God's Gifts? or Man's Destructions?

Do you enjoy the spicy salt air, that blows in off the bay on those hot stagnant days? We do.
Do you like the smell of the air and the lonesome cry of the gulls just before a storm strikes? We do.
Do you like to look at the clear blue skies and the snowy white clouds that drift on by? We do.
Do you enjoy the sweet spring air with all the pungent odors of flowers in bloom? We do.
Do you savor the smells of the air in autumn, that are of dry leaves with just the hint of smokey flavorings? We do.
Do you enjoy the clean, brisk, cold air of winter, when your crunching through the white snow? We do.
Do you enjoy sitting by the rivers edge and watching the boating and fishing enthusiasts? We do.

OR

Do you enjoy the burning and running of your nose and eyes from refinery emissions? We don't.
Do you like the stench and smell of crude oil or any oil? We don't.
Do you enjoy the odor of asphalt, a by-product of the oil industry? We don't.
Do you enjoy looking at smog darkened skies? We don't.
Do you enjoy watching the last of our fish and marine life suffocating to death due to oil spills? We don't.
Do you enjoy watching the sea gulls oil slicked and dying? We don't.
Do you enjoy the cleaning and scraping of oil slicked bottoms of boats? We don't.

Must we destroy and mutilate all of God's gifts to us? Will we have to wait until we have another Arthur Kill here before we wake up? The Arthur Kill waters are totally destroyed, the oxygen count is down to zero, which means that its only inhabitants are grease and sludge now. Is this what you truly want for South Amboy? That shameful murder of waters cannot be repeated again and its up to you, the people of South Amboy, to see that it doesn't. Once its gone it can never be replaced, and it too will become memories like the oyster beds that once were a reality also.

Dear Editor,

Never in my humble opinion did I ever see such a farce.

I am referring to the Tuesday night session, concerning the shooting of a dog.

To say I was sick to my stomach is putting it mildly. It will take a long time for me and I'm sure I speak for most of the people who attended that session, to understand where was JUSTICE???

No I didn't shout at the JUDGE! nor the "Not Guilty" decision, I was too stunned!

With this kind of thing allowed to go on-is it any wonder why people don't want to live in South Amboy? What is happening to our "Pleasant Little City"?

May I say whenever I go to visit my daughter I have seen on many occasions the dog that was shot. He was not a vicious dog. The next time Mr. K--takes an oath. Please inform him to put his left hand on the Bible and raise his right hand. Which he failed to do!

Thank you.

I remain,

TO THE PEOPLE OF SOUTH AMBOY, N. J.

Please take note, we don't have to watch out for pollution. Now we have to watch out for people who keep a 22 Rifle in the bedroom closet and shoot defenseless dogs. Not once was the Beagle shot but twice. Once through the eye and another time through the neck. Each at close range. The reason he claims he heard his 3 yr. old child crying in the back yard at 5:30 P.M. The dog was molesting his child????? I am not alone in my doubts.

We have a lot to be desired in truth and JUSTICE.

to right, Councilmen Albert Sorrentino, Robert Leslie and Theodore Lewandoski. The four units, which operate on low sulphur oil, will provide an additional 288,000 kilowatts of generating for J.C.P.L.

Construction of four combustion turbines that will provide an additional 288,000 kilowatts of power for Jersey Central Power & Light Company and its parent General Public Utilities Corporation, is nearing completion at the Werner Generating Station. The first unit was activated by Mayor William E. O'Leary during a tour of the generating facility by municipal officials.

Jack McGalliard, manager of J.C.P.L.'s Bay Division, said a second unit will go into operation later this month with the remaining units scheduled for startup in May.

Mr. McGalliard said the combustion turbines are peaking units that will be used primarily during periods of great consumer demand. They can reach full generating capacity in about 15 minutes and will place the company in a better position to continue to stay ahead of peak summer demands, and will add substantially to company reserve power.

The cost of the four turbines is $21,500,000, including $700,000 for specialized silencing equipment to reduce the noise level when the units are generating. Each unit has a rating of 72,000 kilowatts and will operate on low sulphur oil.

