CITY WILL RELAY PIPE

Council Decides Not to Wait for Cantrell Construction Company to Complete Contract—Mechanicsville Sewer Section to be Started Soon—Other Business.

Regular meeting of the common council was held on Tuesday evening. Present—Councilmen Berrien, Manhattan, O'Connor, and Stanton; Clerk Fulton, City Solicitor Pearse, Engineer Mason, City Treasurer Perrine, and Street Commissioner Connors. Minutes of previous meeting approved as read.

A letter was read from the Cantrell Construction Company requesting that arrangements be made for a meeting with the sewer committee and city engineer together with representatives of the company in regard to relaying the sewer pipes in the bay. Another letter from the same company to Solicitor Pearse to the same purport was also read.

Mr. Stanton stated the time limit would expire next month, and he believed the company was simply delaying the matter with the purpose of escaping the responsibility. He was in favor of the city doing the work at once.

Mr. O'Connor stated that as the Cantrell Construction Company and the bonding company had been given ample notice of the intention of the city, he thought the city should get some wrecking company to do the work and charge the cost to the contractor.

Mr. Manhattan stated he desired to go on record that he favored the work being done at once by the city.

On motion of Mr. Berrien the communications were received and ordered filed, and the matter referred to committee on sewers with city engineer to take immediate steps to place the sewer pipe in the bay in proper condition.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Pennsylvania R. R. Co.	$ 0.32
Labor, water works	41.13
Perth Amboy City Water Works	660.46
I. I. Turner & Co.	6.00
Florence Iron Works	33.00
M. & E. L. H. & P. Co.	461.82
M. McCormack	5.25
D. Quinlan	4.00
August Behn	3.00
August Behn	14.88
J. J. Braney	36.00
W. Birmingham	8.00
Albert Leonard	13.75
Orlando Perrine, expenses	1.25
Albert Leonard	10.00
Patrick McCabe	10.00
A. Kronmeyer	16.98
Labor, streets	56.81
Labor, teams	12.50
Labor, garbage	39.20
S. J. Mason	75.00
P. J. Monaghan	1000.00

A deduction of $10.68 was made for outage from electric light bill. On resolutions offered by Mr. Berrien appropriations were made to pay one note for $4,000, and two notes for $5,000 each, due at the First National Bank.

On resolutions offered by Mr. Berrien $1,000 was appropriated to meet public dock bonds due, and $325 to meet interest.

Mr. Manhattan offered the following resolution which was adopted:

"Whereas it is considered to be the best interests of the inhabitants of the city of South Amboy that the sanitary sewerage system should be completed in the manner heretofore adopted by the council and as prepared by the city engineer, therefore be it resolved that the clerk is hereby instructed to advertise for bids for the section of sanitary sewers commonly known as the Mechanicsville section in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file and marked South Amboy sanitary sewer system, Mechanicsville section."

Mr. Berrien spoke of the unfinished section in Frog Hollow, Perth street, Morgan road, etc., and wanted to know if there was the intention to complete this section.

Mr. O'Connor said every person was entitled to sewer connection, and this section would also be favored. It would be necessary to erect a pumping station to take care of the sewage in this section.

Mr. O'Connor offered a resolution

ALFRED T. KERR.

Candidate for nomination at Primary election as Freeholder on the Democratic Ticket, and a member of present Board.

JOSEPH WILSON, SR. PASSES AWAY

Joseph Wilson, Sr., departed this life at his home on Main street, at 8:45 o'clock Friday evening, September 15, after an extended illness.

Mr. Wilson was born in Philadelphia, February 14, 1831, making him in his eighty-first year. He entered the service of the Camden and Amboy Railroad at the age of fourteen years, and learned the shipbuilding trade in all its branches. On March 27, 1872, he moved to this city, and assumed charge of the shipyard of the railroad company. In 1881 he was transferred by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to Jersey City, where he held the position of general foreman of repairs to the floating equipment, but continued to make his home here. On March 1, 1910, he was placed on the retired list having reached the age limit.

Mr. Wilson was past master of Mt. Moriah Lodge, No. 28, F. & A. M., and member of Mt. Moriah Chapter, No. 20, and Ivanhoe Commandery, No. 1, Knight Templars, all of Bordentown. He is survived by a widow and two sons, William H. Wilson, of Bordentown, and Joseph Wilson, Jr., of this city. He was a respected citizen and took interest in the affairs of the city.

The funeral was held from his late residence at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning, the service being conducted by Revs. C. S. Miller, George Kane and H. M. P. Pearse. The choir of the Methodist Episcopal Church rendered the singing. The bearers in this city were Messrs. P. A. Stults, Walter MacDowell, John Buchanan, R. M. Fitch, Samuel Freeman, Charles Smock, Frank Stidfole and V. N. James.

After the service in this city, the body was taken on the 10:20 P. R. R. train to Bordentown. There the Masonic order took charge of the burial, at which many friends were in attendance. Interment was made in the cemetery at that place. Rev. George Kane, of this city, accompanied the remains to Bordentown and performed the service at the grave.

Stillwell & Mason had full charge of funeral in this city and at Bordentown.

Democrats Have Some Competition for Office

There is considerable competition for office on the Democratic ticket at the primary election. For sheriff, Albert Holschweiller, of Perth Amboy, who has the endorsement of the county committee, is opposed by Thomas P. Burke, of the same city. For assembly, William J. Leavy is running as an independent candidate. For coroners, we find James J. Flynn, of Perth Amboy, and Edward T. O'Leary, of this city, running as independents. For freeholders, Patrick Fallon, of this city, and Nathan Rauth, of Perth Amboy, are after the nomination. For city clerk, Richard M. Mack and Peter Conkley are in the race.

A Bible Class under an able teacher meets at the home of Charles H. Dancker, Broadway and George street, every Lord's Day at 5 p. m. "Ready to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."—2 Tim. 2:15. 9-16-17

CITY'S TAX RATE IS $1.56

Four Points Higher Than Last Year, Due to Increased Appropriations for Streets, Schools and Fire Department—County Tax Lower—Mayor Compliments Council and Favors Improved Streets.

The city's tax rate is 1.56, an increase of only 4 points over last year, due to increase in local budget of $2,494.25 over that of 1910.

Increased appropriations for Schools, Streets and Fire Department. Year gain in taxable property makes total assessed valuation $3,069,638.

Books of assessors show South Amboy property includes:

$1,615,899 in Real Estate,
$1,027,986 in second-class Railroad,
$ 425,753 in Personal.

The corporate budget is as follows:

Local tax.....$26,367
County tax.....13,705
State School.....7,880

Total valuation, $3,069,638; tax rate 1.56; the average tax rate for the years 1911 and 1912 being 1.54.

The local rate is six points higher, the county rate two points lower than last year, State School about the same as last year, making the corporate budget but four points higher.

MR. EDITOR:

We are living up to the Jeffersonian doctrine "economy in the public expense that labor may be lightly burdened."

By the striking of an honest tax rate based on honest ratables by a policy of intelligent economy, the city's tax has been reduced about 36 points in two years and valuations on private property have not been increased to produce this most creditable result. The decrease is due in part to the steady decrease in the County and School tax, which shows the county and school affairs are being conducted in an economical and businesslike manner.

The second section of our sanitary sewer system is now nearing completion and we will soon take up the construction of the third and last section.

Newman—Bennett.

A charming home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett, Bordentown avenue, on Thursday evening, when their daughter, Miss Edyth Lillian Bennett, became the happy bride of Serrell Newman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Newman, of this city.

The ceremony took place at 7:30 o'clock, and was performed by the Rev. C. S. Miller, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Miss Mabel Walters, of Perth Amboy, served as bridesmaid and Mr. Frank Ritter, of that city, was attendant to the groom.

The bride was the picture of loveliness in a handsome gown of pink messaline silk, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid was becomingly attired in a white embroidered gown, and carried white roses.

A reception followed the ceremony at which about fifty guests were present, being the immediate relatives of the bride and groom, and members of a social club of which the bride belonged. During the evening dainty refreshments, consisting of the delicacies of the season, were served. The merry festivities were kept up until a late hour. The house decorations were ferns and golden rods.

A number of handsome gifts were received, among them being a leather pocket from members of the social club.

The happy couple will live with the bride's parents for the present, but expect to soon commence house-keeping.

READY FOR FOOTBALL.

The Sheridan A. C. has organized a football team for the coming season with the following as the team: Thomas Gault, T. Callahan, J. Connors, J. Dooling, D. Sharkey, J. Purcell, E. O'Connor, W. Brennan, J. Morley, C. Smith, E. Hardy. The Sheridans would like to hear from all teams averaging in weight from 120 to 140 pounds. All communications may be addressed to Wm. O'Toole, manager, South Amboy, N. J.

tion and we will soon take up the construction of the third and last section.

I earnestly and honestly hope that by next spring the work of paving Broadway will have begun and that we may continue to improve one street every year.

I desire at this time to thank the members of the Council for the loyal support given me. To our care and guidance has been given over the administration of what is, in reality, a sacred trust. Let us then watch over it and guide it in a worthy manner and put forth our untiring efforts in the promotion of its every interest.

