UNITED WAR WORK CAMPAIGN

Starts With Big Public Meeting at Empire Theatre on Sunday Afternoon - Everybody Should Help to Make South Amboy's Quota Go Away Over the Top.

Next week the committee will start their campaign to raise ten thousand dollars for United War Work. South Amboy has had an opportunity to see how these relief organizations work and how they are on the job. It was but a few hours after the start of the explosion at Morgan when the War Camp Community Service and the Y. M. C. A. were in South Amboy. As a thanksgiving offering let us put South Amboy "over the top" with a big over subscription.

Meeting at Empire Theatre.

The opening gun of the campaign will be fired on Sunday afternoon at the Empire Theatre. This meeting was arranged through the courtesy of the management of this amusement place. Several prominent speakers will be on hand to tell of the workings of these various organizations. Moving pictures of the boys in action will be shown. These pictures are released through George Creel, chairman of the committee on Public Information. Besides these movies there will be a series of slides showing the different organizations at work with the boys "over there" and "over here." It is estimated that there are five hundred South Amboy boys serving with Uncle Sam's forces. Let their home town give twenty dollars for every boy of them serving. Early in the week the first of Amboy's wounded heroes returned to this city. He was in the best of spirits and without such organizations this would be impossible. For a year and one-half he did not see a familiar face from home. Yet all the time he was kept contented and happy. The Y. W. C. A. and the Salvation Army add a bit of home like aspect to their "huts" and their places are very popular for the boys who are homesick.

This campaign will be known as the United War Workers Campaign and their slogan is "Seven in one." Those united in this work are the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the K. of C., Jewish Welfare Board, Salvation Army, War Camp Community Service, and the American Library Association. Each one is devoted entirely to the welfare of the boys working for Uncle Sam. The military authorities state that it will be two years before the American Forces are all returned to this side. It can be readily understood just what responsibilities rest with these organizations.

Don't forget the big meeting at the Empire Theatre on Sunday. At this time when the patriotism of the country is at its highest pitch there is bound to be good speaking. Kept up with the thought of seeing our loved ones once more, it is time to open up our hearts and our pocket-books. Frank Hoffman of this city is arranging a splendid musical program.

Don't let the rumor of peace cut down your gift one cent, as these seven organizations have great responsibilities on their hands.

THE HOSPITAL.

All interested in the permanent organization of a South Amboy City Hospital are urged to attend the meeting to be held in the Mayor's office at the City Hall on Monday evening.

Mayor Kerr has selected the following as a Board of Governors: H. C. Perrine, R. C. Stephenson, R. M. Mack, John A. Coan, D. W. Reed, John Sutcliffe, Francis H. Gordon, Rev. A. B. Strenski, Rev. J. E. Shaw, Rev. Lewis A. Hayes and A. T. Kerr.

FUNERAL OF MISS THUMHARDT.

The funeral of Miss Anna S. Thumhardt was held from St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock on Monday morning, and was well attended by friends and relatives. High mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. Lewis A. Hayes, after which interment was made in the parish cemetery.

The City Hospital Plan Is Favored

A hospital is a necessity in South Amboy! This was the decision reached by those attending the meeting for this purpose at the City Hall on Monday evening. Although there were only a very few representatives from the people of this city present, those in attendance were so much enthused with the idea that it was decided to organize the South Amboy Hospital Association.

The meeting was called to order shortly after eight o'clock by Mayor Kerr, who was then elected chairman. Richard M. Mack was elected secretary. Dr. Buckler, the physician who has been in charge of the hospital in this city for the past month, was the first speaker. He told of the need of such an institution. He explained the work done by the Red Cross during their stay here and the work still to be done by the citizens of the city. He stated that following such an epidemic of influenza there would be numerous cases of pneumonia and that a place would have to be provided to take care of them; that men coming into the city from all over the country, living under the crowded conditions that the housing facilities of the city offers was bound to bring disease into the city and to readily spread it around.

Mr. Faust was the next speaker. Mr. Faust has been in charge of the Red Cross work in South Amboy. He briefly outlined the plan that they had been following since their coming to this city, and told of the establishment of temporary playgrounds in different sections of the city in order to provide healthy recreation during the emergency to keep down the epidemic. He stated that the playground on Stevensdale would be the foundation for a permanent playground, something that the city badly needs.

On a motion offered by Mr. John A. Coan, it was the sense of the meeting that the City of South Amboy take over the South Amboy Hospital. This motion was adopted. He then offered a motion, after explaining that no less than five men or women could incorporate, that the Mayor as chairman appoint a committee of twelve to act as a Board of Governors. Rev. L. A. Hayes then offered a motion that the next meeting be held at the same place at the same time on next Monday evening.

Captain Roddy stated that Company F had received the ambulance and it was open to inspection.

On a motion by Rev. A. B. Strenski, the meeting adjourned.

JOHNSON'S STORE ROBBED.

Some time Saturday night thieves entered the store of J. Alfred Johnson, Broadway and Augusta street, and stole goods to the value of $250. The thieves entered by breaking the glass in the door on Augusta street, and then unlocking the door.

The robbery was reported to Chief McDonnell who got busy at once and soon had one of the thieves in custody. The thieves had taken suit cases from the shelves and loaded them with shoes, sweaters, clothing, ingers, watches, wrist watches, neckties, caps and various other articles.

Chief McDonnell's suspicion led to Joseph Boshier of Bergen Hill as one of the thieves, and soon had him in custody, and found about $150 worth of the goods in his possession. Boshier's partner in the robbery has not been apprehended as yet. At a hearing on Thursday Justice Birmingham held Boshier for the Juvenile Court. The lad is an old offender, being at present on probation, and more than likely Judge Daly will now send him to the Boys Home at Jamesburg.

MRS. MARY DUNIHAN.

Mrs. Mary Dunihan departed this life at the Presbyterian Hospital, New York, on October 30, at the age of 34 years. She had been ill a long time.

Undertaker J. J. Scully brought the body to the home of her sister, Miss Catherine Gallagher of David street this city.

The funeral was held from St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, when solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated for the repose of her soul. Interment was made in the parish cemetery. The pallbearers were John Sullivan, Frank Scully, John Coyne, Richard Carroll, James W. Rea and Ernest Zinkham.

DEMOCRATS CARRY CITY

Elect All Local Candidates—Scully Re-Elected to Congress—Tom Brown Goes to State Senate—Republicans Get U. S. Senators and Freeholders.

Tuesday, election day, was unusually quiet in this city, and a political argument of any kind could not be started. Citizens went to the polls and voted, and then disappeared to other parts.

Notwithstanding there were 1970 voters registered, only 1242 were polled. This may seem to be a big discrepancy, but when it is considered that 500 voters are serving Uncle Sam and many have left town since registration, the vote was about normal.

Congressman Scully has cause to feel proud of his home town, which gave him a majority of 610, he receiving about three-fourths of all the votes cast. This shows he has some Republican friends in this city.

Thomas Brown, for State Senator, a former South Amboy boy, was given a splendid vote. We feel sure Tom will feel proud of his old home town.

Locally the entire Democratic ticket was elected by good majorities. The Third Warders like Councilman Stanton and have returned him to the Council by a splendid majority. Daniel J. Delaney, now a member of the Board of Education, has been elected councilman-at-large, and George A. Kress will represent the Second Ward in the Common Council. Reuben Forgotson was elected Justice of the Peace in the First Ward.

To fill U. S. Senator vacancy, Reilly, Socialist, received 21 votes, and Day, National Prohibition, 23. Reilly also received for full term 18 votes.

The Republicans in the county gave majorities to two U. S. Senators, and members of the Board of Freeholders, while the Democrats elected members of the Assembly, State Senator, and coroner. Following is a list of winners:

United States Senator (short term)—David Baird, Republican.
United States Senator (long term)—Walter E. Edge, Republican.
Congressman (Third district)—Thomas J. Scully, Democrat.
State Senator—Thomas Brown, Democrat.

General Assemblymen—Andrew Kirkpatrick, Democrat; Andrew J. Wright, Democrat; Fred W. DeVoe, Democrat.

Board of Chosen Freeholders—J. Edgar Bennett, Republican; George S. Applegate, Republican.

MISSING IN ACTION.

Privates Gabe Jasper of 340 Augusta street and Frank Pietro of 208 Bordentown avenue have been reported as missing in action.

Senate Probe Begun Into Morgan Blast

Empowered to investigate the explosion which wrecked the T. A. Gillespie Company's shell-loading plant in Morgan on October 5, causing deaths variously estimated to a number between fifty and 100 and property damage amounting to more than $12,000,000, a sub-committee of the military affairs committee of the United States Senate began hearings in the Perth Amboy City Hall Thursday.

It is expected that both civil and military officials at the plant, which is owned by the Ordnance Department of the army and operated by the Gillespie company, will be called to testify. The sub-committee, which is composed of Senators Henry L. Myers of Montana, Joseph S. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey and J. C. W. Beckham of Kentucky, will seek to acquaint itself with the conditions that existed at the plant before the first big-shell loading unit was blown to pieces, causing a series of other blasts through the night and next morning and spreading panic in the surrounding countryside.

The investigators also will go into the charge, made by Senator Frelinghuysen, in pressing the resolution for an inquiry, that excessive quantities of trinitrotoluol, known as "TNT," had been kept in storage at the plant. Survivors of the explosion and other employees will be heard, it is believed.

Senator Frelinghuysen was the only member of the committee present at Thursday's hearing. Senator Myers was taken ill in Washington Wednesday night and was unable to come north. Senator Beckham has been in Kentucky, but word was received Thursday morning that he had left for Perth Amboy.

Councilman-at-Large Francis H. Gordon is representing this city at the investigation.

Troop Trains Make Short Stops Here

On Tuesday the people of this city were somewhat mystified to see three troop trains stop in this city at short intervals. Upon investigation it was learned that the troops were selective service men who were sent to Fort Hancock on September 22 for training and were being transferred to Camp Eustus. Among the men on the train were several South Amboy men who have been on duty at the fort. During their stay of only a few minutes nearby stores were cleaned out of smokes of all descriptions. Some of them were purchased by the men while others were given away by the patriotic people of this city. One restaurant keeper made up sandwiches and distributed them. The local post office handled a great deal of mail from these trains, announcing the transfer of the boys.

Mrs. A. C. Parlsen has re-opened her musical studio and is now ready to receive her pupils.

NEED MONEY FOR REPAIRS

Board of Education Will Request Board of Estimate to Discount Note for $5,000—Matter Will Be Submitted to Common Council Next Tuesday.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education held in the City Hall some time ago it was decided to hire J. M. Voss Construction Company to make emergency repairs to School Number 2. Mr. Grace, who offered this resolution, also offered a resolution to the effect that the Board of Education borrow for a period of one month from the First National Bank five thousand dollars. When the committee waited on the bank they were informed that the Board of Education had no authority to borrow money for such purposes, that it would have to come through the Board of Estimate in form of a recommendation to the Common Council. For this reason a special meeting of the Board of Education was called for Wednesday evening in the office of Prof. O. O. Barr.

