Bill of Sweigard Co. for Extras Cause of Tilt at Council Meeting

Tuesday night's meeting of the City Council was enlivened by a tilt between Councilmen Stanton and Shuey, brought about by the reading of a letter addressed to Mayor Thomas, J. Scully by the Joseph L. Sweigard Company, asking immediate payment upon bills for extras in connection with the construction of the water works, amounting to over $1,300.

Those present at the meeting were Councilmen Stockton, Kvist, Lovely, Stanton and Shuey.

The first remarks upon the communication of the Sweigard Company were made by Councilman Kvist, who stated that the bills, as originally presented by the contractor, contained items which he did not consider fair or legal, namely, items such as the charges of carfare for the engineer who was brought from Ventnor City to run the plant pending the appointment of an engineer by the city. He said that Mr. Frank Glueck, representing the contractor, was present at the Friday night business meeting, and that he would not consent to the elimination of the items objected to by the city officials. Solicitor Coan, Mr. Kvist stated, held that some of the items could not and should not be charged against the city. As a result of the conference with Mr. Glueck it was decided to eliminate the objectionable items, so that the bills for "rent of extras incurred after November 1st, the date upon which the city took over the plant, might be paid. The contractor then is to render a separate bill for the items in question.

Councilman Stanton said he objected to the bills. He said the city had been lenient enough with the contractor and he believed that the contractor, as specified in the contract, should bear the expense of all labor, etc., up to the time the plant was taken over.

Councilman Shuey said he believed that the city could be held accountable for the bills, as the contractor claimed that members of the previous water committee authorized him to procure the services of the engineer from Ventnor City to keep the plant in operation. He said that the contractor notified the city to secure engineers and that no action in this direction was taken by the council.

Councilman Stanton made a heated reply to Councilman Shuey, which brought forth from the latter the statement that "I am not upholding Sweigard, but he has presented the bills, and I believe he can collect them."

The Council President was requested by Councilman Stanton to rule Mr. Shuey out of order because he interrupted, and spoke without arising and addressing the chair. "I know," said Mr. Stanton, "and everybody else knows, that there wouldn't have been any water plant today if it had been left to Mr. Shuey, but I tell you that I will refuse to vote to pay those bills presented by the contractor." He called attention to the fact that when the chief engineer of the water plant was nominated Mr. Shuey questioned the chair as to whether he held the necessary qualifications and license, but he said that later when Mr. Shuey presented and voted for two assistant engineers that he (Councilman Stanton) did not question Mr. Shuey's action or ask if the appointees held the proper licenses.

In reply Mr. Shuey stated that Councilman Stanton was "dead wrong." He stated that he did want a water plant; that he had voted to sink test wells and had voted to purchase the present property, but that he did refuse to vote upon plans and specifications that he had never seen. Speaking to Councilman Stanton he said, "You voted for plans and specifications for the plant when you had never seen them. They were presented here one Tuesday night and never turned over to the City Engineer until the following Friday night."

Councilman Kvist said that arrangements had been made with Mr. Glueck, representing the Sweigard Company, to present the bills to the Council, with the objectionable items eliminated, and that a new bill for other items claimed should be submitted and sworn to by the members of the prior Council who authorized the expenditures by the contractor.

Councilman Lovely called the attention of Council to the fact that the water plant was accepted on November 21, 1920, and that he had been informed by the City Solicitor that bills contracted before that date by the contractor should be paid for by him.

After a lengthy discussion on the bills a vote was taken and the bills, in the form presented, were ordered paid unanimously.

Communication was read from John Connors, secretary of the Enterprise Hook and Ladder Company, requesting the issuance of exemption papers to Harry Leonard and Jay Dwyer. Upon motion request of the fire company was granted.

Application for positions as patrolmen were received from John Quain, James E. Quinlan and Gabe Jasper. They were referred to the Police Committee and the Mayor. Letter from William H. Hitchcock, superintendent of the Jersey Central Traction Company, stating that the matter of defective rail on Felton street, was receiving the attention of their track department, was received and filed.

Resolution authorizing the discounting of a note for $10,000 in anticipation of taxes was adopted.

Resolution presented by Councilman Kvist authorizing the borrowing of $2,000 for local school purposes was adopted.

Report of City Treasurer Harold Hoffman, showing a balance on hand of $3,703.39 was read and approved.

When President Stockton called for nominations for Overseer of the Poor to fill the unexpired term of the late Joseph E. Bailey, Councilman Kvist nominated Robert Thorpe. Councilman Stanton, nominated William Triggs, a nephew of the former Overseer. Councilmen Lovely and Kvist were appointed tellers, and Mr. Thorpe was declared elected, he receiving three votes and Mr. Triggs two.

Councilman Lovely presented an estimate for repair of damages to the property of Mrs. Ginter on Pine avenue, caused by the bad condition of the road. The estimate, submitted by Richard Carney asw for $185. Upon motion it was referred to the City Solicitor, to be presented to the State Highway Commission.

Councilman Kvist, speaking about the buses, stated that South Amboy was only receiving 2% of the receipts from the buses running through this city, and said that he did not believe the city was getting a quarter of what it was entitled to. He also mentioned the deplorable condition of some of the buses, and of the neglect of the bus drivers to live up to the provisions of the ordinance prescribing the route which they are to follow through the city.

Council President Stockton stated that numerous citizens along Broadway, near the corner of John street, were complaining about the nuisance caused by the buses stopping there. They called his attention to frequent disturbances at night, and Mr. Stockton said he believed they should be made to stop the buses at the northeasterly corner of Broadway and Bordentown avenue until time to start, as he believed that no one would be disturbed at that vicinity. He stated that the ordinance should be enforced.

Councilman Shuey moved to refer the matter to the Police Committee and accepted Councilman Stanton's amendment to include the Mayor.

Councilman Kvist called attention to the condition of upper Bordentown avenue, and asked what the residents of that section would do in case of a fire, since fire apparatus would be unable to pass through the road in its present shape. He said he believed the contractor should be compelled to leave a portion of the road in a condition to allow unrestricted traffic. He also called attention to the condition of Morris street. He said that the residents of that thoroughfare had no street lights, no fire plug and that the street was practically closed at both ends. He believed fire protection should be furnished there.

Several Councilmen spoke upon the condition existing along the Bordentown avenue improvement, stating that it had been from the

JIMMIE CANTLON WILL BE IN THE GAME MONDAY NIGHT

This Monday night the basketball team of Luke A. Lovely Post No. 62, American Legion, starts its home season in the High School Auditorium, and their opponents will be the Sayreville Big Five.

The locals have played but twice, having taken two games from the Y. M. C. A. team in the city championship series, and they will now tackle one of the fastest aggregations in the county. The Legionaires will be under the able management of Chris Mulrain, the boy who "put across" the big Legion smoker, and who has made a success of everything he has ever tackled for Luke A. Lovely Post.

Mulrain's scarlet-breasted court rompers will include Jimmie Cantlon, for years South Amboy's shining light on the basketball court; Rufe Allen, Newell James, Emil Anderson, Milton Rue, Alf Roessler, Bobby Kerr and Leo Whalen.