The turbines were manufactured and are being installed by Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Development Fund Coordinator Named

James J. Messemer of Old Bridge, N.J. has been selected as development fund coordinator for South Amboy Memorial Hospital's on-going community fund campaign. Announcement of his appointment was made by Daniel A. Zack, president of the hospital's board of governors.

Mr. Messemer will be responsible for all contact work connected with the hospital's new annual giving program and will be in charge of the permanent development offices now being established at the hospital. His duties will include liaison with the Contri Agency which is directing all aspects of the hospital's fund campaign and public relations. Together, the organization at the hospital and that of the Contri Agency will form a public relations-fund development team; planning and supervision of the total community relations program, through which the hospital seeks closer communications with and support from residents of the 17 communities it serves, will be under the direction of the Contri Agency, the hospital's administration and board of governors.

Mr. Messemer brings to his new position a wealth of experience in the management field. A graduate of Seton Hall University, South Orange, N. J., he has been employed since 1953 by R.C.A., where his most recent position was that of manager of industrial products responsible for establishment of that division's business plans. He served with the U.S. Army in Germany from October 1954 to October 1956.

He has been active in civic affairs in this area and has served as president of Sayre Woods South Little League and a Chairman of Troop 86, B.S.A. He resides with his wife and three children at 27 Kenneth Ave., Old Bridge.

Civil Action Against Local Officials Dropped

A civil action brought by Frank De Filippo and other residents of South Amboy against the city's mayor and building inspector was resolved in favor of the defendants on March 20, 1972.

The residents had charged Mayor William O'Leary and Building Inspector James F. Coan with fraud, conspiracy or malicious interference with their constitutional rights in the McCormack Sand controversy. Judge David D. Furman found O'Leary and Coan innocent of these charges as individuals and continued the issue involving the plaintiff's claims for damages against the two as officials of the city.

The judge also ordered the Zoning Board of Adjustment no longer be considered party to the action.

COUNTY GROUP PLANS VOTER REGISTRATION

The Middlesex County League of Women Voters will take voter registrations in South Amboy and Sayreville on Tuesday, April 25th.

Locally, the registration will be held at the Board of Education Administration Building from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. In Sayreville, registration will be held in the Sayreville War Memorial High School from 11 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Questions may be directed to Mrs. Linda Chorros (456-6920) or Mrs. Caryl Toker (634-5246).

Vets Seek Additional Funds For Parade

A very brief and uneventful City Council meeting was held at City Hall on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Christopher Sullivan rose from the audience and asked the council why an extra money had been appropriated for the annual veterans' parade ($1,000 had been set aside from the city budget but Mr. Sullivan stated it was not enough). Mayor William O'Leary answered that he had promised the veterans extra money months ago. He added that late last year, sketches for a veterans monument were sent to the veterans for possible approval but that nothing has been heard to date from the organization.

The Council also received a letter from Nellie Helm of the Cancer Foundation asking for aid in the April Cancer Fund Drive. The council approved the mayor's suggestions that a donation be sent.

Another letter was received from Michael F. Brennan who regretfully asked that his resignation in the city police force be accepted. A motion to do so was passed without dissent.

Biggest Ham-Egg in Planning Home Amenities

Think of the "ham and egg" in planning certain parts of your home. Some things just naturally go together, like a cedar closet in the sewing room. Sewers will find that a repellent cedar closet here is a real convenience. It's an ideal place for out-of-season clothes, as it is easy to work on as time permits. Expensive furs, woollens and bedding can be kept in the closet free from pests.

If your home has no sewing room, here are some suggested places: family room, utility room, bedroom or a corner of a large master bedroom. Basement or attic are other possibilities. In any case, remove the "ham and egg" from the closet. Cedar closets go nicely with a sewing room or the laundry area.

In Fashion

People who have beautiful patchwork quilts, handed down as heirlooms, are quite proud of owning these quilts. The idea of using beautiful patches of material has now been carried over into the fashioning of skirts and dresses.

