

Suspect Nabbed after Foot Pursuit

Police arrested a South Amboy man and charged him with possession of controlled dangerous substances and with intent to distribute.

At approximately 9:30 p.m. on August 18 Detective Bernard Mackiel received information a drug deal was about to take place. Mackiel observed the suspect, Kevin Dante, 26, of Conover Street, on the sidewalk in front of Mario's Sub Shop. As Mackiel turned his vehicle into a nearby gasoline station he observed the suspect flee toward the railroad tracks. Patrolman George Pizzillo joined Mackiel on the scene as they chased Dante on foot.

Det. Mackiel observed Dante place a plastic bag under a wooden box behind the Broadway Fire House. Patrolman Pizzillo apprehended the suspect behind the Antiquity Piano Company and placed him under arrest.

After the suspect was in custody, Mackiel returned to the area behind the firehouse and recovered 27 packets of a controlled dangerous substance.

Dante was charged with possession of amphetamines, cocaine and PCP, and with intent to distribute. He is being held in the Middlesex County Corrects Center in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Former Resident Charged "Under The Influence"

Patrick J. Ferraro, 19, a former Catherine Street resident, was arrested August 19 and charged with being under the influence of a controlled dangerous substance.

Det. Bernard Mackiel observed Ferraro at the corner of Broadway and John Street at approximately 9 p.m.

Mackiel found the suspect to be "acting suspiciously" in the area behind Mario's Sub Shop. Upon further investigation Mackiel found Ferraro to be under the influence of a controlled dangerous substance. A search revealed Ferraro was under the influence of PCP.

Mackiel placed Ferraro under arrest. The suspect was later released on $1,000 bail.

Vacation is Over — Back to School

It seems like only yesterday that the kids were shredding notebooks and taking that last walk or ride home from a full school year.

This week students were taking an even longer walk to school to begin another school year.

On Wednesday, Sister Vianney welcomed 290 students back to Sacred Heart School. St. Mary's elementary school also resumed Wednesday. At St. Mary's High School the new freshman class got the school year rolling with the rest of the students scheduled to report Thursday.

Thighs may be a little different in the city's elementary, middle and high school with the adoption of new attendance, tardiness and homework policies along with a new strict dress code.

Joanne Frank, principal of the elementary school, welcomed 399 students for a new school. Middle School Principal George Mahoney welcomed 281 students back (new roof and all), and 280 students arrived for the beginning of the high school year.

Sports fans will be looking forward to basketball season as the Lady Guvs look to capture their third straight Group I State Championship. With most of the team returning, there is sure to be a lot of excitement with the Lady Guvs.

New Dress Code in Effect

The new school dress code forbids any garments or appearances which are judged to be unacceptable or hazardous to oneself, others, or school property. The new policy states apparel should not be excessively short, tight-fitting, sheer, transparent, low cut or revealing. Also tank tops, halters, tube tops, cut offs or half shirts are not permitted. Shorts may not be worn during school hours by students in grades 5 through 12.

Student reaction to the new dress code remains to be seen.

Ready or not, the school year is upon us.

Public Schools are Back in Session

Yesterday was opening day at the South Amboy Public Schools. According to the principals at each school, the openings were smooth and the students are looking forward to a good year.

Important written materials were given to each student to bring home to their parents or guardians. The materials contained copies of the new policies concerning attendance, tardiness, homework and a new dress code. Also included were insurance forms, free and reduced lunch applications, and personal data forms.

The students in grades K to 8 were given a copy of the parent handbook, middle school students received a copy of bus safety regulations and the students in grades 7 through 12 were given locker regulations.

The principals asked parents to return the lunch applications, personal data sheets, student insurance forms and signed locker letter forms as soon as possible. They asked that any parent or guardian not receiving the necessary materials contact the child's school office.

Mile Square Talk

The New Jersey area was blessed with wonderful weather for the Labor Day weekend, so it was the perfect time to have a cook-out, hang out at the beach or even play some ball. In a summer filled with bad weather since July 4, the final "summer weekend" was filled with good weather to do all those favorite outdoor activities.