JIMMIE CANTLON

Roessler, a clever floor worker and a remarkably good shot, is expected to prove a big asset to the team, as this will be his first appearance with the Luke A. Lovely aggregation.

Strong Sayreville Lineup

The Sayreville Big Five has a lineup that will show local followers of the court game that Mulrain has bitten off a big piece for his pets to chew. In it are included Johnnie Fitzpatrick, Sutton of the Knights of St. Peter, Eppi Maluski and Glochau.

There will be a preliminary game between the Independent Girls' Five of this city, and the P. R. R. Terminal Girls.

There will be dancing before and after the games and during the intermission. Mulrain promises a fine attraction, and since it is likely that a big crowd will be on hand to witness it, the fans will have to be on hand early to get a "comfy" spot from which to witness the game, which should resemble in action one of the old time Rivie contests.

ASSEMBLYMAN COON TO SPEAK IN THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Chaplain Warren Patten Coon, of Newark, Assemblyman from Essex in the 1921 Legislature, is to deliver his famous address on "Americanism in Action" at the First Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday evening, February 13th. Chaplain Coon is in great demand as a speaker all over the State, and is reputed to be the most inspiring orator in Essex County. The background of his experience has given him a wide reputation, particularly in the northern half of the State. For twelve years he has been a member of the Newark Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1916 he went to the Mexican Border as Chaplain of the First Regiment N. J. N. G., which in 1917 became the 1st Battalion of the 113th Infantry, U. S. Army, at Camp McClellan, Ala. Captain Coon, still chaplain of the old organization, went overseas in June, 1918. In Alsace and on the Verdun front, he buried under shell fire about two hundred of the boys in khaki. It was in France that he won the sobriquet of "Billy Sunday of the Army." He was also recommended for the Distinguished Service Cross. Since returning from the A. E. F., the chaplain has been in the special work of Americanization as field secretary of the New Jersey Patriotic League, of which Senator William N. Runyon is chairman, and in this capacity has addressed over six hundred audiences during 1920. The Reverend Mr. Coon is a Shriner, Odd Fellow, Junior Mechanic and an American Legionnaire. Members of the above orders as well as members of all patriotic orders are cordially invited to this service. Patriotic music will be

ANOTHER RESPECTED LANDMARK REMOVED

The funeral of Charles P. Thomas, one of the oldest and most respected citizens of South Amboy, was held from the home of his son-in-law, Joseph Hubbard on Bordentown avenue on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends. The three lodges to which Mr. Thomas belonged were represented, and the last token of respect that these societies pay to the memory of a departed member were rendered in an impressive manner. The short, but impressive burial ceremony of the Presbyterian church, was conducted by the Presbyterian minister, Rt. Herbert Justin Allsup. A quartette 'sting of Mrs. Ruth Everett, Mr. Arthur MacKenzie, Mrs. Robert Greenleaf and Mr. Allsup sweetly sang two selections, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "Asleep in Jesus." Interment was made in Christ church cemetery under the direction of E. S. Mason & Son.

Mr. Thomas was born in South Amboy in the year 1840. At twelve years of age he entered the service of the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company, beginning as a water carrier. While in this service he attracted the attention of Commodore Conover who selected him as cabin boy to accompany him on an extended mission at sea. In 1856 the frigate ship Cumberland on which they sailed, left Boston harbor, directing her course down the coast to Fort Pryor, thence to Congo River, the Maderia Islands, the Canary Islands, New Guinea, Cape Palmas and Helena.

The chief mission of the "Cumberland" was to intercept vessels engaged in stealing slaves from Africa. The "Cumberland" chased several vessels but captured none. In 1865 Commodore returned to the United States, landing at Portsmouth, N. H.

Upon returning home the cabin boy resumed his connection with the Camden and Amboy Railroad Company, and remained in the uninterrupted employ of the Camden and Amboy, and its successor, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, completing a service of fifty years. In 1910 his name was placed upon the retired list, he having reached the age limit.

Besides his widow, and one sister, Mrs. Susan Riddle of Red Bank, Mr. Thomas leaves two sons and three daughters.

Mr. Thomas was twice married, his first wife was Miss Amanda Jobs of this city. Two sons, Conover Thomas, of East Orange, and Calvin Thomas, of Elizabeth, and one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Hubbard, of this city, were the issue of this marriage. For his second wife Mr. Thomas married Mrs. Margaret Johnson, of Three Mile Run. Two daughters, Mrs. Hilton Smith of Riverton, N. J., and Mrs. Oliver Brown, of East Orange, were born of this union.

Mr. Thomas was one of the oldest members of the three lodges with which he was connected. A couple of years ago General Morgan Lodge presented to him a gold badge of honor in recognition of his fifty years of loyal and faithful membership in that organization.

Mr. Thomas was early trained and confirmed in the Christ church chapel before the present church was built. His father Asa Thomas, was the first sexton, and the younger Thomas was given the pleasure of first ringing the chapel bell. Later in life he united with the Presbyterian church with which he remained an active and valued member to the time of his death. A few years ago Mr. and Mrs. Thomas removed their residence to East Orange where they purchased a new home, but his heart and interest in religious matters remained with the home church.

In the passing of Mr. Thomas South Amboy loses one of its ancient landmarks. Very few remain whose life covers so lengthy a period of the history of this city. Throughout his long life he retained the respect and confidence of this community, and in departing leaves behind an untarnished memory.

Mr. Thomas was remarkable while in active life for the great love of flowers, and the many beautiful floral gifts sent by his large circle of friends and the societies was a beautiful testimonial to this trait in his character.

American Legion Notes That Will Interest Everybody

Lunch Wagon Philosophy.

"Lemme tell you, Harry, this basketball biz is no joke. Say, I got more troubles than Tom Scully has got applications for jobs on the South Amboy police force."

Chris Mulrain, manager of the American Legion basketball team, slid a plate of fried eggs down the counter of his hamburger incubator, grabbed a quarter from a hungry-looking bus driver, and started to resume his conversation with Harry Leonard, Commander of Luke A. Lovely Post.

"It's all right for you fellows to tell me to look after those uniforms," said Chris as he made a vicious stab at the cash register, "but you wanta remember that I'm the manager of this team—not a nurse or a washwoman. You go and give me seven nifty uniforms that woulda taken first prize in the Old Home Day parade, an' then you tell me to go out and get seven nifty players to fit 'em. I ain't kickin' about that, Harry. The first night we played I had seven players an' Bill O'Toole on the floor. What I'm sore about, Harry, is havin' you fellows tellin' me to gather up those suits and carry 'em home with me after every game. Lemme tell you, Harry, I'm running a lunch wagon, not an express wagon. And besides, I gotta swell chance of gettin' those suits from those birds, haven't I? I oughta issue me a blackjack and a bottle of cloriform."