To the members of the Board of Education let me say, that it is difficult to thank you for any specific work you have accomplished. You have gone about it so quietly and unostentatiously, that just where your influence has been exerted most it is difficult to say. But the happy and prosperous condition of our schools points with striking emphasis to the fact that you have done well. It is with a deep appreciation of that fact that I thank you.

I want to thank the Departmental heads and officers of the city. You are the men with whom we are intimately associated. Your efforts to help the Mayor and Council have been numberless and I am proud to say that the Council has generally met you more than half-way with the heartiest appreciation of your goodwill toward us.

Remember that the forward look stimulates the forward step. Then let our slogan be "On with the improvements."

Very truly yours,
MICHAEL WELSH,
Mayor.

Christoph—Kutcher.

The wedding bells rang out at Christ Church on Saturday last, when Joseph Christoph, of this city, took for his partner for life, Miss Elizabeth Kutcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kutcher, of Erneston.

At 5 o'clock p. m., the bridal party entered the church and proceeded up the center aisle, took positions in the chancel, when the ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. M. P. Pearse, the rector.

Miss Theresa Kutcher, a sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and Harry Burkhardt was attendant to the groom.

After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, where was assembled a large gathering of relatives to extend congratulations and wish the couple a happy married life. A fine wedding supper was served, and a merry time was had until a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Christoph are making their home on Augusta street, this city.

Former Resident Dies at Hackensack

Stanford Shively, of Englewood, a former resident of this city, died at Hackensack on Thursday, September 21, aged 48 years.

Mr. Shively was in the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad in this city a number of years ago, and resigned his position to become proprietor of the Everett House in this city. He afterward went to Englewood, where he kept a first-class hotel. He had many friends in this city, who will regret to learn of his death.

CLAM CHOWDER AND BAKERY.

Don't forget, clam chowder and home bakery at the P. R. R. Y. M. C. A., Saturday, September 23. Bakery sale begins at 3 o'clock. Chowder ready to serve 5 o'clock sharp, by the plate or quart.

WILLIAM S. DEY,

who is running for nomination at Primary election as Freeholder on the Republican Ticket, and is a member of present Board.

AUGUST RUSCHMAN CALLED TO REST

August Ruschman died at his home on Highland street on Tuesday afternoon, aged 71 years and six months. He had not been in good health for a long time, but was able to be about until within a few days of his death.

Mr. Ruschman formerly resided at Erneston where he owned a farm, but upon selling his property to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, he moved to this city and purchased a small tract of land and raised produce. He had many friends both in this city and at Erneston. He is survived by a widow, two sons and one daughter.

The funeral took place at the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, Erneston, at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon and was largely attended. The service was conducted by the Rev. H. M. P. Pearse, rector of Christ Church. Interment was made in the Erneston cemetery. J. J. Scully was funeral director.

LABORER BURIED IN SEWER TRENCH

On Tuesday an excavation for a lateral sewer connection in front of the Aken building on Broadway, caved in and completely buried an Italian, who is in the employ of Collins & Gundrum. It created great excitement and soon a large crowd of people gathered. The other laborers worked hard to remove the sand from the unfortunate man, and when his head was uncovered they were pleased to find signs of life. In a few minutes the man was taken from the excavation and appeared to be uninjured except from shock. A few minutes rest seemed to bring him out in as good a condition as ever.

Ladies' Aid Society Tender a Surprise

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. P. Church in goodly numbers journeyed to Little Silver on Thursday, 21st inst., and very agreeably surprised Mrs. J. Irwin—formerly Miss Lizzie Rue, and also a member of the society. The affair was cleverly arranged and successfully carried out. Merriment in social conversation whiffled away several hours all too soon. Refreshments were served and completed an afternoon of enjoyment, which fully repaid the painstaking ones for their effort.

Coulton Bloodgood.

Miss Frances S. Bloodgood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bloodgood, of Main street, was united in marriage on Tuesday evening to Harry C. Coulton, of Perth Amboy. The ceremony took place at the parsonage of the Shilpston Methodist Church, Perth Amboy, and was performed by the Rev. William E. Palmer, D. D., pastor. The witnesses to the marriage were Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Batten, of Perth Amboy.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Coulton will make their home in this city.

TENNIS CLUB.

A final series will be played by the members of the Y. M. C. A. Club at an early date. The daily matches played by the members are fast and very interesting. The ladies at all times hold their share of honors.

CLEAN UP SOUTH RIVER

The Morgan A. C. Surprise the Ball Players of That Borough—Were Victors in the Greatest Battle of the Season—Special Train Carried Hundreds of Fans to Ball Field.

Three thousand fans were given the treat of the season when the Morgans and South River crossed bats at South River on Sunday last. It was the largest and wildest crowd that ever witnessed a game in this section and from the first ball until the last the shouting never ceased.

Over three hundred fans accompanied the team by special train from this city, while fully as many made the trip in every available vehicle. South Amboy has not known such excitement over baseball in many years and many fans are now waiting for their vocal cords to resume their natural positions. The Sheridans, Morgans and Polo clubs turned out in full numbers and with the leadership of Dan Sharkey, "Nat" Casey and "Capt." Harry were in a continuous uproar.

The Amboy boys played classy ball and were there with the stick putting Burns the crack South River twirler in the clear early in the game.

Campion starred at first and was there with the clout when it was needed. Stratton, Keating and Coakley gobbled every thing that came their way. Keating and Coakley pulled off a couple of circus catches that won great applause. Kelly, Maxfield and Bloodgood had very few chances in the outfield but each contributed a hit. Manaker caught well but gave way to Magee in the fifth on account of a bad finger. Both catchers starred and had the South River boys hugging the bags. The Morgans now claim the championship of Middlesex County and are ready to show any team who doubts their claim that they are champs.

Score:

Morgans	2	0	2	1	2	1	0	0	0	—8
S. River	1	2	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	—5

Struck out—by Atkinson, 9; by Burns, 3; by Hyllie, 4. Bases on balls—off Atkinson, 6; off Burns, 8; off Hyllie, 1. Two-base hits—Campion, Keating. Umpire Siegel. Attendance, 3,000.

Rally Day at The Presbyterian Church

The members of the Presbyterian Church are making special preparations for their Rally Day services on October 1. It is desired that every member be present at all services. At the morning service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered; special Sunday School service in the afternoon and a special Christian Endeavor service at 7 p. m. At the evening service at 7:45 o'clock there will be special music, etc. All are invited to attend the services.

BIRTHDAY RECEPTION.

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Eulner entertained a number of friends on Monday, 18th, from 8 to 10 p. m. in honor of the first birthday of their son, Elmer, Jr. Mrs. Eulner and her daughter were guests from out of the city. The occasion was a pleasant one and though not indulged into to any great extent by Elmer Jr., it left assurance that his future birthdays would not pass unnoticed by his elders.

Says Father Custled Her From Home

Miss Catherine Martz, of Cliffwood, on Wednesday made complaint before Justice Harold Pickett, of Perth Amboy, against her father, Michael Martz, charging him with brutal treatment, confining her from home and refusing to let her have her clothes. Officer Frank Conrad, of Perth Amboy, served the warrant on Martz, and he willingly accompanied the officer to court. Before the Justice Martz said he would let his daughter have her clothes. Miss Martz asked for a peace warrant against her father, which the Justice issued.

PROF. BLAKE WILL DIRECT
TRENTON FAIR EXHIBIT.

With twice the amount of floor space and with more than double the amount expended in prizes and awards, the horticultural and floricultural exhibit at the Trenton Fair will without question prove a record breaker.

To begin with, it will be under the direction of Professor M. A. Blake.

PROFESSOR M. A. BLAKE.
[Director of horticultural and floricultural exhibit at the Trenton Fair.]

from the New Jersey state experimental school of New Brunswick. Professor Blake is at the top of his profession and is in every way qualified to give to the Trenton Fair an exhibit in both horticulture and floriculture that will be talked of until the next Trenton Fair is held.

To house this great double combination exhibit it has been necessary to turn two buildings over to Professor Blake, and all of this space will surely be used. The demand for a genuine horticultural and floricultural exhibit has been keen for some years, but this is the first year the Trenton Fair directors could see their way clear to ward doing it as it should be done.

Absolutely nothing has been spared in expenditure of time or money to perfect this exhibit, and the prize list is one of the most attractive that have ever been offered for prize fruits and flowers.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS.

The Astor Theatre.

Messrs. Wagenhals and Kemper announced a new comedy, "What The Doctor Ordered," for production at their Astor Theatre in New York on Wednesday night, September 20. The next sale opened on Thursday, September 14. On the following Saturday night, two days after seats were placed on sale and four days before the opening of the play, the theatre was practically sold out for the first night. There is something in this. In no other city in the country is there anything like this interest in the theatre. To be sure New York leads in population, but attention given to the theatre is out of proportion to community members. In New York the bringing out of a new play is a social and artistic event. The public there doesn't wait to be shown, it goes to see for itself, especially a production by managers of standing like Wagenhals and Kemper. "What The Doctor Ordered" had a preliminary week in Toronto beginning September 11, and Canadian opinion was that it is a worthy successor to "Paid in Full" and "Seven Days."

