FALLS OFF PIER; IS DROWNED

Master Herbert Lowndes, While Returning Home From Viewing Perth Amboy Fireworks, Suddenly Disappears—Body Found Next Day—No One Saw Him Fall Into Water—Made No Outcry.

Herbert Lowndes, the ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Lowndes, of John street, met with a sad death by drowning off the city pier on the evening of July 4th. The body was not recovered until 3 o'clock the following afternoon. The accident cast a gloom over the whole community, for the boy was well known. He had an engaging and polite manner and was of a very affectionate nature. He was exceptionally bright and had many friends who mourn his untimely death.

The boy, in company with his mother and younger brother, Norman, went out on the pier in order to view the fireworks display at Perth Amboy. The party went out to the end of the pier and here the boys lighted some sparklers which their father had bought them to celebrate Independence Day. They spent a couple of hours in this manner and about 9:30 o'clock started up the dock on their way home.

Herbert asked his mother for some more of the fireworks and she handed him two sparklers which he stayed kneeling to light. Only a couple of moments seemed to have elapsed when Mrs. Lowndes called for Herbert. She looked around and found that he had disappeared. No traces could be found and nothing indicated the spot where the boy fell off the pier. A young man further up the dock later stated that he saw a splash but did not realize that it could have been the boy. How it happened that child fell over or the reason for all will remain a mystery. The boy was naturally very nervous and never venturesome. He was known to be reckless and it is not known how he came to be walking on the stringpiece and fallen over. The boy was very fond of the water and with his younger brother often went out on the pier for recreation. Mrs. Lowndes and the boys frequently took evening strolls out on the pier, never thinking of an instant that it would result in disaster, as the boys never were reckless nor ventured near the edge.

The most feasible theory advanced is that the boy's eyes were dazzled by the brilliancy of the fireworks and that becoming confused he may have walked in the wrong direction and tumbled over the stringpiece. It is felt that the boy did not cry for, as in this case the mother and other would have heard the cry. It is probable that the boy fainted at the act of falling and thus met his death in an unconscious condition. Often fainted and was extremely nervous, having been obliged to discontinue his school this year on that count. At school he was exceptionally bright and always stood at the head of his class.

There were not as many people on the pier as usual to witness the fireworks display and where the accident occurred happened to be a very lonely spot on the dock. It was very dark.

When it was found that he had fallen overboard, boats were sent out to recover the body in the vicinity of the pier for the body. All night long efforts were made to secure the body but this proved futile.

The following day many other efforts were made in the search for the body. As a last resource the old body belonging to the E. Burd attary was brought to the pier in an effort to raise the body, for after five days it was found that the body had not been recovered. John Conway, a fisherman, was the first to find the body. He was out in a boat and was looking for fish when he discovered the body. He was alone and was not able to do anything for the body, so he called for help. The body was recovered and was taken to the home of the boy's parents on John street.

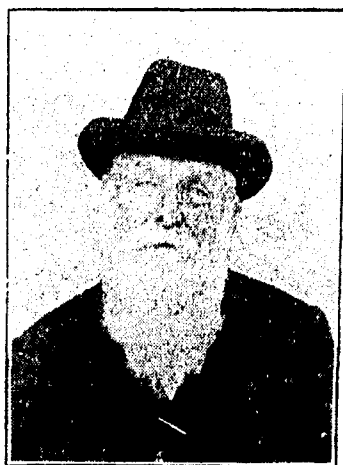

boat and taken to the home of the boy's parents on John street. The funeral services of little Herbert took place on Monday afternoon from the home at 2:30 o'clock. The services were in charge of Rev. Thos. Neal, Jr., assisted by Rev. J. E. Shaw. Many beautiful floral pieces were received. Interment was made following the services at the Christ Church cemetery. The pallbearers were Campbell Strasholm, Frank Albaugh, Joseph Capner, Jr., and Harold Hoffman. Stillwell & Mason had charge of the funeral arrangements.

W. H. Martin Dies In His Eighty-Second Year

William Henry Martin passed away at his home on First street on Tuesday evening last, in the eighty-second year of his age.

Mr. Martin had been afflicted with a face cancer for many years, but it was only during the last two weeks that he was confined to his home. He sank into an unconscious state on Monday, and remained so until his death.

Mr. Martin was born in South River, November 3, 1831, of old historic stock, clearly outlined for eight generations running back to the settlement of Piscatawaytown in the year 1666 under a grant dated December 18, the grantees being John Martin, Charles Gilman, Hugh Dunn and Hopewell Hall, originally descending from English ancestry. When Mr.

WILLIAM HENRY MARTIN.

Martin was in his twentieth year, he engaged in the steam towing service of the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company, as fireman. After two years' experience, he was transferred to the passenger boat St. John, plying between New Brunswick and New York. Two more years were spent on this boat after which he was engaged in the freight service as assistant engineer, remaining in this service for seven years.

In December, 1862, Mr. Martin left the railroad company's service, and went South, engaging with the United States Government as assistant engineer of a U. S. transport, remaining in that service until 1866, when he returned North and engaged as assistant engineer in the steam lighter service.

In 1871 he took a position as assistant engineer on the steamer Plymouth Rock, holding this for three years. He was transferred from this steamer to the same capacity on the Grand Republic, where he added ten more years to his experience in the excursion service.

In 1872 he married Miss A. Rue, of South River, and in 1882 they settled in this city. At this time Mr. Martin resumed work for the railroad company in the maintenance of ways department, continuing until retired by the pension law at the age of 70 years.

Mr. Martin had the confidence and respect of all who knew him. Besides a widow, he is survived by one son, William H. Martin, Jr., and a brother, Ira B. Martin.

The funeral took place from his late home on Thursday afternoon, and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The service was conducted by Rev. F. F. Craig, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, and interment followed in the cemetery at South River. The pallbearers were George Stidfole, George Applegate, Frank French, Sr., George Batzel, Louis Dey and Joseph Walters. The floral pieces were many and beautiful.

GOT OFF WITH A FINE.

Thomas Muldoon was brought before Justice Birmingham at the City Hall on Tuesday. Complaint was made against him by A. Steiner of disorderly conduct. The complainant wished to be lenient and Muldoon was discharged with a $5 fine.

EXPECT J. C. T. CO. TO PAVE ROADBED

Will Be Notified to Lay Metropolitan Block on Stevens Avenue, and That Company Will Be Expected to Pay Part Cost of Drainage—Two City Employees Sustain Injuries.

The Council on Tuesday evening passed a resolution that the Jersey Central Traction Company be notified that work has been commenced on Stevens avenue, and that said company will be required to pay a certain portion of the cost thereof.

Present Mayor Day, Councilmen Manhattan, O'Connor, Slover, Stanton, and Stratton; Clerk Mack, Engineer Mason, Solicitor Pearse, Treasurer Perrine, Street Commissioner Connors and Collector Suffitt.

Minutes of previous meeting approved as read.

The clerk read communication from Ira B. Martin, superintendent of water works, stating that Gus Linden had been injured while digging trench, and that Dr. J. C. Albright had examined Linden and found that his injuries would probably lay him up for a month. On motion of Mr. Stratton the communication was referred to committee on water works.

Another communication from Street Commissioner Connors stated that Thomas Leonard had fallen from the garbage wagon, and was badly injured by the wheels passing over him. On motion of Mr. Slover it was referred to the street committee.

The clerk read report of Board of Estimate for support of the Public Schools, which showed that it would be necessary to raise $17,179.00 by taxation. On motion of Mr. Slover, it was received and referred to finance committee.

The clerk read a letter from Fire Chief Robert Segrave, recommending that the age limit of members be not changed, as was proposed in an amendment to Section 4. On motion of Mr. Manhattan, it was received and referred to committee on fire department.

A letter from the New York Telephone Company stated that all surplus poles would be removed on or about July 15. On motion of Mr. Stratton, it was received and filed.

A letter was read from the Jersey Central Traction Company in reply to a letter from the Clerk in regard to removing the poles on Broadway. It pleaded ignorance of any such conditions of agreement, and requested further information. On motion of Mr. Stratton, it was received and referred to committee on streets.

Bills were referred to committee and after examination, the following were ordered paid:

The report of the Police Justice was read, showing that $20.00 had been collected for dog licenses, $75.00 for petty licenses, and $3.00 for fines, all of which had been paid to the treasurer. It was received and ordered filed.

The reports of John D. Mullane as overseer of the poor for May and June were read. Mr. Stratton offered a motion that it be received and filed. Lost by a tie vote: Ayes, Slover, Stratton; Nays, O'Connor, Stanton; Mr. Manhattan being temporarily absent.

The report of the city treasurer showed balances as follows: City account, $40,493.89; water works, $2,659.06; sanitary sewer, $5,810.77; Broadway Improvement, $8,089.63; which was received and filed.

On resolution of Mr. Slover, a gentleman went on their way rejoicing.

HORRIBLE DEATH OF ANTONE WROBIEL

Antone Wrobiel, a Polish laborer, met a horrible fate on Monday while at work at the Oswald Brick Works, at Cliffwood. Whirled about on a belt strap of a huge wheel until nearly every bone in his body was broken, he maintained wonderful vitality and died over half an hour after the accident occurred.

Wrobiel had lived at Cliffwood all his life and had been in the employ of the Oswald Company. He moved to this city about two weeks ago and took up his residence at the home of his brother, Adam Wrobiel, on Augusta street.

In the course of his work, the unfortunate man attempted to place a belt upon a huge revolving wheel of the clay mixer and was caught by the strap up to his armpits. He was whirled about at a fearful rate of speed, his feet knocking several boards off the roof of the low shed where he was employed.

His cries attracted the attention of his fellow laborers who rushed in and stopped the wheel by shutting off the power. When it was stopped the man hung by his arm from the top of the wheel and had to be taken down.

His fellow laborers, including two brothers and two cousins, went nearly frantic when it was learned that the injured man could not possibly live. A physician was summoned from Matawan by telephone and reached Cliffwood in a short time. The man was still in an unconscious condition and the doctor stated that he could not possibly live for another half hour. Accordingly J. J. Scully, of this city, was summoned and before he reached the place the man had died. The body was brought to this city to the home of his brother on Augusta st., where his relatives went nearly wild in bemoaning the accident.

The funeral services took place on Wednesday at 8 o'clock from the Sacred Heart Polish Church. J. J. Scully was funeral director.

FIRE DOES $600 DAMAGE

The home of Richard Ryan, Jr., on upper Henry street, was badly damaged by fire on Monday at noon. The fire was discovered in the front portion of the house and when the alarm was turned in from box 45 the fire had made considerable headway. The fire companies quickly answered the call and in a short time the blaze was extinguished. The structure was insured but no insurance was placed on the furniture. The household goods were badly damaged by fire and water. The damage will probably reach $600.

RUN DOWN BY BICYCLE.

Eight year old Morris Reiner was injured on Monday when run over by his brother, Sam, on a bicycle. The boy happened to run in front of the wheel and was knocked down, his leg being badly injured. He was attended by a physician and is now getting along nicely.

OUTING WAS ENJOYED.

The annual outing of the Methodist Protestant Sunday School was held at Morris Grove, Keansburg Beach, on Tuesday. A larger number than last year went along, taking two trolley cars to convey the happy company to and from the grove. All had a most delightful time, and are ready for another outing.

SIX CENTS DAMAGES.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hales appeared before Justice R. P. Mason on Tuesday and made complaint against Mr. and Mrs. William Eagle, claiming that the chickens belonging to the latter had greatly damaged their property. The Justice tried to have the parties settle peaceably, but no agreement could be made. Justice Mason then gave damages for six cents and costs, and the complainants went on their way rejoicing.

GIVEN THIRTY DAYS' REST

Reuben Buckalew was brought before Police Justice Birmingham on Tuesday on charge of non-support and drunkenness. The complainant was made by his wife, Mrs. Mary Buckalew. Finding that the charges were correct, the Justice recommended Reuben to the hospitality of Sheriff Bollschweiler, and he will recuperate for thirty days at the county seat.

GRAND LAWN FESTIVAL

To Be Given by Members of St. Mary's Parish on Church Lawn, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday Evenings, July 16, 17 and 18—Extra Illumination and Decorations.

Arrangements are nearly completed for the coming lawn festival which promises to be the most successful event ever held by the members of St. Mary's parish. Extra illumination and decorations have been planned and when completed, the parish lawn will be most inviting as well as attractive.

During the progress of the festival, many amusements will be indulged in such as the Fishing Pond, Throwing at the Dolls, Shooting Gallery, Ringing the Canes, Dart Throwing, Grab Bag, and Dancing. Refreshments will be on sale, and all that attend will find a full supply of soft drinks, candy, sandwiches, cake and ice cream. On Friday evening clam chowder will be served.

The following committees have been selected:

Soda Counter—Oliver F. Costello, chairman; Daniel Donlin, A. Nicorvo. Music—Mr. Edward Sutliff. Cashier—Mr. Sylvester Welsh. Floor Committee—Richard McCloud, Jr., chairman; John Delaney, John Grimes, Hugh Gallagher, Patrick McDonnell, James Lyons, John O'Connor.

Gate Committee—William Birmingham, Andrew Donovan and John Owens.

Shooting Gallery—Mr. McDonnell, George Weinman.

Canes—Leo Coakley, George Gundrum.

Fishing Pond—Michael Nagle, Robert Cantlon.

Dolls—John Triggs, Thomas C. Gelston.

The general committee of ladies is not yet completed but will be announced later.

Collectors—Mr. Oliver Costello. Dart—J. McDonnell, Eugene Heston. During the afternoon children will be admitted free. Special committees will be selected to attend them. This will prevent any accident that otherwise might happen if the young children especially, were permitted to mingle with great concourses of people that will assemble on these nights.

Father Kennedy, who has full charge, is working diligently for the success of the festival and the hearty co-operation he is receiving from the committees and the people of the town in general, points to a most successful event. All may be sure that a most enjoyable time awaits them on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of next week at St. Mary's lawn festival, Augusta street.