"Listen, Chris," said Harry, "You could get those suits back if you'd only explain that—"

"Explain," yelled the irate ham-and-egg magnate. "A fate chance anybody has got to explain to that bunch. After the Y. M. C. A. game last week I asked Jim Cantlon for his suit an' he said, 'Back to the beaneery, boy; this suit goes back to Frehold with me in the old tin Lizzie.' Jim is a biscuit salesman, I guess that's what makes him such a wise cracker, eh? Well, Rufe Allen n' Milton Rue, n' Bob Kerr, n' Whalen all sneaked out with their suits, too. The only one who gave me back a suit was Em Anderson."

"That Em Anderson is certainly a gentleman," said the Post Commander, "I knew he'd return the uniform."

"Gentleman?" said Mulrain. "I was just goin' to tell you that he gave me back the suit and told me to get it washed so he could use it the next time he played with the Du Pont team."

Chris stopped for a moment to cut one of Mrs. Wagner's pies into twenty pieces, and Leonard, in an encouraging tone attempted to soothe his ruffled feelings. "Chris," he said, "You ought to be happy to think the fellows think enough of you to let you manage the basketball team."

"Happy?" groaned Chris, as he wiped a tear out of the eye of a potato that had been lying next to the onions that were doomed to perish in the next day's hash. "I'm just as happy as a booze broker that hears Judge Daly say 'Merry Christmas, one thousand dollars, please.' I'm all hubbly over with joy, just like a fella that loses his last nickel in a poker game. It tickles me to death, Harry, to have Harris Covell n' Jim O'Leary n' a lot of birds that used to be good customers goin' on a hunger strike because I wouldn't let 'em play in the basketball team. This basketballing is no joke, Harry. Look at the James boys. One of 'em played with the Y. M. C. A. team, and the other with the Legion team. Now they're so sore at each other that Punk wears his good clothes to bed nights so Carmen can't put 'em on in the morning. This business has got me rattled, Harry. The other day I got thinkin' about that Y. M. C. A. game and I got so rattled that I short-changed myself a nickel when a bus driver paid me for a plate of chowder."

"Didn't he give it back to you?" asked Harry.

"Now! Didn't I tell you it was a bus driver? He put it in his own pocket from force of habit. Put say, Harry, tell all the gang to be to the game on February 14th. That's Monday night. Our team is goin' to play the Sayreville Big Five. It'll be some game."

"Dancing?" queried Leonard.

"Sure, lots of it, and there'll be a big girls' game, too. Be on hand early, Harry, we're goin' to annex this game from Sayreville even if we haven't annexed any of their territory yet. The game'll be in the High School Auditorium. Believe me, we'll wake up this old town yet, Harry when our Post gets all its athletic stuff goin'. I certainly do love this basketball game. But say, Harry, don't expect me to go cartin' them basketball suits around. When I was in Irvington—"

Just then the door of the lunch wagon opened and Charlie Gillard walked in, ready to go on the night shift. Chris made a hurried grab for his Ingersoll, which registered 6.10 p. m. "What's a matter, Charlie," yelled Chris as he discarded his apron. "Can't you tell time or sumph'n. Want me to starve, do you? Get behind this counter, quick, so I can go home an' get somethin' to eat."

Ballad of Bill the Sailor.

Now Bill O'Toole was a sailor lad,
Who sailed upon the ocean blue,
He freely gave up all he had,
And gave up many a dinner, too.

He wrestled with the mop and pail,
When scrubbing up a grimy deck,
'Twas harder work than totin' mail,
And Bill he wanted peace, by Heck.

So when the cruel war was o'er,
He put aside his navy jeans,
And went upon the route once more,
Far from the slum and navy bean.

In camphor balls he packed away
Those nifty togs of jimmie blue,
And went to work for Jimmie Rea,
In a uniform of grayish hue.

Now Bill will tell, some future day,
When he has a dozen kids—or more,
How their old man wore the blue and gray

And fit and died to win the war.

Ray Downs—Say, when I die, I want to have put on my tombstone
"There was peace in Heaven."

Gundrum—Hadden't you better say,
"There was peace in Heaven."

We hope Inspector Nick Howley and the local health authorities won't be alarmed by the heading in a Perth Amboy paper which says: "Consumption Increased by South Amboy Water Plant."

We'll say that the Legion members stick together. The story is going around that Otto Hillmann was feeling under the weather the other day, and he sent for Bill Carney, the mason, to put a mustard plaster on his chest.

First Wise Guy—Hear about Bill O'Toole trying to land a job on the Legion bowling team?

Second Wise Guy—Did he make it?

First Wise Guy—Naw. They gave him a try out, and the poor fish was so used to handling second claps mail that he kept putting the ball down the gutter.

COUNCIL HOLDS BRIEF MEETING AND ADOPTS BUDGET

At an adjourned meeting of the City Council held Wednesday night, the budget for the current year was adopted, no objection being raised at the hearing.

Those present at the meeting were Councilmen Stockton, Kvist, Lovely, Shuey and Stanton.

A resolution was presented authorizing the discounting of the following notes: General account note $5,000, due Feb. 20; general account note $1,000, due Feb. 19; water bond anticipation note $13,000, due Feb. 20; Bordentown avenue improvement note $4,258, due Feb. 15, and school account note for $7,000, due Feb. 23.

Councilman Shuey, chairman of the fire committee, stated that the fire truck had been taken to a local garage and it was found that owing to one cylinder being badly worn, it was necessary to have the cylinder bored and one piston put in. The truck was taken to Perth Amboy for the repair, and the Mechanicsville Hose Company requested by the Fire Chief to be ready in case of emergency. Repairs were to have been finished Thursday night.

The meeting of the Council is believed to be the shortest one on record. It lasted exactly seven and one-half minutes.

VENEREAL DISEASES.

Syphilis and gonorrhea, the chief venereal diseases, are caused by germs which can be identified through the microscope. For both there is a definite curative treatment which, if begun promptly, is usually successful. The most serious results come from improper or delayed treatment.

Both diseases are communicable, usually through sexual intercourse. For this reason men and women engaging in frequent and promiscuous sex relations (prostitutes) in nearly every case acquire one or both germ infections and are the principal carriers of the diseases. The connection of these dangerous communicable diseases with sexual immorality has prevented proper discussion of the means of preventing and curing them and has delayed the building up of effective prevention and treatment in the interest of public health.

Many men and some women, infected with a venereal disease, marry. In this way the disease is transmitted to innocent victims within the family. The germs, especially the syphilis germs, are occasionally spread by other means than sexual intercourse, i. e., through the use of common utensils and by kissing.

Gonorrhea causes blindness among infants, countless surgical operations on women, and sterility in both men and women. Syphilis is a frequent cause of locomotor ataxia, other forms of paralysis, paresis or softening of the brain, insanity, miscarriages, diseases of the heart, blood vessels and other vital organs. Syphilis can be transmitted to offspring, causing mental and physical defects, still births, and infant deaths. Syphilis kills many thousands each year. The social and economic loss caused by these diseases mark them as one of mankind's greatest scourges.—Copied from "How to Fight Venereal Diseases in Your City," published by United States Public Health Service.

