Decision on Library Tuesday

Whether the city acquires a new library to replace its present inadequate quarters on Broadway, is to be known Tuesday, when the mayor and city council convene for their bi-monthly meeting. However, this vital decision may be delayed again if a full governing body membership is not present.

City officials want this decision to be a unanimous one. For the past month they have been conducting city business in the absence of Council President Richard J. Schultz, who has been a patient at the South Amboy Memorial Hospital. Schultz was released from the hospital Saturday, and is expected at the council meeting Tuesday.

Up for consideration, is the purchase of the vacated Calvary Methodist Church on Stevens Avenue and Second Street, whose congregation has united with the First Methodist Church on John Street. The location of the former church building is held to be ideal by many residents.

A number of residents of the city seem to favor the purchase of this building and converting it into a library headquarters. On the other hand, voices have been heard about town in opposition to the acquisition of the former church building for various reasons.

Some people maintain that the building is too old—it is reputed to have been built 97 years ago, when the Methodist congregations separated. These persons further maintain that a $28,000 investment—the sale price of the building—is too steep. Additionally, it has been heard from various sources, where the issue has been under discussion that the renovation of the building would require from $5,000 to $7,000. Included in the renovation work, they say, would be required a leveling of the floor, removal of the stained glass windows, installation of restroom facilities and possibly, an aluminum siding for the exterior as a modernizing venture.

Word has reached this newspaper, that another location has also been proposed for consideration. This site is the Boyes Rug Cleaning firm on Stevens Avenue and Fourth Street which is scheduled to be vacated in the near future. The Boyes building is of masonry construction, one-story in height with a high ceiling and is said to be well suited for a library, since it would require a minimum of renovating for its almost 5,000 square foot area.

Several years ago, the Boyes firm sought a variance to expand their facilities at the plant site, but some neighbors objected strenuously to the granting of the variance. Since that time Boyes announced their departure from the city in favor of another location on alternate 35, the highway connecting outer Main Street. It will be a difficult decision for the mayor and council to make in view of the immediate need for a new library and the proposals that have been made. Some residents regret that the new library was not located at the old Fourth Street School site after the school building was severely damaged by the 1950 explosion and later demolished. Plans for a $70,000 structure there, were prepared and later abandoned.

The ultimate determination of the library issue regarding the church building will likely be reached Monday evening when the Library Board meets with the mayor and council.

Whatever their decision, city officials are as one in their opinion that a new library is needed. At the present library center, the librarian and her assistant often have to improvise to the fullest extent in order to make the library as functional as possible under the present cramped circumstances.

There is but a single portable closet available for the storing of periodicals and various library supplies. Miss Sadie Dowdell, the librarian, frequently has to tax her ingenuity in making every square inch of space serve the maximum purpose.

Meanwhile, people who call up the library wishing to donate books have to be held off until space is made available. This practice has been in effect for some years now and, undoubtedly, many such books, which would ordinarily have been made available to readers, never reach the circulation stage.

There is no space available for repairing books whose binding may have come loose from frequent change of hands. Trying to do some repair work in the present library is like preparing for bed in a telephone booth. In spite of all these handicaps, the librarians have a fine book circulation record. During the school year, not to mention the summer reading programs, the library is flooded with students pursuing their school assignments.

A town the size of South Amboy requires an adequate library to serve the people's needs. This need has been lacking fulfillment for a good number of years and will continue to remain a severe problem unless something substantial is arranged to rectify the situation. At the same time, we do not envy the city fathers who are confronted with a multitude of other financial problems and must still contend with this one.

APPEAL FOR BLOOD

T. Barry Reilly, 17, a hemophiliac, needs at least 250 pints of blood on August 22, 1963 for which a bloodmobile will be available. The blood is going to be used for an operation that he will have. The operation was scheduled for June, but due to an unfortunate accident while visiting at a college which he had hoped to attend, the operation had to be postponed. It is the final stage in treatment for his left leg. Barry is a 1963 graduate of Sayreville War Memorial High School. He is the first bedside student to graduate from the Sayreville school. The operation would have enabled him to attend college. He will probably take a correspondence course until he is able to go to college.

Barry was afflicted with this blood disease at the age of six months. Since that time, he has had over 400 transfusions. He will need at least 250 pints of blood before the operation he is to have, and heaven only knows how many after.

Even though Barry's life has been a very sheltered one, he has a marvelous outlook on life. He wants to be independent, and college he hopes will make this possible. We are asking the people of Middlesex County to help make this possible by donating a pint of blood on August 22, 1963 at the City Recreation Center, 78 Carroll Place, New Brunswick, from 1 to 6:30 p.m., so his dream may come true. Barry has O Rh negative blood, but any type will be accepted and he will be given credit for it. If you have any questions or need information, please call Barry's mother, Mrs. Harold Reilly, 7 Evelyn Terrace, South Amboy, between 9 a.m. and 10 p.m., 721-3255 or his sister, Beverly Tribble, 54 Fouratt Avenue, Melrose Section, Sayreville, 721-8596 before 9:30 a.m. or between 7:30 p.m. and 10 p.m. any evening. We would be ever so grateful to the people of this county for their help, Barry especially. This operation may mean that he could soon throw away the brace he has worn for so many years.

Appointments for donations can be made by Barry's mother, his sister, or through the local New Brunswick Red Cross chapter, telephone, Charter 7-9100. The Red Cross Chapter has 24 hour service, therefore, appointments may be made all weekend.

HIGH RENOVATION BIDS FOR WATER PLANT TO BE STUDIED

Members of the Board of Public Works received an unexpected poll when bids for the modernization and repair of the water treatment plant were opened and read at their meeting, Tuesday. Bids ranged from a high of $32,700 to $24,880.

Much lower figures were expected by the board for two projects the members hoped to complete this year. The base bid was for the repair of the water treatment plant where overhanging Spanish eaves were to be removed and replaced by drain troughs along the edges of the roof and where exterior cracks in the stucco surface were to be filled in and covered over with a sixteenth-inch of coating.

The alternate bid, designated G-1 by the architect Thomas A. Vail of Somerset and South Amboy, was for the repair of the pump house and underground reservoir in the vicinity of the water treatment plant.

A tabulation of the bids disclosed the following quotations, with the base bids given first: James Coan, South Amboy, $19,000 and $13,700; Munn Construction Company of Sayreville, $14,450 and $12,900; John L. Newmeyer, East Brunswick, $18,918 and $13,681; William Kohl, Lindcroft, $15,207 and $12,878; and Albert Pines Corporation, Linden, $11,900 and $10,980.

Because of the high bids received, board member Thomas Vail moved that they be received and filed to be turned over to the architect for his review. A decision on the bids will be made at the board's August 27 meeting.

Repairs on the water treatment plant building are long overdue. The structure, believed to be almost a half-century old, has developed large surface cracks, due to a steady shifting of the building. The architect, at a previous meeting, disclosed that the building has been shifting more than normally could be expected because of unstable corner anchorings.

Plans and specifications for the repair work, as prepared by the architect, were accepted at the board's July 23 meeting. They called for the replacement of wooden frame windows with galvanized steel frames and for surfacing the exterior of the building with a plasticized cement-marble lime mixture containing sterates and applied under pressure.

DEVELOPERS SUBMIT PUMP STATION PLANS

Board members, upon the advice and recommendations of Superintendent Michael Nagle, expressed tentative favor of a plan submitted by home developers, Irving Shore and Milton Wesch of Woodbridge to lower the existing wet well and dry well at the South Pine Avenue pumping station a depth of five feet to permit a gravity flow of the sanitary sewer to service 11 new homes in the area.