After stating the purpose of the meeting President Mack called for remarks from the members of the board. Mr. Rue stated that the only way that money could be had was to apply to the Board of Estimate for the amount and have them recommend this appropriation from the Common Council. Mr. Mack stated that he thought this the best way as he had a conference with John A. Coan, the board's legal advisor, who had given him a written opinion to the same effect.

Mr. Delaney offered a resolution that the board appeal to the Board of Estimate requesting an emergency appropriation of five thousand dollars. This resolution also authorized the secretary to draw warrants for money due the J. M. Voss Construction Company, upon receipt of this money. This resolution was adopted.

Two bills of the J. M. Voss Construction Company for $2,500.86 and $607.07 were ordered paid.

Upon the suggestion of Mr. Rue, the chairman of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, the bids to supply school Number No. 1 with curtains were opened for examination. There were two bids received each specifying two different grades of shades. The bids were as follows:

H. Wolf & Co. $118.00 $125.00
M. Kaufman 117.48 125.40

After examination by the committee Mr. Delaney offered a motion that the contract be awarded to M. Kaufman for $117.48, he being the lowest bidder.

SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY.

After being closed for five weeks on account of damage done by the explosion, the public school No. 2 will re-open on Monday next.

Pupils who attended School No. 2 will attend morning session at 8.15 o'clock, and those who attended School No. 1 will meet at 12.30 p. m. High school pupils will report at usual hour, 9 a. m.

It is hoped that the attendance will be up to the standard attained before the explosion.

COUNCIL MEETING ADJOURNED.

On account of Tuesday being election night the regular meeting of the council was scheduled to be held Wednesday evening in the City Hall. However just previous to the time for calling the meeting the president received a request to adjourn until a meeting of the Board of Estimate could be arranged. After calling the meeting together and the clerk conducting the roll call, which showed Councilmen Hackett and Gordon absent, the president stated the matter. He stated that if the members so desired he would go ahead with the meeting and dispose of the regular business and call a special meeting on next Tuesday evening for the purpose of disposing of the school matter. Mr. Shuey stated that if no urgent business was before the council he would be in favor of a postponement. Upon the call for a motion Councilman Parlsen offered a motion that the meeting adjourn until next Tuesday evening.

More Young Men Go To Camp Next Week

Next week more boys from this city will go to Camp Dix, leaving on November 13 and 15.

Those to entrain on November 13 are Peter Dewey Rush, Andrew Slover, Jr., George L. Lenahan, Sylvester A. Scully, J. Ray Malloy, David Ladue, and Henry A. Nilson. These boys will leave P. R. R. station at 1.50 p. m.

Those to entrain on November 15 are Frank J. Kuzney, Gustave Olsen, John Weiczorek, A. H. Stumpf, Francis J. Minnick, Frank Skarcenski, Charles Domzal, Joseph R. Leszczyak, Giuseppe Sorrentino, Frank R. Drake, and Thomas Suchorski. Train will leave P. R. R. station at 11.15 a. m.

Isador Herbert Fixler, of 118 Broadway, has enlisted in the Motor Corps, and leaves for Camp on Nov. 12th.

FIND IN EXPLOSION RUINS

BODY OF MISSING GUARD

The body of Thomas Gasp, thirty-four years old, of Red Bank, a guard at the Morgan munitions plant at the time of the explosion four weeks ago, was found Sunday buried under debris.

Gasp was formerly a butler in the home of Cornelius Vanderbilt and gave up a similar job at the country estate of Samuel Riker, Jr., to work at Morgan. He leaves a widow and two children.

ELIJAH SLOCUM.

Elijah Slocum, a life long resident of this city, died at his home in Mechanicsville on Wednesday after only a brief illness of pneumonia. He was employed by Timothy Sullivan as a driver and was considered a trustworthy employee. A widow and several children survive; also a sister, Mrs. Edward Ross of Philadelphia. The body was taken in charge by Undertakers E. S. Mason & Son.

Mayor Kerr at Capital on Road Matters

Mayor Kerr attended a meeting in Washington on Monday of this week to talk over the prospects of getting the road between this city and Perth Amboy fixed. This meeting was arranged through the efforts of the Motor Vehicles Association of New Jersey. The T. A. Gillespie Company also had representatives at the meeting. This company is the agent of the United States Ordnance Department. They stated that unless the roads were put in good shape there would be no shells turned out for months to come. Transportation of supplies and building material were being cut off on account of these roads.

Nothing definite was reached at this meeting but the prospect of getting a semi-permanent pavement laid from Perth Amboy to the city line is very good. This road together with the "Hole-in-the-Wall" has given South Amboy a black eye for years among auto drivers.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Executive Board of the Woman's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. O. O. Barr, 237 Stevens Avenue, on Thursday evening, November 14th, at 7.30 o'clock.

LIBRARY NOTES.

The library opened Wednesday, November 6. There will be no fines on books due between October 4th and November 6th, but all fines payable before October 4th are still due. There is a fine War Map at the library.

MARY HYSON SIMANEK.

Mary Hyson Simanek, wife of William Simanek, departed this life on October 30, at the home of William Hyson on Augusta street. The deceased had been ill and came to this city from Hackensack, and the explosion brought on a nervous breakdown from which she never rallied. Besides a husband, she is survived by two children, three brothers and two sisters, one of the latter being Mrs. Walter Barklow of this city.

Funeral service was held from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning, the Rev. Lewis A. Hayes officiating at the high mass of requiem. Interment was made in the parish cemetery.

NEW BRUNSWICK TO HAVE

WELFARE STATION

The State Department of Health announced that Dr. Julius Levy, who is in charge of the child hygiene work for the state has been in conference with Mrs. A. L. Smith, chairman of the Child Welfare Department for Middlesex County, of the Council of National Defense, and that they, in company with Mrs. A. Wayne Clark, local chairman, visited proposed locations for the infant welfare station which will be located in New Brunswick, which will be the center from which the work for that community will radiate.

The nurse is engaged for that community, Miss Emma Heberd, and the station equipment is purchased, so that the work can be launched as soon as the final arrangements are made for the location of the station. The state department is in receipt of a letter from Ira T. Chapman, superintendent of schools, stating his desire to co-operate in this work so that the state department and the public schools of New Brunswick may be of more assistance to each other.

The work is progressing in Burlington County. In Burlington City the station is being opened at the Civic League Club House. The nurse in charge is Miss Helen Harrington. In Mt. Holly the station may be located at the hospital, and the nurse assigned there is Mrs. Eva Kroon.

The nurse engaged for the Mercer County work is Miss Emma Mueller, Mrs. J. E. Van Horne, Mercer County chairman of the Department of Child Welfare of the Council of National Defense, and her committee, have several locations in Trenton under consideration, but definite arrangements cannot be made for several days. In the interval Miss Mueller has been assigned to assist at the city and child welfare station.

NEW JERSEY'S

INTERCOSTAL CANAL

Announcement is made by the N. Y. Port and Harbor Development Commission that the right of way survey for the intercostal canal which is to cross New Jersey, from Raritan Bay to the Delaware River below Trenton, is almost complete. This big water highway is to be built on a sea level grade and will carry 25 feet of water. It is to be built by the Government and will cost in the neighborhood of $40,000,000. Its completion will permit war vessels and freight carriers to traverse almost the entire Atlantic coast from Boston to Jacksonville without entering the ocean.

It is the belief of the twin-state commission that completion of the New Jersey section of the intercostal canal will add greatly to the capacity and facilities of the port of New York as it will be an artery not only for freight destined to foreign ports, but will be a highway for the movement and distribution of a huge volume of domestic freight originating in the great industrial centers surrounding New York port.

Between Air Raids.

This is a thrilling and true story of two women who kept a "posto di conforto" at Treviso, Italy, for traveling sick and wounded soldiers:

Having done some very good terrorizing by the six o'clock raids, the Hun kept them up. It was such a pestiferous nuisance, because we were always in the middle of cooking the evening meal! With your soldier cook and servant safe down in the cellar, it becomes your pleasing duty to run out between raids to stir the soup or put another stick of wood on the fire. With shrapnel falling all around, it is not altogether wise to go with uncovered head. We had given our two helmets to American ambulance drivers and were without any, so I was obliged to wear a granite saucer on my head for these stirring parties. It was not our custom to go into a refuge. We claimed to those who expostulated that during the raids was when we were the most needed.—Red Cross Magazine.

His Draconic Action.

"It seems to me that motorists passing through here are extremely reckless in their driving," said the hypercritical guest. "Don't the authorities try to do anything to stop their speeding through town?"

"Well," responded the landlord of the Petunia tavern, "Constable Black-peter didn't do much till one day rider ran smack over him and went racing off to the westward. But then, you betcha, he crawled to a telephone, called up the captain of the home guards at Wayoverbehind, and ordered him to get his company out and take the nefarious cuss dead or alive. The captain didn't do it, but it just showed how awake to his duty Sinek had suddenly become. Any time you run over a small town officer you can get action and re-action out of him."—Kansas City Star.

LOUDER THAN ANY THUNDER

Modern Guns Make Noise That Is Far Above That of "Heaven's Artillery."

Every big noise is compared to thunder, as if heaven's artillery were the greatest noise imaginable. We speak commonly of "the thunder of the guns," and the poets have always spread themselves on the terrific cannonade of a thunder storm. But the plain fact is that man's artillery beats the clouds into fits, if the distance at which each can be heard is any criterion of the intensity and volume of sound.

The gunfire in Flanders has been heard in London countless times, while it is quite impossible to say how far the famous mineburst on the Vimy ridge, produced by human agency, though not gunfire, could be heard. But it is doubtful whether the loudest thunder that ever pealed has been heard 20 miles away.

One of the greatest thunder storms of recent years occurred in the Richmond area, but not a sound of it reached London, and it is on record that when the church steeple of Lostwithiel was destroyed by lightning to the accompaniment of such a roar of thunder as the oldest inhabitant could not remember, no sound was heard 30 miles distant.

The explanation of this seeming anomaly is possibly the fact that thunder is produced in the air, and the sound is conveyed by earth waves rather than by air waves.—London Chronicle.

WOMEN HANDLE BIG SHELLS

Young Mother Gave Practical Demonstration of Their Physical Fitness to Do So.

When women first were put to work in shell factories in England they handled only the light field-gun shells. Later it became necessary for them to turn out larger shells, and doubts were raised as to whether the women were strong enough to handle them. A young mother settled the question.

"Let me lift the shell," she said, picking one up from the floor. "Aye," she commented, "this shell is a mite heavy, 'tis true, but it's not so heavy as my baby."

There is a shell factory in the Liverpool district operated almost exclusively by the daughters of business and professional men. Many are young girls who had never done any kind of work other than needle work and cooking. The heavy work of the establishment is performed by the wives of sailors.