Falls From Wagon and is Badly Injured

Thomas Leonard, a driver of the city garbage wagon, was badly hurt on Tuesday. Shortly after the fire alarm was turned in, Leonard was running his horses down John street, believing that they might be of assistance. Near the City Hall one of the traces snapped and Leonard was violently thrown from the wagon, the wheels passing over his body. His head was lacerated and his back badly injured, and several ribs were broken. It is thought that he might have sustained internal injuries. He was taken to his home on Augusta street in the automobile of J. J. Scully. There he was attended by Dr. Meacham and is reported to be improving.

PROMISE TO COMPLETE BRIDGE IN FIVE WEEKS

The contractors on the Cheesapeake creek bridge have promised to complete the new bridge within five weeks or pay a penalty of $25 a day, for every day extended over that time. This agreement was reached at a meeting of the Board of Freeholders on Thursday, at which the matter of taking the contract out of the hands of the Owego Bridge Company was discussed.

Go on the Coney Island Excursion to-day, and enjoy yourself.

EXCURSION TO CONEY ISLAND TO-DAY

Many people will arise early this Saturday morning, get their housework done, and then put on their best attire and proceed to the steamboat dock there to board the steamer "Sirius," for a sail to Coney Island.

It will be the first joint excursion of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineemen and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. The committee has been working hard to make the event a great success, and from general talk about town, it looks as though there will be a record-breaking crowd this year. But the steamer is large, and there is no danger of overcrowding.

The steamer will go by the inside route, thus giving passengers a delightful sail through Staten Island Sound, and an opportunity to see the sights along the shores.

Many new attractions are offered at Coney Island, and from 5 to 11 p. m. the patrons will find amusement galore.

It is expected that the train from Bordentown will be better patronized than heretofore, and reports all along the line seem favorable.

The fare from South and Perth Amboy is only 75c; and 25c for children. Steamer leaves P. R. R. dock this Saturday at 1:30 p. m., and Coney Island at 11 o'clock. Go on this excursion, you will enjoy it.

Refreshments of all kinds on sale on the boat.

PICNIC WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

The annual picnic of the Sacred Heart Church parish, held on Stevensdale on Independence Day, far eclipsed any previous event held. The people of the parish were the only citizens to hold a celebration and it is gratifying to those in charge to know that the affair was such a tremendous success. The grounds where the affair was held was throughout the day alive with patrons and members of the parish who arranged the event. A shore dinner was a feature of the celebration and was served in a very pleasing manner. Many partook of this repast. Many other novelties which enliven festivals of similar nature, were provided and the day was spent in merriment and feasting by those present. Refreshments were served at the various stands, all of which were liberally patronized. The big dancing platform was well filled with young people. Kerr's orchestra furnished fine music for the occasion and the dancing was greatly enjoyed. A large financial profit was the reward which repaid the parishioners in charge of the event and they were to be congratulated on the splendid manner in which it was arranged.

The parade, which was held at 1 o'clock, was, as well as the picnic, a rousing success. Local citizens had not expected to witness such an elaborate display. Three officials in white, on horseback, led the parade. They were followed by the Sacred Heart Fire and Drum Corps. Mayor William S. Dey and members of the city council were escorted in carriages. A number of floats and decorated wagons followed. One of these floats, entitled "The Spirit of the Fourth," deserves especial mention. On it a small boy was portrayed as "Uncle Sam," and several small girls embraced a huge firecracker. In the decorated wagons came girls of the parish, singing national anthems. Another feature was the display of a huge American flag, which was carried by a number of boys and girls. The boys displayed the national colors and the girls wore red, white and blue sashes. At the terminus of the parade the youths of the parish made a fine showing. They were all nicely dressed and carried red, white and blue canes. Rev. Strenski and the members of the parish who participated in the affair are to be commended, for they certainly displayed the proper patriotic spirit of Independence Day.

PRESENTED WITH PICTURE.

Rev. F. F. Craig, pastor of the M. P. Church, has been presented with a group picture of the Joel Parker Guards, of the Junior Mechanics, of this city, taken in Christ Church cemetery on Memorial Day. Pastor Craig is in the group. The presentation was made by Russell Havens, captain of the guards. Mr. Craig is a member of the large Pocahontas Council, of Glassboro.

"DO YOU WANT A WIFE?"

A Tale of the New York Emigrant Station

By SARAH G. TREVOR

The town of Aberaeron, on the coast of Wales, looks out westward on the waters of the Atlantic. Here lived a young man just coming of age who, dissatisfied with the limited opportunities afforded him in a little Welsh town, purposed to emigrate to America. The Welsh language is renowned for being unpronounceable by any other nationality, and Welsh names resemble a lot of type knocked into a pi. Therefore I shall have to give the characters of this story English names. I shall call this young man John.

John, despite his ambition to improve his fortunes in new fields, was much attached to his beloved Wales. His neighbors loved him, and he loved them. In the house next to his home lived a family with whose younger members he had been brought up. There were two boys, one about his own age, another a few years older, and at the time this story commences a little girl—we will call her Mary—about eleven years of age.

John spent some time trying to make up his mind to go to America and more time ruminating the money to take him there. Then he went about bidding his neighbors goodbye and by the time he had finished it seemed to him that it would be impossible for him to go after all. But he was a stout-hearted young fellow and having made up his mind would not turn back. Little

"YOU MAY THINK ME BOLD," HE SAID

Mary was the last one to whom he bade adieu, and when he kissed her goodbye he said:

"When I have made my fortune in America I will send you something nice for a gift."

The child, seeing the sadness in his eye, clung to him, winding her arms around his neck, loath to let him go.

"Aren't you ever coming back?" she asked.

"I'm afraid not—at any rate, not till I've made myself independent."

The parting over, John went up to Liverpool, where he took steamer passage for New York. In due time he landed and went to work at his trade.

Eight years passed, during which there were great changes among the friends John had left in the little town of Aberaeron. Little Mary's father and mother had died and left her in poverty. She was now nineteen years old and willing to work, but what could she do in a little seacoast town in an old country where no improvement was going on? She remembered the departure of John for America. It had been quite an important event in the quiet place and had made an impression on the child's mind. America had then been so far distant that she fancied John would be a year or more in getting there. She knew now that the fastest steamer crossed the ocean in four days. The idea of going to America, where women found opportunities for all kinds of work, got into her head, and after many days' debate with herself and seeking information from her neighbors she determined to undertake the trip—that is, if she could get the necessary funds.

Among other things, she learned that paupers would not be admitted into the United States; that every emigrant would be required to prove that he or she would not become a burden on the government. This seemed to Mary to be the most important barrier in her way. The most money she could hope to control was the amount required to pay her fare across the ocean; when she reached her destination she must rely upon getting work at once. This she believed would not satisfy the emigration authorities.

John had from time to time written to those in his native town stating that he was doing well and was becoming satisfied in his new home. He had not forgotten them and if any of them ever decided coming to America as he had come he would be glad to assist them on their arrival. So Mary wrote him to ask if there was any way by which she might procure admission into the United States without having any visible means of support.

For some reason unknown to her Mary received no reply to this letter. Whether John had moved from where he had last written or whether his letter in answer to hers had miscarried she did not know. She had raised the money to take her and a friend of hers, whom we will call Charlotte, was about to start for New York. She persuaded Mary to go with her, trusting to luck for some way of overcoming the immigration restrictions. Mary, feeling that if she remained in Wales the money she had for her passage would dwindle and she could get no more decided to take the chances.

When the two friends reached New York and were transferred with other immigrants to Ellis Island Mary found that what she feared was true. Not having any means with which to support herself and no one to guarantee that she would not be a burden on the country, she was told that she would be sent back to England.

"I am strong and ready to work," she said to the matron in charge of the women immigrants, "and I am sure I shall find work to do."

"I am sorry for you," replied the matron, "but your case does not come within the law."

"Is there no way by which it can be brought within the law?" asked Charlotte.

"The only way is for some one to marry her."

This was cold comfort, for there was but one man in America Mary knew and she had failed ever to reach him by mail. Among a hundred million people she was not likely to find him, and if she did certainly would not propose marriage to him.

Mary was given a reasonable time to find a way to prove that she would be self-supporting, and her friend Charlotte would not leave her till she had done so or had sailed back to Europe. Several days passed and no solution of the problem appearing Mary was notified that she would be deported on a steamer that was to sail the next day. In the morning Mary and Charlotte were standing on the dock, disconsolate, waiting for the tender to take the former to the ship in which she was to return.

"If you only had time," said Charlotte, "I am sure you could find a husband. I wish I were a man. I would marry you myself. I'm going to ask the next man who comes along if he won't marry you."

A young German passed, and Charlotte asked him in the Welsh language if he wouldn't help a poor girl to get into the country by marrying her.

"Nicht verstein," replied the man. A man appeared who looked into the face of every one he passed as if seeking some one. Charlotte called to him: "A oes cisiau gwraig arnoch chiwi?"

"Do you want a wife?"

The man in the same language replied, "I'm looking for a Welsh girl from Aberaeron."

"We are from Aberaeron." When John left Wales he was twenty years old and was now twenty-eight. He had not changed so much but that Mary could recognize him in the stranger, and she did.

"I know you," she said. "You are John. I am Mary. But I have grown since you saw me."

John took her in his arms. "You may think me bold," he said, "but your friend asked me if I wanted a wife. I do."

Mary blushed and gently disengaged herself. "Why did you not answer my letter?" she asked.

"Because I went west to do some work and did not return till a week ago. I have been to every steamer on which you would have been likely to come since then. I have been too busy to come to try this week till now. I sent a man in my place, but he is a stupid fellow and failed to find you. Only half an hour ago I learned from the matron that you were here and were to be deported this morning. And now the question before us is, How am I to get you through? I have looked into several ways, but it seems to me that your friend has suggested the simplest way."

He looked admiringly on the fresh young girl with cheeks of pink and white, and she dropped her eyes. Charlotte sauntered away to a different part of the dock.

"Often when lonely in my new home," said John, "and when dreaming of my old one in Wales I have thought of the little girl who put her arms around my neck and kissed me when I came away. And every year I have remembered that she had grown a year older. Then I began to think that when you became a woman I would go back to Wales and if you would consent I would bring you back to America for my wife."

Mary said nothing, keeping her eyes fixed on the panorama before her—Castle William, on Governors Island, the Brooklyn bridges and the skyscrapers of lower New York.

"If you'll consent to marry me here now it will save a lot of trouble. Say the word and we'll go inside call a clergyman and be married."

If Mary had used the common phrase of a lady receiving a proposal, "It's so sudden," she would have made a record for telling the truth. She made no reply in words, but she showed in her face that a great relief had come over her which resolved itself in tears. John took her in his arms for a moment, then releasing her said:

"Come."

Charlotte was called and informed of the method adopted to get her friend into the United States of America. They all went into the station and after a ceremony left together for Manhattan Island.

Man's Personality His Own.
"A man's personality," writes J. W. Scott of the University of Glasgow, "is a thing which needs to be made. He does not bring it full-blown into the world with him. Strange as it may seem, personality is a thing which a man absorbs from his environment as a plant absorbs air and light. We are all plagiarists. In the last resort everything we have or know is borrowed."

SATURDAY, JULY 12, 1913.

The Citizen considers it unwise to let the city dock go into decay. There is still an indebtedness of $10,000 against it, and this value should be protected. As a recreation pier or a place of attraction for visitors it it worth this sum. That the people enjoy its comforts, can be seen on any hot night, when hundreds of people gather there to get the cooling breezes. Other cities on the water front are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars for recreation piers, whereby the people can spend their leisure-time free from stuffy rooms, stifling atmosphere and dusty surroundings. Recently Elizabeth spent $75,000 for a pier, and Perth Amboy is now regretting they did not secure their street fronts on the water. Our pier holds rights that will undoubtedly prove valuable in the future and we cannot afford to relinquish them. Had the pier been kept in repair as it needed it, the cost would not have been noticed. The old adage that "a stitch in time saves nine," has not been heeded. It should be kept open to the public as long as possible, even if only the holes in the planking are patched up.

WILSON URGED HIM IS WITTPENN CLAIM

After declaring false a recently revived rumor that he intended to withdraw as a candidate for the Governorship, former Mayor H. Otto Wittpenn, of Jersey City, said Monday:

"I was asked by the President of the United States not to withdraw from the fight and have been engaged in the last few days preparing a declaration of principles. I am going to Jersey City today to open headquarters."

Mr. Wittpenn was at the railroad station at Belmar, waiting for a train, when he made this statement. His summer home is at that place. He was evidently annoyed at a newspaper story to the effect that he would soon announce his withdrawal from the race, notwithstanding denials of a similar report several days ago.

Mr. Wittpenn said that the rumor that he intended to withdraw was "inspired by James Smith, Jr., who has always been my political foe." He followed his statement about Mr. Smith with that concerning the President's request to him.

The statement by Mr. Wittpenn is the most positive intimation from any source that President Wilson may give Wittpenn at least moral backing in his campaign for the Governorship. Mr. Wittpenn, accompanied by United States Senator Hughes and James Kearney, of Trenton, visited President Wilson at the White House on June 26. Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty was also at the conference, which lasted thirty-five minutes and which was regarded in New Jersey with great significance. Wittpenn supporters not on the inside circle of his advisers interpreted it as meaning that the President had placed his O. K. on the former Mayor.

After the White House discussion of the political situation in New Jersey with Mr. Wittpenn Secretary Tumulty declined to say anything about it nor even intimate what conclusion, if any, had been reached. Mr. Wittpenn then said that it would not be etiquette for him to talk about his conversation with the President.

NEW INSURANCE AND REALTY OFFICES OPEN

Under the name of the South Amboy Insurance and Realty Agency, Edwin C. Roddy and Samuel Locker have opened offices in rooms 12, 13 and 15, Parlsen Building, Broadway and Augusta street.