Letters To The Editor

April 17, 1972

In a News Letter to the S.A.R. by the American, and New Jersey Coalition of Patriotic Societies, Inc., there was a Legislative Alert on a Bill in the House of Representatives. The Bill is House Joint Resolution 900. This Bill specified what could mean liquidation of our Constitution and for this suspicious reason may be why we do not read about it in the news papers. In a direct quote from the news letter - "This Bill Provides for the appropriation of public money ($300,000) for the private use of citizens." And will be in violation with Article I, Sect. 9, Clause 7 of the U.S. Constitution. Upon looking into this Article of the Constitution I found it states directly - "...no money shall be drawn from the treasury, but the consequence of appropriations made by law and regular statement and account of the receipts and expenditures of all Public money shall be published from time to time."

The Bill says that the Atlantic Union will be constant with the Charter of the United Nations-----not the Constitution of the United States. There has been no public coverage of this which has existed for the last 22 years. In 1950 the President of the Atlantic Union Committee, Inc., former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts admitted in testimony that in joining with the Atlantic Union (NATO countries) the United States Government would have to surrender its rights and powers in coin money, to levy taxes and tariffs, to regulate immigrant immigration, to enact citizenship laws, to declare war and to maintain standing armies.

This Bill - (HJR 900) was voted out of the Foreign Affairs Committee on March 16, 1972. It is now in the House Rules Committee. Write the Honorable William Comer, Chairman of that Committee to retain (H.J.R. 900). You may also write your Congressman and ask him not to vote for H.J.R. 900.

I'm considered a gentle dog and I don't often get upset. But when I saw that 22, it scared me half to death.

So I thought I'd turn myself around and head back on my way. But you left me helpless and defenseless and shot me anyway. It wasn't bad enough that the first shot hit my eye, you had to shoot me in the neck. Can you tell me why?

You could have hit me with a stick or sprayed me with a hose. Even this is cruelty and everybody knows. I have survived that tragic day I never will forget but was it really necessary to mutilate a pet?

Cancer Society Plans Annual Candlelight Ball

One of the most famous society musicians in the country returns to this area on April 22nd, 1972 for his 5th appearance for the Eighth Annual Candlelight Ball of the American Cancer Society to be held at the Ramada Inn, East Brunswick. This year the Middlesex County Unit celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary of service to people in our community.

Bill Harrington has performed for presidents, society and royalty for the past 17 years. He has also played for the Rockefellers, the Vanderbilts, the Whitneys and other society leaders from Newport to Palm Beach. He has been a favorite of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor and has entertained at private parties for Presidents John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson, Dwight Eisenhower, Richard M. Nixon and Governor Nelson Rockefeller, and Senator Barry Goldwater.

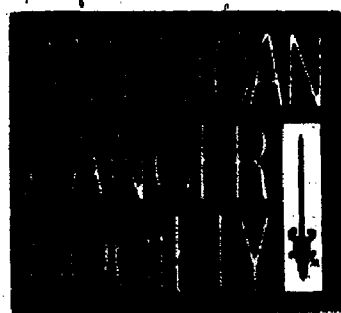

He also provided the music for the Julie Nixon wedding and more recently for the Patricia Nixon and Edward Cox Wedding. He has been featured as a vocalist on CBS, NBC and ABC networks and was soloist at the Inaugural Ball of the late President John F. Kennedy.

GIRL SCOUTS SAY 'THANK YOU'

The paper drive conducted April 15th by Girl Scout Troop #1584 of South Amboy was again a success, according to its Leader, even though the weather was rainy. The troop thanks the residents who had their papers at the curb.

The next paper drive by the girls will take place on Saturday, May 20th between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. and residents are requested to save their magazines and papers during the month and put them at the curb on May 20th.

Any out of town residents who wish to have their papers picked up may call the Leader at 721-7774 after 5:30 p.m.

He has entertained at the Belgian Embassy in Washington D.C. for Ambassador and Mrs. Lorian of Belgium and the Nation Ballet Luce Ball. Bill Harrington and his orchestra, brought in from New York for this event, was so sensational that on leaving after midnight they were recalled at the embassy gate AND ASKED TO PLAY FOR ANOTHER HOUR of dancing. His bands have performed for charity and social balls in almost every state in the union.