Woolen Mills to Reopen.

After being idle for five years, the old Titus woolen mills in Trenton, owned by the John Williams Manufacturing Company of Philadelphia, are soon to be reopened by the same concern. One hundred persons will be employed at the outset. Charles Whitehead, of Trenton, will be in charge.

Divorce Suit Started.

Suit for divorce has been started by Joseph E. Wilbur, and papers have been served upon his wife at her home in Fayette street, Perth Amboy. Harry E. Munn is named as the co-respondent in the case, as it is alleged that he has been residing with Mrs. Wilbur for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur were married four years ago. They later agreed to disagree, and have since been living apart. Mr. Wilbur has retained Attorney Henry W. Kehoe, of Perth Amboy, to represent him.

Killed By Train.

An unidentified man about 25 years of age threw himself in front of a northbound Central Railroad express train near East Rahway and was instantly killed shortly after noon Sunday. There was an excess ticket found on his clothes redeemable at 10 cents, which showed that he had ridden on a train from Elizabethport and intended getting on a local train to Roosevelt. The young man was dressed in his working clothes and nothing in his pockets was found which would serve to identify him. The body was taken to Engle's morgue, Roosevelt.

Confesses to Double Murder.

Marino Beni Monday morning made a full confession of the recent double murder at Perth Amboy to Detective Pettier at the county jail. Beni's case was presented to the grand jury. His confession will enable the jury to make quick work of the case. Detective Pettier visited the jail with an Italian priest from Perth Amboy, who acted as interpreter. The Italian who had been shot during the fight and who is now held in jail as a witness against Beni, also made a statement to the detective.

Ship a Silver Mine.

With a veritable silver mine in her hold, the British steamship Dorothy, commanded by Captain Smiles, reached the plant of the American Smelting and Refining Company at Maurer, Saturday night. The cargo, consisting of 3,500 tons of silver ore, is worth about $1,000,000. The ship sailed from Antofagasto, Chile, South America, on July 12.

Lone Guardian Quits Job.

Scotch Plains is once more without a policeman, and that little hamlet is considerably exercised over the fact. Hugh O'Loughlin, who was the one lone marshal, has resigned to take a better job, and the place is left unprotected from speeding motorists and tramps who are frequently seen about the village. The authorities will make an effort to secure a successor to O'Loughlin as soon as possible. Owing to the small pay it has been impossible to keep a man in the position, and when O'Loughlin had an offer for a better position he promptly resigned.

Will Condemn Land.

On Tuesday Justice Voorhees appointed William Oberman, of Deans; Frederick L. Buckalew, of Jamesburg, and J. Bayard Kirkpatrick, of New Brunswick, as commissioners to condemn land of Aaron Dean at Deans, wanted by the Pennsylvania railroad. Alan H. Strong told the court that the railroad now actually occupies the half acre of land wanted. He had three names to submit to the court and so did Alfred S. March. The court told them to confer. So, Mr. March named Mr. Oberman; Mr. Strong named Mr. Buckalew and the court named Mr. Kirkpatrick.

To Present Desk to Fort.

Plans are being made by State Treasurer Daniel S. Voorhees and former State Comptroller Henry J. State Democratic Club Convention.

Announcement was made on Wednesday from Democratic State headquarters at Trenton, that the convention of the State Federation of Democratic Clubs will be held in Masonic Temple, Trenton, October 7. Following the business session, addresses will be made by Governor Wilson, Robert Hudspeth, of Hudson county, national committeeman for New Jersey; State Chairman Edward E. Grossep, and Job H. Lippincott, of Hudson, chairman of the auxiliary committee of the State committee. Each Democratic organization in the State will be expected to send two delegates as official representatives, but as the hall is large requests will be made that special delegations come from all sections of the State.

Will Open New Postal Bank.

Postmaster C. W. Russell, of New Brunswick, on Tuesday announced that a branch of the Postal Savings Bank will be open in that city October 21. The postoffice building was recently enlarged and now has room for the new department.

Trenton Won The Series.

The past season series of seven games between the Reading and Trenton teams of the Tri-State League, for a purse of $1,000, came to a close with a double-header at Reading Saturday. Trenton taking the first game, 6 to 5 and Reading the second 2 to 1. One game was all that the Tigers needed to win the series and the first battle was fairly fought

The victory made the fourth straight for the Trentons last week, winning two in each city. Manning was pounded for 15 hits in the first game, eight of them coming in the first two innings. Reading got to Lefty Lloyd in the fourth and fifth when he retired in favor of Girard.

Veterans Attend Reunion.

MANY SENSATIONS FOR TRENTON FAIR.

Auto Race in Midair, Daring Woman in Monoplane Flights and Other Great Thrills.

Ask any one who knows "what's who" and "what's what" in open air sensations and he will tell you that the hope of the world's greatest thrills has been the Trenton Fair for several years.

William Taylor, the director of the vaudeville department of the Trenton Fair, has displayed rare ability in gathering together such exhibitions as have made the Fair famous from one end of the land to the other.

Not even the wonderful Coney Island has offered more blood quickening acts than have been seen from year to year in connection with the Trenton Fair.

After having presented so much that was new and almost miraculous in the past Mr. Taylor had a difficult task this year to keep the Trenton Fair up to its standard, but nevertheless he has succeeded remarkably.

The chief thriller for the 1911 Fair will be Miss Harriet Quimby, the bravest and one of the most beautiful girls in the world, in monoplane flights every afternoon. Miss Quimby has been startling the aviating world recently with her marvelous flights, and even the hardened old time air men are saying that she is greater than any of the men pilots of the atmosphere.

Miss Quimby is a cultured girl, being the dramatic editor of Leslie's Weekly and a writer of rare ability.

Can you imagine an automobile race in midair?

Pretty keen stretch of the imagination, isn't it?

That's another of the sensations of this year's Trenton Fair.

Two automobiles will dash down a long incline, and while one turns a triple somersault in the air the other will shoot past it.

Both cars will light on a platform and continue the race to the finish. The act literally baffles description.

The much abused term of "death defying" is the only phrase that really describes it.

Miss Frances Goodale will show how a woman can control a dirigible air-ship in daily exhibitions. This act will be second only to the monoplane flights of Miss Quimby.

Desperado in his wonderful leap through space is another of the nerve twisters on the Trenton Fair program. This act is unquestionably one of the most perplexing, mystifying and bewildering of the world's daring deeds.

All records for recklessness and bravery are shattered in the accomplishment of this hazardous feat. Desperado dives from a little platform sixty-five feet in the air and alights on his breast in a wooden trough and does the trick without injury.

The highest dive the world has ever known will be made at the Trenton Fair by Blaney, w. will plunge 100 feet into a small tank. This will be a straight headforemost dive and will give a tremendous thrill to all who witness it.

Much has been said about parachute drops, but it has remained for the Trenton Fair to cap the climax. This year Professor Edward R. Hutchinson will make eight drops from a balloon.

One of the novelties provided for the 1911 Trenton Fair will be the famous Flying Girls. This act has been with flying national praise at Revere Beach, near Boston.

Another novelty will be the appearance of the Coney Island sensation, Miss Zoo, who does a remarkable diving act while sliding skyward on a slender wire. Nothing like this has ever been offered at a fair before, and it is sure to score a decided hit.

Still another thrill will be brought to Trenton Fair patrons by Calvert, the daring high wire performer. He is without doubt the greatest living wire man, and the tricks he does at a great height will make the bravest hold their breath in fear and wonder.

There are only the feature acts to be seen this year at the Trenton Fair, but there will be others that will interest and entertain as well as startle and amaze.

WILLIAM TAYLOR.
[Who has gathered many thrills for the Trenton Fair.]

at the place where she fell and saw that she had been vomiting crooked pins. And as I looked each pin turned into a tiny snake and wriggled away."

"That is serious indeed," said the judge, writing down the accusation. "Have you seen anything else?"

"Yes. At midnight I was awakened by a scream, and, going to the window, saw the girl emerge from the chimney and ride away on a broomstick."

"Worse yet," said the judge, with lowering brow. "Anything else?"

"No, nothing that I am ready to swear to."

"Are there other witnesses?"

"My son Hans saw the witch fly away from the chimney on a broomstick."

"I shall have the wench arrested and brought before me on the morrow. Be sure to come to make good your statements."

On the morrow the maiden, terror-stricken, was brought in the court, and there before the judge sat the old hag and her son Hans, who swore to what the woman had said the day before. When the judge turned to Gretchen and asked her what she had to say to the charge she pronounced it a lie, saying that she had refused to marry Hans and for that he and his mother had taken this revenge. But the judge considered the evidence too explicit to be disbelieved and felt that the community was in too great danger to warrant the taking of any risk. If Gretchen were a witch she should be got away with before she could propagate her witchcraft. And were not here two good witnesses, who had seen evidence of her sorcery? The result was that he ordered her back to prison and directed the jailer to put a grating over the chimney that she might not fly away. That day week she was to be burned at the stake.