The new firm has secured the agency for a number of the leading fire insurance companies, and in addition will represent the Fidelity and Casualty Company and the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Corporation, writing Accident, Health, Bonding, Plate Glass, Steam Boiler, Employers' Liability, Automobile and Burglary lines. They will also handle properties and real estate and collect rents for property-owners.

The offices are fully equipped with private telephones, modern filing device, typewriters, mimeograph and addressing machine, as they will do form-letter work, addressing, and public typewriting.

At present the offices are only open evenings.

FIGHT ON SCHOOL SUPERVISORSHIP GROWS WARM

The appeal case of R. M. Fitch vs. the Board of Education has been occupying the time of State School Commissioner Betts at the High School, Perth Amboy. Thus far two days have been occupied taking testimony, and the end is not yet. It will be continued on Monday next.

First Day: Thursday, July 3.

Counselor Thomas Brown, for Prof. Fitch, made two motions on opening to dismiss the case on technicalities, which were denied by Commissioner Betts. The reasons given by Mr. Brown for dismissing the case were that the Board of Education had not made their charges against Prof. Fitch in a manner according to law and that the first hearing had been given before the committee of teachers, instead of the Board of Education as a whole, as the law specifically states. Mr. Brown stated that the charges had been presented in a very lax way. The charges presented bore no date, did not state the name of the city, the name of the Board of Education which presented the charges, nor the name of the principal to whom they were directed.

Both these motions were denied by the Commissioner, who stated that the case would be based only on the respective merits of Prof. Fitch as a competent supervisor for the South Amboy Public Schools.

Mr. Schleimer, counsel for the Board, engaged in an argument with Mr. Brown over the merits of the case. Mr. Schleimer stated, "We only desire to present this case to show that Mr. Fitch is incompetent to act as supervising principal." "Yes," answered Mr. Brown, "and we will show that you wanted to get him out without just cause and that you threatened to do so several years ago." The commissioner called for order.

The first witness called by the Board was Samuel Locker, who certified that the minutes of the meeting referred to were correct.

The next witness called by the counsel for the Board was Dr. E. E. Haines, president of the Board of Education. He answered Mr. Schleimer's questions in a direct manner but weakened, as did the other members of the board, under Mr. Brown's cross examination. He stated that he did not know at what time he took office as a member of the Board of Education or when he was sworn in. Mr. Brown in his course of cross examination tried to prove that the member of the board took office with the direct contention of ousting Prof. Fitch. He said that the only reason he had for making the investigation was rumors that he had heard. Mr. Brown asked where the usual meeting place of the board was. The Doctor stated the meetings had been held in Prof. Fitch's office, at his (Dr. Haines') office, at Mr. Scully's Hall and at the home of A. L. Grace.

"Don't you know," said Mr. Brown, "that South Amboy has two public schools and a City Hall?"

Dr. Haines denied that Prof. Fitch was brought to the home of A. L. Grace especially for the purpose of cornering him into making statements to be used by the board in their prosecution of the case. He also denied that Prof. Fitch had been brought to his office to scare a resignation out of him. It developed that scarcely any time whatever elapsed since the new board went into office, before they commenced plans to oust Prof. Fitch.

The next witness was A. L. Grace, who testified that he had gone into office in March. Mr. Grace declared his principal reason for Prof. Fitch's removal was that he had made statement that the schools were going down and had been going down for the past three years. Mr. Brown in his course of cross examination said, "Mr. Grace, you have taken a very active part with the members of the board to scare Mr. Fitch and in trying to oust him." Mr. Grace replied that he had not. He quavered under Counselor Brown's cross fire and seemed greatly relieved when he got off the witness stand.

Charles P. Mason was next called to the witness stand. He answered Counselor Schleimer's questions. He stated that he was chairman of the teachers' committee which made the investigations.

He stated that a meeting had been held of all the teachers in the schools, with the exception of Prof. Fitch. Mr. Brown asked if his meeting was not called especially for the purpose of getting the teachers to give information to the detriment of Mr. Fitch and asked if Mr. Mason called it fair treatment to have all the teachers present with the exception of Mr. Fitch. Mr. Mason stated that Mr. Fitch was not invited as he probably would not like to be present at such a meeting.

Mr. Mason stated that he had for a long time, personally, known that there was something wrong with the schools but did not know the cause.

A good point was scored for Prof. Fitch at this point by his counsel, Mr. Brown asked Mr. Mason if he had any instances where the pupils' courses were not correct. Mr. Mason stated that he had only investigated the case of Miss Buckelew. Mr. Brown then exhibited the report card by Prof. Fitch in regard to this case and asked Mr. Mason if there was anything on this card which was not kept according to law or if the studies were not correct. Mr. Mason did not know. "You are a fair man," said Mr. Brown, "and you would wish to discharge Prof. Fitch on this one instance out of hundreds—the only case of which you made an investigation. Do you know that Prof. Fitch did not allow this girl to graduate and that she is now attending another approved school in this county, where she is placed in exactly the same grade where Prof. Fitch had her and is taking the same studies?"

Mr. Mason gave an account of the meeting at Mr. Grace's house where Prof. Fitch made the statements on which the charges for removal are based.

After Mr. Mason, Mr. Davis, formerly president of the Board of Education, was called. He stated that during all the time he was president of the board, Prof. Fitch had not made any report that the schools were going down and that he was surprised when Mr. Fitch made a declaration at the home of Mr. Grace to the effect that the schools were lowering their standard.

J. E. Dawson, principal of School No. 1, was next called as a witness for the Board of Education.

He stated that Prof. Fitch had done very little supervising in his grade (the eighth) and that he had been present about once in two weeks to supervise, outside of intervals at which he gave tests. Mr. Brown asked Prof. Dawson why scholars who came into his grade with high average and a good record had made such a failure in their mid-term work? Prof. Dawson replied that they had done better in their final examinations, but that he believed the work was too advanced for them.

Miss McGonigle, teacher of sixth grade in School No. 2, was then called and testified along similar lines.

Miss Martha K. Buchanan, head of the English Department of the High School, testified for the Board of Education. In the course of the direct testimony she stated that Prof. Fitch did not really know all the books which had been taught in the High School. Lawyer Brown tried to prove that Miss Buchanan was incapable of testifying fairly on account of her very friendly relations with the President of the Board of Education, Dr. Haines, and many visits to his office to discuss the case.

As it was growing late the suggestion was made that the case adjourn. Mr. Brown asked that one of his witnesses be heard at this point, stating that he would be unable to be present again.

This witness was Prof. Jesse E. Crane, formerly principal of the High School. He stated that he was a graduate of the State Normal School and had obtained a degree at Dickinson College. He had served in the local schools one full term and had found that Prof. Fitch was competent and always supervising. Counselor Schleimer tried to prove that Mr. Crane would not know if Mr. Fitch was always supervising or not, stating that Mr. Crane was in School No. 2 and that Prof. Fitch's office at that time was in School No. 1.

Mr. Crane replied that Mr. Fitch gave a liberal portion of his time in School No. 2, and that by a telephone connection between the schools he was obliged to call Prof. Fitch several times a day. Mr. Schleimer stated that this was insufficient reason, stating that Mr. Fitch could have been present only at times to receive the telephone calls and have been absent at other times. Mr. Crane did not believe this to be the case. Following Mr. Crane's testimony, the hearing was adjourned until Wednesday, July 9. This day's hearing appeared very bright for the prospects of Prof. Fitch, no unexpected revelations being presented on the Board's side of the case. Counselor Brown appeared to have secured the material he was working after and seemed pleased with the day's review of the case.

Second Day, Wednesday, July 9.

The hearing was again resumed on Wednesday of this week. The first called was Prof. Fitch, the appellant in the case. He was subjected to a long, direct examination from Counselor Brown and answered in a satisfactory manner. He was first questioned as to the meeting place of the Board of Education. He stated that for the past three years meetings had been held in the office of the Supervising Principal, but previous to that they had been held in the City Hall. This Board, he stated, had held meetings in private houses, in Dr. Haines' office, and in the supervisor's office.

He claimed that he was summoned to the home of A. L. Grace for the purpose of their opening attack on him. He stated that this was supposed to be a regular Board of Education meeting and that it was followed by a pleasant social affair at which refreshments were served.

At this meeting, he stated, Haines and Grace "went at him" in a very severe manner, and he denied emphatically several statements which Dr. Haines testified as having been purported to be made by Mr. Fitch at the time of this meeting. He claimed that he had told the members of the board at this meeting that the schools were holding their own under such unfavorable conditions as the repairing of the schools, half-day sessions, etc. He denied emphatically that he had ever told Dr. Haines that he had not given any time to supervision of the school work. Many exhibits were displayed which proved that the Professor kept an up-to-date system of reports and files. He went through a rigid direct examination from 10 o'clock until 1:45 p. m., at which time a recess of half an hour was taken.

During the course of his testimony he told that he had been Supervisor of the schools for eighteen years. When he first took charge, the schools were in a bad condition, in some rooms four classes were being held. He taught in one of these rooms. He worked energetically for the benefit of the schools and in 1908 succeeded in having them placed on the approved list by the State Board of Education. Recently the schools have been in the process of much renovation. School No. 1, was condemned as unsanitary and many other things have happened to retard progress in the schools. Taking these things into consideration, the progress of the school has been very good. Much of his time had necessarily to be given to preparing the reports demanded by the new State Commission. In the course of his testimony he stated that Dr. Haines had charged that graduates of the High School had not met with success in their after life. He denied this furnishing statistics of a large percentage of scholars who had been successful at the State schools and at college.

In the afternoon the Supervisor was subjected to a rigid cross-examination at the hands of Mr. Schleimer, counsel for the Board of Education. He bore up well under the cross fire and was on the stand until 5:15. He became confused at times, but corrected himself. Counselor Schleimer tried to pick out some very immaterial flaws, but nothing new was revealed in the line of prosecution of the Board of Education. The main question at stake is, as the Commissioner stated, the fact whether Prof. Fitch is incompetent or not, and as yet, the board has not really made a beginning to prove this fact. They are trying to oust him on some statements which he is purported to have made in regard to the condition of the schools.

Commissioner Betts discontinued the hearing at 5:15 until Monday at 10 o'clock, at which time all witnesses are to be present. Prof. Fitch will be on the stand for a short time under continuance of cross examination, but the hearing will probably be concluded. A review of Prof. Fitch's witnesses will take place at this time.

CHANGES IN GAME LAWS.

Federal Ruling Concerning Jersey Statutes—To Take Effect Oct. 1.

Radical changes in the New Jersey game laws are made by the new regulations of the United States Department of Agriculture which will go into effect October 1. These rules, formulated by the department in the Weeks-McLean law passed by Congress, nullify any section of any State law with which they come into conflict, according to Ernest Napier, president of the New Jersey State Fish and Game Commission.

The new Federal rules divide the country into two zones, with the dividing line running north of forty degrees latitude and the Ohio River. New Jersey is in the northern zone. The new regulations cut down the open seasons in many instances and prohibit all spring shooting. The killing of migratory birds during the open season is limited to the time between sunrise and sunset.

No shooting of cranes, doves or pigeons is allowed, and until September 1, 1918, a closed season is established for band tailed pigeons, little brown, sandhill and whooping cranes, swans, curlew, all shore birds, except black breasted and golden plover, Wilson or jack snipe, wood duck and greater and lesser yellow legs.

Under the New Jersey law it has been possible to shoot Wilson snipe during the months of March, April, September, October, November and December. It has been possible to shoot shore birds in this State during May, June, July, August, September, October, November and December.

Shooting of insectivorous birds including robins and larks, is forbidden at all times under the new regulations. Hunting on the great rivers is prohibited except during November and December.

The Baptist Sunday School will be held at 9.30 a. m. during July and August. The increased attendance last Sunday morning, encouraged the officers in charge to change the time.

Mr. James Flannigan, of Mechanicsville, has been temporarily assigned to the yard-master's office at Runyon, pending the return of John McCarthy, who is absent on a vacation.

Joseph Pippitt has resigned his position with the International Smokeless Powder and Chemical Company at Parlin, and has taken a position as fireman on the Lehigh Valley railroad.

The Presbyterian Sunday School went on their annual picnic to Keansburg last Wednesday, and all had a delightful day. A special trolley car conveyed the party to this popular resort.

John Perrine has been temporarily assigned to Runyon in the capacity of yard-master, pending the return of Joseph Weisman, who is at present, and has been for some time, on the sick list.

The fire alarm was turned in on Sunday afternoon from Box 45. The local companies answered the call. The blaze proved to be in the brush near Whitehead Bros. Clay Banks, and was quickly extinguished.

At meeting of Board of Freeholders Thursday, Freeholder A. T. Kerr offered a resolution, which was passed, that State Road Commissioner Stevens be requested to appropriate $5,000 for road improvements on Stevens avenue.

It has just been learned that Miss Bessie Applegate, of this city, and Mr. Grover Cleveland Bailey, of Keyport, were united in marriage at New York city on May 31. They expect to go to housekeeping on Elm street, Perth Amboy, next week.

Walter, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Compton, died at the home of his parents on Sunday afternoon. The child was five months of age, and died as the result of teething and the excessive heat. The body was taken to Bordentown for interment.

The family and friends of the late Mrs. Margaret Rea greatly appreciated the special music rendered by Prof. Steins, the organist, and the choir, at St. Mary's Church, on the occasion of the high mass of requiem for the repose of her soul.

Mrs. S. T. Bastedo, of George st., is now fully recovered from a very severe attack of intestinal inflammation with which she was taken ill over a week ago. Dr. Albright was in attendance and succeeded in fostering a very rapid recovery.

John McCarthy, of Augusta street, started on a vacation last Monday. Mr. McCarthy expects to spend his time tramping, fishing, etc., in this immediate vicinity in his search for rest and recreation and contrary to his usual custom will not take any extended trip or trips.

The many friends of Mrs. J. K. Stults will be pleased to learn that she is getting on nicely in recovering from the serious injuries which she sustained recently at Asbury Park in an automobile accident. Mrs. Stults was brought to her home in this city on Saturday evening, from the Long Branch Hospital.