The homes, part of a 19-lot project in the orchard adjacent to Veterans Field in Maxfield, bordering Highway 88, will be of Cape Cod bi-level construction, ranging from $18,000 to $19,000 in price. Rangran, Inc., of Woodbridge, of which Shore is president, obtained approval for eight of the homes from the Planning Board and are already in the process of construction.

The tentative approval of the remaining 11 homes was based on the condition that the Planning Board goes along with the proposal for the pumping station changes and the subdivision application in general. The pumping station was reported to be capable of serving 100 homes when altered.

Sketches for the station changes were drawn by George D. Reager of Woodbridge, a civil engineer and land surveyor. The wells are to be constructed according to standard methods and in accordance with the building code, as revealed by the developers.

A drop in the well depth will permit gravity flow of sewerage from Feltus Street to the pumping station. The developers maintained that they would like to acquire assurance from the board that the board will go along with the changes before they ask the Planning Board for final approval of the subdivision.

Part of their plan is to cut 2 feet of surface depth from one end of a new street between Feltus Street and South Pine Avenue, to be called Meacham Drive, after a deceased prominent local doctor, and deposit this fill at the other end of the street to allow for gravity flow.

No changes are required for the eight homes already under construction. The entire matter, following a motion made by Vail, was delegated to be turned over to Nagle and to city engineer Edward C. Reilly for their study.

During the discussion, Nagle pointed out to the board and developers that two poles now situated in the middle of Feltus Street, where the street is to be extended require moving to another location. The poles contain a switch box and vent pipes. Shifting the poles entails disconnection of wires and other attachments which Nagle estimated will cost the developers about $300.

A letter from engineer Reilly recommended that the performance bond posted by Beilap Homes developers in the housing project on Stevens Avenue and Cedar Street extension be returned to the builders since all improvements there, have been installed in accordance with plans and specifications and city regulations.

Board member James Dugan moved that the bond money be released after Reilly's letter disclosed that a three-year maintenance bond in the amount of $2,300 or 10 per cent of the performance bond, will be retained.

A letter from the Frog Hollow Swim Club extended an invitation to board members and their wives to attend an evening of entertainment at the pool site with the mayor and council, August 17 at 8:00 p.m. In appreciation to them "who aided so greatly in the formation of the swim club."

Another letter was received from the mayor and council requesting board members to meet with the governing body August 19, to discuss manhole problems on city streets.

Collections for the month of July were reported by Nagle to be $14,490, compared with collections for July, 1962, of $10,955. Total collections this year so far amount to $96,691 as compared with $78,762 for a similar period during 1962.

DRIVE ON WATER BILL PAYMENTS RESUMES

Delinquent water bills is one of the problems which members of the Board of Public Works have to contend with periodically. Several months ago a drive to collect such bills was conducted with the result that water service to several clients was discontinued.

This Tuesday, board members, were informed by Superintendent Michael Nagle that delinquent bill debtors who have made a deposit on their bills owed have failed to make good the balance due the board and are subject again to have their water service interrupted.

If these bills are not paid promptly, within a week or so, the board will again press its demands for payments. As one board member put it, water department employees will visit homes with bills in one hand and a wrench to shut off the water valves in the other. To turn on the valves again after they have been shut off, costs the consumer an additional fee.

EDITORIAL

THE SCHOOL SYSTEM AND ITS NEEDS

Much has already been written about our public school system and particularly following the visiting committee report conducted by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and printed verbatim in this newspaper.

The evaluation committee brought out many recommendations, both salutary and dubious, with regard to our community and the extent to which it can support what has been suggested.

Without a doubt, our Board of Education, our school staff and administrators and our Board of School Estimate would like to see as many benefits and advantages incorporated into our school system as are possible but, unfortunately, we are not a wealthy community to be able to afford all the luxuries that communities with substantial incomes can afford.

On the other hand, we are not so poor that we can't give our children the opportunities to satisfy their basic needs with respect to educational values and experiences without resorting to all the frills and extras that some more affluent school districts provide.

For some time now our school system has been treated like an orphan with comparison to other school systems in the area. Teachers are not paid on par with teachers of neighboring districts, unless they are newly-trained incoming teachers.

There is no reason why teachers with 15 or 25 years of service should be penalized for their longevity of teaching. This smacks of pettiness and narrow-mindedness and destroys their incentive of developing their teaching capabilities to the fullest, not to mention the important factor of morale. Some teachers of good promise have already left the system because of the flimsy or inadequate future they faced in the system.

It has been disclosed in the committee report that behind each student is about $21,591 of assessed property valuation, which renders no excuse along the line of administration for not providing sufficient pecuniary incentive for teachers with more than a few years of teaching experience.

Parents who are negligent for the manner in which they rear their children are in good part responsible for the future welfare of their offspring. Such a home situation is usually aggravated when there is insufficient income to support the family.

But when there is sufficient income and it is not applied properly toward the upbringing of the children, then the culpability of the parents is the more obvious.

In the same manner, a community which can afford to pay teachers a better financial reward for their teaching efforts and does not, is guilty of the lack of enthusiasm some teachers might develop in the classroom. Lack of enthusiasm often spells poor performance, and how much pressure can administrators apply to such teachers if the pay of the teachers is inadequate?

Educators know that a school system is as good as its teachers. If the teachers are of high caliber, then the product of the school system will generally be of high quality.

This is not to say that our teachers are performing poorly. As the evaluating committee brought out, there is excellent rapport between the teaching staff and the pupils, a good percentage of whom attend college and distinguish themselves in their professions. Such a record attests to the loyalty and capabilities of the local teaching staff.

There is much more to say and to reflect upon concerning the committee report, but because of its length further comments on it will have to be made piecemeal to appear in the future. But there is the need for well qualified and adequately paid teachers who establish the reputation of a school system; it is at this point that the community ought to begin in attempting to improve the system.

Large Local Delegation at Governor's Dinner

The annual Governor's Day Dinner held last night at the Homestead Country Club in Spring Lake was attended by over 2,000 persons of which at least twenty consisted of local residents who paid $30 per plate for the Democratic fund raising affair.

The guests of honor were Governor Richard J. Hughes, H. Mat Adams and Karl Metzger. David T. Wilentz was toastmaster and Anthony M. Yelencsis was general chairman.

Governor Hughes defended the need for the bond issue which will be voted on by the state's voters in November. He stressed that the future of New Jersey, a fast growing industrial state, needs adequate college facilities for its growing population; more facilities to assist the increasing number of mental cases; and improve and enlarge the state's road and highway system.

PERIOD OF GRACE GIVEN TAXPAYERS

William Kingsley, Director of the Division of Taxation, announced today that a three weeks period of grace has been allowed New Jersey business and professional men who failed to file their business personal property informational return form on the August 1 deadline.

Kingsley said that more than 140,000 completed return forms have been received by the Bureau to date. This excellent return, he said, indicates the great interest that New Jersey businessmen have in the potential impact of Chapter 51, Laws of 1960.

Summer vacations, and the fact that the forms are new, are among the factors, Kingsley said, which prompted the granting of the grace period.

He repeated that there will be no penalties imposed against any individual or firm submitting a completed return by Thursday, August 23.

Failure to receive the return form in the mail, Kingsley said, does not relieve the businessman of the responsibility of filing by August 23.

Blank forms are available at the offices of the local assessors, at the offices of the county boards of taxation, or by mail at the Local Property Tax Bureau, Statistical Section, Box 1908, Trenton 25, N. J.