This is a nonprofit-making factory and it is the reply of the Cunard company to the Germans for the sinking of the Lusitania.

Rip Van Noah.

It was the first twilight game at the local ball park, and the little fan with the whiskers just had to tell something to celebrate the occasion.

"Boys, here's a new one my son wrote me," he said, as he climbed into the bleachers.

"Well, spring it! Spring it!" begged the "gang." "Let's get it over with."

"Yuh know my son's at the National army camp at Chillicothe. Yeh, he came out flat-footed for the war. Hah-hah!" said the little man, as he bit into a cigar which everybody knew was made in Wheeling. "Well, here is what he wrote me this morning: 'Dear Pop—Here is a joke. I hope you see the point. What put the chill in Chillicothe? Why, the draft, of course. Jimmy. P. S. This is some city.' Now wasn't that just like Jimmy. Some little joke. He-he!"

"Yes, some little joke," said the crowd, "you old Mr. Rip Van Noah."

Imitated Kopenick Captain.

An extraordinary instance of Teutonic servility where uniforms are concerned has occurred at Essen. A party of three armed individuals, two in soldiers' and one in a policeman's uniform, made a round of all the schools of the town, representing themselves to be authorized to collect the children's satchels. They paid a trifle in each case for the leather straps attached to them, and carried away their booty. After a few days, the whole affair was discovered to be a swindle. "How it is possible that this could have been carried on for days without anyone having the courage to challenge their authority remains one of the mysteries of the war," says the Rhenish Westphalian Gazette.

Flying Temperament.

The most eminent of British scientists have devoted special study to the psychological and physiological aspects of flying. One authority says that good eyesight, normal hearing, good "muscle sense," and equilibrium are indispensable qualifications. But most important of all is the right temperament—not an easy thing for a medical board to examine. Of the types—the imaginative and the unimaginative—the imaginative youth is said to make the better pilot if he can keep his imagination under control.

Two Prize Captives.

While on sentry duty one night one of the men at Camp Colt, who had been the butt of numerous company jokes, halted two of his worst tormentors as they were endeavoring to slip into camp after taps. In response to his challenge they stated that they were Kaiser Bill and Von Hindenburg. "Whereupon the sentry called for the officer of the guard, reported his distinguished guests, and had the satisfaction of seeing them headed directly for the guardhouse.

FRESHEN UP GOWN

Panels of Chiffon or Georgette Give Air of Newness.

Wide Girdle of Silk or Velvet Fastened With Loop and Sash Ends Also Adds Materially.

A frock of satin or taffeta left over from last year, too good to discard, may be made quite up to date by freshening it with chiffon or georgette crepe. Take, for instance, says a fashion writer, a gown of beige taffeta, with its deep bands of plaited navy blue chiffon encircling the skirt. Such a model makes an excellent example for remodeling a gown and giving it a note of freshness and style. The blouse, if not too dilapidated, could easily be freshened by a plaited frill of chiffon of the same or contrasting tone. The frill could be made wide at the back and sides and gradually narrow toward the belt as it descends in crossover effect from left to right and is caught under the grille. The lower part of the sleeves may also be given a deep band of the chiffon or may be made with a wide turnback of the chiffon. A wide girdle of silk or velvet fastened with a loop and sash ends would add materially in freshening up such a gown. The wide-plaited flounces of the chiffon would serve to conceal seams and also add a note of newness and smartness to the frock.

A somewhat worn-looking frock may be freshened by inserting panels of chiffon, and vice versa a frock of chiffon or georgette crepe may have panels inserted of satin or taffeta.

Of course, the frock which is trimmed with panels must be straight and slim. The panels may be hung at the sides or at the back and front. The panels sometimes begin at the shoulder points and extend almost to the skirt hem. At the waist line they in most cases are caught under a sash or girdle. But not always are they caught in at the waist. One particularly smart costume noted recently had a draped panel of chiffon caught at the shoulders toward the back and extending down the skirt, the ends disappearing in the skirt folds. The effect was much like that of a cape. The tunic frock is another style which offers opportunities for those who wish to remodel a last year's gown.

A very pretty model was made of georgette crepe over satin. The V-neck of the bodice was outlined by a narrow satin ribbon which extended in loops down to the waist line. The long-waisted bodice was slightly looped over or puffed at the lower part, concealing the joining line of the blouse and the tunic. The tunic skirt was bordered by an inch-and-a-half-wide satin ribbon. The underskirt was of satin.

Many materials are pressed into service for the separate skirt, from organdie, glenham and foulard to heavy velvets, corduroys and sports tweeds. Silk poplin and satin skirts are very much in favor.

WEAR RIBBED WOOLEN HOSE

Ribbed woolen stockings in dark grays, greens, blues, browns and mixtures will be very much worn this fall and winter with low black or tan ex-fords. These shown are of dark forest green.

Cord Girdles.

In line with the string girdle or belt—the long stitched fold of fabric that is tied around the frock somewhere near the waistline—is the girdle or belt of heavy cord. It is tied loosely at the side and hangs in long ends.

Informal Attire.

For the informal luncheon many women wear a costume of all white with the exception of a brilliant velvet or satin waistcoat.

YANKS DISLIKE FRENCH CASH

Call Greenbacks "Real Money"—Complain That Francs Slip Through Fingers.

Forgetting how to figure in "regular money" and learning how to calculate in "this doggon stuff" is one of the first worries of the American soldiers in France, says New York Evening Sun.

"Regular money" is good old dollars and cents, nickels, dimes and quarters.

"This doggon stuff" is the name applied to French francs, usually paper money, often as low as single francs, or 20 cents, for most small cities have issued local small change currency.

The Americans do not like French paper money. They say it is trash, and tears, and is hard to count.

On the other hand, the French are shocked when an American crumples French paper up and shoves it in his pocket the "way they do back home." French money is to be handled in big pocketbooks and not crumpled.

"Look at some real money once," a doughboy told a merchant, and flashed a bright new silver certificate. When he crumpled it up in his fist to show how "real money can be used" the Frenchman almost fainted.

The Americans are paid almost entirely in French money and they are getting used to francs, though they all agree "a franc's so small it slips through your fingers like water."

HOW THEY HELP TO WIN WAR

Country's Youngsters More Than "Doing Their Bit" for the Country We All Love.

More than 2,400,000 boys and girls were reached through club work last year, according to a compilation recently made by the United States department of agriculture, which supervises this work in co-operation with the State Agricultural colleges. Of this number approximately 350,000 made complete reports, which show that they produced and conserved products amounting to $10,000,000. In the 33 Northern and Western states 840,000 boys and girls were enrolled. Of this number 100,625 had reported products valued at $3,700,000. In the South there were 115,745 boys enrolled in the regular work, who produced products valued at $4,500,000, and 74,306 girls who produced and conserved products valued at $1,500,000. In the emergency club work in the South the club leaders reached over 400,000 boys and approximately 1,000,000 girls who produced and conserved products valued at more than $4,000,000.

Must Be a Branch of Hades.

Men do live and work and accomplish things in Mesopotamia between May and October, says a returned traveler, but the requisites are sun-belts, spine pads, deep dugouts or thick walls, and a larger measure of pure grit than is necessary in any other country on earth that I know of. And in spite of all the precautions that are taken, more men are killed each year by heatstroke than by any other natural agency.

AVOID TELEPHONING During The Epidemic!

The prevalence of SPANISH INFLUENZA among our operating forces makes it necessary that we continue our appeal "Don't Make Unnecessary Telephone Calls."

THE SITUATION STILL REMAINS VERY SERIOUS and in certain sections it is necessary for us to ask calling parties if their calls are necessary before the connections are made.

DURING THE EPIDEMIC will you please confine your telephoning to indispensable calls such as

1. Calls occasioned by fire, lawlessness, accident, death, or serious illness.
2. Calls to and from hospitals, druggists, doctors, etc.
3. Calls necessitated by the public interest and welfare or by Government business and war work.
4. Commercial calls of vital importance.

ODDS AND ENDS

Items of Interest Presented in Short Paragraphs for Busy Readers.

Capt. Roddy has been placed in charge of organizing the local industries for the coming war work campaign. On Monday he and Mr. John Fitterer made a trip to the various plants in the new ambulance with a double purpose in view—to show the car in order to get assistance in purchasing another of the same type, and to aid the publicity work of the coming campaign.

For the first time since the Morgan explosion the churches of the city threw open their doors for regular church service last Sunday. In some instances the services were conducted under great difficulty, but nevertheless an effort was made and in every instance the difficulties were overcome.

Boys Scouts of this city are organizing for the coming U. W. W. campaign. Under the direction of J. T. Dill they are being made the backbone of the Victory Boys association in this city.

Stores on Broadway being erected for Richard McCloud are nearing completion and will soon be placed on the market for rental.

At the regular drill of Company F on Monday recruits were called for to serve in First Aid work in connection with the new ambulance. It was urged that all the members in the company being licensed drivers register themselves with the top sergeant. All outsiders desiring to join the company and serve with them in this work should do so within a few days.

A splendid example of American patriotism was shown a few days ago. John Levandosky, a brother to Frank Levandosky who was killed in action in France, upon receiving a telegram to that effect, immediately went to the First National Bank and purchased a Liberty bond. This occurred on the last night of the campaign. As he purchased the bond, he tearfully showed the telegram bearing the sad news.

Enoch Mathis, brother of Oliver Mathis of Second street, died at Vashon, Washington, on October 13, in the 71st year of his age. Word was sent to this city by the deceased's son, George.

Mrs. Cecelia B. Chauncey of Catherine street is slowly recovering from injuries received on the night of the explosion at Morgan. With the aid of a cane she is now able to go short distances from her home. Mrs. Chauncey is the widow of Commodore Chauncey of the U. S. Navy, and this is the third war she has experienced in her life time.

Charles H. Muirhead and family moved on Thursday to East Orange. Thier many friends regret to have them leave this city, but at the same time wish they may be pleased with their new home.

William J. O'Toole, of the U. S. Naval Reserve Forces at Pelham Bay, is again on a furlough and serving on the mail delivery force of this city. This is through the efforts of Postmaster Rea on account of the shortage of men in the Post Office.

Andrew Borlund, who for the past few months has been serving with the U. S. Naval Reserve forces and now stationed at Pelham Bay training station, has been granted his discharge from the service on account of physical disabilities.

Tony Nicorvo is now occupying his new building on Broadway. He is conducting his business of shoemaker and repairman.

William Roddy has accepted a position with H. Wolff & Co. as clerk and driver.

Mrs. John Lund of Perth Amboy, formerly of this city, does not intend that the boys in the trenches will get cold feet this winter. She has splendidly knitted twenty-seven pairs of woolen socks, and has presented them to the Red Cross Chapter of this city to be sent to National headquarters.