The domestic troubles of Mr. and Mrs. George Wallis received another airing in the local police court on Monday. The trouble resulted in excessive use of the "cup thar cheers." Mrs. Wallis took the pledge from Justice Birmingham and promised not to taste anything but drinking water, tea and coffee for a year.

The large congregations at the Baptist Church last Sunday showed that Dr. Geibel's visits to this city are appreciated. This blind composer and musician is a wonder, and his music and singing are greatly enjoyed. He can nearly make the violin talk, so adept is he in handling this instrument. The Doctor has many friends in this city.

The service at the Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday morning was in charge of Rev. Marshall, D. D., the new superintendent of the New Brunswick District. Dr. Marshall's sermon was very interesting and made a favorable impression upon his congregation. The previous evening, Dr. Marshall was present at the second quarterly meeting of the church.

THE BERG SISTERS
COMING TO THIS CITY

Rev. Thomas Neal, Jr., of the Baptist Church, had endeavored, without success, for more than a year to arrange a date, so the people of this city and vicinity could hear these two sweet gospel singers, the Misses Jeannette and Emma Berg. Hearing that these sisters were stopping with friends at Keansburg for a brief rest

MISS EMMA BERG.

at the conclusion of a strenuous year's work since last August, he went to Keansburg last Tuesday and prevailed upon them to come to South Amboy even for one Sunday. They cheerfully agreed to come to this city next Sunday, July 13, and sing at the Baptist Church at 10.30 a. m. and 7.30

MISS JEANNETTE BERG.

M. Although near midsummer, no one who loves to hear sweet, cheering gospel songs can well afford to let this opportunity go by. These sisters are of the best in the line of evangelistic singing. Their engagements are arranged for the ensuing year's work. Come and hear them next Sunday, July 13. All seats are free, and everybody is welcome. No. 2 Gospel Message Song Book will be used.

BRIDGE CAUGHT FIRE.

The bridge on Second street again caught fire on Tuesday afternoon. The fire alarm was turned in from the P. R. R. yardmaster's office. Before the fire companies arrived the fire had been extinguished, planks being torn up and buckets of water poured on the fire. It is thought that the bridge caught fire from the C. R. R. special, 900, which had just passed beneath the bridge. This engine caused a fire only recently.

EXTEND THANKS

On behalf of the Fire Department of the city of South Amboy, heartfelt thanks are hereby extended to the South Amboy Terra Cotta Company for their liberal contribution to the department. At a gathering on July 3, at which many members of the various companies were present, all expressed their appreciation and goodwill toward the company.

eral account note for $5,990 due July 15, was ordered paid.

On resolution of Mr. Stratton a warrant for $40 was ordered drawn in favor of James Campion, as watchman for June.

Councilman Stratton called attention to the bad condition of the city pier. He thought the city did not have any public park and no place for recreation, and it would be well to repair the pier and place a railing and lights on it and make a recreation pier as is becoming so popular with the cities on the water front. If the council does not desire to repair it, some action should be taken to close it to the public.

No action was taken on the matter. Bonds of Jonas Letts, Thomas & Cramer and O'Garra & McGuire, were accepted and ordered filed.

On inquiry by Mr. Stratton, City Solicitor Pearse announced that Mrs. F. M. Littell had accepted the guardianship of the Stults child.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor, the checks of O'Garra & McGuire were ordered returned.

Mr. Leonard, of Gordon Heights, was given the privilege of the floor when he asked on behalf of residents of that section, that the council aid him in getting gas in that vicinity, the Public Service Gas Co. refusing to give him service. He also spoke of the bad circulation of water in that section and asked that the dead ends be connected so as to give a free circulation, and that more light be placed in that vicinity.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor, the clerk was directed to communicate with the Public Service Gas Company and demand that gas be supplied to every applicant in South Amboy.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor, the suggestion of Mr. Leonard in regard to water was referred to water committee.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor, a certified check for $200 was ordered returned to Peter P. Cramer.

On motion of Mr. Slover, the matter of lights at Gordon Heights was referred to committee on lights.

The following resolution offered by Mr. O'Connor, was adopted:

"Whereas, The construction of Stevens avenue improvement has been actually started, no agreement being made with the Jersey Central Traction Company for their part of the work owing to the inattention of the Traction Company, be it

"Resolved, That the clerk be instructed to notify said company that it is the intention of the council to require the Traction Company to cause the space between the rails and two feet outside to be paved with Metropolitan pavement; and that the council will require them to pay an amount equal to the cost of culverts across First street, David street, Henry street, John street towards the expense of drainage improvement now under way on said Stevens avenue."

Norway and Trotting Horses.

From tales of travel and other sources of information it appears that Norway was one of the first countries to develop speed in the trotting horse, which centuries ago seems to have been common to the nations of northern Europe. Sigvried Petersen says that as early as the beginning of the eighteenth century there were information of trotting races in Christiania. The principal name in the history of the sport is that of Jacob Meyer, chief of the loyal mounted militia, who was born in 1781. He owned the noted horse Sleijner-Varg that on March 15, 1823, trotted an English mile in 2:37 and repeated in the same time. This was faster than any horse had then trotted in America, so far as is known. In Sweden and in Finland the sport of trotting horses dates back, it is said, to prehistoric times. With long winters and nothing else to do the people raced their horses to sleighs on the ice. Sunday morning was the great occasion, men and horses coming from miles around to take part in or witness the sport.—New York Herald.

Her Early Life in Germany.

In her book entitled "Scenes and Memories" Walburga Lady Paget has this to say of her early life in Germany: "We ran about without shoes or stockings in the grass; we wore a minimum of clothes; in summer we were plunged into the river, a wide and rushing mountain stream; in winter we had to break the ice in our tubs and our nurses dashed basins of icy water over our backs. I can still feel the thin bits of ice mixed with the water splashing down over me. A fire in our bedrooms was never thought of, and the schoolroom was never more than 9 degrees Reaumur (52 F.). I was fourteen or fifteen before I knew what it was to have something to drink at breakfast, as I did not like milk. Bread, with a little butter, was all I ever had. An egg for a child, if it was not ill, was considered quite absurd. Between meals we were given abundance of fruit."

The Money Tennyson Made.

Lord Tennyson made a great income from his poems. When Strahan & Co. took over the publication of the poems in the sixties they agreed to pay Tennyson $25,000 a year in respect to the books already issued and pay the poet all profits on new work, less a modest 10 per cent commission. This second item generally meant $30,000 for each new volume. For many years before his death Tennyson drew a steady $50,000 per annum from his publishers.

ATHLETICS WIN MORNING

GAME: PATERSON AFTERNOON

Few local fans took advantage of the fine baseball games offered here on July 4. The excessive heat kept many away from the games but the attractions repaid anyone who came out to witness the games. The opponents of the Athletics in a double-header were the fast Paterson A. C., of Paterson. The Athletics by superior batting and field work romped home with the bacon in the morning's game, the score being 7 to 4. The game when first started resembled a comedy, but soon the players settled down and the local boys scored six runs in the fifth inning which won the game for them. The afternoon game, which went eleven innings, resulted in a victory for the visitors by the score of 4 to 3. One run scored in the eleventh gave the Paterson boys the game and this fray was undoubtedly the classic presented on Bill O'Toole's stamping grounds this year. We say that about nearly every game, but this one was a real, dyed-in-the-wool guaranteed-not-to-shrink game.

First Game, Athletics 7, Paterson 4.

Higgins went in the box for the Athletics, Howe having a sore arm. He walked the first two batters who faced him and Gill crossed the plate with the first tally on an infield error. Bradbury whiffed and Keating retired the side by a fast double play, Keating to Delaney. In the second four successive singles resulted in two runs, Higgins struck out two men here. The following inning Howe went into the box. The opposing batsmen, however, were unable to hit him and he allowed but four hits throughout the remainder of the game. In the sixth inning Sweeney gained first base on an error by Buckalew and later scored on Gill's single making their fourth and last run.

Meanwhile the Athletics were up on their toes and after the first couple of innings found no difficulty in hitting Warburton. Delaney started his clouting in the first inning. He sent a Texas leaguer to left field and when everyone turned to see where the ball went he cut through the pitcher's box to get to second. "Della" was called out for cutting first base.

In the fourth inning Connell singled, Manaker's drive advanced him to third base and "Mox" scored on Keating's long sacrifice fly. In the fourth inning Delaney got another long two base hit and in the fifth he topped off his glory by a single which gave him a perfect average for the day. He then stole second, third and home, to the surprise of the fans and the Paterson players. In the sixth inning the locals landed heavily on Warburton and every player got a bat, Connell getting two.

Mox started off with a single, Molly whiffed, Manaker doubled and sent home Connell, Keating hit safely and Manaker scored on a wide throw to Sweeney. Buckalew reached first on an error, Delaney singled and stole home, after Buckalew scored on Campion's single, Howe singled, scoring Campion. Higgins drove a long fly to Gill, and Connell, batting for the second time, grounded out to Bradbury. Six runs were scored in this inning. The game was called in the seventh on account of an early start.

Afternoon Game, Ath. 3, Pat. 4.

The afternoon game was started at 3:30 o'clock and from the start was a struggle worth seeing. Murray Borlund, the clever little blond pitcher, pitched a great game throughout the entire eleven innings, but erratic support lost the game. Murray allowed but eight hits throughout the game. The locals outbatted the visitors but the bingles came at the wrong time. The Paterson boys played brilliantly in the field. They first scored two runs in the third inning on a series of three hits and two misuses by the local boys. The third run was scored in the eighth when Barber singled and was later brought home on O'Neill's long sacrifice fly. In the eleventh, O'Neill reached first on Della's error, Walsh singled, but was retired with Sweeney on a fast double play, Keating to Delaney to Campion. Manager Duffy then came to the bat and after Murray had put two strikes over on him, singled, winning the game for his team.

When Howe started off the home team's last half of the eleventh by a two base hit to the fence, the fans were upon their toes. Another unfortunate break happened here. Bill took off a big lead and tripped in trying to get back to his base. He was run down and tagged by Bradbury, thus killing all hopes for a rally. Higgins then grounded to Barker, who made a clever stop and Connell drove a hot one to Porter, who nabbed it safely.

ATHLETICS BADLY

BEATEN BY ST. ANTHONYS

The St. Anthonys revenged themselves in a proper manner on Saturday for the defeat inflicted on them by Bill O'Toole's bunch some time ago. The boys from across the county bridge captured the game by the score of 4 to 0. Although the Saints outplayed the locals, the South Amboy team was in a very crippled condition not having a pitcher. Maxfield was laid up with a couple of injured fingers, Howe was unable to pitch, having a sore arm, and Murray could not get to the game until the seventh inning. Chuck Applegate did the flinging up to this period and it was from him that the visitors secured their four runs. Murray's reign in the box was less fortunate for the visitors, no runs being scored from his delivery. He allowed but two hits. The South Amboy team collected but four hits. Ritter was in good form and the locals appeared played out from the previous day's double header. Johnnie Christopherson, who is one of the niftiest short fielders in these quarters, had to go and take away what looked like several sure hits, which aforesaid calamity made Bill O'Toole very sore, etc.

The Saints fielded faultlessly, no errors being chalked up against them. Louie Elle also proved himself a hard hearted player when he robbed Howe in the ninth of what looked like a sure safety. He ran way behind second base and picked up a dandy. This ended the fray as far as winning the game was concerned and the visitors wended their way back to the city of haberdashers with gladdened hearts.

Detailed score:

First inning—Lozer out, Applegate to Walters; Elle out, Keating to Walters, Toolin flied to G. Delaney who made a great catch. No runs.
Keating went out, Ritter to Hunt. Andy Borlund and F. Delaney whiffed. No runs.
Second inning—Peterson reached first on Della's error, Yenck struck out, Hunt out, Keating to Walters, Stinson singled, scoring Peterson, Christopherson singled and Ritter ended the inning by flying to Howe. One run.
Walters nearly beat out his ground-er to Stinson, but was called out. Howe grounded out, Ritter to Hunt. Higgins flied to Stinson. No runs.
Third inning—Lozer out, Keating to Campion, Elle out by the same route, Toolin reached first on Keating's error and Peterson went out, Delaney to Campion, a nice play. No runs.
Connell singled, G. Delaney whiffed, Applegate went out, Toolin to Hunt, Keating lined to Hunt. No runs.
Fourth inning—Yenck struck out, Hunt fouled to Borlund who made a nice catch, Stinson struck out. No runs.

Borlund lined to Hunt, F. Delaney struck out, Campion put a two bagger out to right field. Howe flied to Stinson. No runs.

Fifth inning—Christopherson struck out, Ritter singled, Lozer singled, Yenck running for Ritter was caught at the plate, Applegate to Borlund, who made a clever play. Elle fouled to Borlund who made another good catch. Andy badly cut his foot in making this play and had to retire. George Smith, of Perth Amboy, taking his place. No runs.

Sixth inning—Toolin was hit by a pitched ball, Peterson reached first on Campion's error, Yenck went out, Applegate to Campion, Hunt reached first, Toolin was caught at the plate on this play, Applegate to Smith, Stinson's single scored Hunt and he scored on an error by Connell, Christopherson struck out. Three runs.

Keating out, Ritter to Hunt; Smith whiffed. No runs.

Seventh inning—Lozer and Elle walked, Ritter flied to Higgins, a good catch, Lozer was caught between third and home and was out, Applegate to Smith. Toolin out, Applegate to Campion. No runs.

Campion grounded out, Christopherson to Hunt, Howe flied to Stinson and Higgins flied to Lozer. No runs.

Eighth inning—Peterson out, Connell to Campion, Yenck singled, Hunt got a Cincinnati base hit, Stinson flied to Delaney, and Christopherson went out, F. Delaney to Campion. No runs.

Connell out, Ritter to Hunt, G. Delaney struck out, Murray got a nice single, his first time up, Keating thrown out on a bunt, Yenck to Hunt. No runs.