Special entertainment will include Georgie Guy, comedy-impressionist who has appeared at the Steel Pier in Atlantic City with Enso Stuarti and with Duke Ellington and his orchestra at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel.

Mrs. Joseph Yakubik of Perth Amboy, chairman of the ball, says reservations are still available and open to the public by calling the Unit office 548-8198 or 985-9568, 465 Main St., Metuchen, N. J.

N. J. SOCIETY SAR HOLDS MEETING

Robert A. Hoffman, a resident of South Amboy, recently attended the annual Congress Luncheon of the N. J. Society of the Sons of the American Revolution at the American Hotel in Freehold.

The meeting, held on April 15th, was convened for the purposes of creating the new office of Senior Vice President and allowing readings of local clubs' financial statements.

The function of the S.A.R. Hoffman says, is to "stand against all which might be a threat to U.S. security." He adds that "in an election year an organization consisting of as many members as the S.A.R. has a great influence on voting."

There will be a meeting of the Raritan Valley Chapter of the S.A.R. in Spotswood on April 24th and a national Congress meeting in Indianapolis at a later date.

Because of the length of the meeting, Hoffman did not have the opportunity to address the group about South Amboy's background. However, he does feel that his private conversations with members of the club displayed the urgency for establishment of a South Amboy Historical Society.

Garden News

PLANT EVERGREENS NOW

Now is a good time to plant or transplant evergreens. Evergreens planted now have time to develop new roots before the hot, dry weather of summer arrives.

In selecting a site for evergreens, make certain that water will not stand around the roots after heavy rains. Also, plant your evergreens at the same depth as they stood in the nursery--no deeper.

Wait until next spring to apply fertilizer to the evergreens you plant now. Too much fertilizer may injure young roots.

ORDER BULLETIN

Most narrow-leaved evergreens grow best in a slightly acid soil (pH 5.5 to 6.5). Most of the ericaceous broad-leaved evergreens, such as azalea, rhododendron, Mountain-laurel, and heather grow best in a soil of pH 4.5 to 5.5.

FLYING INSECTS

Have you been alarmed by the sudden appearance of flying insects in your home?

During April and May both termite and many ant colonies produced winged or reproductive forms.

Termite reproductives have two pairs of wings that are equal in length and about twice the length of their bodies. Winged termites tend to shed their wings shortly after emerging.

Flying ants have two pairs of wings but the front wings are longer than the hind pair and their wings are just a little longer than their bodies.

Ants have a pinched waist or hourglass body while termites do not have a constricted waist.

If you want more information about termites, ask your county agricultural agent for your free copy of 331-A, "Termites."

PERENNIALS

Perennials provide beautiful flowers for color and cutting without the need for replanting each year.

The tops of most perennials die to the ground in the fall, then produce new growth from the crowns in the spring.

Late April is a good time to select and plant perennials.

Choose a sunny, well-drained location for your perennial garden. Most perennials need at least a half-day of sun, but some will flower in shade if this is a problem in your garden.

Few perennials flower over a long season. The succession of bloom desired in a flower garden can be achieved by using a combination of spring bulbs, biennials, and perennials selected for their season of bloom.

Planning your garden on paper before actually planting may save you valuable time and money.

THE GREEN STUFF

Did you know that a woman's picture at one time appeared on a dollar bill? That there were once three-dollar bills? That money at one time could be eaten? Or that in South Carolina they once had legal tender you could drink?

These are only a few of the many money innovations for which the creators of early currency deserve credit.

That woman's picture, for example, came into view on a one-dollar 1854 bank note from the Delaware City Bank of the Kansas Territory.

In 1856, also in Kansas, there were three-dollar bills! The notes featured pictures of three cherubs!

Salt, valuable as a food preservative, was scarce, durable, portable and easy to divide. Early Roman soldiers, whose Latin word for salt was "sal," received a regular salt allowance (whence our word, "salary"), and slaves were sold for their weight in this precious condiment. Thus the expression "worth his salt."

Liquors and other spirits have also served as money: beer was partial wages for miners in 19th century England; a century before, in South Carolina, rum was legal tender!