Penalties for non-filing provided for in Chapter 9, Laws of 1963:

"Section 4. Any property owner required to file a return under this act, who fails or neglects to file a return within the time prescribed herein or who shall file a willfully false or fraudulent return, shall be assessed a penalty of $25.00 per day for each day of delinquency provided that the total penalty for such property owner shall not exceed $500.00 and, provided, further, that in the case of a taxpayer whose business personal property, at cost, does not exceed $25,000.00, there shall be imposed in lieu of such a penalty the appropriate penalty listed below:

$5.00 where the delinquency does not exceed 30 days;
$10.00 where the delinquency does not exceed 60 days;
$20.00 where the delinquency does not exceed 90 days;
$25.00 for each additional 30 days in excess of 90 days, provided that in no event shall the total penalty for such property owner exceed $100.00.

All penalties shall be enforceable and collectible by the Director, Division of Taxation pursuant to the penalty enforcement law (chapter 58 of Title 2A of the New Jersey Statutes) in a summary manner. The director, if satisfied that the failure to file on time was excusable, may abate or remit the whole or part of any penalty."

Stranded Youths Rescued From Boat

A quartet of Perth Amboy youths who left Keansburg at about 9 a.m. Sunday for a pleasure cruise in the Raritan Bay area and who were expected to return to Keansburg about 4 p.m. were rescued from their drifting 19-foot boat at about 10 p.m. near the Raritan River railroad drawbridge connecting this city with Perth Amboy.

Aboard the craft, called the Missy Donna Lee, were Robert Zankor, 16, of 367 Leon Avenue, Route 1, Patchogue, 16, of 497 Compton Avenue, Thomas Belmont, 20, of 226 State Street, and Robert Plekhone, 19, of 354 Amboy Avenue, all of Perth Amboy.

According to police, the boys rode around the bay and Sandy Hook and later noticed their skiff, hurrowed from Frank Slinger of North Brunswick, at Perth Amboy where they went ashore to get something to eat. Afterwards, they began their journey back to Keansburg.

While off the shore of South Amboy, their boat developed mechanical trouble and they began drifting for several hours. It was revealed that a water hose had become disconnected from the engine, causing it to overheat and conk out.

The incoming tide took the boat out to deep water and eventually near the drawbridge where the bridge tender heard their cries of help. Meanwhile, the U.S. Coast Guard had been notified at Sandy Hook when the boat failed to appear at Keansburg at the scheduled time.

It was about 10 p.m. that local police received word of the stranded boat from the bridge tender. Coming to their rescue was Capt. George Brown of the South Amboy Boat Club and the South Amboy First Aid Squad. The youths and their skiff were then towed to the safety of the local boat basin, feeling no ill effects from their unexpected adventure. They were brought ashore about 11:45 p.m.

- AN ANNIVERSARY SCARCELY NOTED -

Forty years ago last month an important event happened -- operations ended on that romantic link to the seashore -- the Jersey Central Traction Co. Only a few rail fans observed the anniversary of the passing of this very important part in the lives of the citizens of our community.

In 1900 the Milltown line of the Middlesex and Somerset Traction Co. was extended from South River through Sayreville to South Amboy. On the evening of August 10th, 1900, sixty-three years ago, the parlor trolley car "Annie R." made the first trip to South Amboy as far as the Amboy Bridge. As was the custom when opening a new line, Edward Radel had his car christened with champagne. Officials of New Brunswick, Milltown, South River, Sayreville, and South Amboy rode the first car over the line, and were entertained at a banquet at a South Amboy hotel. Regular service began the next day, on August 11th. On August 25th, 1900, Edward Radel operated the first car down Main Street into Broadway, South Amboy.

To continue its line southward, the Middlesex and Somerset Co. had surveyed a route to Keyport that same year, and a route from Sayreville to Perth Amboy. But a newcomer into the field, the Jersey Central Traction Company of Keyport eventually won the support of South Amboy authorities and built the Keyport-South Amboy line. Both lines fought over a bridge franchise to connect Perth Amboy and South Amboy. It was not until September, 1910, that this link was opened and it only operated until 1919. It was then possible to board a trolley at the Staten Island Ferry, Smith and Water Sts., and travel over Public Service Railway and Jersey Central Traction Co. track to Pine Ave., South Amboy, 4.5 miles. A car could then be boarded for Keyport.

The Jersey Central Traction Co. had as one of its predecessors the Matawan-Keyport Street Railway Co. Trolleys were operated from the Matawan-Keyport area to Atlantic Highlands (Twin Lights), South Amboy, and Red Bank. The Traction Company was an ancestor of the present Jersey Central Power and Light Co.

On July 28th, 1923, the last car ran over the line. In commemoration of this 40th Anniversary, a special summer motorcade tour sponsored by the North Jersey Chapter of the National Railway Historical Society on August 3rd. They met at the Staten Island Ferry pier at 1 P.M. and drove over the entire route of the now non-existent rails.

FIRE DEMOLISHES CABIN CRUISER

All that remained of a 26-foot cabin cruiser, valued at about $5,000, was a charred hulk after it caught fire, Friday night in the Raritan Bay about 100 yards off the shore of Bayview Drive in Madison Township. Police revealed that the boat burst into flames at about 7:45 p.m. when a butane-fueled stove exploded on the cruiser, causing it to catch on fire.

Aboard the craft at the time were its owner, Robert Teichlog of Newark, and Raymond Taylor of Guttenberg, both of whom jumped into the water and swam to shore after the explosion. Teichlog sustained burns on the right arm and Taylor a cut on his right arm. Both were taken to the Perth Amboy General Hospital by the First Aid Squad of Laurence Harbor.

Just before 9 p.m., a U.S. Coast Guard rescue ship, arrived and towed the blackened cruiser to port at the Viking Marina at Morgan, where Laurence Harbor firemen hosed it with water. The cruiser was a total loss.

Anglican Congress To Convene in Toronto

The second Anglican Congress will convene in Toronto, Canada, from August 15th to 23rd. More than a thousand Christian leaders from every part of the earth will gather in the great Canadian city to put their minds to many of the challenges of today.

The leaders will represent the eighteen autonomous national churches, of which the Episcopal Church in the United States is one, which form the Anglican Communion, by nature of the fact that they have derived their heritage from the Church of England. Approximately 1,000 bishops, priests, and lay delegates will be present, representing 345 dioceses and 42 million members. The Congress has been held only once before in recent time -- in Minneapolis, Minnesota, in 1954.

Eastport, Maine, is the easternmost city in the United States.

LONG DISTANCE HIKERS

Rev. Maynard Hatch, pastor of First Baptist Church of South Amboy and State Chairman of Youth Fellowship Work for the coming year checks the packs of two Madison Township residents who are members of the Senior Baptist Young People Group.

The Baptist Conference set up this year for the first time a Trail Camp for older young people who were experienced campers. Rev. and Mrs. Curtis L. Hoffman of Hopewell and Rev. and Mrs. J. Kenneth Hart of Littleton are accompanying the twelve young people selected from the State of New Jersey. Mrs. Hoffman is a registered nurse. Patricia and Charles Tucker represent the Middlesex County Area. The group left Camp Lebanon, Sunday August 11 for High Point Park by bus. From this point they will hike the Appalachian Trail southward through the Kittatinny Mountains, by way of Stokes Forest, Sunrise Mountain, Clavers Gap, Crater Lake, and then to Delaware Water Gap where a bus will pick them up Saturday and return them to Camp Lebanon.

The group will pack all supplies used and have only such shelter as the natural surroundings offer. These young pioneers hope to set a pattern for more and varied forms of frontier camps.