Ninth inning—Ritter flied to Keating, Lozer singled, Elle flied to Keating, Toolin flied to Connell. No runs.
Smith grounded out to Stinson, F. Delaney hit by pitched ball, Campion grounded to Toolin, and Howe flied to Elle who made a great catch. No runs.

SHERIDANS DEFEAT

COLORED GIANTS

Last Sunday the Oyster Bay Colored Giants came to this city in full array. Manager Delaney's White Hopes outpointed them in a scheduled nine round bout and the colored gentlemen went home with nothing but their suitcases and the short end of a 6 to 4 score. A very poor crowd witnessed this game. Buckalew twirled a good game, seven of the dusky gents whiffing the air. He allowed but six hits. The local boys outplayed the visitors from the start and got a good lead. In the ninth they eased up somewhat and the ebony hued tossers from Teddy's home town, scored four runs. The score:

Death Suddenly Calls
George A. Maxfield

Many people in this city will regret to learn that George A. Maxfield passed away on July 4th last at his home 129 Seymore avenue, Newark, at the age of 71 years.

His death was sudden. While he had not been in the best of health for some time past, it was not thought his end was so near. Early on July 4th, his wife was at his bedside, and thinking him to be peacefully sleeping, did not disturb him. About 3 o'clock she again went to him and noticing that he had not moved since the previous visit, made a closer examination and found that life had left.

Mr. Maxfield resided in this city many years, being superintendent for Whitehead Brothers Co., sand dealers. Falling in health he left this position in this city and went to Newark to live. Some years ago he opened up a section of farm land into building lots, and named it Maxville. He was liberal to purchasers, and built several houses for them, taking payment on the installment plan. This section of the city is now building up rapidly.

Mr. Maxfield was a member of Good Samaritan Lodge, No. 52, K. of P., of this city, with which he had been affiliated over thirty years. He was highly esteemed for his many sterling qualities and upright dealings. He is survived by a widow, and one brother, William O. Maxfield, of this city.

The funeral was held from his late residence at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon, and interment made in Fairmount cemetery, Newark.

You Live Better Than Kings of Old

By HOLLAND.

ALL the great rulers of the earth from King Solomon to Peter the Great were at a disadvantage compared with the citizens of today. Not one of them had a bathroom with a porcelain tub and modern plumbing in his palace. Not one of them used a safety razor, had an appetizing breakfast food, used a telephone or enjoyed the comforts of an electric light. All these are within the reach of rich and poor today. All are enjoyed by rich and poor. You are better off than Emperor Napoleon, Rameses II, or Louis XIV. You have conveniences they never imagined or dreamed about. Chief among them are the modern newspaper and its advertisements and advertised wares. Are you getting all the good out of life that is possible? You are not if you neglect to read the advertisements and to buy the articles that are advertised. Comforts, luxuries and necessities are offered to you in great profusion, and the fact that they are advertised proves that the articles are reliable.

THE MIDDLESEX COUNTY POULTRY ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Middlesex County Poultry Association will be held Monday evening, July 14, at 8 o'clock, in the Short Course Building, at the College Farm, New Brunswick. The regular business will be transacted and there will be a discussion regarding the program for Field Day which will be held at the College Farm, August 5. This is the annual Field Day held by the State Board of Agriculture, and all agricultural and poultry organizations in the State will probably send delegates to the meetings.

Prof. A. L. Clark, of the New Jersey State Experiment Station, will give a lecture on Monday evening on "Summer Management of the Flock." This should be an interesting subject to all poultry raisers at this time of the year. It is a well known fact that the hot months coming just after the season of heaviest production is the period in which the greatest mortality occurs among the mature as well as the young stock. The lecture will be illustrated and suggestions given as to the best means of preventing mortality and of holding up the production and health of the flock. A general discussion of the subject will follow the lecture in which all members are invited to take part.

BIG OCEAN SUNFISH.

Lee Clark, the well-known Morgan taxidermist, at the present time is engaged in stuffing a monster ocean sunfish, caught off Keyport on July 2nd, by Thomas V. Cottrell. Fifteen men were required to land the big fish. It weighed 400 pounds and was four feet two and one-half inches long, and five feet three inches wide, measuring from fin to fin.

It is a variety of ocean sunfish very rare in this vicinity usually being found in the Pacific Ocean. It is almost circular and the fins appear as though they were accidentally stuck into the truncated body. In the ocean it appears as though it were a ball of fire when the sun shines upon its scales.

The fish was in a very weak condition when caught and is highly prized by Mr. Cottrell, who is having his trophy stuffed by Mr. Clark. The fish has been found sometimes weighing as much as 500 pounds. This specimen weighs 400 pounds and is a mammoth job for Mr. Clark.

As History Has Recorded.

Two lunatics conversed in the asylum yard. One had megalomania. Said he: "Had they not locked me up here I should have been a second Napoleon!" Thoughtfully, the other contemplated a pen-green devil on the asylum wall, then remarked: "The second Napoleon wasn't much shucks."

Childish Constancy.

If only we realized it, if only we cultivated it more, we could see with clear-eyed vision that all of a child's original nature breathes constancy. It is an essential strength of the undeveloped child's nature to be constant. Not until our own false examples have attacked the natural purity of the child does it become inconstant—unreliable. —Harriet Beecher Stowe.

SPENCER BERDINE ASSISTS FIRE DEPARTMENT

The fire ladders received a very convincing demonstration of the patriotic spirit last Monday as they were going up Augusta street to a fire.

Mr. Spencer Berdine, of Brownstown, was coming down the street and when he met the truck he insisted upon unhooking his team from his own carriage and assisting the firemen with their truck. We understand that his better half, who was with him at the time, objected rather strongly to the change, but Mr. Berdine was not to be retarded in his desire to figure as a hero and in consequence the aforesaid Mrs. Berdine was relegated to the background of a horseless carriage in the street pending the return of her husband from the center of the limelight and seat of the excitement. Mr. Berdine is to be highly commended on the bold, firm stand he took in this matter, which should serve as an inspiring example to others under like circumstances in our thriving and energetic city. Doubtless the fire ladders appreciated the kindness of Mr. Berdine and hope that the gentleman will be conveniently at hand when the next call to their exciting and dangerous calling comes in, as it facilitates matters greatly when they receive assistance as willing and as opportune as Mr. Berdine was fortunately able to render.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

Good Samaritan Lodge, No. 52, K. of P., had installation of officers on Wednesday night and a large attendance was present. Deputy Grand Chancellor Simeon P. Day, of Keyport, conducted the ceremonies, assisted by his staff, composed of Messrs. Lyster, Wilson and Loesch, of Keyport.

The ceremonies were unusually well conducted, as Mr. Day is exceptionally well qualified for the duties of his office and wins praise wherever he officiates. His report shows growth in the several lodges of this district and throughout the State. Refreshments were served by a committee following the regular lodge work.

Are cured by Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment, which heals all skin eruptions. No matter how long you have been troubled by itching, burning or scaly skin humors, just put a little of that soothing antiseptic, Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment, on the sores and the suffering stops instantly. Healing begins that very minute. Doctors use it in their practice and recommend it. Mr. Allen, of Littleton, Pa., says: "Had eczema on forehead; Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment cured it in two weeks." Guaranteed to relieve or money refunded, druggists, or by mail, Pr for Chemical Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.

SATURDAY, JULY 12, 1913.

A Strong Argument.

Pianos on the installment principle was his theme. You pay $3 a week and torture the neighbors.

As he knocked gently at one door he suddenly remembered he had been here before and received a curt refusal. This time it was different, says the New York Mail.

"Oh, it's you again, is it?" asked the housewife cordially. "Come in, won't you?"

Full of hope he entered and followed her down a dimly lighted hall. She threw open a door and he walked in, to hear the key click sharply in the lock behind him.

He was locked in a room with five children, all howling, who beat even their own records at the sight of a stranger.

And the woman resumed her wash-bag.

An hour later she came to his rescue.

"Now," she said sweetly, "if you still think I need more music in this house I am ready to listen to you."

But he had gone before she had finished.

On What Happiness Depends.

A little thought will show you how vastly your own happiness depends on the way other people bear themselves toward you. The looks and tones at your breakfast table, the conduct of your fellow workers or employers, the faithful or unreliable men you deal with, what people say to you on the street, the way your cook and house-maid do their work, the letters you get, the friends or foes you meet—these things make up very much of the pleasure or misery of your day. Turn the idea around and remember that just so much are you adding to the pleasure or misery of other people's days. And this is the half of the matter which you can control. Whether any particular day shall bring to you more of happiness or of suffering is largely beyond your power to determine. Whether each day of your life shall give happiness or suffering rests with yourself.—George S. Merriam.

The Beautiful Lyre Bird.

The largest and handsomest of all the song birds is the lyre bird. Its home is in Australia, where its song is heard morning and evening. It is heard oftener in winter than in summer. The chief beauty of the lyre bird is in the plumage of its tail, which is elegant and in the form of an ancient lyre. While singing the lyre bird spreads its tail over its head like a peacock and droops its wings to the ground. This bird is not only a fine songster, but can imitate the songs of all birds. One living near a wood sawyer's hut even imitated the sound of the filing of saws. The crowing of cocks, the cackling of hens, the barking of dogs and the meowing of cats are within its range. Its own song is also different from that of other birds, being a louder and fuller tone.

Causes of Cancer.

"Constant irritation," says a cancer hospital physician, "is one of the principal causes of cancer, and if a person has a wart or lump on his skin which is constantly scratched, it is likely to be converted into a cancer if there is a tear which is not attended to and causes irritation, it may give rise to a cancerous growth. The sharp edge of a tooth or an injury to the internal organs may also give rise to cancerous tissues."

The doctor emphasized the remarkable vitality of cancer tissue and its power of growth. He said he had in his laboratory a mouse on which are growing cancer cells that were alive in another mouse thirteen years ago.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The English Yeoman.

"Yeoman" is a good old English word, the meaning of which should be carefully cherished. Any country laborer or farmer is not a yeoman. A yeoman is a man who cultivates his own freehold, who farms his own land. He is no man's servant and may hold his head as high as the squire. There are still yeomen of ancient blood in England who would snuff at the offer of a title. One of the finest men I ever knew was a Dorset yeoman, and his ancestors had farmed the same land for three centuries.—London Globe.

The Boy and the Bee.

Bee Master (to pupil) who has just brushed off bee which stung him—Ah, you shouldn't do that! The bee will die now. You should have helped her to extract her sting, which is spirally barbed, by gently turning her round and round. Pupil—All very well for you, but how do I know which way she unscrews?—London Punch.

Music Without Sound.

The fundamental evil in music is the necessity of reproduction of its artistic creations by performance. Were it as easy to learn to read music as words the sonatas of Beethoven would have the popularity of the poems of Schiller.—F. Hiller.

WILL A CONGRESSMAN MAKE A GOVERNOR?

Friends of Thomas J. Scully Think the Answer Is "Yes," and Because He Is a Seton Hall Alumnus Essex County Is Interested to Hear It.

(From The Newark Sunday Call.)

With the Hudson County factions in the Democratic party still wider apart than before, the commission government election in Jersey City and the question of the selection of a winning candidate very much in the air, there is a growing belief in some circles that it may yet be expedient to take up a new man as a "dark horse" before the primaries shall be held in September.

Naturally, in determining the right sort of a man for the gubernatorial nomination there are many things that must be taken into consideration. The leaders of the several factions in the Democratic party admit that the man to be named should be one who will receive the majority of votes; he should be a good campaigner; a man who has the requisite ability for the position of Governor, and a man who has not been beaten at the polls. In considering this question of availability it is apparent that there are not so many candidates that may be considered as filling all of the requirements of the existing situation. However, friends of Thomas J. Scully, twice elected to Congress, defeating a stalwart Republican the first time, a man who is a good campaigner, say he is as strong a man as any available, and they believe he is not closely enough affiliated with any one faction to be objectionable to the other. If it shall come to pass that the men already mentioned for the gubernatorial nomination shall be forced to step aside it is believed that Representative Scully will be ready to head the ticket and to make the best fight he is capable of making, and judging by the two campaigns he has already been through it would be the hardest kind of a fight to win.

Ambitions to Be a Congressman.

When Thomas J. Scully threw his hat in the ring three years ago and said he was going to run for Congress, he was almost ridiculed for his presumption by some of the "war horses" of the Democratic party. Benjamin F. Howell, the Republican Congressman and candidate for re-election, had served eight successive terms, was credited with having many Democratic friends, and was looked upon as practically invincible. Nothing daunted, however, Mr. Scully made an active canvass through the district, got the delegates, then the nomination.

HON. T. J. SCULLY

and when the result was announced the day after election in November, 1910, it was found that he had received one of the largest majorities a Congressman had ever had in the Third Congressional District. He had clearly demonstrated his political foresight and sagacity, and had shown what he could do as a campaigner. A year ago it was almost a walkover when he defeated Benjamin F. S. Brown, of Matawan.

Born at South Amboy, Middlesex County, September 19, 1868, Thomas J. Scully, whose father, John Scully, owned many boats, of all descriptions, and was at the head of a big towing business, early had a liking for everything in the boating line. He studied hard when a youngster at school, and when he had finished in the schools of South Amboy, his father, who realized the value of a college education, sent "Tom," as he was best known, to Seton Hall College, South Orange, from which institution he was graduated with honors.

When but a youngster in knickerbockers young "Tom" was greatly interested in baseball and he played after school on one of the vacant lots of South Amboy. He became a catcher of considerable skill and he was in great demand among the amateur teams of that town. He was also interested in football and played a good game. Even to this day he is an enthusiastic supporter of the national game, as much so as his friend, President Wilson, in fact, and while in Washington this season he has missed but few of the games on the home grounds of that city. Young Scully played on the Seton Hall College team and had an excellent standing in athletics.