As mentioned above, this was an ideal weekend to play some ball. But you had to get up nice and early to get a field. It was very disappointing to try to get up a game of softball this past weekend only to encounter knee-high grass at two of the four fields at the landfill. The only fields which seem to have been maintained within the past 6 weeks were the Babe Ruth Field at the Little Fellas League field. The girls softball field was an absolute disgrace. Without exaggeration, the grass was over 12 inches high. Since there were people already at the Little League and Babe Ruth fields, the next choice was the field between the Little League and Babe Ruth fields. This field also featured a safari outfield. At least the fielders didn't have to worry about the ball rolling past them. The ball couldn't travel 5 feet in the jungle once known as the outfield.

There were several groups of kids and adults interested in playing some ball but were turned away by the forests in the outfields of two of the fields. There has been a lot of talk this summer about recreation programs to get the kids off the streets, maintaining existing ballfields would be a good start, there is still some good weather left for a ball game.

If you are looking for something to do because the grass in the outfield is over a foot high, the New Jersey School of Ballet with locations in West Orange, Somerville and Morristown is offering a 40 week session from September through June during the 1986-87 season. Classes are offered Monday through Friday, afternoon and evenings, and Saturday mornings and afternoons for children, teenagers and adults at the beginning through professional levels in ballet, jazz and exercise techniques.

E.I. duPont de Nemours & Company, Parlin, announced service awards will be presented to several employees during the month of September.

Topping the list in terms of length of service awards is James P. Scully, South Amboy, with 30 years service. Congratulations go out to Mr. Scully.

Also Donald J. Wozniak, Sayreville, and Steve Regelaki, Parlin, will be awarded for 25 years service.

The new Mechanicsville Fire Truck is getting a lot of compliments. The shamrock seems to be a hit.

On Saturday, September 20, the First United Methodist Church of Matawan, 478 Atlantic Avenue, Aberdeen, will hold their semi-annual blood drive in conjunction with the Matawan Masonic Lodge and the Central Jersey Blood Bank.

Hours for the drive will be 10:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. All are welcome.

The New Jersey Youth Corps of Middlesex County is now recruiting high school dropouts, ages 16 to 21, for a six-month program combining basic academic skills and job preparation. The next session begins Monday, September 8. Admission interviews began Augus 22 and will conclude September 5 at the New Brunswick Adult Learning Center, 256 George Street. To apply call 846-2968.

The University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, Community Mental Health Center at Piscataway, New Brunswick Office, and the New Brunswick Board of Education, Adult Learning Center are co-sponsors of the program in Middlesex County.

A portrait of Archbishop Theodore McCarrick of Newark, former bishop of the Metuchen Diocese, has been commissioned by the George Otowski Citizens League.

To be painted by noted artist Danuta Wyzynski of Perth Amboy, the portrait will be unveiled at the Emmaus House in Perth Amboy, at special ceremonies to be scheduled early next year.

The work will be a tribute to McCarrick, who was the first bishop of the Metuchen Diocese and instrumental in making the former St. Mary's convent and elementary school, located in Perth Amboy, into a major center for the religious and laity of the diocese. Emmaus House is part of the new religious complex.

McCarrick was elevated by Pope John Paul II to be archbishop of Newark earlier this year.

Rheumatologists (physicians specializing in the treatment of arthritis) will man telephones at Arthritis Foundation offices on Wednesday, September 10 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., as viewers of the INFORMATEL on Cable Television Network call in their questions.

SURVEY SHOWS SOUTH AMBOY VOTERS FOR NEW SCHOOL — Five years ago, September 3, 1981

Sentiment continues strong in South Amboy for the School Building Program proposed by the City's Board of Education, according to a second telephone survey conducted last week.

With the referendum for approval of construction of a new high school set for next Tuesday, the Board of Education has issued another publication in its effort to inform voters about the issues involved. The folder containing answers to the 16 most frequently asked questions about the School Building Program was stimulated in part by survey responses.

Almost 52 percent of those contacted in the latest random poll listed themselves as "favorable". About 23 percent still were "not sure", and slightly over 25 percent were "not in favor".

The results were almost identical to those of the first survey taken in late July. Then 51 percent were in favor, 22 percent not sure, and 27 percent opposed. Statistically, the size of the second sample, 233, give a 90 percent degree of confidence in the results. All told, 391 randomly-selected registered voters out of a total of about 4,000 responded to the two surveys.

"We are encouraged by these results, but our main concern is to answer the questions people still have about the building program," Board of Education President Thomas Tice says. "That is why we decided to issue the second publication."