The morning after this sentence young Ludwig Zweigler, a nephew of Hans who had made the clock and was keeper of the town time, entered his uncle's shop. Old Zweigler looked up at him and, seeing that he was in

The Town Clock

A Story of Medieval Times

One needs only to go back a century to step into a social condition entirely different from that in which we live today, and two centuries ago the difference was far greater.

Nevertheless in that age a faint streak of dawn appeared on the horizon of civilization. Certain implements that were destined to revolutionize the world were invented. Of these the printing press and the timepiece were perhaps the most notable. The clock at once excited the ingenuity of mechanics, and they added to it many peculiar features. One clock on striking the hour exhibited figures of the twelve apostles, who came out of a door, walked around a circle and went back into hiding. Another showed the Magi adoring the infant Jesus. The town clock henceforth regulated the affairs of men. It established the hours for labor and for worship.

In the town of Zweirhofen, in Germany, Carl Zweigler had made the clock high up in the tower that stood in the market place. And, having built it, he alone knew how to regulate and repair it. If it stopped either Zweigler must start it and keep it going or it remained stopped. With it the good people of Zweirhofen also stopped. And if it remained stopped they remained stopped also. They did not know at what hour to assemble for trade or for prayer. They did not know when to go to bed or to rise. If a prisoner were sentenced for a specified term no one knew when that term began or ended. If a man were sentenced to be hanged on a certain day and hour no one knew when the sentence was to be executed.

One day old Frau Becker appeared before the judge of the court and accused Gretchen Dagner, a lovely girl of eighteen, of being a witch.

"What evidence," asked the judge, "have you to corroborate your accusation?"

"Last night I saw her go out into her yard, and she fell down in a fit. Later I went and looked over the wall at the place where she fell and saw that she had been vomiting crooked pins. And as I looked each pin turned into a tiny snake and wriggled away."

"That is serious indeed," said the judge, writing down the accusation. "Have you seen anything else?"

"Yes. At midnight I was awakened by a scream, and, going to the window, saw the girl emerge from the chimney and ride away on a broomstick."

"Worse yet," said the judge, with lowering brow. "Anything else?"

"No, nothing that I am ready to swear to."

"Are there other witnesses?"

"My son Hans saw the witch fly away from the chimney on a broomstick."

"I shall have the wench arrested and brought before me on the morrow. Be sure to come to make good your statements."

On the morrow the maiden, terror-stricken, was brought in the court, and there before the judge sat the old hag and her son Hans, who swore to what the woman had said the day before. When the judge turned to Gretchen and asked her what she had to say to the charge she pronounced it a lie, saying that she had refused to marry Hans and for that he and his mother had taken this revenge. But the judge considered the evidence too explicit to be disbelieved and felt that the community was in too great danger to warrant the taking of any risk. If Gretchen were a witch she should be got away with before she could propagate her witchcraft. And were not here two good witnesses, who had seen evidence of her sorcery? The result was that he ordered her back to prison and directed the jailer to put a grating over the chimney that she might not fly away. That day week she was to be burned at the stake.

The morning after this sentence young Ludwig Zweigler, a nephew of Hans who had made the clock and was keeper of the town time, entered his uncle's shop. Old Zweigler looked up at him and, seeing that he was in great distress, asked him what was the matter.

"My beloved Gretchen," said the young man, "has been condemned by the judge to be burned for a witch. Old Frau Becker wished her to marry her son, for, since the death of Frau Schoenberger, Gretchen is possessed of a fortune. Hans and his mother have brought this suit for revenge. Gretchen loves me and will marry none other."

The timekeeper of the town paused in his work and appeared to be thinking. Finally he asked:

"When is Gretchen to be burned?"

"In six days."

"I can do nothing to avert this horror," said the old man, "but I may stave it off."

"How?" asked Ludwig eagerly.

"I can disarrange the mechanism of the town clock so that its hands will not mark the hour regularly or will stop altogether. Then I will not be able to certify to the day or the hour, and all acts done without this certificate will be illegal."

"Help me, uncle," pleaded the young man, catching at the straw offered.

At that season the sun rose at Zweirhofen at 7 o'clock, and most burghers rose with it. The morning after Zweigler had talked with his nephew old Simon Shucker got out of bed and, as was his custom, looked out of his window at the clock to assure himself that he had not overslept. The sun was shining brightly, and the hour hand of the clock stood at 10. Simon hastily put on his breeches and, running to the house of his friend, Gottlieb Zimmerman, knocked loudly on the door.

"Get up, Gottlieb," he said. "The town is bewitched. It is 10 o'clock, and everybody is still asleep."

Zimmerman came out in his nightgown and cap and, seeing the clock registering the hour of 10, went about knocking on every door, arousing the people.

"Gretchen Dagner," he said, "who was the day before yesterday condemned, has bewitched the town. Get up burghers and go about your work."

Later Ludwig ran into his uncle's shop excitedly and said:

"Oh, uncle, your tampering with the clock has been laid by the people to Gretchen. They claim that she has bewitched it, and they are crying for her to be burned at once."

Zweigler went out into the square and looked up at the clock. Many persons who were doing the same thing crowded around him and asked him what was the matter with it.

"The clock is bewitched," he told them.

"Yes, yes, so we all say. Gretchen Dagner has bewitched it. She should be burned at once."

"It is not Gretchen who has bewitched the clock. Gretchen is not a witch. It is old Frau Becker."

"Frau Becker? Why do you think that?"

"Because the hour hand of the clock is just sixty minutes ahead of its proper place, and Frau Becker is sixty years old."

The crowd gaped first at the speaker, then at the clock.

"And there is an accessory," continued Zweigler, "one who is twenty-two years old."

"Why do you think that?"

"Because the minute hand is just twenty-two minutes ahead of where it should be."

"There was more gaping, and finally some one said:

"Hans Becker is twenty-two years old."

At this moment Gottlieb Zimmerman approached and was told what Zweigler had said.

"That's absurd," said Zimmerman. "There is no proof that it is true."

"What proof," asked Zweigler, "is there that Gretchen is a witch?"

"She has been seen to vomit crooked pins and fly out of the chimney on a broomstick."

"Who saw her?"

"Frau Becker and her son."

"I have better proof than that. Release Gretchen and arrest Frau and Hans Becker and I think the clock will go right."

This divided the crowd into two factions, the one opposed to and the other in favor of Zweigler's plan. But it afforded a test, and tests were what the people of that age required on which to base their decisions. Indeed, if it was ridiculous it was a trifle less ridiculous than believing an accusation manifestly made for revenge. So those who wished to make the experiment prevailed. Gretchen was released and her accusers arrested.

Meanwhile Zweigler had sent his nephew up into the clock tower with orders at a certain signal from him to put the hands of the clock in their proper places. When Gretchen was released and Hans Becker and his mother were arrested the crowd rushed back into the market place to see if the clock approved of their course. It had stood at 1 o'clock and 22 minutes shortly before their return. When they saw it again it was exactly 12 o'clock.

Then the crowd clamored for the burning of the Beckers, but Zweigler told them it was possible that, after all, the clock meant to show its disapproval of burning for witchcraft and that was the reason why it had gone wrong. The old man had acquired so much confidence on account of his diagnosis of the case that far that the people were ready to believe anything he told them. They released Hans Becker and his mother, and since the clock continued to keep true time they considered that they had done right.

That was the last case of witchcraft that came up before the courts of Germany, and in a few years those who had believed in it regarded it as a delusion.

Ludwig married Gretchen, and they lived to a good old age.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1911.

Don't take it for granted that your friends will receive the nomination anyway, but go to the primary election next Tuesday and vote for them.

The taxpayers of the county should feel pleased with the economical management of the Board of Freeholders in county affairs. When the present board went into power there was much work to be done. There were roads in bad condition that had to be repaired, and others had to be improved, and much other necessary work was in evidence, and notwithstanding all this the tax rate of the county has been reduced four points. The board has not been blessed with any great amount of money, and to accomplish as much as they have is very creditable to the members. Each one has taken a deep personal interest in county affairs and the welfare of the taxpayers has been the first consideration. Therefore it would seem prudent for the Democratic voters at the primary election next Tuesday to vote for the renomination of the present members, among them being our esteemed fellow townsman, Alfred T. Kerr.

MISAPPLIED PATRIOTISM.

The school case in Perth Amboy, where fourteen-year-old Catherine Ardsley, the daughter of parents who have not renounced their English citizenship, has been suspended from school because she will not repeat the oath of allegiance to the United States each morning, is not likely to prove complicated when it is passed upon by competent authorities. Citizenship is not compulsory in this country, and public education is for all and not merely for the children of citizens. If it is true that the law of New Jersey, prescribing the salute to the flag and the oath of allegiance as a part of the routine of the public schools, is compulsory as relating to each individual pupil, whether of alien or citizen parentage, it conflicts with the law compelling school attendance, and also infringes on the right of every child to public education.