Tea, a common if blander beverage money, was used for centuries in the Far East. For ease in handling, it was often shaped into bricks.

Tobacco automatically meant money to our southern colonists during the 17th and 18th centuries. In time, tobacco warehouse receipts were used; but originally the actual leaves circulated!

Over the centuries, money has been the subject of memorable quotations. "To have money is a fear; not to have it a grief," said English poet George Herbert in 1633. According to Benjamin Franklin in 1735, "Nothing but money is sweeter than honey."

In 1706, Jonathan Swift wrote: "No man will take counsel, but every man will take money; therefore money is better than counsel." And an old Irish proverb had it that "a heavy purse makes a light heart."

We are indebted to money for several everyday expressions such as "getting your money's worth," "the root of all evil," "filthy lucre," "money talks," "putting your money where your mouth is," and "putting your two cents in."

What is more, there are local sayings relating to money in different countries with differing monetary units. American counterparts of these terms include "peony pincher" and "dollars to doughnuts."

To coin an expression, banks have become "money-splendored things," but few depositors realize how much banking has changed. In the ancient world, instead of receiving interest on your savings, you'd have had to pay a bank to keep your money safe for you.

Perhaps the earliest American "bankers" were goldsmiths and silversmiths. They would accept coins for safe-keeping, and lend them to qualified borrowers, and sometimes exchange one kind of currency for another. That was it—no other services were available.

In 1781, when a man named Robert Morris tried to organize the first modern bank in America, he tried to sell $400,000 worth of stock in the company. All he could raise was $70,000—17.5¢ for each dollar he needed—but he borrowed what he needed from France, and made such a name for himself that almost any banker you visit today will know his name.

You can't find money growing on trees, but another kind of money once did! In 13th century China, when under the rule of Kublai Khan, the Chinese produced the world's first paper currency, printed on paper made from the bark of the mulberry tree.

In the South Pacific, island tribes have used the teeth of porpoises, whales and tigers as money. On the Isle of Yap, huge coin-shaped stones with a hole in the middle—far too heavy for one man to lift—serve as currency. ("I'm sunk," a Yapper might have to say if he tried moving his money by canoe.)

But few people know how an expression still used today began with an unusual form of payment in America's Wild West. Then, many a man would carry currency in the form of a bag of gold dust. He'd pay for things by allowing the seller to pick out one or more pinches of dust. And this is how we get the expression, "How much can you raise in a pinch?"

JCP Employee Marks 25th Year

He is a member of the New Jersey Fire Chief's Association, Middlesex County Fire Chief's Association, the Eagle Engine Company and the American Legion and Veteran's of Foreign Wars posts in Perth Amboy. Family Should Plan Escape In Event Of Fire At Night

A little planning will arm your family with essential information in case of a fire at home.

Knowledge is power. That is especially true if there are children or senior citizens in the home. Know what to do.

At a family meeting, point out that most serious home fires occur at night. They will therefore be fairly far advanced before detection. Normal escape routes may be blocked, so figure a second means of escape from every bedroom.

Check Heat on Door
The best escape plan usually means going out the nearest door—and fast. Warn members not to open doors into halls before first checking them for heat. If a door is warm to your hand, keep it shut. That heat means the fire is nearby or that hot, deadly gas is right on the other side.

If smoke is heavy, crouch as you hurry along. Try to cover nose and mouth with a towel or pillow. Meet outside at a pre-arranged spot to count noses and make sure all members are accounted for.

No "valuables" are worth trying to save. Get out yourself and those who can't make it themselves.

Notify Fire Department
Once the family is outside, report the fire to your fire department. Your home phone may be knocked out, so you'll want to know the location of the nearest phone or municipal "pullbox."

If you catch the fire in its infancy, follow the same routine, but in this case you may also want to tackle the blaze yourself before the fire fighters arrive.

Open House At Union College

High School juniors and seniors and their parents have been invited to visit Union College's Cranford Campus on Saturday, April 22, from 10 a.m. to noon. It was announced today by George P. Lynes, director of admissions.