The folder, entitled, "Facts About The South Amboy School Building Program", now is being delivered by mail to all households in the City. Questions are derived from the comments of those "not sure" in the survey as well as from the insights offered by the 11 members of the "Citizens Committee for the South Amboy School Building Program" formed in July.

The questions and answers focus on the cost to the taxpayer of the building program as compared to other alternatives, the need for a new high school, and various aspects of the site.

ALL WORK ON FIELDS HALTED AS VANDALS WRECK REST ROOMS — Ten years ago, September 2, 1976.

Scheduled taking of bids for completion of work on the four ball fields at the landfill came to an abrupt halt Tuesday when Fred Kurtz, city engineer, told the Council that vandalism at the recreation site had become so bad he could not recommend new work be undertaken at this time. More, he suggested that work now in progress on rest rooms on the site be halted because the structure, fixtures and commodes were being smashed as fast as they were put in, that completion of the buildings would be futile.

Kurtz found a realization of the chaotic situation at the landfill must have reached contractors as seven had taken out specifications on the reconstruction of the four fields, but only one had ventured to bid. The council voted, on Kurtz's advice, to return the bid unopened. Then the Council issued a directive to Kilfoyle Construction, Woodbridge, the general contractors to halt all work until further notice and to Justin Rosato, Matawan, not to proceed on a contract for the electrical work recently granted him on an $18,000 bid. Kurtz estimated $30,000 work needed to complete the rest rooms would be totally wasted under present conditions.

This proved disturbing to the councilmen in view of assurances given the baseball managers the work on the fields would be completed before frost set in that the recreation area would be in tip-top shape when the baseball workouts start in March. In rejecting the one bid, Councilmen J. Thomas Cross and Stanley Jankowski felt the governing body should seek new bids on the work in the open vandalism can be brought under control in the interim before acting on them and the amount of time lost on the project could be cut down.

KEN ROGERS NAMED PEOPLE FOR INMAN CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN — Fifteen years ago, September 3, 1971.

Kenneth Rogers, Republican Municipal Chairman for South Amboy, was named today as chairman of the People for Inman campaign, an independent movement to elect third ward councilman James W. Inman to the state assembly in district 7C.

Rogers, a former professional baseball player now working as a general contractor, will organize citizens to "ring doorbells for the man who is willing to fight to get things done in Trenton."

"It was Inman's sincerity that got me into politics. Before I voted but I didn't go further than that. He proved that one man could do alot towards solving problems right in your own home town," Rogers said.

Rogers pointed to Inman's record during his two years as councilman.

"As President of the South Amboy Board of Health, James personally waged a battle against Spiral Metal Company for pollution violations. Inspectors came, the complaints were valid, and now Spiral Metals is in the process of installing air pollution control equipment costing $300,000. This is the type of fighters we want in the Assembly," Rogers said.

"It was Inman who was responsible for making food licenses in the city a one year term. Before that five and six years went by without an inspection at eating places and restaurants," Rogers added.

We're not trying to drive home the fact the outfield grass in two of the four fields at the landfill prevented anyone from using the fiels over the fine Labor Day weekend, but we've come up with 10 reasons why the grass should have been cut:

10. Tall grass made outfield play hazardous.
  9. Fields are excellent places for people to recreate and not hang on street corners.
  8. Ball playing provides exercise and competition and public fields should be utilized.
  7. Tall grass made fields look like "blighted areas."
  6. Centerfielder would grow old waiting for a "grasscutter up the middle" to get to him.
  5. Fields were an eye sore to out of town visitors.
  4. Forgot to bring machetes.
  3. Outfielders couldn't see shoe laces creating dangerous situations.
  2. Couldn't break in new gloves.
- AND NOW THE NUMBER ONE REASON WHY THE GRASS IN THE FIELDS SHOULD BE CUT
1. Shorter fielders got lost, haven't seen them since.

Schools Student Personnel Services Outlined

The Board of Education, through its Office of Student Personnel Services, realizes the importance of establishing procedures to identify and locate pupils eligible for special education between the ages of three (3) and twenty-one (21). These identification procedures provide for the participation of parents, instructional staff, administrators, student personnel services and other professionals or agencies concerned with the welfare of pupils.