Before he had completed his studies at college he carefully nursed an ambition to go to Congress, although he did not say much about it at that time. His father had plans for him to take an active interest in the business he had built up, and the young man was not adverse to doing so. That he had an eye for business is evident from a story that is told of a business transaction in which he demonstrated his shrewdness.

Young Scully's Good Bargain.

"Say, dad," said the young chap to the elder Scully one day before he was through with his term in college. "I bought a tug to-day."

"You what?" exclaimed the father. "Bought a tug," was the laconic reply.

"How much?" tersely asked the parent.

"Oh, only fifty thousand!" came back the answer.

Although surprised at the transaction, the elder Scully admired the enterprise of his son, stood by the bargain, and quickly utilized the tug in the business. It was not many months afterward that the young man said one day:

"Sold my tug, dad."

"How much did you lose?" was the quick query.

"Got eighty thousand for her," was the surprising reply, and after that the elder Scully never questioned the business ability of his son.

In less than six months after young Scully had cleared up thirty thousand dollars on the tug his father put him into the active management of the business, and the young man went into it with enthusiasm. From a local enterprise engaged in commerce between South Amboy and New York it rapidly developed into an extensive business, and now the boats owned by the Scully company are known in every harbor of the world and fully a regiment of men is on its pay-rolls. Mr. Scully knows every detail of the construction of the boats, many of which are built in South Amboy, and he can handle them as well as many of the captains in charge.

In 1908 South Amboy became a city. It had made but little headway for years and there seemed to be need of some one to take hold of the local government and infuse some progressiveness into the community. Young Scully always had a liking for politics and he was quietly holding out to his ambition to be a Congressman some day, and gaining experience in every way possible. He had served three years as a member of the Board of Education of South Amboy, was a candidate for the Assembly but ran at the wrong time, and was serving in the Board of Aldermen of South Amboy when Doctor Ambrose Trogenow, one of the best known citizens of the town, resigned as mayor.

Elected Mayor of South Amboy.

No one seemed to want to assume the position of mayor when Doctor Trogenow resigned. The Common Council finally elected Thomas Scully to the place. He took hold of the position with his usual enthusiasm and at once set to work to rouse the old town. He convinced the Common Council that the only way for the town to progress was for the governing body to become progressive and start improvements. It did not take long to get a bond issue for $100,000 for sewers through; then followed plans for a better water supply; finally a public dock was provided through his activity; the fire and police departments were reorganized and in less than a year the city was talking about the progressive young mayor.

Mayor Scully has something of the method of President Wilson. While he communicated with the Common Council by means of messages, he also attended the meetings of that body and talked to the members direct. He also conferred with the men on the different committees, and the councilmen soon realized that the Mayor was setting a lively pace that it was good judgment for them to follow; and follow it they did, until now South Amboy is rapidly getting out of the overgrown country village stage into the appearance of a full-fledged city.

After becoming well established in the towing business Mr. Scully married in 1894 Miss Mary F. Rattigan, of Mt. Holly, in this State. He lives at the foot of Augusta street, South Amboy, and his home life is ideal. Mrs. Scully has always been as much interested in the career of her husband as a wife could possibly be, and when he was Mayor she took an active interest in all of the charitable institutions of the city. The Congressman and Mrs. Scully have two children—Jack, aged 18 years, who has just been graduated from Lawrenceville and who will enter Princeton University next fall, and Frances, aged 4 years.

Familiar With State's Waterways.

It is generally known that Congressman Scully knows all about the waterways of New Jersey. There is not a harbor of any consequence into which his boats do not go at some time in the year, and he is thoroughly posted relative to the needs of the waterways in the vicinity of New York. When he was running for Congress the first time he gave out an interview showing that he had given the subject careful study, and his intimate knowledge of the needs of the commerce of the State was revealed.

In 1908 Mr. Scully was a Democratic presidential elector. He was also a delegate to the National convention of his party. He was steadily adding to his store of political knowledge. Then, when Woodrow Wilson became the Democratic candidate for Governor the young Mayor pledged his hearty support to Mr. Wilson. He was one of the first leaders in the Third Congressional District to force the election of Mr. Wilson and his possible political career. Confident that the leadership of Mr. Wilson would win the State over to the Democratic party, Mr. Scully declared his intention of seeking the Democratic nomination for Congress. It was his for the asking, as no one had any idea that a Democrat could defeat Benjamin F. Howell.

In his campaign for votes in the Third district Candidate Scully made one of the best canvasses ever known. He visited every city, town and hamlet in the three counties, and personally met more than 75 per cent. of the voters. There was, perhaps, not so much dissatisfaction with Mr. Howell, but the feeling of unrest was prevalent, and it looked as though the young man who long had ambitions to become a Congressman was about to have them realized.

His "Made Good" at Washington.

When Congressman Scully went to Washington he was not long in gaining recognition, even for a "yearling." His colleagues found that the quiet, self-contained young Representative from the Third district had a lot of energy bottled up, and his knowledge of waterways entitled him to more than passing consideration. He was finally selected to serve on the important Committee on Rivers and Harbors, where he has had a splendid field for his activities and knowledge along this particular line.

About two years ago an effort was made to consolidate some of the ports of entry in the country. This scheme it carried out would have done away with the ports at Newark and Perth Amboy. Congressman Scully made an active fight against the carrying out of the plan, and he has aided in this work by Representative Gardner, the former Congressman from the Second district. It is understood that once more the scheme will be considered by the Treasury Department, and Mr. Scully will again seek to have both Newark and Perth Amboy preserve their identity on the customs map rather than to become subordinated to New York.

As a member of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors Congressman Scully has had plans adopted that will ultimately mean the expenditure of close to a million dollars for the improvement of the channel of the Raritan river. That his efforts along these lines are appreciated is manifested by the adoption of resolutions by the Board of Trade of New Brunswick. There is no politics in this, since the president, William R. Reed, is a stalwart Republican, but a man who believes in according credit where it is deserved.

Congressman Scully has been a consistent supporter and admirer of President Wilson and his policies. He believes that he was the best Governor New Jersey ever had and that he is one of the best Presidents we have ever had. Mr. Scully enjoys the confidence of President Wilson, and is often called to the White House for conference. Thus his selection should it be found necessary to name a "dark horse" would be acceptable to the President is the belief of many of the warm friends of the Congressman, who think the trend of politics in the next two months will develop some surprises in the Democratic ranks.

HIS QUEER SENSE OF HUMOR.

It Found Relief In Practical Jokes Upon the Clergy.

Some thirty odd years ago a young man came to New York from England (I have forgotten his name, and for a year or so he posed as a very ardent churchman. He had a mania which seemed to be the making of trouble for other people, with no particular object except that and certainly with no advantage to himself, as he very naturally remained "inecog."

As illustrative, he would send out a hundred or more postal cards addressed to as many different plumbers in New York, asking them to call on a certain day, at a given hour, at the residence of the Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix, rector of Trinity church. Another time it would be an army of bakers, and so on. On one occasion he sent invitations to a dozen of the clergy to dine with Dr. Dix on a given date. Imagine the good doctor's consternation when his unexpected guests arrived!

One of his bits of "funny" work, in which he used the name of the late Bishop Jaggar, was as follows: Dr. Cornelius B. Swope was the vicar of Trinity chapel, in Twenty-fifth street, at the time, and Dr. Horatio Potter the bishop of New York. Dr. Dix had become so exasperated as hardly to know what to do, and one day he went to consult Dr. Swope and to ask his advice as to what could be done, taking with him one of the cards that he had received. On looking at it Dr. Swope said:

"I recognize that handwriting because I received a card some time ago in the same hand, which I have kept as a curiosity."

This was the card:

Cincinnati, Ohio.
Dear Cornelius—It is rumored out here that you would like to be a bishop. If this is true please let me know at once. I have great influence with Morg. Dix and will see old Potter about it, as he is a bishop.

If you would like to be a bishop
And with the bishops stand,
A miser on your forehead
And a crozier in your hand,
Please write me immediately. Faithfully yours,
THOMAS JAGGAR,
Bishop of Southern Ohio.

New York became rather too "hot" for our friend shortly after that, as the police got on his track, and he disappeared. He turned up later at his old tricks in Pittsburgh, I think, where he was exposed, and I don't remember what became of him.—Rev. Dr. W. W. Holley in Living Church.

He'll Get the Time Though.

"I suppose you're going to Dr. Mason's funeral, grandpa?"
"Oh," snarled the infirm old man, "don't talk to me about other people's funerals. It's as much as I shall be able to do to get to my own."—London Answers.

Odd Case.

"The man they ejected from the hall was burning with rage."
"Yes, and, strange to say, he was full of fire after they put him out."—Baltimore American.

New Thought Rare.
A new thought is a very rare thing, and it would be a magnificent creature to catch. The only things I can think of that one would really call "new thoughts" would be certain celebrated jokes, certain scientific discoveries and a few less frequent cases of a really original argument used in an old controversy.—G. K. Chesterton.

Never Become Widows.
Nepal has the earliest marriages in the world. There every girl is married in infancy. But, then, the bridegroom is not very terrible. She is married with elaborate ceremony to a bel fruit, which is then thrown into some sacred stream. The fate of the fruit being always unknown, every girl is thus spared the disgrace of becoming a widow, while at the same time a second husband is allowed her later on.

ODDS AND ENDS

Items of Interest Presented in Short Paragraphs for Busy Readers.

Go to Coney Island next Saturday and have a good time.

A large number of visitors were at Morgan Beach last Sunday.

P. J. Monaghan has taken his big excavating machine to Perth Amboy.

Work on street curbing and sidewalks does not seem to be very brisk this week.

A new time-table went into effect on the New York and Long Branch Railroad on Sunday last.

Pursenet fishermen have been plying the waters of Raritan Bay the past week in search of menhaden.

Mr. Horace Wilson will please accept our thanks for copy of the Monthly Bulletin of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

That big excavating machine would not have done a thing to Broadway pavement had it been allowed to proceed without placing plank tracks.

The Methodist Protestant Sunday School will go to Keansburg on July 8, and the Presbyterian on July 9. Friends will be welcome to go along.

Mr. Joseph Applegate has a most beautiful assortment of sweet peas growing in his yard on Main street, and his friends have been favored with handsome bunches.

Wyckoff & Rue have purchased a fine new motor truck. The machine arrived on Tuesday and should prove to be of much use to its owners in delivering orders.

Next Sunday the session of the Baptist Sunday School will be held at 9.30 a. m., instead of 2.30 p. m. This is made as a test, to learn if the members prefer morning sessions during the hot weather.

J. Alfred Johnson has displayed in his store window a copy of George's Washington's account with the United States, which is interesting many passers by. Look in and read some of the items.

The grading of Portia street from Pine avenue to Feltus street has greatly improved the appearance of that section of the city. This location gives promise of being the best residential part of the city, and already many nice dwellings have been erected.

St. Mary's lawn festival will take place this year on the rectory lawn on July 16th, 17th and 18th. The usual festival attractions will be arranged, a large dancing platform will be erected, and preparations are being made to surpass all former festivals in its success.

The members of the graduating class of the local High School went to Perth Amboy on Saturday last and had a large class photograph taken at Hilker's studio. The members of the class were attired in their caps and gowns, which they wore at their commencement exercises.

Real estate seems to be on the move in this city. This week real estate agent, C. S. Buckelew sold 3 lots on Highland street, and a plot 50x200 feet on Portia street. He reports that much inquiry is being made in regard to real estate, and that he expects several properties to change hands soon.

J. Miller, who about seven years ago moved to Perth Amboy from this city, and established himself in the furniture business, shows evidence of prosperity by purchasing a fine auto truck for delivering purposes. It attracted considerable attention as it passed through this city Thursday.

PRESBYTERIAN ITEMS.

The annual Sunday School Picnic will be held on Wednesday, July 9, at Keansburg. Car will leave Stevens avenue and Main street at 8.15 a. m. Everyone had a delightful time last year, and we are looking forward to another rich time this year. Sunday School children all go free. We invite our friends to come and go with us for a pleasant day.

The third annual Junior C. E. entertainment will be given on Tuesday evening, July 15th.

More Likely.

COLLINS & GUNDRUM
AWARDED CONTRACT

At a meeting of the Board of Freeholders held at the County Record Building, New Brunswick, on Monday, the contract for the erection of a concrete retaining wall at Chesequake on the South Amboy-Matawan road was awarded to Collins & Gundrum of this city, their bid being $355. The other bidders were Anton Sorenson, $483; Abraham Jelin, $524; John Quinlin, $380, and W. G. Quackenboss, $491.

A communication was received from the Painters' Union, of Perth Amboy, stating that it had been brought to their attention that the county bridge is to be painted. The union asks that union labor be employed. None of the members of the board knew anything about the work. The communication was referred to Freeholder Kerr.

Another communication was received from John Mobush calling the board's attention to two bridges on the dividing line of Middlesex and Somerset counties. He urged that the matter be given immediate attention. The communication was referred to Freeholder Gebhardt.

The Jamesburg Water Company was given permission to extend its mains along the road near that place.

The New York Telephone Company was also given permission to erect poles in Woodbridge Township according to the map filed with the board.

The county engineer was instructed to prepare plans for improvements to be made to Ferry street, South River, from Main to Jackson street.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for the erection of a concrete bridge over Noah's Creek.

The plans for the improvements to the Roosevelt-Woodbridge road were approved.

The county building committee was authorized to advertise for the usual supply of coal to be delivered to the county jail, court house and record building.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

A birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Thomsen on Tuesday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, in honor of the birthday of their children, Margaret, being one year old, and Johannes, 6 years. Many little folk were present and all had a glorious time. About 4 o'clock refreshments were served. Both Margaret and Johannes received many nice presents. Among those present were Eveline McDowell, Anna Jacobs, Anetta Axen, Mabel Slover, Norman Johnson, Margaret Johnson, Clara Axen, Lola Buckelew, Laura Kvist, Edith Kvist, Alvin Thorpe, Edwin Aken, Calvin Thorpe, Charles Johnson, Andrew Johnson, William Johnson, Theodore Mickleson, Carl Mickleson, John Kvist, Emily Peterson, Sophus Munck, Thomas Kvist and Donald Dahlgreen.