Important meeting of Good Samaritan Lodge next Wednesday evening. Proposed changes in By-Laws will be discussed. A large attendance is desired.—F. H. Chapman, K. R. & S.

Miss Roberta Kathleen Martha Smith, a nurse at the hospital, Parlin, died Sunday night at the age of 33 years. Undertakers E. S. Mason & Son took the body to New York on Thursday where interment was made in Woodlawn cemetery.

On Thursday City Engineer A. T. McMichael's staked out the new poor house on the site recently purchased from the Parison Estate. The house will be of the latest semi-bungalow type and will be built so that the inmates will have easy access to the town. There is lots of room so that the old folks will, if they care to do so, have their own little garden in the summer. The piece of ground contains ten lots having a front of one hundred and fifty by two hundred and fifty feet.

Water Commissioner Braney says that some water consumers may receive two bills. This is due to the fact that the memorandum of bills sent out was destroyed by the explosion, and thus it was impossible to tell to whom bills were previously mailed.

FAKE REPORT WAKES UP TOWN.

Unexpected as the Morgan Explosion was the fake report that reached this city Thursday that Armistice had been declared between the Allies and Germany. Just as soon as the news was received the flags began to fly, and whistles were blown and bells rung. A few minutes after the word was received the foreign element working at the various munition plants began to arrive in this city all bedecked for the occasion. They carried all descriptions of noise makers, flags and bunting. It is understood that when the word was received they just dropped all tools and left on a run for this city enroute for New York. Thursday afternoon and evening the streets were black with people. The first thought when the word reached the townspeople was that the boys will soon be home, and second the Morgan plant will not be rebuilt.

Japanese Rice Cultivation.
Twelve thousand square miles—7, 680,000 acres—constitute the rice land of Japan, which feeds a nation of about 50,000,000 people on an average of a pound a day for each person. It takes 135 days to grow a crop of rice, and in Japan the laborious work of cultivation is done almost entirely by hand.

EXPLOSION INSURANCE

Explosions have in the past two years caused enormous property damage at various points, including Black Tom and Kingsland, N. J., Halifax, Nova Scotia; Eddystone, Pa.; Solvay Process Co., Syracuse, N. Y.; Aetna plant, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The explosions of T N T at the Gillespie shell loading plant at South Amboy, N. J., October 4th and 5th again emphasize the necessity of Explosion Coverage for property subject to or adjacent to explosion hazard.

POULTRY HUSBANDRY.

The poultry industry never had a brighter future than it has right now says Harry B. Lewis, Poultry Husbandman at the New Jersey State College of Agriculture and secretary of the National War Emergency Poultry Federation, in a recent interview. During the past year under the stress of war conditions there have been many failures but these, Professor Lewis asserts, are due in practically every instance to poor methods and lack of proper business organization.

When asked as to the value of the Short Courses in Poultry Husbandry offered at the State College at New Brunswick this winter as a preparation for success in poultry husbandry Professor Lewis said that his best answer was to point to men who had taken the course and who in spite of war conditions had made a success of their work. Professor Lewis believes that there are scores of men and women in New Jersey who, with such a training as is offered by the Short Courses, can be successful in the poultry industry.

Through the efforts of the War Emergency Poultry Federation conditions affecting the purchase of feed and marketing produce have been stabilized so that in New Jersey, one of the most important poultry producing states in the east, the development of the industry will be rapid and will call for men and women who have had the proper training.

SHORT COURSES IN FARM WORK.

The world will be short of food for some years to come is the opinion of Frank App, professor of farm management at the State College of Agriculture and labor specialist in New Jersey for the Federal Department of Agriculture. With the return of peace, Prof. App believes large numbers of people now engaged in munition factories and other war work will return to the farms to help raise the food so necessary for our sustenance, and while the manufacturing industries will continue to need large numbers of men for reconstruction work there will be a labor slack that will be taken up by the farms, thus tending to prevent during the critical days of readjustment serious labor difficulties.

Many of the people going into farm work will, because of previous experience, be successful but large numbers will face failure because of lack of training, says Prof. App, and points to the fact Federal authorities are planning for a nation wide training of such people that they may not be disappointed and discouraged.

New Jersey, he says, is well prepared to meet the situation through the opportunities offered by the Short Courses in Agriculture at the State College of Agriculture at New Brunswick.

These courses, to which tuition is free to residents of New Jersey, are open to men sixteen years of age and women seventeen years of age, who have had a common school education. There are no entrance examinations. Five courses are offered: general agriculture and dairy farming, fruit growing and gardening, poultry husbandry, bee keeping and home economics. The work is intensely practical and thorough.

The short courses have always proved their value in training people for practical farming. People thinking of going into any branch of farming should avail themselves of the opportunity offered by the short courses. The next term begins November 18 and continues to February 19.

COURSES IN FARM MACHINERY.

The efficient use of farm machinery is one of the most important assets of the farmer these days.

Special emphasis will be made in a practical study of farm machinery by the Short Courses in Agriculture at the State College at New Brunswick this winter the department of rural engineering will erect a large shelter for the housing of farm machinery of the latest and most improved types which will be loaned by the manufacturers. Students will make a thorough study of the machinery from plows to binders. They will learn through disassembling and studying every adjustment of the machinery how to operate it efficiently. In addition to this belt splicing, rope splicing and similar repairs necessary to the efficient operation of machinery will be included so that those completing the course will be well qualified to operate and care for any of the machinery used on New Jersey farms.

Lengthens Life of Chain.

It has been discovered that a hemp rope twisted in and out of the links of an iron chain will make the chain last 70 per cent longer by reducing friction, and save from one-fifth to one-third of the price of a new chain.

BOY SCOUT DOINGS.

Troop No. 1.

The meeting of November 5, was given entirely to business and at that session a reformation of the troop took place.

The meeting was preceded by an announcement by the president stating that at this meeting a number of very important questions had to be settled if the troop expected to continue and be at its normal standard, so therefore strict attention was desired.

The meeting was then opened with the salute to the Flag and the repeating of the Scout's Oath.

The minutes of the meeting of October 29th were read and unanimously accepted.

The president stated that a change in the Black Bear and Cobra Patrols was necessary and that the extinguishing of the Flying Eagle Patrol was necessary also.

Election for patrol leader of the Black Bear Patrol was opened and Scout J. Parker was unanimously elected. For assistant patrol leader of that patrol R. Waterman was elected in the same manner.

The Eagle Patrol was not changed in anyway.

Scout A. Linden was then unanimously elected patrol leader of the third or Cobra Patrol and C. Larson his assistant.

Scout A. Skow was then appointed the recording secretary's assistant.

The position of financial secretary fell into John Parker's hands and C. Skow was appointed assistant scoutmaster.

The reorganizing of the Black Bear and Cobra Patrols followed and after all changes had been made the troop was as follows:

Scoutmaster, J. Tracy Dill; Assistant Scoutmaster, C. Skow; President, C. Skow; Recording Scribe, E. Parker; Assistant Scribe, A. Skow; Financial Secretary, J. Parker; Librarian, J. Goldstein.

Black Bear—John Parker, P. L.; R. Waterman, A. P. L.; R. Ellams, J. Goldstein, D. Reed, M. Steiner. Eagles—E. Parker, P. L.; A. Skow, A. P. L.; A. Manhattan, M. Grebb, L. Neitopp, P. Magee, C. Horney, J. Senker.

Cobra—A. Linden, P. L.; C. Larson, A. P. L.; L. Wyckoff, E. Rezkowski, F. McKenna, G. Lambertson, M. Green, H. Hamilton.

Following the re-organization the troop pledged itself 100% in this United War Workers Campaign and other cause gone into for the winning of the war.

All books that were at the homes of different scouts were ordered to be brought to the next meeting.

All members of the troop whose names do not appear in any of the above patrols and intend to be punctual and a worker may present their application next week and it will be considered.

The scribe was then ordered to publish the following notice.

Troop No. 1 will collect during the U. W. W. Campaign any old papers, rags, metals or other articles which may be sold and turn all the money to the U. W. W. Committee.

If any odd jobs are desired such as beating rugs, cleaning cellars, etc., the person desiring same may notify J. Tracy Dill, scoutmaster, and he will furnish a scout suitable to do the task. All money obtained by these means will be given to the U. W. W.

The troop's captain of the basketball team then ordered practice on Saturday evening, November 9.

The meeting was then adjourned. Troop No. 1 will open its basketball season of 1918-19 on Saturday evening, November 16, at Company F Armory on First street at 8.15 opposing a scout team consisting of the best players picked from the troops of Keyport.

New Hydraulic Air Compressor.

A novel hydraulic air compressor, designed for operation by water under a head of 200 or 300 feet, has two large vertical cylinders, from which the air is forced by the direct pressure of the water. When the air of one cylinder has been driven into the horizontal tank, a two-way valve automatically releases the water and turns the pressure into the other cylinder, making action continuous.

Cowardice a Disease?

The scientist is beginning to look upon cowardice as a disease that will respond to treatment. Nature does not treat all men alike. She gives to some of them too much caution and to others perhaps too little. The man to whom the larger share falls has more to overcome than his brother who has the lesser share. The coward is the man who has been overburdened with caution. Science believes that it can deprive him of a part of his burden and thereby make the coward courageous.

New York.—Once upon a time the Roman warriors pulled over their heads the shaggy hides of animals as they advanced on the enemy. They had the primitive, childlike belief that the sight of the animals would frighten the opposing side. Such is the history of the grenadier caps worn by the British army, and such is probably the inspiration of the new warlike clothes invented in these times of war.

These are worn in Paris, or rather they were worn at the Paris open-

On the left is a severe coat suit for autumn street usage, made of black and gray oxford cloth. The coat is the accepted length, has pockets on the hips, shows a surprise vest of white linen, and has a belt of itself run through an enamel harness buckle. On the right is a cape coat for rough weather, of midnight blue velours with black and white shepherd's plaid velours. There is a deep border of the checks at the hem, a wide collar of it, and bindings at the armholes.

ings, says a fashion writer. They have arrived in this country, and their acceptance is debatable.

There are women who will wear anything new, regardless of its effect on their appearance, and these women may make the new fabrics fashionable. At first glance, they are rather terrifying. One has a slight creeping of feeling for the opposing side to the legions of Caesar. Even a stout-hearted warrior would hate to face a great rush of animal skins moving toward him with rapidity.

That will be the situation that must be faced by every stout-hearted man this winter, if these shaggy materials take first place in fashion. To the observer they are the leading phase of the season's output. They are purely a French invention, and even if they are not accepted in their entirety of shagginess, they will undoubtedly pave the way for an immediate output of silky materials with rough surfaces.

The first of these materials was called "Lionceau," and was invented late last winter, I think, and then used as a substitute for fur.

Magnificent as Well as Shaggy.

The majority of those who dip deeply into the sources of fashions and fabrics insist that the entire output of these animalistic materials is due to the recrudescence of monkey fur. That, however, would not explain the other fabrics which are used in the new French gowns that are arriving in this country, and which have hunting scenes, magnificently ornamental, on a dark background. Jenny uses this material for panels and for large pieces of evening frocks.

