to rely upon ten years from now if they fail to be responsible now.

I was informed there is no space for my children to eat their lunch at school regardless of extreme weather conditions. If they do take their lunch they must wait for space to eat on unsafe bleachers. I don't have to worry about that. My children are eating at home, so someone else's child will chance breaking their bones if they fall; then safe space will be provided. The School Board is ignoring the problem until forced to do something.

We have a wonderful Board of Education in South Amboy. What if some students don't have a desk? "They've managed without them so far!" Some classes don't have classrooms, but they've managed to get 45 pupils to a class. The Board of Education sure knows how to save our tax dollars, they are going to save until the children leaving Hoffman School will be able to sit back and eat off the fat of the land. That's all they'll be able to do.

THE DOCTORS SAID NO. Sergeant Henry E. Milbauer as he received his certificate of retirement from the hands of Col. Edward E. Moran, Director of the Department of Specialist Training, the U.S. Army

Potato Salad:

International Favorite

Many are the ways of fixing potato salad. In Scandinavia, they often combine potatoes with apples, beets and herring. In Spain, anchovies and capers turn up with potatoes in salad and in the Basque country, they even fill a hollowed apple with cubed potatoes which have been marinated in an olive oil-vinegar dressing. French potato salad consists of simple sliced cooked potatoes dressed with vinaigrette sauce. German potato salad sometimes appears with bits of crumbled bacon or the potatoes may be flavored with dill and garnished with cucumbers. At the Castellana Hilton Hotel in Madrid, a "Salad Americano" listed on the menu turns out to be potato salad garnished with tomato wedges and hard-cooked eggs.

Whatever the country of origin, the dressing for potato salad is all-important. Most connoisseurs also feel that the cooked potatoes should first be marinated in fragrant olive oil, preferably a Spanish olive oil. An old Alsatian trick is to add a couple of tablespoons of boiling hot water to the potatoes just before tossing them with oil—important if raw onions are used with the potatoes, it blends the flavors more smoothly. Vinegar is never added until last, shortly before serving. Sometimes vinegar is omitted altogether and mayonnaise added, but many an otherwise delicious salad has been ruined by too much mayonnaise.

Spanish Potato Salad

4 potatoes, cooked, diced
1 garlic clove, peeled
1 small white onion
1 tablespoon diced pimiento
2 anchovy fillets, chopped
1 tablespoon capers

1 tablespoon hot water
1/2 cup Spanish olive oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons vinegar
12 pimiento-stuffed olives

Rub out garlic clove over wooden salad bowl. Slice onion thin, or dice fine. Add to bowl with potatoes, pimiento, anchovy and capers. Add hot water, toss lightly. Add olive oil and salt, toss again. Let stand at room temperature until an hour before serving, then chill. Just before serving, add vinegar, toss lightly, arrange over salad, greens. Garnish with sliced stuffed olives. 6-8 servings.

SAYREVILLE MAN SERVES 20 YEAR ARMY TOUR

Sergeant Henry E. Milbauer of 57 Buchanan Ave., Sayreville, who was five times rejected for military service but served in combat in five different campaigns of World War II, has been retired from the Army after twenty years' active duty, it was announced at the U. S. Army Signal School today. Shortly after his birth, he was found to be a victim of chronic osteomyelitis, a bone disease, and the doctors gave him fourteen years to live.

Sergeant Milbauer served his final fourteen months of active duty as an instructor in the Signal School's Photography Division. He received his certificate of retirement from the hands of Col. Edward E. Moran, Director of the Department of Specialist Training, of which the Photography Division is an element.

A 1938 graduate of Roosevelt Junior High School in West Orange, N.J., Sergeant Milbauer first entered the Army in 1942 after obtaining special permission. Then, till the close of World War II, he served with the 505th Light Pontoon Company, which had the mission to ferry troops across rivers and to throw up bridges for assaults. He saw action in five major campaigns, including the drive into Normandy and the Battle of the Bulge.