The identification procedures include:

I. Screening - This is a formal screening provided through the following activities:

A. Pre-School

1. The L.D.T.C. assigned to Pre-School Screening makes the following contacts:

a. Visits all the schools and discusses with Principal/Guidance Counselor information regarding siblings who may be eligible to be screened.

B. Advertisises in the principal's bulletins, superintendents newsletters and local newspapers.

Health

1. Physical screenings by the school physician - Grades K-2-4-6-8-12.

2. Vision screening - consist of a test with a Titmus Vision tester.

3. Hearing Screening - consists of a test using the Maico or Titmus audiometer. Any student who shows difficulty with this screening will be re-tested.

4. Dental Screening - students in Grades 1-6 will be screened by school dentist.

5. Strep Program - all grades, with parental permission.

6. T.B. Testing - only pupils we have transferred from another state or country who do not have valid records.

7. Scoliosis screening - all pupils in grades 6-12

II. Consultation

Consultation is an on-going process which may involve any number of the school community, parents, professionals and agencies. The purpose of consultation is to provide an exchange of information concerning a pupils that would help:

A. Develop intervention practices as an alternative to identification and referral.

B. Provide for appropriate identification and referral.

Individual members of the Child Study team may participate in this process on an informal basis and should emphasize the consultative aspect of their involvement so as not to confuse their activities as consultants with their role in the formal identification/referral process.

III. Identification

A. Identification of pupils who may be potentially handicapped is the responsibility of all instructional, administrative and pupil personnel staff, parents and outside professionals and agencies.

Parents are notified through building principal or teacher that their child has been potentially identified, the reasons for such concern and the recommended interventions.

B. Options considered before a referral to the Child Study Team:

1. Principal involvement.

2. Observation of interaction between the teacher and pupil.

3. Teacher counseling pupil.

4. Individualized instruction (whenever possible).

5. Parent tutoring (individually or small group).

6. extra reading time.

7. Speech pathology.

8. Parent conference.

9. Additional visual and/or hearing evaluations.

10. Change of teacher.

11. Consultation, observation by any or all Child Study Team members.

12. If in Kindergarten, continue the child in the second session.

13. Change in materials, instructional mode, rate sequence.

14. Retention.

C. Parental notification of referral to the Child Study Team should be made by the building principal/designee in writing utilizing prescribed procedures consistent with legislation and current rules and regulations.

D. Identification by parents, outside professionals and/or Agencies:

1. Identification/referral by parents, outside professionals / agencies should be made in writing to the appropriate building principal and the processing of such requests should follow regular district procedure.

2. Identification/referral by parents directly to the Director of Student Personnel Services will be referred to the appropriate building principal for action.

3. Students new to the district and identifies as being potentially handicapped, but not classified by the previous district should be placed in a regular program and the Child Study Team should be notified to take appropriate action.

4. If the building principal determines that the placement may do serious harm to the child or other children, she/he shall notify the Director of Special Services. After consultation with the Child Study Team recommendation may be made to the Superintendent to exclude the child for a period not to exceed 30 days pending evaluation and classification.

E. Identification - Private and Parochial School Children.

1. The South Amboy School District is a member of the Middlesex County Special Services Commission. The Commission was established to provide required services to private and parochial schools. Principals of such schools utilize screening and identification procedures developed jointly with New Jersey Special Services Commission.

2. Requests for such services by parents of private and parochial school children should be addressed to the principal of the private or parochial school attended by the child in question.

Parents who have questions relating to the provision of services to their children attending private or parochial schools may contact the Director of Student Personnel Services.

"Check Yourself" Anti-DWI Program Gets Underway Throughout New Jersey

Patrons at more than 20 bars and restaurants throughout New Jersey now can check their alcohol level at the point of consumption, before getting behind the wheel of a car. "Check Yourself" alcohol breathalyzers have been installed in these establishments as part of a community action program to help reduce driving while intoxicated (DWI) incidents, while educating consumers about alcohol's effects.

The first "Check Yourself" machine in New Jersey was installed in Monahan's Club, Hasbrouck Heights in late May.

"The device provides a valuable service," says Gary Monahan, co-owner of the restaurant and tavern. "Stopping DWI protects the community. It's everyone's responsibility. If the breathalyzer keeps just one drunk driver off the streets, we've helped do our part."