Physical fitness is the greatest need for the youths of today, says New Jersey State Department of Health.

DEVIL'S ISLAND WORST PRISON

Nothing to Match, for Horror, French Convict Settlement
in South America.

FEW SURVIVE IMPRISONMENT

Punishments Are Frequent and of Fearful Severity, and if Man Lays Hand on Warden the Penalty Is Death.

London.—We have heard ugly tales of Siberia. The Spanish penal settlement at Fernando Po is no health resort, while Italy was obliged to close up her prison colony at Massowah because wardens as well as convicts were dying by the score.

But of all prisons existing today, there is nothing to match, for horror, the French convict settlement of Devil's Island, a writer in London Tit-Bits asserts.

Devil's Island lies off the coast of French Guiana or Cayenne, the one colony which France owns in South America. This settlement is reserved for the worst cases, and few survive a term of imprisonment there.

A prisoner sentenced to Cayenne is usually given six months' solitary confinement in a French prison before being sent away. The term varies according to the length of time required to collect a cargo of unfortunates.

Arrive at Devil's Island.

For a week or two before leaving the prisoners are given some meat and wine to prepare them for the ordeal of the voyage in a convict ship. The 'tween decks of the ship are made into one long passage with cells on either side closely barred in front. Near the bollers are two punishment cells in which a man can neither lie nor stand and where the heat is almost unendurable.

Arrived at Devil's Island the prisoners are stripped and searched. They are then divided into large barracks, each of which holds 50 prisoners.

These large rooms are perfectly bare, and paved with stone, and the unfortunate prisoners are obliged to lie on the floors all through the sweating nights, tormented by mosquitoes and other insects.

The food consists of provisions condemned by the military and naval authorities. The only exception is the flour, which is of fair quality.

Roll call sounds at five in the morning, after breakfast the gangs go out to work in the sweltering sun. They clear the land and cultivate it. Yet if one is caught picking up a coconut or any other fruit he is at once ordered 60 days in the cells.

"Cells" means confinement in an airless place, sleeping on a plank bed, and only one meal a day, that being bread and water. Punishments are frequent and of fearful severity, and if a man lays hands on a warden the penalty is death.

Sea Swarms With Man-Eaters.

Devil's Island was first used as a prison about 70 years ago. At that time there were no guards. Since the tepid sea teems with man-eating sharks, the authorities thought it needless to take other precautions.

Then came the escape of Henri Chabanne, one of the most wonderful instances of prison breaking on record. Under his directions his companions built a large raft. They made oars, a mast and sail; they even constructed casks to hold fresh water.

Seven in all started away. They left at eight in the evening, and next morning were out of sight of land and in a rough sea. They were up to their waists in water, with hordes of sharks around.

After four days and four nights of indescribable horror, they landed on the coast of Dutch Guiana, but there was no fresh water. Chabanne and another plunged into the forest, and after five days reached a plantation where the owner received them kindly. Chabanne asked for assistance to go back and fetch his friends. This was granted, but of the five only three were alive.

This was the first of a long series of escapes, or attempted escapes. One man, Adrian Demerlan, possesses the amazing record of having made three separate escapes from Devil's Island.

The surgeon general of the army reports that one-third of all the men called to the army were physically unfit.

The New Jersey State Department of Health states that venereal diseases are the greatest menace to public health.

The New Jersey Bureau of Venereal Disease Control says that one-eighth of all preventable sickness is due to gonorrhea and syphilis.

CHILD SAVING WORK IN ARMENIA TOLD BY AN AMERICAN

Charles V. Vickrey Gives Facts of Near East Relief Program for Orphans.

Charles V. Vickrey, general secretary of the Near East Relief, has returned from a trip of inspection throughout Central Europe and the Near East, and made a report to the trustees of the Near East Relief in which he covers in detail the actual work of child saving now being conducted by the great American relief organization in the Near East. Mr. Vickrey believes that "a few millions of dollars wisely expended at this time in the education of the children of the Near East, in character building and in moulding these young lives, will be worth vastly more to the world than billions of dollars spent later in suppressing international warfare and strife."

Mr. Vickrey considers the need in the Near East and especially in Armenia greater than anywhere else in the world, because, as he says, "In the countries of Central Europe there are going governments which have merely been temporarily impoverished by war. In the Near East, on the other hand, there is no such thing as stable government. The whole fabric of the state has to be created from the beginning, and the innocent and helpless children have to be trained to the responsibilities of future citizenship. Peace in the Near East and, in great measure, throughout the world, will depend very largely on the character of the citizenship of the peoples of the Near East."

Irresistible Appeal of Orphans.

Describing the orphanage work of the Near East Relief in the Armenian Republic, Mr. Vickrey said:

"We have at Alexandropol in the Caucasus, one orphanage where there are approximately 10,000 homeless children, fatherless or motherless, many of them having no known living relative. Some of them do not even know their own names, or the place of their birth. They have shown wonderful recuperative powers, and to see them play their kindergarten or other games under the direction of our American relief workers, one could never believe that they had passed through the years of suffering that most of them have experienced since they, or their parents, were driven from their homes in Central Turkey five years ago.

"For the accommodation of these orphans there are sixty splendid stone buildings, erected as barracks for the Russian army. These buildings are now given to us by the Armenian government for a period of ten years and lend themselves admirably to relief purposes.

"This orphanage at Alexandropol is but one of the 229 orphanages that the Near East Relief is now operating in various parts of the Caucasus, Anatolia, Cilicia, Syria and the Constantinople-Straits area.

"Thirty miles from Alexandropol, at Kars, there is another group of Russian army barracks, which were given us by the Armenian government for relief purposes. I was going through the dormitories of this orphanage at Kars when the young American college girl in charge turned to me and said: 'Mr. Vickrey, it sometimes makes me feel just a little older than Methuselah to be called "Mother" by 6,000 of those Armenian children.' And that is exactly what she was—the only mother that these 6,000 Armenian children have, except as she avails herself of the organized assistance of native Armenian women, in caring for this large family.

"In the hospital at Kars I found 1,150 beds, which, the day I was there, were occupied by 1,268 patients, it frequently being necessary to put two or more children in a single bed. At Alexandropol we have in one hospital, or group of hospital buildings, 1,500 trachoma patients. At Karakils, forty miles east of Alexandropol we have an orphanage devoted exclusively to the care and training of the blind children. At Delljan we have another orphanage, located on a mountain side, for the care of tubercular children, this segregation being as much for the welfare of the healthy children in the orphanages as for the care of the unfortunate consumptives. At Erivan we formerly had twenty-six distinct orphanages, though they have now been reduced and consolidated to seven in number. There are something more than 6,000 orphans in the region of Harput."