The Spring Open House has been planned to give high school students and their parents the opportunity to see first hand the facilities and programs available at Union College. Members of the admissions staff and student guides will be on hand to answer questions and to conduct tours of the campus.

Union College, independent two-year institution, is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and under the aegis of the Union County Coordinating Agency for Higher Education, union College, together with Union County Technical Institute, is serving as Union County's comprehensive community college system.

The college offers courses of study paralleling the freshman and sophomore years in four-year institutions in Liberal Arts, Liberal Arts-Education, Engineering, Biological Sciences, Physical Science, Business Administration and Law Enforcement.

Beginning in September, Union College will also offer Urban Studies as an option in the Liberal Arts program; Environmental Science as an option in the Biological Sciences program; and Environmental Engineering as an option in the Engineering and Physical science programs.

Admission to Union College is based on high school records, College Board Scholastic Aptitude scores and the recommendation of the high school guidance counselor or principal.

Sand Pails, Water Help

Have at least one Underwriters Laboratories-approved carbon dioxide fire extinguisher available and a long hose attached to an outdoor water faucet.

It's a good idea, too, to have galvanized steel pails—some filled with sand and others water—available in garage, basement and attic.

On a flammable liquid or electrical fire, never use water, which will only cause the blaze to spread. In an electrical fire, water is a conductor of electricity and therefore dangerous. Use sand, carbon dioxide or dry chemical.

Lawn Mower Safety

It's time to dust off your power mower again. But before you start work review the safety rules and avoid accidents. 1) Clear the lawn of sticks, stones, wires and debris—they could be thrown by the blade. 2) Don't lend your machine to anyone who doesn't know how to operate it. 3) Never let children use a power mower—or any power tool. 4) Don't operate the engine where carbon monoxide fumes can collect (i.e., the garage). 5) Have further questions? Contact your local power mower retailer—he's Mr. Lawn Mower Safety in your neighborhood, and will give you a free copy of the safety rules. Z

MIDDLESEX IN CONGRESS

U.S. REP. EDWARD B. ROSEN

Recently I signed a House petition to be sent to President Nixon, urging the chief executive to convey to Soviet leaders concern over the unfair treatment of Jews in Russia.

I hope that when the President visits Moscow in May, he will not only strongly deplore the discrimination suffered by Jews in Russia, but also urge adoption of a fair and just policy there for all people.

The petition signed by myself and several of my House colleagues points out to the President that, "In the interest of easing the easing of world tensions, we welcome your coming trip to Moscow. We also welcome the advantage of the opportunity and to the Soviet Jews, that the hope of millions of Americans who believe in freedom, justice and progress for all people.

There are an estimated 1 million Jews in the Soviet Union—an oppressed minority which faces discrimination, and is prevented from perpetuating its history, culture, and its ancient religious heritage.

The petition also noted that almost 40 young Jews are in Soviet Prison camps, merely because they sought to live as Jews, while others seeking to immigrate are harassed. If some succeed in departing, it is only after months of struggle and deprivation," it declared.

We urged President Nixon to "exert your influence to help free Jewish prisoners of conscience and to help Soviet Jews achieve the fundamental right to live as Jews and to leave for Israel and elsewhere."

I hope that the President will convey our interest and concern to Soviet leaders—not only for Jews suffering in Russia, but also for the sake of humanity.

People who have beautiful patchwork quilts, handed down as heirlooms, are quite proud of owning these quilts. The idea of using beautiful patches of material has now been carried over into the fashioning of skirts and dresses.

Educational Degree Program Offered at County College

The Board of Trustees of Middlesex County College, Edison, has announced that the College will offer a new degree program this fall. A two-year associate degree curriculum in education technology designed to train paraprofessionals in the field of education will be added.

The new study provides for a common core freshman year and three options in the second year in teacher assistant, assistant in early childhood education, or assistant in special education.

The program combines general education studies and instruction in techniques of assisting in these areas with the maximum amount of hands-on experience in the field. It stresses effective communication and the importance of human service concepts to the role of the professional. The curriculum is career oriented and has been planned to increase the effectiveness of the paraprofessional in the educational setting. Its objective is to prepare trained assistants to work with professionals in public schools, public and private institutions, nursery schools, and related community service organizations.