Pattie and Charles have been camping for many years, while living in Decatur, Georgia and Danville, Illinois. Pattie was a Brownie Scout in Danville and also an Intermediate Girl Scout, where she particularly enjoyed camping with her troop at Turkey Run State Park in Indiana, spending most of their time on horseback. Charles was a Cub Scout and a Boy Scout in Troop 8 of Plankhook Council with Mr. Wm. Walker Scoutmaster. Pattie received her Curved Arrow in Troop 58, Central Park section of Perth Amboy in 1960. This is highest rank obtainable in Intermediate Girl Scouting and corresponds to Eagle Rank of Boy Scouts. As no Senior Girl Scout Troop was available Pattie served as a Troop Aid for Neighborhood A for two years specializing in Art work, Nature and Out-of-Door fields. Pattie is now a member of Senior Troop 17, a General Program Troop, and holds the Five Point Rating, Troop Aid, Teachers Aid, and Office Aid Bars. She is the Planning Board Representative for Troop 17.

Pattie attended Matawan High School as a freshman and is senior this year at Madison Township High School. Serving as Chieftess now in the Golden Assembly number 43, Order of Rainbow for Girls at Keyport, will be installed as Assistant Worthy Advisor in September. Pattie - 16 - has her membership in Job's Daughters Bethel 87 in Danville. She has worked as a Counselor at Y.M.C.A. Day Camp, Sayreville, for four years. Her interests include drawing and photography. Being president of the Dramatic Club, and Stage Manager for "Arsenic and Old Lace," is also a member of the Science Club for 2 years.

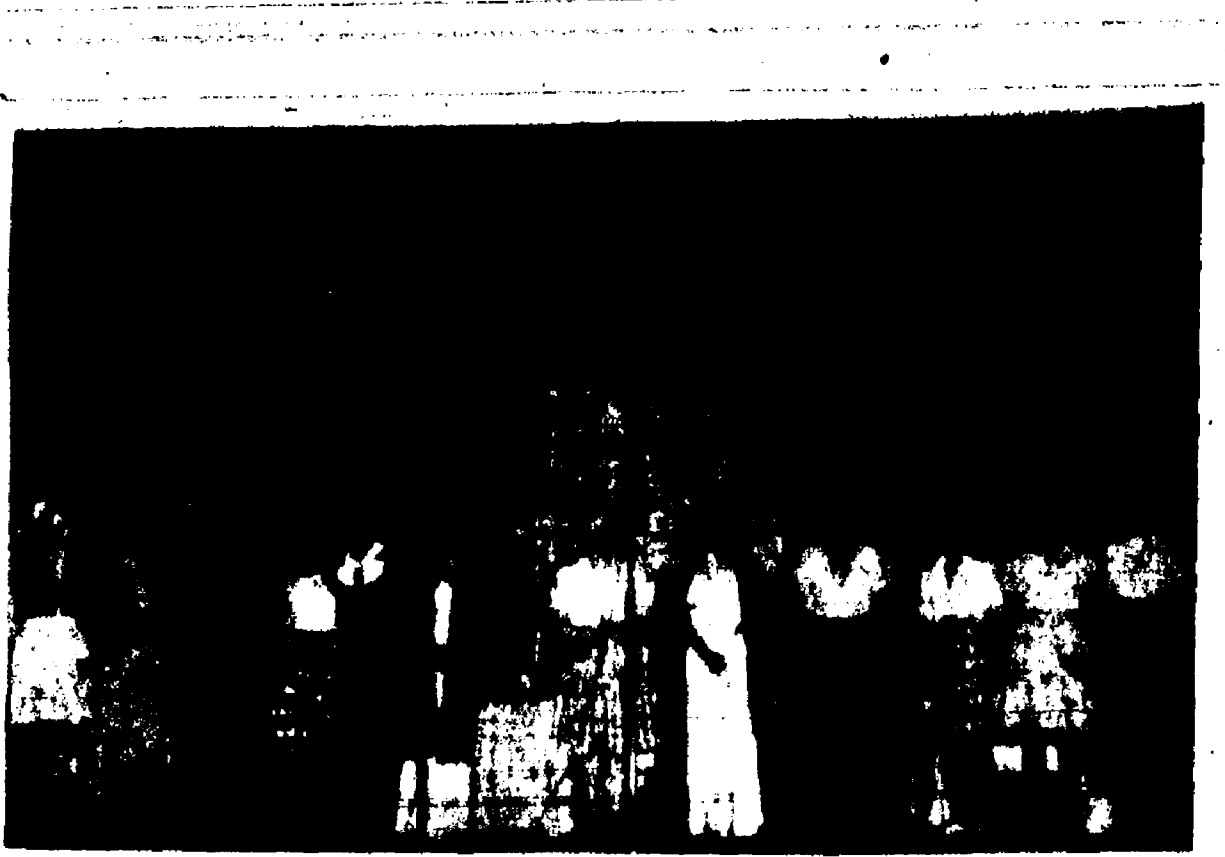

Pattie was a charter member of the Madison Township Spartinetta, being Co-Captain her Sophomore and Junior years and Captain for the coming year.

Pattie and Charles were workers in the Daily Vacation Bible School and active in the Young People's Group at First Baptist Church in Keyport, with Rev. Maurice Phillips pastor, where they attended before joining the First Baptist in So. Amboy, where Rev. Hatch is pastor.

Charles is a First Class Boy Scout in Troop 87 Maritan Council. Besides Scouting he is interested in archery, in coin collecting and music. He studies drama at the New Jersey Conservatory of Music and Dancing, under Mr. Walt Haslam in Old Bridge. Charles also served as General Manager for Sports at Madison Township in his Freshman year, was a member of the Photography and Art club. He is an officer in the Aberdeen Chapter Order of DeMolay for Boys in Keyport, N. J. He is working on his Good and Country Award under supervision of Rev. Hatch.

The brother and sister will be picked up at Camp Lebanon by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Valen P. Tucker and older brother, Matthew and younger sister, Virginia next Saturday. Mr. Tucker who is a Project Engineer with American Agricultural Chemical Co. of New York City is a former Scoutmaster and Frankie Tucker is Leader of Senior Troop 14 of Madison Township. The family enjoys taking camping trips during their vacations.

Facts, Fads and Fancies

SPACE-TRAVEL

FACT
Outer space contains no air for man to breathe; insufficient gas to balance pressures in the human body. No food or water awaits the astronaut on the moon... but space scientists have arranged for all these life sustaining needs to be transported to outer space with our astronauts.

FAD
Professors taught basic rocketry principles long before the Space Age with the "Bellion Demonstration." Try it yourself! Blow up a balloon (but don't tie the end) - release it - and watch it race exhaust action propel it forward.

FANCY
The more we learn of outer space the more amazed we become at the remarkable insight of Jules Verne. Writing at the turn of the century, the space ships, rockets and satellites he fancied have become hard facts.

Kid Show Saturday At Rutgers College

Kids will hold the spotlight this Saturday at Rutgers University's College of Agriculture.

They'll compete for ribbons and trophies in the annual kid show of the Garden State Dairy Goat Association in the College's judging pavilion.

Entries will come from New Jersey and nearby states, and judging will begin at 1 o'clock, according to Mrs. James Morelock of Basking Ridge, publicity chairman of the association.

Appropriately, the kid show will have a kid-queen. She is six-year-old Susan Elizabeth Roll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Roll of California.

Early in the summer the association elected Susan Elizabeth "Garden State Dairy Kid-Queen." She will share her throne on Saturday with "Lucky," a Nubian doe kid that was part of her reward for winning the queenly title.

You don't have to be a goat owner to enjoy the kid show. Or as an association spokesman puts it, you won't be "butting in."