Returned to the States and discharged after the war, he attempted to reenlist in 1946 and was again rejected, that time because of lung trouble. In 1947, however, he tried once more and was accepted because of his war record. Since then he served without further break.

He now makes his home in Sayreville with his wife, the former Miss Kane Moue of Nagasaki, Japan, and their two daughters, Joan, 13, and Patricia, 12 years old.

On September 9 St. Mary's High School officially began its 1965-1966 school year with the participation of the student body at a dialogue Mass celebrated by Rt. Rev. Monsignor Francis Sullivan, pastor. During the same week the freshman class took part in a three day series of placement tests. On Friday night, September 17, a "Get Acquainted" dance was held in the cafeteria.

One of the changes in the curriculum of St. Mary's High this year is an Activity Period during which the students are free to attend the various club and committee meetings.

Mark Scioria, senior, being selected from some five hundred applicants attended a course in mathematics this summer at Newark College of Engineering. Instruction in Computer programming was given in addition to other mathematical demonstrations. His group's work compiled as a report, is to be presented as a technical paper at a Computer Operator's Convention in New York in early October. If published this paper will be nationally distributed.

St. Mary's has been notified by the Catholic Press Association that the 1964-1965 edition of the school newspaper has been awarded the rating of All-Catholic. This rating, based upon service, editorial content, promotion, layout, style, construction, art and photography, is the highest award a high school newspaper can receive. Editor-in-Chief for the 1965-1966 edition, James Dufford, has announced that the annual subscription drive for the "Crown" is now underway. Revenue from the subscriptions is used for the maintenance of the paper throughout the year. He also mentioned that a Press Dance will be held at the termination of the drive.

On Saturday, September 25, the Sceptre and Crown Staffs will sponsor a trip to the Press Conference at Villanova University. Any Maryite interested in Journalism may attend.

The Gymnasium was the setting on Thursday, September 16, for an Assembly in order that the Student Council Nominees might present their platforms to the student body. The Candidates are: for President, John Germak and Robert Knight; for Secretary-Treasurer, Kathleen Haag and Diana McAndrews. On the following day rallies were held by each of the two parties.

As the numerous activities begin to take place, and basing an opinion upon the spirit shown thus far, a successful school year is anticipated at St. Mary's High by all her Members.

Top Priority Goals Of U.S. School Aid

NJEA establishes five "top priority" goals for the improvement of classroom learning in the current issue of its magazine, the NJEA REVIEW, and urges teachers to make sure new federal school aid is used to help attain them.

Over $20 million in fresh U.S. funds become available to New Jersey school districts this year to help provide better education for disadvantaged children. The NJEA REVIEW advises local teacher associations to make certain this money is spent where it will do children the most good: to improve teaching and learning in the actual classroom.

"The emphasis must be on teaching, and teachers should help decide what must be done," insists the magazine, which goes to over 55,000 New Jersey teachers.

When school districts plan use of the new federal school aid for low-income families, the NJEA REVIEW articles asks that top priority be given to these goals:

1. Reducing class size. "Disadvantaged children need personal attention. They need classes small enough so someone can pay attention to them. They need teachers concerned enough really to care about them."

2. Modernizing classrooms. "Good lighting, adequate school furniture, attractive surroundings, and basic working equipment should be provided."

3. Giving teachers more time to teach. "Aides could take over clerical tasks, collections, playground and cafeteria duties, and free teachers for creative planning and individual counseling."

4. Supplying specialist help. "Remedial reading teachers, speech therapists, psychologists and social workers are necessary to handle severe student problems."

5. Developing teacher-training programs. "These would focus on in-service projects for greater understanding and skill in handling disadvantaged youngsters. Student teaching, teacher recruitment, and teacher-orientation projects could be included."

The NJEA REVIEW article also advises teacher associations to develop "close ties" with community action programs developed in their area under the federal Economic Opportunity Act. Such ties would "prevent a duplication of effort and expenditure."

SOUND EATING PATTERN IMPORTANT FOR STUDENTS

September means the beginning of school and, for many youngsters, the beginning of a new adventure. You can help your youngster be a better and more active student in many ways, says Miss Audrey C. Burkart, foods and nutrition specialist at the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science, Rutgers University.