There may be doubt that the parrotlike repetition of the oath of allegiance by the school children, day after day, inculcates patriotism. Quite as likely the words may lose their meaning and the deep significance of the oath of citizenship be sacrificed in familiarity. Be that as it may, the education of the child ought to come first and the oath of allegiance will wait. That is common sense, good patriotism, and obviously the intent of the law.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Albert Bollschweiler, of Perth Amboy, has an opponent at the primary election for nomination of Sheriff on the Democratic ticket, and he is working hard for success. In the city where he lives he has met with favor from the voters, which is evinced by the fact that he has been elected mayor of his home city by a large majority. He has proven himself to be a good official. He is competent to fill the sheriff's office, and would fulfill his duties in an able manner. Democrats who go to the primary election next Tuesday would make no mistake in voting to have his name placed on the Democratic ticket for the general election.

At the general election in November the question of acceptance or rejection of an act of the Legislature, entitled "An act to regulate the pay of patrolmen on the police force in cities, other than first and second class cities and in all towns and townships of this state," will be submitted to the voters of this city. The main provisions of the act are published in another column. This is a very important matter, and voters should read the provisions of the law, so as to vote intelligently.

AIMING FOR GOODNESS.

By desiring what is perfectly good, even when we don't quite know what it is and cannot do what we would, we are part of the divine power against evil, widening the skirts of light and making the struggle with darkness narrower.

CITY WILL RELAY PIPES

that the city engineer be instructed to prepare plans and specifications for paving Broadway.

Mr. Berrien thought the resolution rather indefinite, as it did not specify kind of pavement.

Mr. Stanton stated that three kinds of pavement had been recommended, and city engineer could prepare plans accordingly.

Mr. Berrien remarked that every set of plans cost money, and the kind of pavement ought to be decided upon.

Mr. O'Connor's resolution was adopted.

Mr. O'Connor stated that not having any permission to lay sewers on Pennsylvania railroad property on Bergen Hill, he would request the city engineer to meet with committee on sewers and look over the situation. It might be possible to get permission from other property owners to lay sewer on their lands.

Mr. O'Connor inquired of the city solicitor as to the status of the Susquehanna Coal Company case? Mr. Pearce stated it was still in the U. S. Supreme Court, and that a hearing was expected in October, 1912.

Mr. O'Connor was in favor of starting a suit of ejectment in the "Hole-in-the-Wall" against the P. R. R. Co., and on motion the city solicitor was instructed to take matter up with the Board of Freeholders to learn if they would be a party in the suit, and report at next meeting of the council.

The following resolution by Mr. Stanton was adopted:

"Whereas, An ordinance to supply water to the citizens of South Amboy residing in the section commonly known as Bergen Hill and sections adjacent thereto, it is necessary that a standpipe be erected; therefore be it Resolved, That the whole matter be left to the city engineer and superintendent of water works to prepare adequate plans to relieve present conditions and make a report at the next meeting of the council."

Mr. Stanton offered the following: "Whereas, By virtue of an act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey "An act to regulate the pay of patrolmen on the police force in cities, other than first and second class cities and in all towns and townships of this State," approved April 21, 1909, a method is provided whereby the rate of compensation to be paid policemen may be voted upon and determined by the voters of the city; and

"Whereas, It is desired to permit the people of this city to avail themselves of the privilege therein and by said act accorded them; therefore be it

"Resolved, That there shall be submitted to the voters of the City of South Amboy, at the next general election, to be held on Tuesday, November 7, 1911, the question of the acceptance or rejection of the act entitled 'An act to regulate the pay of patrolmen on the police force in cities, other than first and second class cities and in all towns and townships of this State' which said act was approved, April 21, 1909. Be it further

"Resolved, That the City Clerk take such steps as are needful or appropriate to have the question of the acceptance or rejection of said act submitted to the voters of the city and to have the question printed upon the ballots in the manner required by law, and to have the votes cast for and against the adoption of said act canvassed and returned as prescribed by law."

The resolution was adopted. On motion of Mr. Berrien it was ordered that the main provisions of the act be published three times in the South Amboy Citizen, beginning September 23.

A communication from John Connors, secretary of Enterprise Hook and Ladder Company stated that F. M. Little had served the required time and was entitled to exemption papers.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor, the communication was received and request granted.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor, the clerk was directed to invite the officials of the Public Service Street Railway to meet at their convenience with the committee on streets to take up the poor condition of road bed on the streets.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor, it was ordered that George L. Brown, of the Middlesex and Monmouth Electric Light, Heat and Power Company, be communicated with for him to make an appointment to meet with the committee on lights, to make arrangements to change some of the arc lights to incandescent lights.

The city treasurer's report showed balances as follows: City account, $20,000.11; Water account, $1,395.77; which was received and ordered filed.

On motion of Mr. Berrien, the clerk was instructed to communicate with R. M. Grant & Co. in regard to taking up remainder of the $10,000 worth of bonds.

On motion of Mr. O'Connor, the

POINTERS FOR THE MOTORIST.

The Evils of Insufficient Inflation and Constant Overloading.

The first thing a driver does when one of his tires blows out is to look for some small sharp object that he is certain caused the trouble. The next move very often is to form an iron-clad opinion that the tire manufacturer is wholly to blame for the accident. As a matter of fact, it is more than likely that the fault lies with the driver for there are two results of carelessness that no tire can possibly withstand insufficient inflation and constant overloading.

Few motorists ever concede the fact that they have been guilty of either fault. Some drivers claim that they have been particularly careful before starting on the particular trip when the blow-out occurred, to test their tires so as to be sure that the air pressure was absolutely correct and others claim that their cars were far from overloaded. Many drivers forget that previous careless treatment affected the tire's strength. That, perhaps, with the exception of a few times, ever since the first day of the tire's service, it had been compelled to carry an overweight of from one to two-hundred pounds, and had probably been insufficiently inflated most of the time.

The fact that there was no overload or under-inflation at the time the blow-out occurred proves nothing. To draw a tragic parallel, a man may die suddenly of some internal disease which unknown to him has been developing for a considerable time. In the same way a tire will eventually succumb to a long sustained strain. In the greater number of cases it is only after a long period of heavy work that signs of wear begin to appear.

It should be remembered that tires are not made of granite or concrete but of rubber and should be treated accordingly.

The question of insufficient inflation and the overloading are thoroughly discussed in the "Hook of Blunder" issued free to motorists by the Michelin Tire Company of Milltown, New Jersey.

On Sunday September 24, the Sheridan A. C. will journey down the bay to Mr. Loretto, Staten Island, there to play the fast semi-professional team of that place.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Mr. Editor:
In looking over the advertising columns of a newspaper published in an adjoining State, my attention was attracted to the announcement of a coal dealer, that he delivered "2240 pounds for a ton to his customers."
That advertisement had the ring of the old time square coal dealer. During the time when H. C. Perrino was running a coal yard, which was under the management of the late John L. Parker, while the coal was being carted I was accosted by a neighbor as to how many pounds I got for a ton. I replied 2240 pounds. "How do you know?" Why, I do not know. "Why not have it weighed?" Well, I will. I told the drivers to run their wagons over the scales in town, and to give me the weight, which they did. After comparing Mr. Parker's weight with the town scales, I found a variation of 150 pounds. In showing Mr. Parker these weights, I told him I would pay the amount of the bill he had sent me, as I had no evidence to impugn the correctness of the claim he sent me. Being a buyer of grain, in large quantities, which was weighed on large scales about thirty miles from this city, as the loads came to town I requested the teamsters to drive on the scales here. When I received the weight of the grain, and upon comparison, I found the same discrepancy, but I was more insistent for an adjustment with the parties of whom I bought the grain, than I was with Mr. Parker, but to no purpose. I paid the bill as they sent it, and since that time I have not spent any energy or money to ascertain how many pounds were given when weighed by the large scales.
The public press of today says it is a mooted question among purchasers of coal as to how many pounds the ton contains that is delivered to them. The going as you please in weighing coal was inaugurated after the big strike. The New York World sent out its reporters to ascertain how many pounds of coal the consumer got in his ton. In an editorial the World said, that according to the evidence its correspondents brought in, if a consumer gets 1700 pounds in his ton, that was about the limit. Coal dealers after the strike seemed to have found themselves in the dilemma of the boy who said he never got the menden because he belonged to a family that was so large there never were menden enough to go around.
We are on the eve of a change; 2240 pounds for a ton is hovering in the air, and will light among coal consumers very shortly, as I saw a coal dealer's advertisement just over the bridge, that he gave "2240 pounds" per ton. Under present conditions, I am satisfied that I have no means of knowing how many pounds are delivered in my bin, as even the carrier does not know, only as it is given to him by the weigher, and the coal consumer must utterly depend upon the integrity of the dealer from whom he purchases coal.

PARLIN A. C. DEFEAT THE Y. M. C. A.

In the second game of a series with the Parlin A. C. the Y. M. C. A. team met defeat on the Parlin A. C. field, Sayreville, Saturday afternoon last, by the score of 11 to 2. The Y. M. C. A. boys played hard but the Parlin powder makers just quietly applied the explosive to everything the Y. M. C. A. boys tried for.
The third game will be played Saturday afternoon, September 23, at 3 o'clock sharp, on Stevensdale grounds. A good live game is promised to close the series. Both teams promise their best in the lineup.