We could solve two of the world's biggest problems. Just have Castro and Chiang Kai-shek trade islands.

TERCENTENARY TALES

SPUR FOR A PRESIDENT

By John T. Cunningham
U.S. Attorney General
Wayne MacVeagh telegraphed the Jersey Central Railroad on the morning of September 3, 1881, to ask: can the railroad build a new spur, six-tenths of a mile long, to carry President Garfield's train from Elberon station to his beachfront cottage -- and have it finished by tomorrow?

The railroad answered promptly: yes. There could be no other answer, for MacVeagh's question was in effect an order. It verged on the impossible, but the railroad must try, for the President's life could depend on it.

Felled by an assassin's bullet on July 2, as he prepared to leave Washington for Long Branch, President Garfield, had weakened steadily as the feverish summer wore on in the White House. The Washington swamps in September, posed an additional threat of malaria, and the President's doctors decided that he must be moved to the New Jersey shore. Garfield readily agreed, although he said: "I don't see how it can be done."

The doctors didn't see either, but their 40-year-old patient had lost more than 70 pounds in his two months fight to live. The Washington climate surely would kill him; the sea breezes might cure him. They decided to gamble on the railroad trip.

White House aides carefully guarded against premature announcement, but all of Long Branch knew by September 4, that Garfield and his family would occupy the beachfront cottage owned by Charles G. Franklyn of the Cunard Lines. If there had been any doubt, it disappeared during the night of September 5 in an astonishing feat of railroad construction.

Surveyors and construction engineers left Jersey City immediately after the Jersey Central accepted MacVeagh's challenge. Orders went out to the Elizabethport yards to send ties, rails and laborers to Long Branch. The right-of-way had been surveyed by 2 P.M. and 20 men were at work. During the afternoon and evening local residents volunteered help, until more than 2,000 men labored on the spur. Every hand was needed; building 3,200 feet of rail road overnight fell far outside the normal routine. A correspondent for Leslie's Illustrated Weekly wrote of the night:

"Crowds of ladies and gentlemen from the various hotels and cottages visited the scene and watched the laborers at work. Immense locomotive headlights from the railroad shops and hundreds of small lights and lanterns gave light... and every man worked with a will to get the road in readiness."

Wagons and carts for miles around were commandeered to carry away sand and dirt. Women made and served cool drinks and sandwiches. Big boys handed spikes to workmen and little boys held torches -- supplied by local Republican and Democratic organizations from the supply reserved for election parades.

James D. McCabe, whose book, "Our Martyred President," detailed Garfield's last days, wrote:

"When the cottagers awoke in the morning they found a railroad at their doors, running through what was an orchard the night before. The locomotives were drawing armed soldiers over the flower-bordered lawns where ladies in white flannel suits were playing the previous afternoon. In a night, as if under the spell of a magician, this completely-equipped structure had risen."

President Garfield began his long journey from Washington, at sunrise on September 6 and his speeding train reached Elberon station at 1:00 P.M. the same day. The hastily-built railroad spur couldn't carry the heavy locomotive, so a lighter locomotive was switched in, to push the three-car train to the cottage.

Dense crowds surrounded the Presidential train, as it neared the top of a slight grade on the "Franklyn Cottage branch." The little engine failed; the train stopped. Leslie's correspondent reported:

"Someone shouted, 'Put the men to it!'"

"The ready workers scarcely waited to be told. In an instant 200 of them, put their shoulders to the President's car, the engine's throttle was pulled open, and with a will, slowly and steadily the train was pushed over the grade."

"Not a shout nor a cheer was heard. There was no noise."

Silent throngs lined the sea-side bluff when the train halted in front of the cottage. Soldiers easily held them back, for this was an orderly, respectful reception. Only newspaper correspondents dashed madly about, as Presidential aides gently carried Garfield's emaciated body into the cottage. The President rallied briefly in Elberon, but the seaside breezes couldn't succeed where medical science had failed. James A. Garfield died in the Franklyn cottage at 10:35 P.M. on September 19.

Two days later, Rev. Charles J. Young of the Long Branch Reformed Church, conducted a five-minute service before Garfield's body was removed to a waiting railroad car. The train pulled away over the 3,200-foot spur to begin Garfield's last journey home.

Only the hastily-built track and the Franklyn cottage remained to remind how New Jerseymen had striven to aid a stricken president. Intime, even those passed away.

Back to Nature

I'm as game as the next gal for a week of primitive wandering, Indian-style, in the woods or mountains. (Until it comes to wrestling with a collapsing tent or eating beans and bacon for the umpteenth meal in a row!)

Big news from the nature front, courtesy of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, which should make this season's camping trip more fun than frustration:

- A compact cookstove of stainless steel which folds to 6" square, 8" thick - burns any liquid fuel.

- Collapsible stainless steel cookware that nests for packing, cleans easily and takes hard knocks standing up.

- Non-rusting lanterns of stainless, either kerosene-burning or battery-operated.

- Stainless steel car-top racks for gear - won't corrode and stain car finish.

Durable, easy-care equipment will last any family many seasons with a minimum of maintenance. Remember, the more rugged the camping gear, the longer your outdoor vacation!

Scott Avenue Association Lists Objections

At a meeting of the Scott Avenue Residents Association the following list of grievances were presented to the Sayreville Borough Council opposing the proposed erection of a multiple dwelling unit at that location.

WHY IS THE PROPOSED SITE FOR THE ERECTION OF A TENEMENT HOUSING (GARDEN APARTMENTS?) PROJECT OBJECTIONABLE TO THE HOME OWNERS IN THE SURROUNDING EFFECTED NEIGHBORHOOD?

1. THE ZONING FOR THIS DISTRICT DOES NOT PROVIDE FOR MULTIPLE HOUSING. PERMISSION TO BUILD MULTIPLE DWELLINGS WOULD BE A DIRECT VIOLATION, EITHER REAL OR IMPLIED, OF THE BOROUGH ORDINANCE FOR THIS DISTRICT.
2. A BUILDING OF THE PROPOSED TYPE WOULD DISSECT THE NORTH AND SOUTH SECTIONS OF SCOTT AVENUE AND EULNER STREET IN THE SEMBLANCE OF A HUGE WALL AND WOULD CLASH AND CONFLICT WITH A CONDITION IN THE NEIGHBORING AREA.
3. THE LANDOWNERS OF THE PROPOSED TENEMENT BUILDING (GARDEN APARTMENTS?) HAVE NOT SUBMITTED ANY REASON, EITHER REAL OR IMPLIED, THAT A HARDSHIP EXISTS.
4. THE PROPOSED HOUSING UNITS ARE TO CONSIST OF 116 ONE-FAMILY UNITS:

- (a) CAN THE BUILDER GUARANTEE THAT THE APARTMENTS WILL NOT BE OCCUPIED BY MORE THAN ONE FAMILY AFTER THE PROJECT IS COMPLETED? TO SHARE A ONE FAMILY APARTMENT WITH OTHER FAMILIES IS NOTHING NEW. IT IS BEING DONE TO CUT DOWN ON THE RENT, OR TO SHARE THE RENT.
- (b) CAN THE BUILDER GUARANTEE THAT IN TIME THE PROJECT WILL NOT BE TAKEN OVER BY POTENTIAL UNDESIRABLES AND BECOME A SLUM AREA.
- (c) ADDITIONAL SERVICES INVOLVED; TO NAME ONE, 116 EXTRA GARBAGE PICK-UPS, PLUS EXTRA POLICING, ETC. THE AREA.
- (d) EACH FAMILY, ON THE AVERAGE, CONSISTS OF AT LEAST TWO CHILDREN; THIS MEANS THAT ABOUT 200 EXTRA CHILDREN WOULD REQUIRE SCHOOLING FACILITIES, AT A COST OF $560 FOR EDUCATING EACH CHILD. THIS WOULD INCREASE THE TAX BURDEN BY $112,000, AND PROBABLY A NEW SCHOOL WOULD BE NEEDED.