Then there are other fabrics which show birds and birds' plumage as the ornamental design, but these are of minor brilliancy as against the animal fabrics, which not only toss about the red and burnt-orange hair of monkeys and orang-outangs, but also the manes of animals such as never existed on land or sea; these are made from five- and six-inch strands of curled silky floss interwoven with metal.

The bird fabrics are called "Oisella" and the burnt-orange hides are called "Orang-outang." In other gowns, especially one from Bulloz, there is used a new material called "Tolson d'Or," which means "The Golden Piece."

Still another material—and the loveliest of all because it is the most practical for American usage—is the imitation of a medieval coat of mail. This fabric, alongside the shaggy ones, seems to be cultured and modern.

I am dwelling in detail on all these fabrics of the hour because I believe that the great masses of women over this continent are going into the shops very soon to buy materials for their new clothes. Every woman does not have an expensive dressmaker or a great department store to furnish her costumes for the season. Such tricks of fortune favor only the few. The war has brought about an immense amount of home dressmaking, for all the seamstresses in the world cannot go into munition factories and earn large wages. Some of them must stick to their trade, and those who do can reap a harvest.

Questions That Women Ask.

It is to the fabrics, therefore, that the great majority of women will turn. Is it serge, they ask, or jersey? Smooth fabrics or rough ones? Does midnight-blue hold its own? Is Oxford gray again in fashion? Are evening gowns light, brilliant or somber in coloring? Does tulle continue? Will satin be good?

These are questions, not imaginations. They are asked by the swirling tide of women who are trying to make every dollar realize its full value today. They have taken to heart the twin doctrines of conservation and economy. "Non-essential" is over the doorway of every home and in the heart of every worker. We must buy, for we must be clothed, and we wish to keep in service those who have

THE MOST THOUGHT OF MAN.

(By Evangeline Booth, Commander of the Salvation Army in the United States.)

I wonder if you realize that you are the most thought of man in the world.

Everybody is thinking of you. All over this country your face looks out from posters and newspapers. Stories of your daring crowd the press and magazines of the nation. The thought of you, where you stand and for what you stand inspires and stimulates every war activity from sea to sea.

In old-fashioned rocking chairs fingers twisted with age and rheumatism are knitting for you. In innumerable Red Cross rooms, white robed women of all classes are stitching and rolling bandages for you. In factories, offices, on railway and surface cars, women are working at men's tasks while tens of thousands of others are giving of their money, their time, and their strength because of you.

The Government is thinking of you. Our Government has given every evidence that it recognizes its first duty as a fraternal one. This thought of you has provided your comfortable clothing. It has thought and planned for your efficient and effective munitions. And it has thought of every possible agency for helping and strengthening your morale.

No expenditure of money or time or brains has been considered too much.

Loved ones are thinking of you. The coming of Christmas with its family re-unions will emphasize the empty chair. They are too brave to let you know how much they miss you or how often they turn for another look at the star in the window for courage to carry on things at home.

They are proud of you. They are proud that you should be among those contending for the high standards of our nation's flag. They would not have you in any place in the world than just where you are, but their hearts ache for a sight of you.

Perhaps there is a little child who sleeps your name every night in her prayers. Perhaps there is a father who pins and re-pins the little flag to the map in the newspapers wondering "Where the Boy is to-night." You may be quite sure if thought and love can keep you there, you are never far away from your home.

Back here they are thinking of you as a true man. Never in the history of the world has the call been so clear and insistent for true men. In this crisis of the world's career, above the demands for genius or for science, there is a demand for righteousness and singleness of purpose—for true men.

In the Great United War Work Campaign, which this country will face the week of November 11th to 18th, we will all be thinking of you. Regardless of creed or religious faith, the whole country will stand together to show its vital interest in your welfare. Right now nothing counts in the United States quite so much as the problem of what happens to you. $170,500,000 is to be raised through the efforts of seven organizations in order that you may have small personal comforts and the cheer which you need as the days go by.

Seeing Other Folks' Faults.

Other folks' faults may be only up-to-date methods. Your opinion may be more of a self-accusation than a just criticism. To be competent to judge you must be all you think the other fellow ought to be and more. You must be larger than the requirements you demand in him. Unless you are big enough to see him and his efforts in a just perspective you are unfair to him and yourself. And it won't matter how up-to-date the other fellow is if you are a back number. Everything he attempts will be wrong from your viewpoint and every time you criticize you will be reacting yourself among the fogies and reactionaries. Go sparingly with your hammer.

JERSEY CENTRAL TURNS IN SURPLUS EARNINGS

The railroad administration has made public a list of twenty-six railroad companies which apparently are prospering to such an extent that they are able to turn over surplus earnings to the government administration without asking for a return of part of those or additional government help. Nearly $78,000,000 has been paid in this manner.

Roads with this record include the Atlantic Coast Line and Louisville & Nashville, which together turned over $14,050,000 from their surplus fund; Atchafalpa, Topeka & Santa Fe, $9,200,000; Central of New Jersey, $2,500,000; Pullman car lines, $2,000,000 and Los Angeles & Salt Lake, $1,050,000.

Rummage! Rummage!

By ROBERT JAY

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Sinclair Knox was spending the day in a small village on the north shore of Long Island. The business he had come to transact had taken only a few moments of his time and he had learned, on going to the ferry landing, that he would have to wait till five o'clock in the afternoon for another boat. It was late in the season and the ferry ran very much according to the whim of the captain.

The town did not promise to offer much excitement, but the stranger took a turn along the shore and then returned to the village square. Immediately he was attracted to a crowd that stood about the entrance to the chapel of a good-sized church on the main street. He crossed the road and stood opposite the gathering of inhabitants, and presently a very handsome young woman appeared with a cloth sign, which she tacked to the door. Then she opened the door and the crowd rushed in.

Sinclair Knox then stepped across the street to read the sign. "Rummage sale Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society" was what he read. He had heard of rummage sales, but he had never come in contact with one.

Trying to decide whether or not to go in and broaden his knowledge of the ways and means of workers in village churches, he strolled up the street. As he retraced his steps he took courage when he saw a man enter the chapel.

"It can't do me any harm," he decided, "and I can't find anything more exciting around these haunts."

Looked at Sinclair as He Entered.

And then in the back of his mind lurked the image of that young woman who had tacked up the sign and thrown open the doors. She must be a part of the Ladies' Aid, for she never could be classed with the rummage he soliloquized as he drew close to the edifice.

The sound of a deep, vibrant voice entreating someone to step up to the table and look at the wonderful bargains entirely settled Sinclair's mind. He would go in.

A long tableful of wearing apparel stood on one side of the room. Other tables held hats and boots, and in a corner stood furniture, ranging in design from Jacobean to modern mission. There were ruffled silk skirts, and there were infants' booties. There were plush albums and Florentine frames; and the patrons of the rummage sale rummaged mercilessly among the goods.

The girl behind the table of wearing apparel looked at Sinclair and smiled as he entered. She knew at once that curiosity must have brought him thither. She watched him with an amused smile as he eyed with interest the persons who were attending the sale.

After a while other members of the church society came to assist the young woman, and each one stood behind a table and tried to sell her wares. It was a most unique sight to Sinclair Knox.

He wanted to linger and the only excuse he could find was to pretend to be looking for something. Nothing that he could be expected to want came to his mind. At last a thought flashed into his head. He stepped to the young woman who had first been in charge.

"Do you have such a thing as a— an antique picture frame with a— well, with a French print, perhaps?" he inquired, with hesitation.

"I'll see," the girl said in a most charming manner. "We have almost everything, I think." And she led the way to another table.

"Come, have you seen any old French prints anywhere?" she asked, smiling meaningfully at another young woman.

"Don't go to too much trouble," admonished young Knox at her side.

"Oh, that's what we're here for," said the young woman behind the table. "It's no trouble—if we have it!"

Both girls searched every available spot for something resembling the young man's specifications, but the only thing that could be found was an old hand-wrought copper miniature frame that had been stripped of its picture.

Sinclair took it. "It's hardly a French print—is it?" he laughed. "Harcy!" both girls echoed, with laughter.

"But it's not bad," Knox admitted. "Not with the right girl's picture in it," the young woman behind the table suggested.

Sinclair looked at the other girl for a moment, and then, his eyes on the frame in his hand, said: "I'll buy it at your own price if I may have a picture—in it."

"Yours, Gerry, yours!" cried Florence Moore, catching her friend by the arm. "And we'll charge a pretty penny for it."

"It is for the church, you know," reminded the young man. "It's in a good cause."

Geraldine Bonner's face was covered with blushes, but her friend was whispering in her ear. Sinclair stood aside.

"Father," Geraldine began, but Florence clapped her hand quickly over her mouth.

"Father need know nothing of it. I'll put in that picture you gave me. I can easily have another."

Sinclair looked inquiringly at Geraldine. "I'd like the frame and I'd like the picture to put in it. I'm a stranger in the village. It's a fancy I've just taken. I don't even know your name, and I won't ask it—now," he said, more earnestly than he realized.

"For the church, Gerry!" urged the other girl.

Geraldine threw up her head with determination. "All right—and come next year and I'll give you another one," she said laughing.

Sinclair waited while the photograph was found and fitted to the frame and then he took his leave of the two girls and the rummage sale.

He stood that picture on his mantelpiece and he learned to love it. The eyes were so friendly and he could always hear the girl's voice as he had first heard it coming out of the church door that day.

He did not know how best to get in personal touch with the girl; it was a delicate situation and he did not want to jeopardize his opportunities by plunging headlong into the wrong method of procedure. But, at least, he decided, nearly a year later, I can do no harm by going across the ferry to the same village again. "And—" he thought, "I might chance to see her."

On the ferryboat a dodger blew off its nail on the side of the cabin. He picked it up and read it out of sheer curiosity. "Rummage! Rummage! At the chapel of the First M. E. Church, Friday and Saturday, September 3 and 4," he read and his eyes widened.

He folded the dodger carefully and placed it in his pocket.

When he stood face to face with Geraldine Bonner in the church chapel again he took the printed dodger from his pocket. "The wind tossed this to me on the ferryboat this morning," he told her by way of excuse for being there.

The girl blushed. "It's an ill wind—" you know," she laughed.

"It is, indeed," Sinclair said earnestly. "And I'm the one to whom it has blown 'good' today. Do you remember that I was to have another picture?"

Geraldine hung her head. "I do—you may have it. I know it's not conventional—"

"Never mind conventions," the man interrupted. "We're past that. I'll tell you all about myself when you'll let me and we'll be splendid—friends," he said.

But they were more than friends before they had really begun to know each other.

Patrol Men Doing Good Work.