Special Notice

To The Voters of the City of South Amboy.

Notice is hereby given to the voters of the City of South Amboy that at the general election to be held on Tuesday, November 7, 1911, there will be submitted to the voters of said city the proposition of accepting or rejecting the provisions of the following act of the Legislature:

CHAPTER 244.

An act to regulate the pay of patrolmen on the police force in cities, other than first and second class cities, and in all towns and townships of this State.

Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. In all cities, other than first and second class cities, and in all towns and townships of this State, the pay or salary of all patrolmen on the police force shall be not less than eight hundred dollars per annum, for the first year of service dating from the time of appointment, with an increase of fifty dollars per year for each year of service thereafter, until such salary shall reach the sum of twelve hundred dollars per annum, when such increase shall cease; such salaries to be paid semi-monthly. All patrolmen in any municipality receiving more than eight hundred dollars per year when this act takes effect therein shall continue to receive said salary, but shall not receive any increase hereunder until they shall have served a sufficient time to entitle them thereto upon the above schedule of service and salary.

2. This act shall take effect immediately, but its provisions shall remain inoperative in any such municipality until the same shall be accepted by the voters of said municipality by a majority of votes cast for or against such act at any general election hereinafter to be held in such municipality. It the majority of those voting for or against the acceptance of this act shall be in favor of its acceptance, the provisions thereof shall be deemed to be accepted by such municipality, and such municipality shall be bound by the terms thereof.

There shall be a canvass and return of the votes upon the question of the acceptance of this act made by the election officers in the same way and manner as for officers voted for at such election, and, if the majority of the votes cast for or against the acceptance of this act shall be found to be in favor of its acceptance, it shall then, but not otherwise, become operative and binding upon the municipality wherein such vote shall have been taken.

3. The question of the acceptance or rejection of this act shall be submitted to the voters at any general election only upon an order of the governing body of such municipality, expressed by resolution, and voted for by a majority of all the members of said body, passed at least thirty days before said election.

4. In any municipality in which this act shall become operative in the manner therein provided, the increase of pay or salaries therein made shall go into effect on the first day of the next calendar month thereafter, notwithstanding that there may not be an existing appropriation or fund sufficient to permit such increase, and the board or authority having control of the finances of such municipality shall borrow a sufficient sum to cover such increase for the remainder of the current fiscal year of such municipality, or may permit the same to be paid out of any money of said municipality, and shall put such sum in the next tax levy raised in said municipality.

5. This act shall take effect immediately.

Approved April 21, 1909

The sections of the above law was ordered published by the Common Council at meeting held on September 19, 1911.

The Fire Bag.

Every whaler and sealer that sailed the seas in the days of wooden ships carried a fire bag. This was a tarpaulin bag about a foot long and six inches wide lined with waterproof material, with interlinings of oilcloth and thick flannel. Into this was placed the flint and tinder box for kindling fire, and the bag was then securely fastened with double flaps and tied to keep its contents dry. It was the special duty of the second mate to look after the fire bag and in case of shipwreck to attack it at once to his person by means of stout straps provided for the purpose. Thus if officers and crew were cast away on some deserted shore in the desolate arctic circle the means of obtaining a fire to warm themselves by and to heat food and drink would not be wanting as long as the precious fire bag was safe.

The steam whalers and sealers of the present day still carry a fire bag stowed in the lifeboat with the bread and water, but now it is of rubber and contains half a dozen tin boxes of matches. —New York Press.

Hanged the Clever Forger.

Of curious petitions against the death penalty being enforced one recalls the eighteenth century case of William Lyland, who was sentenced for forging a bill for £7,114 on the East India House. The forgery was a work of art. No less than thirty signatures were imitated, and at the trial not one of the victims could swear that the signature was not his own. However, with the help of the paper manufacturers Lyland's guilt was brought home. Then came the petition of his friends. So clever a man ought never to be hanged, they pleaded. His craftsmanship should save him. It gained him a respite. He was allowed to finish a fine engraving he had begun, but nothing more. Though the engraver was a favorite of George III., that king quite failed to see how a forgery could be excused on the ground that it was a clever forgery. —Pall Mall Gazette.

The Soap and Water Cure.

The traveler in the Himalayas must be prepared for surprises. Two days after the Hon. C. G. Bruce had reached Mana he received a message from a young lady saying that ever since she had seen him on the day of his arrival she had been ill. "I was very much hurt, I allow," says Major Bruce in "Twenty Years in the Himalayas." During the course of a short but interesting career no such snail had ever been administered to my self respect. I said, "But can't I do anything?" She said, "Yes; wash your face and let me have the water." So we got hot water and soap, and she sat on a rock to see that there was no deception. The water, or, rather, the decoction, was then put into a long tumbler, and she then and there drank it all! What is more, the next day she sent word that she was quite cured."

Pure Water.

Besides being the cheapest drink, pure water is easily the healthiest of all drinks.

Three Inscriptions.

On the doorways of Milan cathedral are three inscriptions. The first, placed under a carved rose wreath, runs, "All that which pleases is only for a moment." The second, under a cross, reads, "All that which troubles is but for a moment," and under the central arch is the inscription, "That only is which is eternal."

A Popular Game.

"Many games originated from ancient forms of worship, human sacrifice, marriage, burial and other ceremonies," Dr. A. O. Haddon remarked in an address at the Royal Sanitary Institute. "Leapfrog is a game common to almost every country, including New Guinea and Japan." —London Standard.

Dying of Love.

"Och!" said a love sick Hibernian. "What a recreation it is to be dying of love! It sets the heart aching so delightfully there's no taking a wink of sleep for the pleasure of the pain." —London Telegraph.

RECORD SPEED MEET FOR TRENTON'S FAIR

Secretary Horace P. Murphy Announces Greatest Race Program In Big Fair Circuit.

With such a large and distinctly classy field of entries the Trenton Fair race meet for 1911 assumes an interest and importance only a trifle short of a grand circuit session.

There has been a raising of the standard of Trenton Fair racing ever since Horace P. Murphy of Syracuse, N. Y., became the racing secretary. His first year was a tremendous success, and he has added to his laurels ever since.

Under the influence and direction of Mr. Murphy entire confidence has been restored at Trenton. Horsemen have learned that there is no race meet in the country where such liberal inducements are offered or where better treatment is afforded.

The effect of this has been to attract the leading horse owners to Trenton and to bring the best horse-flesh into the Trenton Fair races.

Last year was a record breaker for spirited racing.

Thousands left the track every evening delighted.

Such racing had never before been seen on a half mile ring and never better on the big ring.

This was true. The fields had been remarkably large, and every heat had been a "boss race."

Secretary Murphy says this year will bring with it even better racing, for, in his opinion, the entry list shows a number of cracks that have made their marks in the "big show."

Not content with securing an entry list of "flash" steppers, Secretary Murphy has seen to it that the track has been made fit to receive these kings and queens of the turf. Never has the old ring been quite as fast and fine as it is for the 1911 meet. The workout heats of some of the horses that have been trained there have demonstrated that the track is a second or two faster than in any former year.

Just a word or two about the comfort and conveniences provided for the spectators at all Trenton Fair races.

The magnificent new concrete grand stand that was used for the first time last season is a marvel in its construction. It is added pleasure to witness from such a perfect point of vantage.

Every seat affords a grand view of the battles on the track, and every seat is comfortable.

Glance at the following program of the races for the various days and then permit your imagination to fancy the rest:

TUESDAY, SEPT. 26.
2:27 class trotting..... $500
2:22 class pacing..... 500
2:19 class trotting..... 500

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 27.
2:17 class pacing..... 500
2:21 class trotting..... 500
2:25 class pacing..... 500
Two and three year old trotters..... 400

THURSDAY, SEPT. 28.
2:34 class trotting..... $500
Free for all trot and pace..... 500
2:17 class trotting..... 500
2:12 class pacing..... 500

FRIDAY, SEPT. 29.
2:24 class trotting..... $500
2:15 class pacing..... 500
2:19 class pacing..... 500

In addition to the harness races as above scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, there will be a line card of running events decided Monday afternoon in which some of the fastest going ponies in the east will be contestants. These will not be hippodrome races, but the "real thing." Running races were introduced for the first time last season and scored a pronounced hit, and for this reason they were kept on the program this season.

Taking it all in all, the Trenton Fair racing program for 1911 is one that must appeal to the thousands of lovers of horse speeding in the east.

The Editor and His Boy.

A certain editor had cause to admonish his son on account of his reluctance to attend school.

"You must go regularly and learn to be a great scholar," said the fond father encouragingly; "otherwise you can never be an editor, you know. What would you do, for instance, if your paper came out full of mistakes?" The boy looked up into his parent's face with childish innocence.

"Father," he said, solemnly, "I'd blame 'em on the printer!"

And then the editor fell upon his son's neck and wept tears of joy. He knew he had a successor for the editorial chair. —London Answers.