The program is an outgrowth of the College's one year certificate program to train teacher aides, which has been successfully offered at the College since 1968. Experiences under this program have confirmed the values which can be derived from the utilization of paraprofessionals in education.

Local feasibility surveys taken by the College have produced unmistakable demand and support for the training of personnel in human service oriented careers. Reports from guidance counselors and other secondary school personnel indicate that a growing social consciousness and community involvement among teenagers is helping to attract students to these professions. Interest in human service careers is also high among adults who are returning to college in large numbers. Mature women, in particular, have directed numerous inquiries to the College's Division of Continuing Education regarding training and employment prospects in education and social work. Adults are often limited to short-term objectives and a two-year program is especially well suited to their needs.

The proposed curriculum will enable students to obtain background in the liberal arts area while also receiving the opportunity for specialization to meet individual needs and interests. Although the program is occupational in nature, much of the course content can be applied to the broader spectrum of teacher education and the pursuit of the bachelor's degree.

The program's core year will include courses in English, psychology, sociology, introduction to education, concepts of physical science, business mathematics, and orientation to education technologies. Studies of the program will be expected to select their option prior to the start of the second year. Those selecting teacher assistant will receive study in child psychology, reading in the elementary school, developmental type writing, children's literature, visual and auditory aids, science in the elementary school, art in the elementary school, and mathematics in the elementary school.

Those selecting assistant in early childhood education will study child psychology, children's literature, introduction to early childhood education, child health and nutrition, creative activities for young children, and family life and parent group leadership.

The third option -- assistant in special education -- will study child psychology, psychology of the handicapped, reading in the elementary school, education of the handicapped, disorganized personality, and biology of disability.

Anity Vorhees of South Brunswick, Coordinator of Special Projects at the College, developed the new program and will be responsible for coordinating its development. The college is planning to accept 100 students for this fall. Interested persons are invited to contact the Admissions Office, Center III, Middlesex County College, Edison, New Jersey.

KEEP IT CLEAN

Stains Strike Out

DEAR VIRGINIA WHITE:

I see by the baseball glove and bat my little league son leaves lying around the house that hot dog eating season is upon us. Last year I struggled with mustard and catsup stains. Can you help?

MRS. RED HOT

DEAR MRS. R. H.:

Here is a major league way to treat those little league hot dog stains. For the mustard stain, make a detergent paste by moistening a small amount of your favorite laundry detergent, or miracle—Miracle White No-Phosphate Detergent, with water. Use a soft brush and work detergent paste into stain.

For the catsup stain, sponge area with cold water. Then for both stains, launder in hottest water fabric will allow with 1/4 cup detergent, 1/2 cup Non-Chlorine Bleach, and 1/4 cup Super Cleaner.

This procedure may not improve your son's hitting and fielding, but he should be leading the hot dog league all summer long in whiteness and brightness!

Special Ironing Tip: A piece of aluminum foil placed between the ironing board pad and the cover will make your ironing go faster and double the life of your cover.

PAST TENSE PUZZLER

Americans spoke a different language 180 years ago. It was, of course, English, but many of the phrases in common use in the 1870's had meanings that are almost totally foreign to us today.

If you doubt this, try translating the following terms. Each one was so readily understood it was used without explanation to describe various types of merchandise listed in the Montgomery Ward catalog of 1875. See if you can guess what articles the terms identified. (You'll find the answers printed upside down below.)

1. Union Pacific
2. Granger
3. Eugenie
4. Octagon
5. Saratoga
6. Empress
7. Murray Farm

Students For London During Easter Vacation

HAVE A GOOD TIME - Hoffman H. S. students who spent their Easter vacation in London are seen off by families and friends before they boarded the bus that took them to Kennedy International Airport. The group left March 30 and returned April 7.

MAYBE NEXT YEAR - Hoffman students Irene Ambrosiak and Amy Vari (far right) who didn't go on the recent London trip look a bit wistful as they bid goodbye to Laura Mundy, Colleen Tarallo and Peggy Pappa.