HEARING IN SCHOOL SUPERVISORSHIP THURSDAY

The appeal case of Prof. R. M. Fitch vs. The Board of Education was held in the High School, Perth Amboy, on Thursday before State School Commissioner Betz. The principal witnesses in the morning were Dr. Haines and A. L. Grace. A recess was then taken and the hearing continued in the afternoon.

Read Story of Her Death.

When a blacksmith, named Lyon, declared that the body of a drowned woman, recently exhumed at Crell, France, was that of his wife, Juliette, who deserted him two years ago, a death certificate was made out in her name. Juliette, however, was very much alive, and, after reading the story in the Petit Parisien, she wrote an indignant letter to the authorities, demanding to be "officially resuscitated."

Why They Fail.

It takes some people so long to be sure they are right that they never get time to go ahead.

His Patience Exhausted.

A yeomanry squad was drilling, and, being out of practice, most of them were suffering from bruises caused by the unsteadiness of one another's movements. "I believe you have cut my head open," shouted a recruit to a nervous comrade, who had given him a serious knock. "Well," said the distracted sergeant-at-charge, "now is a good time to put something in it!"

Unightly Face Spots.

Are cured by Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment, which heals all skin eruptions. No matter how long you have been troubled by itching, burning or scaly skin humors, just put a little of that soothing antiseptic, Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment, on the sores and the suffering stops instantly. Healing begins that very minute. Doctors use it in their practice and recommend it. Mr. Allenman, of Little-town, Pa., says: "Had eczema on forehead; Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment cured it in two weeks." Guaranteed to relieve or money refunded. All druggists, or by mail. Price 50c. Pfeiffer Chemical Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.

BIG REDUCTIONS IN TOLL CHARGE

Telephone subscribers in South Amboy received with their July first bills notices calling attention to the new schedule of toll rates that the company has put into effect throughout its territory and the new method of charging overtime on toll calls that is established.

Considering its territory as a whole, the New York Telephone Company estimated that the reductions in its tolls charges will amount to a saving for those who use the toll service of over one million dollars a year, based on the present volume of traffic.

On the 6th of June, the New York Telephone Company announced that a general revision of its toll rates that would mean a saving to toll users of over $650,000 a year would go into effect July 1st. This revision was made for the purpose of making toll rates uniform for uniform distances throughout the Company's territory. The new rates based on air-line distances between toll points eliminates the discriminations and inequalities in toll charges that had grown up under the carrying schedules heretofore in effect.

On July 13th the Public Service Commission ordered certain reductions in telephone rates for messages between the five boroughs of New York City. The company estimated that these reductions will effect an annual saving to telephone toll users in New York City of $350,000.

Since the order of the Commission, the telephone company has voluntarily made further reductions in its toll charges from several points in Westchester County to Lower Manhattan. It is estimated that these last reductions will mean a saving to telephone toll users of $75,000 annually.

Coincident with this revised schedule of toll rates, the new method for charging overtime on toll calls is established. Heretofore each period or fraction thereof, beyond the initial charge period, has been considered as another call. Under the new method, however, over-time charges are graded according to the number of minutes beyond the initial charge period.

The revision of these telephone toll schedules and the introduction of the new method for charging overtime on toll calls will serve to bring South Amboy and the several towns and cities in this section into even closer relationship with each other and with New York City. The more convenient and accessible telephone service is, the more it tends to bring the several communities into one big neighborhood.

SATURDAY, JULY 5, 1913.

Thousands of automobiles pass through this city every Sunday, and as a rule the occupants are orderly, but frequently there are machines whose occupants have no respect for the day, and disturb the quiet with their boisterous language, insulting innuendoes, and blasting of horns. The police should call the latter to order, and if they then become insolent take them before the Police Justice, who would make them learn that this town must be respected and that the people in it are not barbarians.

The delays of the contractors in building county bridges have given the Board of Freeholders no little concern and annoyance. Both the Woodbridge and Cheesequake creek bridges have been time usurpers, creating much public complaint. Owing to the fact that travel has to be taken care of there may be some excuse for delay on the Woodbridge creek bridge.

On the other hand, there is no valid reason whatever for the delay on the Cheesequake creek bridge. The temporary bridge has taken care of the travel, and the contractors have not had any obstructions to delay them, but clear sailing all through and they cannot present any excuse for the delay.

Patience has ceased to be a virtue with the Board and they purpose taking drastic action against the contractors. In this they will be supported by the public. This bridge could have been finished six months ago, if the contractors had pushed the work.

"Commonsense" has sent us a communication this week, and requests that it be published. At the top of the editorial column of the Citizen is the following: "All communications or items of news received by us must be accompanied by the signature of the writer to insure publication." From this rule we do not depart, therefore if "Commonsense" will favor us with his name, his article will receive attention.

Half a century ago a medical student lodging in London so ingratiated himself in the eyes of his landlady that on his departure for Hobart to practice she asked him to accept a souvenir of his London home, and he took a picture which had been in his sitting room. This picture remained in his house for upward of forty years without attracting any particular notice, but then its hour struck, for a visitor detected merit in it and advised the owner to forward a description of it to London. He did so, and the picture, which turned out to be a Romney, fetched 3,500 guineas. The best of the story is that the Tasmanian editor who printed an account of the matter gave the price as 350 guineas, saying that he did so because he did not believe that any picture could be worth the larger sum.—London Sphere.

Crime and Penalty.

When Mrs. Wiffles recently meted out punishment to Master George Wiffles with a carpet beater that young gentleman gave vent to such weeping and wailing that the lady next door was constrained to perk her head over the back yard fence and inquire what was the matter.

"Got about a couple o' undred feet o' gas inside him, that's wot's the matter," Mrs. Wiffles replied.

"Couple o' undred feet o' gas?" echoed the lady somewhat incredulously. "Wot on earth's 'e been doin', takin' the gas pipe for a feedin' bottle?"

"No, 'e ain't!" snapped Mrs. Wiffles. "It's been swallerin' the shillin' wot I laid by for the gas meter."—London Tit-Bits.

Alpine Egg Dance.

A curious eastern custom has been observed for many centuries in the western Alps. One hundred eggs are distributed over a level space covered with sand and the young men and women perform a dance around them. If a couple are fortunate enough to finish the dance without breaking an egg it is taken as a token of the compatibility of their temperaments and they are betrothed.

Breaking It Gently.

Maid—Thieves got into a house in this street last night and stole all the silver. Mistress—What stupid people to leave things unlocked! Whose house was it? Maid—It was No. 7. Mistress—Why, that is our house! Maid—Yes, ma'am, but I did not want to light: you—Judge.

The actor who is a frost cuts no ice.

LIFE, THE IDEAL AND THE ACTUAL.

those girls but is becoming a source of anxiety to his father and mother. Joe is another boy who shows great signs of improvement. Four years ago Joe was the cause of great trouble to his teachers, especially Mr. Staley, who once threatened to throw him out of the window. The effects of four years hard work produced great results. Tonight he sits before you clad in cap and gown which proves that labor and excessive study pays in the end in the attaining of these honors.

When Gladys Johnson first entered High School she had a bad habit of getting up at nine o'clock, arriving at school at 9.30 and attributing her tardiness to a music lesson. Later she has been able to get to school on time, although she probably misses her breakfast in her hurry.

Myrtle Spangenberg, our Physical Culture maid, takes no pity on the male species. Any poor unfortunate boy who happened to sit near her was greeted each morning with several rounds of pinches, and punches. Miss O'Connor would sometimes appear to the poor unfortunate's rescue and Myrtle would have to give up violent exercise until after 3.30.

Elsie McDowell, in the Freshman year, was notably green and gay. In recent years, however, she has assumed a royal and queenly attitude which is probably because she is in the good graces of a well known King.

Charlotte and Edith were once not especially studious, but recently have brought a lone ray of sunshine into Miss Miller's blighted life by having their shorthand lessons prepared daily.

Mildred Deats, who plays classics and ragtime for the benefit of the High School, decided to drop school in the Junior year. She became homesick for her Biology, however, and reentered this year, finishing two years' work in a remarkable manner and therefore being able to graduate with her class.

Gladys Walters is 1913's most ardent man-hater, although the boys will persist in "hanging around." In spite of this fault she has made herself real useful several times when her giggles served to cheer up the class in the most trying moments of a History lesson.

Ellen, the basketball star, is very sedate in school, and like Gladys Walters, doesn't care especially for the boys, although she CAN tolerate them. Even though she was the heroine of several thrilling basketball games, still she was never noted for being especially prompt. During rehearsals for the play she arrived at each a half hour late usually advancing a good reason. The majority of times her excuse was that she had been preparing her lessons for the following day.

Florence Thompson is the class's "Candy Kid." Without fail she came to school each day with a full supply of candy. Over two-thirds of the times that she failed to answer Miss Buchanan's History questions was because she had three chocolate creams and a bonbon stuffed into her mouth. Her favorites, however, were kisses—peanut butter kisses—of which she carried a generous quantity. Florence's sweet tooth is probably the attractive power which makes the boys like her, "as the flies about the sugar bowl doth hover." Besides being noted for her sweetness, Florence holds the distinct honor of setting the styles for the High School girls for the past four years.

Elizabeth is the class pet and pessimist. She is continually worrying about something. She worried near time for receiving report cards when she knew that she would receive high marks. And when she received high marks she worried because they were not higher. She probably followed Joe's example in this respect for he always became very downhearted when he received a "B" in department and knew that he was deserving of an "A."

Dorothy usually had a cheerful smile for everyone, which goes to show that being studious doesn't necessarily ruin a disposition. Dorothy never failed to have her Latin and German lessons prepared correctly, which fact greatly endeared her to the hearts of many others not so studious, especially the boys.

The class usually took a cheerful view of everything and was noted for being especially bright. One day Miss Buchanan propounded the old adage: "Empty wagons make the most noise." The next day Mildred Deats appeared at school wearing rubber heels.

Many other incidents have occurred in the school life of this illustrious class which will be remembered with grateful hearts by Prof. Fitch and the members of the faculty, for this group of students have prided themselves for their thoughtfulness.

The ties that bind us together as the Class of 1913 must now be severed. Before us lies the business of life, the field where success can be won only by ambition, perseverance and honest toil. The four years of High School life are now but a history of school hours wisely or idly spent, but we set forth into the future with courageous hearts bound together by our motto, "Ascende atque sinit aspera." Climb though the rocks be rugged.

May the gods favor the Class of 1913 and lead them victoriously over the pathway of life to the goals of their ambition.

Oh Class of '13, may our lives uphold The colors gay which bind our hearts akin

The royal crimson and the kindly gold Throughout the struggle that we're bound to win.

The red carnation do we love the best, The flower that tells of sunshine and of cheer.

Fairer it seems to us than all the rest, That nature to our youthful hearts endears.

The rocks may be rugged by which we shall climb

And high the mount to which our lives aspire,

But still undaunted shall we struggle 'Till the time,

Success shall crown us with our heart's desire.

The path that leads the worthy to the skies,

Where Success, her golden crown has hung,
Is traveled but by those who sought the prize.
Who fought against the odds—and won.

And those who traveled with a down-cast heart,
Who cannot stand the long and weary fight,
Are left to watch more worthy fellows men
Climb slowly to the sought-for height.

A classmate dear, we've left along the way,
Whose happy smile once did our gloom dispel,
A fair flower she, and once as bright and gay

As the red carnation which she loved so well.

Fourteen now are we, and classmates ever,

Our colors we've sworn to uphold,
And though school ties may sever, our friendship can never,

The class of the Crimson and Gold.

The Importance of Natural Science in The High School.

During the past thirty years the study of natural science has become more and more prominent in secondary education. Naturally the questions arise in one's mind, why is natural science thus emphasized? Of what importance is it to mankind in general? I will endeavor to make clear to you the answers to these questions.

Science is not a haphazard display of learning. It is not mere facts, but it is the knowledge of causes and as such stimulates the mind to greater activity and forms right habits of thinking. A scientific habit of thought is valuable in every walk of life. Without this habit of thought a man works more like a machine, with it, his soul is kept alive amidst his toil, for without a scientific education, a man is a total stranger in the world in which he lives, for it reveals to him the wonderful works of God found in nature and he cannot help but be impressed with the perfection of workmanship, radiant beauty, grandeur and wisdom revealed.

But the questions may be raised, is this study practical? Does it fit the pupil for life in its broadest sense, for, aside from the actual knowledge gained, it causes many important habits to be formed, which will react on the character. One of the most valuable of these habits is the training in observation. Because of the employment of the laboratory method in connection with the study of science the pupil is taught to observe closely all details of the experiments performed and deduce conclusions based on their own observation. In this way they are not only taught the habit of observing closely, but are also taught the habits of accuracy and the value of clear unbiased judgment, habits which will always be of great value in life.

And the knowledge gained by the pupil is a knowledge of the laws of the universe, a revelation of the laws of God, which cannot help but stimulate him to renewed effort, raise his ideals and urge him on toward a higher goal of existence.

The value of biology in education, for instance, cannot be over-estimated because a general course in biology is a general course in life, for it includes the study of both plant and animal forms and it is obviously important for everyone to know something of the fundamental laws governing life in general, and in particular, the life he himself has to live.

Another subject of vital importance in the scientific department is that of Physics, for the knowledge which one gains by experimenting in the physical laboratory is a knowledge which will be of practical value throughout life, because it deals with the strength of beauty and usefulness found in common things, while the knowledge gained in the chemical laboratory may be applied to the everyday problems of domestic life and by it the pupil will be better equipped for sane and sanitary living.