"Check Yourself" use is completely voluntary. A customer deposits a quarter, inserts a straw and exhales into the machine for six seconds. The machine analyzes the sample and delivers one of five possible evaluations and driving suggestions:

No alcohol Present
DRIVE SAFELY
Low Alcohol Present
DRIVE CAREFULLY
Moderate Alcohol Present
OTHERS SHOULD DRIVE
Borderline Intoxication -
DO NOT DRIVE
Legally Intoxicated - DO NOT DRIVE

The device does not disclose precise blood alcohol content figures in order to keep customers from treating the tests as a game to see who can score highest.

Participating bars and restaurants keep none of the funds generated. All profits go to local and national educational and anti-alcohol abuse programs such as Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) and ride-share and designated driver efforts.

Other New Jersey bars and restaurants boasting "Check Yourself" breathalyzers include Freddy's, Bernardsville;

Costa del Sol, Bound Brook; Five Corners Inn, Carteret; Wise Mon, Dumont; The Edge, Fairview; glass Bowl, Glassboro; Riviera Lounge and Sheehan's Pub, both in Hackensack; Rivienne, Little Falls; Perhach's Tavern, Manville; Andiron Inn, Marlboro; Blue Diamond Restaurant, Newark; Rusty Nail Restaurant, Pennsauken; Village Ale House, Pine Hill; Oakwood Inn, Salem; Harry's Inn Restaurant, Somers Point; Joe's Mill Hill Saloon, Trenton; Station House Pub, Wall Twp.; The Larchwood, West Long Branch; and Club Casba, Wildwood.

Establishments in Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, Virginia and Washington, D.C. are also participating in the "Check Yourself" program. "Check Yourself" is aiming for nationwide implementation within the next few years.

"The key to curbing drunk driving lies in effective education programs and in helping people determine their ability to drive safely at the point of consumption, before they get into their cars," says William Wolfe, "Check Yourself" executive director.

The "Check Yourself" breathalyzer was developed by Dr. Manley Luckey, a leading toxicologist. Luckey Laboratories supplies most of the breathalyzers used by the F.B.I., hospitals and law enforcement agencies nationwide.

Share In The Royal Wedding

The stamp celebrating Prince Charles' wedding in 1981 is already a collector's item. The stamps issued in honor of Prince Andrew's marriage are also expected to do the same. They're featured on a postcard available free in the United States.

Putting its stamp of approval on the marriage of Prince Andrew and Sarah Ferguson, the British Post Office offers two special stamps, issued on July 22, the day before the royal wedding at Westminster Abbey.

The stamps — designed by Jeffrey Matthews — are in values of 12 pence and 17 pence and show the couple in an informal pose, with the princess-to-be displaying her ruby engagement ring. Prince Andrew's insignia as a royal navy lieutenant is featured on the 17p stamp. A complementary design of wedding bells rings out on the 12p stamp.

These stamps are expected to follow a long tradition by becoming valuable collectors' items say the experts on stamps and stamp collecting at Stanley Gibbons, Inc. For instance:

• In 1840, Queen Victoria (Prince Andrew's Great-Great-Grandmother) married Prince Albert and issued the world's first postage stamp, featuring her profile. It cost a penny then. If you had one now, you could probably get $5,000 for it.

• In 1948, Prince Andrew's Grandparents, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth celebrated their silver wedding anniversary. The stamp issued then cost one Pound sterling (about $3 at the time) and is now valued at $180.

• As recently as 1972, the Prince's parents marked their own silver anniversary with a 20p stamp now worth about $2.25.

• In 1981, the Prince and Princess of Wales' royal wedding also led to a stamp issuance. Only 39p then, many collectors believe its value will continue to increase.

As a token of goodwill, the British Post Office is making available in the United States a limited number of official postcards showing in full color the Royal Wedding stamps.

You can get the postcard as your official souvenir of the royal wedding, and learn more about the commemorative stamps by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Royal Wedding, StanGib Limited, 124 Charlotte Ave., Hicksville, NY 11801.

Good News Department

Supply Up: Prices Down

There are ample supplies of natural gas to serve the nation's 166 million gas energy consumers at competitive prices according to the experts at the American Gas Association. In fact, they say, there's a surplus gas supply.

Experts predict natural gas prices will remain low into the 1990's.