One way is to help him establish a nutritionally sound eating pattern. Our traditional three meals a day has been joined by the snack habit. In some cases snack foods have become more appealing than the foods served at breakfast, lunch, or dinner.

It is very important to plan wisely, counting the calories for both "meal" and "snack" foods. Particularly if your youngster has a tendency to be overweight, plan to serve a combination of meals and snacks that add up to his required number of calories.

Breakfast will always be an important meal. It need not be an elaborate one. There are many convenience foods from which to select, such as crisp cold cereals, milk, frozen fruit juices, toast, eggs, or even a meat or cheese sandwich.

Snack time in school can help you too. For example, if he didn't enjoy his orange or other fruit juice at breakfast, why not include an orange in his snack sack? This would be much better than cookies or cake.

Lunch time is sometimes a "hurry-and-eat-time" both in school or at home. So a light lunch of a bowl of soup, half a sandwich, and possibly a fruit dessert such as applesauce or canned fruit with milk would probably be enjoyed more than a heavier meal of spaghetti and meat balls or macaroni and cheese.

If lack of appetite is no problem why not include a meat, cheese or peanut butter sandwich, and a glass of milk as a mid-afternoon snack rather than letting him drink and munch on carbonated beverages and potato chips. These snack foods, by the way, are very enjoyable and they can be included in the daily pattern. But they should not take the place of such foods as milk and vegetables.

Dinner time gives you another opportunity to help your youngster receive his needed amount of proteins, vitamins, minerals, and calories.

When evaluating your menus, ask yourself the following questions. Does each meal have a serving of meat, fish or poultry, a serving of fruits and vegetables, a serving of cereals or cereal products, and a serving of milk. When they do you are well on your way to serving your budding student a nutritionally sound menu.

To take a girl to dinner, gosh,
She wants to put on weight!

Editorial

There was a time, in this country, when a young person could leave school with a limited educational background and still have a reasonable expectation of building a rewarding work career.

Such, unfortunately, is no longer the case. The number of unskilled jobs in America declines with every passing year, and the kinds of jobs being newly created almost all require the minimal preparation of a high school education.

Yet, President Johnson estimates that some 780,000 boys and girls will leave school without a high school diploma during the coming school year alone. Most of them, unhappily, will be unaware of the fact that their future job prospects are indeed drab.

As the President has suggested, the time to begin an attack on this problem is now, with the new school term just opened. For many of the estimated three-quarters of a million dropouts won't even be on hand for the first sound of the school bell.

The President has asked Vice President Humphrey to mobilize a nationwide effort to inform as many as possible of these youngsters of the vital stake they have in returning to the classrooms. The President thinks that such an effort might cut measurable into this year's dropout total.

Under Vice President Humphrey's personal leadership, therefore, employers, unions, civic, trade and religious organizations and state and local governments are being asked to exert whatever influences they can in a national campaign to encourage young Americans to return to school.

We think such a campaign is deserving of the widest possible support on the part of every organization and every individual with opportunities to touch upon the lives of our young people.

And the time is now.

SIGHT-SEEING AT HISTORIC SITE:

A pair of tourists visit historic St. Peter's Church in the 351 year old Town of St. George, Bermuda. The church was built on the site of what is believed to be the oldest Anglican church in the Western Hemisphere. On the inside of the church is an altar which dates back to 1624, and also a set of communion silver given to the church by William III in 1687. The collection of silver has been valued at a quarter of a million dollars. P.N.S.

"THE SABOTEUR" ... Code Name "MORTUARI" stars Marlon Brando, Yul Brynner, and Trevor Howard in a tale of icy-nerved espionage now playing, with "THE SATAN BUG", at Loew's "35" Drive-In Theatre.

Marlon Brando plays a wealthy German Army officer who escaped from Germany and has taken up residence in India under an assumed name. He is tracked down by British Intelligence officer Trevor Howard, who blackmails him into masquerading as a Gestapo officer and boarding a German blockade-runner captained by Yul Brynner. Brando's mission is to dismantle the scuttling charges, for the allies want to capture the ship with its cargo of valuable rubber.