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Among the social events on the calendar at New Brunswick was the social function given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Groben on January 22, at their residence to their circle of friends from that city, and out of town guests, in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, as they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony in January, 1896. A delightful dinner was served to the multitude of guests and reminiscences were recounted by Mr. and Mrs. Groben of the early days enjoyed throughout the city and hamlets and their narratives of the country were exceedingly interesting and brought forth many remembrances of the happy days gone by. The host and hostess were the recipients of beautiful gifts from their relatives and friends as tokens of esteem and of pleasant memories that endeared them to Mr. and Mrs. Groben, who have had the pleasure of their glad-some acquaintances for the past twenty-five years and are popularly known throughout this part of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Groben highly appreciated the appropriate gifts and it touched them deeply of the remembrances and thoughtfulness their guests had in store for them as a surprise on their silver wedding anniversary. After the dinner the guests were escorted to the reception room where they enjoyed dancing to the latest popular sentimental songs and classical musical selections on the Victrola and everybody indulged in a pleasant social good time. J. F. Groben rendered several musical numbers on the piano, as did Miss Moran, which elicited great and prolonged applause from the guests. Several of the ladies sang and their program included familiar arias by Handel, Gluck, Pergolesi and Marallo; popular renown singers, and there was enthusiasm indeed throughout the concert.

It was late in the evening when the congenial party departed for their homes, pleased with the happy time enjoyed and the evening's entertainment given them by their charming host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Groben. Among the party guests present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Katz, New Brunswick; Mr. and Mrs. Schneider, South River; Mr. and Mrs. Carlin, New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. Aldin, Seward; Mr. and Mrs. J. Thockmorton, Morgan; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Groben, Morgan; Mr. M. Brown, New Brunswick; Miss Muriel Groben, Mr. E. Groben, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Murray, Asbury Park; Miss Dorothy Murray, Asbury Park; Master Jack Murray, Asbury Park; Mr. and Mrs. George Ellison and two sons, New Brunswick, and many others.—J. L. F.

ST. MARY'S JUNIORS

DEFEAT SAYREVILLE B. S. A.

St. Marys Juniors defeated the Sayreville B. S. A. seconds in the preliminary game to the Rainbow-St. Mary's Scouts game in a very decisive manner.

The game was very interesting throughout and furnished many thrills to the 500 spectators.

The outstanding feature of the night's contest was the clever team work of the St. Mary's quintet. Each man like a cog in a machine, did his own owrk and let the other fellow do his for the quintets. Connors was high man, scoring six field goals. "Alex" and "Connie Ryan" also starred in the floor work. "Lynch" and "Hockinjoc" were the bright lights of the team from the "brick yard" section, playing a clean cut brand of basketball. "Red" Vail refereed in a satisfactory manner and worked hard to keep the game and fact the score.

The St. Mary's Juniors will play the Y. M. H. A. Juniors of Perth Amboy tonight, Friday, February 4, at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's School Hall.

SECOND BIRTH FOR JAPANESE

Burial of Nails, Teeth and Hair, and Change of Name Made Official Another Person.

The following item from the Japan Advertiser reveals one of the interesting peculiarities of national ideas and customs which continue to lend variety and interest to world civilization. "Burying themselves to escape death, and then being born again by the simple process of changing their names, Baron and Baroness Ban held full funeral services for themselves at the Gyokurinsai temple in Nagoya recently, erecting a fully engraved tombstone over their nails, teeth and hair. The baron now calls himself Mr. Kogogureno Otou.

"When Baron Ban was first born he was far from healthy, and 40 years was predicted as the extreme limit of his life. However, he recently celebrated his sixty-sixth birthday, which brought to his mind that his father had died at that age, and that he could probably best avoid his fate at an early death by bowing to that date and officially 'burying' as much of himself as possible without interfering with any of the vital processes."

Troop No. 1 Makes Thirteen in a Row

With attendance the largest this season Troop No. 1's basketball team annexed its thirteenth game of the season on Saturday evening, February 12, in the High School Auditorium of this city. The Troop team still retained its unbeaten record at the expense of the Amboy Flyers of Perth Amboy. The final score was 37 to 31. This victory should be considered sufficient for any Perth Amboy Jr. combination as the Flyers were a pick of that city's best players.

The game was rather rough but cleanly played throughout and the team work of both teams was excellent. A better brand of sportsmanlike basketball has never been witnessed in this city than this game.

Elliams of the locals although carefully guarded, showed his ability at getting away from the guards and netted six baskets.

C. Skow, also of the Scout team played an exceptionally good game both on the floor and at basket netting.

J. Parker was able to get 11 points. His foul shooting was not quite as good as usual and he only made 5 out of 11 tries.

Gardella of the Flyers, took high honors with 15 points to his credit.

Preacher also of the visitors played a good game.

The Saturday night games are being given good support by the local people this season and it is mainly due to the clean play of the Scouts.

The High Junior team of the Scouts defeated the Pond Lily A. C. Jrs. in a preliminary game. The score:

Why Teeth Decay

If a drop of acid is spilled upon the marble top of a wash stand, it boils and bubbles, and if allowed to remain will dissolve out the lime and leave the surface roughened.

The lime in the tooth is eaten by an acid. This acid is known as lactic acid, familiar to nearly everyone. It is the acid present in sour milk. Its presence in the mouth is due to the fermentation or souring of food particles adhering to and between the teeth.

In the mouth that is not cared for, the teeth are bathed in this acid practically all of the time, and all the time the acid is at work, dissolving out the lime-salts in the teeth, just as the acids do with the marble slab. This shows why teeth start to decay at the points that are hardest to keep clean. Decay rarely starts on the exposed surfaces of a tooth.

Let it be understood that a clean mouth and sound, well cared for teeth are positively essential to perfect health.

FOR THE SPRING HAT

When experts are evidently exactly a cold spring, for the fashion have designed for that season fur trimmings. This coat, red with marmot, is worn over a of black and gray stripes.

USE OF TINTS AND COLORS

Best Judgment Should Be Used in Selecting Shades That Suit the Complexion.

A girl with delicate coloring and transparent skin should choose tints, rather than colors, lest she detract from the delicacy of nature's endowments, whereas the girl with the clear olive skin and sun-kissed complexion can wear the vivid and intense colors that challenge her own.

Yellows, ochre and greens call for a very clear skin, whereas reds and its derivatives lend a glow that is flattering as do also the warmer shades of purple.

The eternal blue and green color scheme for the red-haired girl has at last given way to a range of colors in perfect harmony with or by contrast, running the gamut from a pale and faint pink to brilliant orange—which well offset the rare coloring of hair, which the minority of us, alas, are favored with.

As ever and ever in matters of taste and dress let us watch what the Parisienne does and what results she achieves with her enviable gift of savoir-faire in this field. Would she wear an unbecoming color? Not
she. Yet she will, at times, flaunt a color perhaps unsuitable to her general style, yet so daringly will she wear this, so utterly regardless of consequences, that her very indifference becomes audaciousness and creates what is known as the bizarre.
But unless this is done with super-skill, it creates a vulgar, unpleasant impression and makes of the would-be daring one an object of ridicule.
This, needless to say, is well to avoid, for the truly well-dressed person is the one who does not challenge attention, but holds it nevertheless.