Little is heard of the hundreds of men on patrol duty in the United States navy. Silently, with unflagging vigilance, they watch the coasts with a telling effect so good in its results that they form a unit in the force of eyes that never close. Now and then word comes from them. They are in an attack, make some dash and win commendation, or tidings come of a casualty in the long and heavy fight with the ocean. One of the latter refers to John R. Alexander, a seaman, second class, of the United States naval reserve, who, in this splendid work, gave up his life. He is reported lost overboard from a submarine patrol on April 10. Alexander enlisted April 27, 1917, at Pittsburgh. His father, John R. Alexander, lives at 2615 Broad avenue, Altoona, Pa.

Drew Tribute from Enemy.

The armed guard of the American tanker Moreni had the unique distinction of being commended for bravery by the enemy. The Moreni made a running fight of two hours against a German submarine and was only abandoned when she had taken fire. The commander of the German "U" boat approached the lifeboat in which some of the men were escaping, congratulated them upon their game fight and treated two of them for wounds. The Moreni gun crew was in charge of Chief Boatswain Andrew Copassaki, U. S. N., who lives at 2096 Dailey avenue, New York city.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1918.

If the merchants of this city intend having a holiday stock this season
it is now time they announced the same to the public through an advertisement in the Citizen. They should not let the cream of the trade slip away to other towns, because these out-of-town merchants tell to the people by advertising what they have to sell. Early advertising judiciously made would hold a large per centage of this trade right at home. People these days read advertisements and are always waiting for merchants to tell them what they have on sale.
The fact that merchants do not advertise lead the wide-awake people to believe their trade is not wanted.
The man who is not afraid to tell people he has the goods and solicits their trade is the man who gets the business everytime.

EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS
RECEIVED FROM OUR BOYS

Next week the big drive for United War Work will begin. This will be in the interest of seven big organizations which are doing such great work for our boys at home and abroad. Liberality should be the watchword of all who have the welfare of our boys at heart. Peace negotiations should not in anyway interfere with raising of funds for this big drive. Below we present extracts from letters of our boys:
January 17—Here at last and heartily glad of it. Our quarters are a hundred times better than I had even hoped they would be. There is a fine branch of the Y. M. C. A. here and it is the life of the camp. There is to be an entertainment there to-night.
—R. W. C.

May 26—The Y. M. C. A. sent us
a lot of baseball equipment yesterday. We had a grand old game this afternoon. There is a Capt. from the Canadian Army in this town and he unmired the game for us. The Canadians are just as crazy about baseball as we are.—R. W. C.

Aug 10—The boys over here certainly appreciate the Y. M. C. A.,
they make life very much more comfortable for us with their writing tables, canteens, etc. The secretaries are esteemed so highly that it is quite customary for the enlisted men to render them a military salute.
—E. J. C.

Sept. 8—The French soldiers and civilians are absolutely out of luck for tobacco. We can buy it from the
Y. M. C. A. and Commissary.—E. J. C.
Sept. 28—Harold and I are on permission at Dinard in Brittany. It is one of the most popular summer resorts in France and has just recently been turned over to the American permissionnaires.

The Y. M. C. A. people have taken things in charge and what they haven't done are not doing to make our stay enjoyable couldn't be done. Why they have got something staged for every minute we are not eating or sleeping. The first night
we were here they presented three one act plays, they were fine, regular Broadway quality, next night was "stunt night" and very amusing, last night it was vaudeville and movies
and to-night a big dance in the new Casino which the Y. M. has taken over. The ladies who are assisting serve in the canteen, make pies and chocolate, etc., and do everything in their power to give us a good time.
Then there are concerts every afternoon and tennis and boating and so on "ad infinitum."

We leave next Thursday afternoon arrive in Paris next morning,
after that—but I guess the Censor wouldn't let me tell you where we go from there. We join our section some time somewhere after we leave Paris.
—R. W. C.

CARD OF THANKS.

We, the undersigned, desire to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during the death
and burial of our dear son and brother, George Smith. We especially wish to thank the Rev. Fathers Hayes and Quilan and Mayor Kerr, for their kindness to us during the time of sorrow.

Mrs. Mary Dunne, Lawrence and Helen Smith.

RED CROSS NOTES.

The annual business meetings of all Chapters of Red Cross throughout the country have been postponed until November 20th. Because of the prevailing epidemic public meetings are unwise.

The workrooms will not be ready for some time. In the meantime everyone is urged to give their time to knitting socks and sweaters. Our quota is now 25 pairs of socks and 25 sweaters per month. We have plenty of wool on hand and Mrs. H.
Stratton will gladly give you directions for making them.

In order to make the situation
clear to everyone, the Atlantic Division of the American Red Cross has issued a statement setting forth that the Red Cross has no part in the issuance of official labels.

The War Department has arranged
the system for distributing the labels.
They are supplied to the soldiers in France and in no other way. Company commanders give them to the men. The soldiers are ordered to address them to themselves and then mail them to the one person in this country from whom they wish to receive gifts.

In no other way is it possible to get labels. Contrary to the seemingly general idea, the Red Cross has no supply of them and will receive none.

If a person has received no label,
but wishes to forward a gift to a man in France, he must find the sole possessor of the label sent to this country by that man. It is possible that the local chapter can aid in the search, if the label was sent to a person in this city, but in no other way can the organization be of assistance.

The local chapter's responsibility begins when the label is brought to its office. Then it will give out a carton. After the carton has been filled and returned, it will inspect the container and see that it is wrapped correctly. The organization will then forward the package to the transportation point for shipment overseas, the sender paying the postage.

The Red Cross has announced that it is following War Department and Post Office regulations in handling the Christmas packages. The rules must be obeyed to the letter. No infringement, however trivial, can be permitted, and infringement of the rules
will probably lead to the sacrifice of the parcel itself.

The Red Cross also announces that it has no jurisdiction concerning packages for the Navy department.

These packages are not to be inspected by the Red Cross. All express parcels for the Navy should be addressed to the Supply Base, Twenty-ninth street and Third avenue, South Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. N. James, chairman of the Canteen Committee, has the boxes in which all Christmas gifts for soldiers abroad must be placed. These boxes will be given to all who present the official label. Printed instructions will be given to every one receiving a box.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Postal Telegram-Cable Company
Night Lettergram
In the Service
Somewhere in America,
November 6, 1918.

Editor South Amboy Citizen,
South Amboy, N. J.
Tell "Robin" to join Company F
and then he will know all those things he asked about in last week's Citizen.

Three cheers for South Amboy, going over the top in Fourth Liberty Loan Campaign. Keep it up next week in the United War Work Campaign, Friend Coan. "Robin" will chip in. Letter follows.

"TIN SOLDIER."

Editor South Amboy Citizen:
They tell me that my old friend
"Robin" is using up part of last week's Citizen to find out why "tiddledewinks and pinoche have displaced military tactics up at Trenton, or why Company F did not tell the people of South Amboy to leave town
the day before the explosion. Ball en out good and proper, "Robin."
Ask Company F why they didn't have their ambulance ready, too. I hear it has just arrived. Did you ever see such slow people? No wonder the Major in charge up there in South Amboy made Company F his headquarters company and put some of
"the pen-pushing assistants" that
"Robin" referred to in charge of making out military passes so that the city officials, the cops, and other dig-nitarles could get back to Amboy in time for pay day. A good up-to-date Company F, according to "Robin,"
should have reported to the mayor
at least twenty-four hours before the fireworks started, and formed itself into a home defense league so that those naughty tiddledewink or pinoche players at Trenton wouldn't dare say a word. At least, they should have reported soon enough to have the city furnish them with uniforms, rifles and all the other fixins' out of that $1500 they voted the home defense league last year. Then they could have been on the job without hanging around a week or ten days waiting for Trenton or Washington or General Foch. But the city couldn't fix 'em all up, 'cause they had to spend the $1500, or some of it,

for those nice bronze tablets with all the nice long city officials' names inscribed on 'em that decorate the City Hall cannon. They took the cannon away from the Grand Army. Why didn't the mayor call out the cannon?
The clerk could call the roll right
from the bronze tablets, too. Why,
nothing could have been easier, Robin
Red Breast! And no naughty tidd-ledewinking Governor or Adjutant General could have stopped them, neither.

I can see from "Robin's" letter that he's a bird on military law and tactics and procedure and strategy and all those little things, and I would advise him to either join Company F, or to start a heavy artillery company.
The two cannon are all ready. Call the roll! But don't get knocked down
by TNT and be chased out PDQ
in your BVDs.

But whatever you do, "Robin," get behind next week's $10,000 United War Work Drive and help South Amboy "go over the top." But don't play "tiddledewinks." It's too heavy work for a bird.

TIN SOLDIER.

To the Editor of the Citizen:

I notice in last week's issue a communication signed "Robin," requesting information on behalf of himself and "many others" as to why Company F did not take charge of the town or declare martial law on their own accord immediately after the first explosion on Friday evening, October 4. "Robin" refers to the utter helplessness of a militia unit in an emergency. He stated that the militia men were at the Armory waiting, and that when the 3-3-3 call was sounded they stayed at the Armory and failed to go out. Apparently
"Robin" did not know that the writer sounded 3-3-3 himself simply to get the men of Company F to the armory
for the purpose of protecting the state property within and to there await movement orders.

Company F can be mobilized by its commanding officer at any time in anticipation of duty, but the men of the company cannot be detailed for duty of a military nature without proper military authority. I am sure that none of the "tin soldiers" that "Robin" scornfully refers to can make that any plainer or can change
established laws of civil and military authority in the U. S.

"Robin" states that Mayor Kerr appealed to the Adjutant General for the use of Company F. I do not know as to this but I do know that the Sheriff is the ranking police officer in this county, that any disturbance, riot or insurrection occurring in this county would come under his jurisdiction before the militia was called out. The Mayor's appeal, if made, should have been to the sheriff.
The sheriff, when such an appeal is made, has recourse to two methods of meeting the contingency. 1st, by the swearing in of special county officers or deputies, serving at the expense of the county, 2nd, by appeal to the Governor of the state for the use of the military forces of the state at the expense of the state. A mayor has police powers in his own municipality, and may increase his own police force in an emergency but has no jurisdiction over county officers or state troops.

The writer understands that soon
after the Friday evening explosion
the sheriff's office was appealed to,
that the Sheriff despatched the Under-Sheriff to South Amboy and Morgan for a tour of inspection and about midnight I was informed by the Mayor that such an inspection had been made and that it had been found that the fire was under control and nearly out. The mayor, upon the advice of the sheriff, recommended that I dismiss Company F and permit them to return to their homes, stating that the city police and the firemen were able to handle the situation. The company was thereupon dismissed to await any further calls.
I then reported through military channels to Trenton.

When the second explosion occured, about two hours later, I was ordered by the Adjutant General's office to place the company under the orders of Captain Higgins, then in charge of the U. S. military forces here, until the arrival of other state troops under Major Dawley. Upon the arrival of Major Dawley the company was withdrawn from Captain Higgins and made Headquarters Company of the Provisional Battalion.
"Robin" labors under the misunderstanding that because Company F is stationed at South Amboy it has a closer official relation to South
Amboy than other parts of the state.
Of course, this is natural mistake
to make but it should be remembered that the various companies stationed throughout the state are but units of the state's forces and are not

home defense leagues or militia reserve companies.