Filmed in Panavision and color, "THE SATAN BUG" stars George Maharis, Richard Basehart and Anne Francis in the story of the development of a virus so deadly that it is capable of destroying the human race, and a batch of these bugs is stolen by a depraved mind who means to destroy humanity with it.

Mile Square Talk

In last week's story about blue-ribbons winner Mrs. James E. Davis, we omitted that she is a resident of 355 Bordentown Ave. A member of the First Presbyterian Church, she sings in the choir, often acting as soloist. Quite good, too, we understand!

Just this week Mrs. Davis was informed that she had won 4 first-prizes and a second at the New Jersey State Fair in Trenton.

Several more intersections have been designated as stop streets for safety's sake. These include Thompson and Fourth Sts.; Henry St. and Pine Ave.; Meacham Dr. and Pine Ave.; and Bordentown and Mason Aves. Stop signs will be situated at the first mentioned streets in each pair listed above.

Councilman John J. Howley mentioned a "first" in emergency resolutions Tuesday when he noted that it was the first time in the month of September that the City Council had to pass an emergency appropriation, having run out of money in the traffic lights account in the regular city budget. The council was authorized to raise $500 to supplement the exhausted $2,500 that was earmarked for the year to take care of traffic light repairs. He said it was evidence of how well the budget is prepared each year.

An ordinance was passed on second and final reading authorizing the resurfacing of parts of Second, Henry and Portia Sts. and Stevens Ave. in the amount of $15,000 to be raised by issuance of notes and bonds. Manzo Contracting Company of Matawan was the lowest bidder for this work and was awarded the contract for $9,135.

A formal application for the position of patrolman was made by Joseph E. Madeline of 340 Cedar St. In the request for appointment he mentioned being listed first in the Civil Service examination held in July.

For the third time in the last two weeks or so Mayor Richard J. Schultz had received a round of applause from spectators at meetings for stands he had taken. In the most recent hand-clapping, Schultz stated sternly that the city will not pay for any mistakes made by housing developers, that they will be made to correct problems before they are cleared by the city. He read the sums of performance and maintenance bonds put up by builders guaranteeing good work from a letter sent to him recently on the subject.

Raymond Litts of Barkalow St. maintained that on the way to the council meeting his car was almost struck by another at the intersection. He described other incidents at the Fourth St.-Stevens Ave. intersection which were perilous. One woman stated that there is no open view for motorists at the corner near the Knights of Columbus.

When William Weissmann asked Mayor Schultz when the Fourth St. extension residents can expect a "yes" or "no" answer on the road connection, the mayor estimated that such a decision should be arrived at within the next ten days. The final decision will be made by the Board of Public Works which meets Tuesday.

Mayor Richard Schultz announced the following persons would serve on the Anti-Poverty program and Juvenile matters in the city: Rev. Edward Cook of Christ Episcopal Church; Rev. James Forker of St. Mary's Church; Rev. Leon Kasprzyk of Sacred Heart Church; Frederic Reese of the Board of Education; Woodrow McCarthy, director of the Housing Authority; and Joseph R. Wojciechowski, publisher of the "Citizen."

An amused spectator when Mayor Schultz announced his Juvenile Advisory Board was Mrs. Eleanor Litts who wondered why no women were on this board which concerns children. Indeed, why not?

The South Amboy Fire Department added another trophy to their collection with a second-place prize won in Vineland last week. They are equally proud of the honor and the fact that their "Miss S. A. Fire Department", Christine Baranowski, was on hand to help cheer them on.

Miss Margaret Ellen Reese, a recent graduate of the Katherine Gibbs Secretarial School and a 1962 graduate of Marymount College of Va., recently took a new job as a secretary at Boynton Bros., Perth Amboy. We wish her good luck!

Councilman Peter J. Rush, not wishing to be too blunt, said that a wastepaper container was found to be missing from in front of the post office where it is much needed. He said that he won't say it was stolen, only "borrowed."