THE FOUR-SEASON HAT IDEA

According to Plan, Women Are to Be Educated in Wearing Headgear
Suitable to the Time.

The seasons in hats have done more than overlap, as a matter of fact, they have been so juggled that women have found themselves wearing straw, over trimmed hats in January and trimmed and heavy velvet chapeaux during the sweltering days of summer.

According to plan, women will be gradually educated to the four-season idea, wearing dainty hats that are suggestive of spring during the brief but delightful period; flower trimmed hats during the summer months as the cooler weather comes on will gradually change the character of their headgear so that fur and fur trimmed hats will actually be seen only when fur wraps and fur trimmed suits and coats are comfortable and becoming.

The hat entirely of fur is a favorite again this winter, but the fabric and fur combination, or the fabric hat with a mere touch of fur in its trimming is made popular.

Keep House Plants Moist.

ness of the wilting which so own, prefer is due not so much to the house as to the drying atmosphere. The satu-

KINDLY MENTION CITIZEN WHEN PATRONIZING ADVERTISERS

THERE SHOULD BE NO
FATAL MISTAKE MADE HERE

According to a letter received by the Chamber of Commerce this week from the Highway Engineer no provision is being made in the plans of the new bridge to be built between this city and Perth Amboy for trolley service.

On its face this seems to look like a big mistake. We need better rather than worse provision for ready and easy transportation between these two neighboring cities. The present possibilities for trolley service, are only a makeshift and an apology for what is needed. It is the best that was possible at the time the tracks were laid, and then only obtained after endless delay, serious litigation and enormous expense.

According to present information, about two and a half millions of dollars are to be expended to produce a bridge that is supposed to meet all anticipated needs for years to come. Yet this substantial structure is not to provide accommodation for trolley service. Conditions on the old bridge can only grow worse. If it is unsafe now, it is not likely to improve with age. Within a very few years its life will be over, and in the meantime the trolley service must be given at increasing risk, and with multiplied discomforts.

Do the promoters of the new bridge have only in mind the needs of vehicular service, such as the motor cars and motor trucks? Is the permanent convenience of those who must depend upon the trolley of no account? Is this letter a notice served upon the public that they are approaching the day when the jolting, uncertain, unsanitary, overcrowded and unsafe jitneys are to be the only means of public travel between this city and our neighbor over the river? Who is this bridge to be built for? Is it intended only for the accommodation of a small part of the public who may be fortunate enough to own an automobile, or is it intended for the benefit of the whole public, whatever way they may have to travel? If it is to be what it should be, then it should afford accommodation for any kind and all kinds of travel service the public may have to use.

It is high time that some kind of effective influence was brought to bear upon those who have this important matter in charge, to compel provision for such ample transportation accommodation as present needs indicate, and future demands are most likely to require.

This is a work that our Chamber of Commerce might vigorously agitate to good advantage, and have the support of the entire public.

These Frequent Hold Ups.

Hold ups have become increasingly frequent, and unusual boldness has marked many of the recent operations of the bandits. The one pulled off near Roosevelt on Tuesday night presented new tactics. It is getting time that special efforts were made by the combined authorities to make this kind of work especially dangerous to this lawless band. At present there appears to be little to prevent these operations from being both reasonably safe and profitable. A few high powered cars, with well armed officers in plain clothes could patrol given districts occasionally, and possibly some of these bandits might get the surprise they need, but which they appear to feel is not likely to come.

The Citizen has received a communication this week, but the writer failed to sign his real name as a matter of good faith and therefore it is not published. The article is timely, and contains much food for thought, and why the writer tried to hide under an anonymous signature, the Citizen cannot understand. The writer complains that it is impossible for residents of this city to secure work on the Bordentown avenue improvement, and that preference is being given to foreigners from out of town, preference being given seemingly to men of Greek extraction.

Rubbing windows every day or so with a dry cloth takes but a minute. Keeps them shining and puts longer intervals between the tedious washing.

Why not let "by-gone examples" peacefully rest? Why waste good time, exhaust one's patience, and increase our temperature by squabbling over what one did or what one said about things that are passed? The pressing need of the hour is to handle our public matters as we find them, according to the rules of right and justice and practical judgment. If a bill is correct and just, pay it. If it does not square itself to these rules prove it, and pass it by. If this cannot be done, pay it as that is the cheapest and quickest way out of it.

HUGH TIMMINS.

Hugh Timmins, brother of Charles Timmins of this city, departed this life at his home, 261 Market street, Perth Amboy, on Monday last, after a brief illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Timmins was born in South Amboy sixty-six years ago, and went to Perth Amboy when a young man and opened a stove and hardware store. He took much interest in civic life, and became prominent as a Democrat. He was water commissioner of Perth Amboy for several years, and for fifteen years previous was tax assessor. Lately he was manager and bookkeeper for Richard J. Galvin at his plumbing establishment.

Mr. Timmins was a member of San Salvador Council No. 299, Knights of Columbus, and St. Mary's Holy Name Society. He belonged to St. Mary's parish. He is survived by a son, Henry Timmins, of Perth Amboy, and a daughter, Mrs. Frederick J. Eggers, of New York city; a brother, Charles Timmins of this city, and a sister, Mrs. John Leahy, of Red Bank.

Suppose.

Suppose an editor should, just for once, relieve his mind by printing all the news he happened to know at that minute! Options would be thrown up, citizens arrested, families disrupted, fights fought on every street corner, candidates resigning, ministers leaving for distant parts, lawyers taking long vacations, business men turning things over to their clerks for a season, hired girls hunting new jobs, and so on down a long list of casualties—and the editor would be so mugged up that his corpse couldn't be identified by his own family. A newspaper man doesn't know everything but his work is such that he hears a lot that common sense, common decency and common prudence keep out of the paper.—Inter-Mountain Press and Printer.

Can We Doubt It?

We heard a story the other day about an editor having to be carried home on a stretcher as the result of having received a kind word over something he had printed. The shock simply unnerved him. But just as he reached his home some one gave him a good cussing about another article he had printed, and he got up and returned to work.—Jefferson County Republican.

ST. MARY'S PARISH NOTES.

Next Sunday will be the second Sunday of Lent. The Angel's Sodality will receive Holy Communion. This Sunday evening there will be Vespers and the Reverend Pastor will begin a series of talks, which will be continued every Sunday evening during Lent on "Courtship and Marriage."

Next Wednesday evening special Lenten Sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Michael Dalton of the Sacred Heart Church of Vineland, N. J.

On Friday there will be Stations of the Cross followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The Sisters from the Morris Home will be here on this Sunday to receive the annual donation of the people of this parish for that very worthy institution.

There will be a motion picture on Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The euchre on Saturday afternoon will be under the auspices of the following ladies of the Rosary Society and Children of Mary:

Mrs. James Dwyer, Augusta street; Mrs. James McDonnell, Church street; Mrs. John Coakley, Pine avenue; Mrs. Robert Anderson, David street; Misses Mary Connors, Broadway; Marion Cheeseman, Pine avenue; Helen Emmons, Henry street; Madeline Burns, Pine avenue.