The writer, and his associates in Company F, tried, for over a year,
to get either a home defense league
or reserve unit organized here for the very purpose of having an effectual local force for local needs under the jurisdiction of local authority.
But this city emphatically turned down this suggestion. Unfortunately for South Amboy our efforts proved unavailing and Company F, which could not be destroyed by local opposition through reason of its state authority was organized instead.

The writer and those associated with him, have tried to give this city
the best means of protection and defense that the people of South Amboy,
through their officials, would permit
us to give. If we have not the advantages of quick action possessed
by home defense leagues or militia
reserve units it is not our fault.
South Amboy did not want either
one as it would cost money to outfit and support them.

"Robin" and the "many others" he refers to can rest assured that Trenton was not trying to punish South
Amboy for any of its official sins.

EDWIN C. RODDY,
Captain, Commanding Company F.

P. R. H. V. M. C. A. NOTES.

At the bowling meeting last Wednesday Charles Anderson was elected president for the season of 1918-19;
J. A. Applegate, treasurer; and W. F.
Underwood, secretary. Schedule adopted to start Tuesday, November 12:
Servians vs. Americans, Tuesday,
November 12th.

Italians vs. English, Thursday,
November 14th.
Belgians vs. French, Friday, November 15th.

Complete schedule will be ready in a few days and will be published next week.

The high game so far for the month is held by Joe Czarnowsky with 235.

We hope that all members of the association will do all they can in the United War Work Campaign
starting on the 11th, either by helping the committees, serving on same

as well as contributing all they can.
These seven great organizations that are saving our boys for us should have the best we have. Even with the end of the war in sight there is a tremendous amount of work to be done for the boys before they will get back home, which will take a great deal of money to accomplish,
and it is up to us to see that everything is made possible to be done for them to get them back safe in body, mind and soul. So turn out your pockets and shake them.

The Woman's War Relief has again started work on their regular meeting days, and the chairman would like to see the members turn out if they possibly can and get some of the work that has fallen behind caught up. After the splendid way that the Red Cross helped our city when it was stricken, we should do all we can to help that kind of work at every opportunity.

CARD OF THANKS.

We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere gratitude to our friends and relatives for kindness shown during our recent bereavement
of our daughter and wife. We especially thank those who expressed their sympathy in giving beautiful floral tributes; also to Rev. Thomas
H. Slater for his comforting words,
Dr. Cottrell and Mr. E. Mason for faithful services rendered.

Headquarters, South Amboy, N. J. October 26, 1918.

Sister Margaret Mary, Mother Superior, St. Mary's South Amboy, N. J.

My dear Sister Margaret Mary:

I want to take this opportunity of thanking you and through you the sisters who have so kindly and effectively aided me in the work here. They not only were the means of saving life, but they also brought comfort to the many unfortunates who were ill here. That this community will come out better and finer for the calamity through which it has passed, I feel sure, and nothing will bring about a realization of this more potent than the splendid example of unselfishness and true Christianity that you and the sisters have shown. Believe me, I shall always be deeply grateful to you.

Very sincerely yours,
Thomas H. Buckler, M. D.
Medical Director, Red Cross,
South Amboy, N. J.

All boys of the city are urged to get in touch with John T. Dill, chairman of the Victory Boys, in connection with the United War Workers campaign.

Harold Anderson, Wounded, Visits Home

The first of South Amboy's wounded heroes to return to this city is Harold Anderson. On Monday of this week his mother was pleasantly surprised by the arrival of her son and his chum who are now stationed in General Hospital number three at Colonia, New Jersey. Anderson was reported seriously wounded some time ago, having been wounded on July 26 at the famous drive on Chautauque Therry. The drive as he states was the turning point of the war. Soon after the report that Anderson was wounded there came a report that he had died of wounds, but this was never followed up by official notice from Washington so the family did not place any stock in it. Anderson arrived from "over there" just one week previous to his visit to this city. Soon after the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the Michigan National Guard and was with this unit that he went into action. He was transferred to Waco, Texas, for training and there the Twenty-seventh division was organized. Three months after his arrival overseas he was in action.

The message that he and his chum brings back is don't worry. He advises everyone with boys over there not to have any thought of their comfort as the soldier's life is free and happy. He told some wonderful tales of the way the Y, M. C. A. and other kindred organizations were serving our boys over there and urged the support of the entire community in the coming United War Work campaign. Before being transferred to the sector in which he was wounded, Anderson served three months in the trenches in the Alsace sector. He states that the people in this vicinity are a mixture of French and German—mostly German and seem to favor the German rule. He states that frequently when entering one of these stores the first question asked is "do you speak German?" that language being used almost exclusively. He said that the sea coast towns of France would make some of our big eastern shipping cities seem obscure, while just a few miles inland everything changes and buildings and customs are hundreds of years behind the times. He told of the wonderful feeling of the French for the Americans. Of the condition of the French civilians he referred to the towns as villages of cripples and old women. He said that practically all the men were fighting while the young girls were either doing active war work or working in the great munition centers distributed all through France. He said that the food situation of the French people was very poor but was better than a few months ago. He told of one occasion of finding a French child rooting through a garbage can for a piece of meat.

Anderson was somewhat more fortunate than his companion who had lost a leg. Anderson's injuries were caused by his foot being riddled with machine gun bullets but the surgeons did not deem it advisable to amputate. He is stationed at this hospital until such time as his wound is healed or he is fit to return to active duty. While stationed here he has more or less time to himself and would no doubt appreciate an occasional letter from the folks in "Old Amboy." Fruit, cakes, candy and other variations to the camp menu is also appreciated by these boys. A word to the wise is sufficient.

ELVIRA P. BARR.

Miss Elvira P. Barr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barr of Asbury Park and formerly of Louisa street this city, died on Wednesday morning, aged 27 years. Interment was made Friday afternoon in Christ Church cemetery this city. E. S. Mason & Son being funeral directors.

JOIN COMPANY F.

The enlistment of Company F calls for the duration of the war and one year thereafter. The company is in need of a number of good men who want to serve their state in this capacity. Soon the boys will be returning from "over there." Their first question to those who remained at home is "what did you do?" Will you be able to say that you volunteered to protect your home and their home in their absence. Or will you say that you spent your Monday evenings on the street corners with nothing in view but a good time. It is not yet too late to do some good by joining this organization. On Monday evening there will be an opportunity to all those who desire to join to do so. Will you be there? Or will you be selfishly thinking of your own pleasure.

FOR HIRE—Closed, comfortable Limousine for all occasions. Apply to V. J. Abbatiello, 116 South Stevens avenue. Tel. 242.

UNITED WAR WORK.

Newark, Nov. 7.—Charles A. Coburn, State campaign director of the New Jersey United War Work Campaign, is greatly encouraged by the reports that he has received from the campaign chairmen and directors in the twenty-one counties. E. M. McBrier, chairman of the committee, has been present at a number of the division and county conferences, and he, too, is confident that the big things that are expected of New Jersey will be realized. New Jersey is "going over the top" in a big way next week.

In his talks to the workers in the different counties Mr. McBrier has shown the great need for a liberal over-subscription to the campaign because the American army is more than three times the size it was when the budget was made up originally which will mean more funds will be required to take care of the activities of the seven allied organizations. He laid stress on the fact that the declaration of peace will be followed by a lessening of discipline in the army and a consequent lowering of the morale.

This will call for greater activity on the part of the agencies that have done so much in aiding the men in maintaining the high standard that is the reward of the commanding officers of the Allied armies fighting with them.

Dr. John R. Mott, of Montclair, the national campaign director for whom the people of the state have highest regard, has repeatedly shown the need for a generous over-subscription to the fund to be divided among the seven co-operating organizations, and all of the leading men of the national and state committees, who represent these active agencies in caring for the boys, share his views to the effect that the people of this country will give as they have never given before.

The campaign organization in New Jersey has done some effective work in the past month despite the hampering of many of its activities on account of the epidemic of influenza. The members of the state executive committee are S. H. Gillispie (Y. M. C. A.), Mrs. F. de L. Hyde (Y. W. C. A.), John F. O'Neill (N. C. W. C.—K. of C.), Felix Fuld, (J. W. B.), J. S. Rippel (W. C. C. S.), M. Taylor Pyne (A. L. A.), George F. Casler (S. A.).

The chairmen of the divisions follow: Industrial, H. B. Rogers; Publicity, Aug. S. Crane; Rural, William G. Moore; Speakers, John B. Lungers; Student, C. W. McAlpin; Victory Boys and Victory Girls, A. L. Kennelly. The chairmen of the five districts are: Northern, W. V. S. Thorne; Hudson, William C. Gregg; Eastern, Charles D. Halsey; Western, George M. La Monte; Southern, F. Wallis Armstrong.

It is desired by the members of the Executive Committee that Sunday, November 10, the day previous to the opening of the campaign should be devoted to special services in all of the churches of the state, without regard to denomination. The county directors have been asked to make an appeal for the assistance of the preachers and clergymen everywhere. It is expected the co-operation will be practically unanimous throughout the State.

While the members of the Executive Committees fully appreciated the offers of some of the athletic clubs to arrange benefit boxing bouts for the fund, it was decided at a recent meeting that affairs of this character could not be sanctioned because they were contrary to the spirit of the manuals under which the work of the campaign is being conducted. Therefore, the committee voted not to give its sanction to any benefit boxing bout.

The only exception to a collection will be that permission has been granted to the Salvation Army to take collections in its own splendid way on the last day of the campaign, November 18, and only members of that organization in full uniform or wearing the insignia or regalia of the army will be permitted to make the collections.

It is being shown by the speakers that some of the criticism of the welfare organizations have been based largely upon misinformation and the allegations that they have been "profiteering" are being refuted. It is shown, too, that the welfare organizations now charge the same prices that are charged by the canteens of the army, and is shown also that in doing this the organizations are obliged to assume a large loss which is represented by ocean freight and transportation charges, which is not included in the cost of the goods sold by the army canteens.

Married men should worry about the work-or-fight order, they've been doing both for years.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL EPISTLES.

A number of the faithful Christians took advantage of the church services last Sunday morning and evening. All expressed their pleasure and prayers of thanksgiving were sincere and spiritual.

Mr. Emmons was greeted by members of the Sunday School Sunday afternoon at the usual hour. It will not be long before normal conditions will assume shape. So come out to the services. The Sunday School room has been placed in a clean and sanitary condition. While the windows are covered with tar paper, the electric lights give sufficient light.

Members of the choir are urged to attend choir practice this Saturday evening at the usual hour. On account of the condition of the church proper, and the pipe organ being out of commission, all services will be held in the Sunday School room until further notice. The piano will be used also.