Councilman John Connors noted that the factory at the corner of Second and Stockton Sts., which has been vacant for some years now, is in a deplorable condition and should have something done about it. Upon inquiry, he found out that it is now owned by a person living in California. He also complained once again about the litter and weeds along the railroad tracks by Broadway.

Mayor Richard Schultz spoke angrily about the number of street signs which have been despoiled and turned around confusing everyone. He also complained about the breakage of lights in the hole-in-the-wall, saying that the county cannot be called every day or every week to repair them. He said that this walk is a dangerous one, especially for children and teenagers returning from social functions at night. "We know who they are, but we must have citizen complaints to prosecute," he said. "Residents just have to take the time to sign complaints so that we can stop this vandalism and destruction. I urge the people of the city if they see these things being done, to press charges so that we can put a halt to them."

The mayor thanked the principals of St. Mary's High School and Hoffman High School for their efforts in promoting Traffic Safety Week at the Governor's conference in Trenton Tuesday.

In for many rounds of congratulations were the city firemen who recently won the coveted first prize in Atlantic City and took second place in stiff competition at Vineland last Saturday. It has been a very good year for the firemen who are observing their 75th anniversary this year. From the mayor and councilmen to the man on the street, the firemen have been praised soundly.

Councilman John J. Howley, and other city officials, are very happy over the cooperation they are getting from Freeholder John Phillips of Madison Township who has gone out on the limb on a number of occasions to have things done in South Amboy. A motion by Howley, to send a letter of thanks to the freeholder, was passed by the mayor and council unanimously.

Councilman Eugene Szeszko has again complained about the number of derelict vehicles in and around Marty's Tavern on Washington Ave. He said the tavern owner has already been called in for a governing body conference once and should be called in again. Mayor Schultz said that he had instructed Health Inspector Patrick Vona to either enforce a cleanup of the area or have it closed down. "There has been no improvement there in the past 5 months. We have been very tolerant and he has had enough warning." The mayor said that 3 mopeds have been removed from his yard over the owner's protests and at his expense already.

Walter Lucovitz of 123 South Broadway was admitted to regular membership of the Enterprise Hook & Ladder Co. by council action Tuesday.

Councilman John J. Howley disclosed that recently the appeal made by Woodbridge, Piscataway and Madison Township on the method of county assessment had failed thereby saving other municipalities much money. South Amboy, Howley said, would have had to pay between $13,000 and $15,000 a year more plus whatever other increases may be incurred in subsequent years.

Public Schools PTA Hears Speakers

Charles Thompson, member of the Madison Township Board of Education and former vice-president of the Middlesex County PTA outlined the normal course pursued in "Building A New High School" to members of the South Amboy Public Schools PTA at its initial meeting held last night in the Hoffman High School gymnasium.

Mr. Thompson said that once the need of a new school is recognized, citizens' study groups sanctioned by the Board of Education should study the various aspects of finance, curriculum and physical plant involved in a new school. "Most important," he commented, "is knowing what specific curriculum will suit the district's pupils. Where there are insufficient students to warrant the expense of a specific course, it is often wiser to consider becoming a sending-receiving district, and it would be more feasible to send, for instance, vocational students to an outlying district. In this way, the concentration is on the needs of the majority of students."

Mr. Thompson was emphatic in his opinion that in "building a new high school", the curriculum needs were the primary factor to be considered, not the architect.

Also, speakers at last night's meeting were: Captain Alexander Abbatiello, Safety Officer of the South Amboy Police Department, and Elementary School Principal Joseph Mabey.

Captain Abbatiello told the parents that they are creating traffic problems in the manner in which they discharge and pick-up their children on John and George Sts. He told them that there is a "no parking" ban on George St. during school hours and that it is a 1-way street from Broadway to Stevens Ave. This latter rule enables the children to get out of cars on the right-hand side which is the school side. Captain Abbatiello asked the parents' cooperation in observing these safety rules and emphasized that if they are disregarded, traffic summonses will be issued.