Since the end of education is the formation of character and a preparation for the life we have been allotted to live on this earth, a knowledge of nature's laws will better equip us to live aright and will bring us to a better appreciation of the vastness of the knowledge of the Creator. Thus we will be better fitted to live our own lives and help others on toward the road to success. Aside from the knowledge learned in these sciences, aside from any or all the book knowledge which we have absorbed during our High School life, there has been instilled into our minds many lessons of right habits of helpfulness, of high ideals, which will always go with us through life, and tonight as we meet for the last time as a class, our hearts cling with fondest recollections around the many years of school life during which we have been associated in aims, in pleasures, in misfortunes, we have climbed on and on until tonight we reach the summit toward which we have been aiming.

But mingled with the elation which we naturally feel when we think of our success, there is a feeling of sadness, a longing for the dear, departed days which is too deep for expression.

To the Board of Education, our parents, supervisor and teachers, we desire to express our appreciation and gratitude for the advantages offered, the help and encouragement given all through our school life, and classmates, tonight as we meet together for the last time as the class of 1913, let us resolve to do everything in our power to prove ourselves worthy of the many sacrifices which have been made for us, let us commemorate this parting by a pledge of loyalty to the many lessons which we have learned together and in the future, if under the stress of some experience, we are tempted to do wrong, let us look back to this resolve of our last farewell.

Changes in Telephone Toll Rates

THE New York Telephone Company announces a new schedule of Telephone Toll Rates effective July 1st, 1913.

These new rates bring Telephone Toll Service even more generally within the reach of everyone.

On the same date will also become effective a new method of charging for overtime on toll calls. Heretofore each period or fraction thereof beyond the initial charge-period has been considered as another call.

Under the new method overtime charges will be graded according to the number of minutes beyond the initial charge-period.

For Rates Consult Your Telephone Directory or inquire of the "Information" Operator.

An Advertisement Is a Challenge

By HOLLAND.

THE man who advertises is fearless. He courts the light. He dares all and sundry to put him to the test. "This is what I offer," he says in effect. "Can you beat it? Can you do better elsewhere? Make comparisons and then do business with me only if you find it is to your advantage."

There is nothing hidden about the advertiser. He stands up for himself, for his goods, for his reputation, for his town. He wants everybody to know him, to know his methods of business and his manner of treating customers.

This makes it safe to do business with him. Having spent much money making his name known, he cannot afford to have it tarnished, and he will go much more than halfway in an effort to correct a misunderstanding that is not of his making. He wants to tell more than the bare truth, to do more than what is really square.

DEAL WITH ADVERTISERS FOR A SQUARE DEAL.

A Letter For Schiller.

Schiller once received a letter which took five years to reach him. In 1793 the national convention created the author of "The Robbers" a French citizen as a tribute of admiration for the revolutionary ideas expressed in that work. The clerk charged with the dispatch of this civic diploma addressed the cover to "Citoyen Gille," and Schiller did not receive it until 1798. On its receipt he wrote: "This document has come to me from the kingdom of the dead. Danton and Chiviere attested it. The covering letter is signed by Roland. All three have passed away."—London Chronicle.

Defining the Oyster.

"Now," asked the teacher, "who can tell me what an oyster is?" Silence for a moment, while small brows were knit in strained effort at remembrance. Then little Tommy's facial muscles relaxed, and eagerly he raised his hand. "I know!" he triumphantly announced. "An oyster is a fish built like a nut."—Everybody's.

Jacket Still Holds Supremacy Among Fireworks

THE skyrocket, with its possibilities of flight, color and varied display, still holds its position of primacy as the most beautiful of all fireworks. The firing composition extends around a hollow, conical bore for three-quarters of its length. When fired the bore fills with heated gas, which, forcing its way down through the narrow central orifice, urges the rocket up through the air. Above the firing composition is a plaster of paris plug, through which a fuse communicates with the head, which contains the stars, sparks, serpents, crackers or gold and silver rain to be scattered by bursting fire as soon as the rocket has reached its highest point.

These beautiful effects, which experts call the "garbure," are largely trade secrets, always kept inviolate by the firms possessing them. In successful experiments with garniture for rockets and shells the pyrotechnist finds his richest rewards, while failures are often attended by unforeseen destruction of property or life.

Some of the later devices in rockets surpassing beauty in grace of brilliancy of fire and variety. The new "golden cloud" or example, presents to the eye the highest point of its fiery surge and gorgeous cloud mass, brilliantly for some moments oppressing streams of fire rain far below. How such an expansive and continued display can follow upon the flight of so small a projectile is a secret save to a few of the higher guild of pyrotechnists. The larger rockets of this type—they cost $8 each—fairly fill the upper air with fire of dazzling brilliancy.

Even more impressive and wonderful is the "mammoth balloon rocket," which makes the largest aerial display yet achieved by pyrotechnic skill. At a height of 600 feet this rocket releases simultaneously seven balloons with variegated signal stars attached. These float in the air for some time, burning with changing colors of intense brilliancy. With these the patriotic citizen can burn up his money quickly. They are sold for $12 each.

Another high novelty is the "diamond" rocket, which rises to a great height and then projects a series of with diamond shaped change swiftly in color and finally distance and a shower of golden rain.

COLONEL MARTIN'S BANQUET.

First One to Commemorate the Fourth of July.

The first banquet to commemorate the Declaration of Independence took place at Colonel Martin's hostelry in Boston on July 4, 1780. The following was the toast list:

- First—"The grand congress of the United States."
- Second—"General Washington and the American army."
- Third—"His most Christian majesty the king of France."
- Fourth—"His most Catholic majesty the king of Spain."
- Fifth—"The strength and unity of the triple alliance."
- Sixth—"The Council of the Massachusetts state."
- Seventh—"The new levies for the war in 1780."
- Eighth—"General Lincoln and the officers and soldiers in captivity."
- Ninth—"The Marquis Lafayette."
- Tenth—"May the officers of the Boston regiment be spirited; may they be supported in making the regiment of the town respectable."
- Eleventh—"To the memory of General Montgomery and all the officers and soldiers who have fallen in the glorious cause of liberty."
- Twelfth—"May Americans never forget that virtue, valor and science (wisdom) are the bulwarks of their high beneficence."
- Thirteenth—"May the anniversary American Independence be celebrated till time shall be no more."

Old Drydock Destroyed by Fire.

An old drydock 600 feet long was burned early Sunday morning at the marine graveyard of the Gregory Wrecking Company, Perth Amboy. It escaped in the alleged incendiary fire of several days ago, the ruins of which are still smoking. The drydock had been moored about 300 feet from the rest of the fleet. The fire department was helpless. No stream could reach the drydock. No estimate of the loss can be made. It was planned to take the dock to the south shore of the bay, submerge it and burn off the superstructure, so as to use the hull for bulkheading purposes. The hull may yet be found available.

Footpads Get Jewelry and Eggs.

The Bayonne police asked the aid of the New York police in running down two highwaymen who followed Adolph E. Naumann, of 23 East Thirty-first street, Bayonne, from New York, and when he was near his house knocked him unconscious and robbed him of two diamond rings and a watch and chain valued at $500. A suitcase in which Naumann was taking home five dozen fresh eggs, was found, but the highwaymen took the eggs.

Marconi Inspects New Wireless Station

Marconi, the wireless expert, visited Belmar Sunday to inspect the new wireless station there. He expressed his satisfaction with the work as far as it is completed. The foundations for the huge receiving poles have been completed. After the poles are in place they will take messages, it is claimed, from a 3,000 mile radius. Before visiting Belmar Mr. Marconi inspected the wireless works at New Brunswick. It was his first visit to the New Brunswick works, as well as those at Belmar.

Grove's First Sunday Concert.

The first Sunday concert in the Auditorium at Ocean Grove in thirty years, or since that place was chartered as a Methodist campmeeting ground, was given Sunday night by the Rhonda Valley Welsh Choir. It is predicted in some quarters in the Grove that the breaking of the custom of having nothing but strictly religious service in the big building on Sunday will bring down criticism upon the association management from a certain element among the members of the denomination. In regard to this, the director of music at the Auditorium, Talis Esen Morgan, says the concert cannot be construed as a non-religious service, as the singers rendered religious selections only. Besides, he adds, the regular devotional services were held.

Fire in Auto Wreck Escape Serious Injury.

Five persons, three of them little girls, narrowly escaped possible death or serious injury in an automobile accident between Perth Amboy and Metuchen Monday. The auto became unmanageable, plunged down an embankment and upset. One of the girls was thrown clear of the machine, but the others, with the two men, were buried under the wrecked auto. Nathaniel Robinson, forty-five, a hotel keeper at Kearsbey, owned the car and was driving. He had his three daughters, Lillian, eleven; Flora, eight; and Ruth, six, and a friend, Joseph Pushar, in the machine with him at the time of the accident. Robinson was badly cut by the glass windshield, but the others escaped with bruises.

Orders Motorist Arrested.

Assistant Prosecutor Joseph E. Stricker has ordered the arrest of Frank P. Galen, of Philadelphia, whose automobile fatally injured Richard Maguinness while in Smith street, Perth Amboy, Sunday night. Maguinness died nine hours after the accident. At the time of the accident Galen was paroled in custody of James S. Wight, his counsel, as it was not thought Maguinness was seriously hurt. Maguinness was forty-three years old. His father, Richard Maguinness, two brothers and a sister survive him.

One-Piece Bathing Suit Barred.

Through the efforts of the women of the Citizens' League of Kearsbey, a ban has been placed on the one-piece bathing suit, used by some of the men bathers at the New Point Comfort Beach bathing grounds. The life guards along the shore have been instructed by the owners of the property to promptly eject any person in the objectionable costume. At the meeting of the Board of Trade Monday night the subject was discussed and the action of the land owners was endorsed by that body. It was also decided to have police protection during the summer and a committee was appointed to act in this matter.

Returning to New Jersey he engaged in business at Perth Amboy, and for a time earned a livelihood by following the water. His widow survives him.

Red Flags Warn Drivers.

Red flags have been placed on the trolley poles at the various crossings along the lines of the Jersey Central Traction Company over the Orchard Hill road at the Highlands, to warn automobile and wagon drivers of the danger of speeding along this road. She Caught It.

Sarah, the new maid, was unused to city ways. One day soon after her arrival her mistress noticed a pull hanging from the gas bracket in the hall. Suspecting the country girl, she called Sarah and asked what it all meant. "Well, you see, ma'am," replied Sarah, "the master said the gas was leaking, so I put up the pull to catch it."

His Secret.

The secret of a certain great man's power, it is said, was that if he gave any one his time at all he gave him for the moment the whole of it—all his attention, interest and best thought while the interview lasted. It is that sort of giving of one's whole self to the matter in hand that constitutes power. The divided mind lacks force, the straying thought weakens all mental processes. NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES ARE BEING DISTRIBUTED

The New York Telephone Company has begun the task of delivering the June issue of Telephone Directories to telephone subscribers in South Amboy. Each subscriber will receive two books—the regular New York Telephone Directory containing the listings of all subscribers in the five boroughs of Greater New York, and the New Jersey Division Telephone Directory containing the listings of all subscribers in New Jersey connected to the New York Telephone Company's system, 750,000 New York City telephone directories, and it is planned to push the work of delivering these directories to completion as rapidly as possible.

The new telephone toll rates becoming effective July 1st, are shown in the new New Jersey Division Telephone directory.

The new New Jersey Division telephone directory is similar in form and makeup to the February New Jersey directory. It has been found that this directory, taking the place in New Jersey of the small local books and the General Suburban Telephone directory issued once a year, gives more complete information and meets the needs of telephone subscribers in New Jersey better than the old method of furnishing telephone directories to New Jersey subscribers did.

Throughout New Jersey the need for convenient transportation and inter-communication facilities is rapidly extending to cover a wider circle, and the use of the telephone is not confined to separate localities and communities to as great an extent as formerly. To meet this increased need for a more complete directory and at the same time to provide a directory that would be convenient, legible, and containing up-to-date listing information, the plan was inaugurated in February of providing a telephone directory containing the listings of all New Jersey subscribers. This plan has met with general approval, and its many advantages to subscribers have seemed to justify its continuance.

The New Jersey Division Telephone Directory is issued three times a year. This assures the most accurate and up-to-date telephone information possible. It improves the service rendered the public by reducing the number of wrong connections, calls made in error, delays arising through connection with special operators and calls for "information." The wider scope of the combined book is of a special advantage to business subscribers in that it broadens the field for incoming calls. It is smaller and lighter than the General Suburban book and is a little larger than some of the local books. From the standpoint of ease in handling, therefore, it is much more satisfactory for general reference, and because of the grouping of listings under local designations it is just as satisfactory for local reference.

The New Jersey Division Telephone Directory contains 404 pages, and about 110,000 names set in a type especially designed for the telephone directory after a careful study and consideration of type faces. It is a condensed form of type the same height as that used in the New York City book. In its condensed form, however, it permits the grouping of 30 per cent more listings on a page than is possible with a more extended type. This, of course, reduces the size of the book and the number of pages the subscriber has to turn to find the right number.

The New York City Telephone Directory, which is being delivered at the same time is a book of 864 pages containing over 300,000 names, and will be especially valuable to all subscribers who may have occasion to call telephone subscribers in Greater New York.

CLOSED ALL DAY JULY FOURTH AND FIFTH

IT has started—the July Furniture Sale at Hahne & Co.'s, Newark, N. J.—America's Greatest Furniture Store—and the selling has shown great public appreciation.

This is the occasion for a general reduction in prices thruout the vast stocks of furniture and housekeeping goods which crowd this gigantic establishment. $350,000 worth of furniture will be sold for in the neighborhood of $250,000—reductions running all the way from 10 to 50 per cent.

This vast saving to the people is a matter of no small consequence when the present high cost of living is considered. It is an event noted on the calendars of the most thrifty folk in New Jersey, who take advantage of these semi-annual sales to provide their homes with furniture.

The fact that this furniture and the other housekeeping goods can be bought on Hahne & Co.'s easy-payment Club Plan makes the opportunity all the more readily acceptable by the great masses of the people.

Surety Coupons will be, of course, given with all purchases of these goods, even tho' they are sold at lower prices.

The Sale will continue thruout month of July.