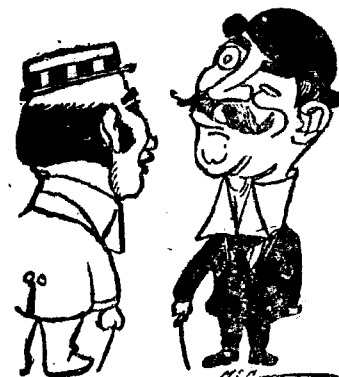

The Beautiful Isle of Zante.

Zante, the earthquake shaken, the "memorial Zeytin" of Virgil, has been at all times famous as one of the loveliest of islands. It divides with Corfu the distinction of being the richest and most beautiful of the Ionian group, and while the overgrown forest on its eastern shore is the admiration of every traveler, the fertility of its vine growing plains has made the little island famous among the markets of the world. The vine is that dwarf variety which grows the current of commerce. The growing of this vine is the chief industry of the island, but there are also olives in great numbers. —London Times.

SOUTH AMBOY
—AS AN—INDUSTRIAL CENTER . . .

Its Location Should Appeal to Manufacturers.

Situated on Raritan Bay and at the mouth of the Raritan River, twenty-four miles from New York City, and sixty miles from Philadelphia, with one of the finest harbors in the State.

Its location should appeal to manufacturing industries, as with its four railroads and water facilities, shipments can be made economically to any part of the United States.

As a residential place South Amboy has no equal, and is very healthy. Its soil is sandy, and its land runs from the water-front with a gradual slope until it is 189 feet above sea level, thus affording excellent drainage. Home sites commanding an excellent view of the harbor can be had very low.

The Pennsylvania R. R., Central R. R. of N. J., New York & Long Branch and the Raritan River Railroad afford excellent transportation. The terminus of the Amboy Division, P. R. R. is here. The principal shipment is coal, and from 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons are transported from the mines and shipped from the piers yearly.

The Jersey Central Traction Company and the Public Service Street Railway Company operate trolley cars through the city.

Besides the railroad yards, South Amboy has a paint works, two underwear factories, cigar manufactory, Terra Cotta Works, and Army and Navy Uniform factory, all in successful operation.

South Amboy has a sanitary sewer system, and water works, and besides private corporations furnish gas and electricity for light and power.

It has a Board of Trade who stand ready to lend assistance to reliable industries to locate in the city.

A. FAIRBAIRN HEADS HORSE SHOW

Horseman of International Fame
Has Been Secured as Director by the Trenton Fair.

Although the Trenton Fair has always had an enviable reputation for the excellence and high class of its horse show, it promises a most decided advancement for 1911 because of the fact that it will have as director of this department Robert A. Fairbairn.

ROBERT A. FAIRBAIRN.
[Chairman of executive committee of National Horse Show Association, who is to direct Trenton Fair show.]

Chairman of the executive committee of the National Horse Show Association of America, who was also a judge of the trotting classes at the great International show in London, England, last June.

There can be no question as to Mr. Fairbairn being one of the foremost horsemen in the world, and in securing him to direct its horse show for 1911 the Trenton Fair at once brought its show into national prominence.

The horse show this year has been planned on a most elaborate scale.

Particular attention is to be given to Clydesdales and Percherons, and in order to make the event a success Secretary Margerum has caused to be built a handsome new horse show building located near the trolley car entrance to the grounds.

The new building is 40 feet wide and 225 feet long and is attractive in appearance. The sides are of tile, and the roof is extremely artistic.

In addition to the Clydesdales and Percherons, all of the regular classes of the modern horse show will be included in the Trenton Fair show. There will be a commodious ring for judging, all of which will be done in full view of the spectators.

In the matter of the estate of Edward M. Duggan, deceased.—On petition for the sale of lands to pay debts.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

Thomas Duggan, administrator of Edward M. Duggan, deceased, having exhibited under oath a true account of the personal estate and debts of the said estate whereby it appears that the personal estate of said Edward M. Duggan, is insufficient to pay his debts and requesting the aid of the court in the premises.

It is thereupon on this 4th day of August, 1911, ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the said Edward M. Duggan, appear before this court at the court house in the City of New Brunswick, on the SIXTH DAY OF OCTOBER, 1911, at ten o'clock a. m. to show cause why so much of the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the said Edward M. Duggan, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts.

WELSBACH ECONOMICAL HOME LIGHT

MORE LIGHT FOR LESS MONEY

GREATEST GAS LAMP EVER INVENTED FOR RESIDENCE PURPOSES

Eighty-Candlepower Illumination; Costs Only One Cent for Three Hours' Burning

We have secured the exclusive right in our territory to the latest and best gas light designed for use in the home. It is known as the Welsbach Economical Home Light and embodies the best ideas known to the largest manufacturers of incandescent gas lamps in the world.

We have determined to offer this light to all our patrons because we know from actual tests that it is better than any similar light we have ever had on sale before—and we handle only the best.

We sincerely hope that every one of our customers will give this lamp a trial. We know it will give satisfaction and we want satisfied customers.

These lights will give you more illumination. They will burn only about one-half as much gas as the ordinary open-flame burner. This means you will get better service and save expense.

LIGHTS COST $2.25 EACH

Payment can be made in three monthly installments of 75 cents each, with your gas bills, if you so desire.

Our Agents will call on you and show the new light. It is a wonder.

Put a Welsbach Economical Home Light in your home. It will make the Fall and Winter evenings seem brighter.

CANDIDATES VIOLATING ELECTION LAW LIABLE TO IMPRISONMENT AND LOSS OF NOMINATION

Because of the penalties that are possible under those provisions of the corrupt practices act that apply to candidates, there has been a great demand for copies of the new statute and the German election law. The search for this special knowledge may be explained by the fact that besides risking a term of imprisonment for violating the election laws, offending candidates would be subjected to the loss of nomination, or election.

Every candidate for an elective office in any municipality or county must abide by the law or lose nomination or election.

Previous laws against vicious practices at elections are re-enacted in the corrupt practices act, such as repeating, false registration, abduction, intimidation and the like.

In connection with the new law it might be well, it is pointed out, for election officers to know that they have power to jail obstreperous individuals at polling places. Few election officers in previous years seem to have known that they possessed the power.

The act says that district boards of election, county canvassers and State canvassers "possess full power and authority to maintain regularity and order, and to enforce obedience to their lawful commands during their sessions respectively."

Board's Power.

If "any person" refused to obey the board, or by disorderly conduct "shall interrupt or disturb" a board's proceedings, the board may commit the offender to the county jail.

The act says the offender shall go to the county jail. The section also directs the keeper of the jail to hold the prisoner for the term for which he is committed.

"Practical workers" at the polls, who in the past have "pulled off" one clever trick, would do well, it is further maintained to read the corrupt practices act.

For instance, Section 29 says that any person who "in any manner" interferes with the officers holding an election or canvassing the votes, or interfering with voters, will be guilty of a misdemeanor. Such things as burning out lights in polling places, making up ballots and losing or stealing election records have occurred in the past.

Every candidate at the coming primaries, and all who may run at the succeeding general election, will be directly affected by the corrupt practices law.

Spending Money.

One of the requisites in order to gain nomination or election, is an affidavit that candidates have to make to the effect that they have spent no money, directly or indirectly, other than the amounts given to the Finance Committee of each candidate.

Under the new law a candidate is not allowed to spend any money for his campaign except through his committee. He may act as his own financial agent.

This applies to candidates for the County Committees, for Constables, Justices of the Peace and Aldermen, as well as for Board of Works, City Home trustee and for the county officers of Coroners, Freeholders, Assembly, State Senate and Sheriff.

What the law allows to be spent by various candidates is specified. The amounts are the same for the primary as for the general election. For each election, the following may be spent through the committee of cash candidate:

By a candidate for "any county office," including State Senate, $500; for the Assembly, $200; and for any municipal office, $250; but to these specifications there is a proviso that a candidate may spend one-fourth of a year's salary of the office for which he is running for the primary and the same for the general election.

County committee candidates evidently will not be permitted to spend a cent in their campaign for election purposes following the filing of their petitions. But they have to name finance committees, and the committee treasurers as well as the candidates, successful and defeated, must swear after the primaries that they have not violated the law.

A statement of all expenditures for election purposes by a candidate, must be filed within five days after the primaries and twenty days after the general election. The statement is to be made "under oath, showing all moneys paid, loaned, contributed or otherwise furnished by him to said committee in aid of his election or nomination," and the act recites further:

"Such statement shall give the names of the various persons, if any, who paid, loaned, contributed or otherwise furnished any moneys to said candidate in aid of his election or nomination."

Expense Statements.

The candidate is required to give an account of any expenditures made by other persons in his behalf, whether with his consent or without it. If he seeks to avoid responsibility for a payment by any other person in his behalf, he must first file such payment and disclaim responsibility therefor.

Failure to file the statement or the making of a false statement is punishable with forfeiture of an election for a successful candidate in addition to criminal prosecution. The loser at an election who fails to file his statement is of course, liable only to the criminal proceedings.