Natural gas can be used to reduce U.S. dependence on foreign oil and help make America energy independent as well as hold down prices. The trend of moderating gas prices that started in 1983 is expected to continue at least through the end of the decade. Natural gas remains less expensive than oil or electricity.

Environmental considerations have become increasingly important as the nation attempts to reduce possible acid rain damage. Natural gas can play a key role in such efforts, experts say, because it emits virtually no pollutants when burned.

Hospital Receives United Way Fundings for Youth Programs

South Amboy Memorial Hospital and Community Mental Health Center has received a grant for $28,977 from the United Way of Central Jersey to create and maintain a youth services planning and coordinating council that will serve as a catalyst for addressing the problems of youth in southern Middlesex County. The hospital was one of four agencies receiving a total of $118,545 in innovative venture grant funds for four new human services programs to begin operation in Middlesex County, with added emphasis on south county areas.

According to Bernard P. Indik, Ph.D., vice president of planning and program development for the local United Way, these one-time grants can be awarded by the United Way to both member and non-member agencies and are intended as seed money to encourage creative thinking toward developing new human services programs or making improvements in existing ones. Grant recipients are also required to demonstrate cooperative service delivery between two or more agencies or community groups in order to receive funds, according to Dr. Indik.

Commenting on the significance of the grant to South Amboy Memorial Hospital and Community

Mental Health Center, Irv J. Diamond, chief executive officer, said, "We view this grant as a tremendous opportunity to help coordinate the provision of desperately needed mental health services for young adults in the southern portion of our service area. We are deeply grateful to United Way for giving us this opportunity and our hospital resources are committed to this effort to help our young people lead happy and healthy lives."

According to Sally Diller, Mental Health Administrator for the hospital, the south county area ranks number one for juvenile arrests, demonstrating a critical need for comprehensive youth services in this area. The Youth Services Coordinating Council, to be created and coordinated by South Amboy Memorial Hospital, will be composed of 15 community agencies whose representatives will work together to identify specific problems of youth living in southern Middlesex County. The council will then come up with a plan for addressing these problems and identify community resources to meet young people's needs.

"In some instances this may involve coordinating and mobilizing community service that already exist," explained Miss Diller. "In other instances, new services may have to be established, such as setting up self-help groups in local churches. Mental and emotional problems are at the root of so many of our teenager's difficulties at school, at home and with the law enforcement agencies. By giving these youngsters a place to go, people to contact, we will be providing a tangible, visible network of resources they can tap into at any time for confidential, sympathetic help."

The other three agencies, in addition to South Amboy Memorial Hospital, which received grants are Women Aware, Inc., Catholic Charities and the Planned Parenthood League of Middlesex County.

Ask Dr. Vitale

ABOUT BONDING

Q. How long does tooth bonding last?

A. Normally, bonding lasts from 3 to 5 years, but this varies from person to person. Personal lifestyles, habits, and the condition of the teeth that are bonded can affect longevity. People who are heavy smokers, coffee drinkers, or nail biters are not good candidates for tooth bonding even though newer, stronger materials offset the negative effects of such habits. Sometimes such teeth develop tiny, barely perceptible chips. Also, patients with hard bites can expect to pay more frequent visits to the dentist for small repairs. Each case, however, must be individually reviewed.

Is Formaldehyde Polluting Your Home?

It seems that nearly every day another study is published challenging the safety of some commonly used substance. Unfortunately, it is likely to be true that certain familiar household chemicals are harmful.

One of those chemicals is formaldehyde, which is often used to preserve laboratory specimens. Formaldehyde is also present, however, in very low concentrations as a curing or binding agent in some household items such as wood paneling, laminated countertops, particle board shelving, upholstery and wood veneer, urea foam insulation (banned in 1982), draperies, carpeting and other textiles. Formaldehyde is also found in some permanent press fabrics. As formaldehyde slowly cures, it releases small particles into the home environment.

It's not news that formaldehyde can be harmful. Over the years several studies have confirmed that formaldehyde gas leaking from household furnishings can cause burning of the eyes, nose or throat, rashes, headaches, dizziness and nausea in sensitive individuals. It is suspected that formaldehyde gas may also cause cancer. In one study, rats exposed to high levels of formaldehyde over long periods developed nasal cancer.

However, even if a house contains a number of products made with formaldehyde, the particles released from them might not be significant enough to cause any harm. Measuring formaldehyde levels within the home is the only way to be certain.