Twenty-six exuberant students and two somewhat frazzled teachers from Hoffman High School returned to South Amboy recently after spending their Easter vacation in London.

The chaperoning teachers, Mrs. Patricia VanDyk and Michael Olszak, recorded their trip in a daily journal, to which the students, with amusing or interesting experiences, were asked to contribute.

The students, many making the first trip abroad, had been preparing for London since last September. On Holy Thursday, March 30, a chartered bus delivered them to Kennedy International Airport.

What appeared to be a minor catastrophe occurred even before they boarded their Air India 747 maiden flight. Bob Stillwagon lost his travelers checks. A quick call home to his mother revealed that they weren't lost but had been stuffed into a Kleenex pack for safekeeping. Bob's mishap in New York was rivaled by Peggy Pappa's and Sharon Wood's not filling out their embarkation cards which they were to turn in to customs people in London.

When they arrived at their London destination, the Chelsea Hotel, they were subjected to a wait of nearly two hours before they could occupy their rooms, resulting in many weary South Amboyans falling asleep in chairs in the hotel's lobby. By this time the travelers had been awake for some 22 hours.

Their well-organized itinerary, arranged by Welcome Aboard Tours of East Brunswick, included at-most daily tours within London and its environs. Their activities included a view of Parliament from across the Thames River; a visit to Westminster Abbey, where both students and teachers were awed at walking over Charles Dickens' grave; shopping trips to Piccadilly Circus and Carnaby Street; a visit to Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum; another to Hampton Court, the fabled residence of Henry VIII designed by architect Christopher Wren, and tours of Windsor Castle and the British Museum.

Although entranced with London and the idea of being in Europe, most of the students had a bit of trouble adjusting to British cooking. Luckily for them, their hotel was located in a section of London which had an abundance of pizza parlors and hamburger diners.

The group's stay at the Chelsea was enlivened by the presence of a group of French schoolgirls who spoke no English and another group of lively pre-teen English Schoolboys, whom the Americans affectionately referred to as the "Lilliputians." The extent of contact between the American boys and the French girls was a lot of "oh-la-las" on the part of the Americans.

Interspersed with their sightseeing the local group did a bit of shopping, and this included everything from Wedgewood jewelry to pop posters to clothing and shoes.

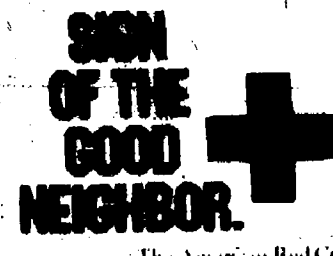

On Friday, April 7, physically tired but mentally excited by all they had seen and done, the group returned to South Amboy. The majority reaction was: "It was a great trip!"; "Gee, too bad we didn't have more time."; and "where are we going next year?"

Those who made the trip are: Diane Abbatiello, Mark Abbatiello, James Brown, John Coleman, Michel Downs, Patricia Du-bil, Claudette Johnson, Michele Kusovich and Karen Kulcar.

Also, Charles Lange, Jane McCarthy, Lois Maxfield, Margaret Mason, Jacqueline Moran, Laura Mundy, Peggy Mundy, Peggy Pappa and Pamela Purcell.

Also, Robert Stillwagon, Colleen Tarallo, Linda Tarallo, Dawn Weaver, Sharor Wood, Gregory Wzykowski, Monica Vincz and Michele Zulin.

SOUTH AMBOY, July 19, 1928--

St. Mary's High School baseball team, eclipsing all other records established in the history of athletics at the local parochial school, climaxed a most successful season recently by earning the Class B State Prep School championship, an honor which any school, particularly the local institution, may well feel proud of.

In being awarded state recognition on the diamond, the Blue and Gold varsity fought all opposition, emerging victorious in thirteen of fifteen games played, one contest resulting in a tie and the remaining conflict was charged as a defeat.

The awarding of the title followed a brilliant record on the court when the Eppinger coached quintet lost out in the finals for the state Class B basketball championship.

St. Mary's scored a total of 177 runs as against 69 for the opposition or almost an even dozen runs per game.