The death of Miss Myrtle Spangenberg has cast a gloom among her young friends as well as the entire membership. Myrtle was highly esteemed and was very active in promoting Christian sociability among the young folks. She will be greatly missed.

How grateful we all should be that thus far the soldier boys of our church have escaped death. Indeed the parents owe to Almighty God loyal devotion, and as a church we surely have cause "To forsake not the assembling of ourselves together" on the Sabbath Day. So reads the Bible.

At a recent meeting of the Official Board it was decided to appoint Mr. Frank M. Stratton, (who willingly offered his services) as the official church collector. As the closing of the church put us back in our offerings, and thus handicapped seriously the church finances, no doubt all will respond cheerfully and thus prove their loyalty to the church of their choice.

During the epidemic when even the saloons were ordered closed, we noticed that so far as the front door of the saloons were concerned this edict was obeyed.

The Epworth League will soon have on sale beautiful art calendars. These calendars proved their popularity last year when a large number were purchased by the people. Secure yours early.

There will be such joy in South Amboy when the boys come marching home, that the South Amboy explosion will be a secondary consideration.

Next Sunday Church and Sunday School at the usual hour. Come and join in thanking God for His goodness and protection. Surely the calamity we have experienced should bring us closer to our Heavenly Father. If this visitation fails to bring the careless and indifferent to their senses, nothing but the Day of Judgment will.

Mrs. Eleanor Wilson, one of the faithful members of our church, recently passed to her reward. The funeral services were conducted by her pastor and he found no difficulty in assuring the bereaved family that "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord," was a text suitable for so noble a woman. The immediate family have the prayers and sympathy of many friends and members of the church.

METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH

All of the regular services of the Methodist Protestant Church, are being held now, at their usual time. We trust that all of the members and friends will try and be present on Sunday, and at each service thereafter.

Until such time as we can get our upper room repaired, all of the services will be held in the basement. This is a well lighted and heated room, and for the present will answer all of our needs.

Let us all pull together in an endeavor to make our church, a better and greater one in the future. This is a time when we need the church, and when the church needs us. May we realize the force of this truth and live up to it.

Arthur Protests. Arthur was passing a day with his aunt. "I am going to do something to please you on your birthday," she said to the little boy, "but first I want to ask the teacher how you behave at school." "If you really want to do something to please me, auntie," said the boy, "don't ask the teacher."—Lippincott's.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Second Street Near Broadway.

It was a source of pleasure to the pastor and membership of the First Baptist Church to have as large a congregation as was present at both services last Sunday. Let those who were unable to be present to enjoy the inspiration last Sabbath try and be present this coming Sunday and show that you believe in the church and in the building up of the community.

Mr. McCombe will preach at both services Sunday and the morning subject will be "America's Mission to the World." You are interested in this, come and show your interest. At 7.30 the service will be a people's service and the subject will be "Look To Yourself." The young people are especially invited. The pastor was in Newark, Monday in the interest of the restoration of the church building. Plans are under way for restoring the audience room to its former beauty.

Deacon John Gibson of the Grace Church in Belleville, with family, was a guest at the parsonage Tuesday.

Rev. Wedemeyer of Lakewood and Mr. H. E. Taylor of Freehold were visitors at the parsonage Wednesday afternoon in the interest of the "Christian Enlistment Week" which is to be observed during November 17 to 24. More notice of this later.

Mr. Frank Hawes has been elected Assistant Financial Secretary and all contributors are asked to send or give their subscriptions to him.

The contract for the Art Memorial windows has been given to the firm of Smith & Randolph of Newark.

The services of the First Baptist Church are arranged for the people and everybody is welcome. Come and make yourself at home. You will be given a hearty welcome and the seats are free. Bring the children.

LINGERIE TO BE ADORNED

"Frillery" Must Be Ornamented With Hand Painting, Is a Coming Edict of Fashion.

Well, girls, you will soon be wearing your own art gallery. Painted lingerie is coming, and who knows but what you will have a birdseye view of the Steel city, with its mills in full blast, running around the bottom of your skirt? For it is said that lingerie that once screamed much more noisily and without ostentation, but with force. Oil paintings done to suit individual taste on the lingerie are among the full announcements. Each piece is to follow a master design, and sets will have their day in court. Thus, a mosquito-net dress will put a spider web stocking most eminently in the shade, if not entirely out of business, and a whole flock of vultures opens up before those of us who have eyes with limitless possibilities as to scenic effects, with startling backgrounds and atmospheric tonalities. "Washington Crossing the Delaware," "Joan of Arc Listening to the Voices," "The Battle of Waterloo" and examples of the shot-to-pieces school may all be harnessed to the new fad. The artistic temperament may now take on a new lease of life, in spite of the agitation in favor of a tax on art ranging up to 25 per cent. It may mount upon eagle's wings. It may run without weariness. It may—but what's the use? The new fad is a positive boon to struggling artists from Maine to California, whose productions have, since the war, had to confront not only a sluggish, but a positively dead market. Let us all rise in our places and give three rousing cheers for the application of painting to lingerie.—New York Times.

LINKS ITALY AND AMERICA

Newly Installed Wireless Telegraphy Plant is the Most Powerful That Has Yet Been Built.

The announcement that Italy and the United States have recently been connected by wireless telegraphy deserves more notice than it has received. This achievement probably makes a back number of the great wireless station at Nauen, near Berlin, which has been so useful to Germany and which, when the war broke out, claimed to be the most powerful in the world, with an effective range of between 5,000 and 6,000 miles. From the nearest point in Italy to the United States transatlantic station at Arlington, near Washington, is not less than 6,200 miles, and to send an intelligible message across that distance might be more than even Nauen could accomplish. Owing to the hostility between the ether waves which carry wireless messages and sunshine, it is always easier to send messages long distances in northerly latitudes than in those more South, and the power required to cover a given distance increases with nearness to the equator. The wireless route between Rome and Arlington is for a good part of the way at least 800 miles nearer the equator than that between Nauen and the United States, which fact considerably adds to the achievement of the Italian and American experts.—London Chronicle.

Wanted Walnut for Gunstocks. Most of the oldest trees in this country were originally planted, not for the sake of the fruit, but because the wood makes the best gunstocks, being light, strong and not easily warped.

HOLD YOUR LIBERTY BONDS.

Next to the imperative duty of American citizens to support the Liberty loan is their duty to hold their Liberty bonds. It is not full service to the country to purchase Liberty bonds and then throw them upon the market, thus putting upon others the real burden of financing the war. Unless the necessity for disposing of them is very great, every owner of a Liberty bond should hold fast to it.

Holding onto one's bonds means that one has not only lent so much money to his Government but also that he is not spending that money for goods, labor, and transportation needed by the Nation in the prosecution of the war, and is thus leaving the resources of the country more freely at the disposal of the Government as well as giving it financial backing. This is a double service.

Secretary Baker says that the wide distribution of the Liberty bonds amongst the mass of the American people makes our Liberty loans the soundest national financing in history. It is a good thing for every Liberty bond holder to be a creditor of his or her Government, and it is a good thing for the Nation for its obligations to be widely scattered amongst its citizens and not congested into the hands of the rich. It is a most hopeful thing for the United States that the best investment in the world, the Liberty bonds, are very widely distributed amongst millions of its citizens.

Judging the future by the past, our Government bonds issued during this war are going to rise greatly in value with peace. In 1888, 4 per cent. United States bonds sold in the open market as high as $130, and in 1901 brought over $139—that is $139 and some cents for a $100 bond. That the Liberty bonds are going to rise well above par in value is something that the most conservative will admit is well within the bounds of possibility.

The shrewd and unscrupulous, the birds of prey in finance, realize the worth of Liberty bonds, and are going to use every effort to secure them from the hands of those owners of them who are uninformed or who are ignorant of stock and investment values. The favorite method will probably be offering stock of wildcat companies or other speculative ventures. Speculative is really too conservative a word to apply to some of these stocks, since to say that they have a speculative value is flattering in the extreme; they have no value at all, except in the hands of unscrupulous people, who trade them for money or Liberty bonds to ignorant investors.

Some of the get-rich-quick schemers propose not to trade their gold-brick stock for Liberty bonds but to lend their clients money to buy their stock, taking Liberty bonds as security. This is camouflage—only a thinly disguised method of securing Liberty bonds for worthless or near-worthless stock.

Every holder of a Liberty bond before he disposes of it, and especially before he trades it for stocks or other bonds, should consult a bank. Much money will be thereby saved to the owners of Liberty bonds and the finances of the American people be better conserved.

Blew Up the Family Wash. Down in Galveston recently an innocent looking chunk of iron propped a family boiler over the fire for the Monday wash. But there wasn't any washing that day. The prop proved to be a Civil war shell, vintage of 1863, and fulfilled its destiny by sending the boiler through the roof and shaking the surrounding territory.—Omaha Bee.

Ministerial Warriors. Probably no town in Maine has equaled Dexter as far as sending its ministers into war work is concerned. Four out of its six active pastors will have answered the call within a short time. They are Rev. Ambrose B. McAllister, Rev. George C. Sauer, Rev. H. Lincoln MacKenzie and Rev. Stanley Gates Spear.

Bound to Get Into Fight. A man giving the name of J. E. Murphy walked into the office of the Canadian recruiting mission in Boston and asked if there was room in the army for a brigadier general. The officers assured him there was, and Murphy told them he was a Canadian, thirty-three years old, who had served in Mexico under General Orozco with the rank of brigadier general. After a physical examination he was rejected on account of web toes. Murphy said he would go to Canada and try recruiting offices there.

"I SOLEMNLY SWARE THAT I WONT EAT NO MORE ICE CREAM WHATS MAID WITH SUGER NOR NO MORE CANDY WHATS MAID WITH SUGER. HONEST AN TROOCROSS MY HART. AMEN!"

AN HEROIC SACRIFICE.

WINTER IS APPROACHING!

NOT MUCH COAL!

Thanks to my foresight, I have prepared a lot of winter stuff and will sell it to the public at very reasonable prices.

Winter underwear (cotton as well as woolen) for men, women and children. Sweaters, Blankets, Quilts, Flannels and very good goose feathers at the lowest of prices.

A full line of stockings, (silk, cotton and woolen) for the whole family.

MEN'S GOOD OVERALLS $1.50 only

VERY GOOD SHAKER FLANNEL..... 16c per yd. only

The best APRON GINGHAM, (on Saturday only)..... $1c per yd.

A very heavy BROOM, (worth a dollar) my price 75c only

Fleisher's Knitting Wool, all shades and colors ... $3c per skein

A full line of shoes and rubber goods for men, women and children.

I will sell you all the stuff cheaper than anybody else, reasons: my rent is very small, I do all the work in the store myself, I buy everything for cash in advance.

I firmly believe that by buying in the Alpine Bargain Store, you can save enough money to buy a Liberty Bond.