A man who is holding an office and becomes a candidate at a primary or general election, will lose the office he holds and also forfeit that to which he may have been elected if he does not file the statement required, unless there is a constitutional provision to the contrary.

The finance committee that a candidate must name to handle his money may consist of himself alone, or of any one to five persons he may name, or it may be his party's county or State committee.

Where a committee of more than one is named, the law says:

"They shall appoint one of their number to act as treasurer, who shall receive and disburse all moneys received by said committee," and "he shall keep detailed accounts of all receipts, expenditures and liabilities."

The word "liabilities" is presumably intended to prevent any candidate from circumventing the act.

Payments by the committee must be made "on proper vouchers." The prohibition that the candidate himself is forbidden to spend any money for election purposes is contained in the first section of the law.

"No candidate for nomination or election shall expend any money, directly or indirectly, in aid of his nomination or election, except by contribution to the committee designated by him."

This is emphasized several times by repetitions in the act, as in Section 11, in which it is stated that nothing in the act "shall authorize personal expenditure by any such candidate," except through his committee.

Within the same period allowed the candidate to file his statement the treasurer of said committee "shall file . . . an itemized statement, showing in detail all the moneys contributed, loaned, subscribed or in any wise furnished or received . . . coming under the control of such committee."

The statement must include the name of every contributor and every amount received. Money expended in sums of more than $5 must be noted, together with the names of persons receiving it, and the names of the persons who did the work paid for.

As in the case of the candidate the treasurer of his committee must swear to the truth of the statement. All the statements are to be made public records, open to general inspection.

Under Section 25 of the act, a treasurer failing to file the statement required becomes guilty of a misdemeanor.

Relative Barred.

In order to prevent relatives of a candidate, either such of whom from being used to make contributions, any expenditure by an ascendant or descendant relative, brother or sister, uncle or aunt, nephew or niece of a candidate will be construed as made by the candidate himself.

Any payment made by a candidate to a person or club to secure an endorsement is made a punishable offense. A person receiving money under such conditions also becomes liable to penalties.

To prevent bribery in the form of payment to a man for loss of time in going to the polls, there is a provision, forbidding the practice. This applies probably more in rural sections, than in the larger cities and towns.

"No person," shall, "pay, lend or contribute" any money or valuable consideration, nor offer to do so, for the following: Causing any violation of the election laws; encouraging or aiding a violation of the laws or assisting in the escape of a person so charged; providing money for colonizing obstructing voters at the polls; for getting a candidate to violate the law; for any purpose contravening the corrupt practices act; for making any payment of an election claim after the time limit has expired.

The receiving of money for these and similar things is also made an offense.

Every person is forbidden to make any contribution except in the name of the real donor. The receipts of money in any other name than that of the real contributor is also forbidden.

No holder of a public position, except appointees whose terms are fixed by law, nor by benevolent order or association is allowed to contribute for the nomination or election of any person to public office or to a party position. Soliciting contributions from such persons is forbidden.

Ban On Ticket Buying.

Soliciting of funds from a candidate during a campaign is forbidden for religious, charitable or similar organizations; for subscriptions to a club or the buying of tickets from a club; for an advertisement in any book, program or other publication other than in the course of the candidate's customary business.

The "hiring" of a vehicle to carry a voter to the polls and the "hiring" of watchers, agents or challengers "for any act on election day," are specifically prohibited in Section 13, but there are provisos.

"Each political party or corporation," may employ two agents, who shall wear badges, showing for who they are working. The badges are to be provided by the County Board of Elections.

The chairman of a "county committee or other organization of any political party," or a primary candidate, may apply to the courts for the transportation of voters who live at least ten miles from a polling place, or are aged or infirm, and the court may allow it.

The bill is to be paid by the freeholders. The rates are to be fixed by the judge. The person furnishing the vehicle to carry voters is required to furnish a detailed statement to the court.

"Every person charged with the performance of any duty, under the provisions of any law of this State relating to elections, who 'knowingly and fraudulently acts in contravention or violation of any of the provisions of such laws,' at once becomes liable to punishment for a misdemeanor. This includes the district boards of elections, the county boards of elections, municipal and county clerks, and messengers and clerks employed by them.

Contributions for a candidate for nomination or election from any person, trustee or corporation, holding a majority of stock in a bank, trust company or savings institutions, or in a public service concern, are prohibited. The posting of notices in regard to elections in factories and the distribution of campaign matter in pay envelopes are also made misdemeanors for persons and corporations. In addition, the corporations are liable to the forfeiture of their charters.

Creditors Must Hustle.

Business men having dealings with the candidate will have to take cognizance of the corrupt practices act. Every claim against a candidate must be presented to his committee within four days after the primaries and ten days after the general election.

"If not so presented," says the law, "the same shall not be paid and no action shall be commenced or maintained thereon."

If a candidate should afterward make a payment he would be guilty of a misdemeanor, for the act says:

"Any person who makes a payment in contravention of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor."

Provision is made, however, for the payment of claims that may not be presented through some error or exigency. The Judge of the Court of Common Pleas is authorized to pass upon an instance.

The act requires the prosecutor to push any cause founded upon reasonable evidence. To this is added the proviso that any citizen may employ an attorney to aid the prosecutor.

An action against an alleged offender cannot be dropped without notice to the attorney employed nor against his objections until the reasons of both the prosecution and the attorney have been heard by the court.

Any defeated candidate may contest an election for a violation of the corrupt practices act, and if he does not do so any twenty-five other persons may. The contest must be started ten days after a primary or thirty days after an election, unless the evidence against an offender has not been discovered within that time. After discovery of evidence the same periods are allowed for beginning a contest.

Loses License for Speeding in this City

One auto speeder through this city has at last come to grief, but there are many more who should receive the same penalty.

Upon charges of reckless automobile driving, incivility to the State Motor Vehicle Department and alleged insults to a State inspector, State
 Motor Vehicle Commissioner J. B. R.
 Smith has revoked the auto registration certificate of Walter Rosenberg, of 1493 Broadway, New York City.

Commissioner Smith gave out the following explanation of the charges and revocation:

"The original charge against Mr.
 Rosenberg was that his car was driven on July 22, at South Amboy, at a very reckless rate of speed; that when the department inspector endeavored to caution the driver he answered in a very insulting manner, and that the driver paid absolutely no attention to the warning and proceeded at the same dangerous rate of speed.

"The department sent Mr. Rosenberg a notice to appear and defend the charge against him, and received in reply his letter, in answer to which I requested Rosenberg to have the driver of the car appear at the office of the inspector and apologize. He appeared, but his manner was far from satisfactory, exceedingly impudent, in fact. The inspector notified Mr. Rosenberg of the driver's behavior and he promised to have the driver apologize. The inspector afterward received a letter from the driver, stating that he would not apologize; that he did not have a license and did not want any.
 Since then I have been waiting to hear from Rosenberg.

"On September 12, at the Hoboken pier, the inspector observed a car with number 15,937, the number of the Rosenberg car. It was being driven by the same man who had previously insulted the inspector, and who had expressed contempt for the law. This department then deemed it necessary to revoke the license, and the revocation followed."

Prohibitionists Name Candidates

At a meeting of the Prohibitionists of Middlesex county held in Temperance Hall, at Metuchen, Wednesday afternoon, the leaders and methods of the Anti-Saloon League of the state were denounced as opposed to the cause of prohibition.

It was declared that local option was a cowardly makeshift used to sidetrack the main issue of prohibition. This was shown in the recent elections held in Florida and Maine where the liquor forces fought for local option as against state-wide prohibition.

James A. Grimstead, of Metuchen, was re-elected county chairman and the following candidates were nominated on the ticket for the November election by petition:

For sheriff—R. Bruce Crowell, Me-tuchen.

For surrogate—James A. Grimstead, of Metuchen.

For Coroners—Jacob H. Hoagland, of New Brunswick, and Lewis Campbell, Metuchen.

For Assemblymen—John R. Dunham and Edward E. Brown, of New Brunswick; and William W. Sellers, of Perth Amboy.

For Freeholders—Fred. Boyd, Raritan;
 John Connell, Metuchen; Edward F. R. Gardner, Stelton; Henry
 D. Frost, New Brunswick; J. Walter Dickson, New Brunswick.

In Later Life.

"I see you are doing a good many things now that once you would have been shocked at."

"Well, I make up for it by being shocked at a good many things that I once did."—Pittsburg Post.

CHILDREN'S EXHIBITS MORE ELABORATE THAN EVER

One of the most important branches of the Trenton Fair exhibit this year will be the Special Manual Training Display for school children. The Trenton Fair has always devoted considerable thought and gone to no little expense to encourage and foster the work of children, but this year it has broadened the children's department until it must take rank with the most interesting of the exhibits.

In order to protect the work of the children from that done by persons and exhibitors, it is necessary for all exhibits to be entered on the regulation blank and sent with charges prepaid to the Special Manual Training Display, the Interstate Fair, Trenton, N.
 J. There is a long list of prizes covering scores of branches of competition.

There will also be horticultural and agricultural displays of children's work for which there will be special prizes.