Some local health departments analyze indoor air samples, or it can be done for less than $40 with a 3M formaldehyde monitor available by calling (812) 428-0691. The monitor is a badge-like device that can be clipped to draperies or a piece of furniture. After hanging in the home for a day, it is returned to 3M for analysis. Results are returned promptly.

Based on those results, your local health department can help determine if formaldehyde levels are acceptable and make recommendations to control or reduce formaldehyde outgassing.

For most people, however, the results of a formaldehyde analysis will provide peace of mind. Formaldehyde gas present in most homes is usually well below established safety levels and will not endanger the health of the residents.

Info on Social Security Cards and Benefits

Many new parents have been receiving letters from companies offering, for a fee, to help them get Social Security cards for their infants. These companies claim infants need cards because the law is about to change, and they charge up to $10 to send forms needed for applying for a card. In fact, however, infants only need Social Security cards when they receive income from employment such as when they are paid as models or when a bank account is opened in their names. Brides have also heard from the same companies offering to help them change their names on the Social Security cards. If you need to get your child a card, or if you need to correct one for yourself, you can get a free application from your local Social Security office.

To learn about how to apply for a Social Security card, what benefits are available, who is eligible to receive them, how long you have to work under Social Security for benefits, and when you can retire, send for a free copy of the Social Security booklet, YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY. Just send your name and address to Department 510P, Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

For retirement benefits, how much you get depends to a large extent on when you stop working. You can retire at age 62, but your benefits will be reduced permanently. Sixty-five is currently the age when one is entitled to begin to receive full Social Security benefits. And if you can continue to work beyond age 65, it could be your advantage.

First, you can earn up to an annual limit that changes each year and still draw the same Social Security check as if you were completely retired. Then, if you earn over the limit, for every two dollars you earn, your retirement benefits will be reduced by one dollar. If you make an amount of money in a year which causes your benefits to be reduced to zero you'll earn the right to higher retirement benefits when you finally stop working.

The limit on the amount of money you can earn before your benefits are reduced applies only to people under 70. When you turn 70, your wages have no effect at all on your Social Security checks, so no matter how much you earn, you get full retirement benefits.

Social Security can also help provide for dependent parents age 62 or older in the event of the death of children on which they were dependent. There are benefits as well for the unmarried minor children of workers who die, retire, or become disabled. Also if you are divorced but were married for ten years or more to a person who was insured under Social Security, at age 62 you will be eligible for Social Security benefits. You would be eligible at 60 if your ex-spouse has died. Social Security also includes Medicare and other benefit programs. If you think you may be eligible for benefits, contact the nearest Social Security office. In Middlesex County, these offices are located at 336 Madison Avenue, Perth Amboy, phone 727-5500, and 52 Charles Street, New Brunswick, phone: 800-272-1111. Residents of Matawan and Aberdeen should call or visit the Perth Amboy office. In Union County, persons living in Linden, Rahway and Roselle may also use the toll-free number or visit the office at 342 Westminister Avenue in Elizabeth.

PRAYER THROUGH application to the Holy Spirit. Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evil against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things as you confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you even and in spite of all material illusion. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine.

The person must say this prayer for three consecutive days. After three days the favor requested will be granted, even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor. Only your initials should appear at the bottom.

INTENSIVE CARE

WE HAVE WHAT IT TAKES TO SERVE YOU.

When a patient is in critical condition, the Intensive Care Unit, with its cardiac monitors and other sophisticated medical equipment, can be a confusing, even frightening place. To be sure, modern medical equipment and procedures are necessary for good medical care, but it takes much more to start a seriously ill or injured patient on the road to recovery.

At South Amboy Memorial Hospital, we believe that the compassion and understanding of the hospital staff are major factors in the recovery of any patient. But for those who are coping with a life-threatening illness or injury, a feeling of reassurance and confidence are necessary for the healing process to take place. A smile, a kind word or a gentle touch go a long way in making our patients stay in the intensive care unit easier and more comfortable.

Pictured above, Mary Vohdin, RN (center) and Nanette Salvatore, RN (right), Patient Care Coordinator of the Intensive Care Unit, visit with JoAnn Incontrera, of Old Bridge. "We've come a long way in our technology," said Mrs. Salvatore, "but we believe that letting our patients know we care and that they are not alone is still the best medicine."