Reception to City Council.

Last Sunday night St. Mary's Hall was the scene of a reception given by the Holy Name Society to the newly elected City Council.

Before going to the hall all the men attended Vespers in the church, and then marched over in a body to the hall. While entering the hall they were greeted by music played by a celebrated colored orchestra, which had been secured for the occasion. The players also sang some of the latest songs, and the applause of those present proved that they made a hit.

Then Dr. Griffin introduced Mr. William McNally, S. J., of Fordam, under whose supervision the young lecturers were placed. Mr. McNally made a brief address and announced the subject of discussion which was "The Smith-Towner Bill." After that the speakers were introduced.

These young men are touring the State giving lectures on current topics, which is quite an innovation, considering the fact that they are only in their first and second years at college. This speaks well for Fordham, and proves the statement of Mr. McNally that "students at Fordham are being educated, not informed." In order to keep up its good work, Fordham is now appealing to the public for financial aid.

Each lecturer spoke on different phases of the subject, Mr. Raymond O'Brien speaking first, and acting as chairman. He said that they were both surprised and pleased at such a large gathering of men as they had expected that South Amboy was only a country town. He then introduced the other speakers, Mr. George Kenyon, Mr. McCarthy, Mr. Gerald O'Brien and Mr. McNulty.

During the periods between the speaking refreshments were served, which were welcomed by the men who kept the waiters busy supplying them.

At the end of the meeting, Mr. John A. Coan, the president of the society, made a motion that our representatives in Congress be informed that 850 men of St. Mary's Holy Name Society, protest against the passage of the bill.

Some of the reasons brought out by the speakers why such a bill should not pass are as follows:

1. The bill in the first place is badly drawn, ambiguous and unscientific. It does not recognize the principle that the educational system of the country is a unit system. It gives no reference to the problems of higher education and contains no provisions for the proper coordination of the different grades of American education into a cohesive body.

2. The bill is not in keeping with the spirit of the Constitution of the United States. The States in forming the Constitution recognized the principle that educational matters belong to the States and should be free of Federal control.

3. The bill is un-American. The schools are public, but the children are private. The duty to educate children is of the State. This bill gives to the citizen the ability of seeing to it that he spends annually on education more than he spends on his family. It is a bill to Federal control and interference with the State's right of education.

4. The bill in reality is a declaration of war on education. It purports to encourage education, but it actually does the opposite. It gives to the sponsors well it is not a bill to Federal control and interference with the State's right of education.

the bill is to set up a Federal Bureaucracy.

5. Because the sponsors of this bill, in order to win support for the bill, have endeavored to camouflage the issue by making it appear that it is an effort to increase the salaries of school teachers. If one wants a real argument as to how the government treats its employees for increased salaries, witness the fight the letter carriers and postal clerks have been waging for years past.

6. Because the sponsors of this bill have on more than one occasion declared private institutions are a menace to a community.

7. Because federalization of education means another political machine. Thousands of new officeholders will be named to carry out the provisions of the bill. Education should be free from all political and partisan aspects.

8. Because it will open the door to the federalization of hospitals, homes and asylums and other institutions now under State, and therefore more immediately under the public control.

9. Because it places a handicap on children educated in private schools. Colleges and universities, accepting State aid through Federal channels, will some day be required to accept the credits set up by a Federal Bureaucracy, and to obtain these credits students would be forced to attend a Federalized school.

10. The party in power names the Secretary of Education. This man would have the power to set up the standards, name the text books, etc. He could write our histories to suit his foreign tendencies, to say nothing of his political and partisan prejudices.

11. Because large Federal appropriations are inappropriate, particularly at this time. They tend to increase the high cost of living. Every one hundred million dollars spent by the Federal Government is mostly taken out of capital and mostly added to personal expenditure. The addition to personal expenditure means an increased money demand for products. The diminished capital results in a diminished supply of means of production. Thus the price of disturbance is accentuated at both ends.

12. Because no single State has asked for such a bill. No State has acknowledged its inability to educate its children.

THE FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH CLOSES A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Tomorrow is the last Sabbath of the present conference year for the Methodist Episcopal church in this city. The pastor, Rev. George W. Abel, will close his official connection with the South Amboy church for the year with the evening service. The New Jersey conference will convene at Asbury Park on March 9th, at which time all pastors will surrender to the conference an account of their stewardship. The conference usually occupies about seven days. The last act of the presiding bishop is to announce the appointments. Many will be assigned to new fields of labor and others will be re-assigned to the work they have left this year.

Mr. Abel is closing a prosperous year. All the departments of the church are in excellent condition, and the financial affairs of the church were never in better shape.

The church has evidenced its appreciation of Mr. Abel's earnest work by a substantial advance in salary at the end of each year of his service here. For the benefit of the pastor and his family, important improvements have been made from time to time in the parsonage and its furnishings, until at present it makes a very complete and comfortable home.

During Mr. Abel's pastorate, substantial improvements have been made to the church and its furnishings. The membership has retained its strength, and the spiritual conditions have been improved. The year closes with encouragement to all concerned, and with the prospect of greater progress and usefulness before it for the year to come.

The church has asked for the return of the present pastor for another year, and Mr. Abel has consented to the proposition, provided it be in accord with the judgment of the Bishop to approve the request.

FINE PROGRAM PREPARED FOR AMERICAN LEGION SMOKER

Tickets for the American Legion smoker to be held in the Auditorium of Perth Amboy on March 17th, are now on sale. They may be secured from Mulrain's lunch room, Hoffman's smoke shop, O'Connor's candy shop, Leo Credico's barber shop or from any member of the Legion. It is hoped that there will be a number of fans from South Amboy attend the fights as certain people in our sister city, jealous of the type of men that South Amboy produces, are "bucking the fights." The matchmakers have had no end of trouble with the fighters from Perth Amboy. They would signify their willingness to "go on" and then come back demanding more money. The local matchmakers have ignored their plans and have signed up real fighters from other cities.

"Hicks a Corker."

Young Hicks of Orange, New Jersey, has been matched to meet Al Norton of Yonkers. Norton is well known in these parts and a favorite with local fans. He will be well matched, however, when he meets the colored boy from Orange. Hicks beat Johnny Kid Alberts in Elizabeth about two years ago and claims the welterweight title of the State held by Alberts at that time. Hicks has fought the best in the State and lately defeated Johnny Marto of New York. Two weeks ago he beat Charlie Pitts the Australian champ. Norton needs no introduction to the fight fans of this vicinity. He has appeared often in the Amboys always winning and has lately scored five knock outs in a row. Norton is a corner and is being groomed for bigger things.

Lew Schneider of Bayonne, has been matched to meet Soldier Mike Dempsey of Colorado. Schneider has fought Earl Baird, of Seattle two hard fights and many of the spectators figured the fight would go a draw. Baird was given the decision each time, however, although the judges admitted it was close. Baird is recognized as one of the best boys in Kilbane's class. Dempsey has defeated many western boys; lately he defeated Benny Chavez the Mexican featherweight champ in two rounds. He has fought some mighty good men lately and expects to do a job that Potty could not—beat Lew Schneider.