- (e) THE PROPOSED HOUSING PROJECT WOULD INCREASE THE TAX BURDEN ON THE PRESENT TAXPAYERS AND AT THE SAME TIME WOULD DECREASE OR DECLINE THE VALUE OF LAND AND HOUSES IN THE SURROUNDING AREA.

- (f) THE PROPOSED HOUSING PROJECT WOULD BE A DETRIMENT TO THE ENJOYMENT OF THEIR HOMES AND PROPERTY BY THE PEOPLE NOW LOCATED IN THIS AREA.

5. THE DRAINAGE PROBLEM. RAIN WATER DRAINED FROM BERGEN HILL AND THE MECHANICSVILLE SECTION OF SOUTH AMBOY AND PART OF MEADOWS ACCUMULATE AT THE INTERSECTION OF RIVERWAY AVENUE AND EULNER STREET. THE PRESENT FACILITIES ARE INADEQUATE TO CARRY OFF THE SURGE OF RAIN WATER, WHICH BUILDS UP TO ABOUT TWO (2) FEET IN DEPTH AND WHICH CAUSES A FLOODING CONDITION IN THIS AREA. THIS OVERFLOW RUNS OFF ONTO EULNER STREET.

6. CLOSING A PORTION OF EULNER STREET WOULD CURTAIL THE FREE FLOW OF TRAFFIC.

7. INDUSTRY IS PROGRESS IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION. IT TENDS TO ABSORB MOST OF THE TAXES. IN SO DOING, THE TAX BURDEN OF THE INDIVIDUAL HOMEOWNER IS LOWERED.

8. HOUSING PROJECTS ARE PROGRESS IN REVERSE: WHEREVER HOUSING PROJECTS ARE ESTABLISHED, THE TAX BURDEN OF THE HOMEOWNER IS INCREASED TO A VERY HIGH DEGREE.

9. THE BOROUGH ZONING ORDINANCE HAS BEEN FORMULATED AND COMPILED FOR ONE MAIN OBJECTIVE OR PURPOSE. THAT IS FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE HOMEOWNERS TO ENJOY THEIR HOME AND SURROUNDINGS WITHOUT ENCROACHMENTS THAT WOULD CLASH THEREWITH. TO PERMIT A HOUSING PROJECT OF THE PROPOSED TYPE IN THE SELECTED AREA (SCOTT AVENUE & EULNER STREET) THAT WOULD CLASH WITH THE NEIGHBORING SURROUNDINGS WOULD DEFEAT THE PURPOSE OF THE BOROUGH ORDINANCE FOR WHICH IT WAS INTENDED.

WE THE HOMEOWNERS AS TAXPAYERS ARE VIGOROUSLY OPPOSED TO THE PROPOSED OBJECTIONABLE HOUSING PROJECT (OBJECTIONABLE BECAUSE IT WOULD CLASH WITH THE SURROUNDING NEIGHBORHOOD).

SERVICE SLANTS

Marine Private Ronald P. Polak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Polak of 155 Madison St., South Amboy, N.J., completed recruit training July 25, at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

The 11-week indoctrination to Marine Corps life includes instruction on basic military law, discipline, physical conditioning, military drill, and other basic subjects. Three weeks are spent on the rifle range, where recruits fire the M-14 rifle and are instructed on other infantry weapons.

Larry P. Maresca, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Maresca of 68 Princeton Road, Parlin, N.J., is undergoing three weeks recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The intensive training includes naval history and organization, customs and etiquette, ordnance and gunnery, seamanship, shipboard routine, military drill and physical fitness, sentry duty, first aid, swimming and survival.

During the training recruits receive tests and interviews which determine their future assignments in the Navy. Upon completing the program they are assigned to service schools for technical instruction or to ships or shore stations for on-the-job training in a specialized Navy rating.

Joseph F. Stochel, electrician's mate fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Stochel, of 18 Morris Ave., Sayreville, N.J., was among several crewmen of the destroyer USS Barton, who repaired and repainted furniture in a school in Har el Baaha, Beirut, Lebanon during the Barton's recent visit to Lebanon.

He and the other volunteers donated some 310 off-duty man-hours in renovating 48 chapel benches and 250 pieces of classroom furniture at the Pontifical Mission School.

The project is an example of Nymen furthering the President's "people-to-people" program abroad by helping people in the countries they visit.

The Barton, an Atlantic Fleet unit, normally operating out of Norfolk, Va., is currently deployed with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Midshipman Second Class Thomas J. Meehan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Meehan of 66 Princeton Rd., Parlin, N.J., of the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, Norfolk, Va., took part in realistic amphibious assault landings.

The midshipmen involved are members of Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps (NROTC) units at 30 colleges and universities of the Eastern and Midwestern United States.

Embarked in Atlantic Fleet ships, they conducted the landing exercises, July 25.

Their unique graduation exercise was viewed by representatives of their respective universities, educational officials and members of the Hampton Roads Virginia Council Navy League. News media representatives from the Midwest as well as local newspapers and prominent businessmen who are members of the Fort Worth Air Power Council, Fort Worth, Texas also viewed the exercise. In addition, thousands of civilians watched the Navy-Marine Corps demonstration of counter-aggression practice taught at the Naval Amphibious Training Command at Little Creek.

Patrolmen Charles Rea and James ... had five of the ... and twice ... from the ... one night last week.

John C. Hauser of 162 Main Street, South River, disclosed at headquarters last week that a car he had from Chevalier Rent-a-Car service of Old Bridge, which he had parked on David Street off Broadway, was broken into sometime between 12:30 and 2:15 a.m. by jimmying open the passenger side door. Found missing were two suits of clothing and a complete fishing outfit.

The same day Stanley J. Picklo, 32 Barkalow Street, informed police that during the night someone punctured the radiator of his car parked by his home.

Railroad officials will be glad when school opens. Every summer a number of train windows are broken by vandals, throwing stones at passing trains. The latest incident occurred last Thursday, when a southbound train was struck in the vicinity of Augusta Street.

At 9:30 p.m. last Thursday, a Main Street resident complained to police, that a gang of boys were creating a disturbance at a corner, near his home. Similar complaints reached police Sunday, about boys cutting up on Stevens Avenue near Second Street.

A car was stolen last Thursday, from James Rea, 313 Henry Street, and was recovered at 6:45 a.m. the following day, in Sayreville, by police.

There were no fire alarms sounded, but police checked into a report made by a resident last Thursday, that young boys built a fire near the doorway of the St. Mary's Grammar School at 11:20 p.m. Evidently, the boys either have a sixth sense or have much practice in eluding police who arrived at the scene and found the boys gone.

A wallet containing $39 was lost somewhere in the city, last week by William Wilson, of 204 Pacific Street, St. Louis, Michigan. The owner requests that if found, it be forwarded by mail to his home.

The island, separating traffic lanes on Bordentown Avenue, looking neat and orderly, thanks to the Street Department employees, supervised by Francis Quilten. The department also takes care of the City Hall grounds and other areas in the city.

Speaking of picnics, the one held by the Polish American Citizens Club at the park, Sunday was equally successful. Especially popular, was the culinary specialty, called "spec", prepared by "master chef" John Stankowski of Melrose, who was hard put to keep up with the demand at his barbecue pit. The gatherings at the park over the weekend, were in the best traditions of "Salt Water Days" with a lot of fun, had by all.