Mr. Mabey described the crowded lunchtime facilities at the school, telling them that there are now 100 registered grade school children who use the gymnasium as a lunch room. In addition, there are normally 20 high school students using the lunchroom facilities. He requested that only those children who live the required distance from school use the provided facilities.

The principal also requested that parents not send their children too early to school but only in sufficient time to meet the line-up time. He also asked that students who ride bicycles to school have locks on them to avoid having them stolen.

Mr. Mabey also told the parents that meetings between parents and teachers would be arranged whenever requested but that parents must check with the principal to arrange these meetings.

Miss D. Dwyer's second grade class won the attendance award.

Refreshments were served by second grade mothers.

Speakers Available To Various Groups

South Amboy trade and civic groups, fraternal organizations and service clubs have been invited by The Port of New York Authority to make use of the bi-state agency's speakers bureau for luncheon or dinner meeting programs it was learned this week.

Of particular interest to local organizations is a dramatic color slide story of the planned 350 million dollar World Trade Center to be constructed on a 16 acre site in lower Manhattan. Featuring twin 110-story buildings, the tallest in the world, the Trade Center will consolidate the public organizations, business firms and international corporations essential to the handling of America's expanding imports and exports.

Other slide presentations given by the Port Authority include an introduction to the history and responsibilities of the bi-state agency, a story of the change taking place on the New Jersey-New York waterfront through the provision of modern marine terminals designed to meet the unique shipping requirements of the future and many other transportation developments in the New York-New Jersey Port District.

The experienced, well-trained members of the speakers bureau are available, free of charge, any morning, afternoon or evening. Most programs are of thirty minute duration but can be tailored to suit the individual needs of the club.

The program is sponsored by the community relations department of The Port of New York Authority. Interested groups are advised to contact the department by writing to 111 Eighth Avenue, New York City, or by calling 620-7587.

Sabres Open Season
Sunday Afternoon

Members of the Sabres Pop Warner football team have been hard at work preparing for their opening day game at Veterans Field Sunday at 2 p.m. against the Highland Park Hurricanes. During the past week the team held scrimmage practice against the North Brunswick Indians and the Madison Park Raiders.

Last year's entire line was lost to the team this year. A crippling blow was dealt the team Saturday at the official Federation weigh-in when three of the key team players failed to make the required 115 lb. weight limit. All three, Allen Chodkiewicz, Dennis Anderson and Jim Keegan, missed the mark by a pound or two.

Another loss suffered by the Sabres was the incapacitation of their starting fullback, Nicholas Charmello, who is nursing a knee injury. Final scrimmage was held Tuesday against St. Mary's of New Brunswick at Veterans Field.

Battling for first team assignments are ends Gary Maru, Willie Garcia and Dave Wisniewski; competing tackles are Charlie Steuber, Tom Wortley, Glenn Seiber, Jim Pearson; guards include Dan Toye, Ed Skarzynski, John McCoy; centers are Fred Chodkiewicz and Ken Stockton.

In the backfield the Sabres have Ray Downs, Neil O'Connor, Bruce Buckiewicz, Robert Skarzynski and Michael Gerdling. The Pee Wee squad is being whipped into shape by coach Bob Epfinger with the lineup of players still uncertain.

Making the opening day lineup Sunday will be Joe Belmonte, Eugene Berardo, Kevin Bergin, Martin Bergin, Arthur Burke, Vincent Coakley, Glenn Gerdling, Joe Graber, Jimmy Hicks, Robert Huryk, Pete Kenny, Kevin Larsen, James Lenahan, Ed Szaro, Richard Therkelson, David Keenan and a host of newcomers. A Pee Wee game will take place at 1 p.m.

The Sabres will conduct a tag day Friday and Saturday with all the funds to be used for the purchase of equipment. The team is preparing for its game with Grand Island, N.Y., in November. The contest will be fought in South Amboy.

Sunday the Plainfield 84th Pipers will entertain at half-time. It will be their third successive year here with William Holmes as drum major and John Mac Donald as pipe major. They will later entertain at Bill's Highlander Bar.