And for the "flukey" fish story, we'd like to tell you about the fisherman from Bergen Hill, Don Fitzsimmons. Don was proud of his catch of two flukes at Sandy Hook, and while in the process of washing off his catch, one fish slipped into surf. In the excitement Don let go of the other fish and before you know it, he lost both fish. Fortunately, a friend standing nearby had to recatch one of the fluke for Don.

City firemen are grateful for the excellent turnout last night for their carnival last week. The carnival was the most successful conducted by the firemen. A big attraction was the large selection of thrill rides -- the best the city has seen -- and, of course, the culinary skills of the firemen which kept the kitchen counters and barbecue pit busy.

A resident on Division Street was extremely grateful to the Board of Public Works for their part in having an additional street light installed on her street near her home.

Members of the Board of Public Works will petition the mayor and council to assign a vacant lot adjacent to the sewerage treatment plant at the foot of Augusta Street on Roswell Street, to them for their use. The 100 X 150-foot lot is not listed on the tax map and is believed to belong to the city. Along the property is a fence which the board also wishes to acquire.

Park reservations at the water treatment plant were approved for the Friendly Inn for September 21 and for City Line Bar for September 7.

Earl Applegate of the Swan Hill Ice and Coal Company located at 146 Henry Street, reported to police Tuesday, that an office plate glass window had been broken by someone.

John Reilly of Mechanicsville, is making a reputation for himself as a successful horticulturist. He is keeping the colorful display of flowers at City Hall, healthy and blooming. This is no small achievement in view of the heat and lack of rain this summer.

An outstanding person has left South Amboy Tuesday, after giving six years of devoted service to many of its residents. Sister Mary Octavian, principal of Sacred Heart Grammar School, and convent superior, has left an enviable record at the parish. During her tour of assignment here, she has seen a new school built, a school annex constructed and the major part of a convent addition completed. Up until two years ago, Sister Octavian, also taught the sixth grade in addition to her other numerous duties. She will be missed.

Joe (Spud) Karcz and Jay Kenny of Lelton Street, had a racing time of it, hauling in a bluefish in the ocean, Monday, while out fishing with friends. Some of the bluefish were beautiful, weighing nine and ten pounds each, so we are told. The group was buzzed continuously by peppy flies who hitched a ride but into the deep waters with them, and gave them no end of trouble. Friends and neighbors shared in the prize catch.

The Richard J. Schultz Association open-air annual picnic held at the South Amboy Water Works Park, Saturday, was a monumental success with over 150 persons attending. Steaks were brought in to fortify the other barbecue food prepared at the park site and members and friends gorged themselves pleasantly, until curfew time, which is 10 p.m. as set by the Board of Public Works for park patrons. John Berry, picnic chairman, was highly complimented for his part in planning the menu and the program.

Members of the South Amboy Democratic Club will conduct their annual picnic at the South Amboy Water Works Park September 14. The public is invited.

Mrs. Philip Jay reports the finding of an Angora cat - black with white necktie. Loser may claim it by calling PA-1-1387 before six p.m.

A suggestion has been made to this reporter which has a great deal of merit. With all the space available at the waterfront, why not hold all future carnivals there where traffic congestion and parking problems would be greatly eliminated? The bay water would offer a very appropriate background, too, he added.

The Jack Hospidor Association will hold its annual picnic at the Water Works park on Saturday, August 31st. Steve Marks is chairman.

Observed on Broadway are the new two-hour parking signs replacing the old signs.

Fire Chief Chester Jankowski beamingly reported "No Fires" during the past week.

Richard Schultz, who was a patient in the South Amboy Memorial Hospital, was discharged last Saturday morning. Naturally, Richie is glad to be out and around town -- but when you hear him sing the praises of the royal treatment he received during his stay; and when you hear out the praises he has for the nurses and the hospital personnel -- you almost feel as if he'd like to be back there.

Speaking of the hospital -- one of the distinguished patients at the hospital at the present time is one of the "angels of mercy," who for the past twelve years dedicated herself to caring and making their stay at the hospital a pleasant one -- she is Mrs. Lillian Sloan, R.N., of Augusta Street. It'd be nice to return the "shot in arm" by dropping her a cheerful card.

On Friday, August 23rd, the Protection Engine Company is sponsoring a bus trip to see the Yankees play the Chicago White Sox. Anyone wishing tickets may contact William "Biff" McKeon. Better rush -- a limited number only is available.

ALL ABOUT BABIES

MORE TIME FOR BABY--

By Dr. Ernest Dichter, President
Institute for Motivational Research
Croton-On-Hudson, New York

From time to time, I believe this column should consider mother. For there can be no argument that whatever affects mother, also affects baby.

There is one thing the modern mother does not seem to have too much of, even with household automation. And that is time -- time not only for herself, but also for her baby.

In a recent motivational research study we did for the nation's diaper service industry, interviews with young mothers indicated they place as much value on their time as they do on their labor.

The survey showed that young mothers today are more realistic about the use of household equipment and more sound in their application of household economics and time-management.

They realize that while much of the drudgery and toil has been eliminated by labor-saving machinery, no one has eliminated the need for someone to fill, operate, watch, empty, clean and repair the machines. Clothes and dishes still must be prepared by hand. The bigger the wash, the bigger the ironing, handling and folding. The more buttons, levers and controls, the more things to remember, operate and maintain.

As a result, more young mothers today are using the latest advancements in complete outside services in conjunction with the sensible use of home equipment. This, they have found, provides them with more time to spend with baby and other members of the family.

Our motivational research study showed that of the American families using professional diaper service, two-thirds also own automatic home laundry equipment. The interviews revealed that these families realize that for about 38 cents more each week, baby's diapers can be processed professionally and scientifically by a diaper service and 547 hours or about 23 days a year can be saved.

The time saved includes the time the mother would have to spend with three pre-rinses, four separate sudsinings, six post-wash rinses to remove all soap residue, loading the washer, adding soap, bleach, softener and antiseptics at various steps in the process, boiling after washing to sterilize the diapers, drying and finally gathering the diapers and folding them for storage.

A young Pittsburgh mother of three put it all this way: "You can become a slave to the mechanics of having a baby rather than to the charms of the baby. I feel that even if you have every convenience for washing diapers at home, it's still a wasted effort because it takes time away from the children."

TALKING CAN HELP SAVE YOUR LIFE

Start talking! So says Keystone Automobile Club to vacationists, anxious to cover the remaining miles as quickly and safely as possible. "In such cases," says Edward P. Curran, Safety Director of Keystone, "talking to yourself is downright sensible. It's the best way to relieve fatigue and boredom and the mind-wandering that often leads to traffic accidents."

"Monotony is a deadly and always increasing highway problem, especially because of the rapidly spreading networks of expressways and turnpikes. Driving along these superhighways can be hypnotic to many persons and all drivers should be alert in combatting such factors."

"If you get tired of talking to yourself, start singing! A good round tune roundly sung will keep you wide awake."

"Another trick is to turn on the car radio and turn up the volume. Or, vary your driving speed occasionally; stop to eat lightly and frequently, and take time out every so often just to get out of the car and stretch your muscles. Removing your right shoe and driving that way is still another way to stimulate wakefulness."

"Remember...to stay alive, you must stay awake."

DO'S & DON'TS DURING HURRICANE SEASON

Although Hurricane Arlene is by the boards, Beulah, Cindy, Debra and their many sisters haven't been born yet. In the event they are, State Civil Defense Director Thomas S. Dignan has issued some specific "do's and don'ts" for New Jersey residents, during tropical storms.

Dignan suggests that this list be clipped out for ready reference. RIGHT NOW BEFORE THE HURRICANE SEASON ARRIVES YOU SHOULD:

Check your home for loose shingles and shutters, shaky chimneys; your yard for dead or dying tree limbs.

Have handy a flashlight, candles and matches (in protected container). Also a battery powered radio should be available. Power lines are usually among the first victims of a hurricane.

Learn the locations of water supply pipeline valves, master electrical switches and gas shutoff valves.

Residents of exposed areas should store a supply of boards to nail over windows. A source of canned heat and an emergency food supply should be stored in the least vulnerable spot in the home.

Keep tuned to your radio for the latest warnings and advice. DO NOT call the weather bureau as you will only tie up urgently needed telephone lines. Keep your radio as a neighbor informed.

Flush water heater tank until rust and sediment run off. The tank water can be used for emergency drinking.

Secure all doors. Anchor objects such as lawnmower, tools, toys, signs, awnings and lawn chairs which could become destructive in hurricane winds.

Check to see if you have stored needed dishes, silverware, food and water, medical kit, candles, matches, fire fighting equipment.

WHEN HURRICANE IS IMMINENT AND HURRICANE ALERT IS DECLARED, YOU SHOULD:

Sterilize bathtubs, jugs, bottles and cooking utensils and fill them with drinking water.

If you live in an area susceptible to flooding, move everything possible to the second floor.

See that your car's gas tank is filled. Gas pumps can't be operated while power is off.

Differences between extreme low pressure in a hurricane and high pressure inside a building often causes large picture and show windows to be blown out. Criss-crossed masking tape on these windows should prevent this.

Pay no attention to rumors.

IF YOUR AREA IS ORDERED EVACUATED, YOU SHOULD:

Shut off gas and electric power. Then leave immediately. Don't risk being marooned.

Obey Civil Defense instructions and go to evacuation points indicated. Remain there until informed you may leave. Keep calm. DURING THE HURRICANE YOU SHOULD:

Stay indoors. Be sure that a window or door can be opened on the lee side of the house -- the side opposite the one facing the wind. If the "eye" of the storm passes directly over, there will be a period of calm lasting up to a half hour, but the wind will return suddenly from the opposite direction, frequently with even greater violence. Again, keep calm.

AFTER THE HURRICANE PASSES YOU SHOULD:

Not touch loose or dangling wire. Report damage to police or light and power company. If live wire falls on your car while you are driving, stay inside and wait for aid.

Guard against spoiled food in refrigerator.

If house is flooded or damaged, it must be inspected by public health officials and building inspectors before you may re-enter.

Unless you are qualified to render valuable aid, stay away from disaster areas where you may hamper rescue or first aid work.

Drive cautiously. Watch for debris; pavement may be undermined by water.

AND A MERRY TIME WAS HAD BY ALL. A part of the crowd that attended the Polish-American Citizens Club picnic held on Sunday afternoon at the South Amboy Water Works Park.

Adam I. Rzepka was general chairman, assisting on the committee: Victor Mackel, Richard Schultz, William Nehus, Chester Ciesewski.

American Legion To Be FTC To Prescribe Guests At Raceway Labeling For Furniture

Members of the New Jersey American Legion and its Auxiliary will be the guests of the Freehold Racing Association on Tuesday, August 20, 1963, at the Freehold Raceway, Routes 33 and 9, Freehold, New Jersey.

The Association has designated August 20th as American Legion Day at the track and has arranged a special program for the afternoon beginning at 1:00 P.M.

Monmouth Post No. 54, of the Legion at Freehold will advance the National Emblem of the United States and the American Legion colors in a colorful ceremony at the opening of the program of the day.

The feature race of the afternoon will be designated as the American Legion Race.

Henry W. Ryan, Trenton, State Legion Commander, and Mrs. Karl A. Lorena, Stanhope, State Auxiliary President, will head large delegations of their members in attendance at the Raceway, next Tuesday.

Better labeling for furniture, to protect the consumer, is in the offing. According to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine, after nearly three years of debating the fine points with members of the industry and with consumer representatives, the Federal Trade Commission is about to come out with rules that will make life easier for the furniture buyer.

The new rules will outlaw any misrepresentation of furniture woods, including indirect misrepresentation resulting from failure to disclose pertinent facts. Changing Times, reports. Truthful descriptions must be on all tags and labels and in advertisements. Specifically, the rules provide:

The wood used for exposed surfaces must be labeled by its true name. Examples of false claims would be describing an "oak" as a captain's chair made of birch using the term "solid mahogany," or "mahogany" to describe a mahogany veneered table; describing a walnut stained hickory chair as "Danish style walnut"; or describing any nonlumber product such as hardboard, fiberboard, metal, plastic, etc., as wood. (The term, "mahogany-grained hardboard," to describe a simulated finish on a wood imitation would be accurate, however.)

Ads may not contain half-truths tending to mislead. For example, a manufacturer must not describe as "maple" a table that consists of maple top with pecan legs; he must use the more accurate label "maple top-pecan legs." Similarly, even a true mahogany veneer but with a finish printed to resemble crotch mahogany, must reveal this bit of imitation.

The word "walnut" can refer only to woods of the genus Juglans and the word "mahogany" only to woods of the genus Swietenia. Philippine mahogany and African mahogany refer to woods from different trees, but both are legal designations.

But even when the new labels become universal, the magazine points out, it will still be up to the buyer to understand what he is reading--and the wise consumer will study the vocabulary before he goes shopping.

YOUR GARDEN THIS WEEK

By Your Rutgers Garden Reporter

BIG WINDS COMING? Maybe our Garden State won't be in the path of a late summer or fall hurricane this year.

Perhaps we won't even feel the sting of the monster's tail as it rushes to the east or west of us.

On the other hand, this may be the year for us and our gardens to be blown and soaked.

DANGER FOR FAST-GROWERS

There's cause to worry if the home landscape includes a fastgrowing tree such as poplar, maple, willow, black locust or Chinese and Siberian elms.

You can feel more secure if trees important to your landscape include the stronger types such as oak, sycamore, honeylocust or aspen.

Any tree, even one of the weaker kinds, can be strengthened as it's better able to stand up to a big wind. One way is to make the main limbs support each other by stringing cables through them.

You can do the job yourself if you know about the stresses at work in a wind-blown tree, and if you have the time, tools, hardware, and especially the safety equipment you need.

Otherwise, you'd better turn the job over to a certified tree expert, advises Raymond P. Korbobo, extension specialist in ornamental horticulture at Rutgers.

LET WIND THROUGH Sometimes a tree is so heavy with leaves that it offers a broadside target for a strong wind. Choosing just the right branches to take out can put "holes" in the tree to let the wind through.

A tree with thick foliage and shallow roots that stands by itself in the open, often is the one to topple over, especially when rain softens the soil around its roots. Korbobo makes a point of recommending a certified tree expert because such a man has had special training and is registered with the State Department of Agriculture.

You can always locate one with the help of your county agricultural agent.

LEAFLET TELLS HOW Tree "doctors" and "surgeons" are easier to locate, especially in an emergency following a storm. In fact, you may find one on your front porch after a hurricane, ready for a quick dollar.

At such a time it's particularly important to get the services of a certified tree expert, says Korbobo.

There's a certain amount of first aid that you can do yourself after a tree has been hurt, if you know how. Korbobo has written some instructions in Leaflet '72, "Storm Injured Trees."

If you'd like to have a copy on hand in case you need it, ask your county agent or send a card to Garden Reporter, College of Agriculture, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N.J.