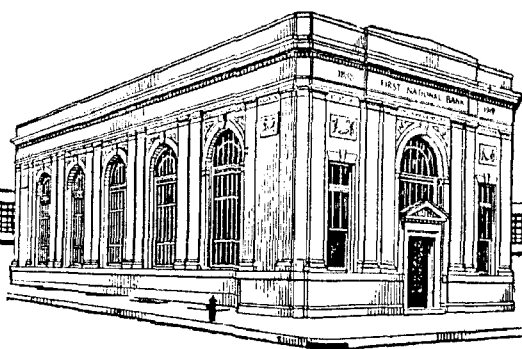

In the prelims Gene Johnson of Elizabeth, will meet Young Lewis of Perth Amboy. Johnson has fought Young Toney in Perth Amboy and has appeared twice in the Colosseum Club of Newark, winning both fights. Young Lewis is a recent arrival from Canada bringing the bantam title with him.

Young Toney of Perth Amboy will meet clever Teddy Smacka. Smacka fought and won the State championship bantamweight class two years ago in Newark and has been fighting two years as a pro. He has defeated the best boys in his class Toney being a local boy has a big following.

Charlie Britton of New Brunswick has been matched to meet Abe Willis of New York. Willis has fought and defeated Charlie Pilkington in the amateur ranks. Pilkington is now a headliner and winning consistently.

Another match that is sure to please is the one between Joe Delayo of Plainfield and Bobby Gardner of New York. Delayo has fought in and around New York for a long time. He has defeated Bill Stearns of Minneapolis and other good boys. He is a stiff puncher and game. Gardner has fought all over the country his last bout being in Savannah, Ga., winning there over a Chicago boy.

There will be forty rounds of boxing in all—five dollars worth for two dollars. The Legion boys believe in the old adage "your money's worth or your money back"—they don't expect to pay anything back.

SATURDAY, MARCH 5, 1921

ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

VESPERS—Vespers are the fifth Hour of the Day Office. Their antiquity is the same as that of the Church. Oh, how justly did the Church consecrate this hour to prayer! What recollections does it awaken! First, the sacrifice offered every evening in the temple of Jerusalem; then, the institution of the Blessed Eucharist; lastly, the taking down from the cross and the burial of our Lord. Such are the reasons for which the Church so earnestly desires that we should be in prayer at this memorable hour.

The beauty of the evening office would alone suffice to make us assist at it. Vespers consists of five psalms, five antiphons, a little chapter, the Magnificat, and only one prayer, if there is not a commemoration of some festival. The number five was established to honor the five wounds of our Lord, and to expiate the sins we have committed during the day by our five senses.

Having arrived at the Altar, the clergy and laity recollect themselves for a few minutes. They prepare their souls by reciting an "Our Father" and "Hail Mary." These two prayers they say on their knees and in silence. The Office opens with the Sign of the Cross, to invoke the aid of the Blessed Trinity, and to confess the mysteries of the Incarnation and the Redemption.

When making the "Sign of the Cross" the Priest turns towards the altar and says, "Deus, in adiutorium meum intende"—O, God come to my aid. The Faithful, also standing and turned towards the altar—to show that all their confidences is in the merits of Jesus Christ—answers earnestly, "Domine, ad adiuvandum me festina—O Lord, make haste to help me!" Then to manifest beforehand the gratitude with which this heavenly protection inspires them, they sing in a transport of love, "Gloria Patri, etc.—Glory be to the Father, etc."

After the announcement of the antiphon, intended to enkindle our charity, a chorister intones the first psalm; "Dixit Dominus Domino meo"—The Lord, the Eternal Father, the Almighty God, said to Jesus Christ, His Son, and my Lord, "Sit at My Right Hand!" On the day of His Glorious Ascension, "Sit at My Right Hand!" In this magnificent psalm, the Church sings the eternal generation of the Son of God, and His Priesthood, likewise eternal, as well as His eternal, absolute sway over the world, become the conquest of the cross.

The second psalm of Vespers is "Laudate, pueri, Dominum, laudate nomen Domini." "My children, praise the Lord, praise the Name of the Lord!" This invitation excites a burst of love, and all hearts and mouths unite to answer, "Yes, let the name of the Lord be blessed now and forevermore!" Sit nomen Domini benedictum ex hoc nunc et usque in saeculum!

The third psalm is, "Laetatus sum," I rejoiced at the things that were said to me: We shall go into the house of the Lord.

The fourth psalm is, "Nisi, Dominus aedificaverit domum." "Unless the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it."

The fifth psalm is, "Lauda Jerusalem, Dominum," "Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem; praise Thy God, O Sion."

The last psalm is followed by an antiphon and a little chapter. The little chapter is taken from some book of the Old or the New Testament that breathes the spirit of the festival and teaches the same lessons. The celebrant reads the little chapter standing, and addresses himself to the people, who have just sung the praises of God, that he may encourage their zeal and give new strength to their piety. A standing position becomes the holy words that he utters, and shows the respect that he entertains for the members of Jesus Christ who are listening to him.

The assembly receives this short exhortation gratefully, and answers, "Deo Gratias"—We return thanks to God!

A hymn is then intoned; a hymn expressive of love, ardor and courage to do what has just been said. It is the song of an army marching to battle. The hymn varies with the festival, so as to express sentiments in keeping with the occasion. The Church has just sung the benefits of the Lord. She has beheld in the past her deliverance from the devil, her establishment on earth, numberless favors of which she has been the object. She has beheld in the future the gates of Heaven open to admit her to everlasting happiness. How shall she express all her gratitude? She sinks under the weight of it. She looks around for an interpreter of her feelings. She finds one.

Instead of her voice, another is raised, at the sound of which Heaven and earth must be silent; a voice so sweet, so pure, so melodious, and withal so powerful, that it will undoubtedly delight the heart of God. It is the voice of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Behold then, the fair Maid of Juda, the Mother of God, the Virgin of Virgins, the Queen of Heaven going to tell in the most harmonious accents the gratitude of the Virgin of the Earth, the chaste Spouse of the Man-God, the Catholic church! The "Magnificat" is intoned, a sublime canticle, a transport of ineffable love, a poem of ten cantos, a magnificent prophecy, which merited for Mary the glorious title of Queen of Prophets. "My soul doth magnify the Lord, etc."

Everyone stands during the Magnificat, through respect for the inspired words of Mary, and because this noble attitude corresponds with the joy of a heart laden with favors, and disposed to undertake anything that may assure its benefactor of its gratitude. In solemn Vespers, the celebrant leaves his place at the moment of the Magnificat, and preceded by an acolyte carrying a censer, ascends to the altar, and blesses the incense with these words, "Ab illo benedictus in cuius honore cremaberis—Mayest thou be blessed by Him in whose honor thou art about to be burned." When pronouncing the formula of the blessing he makes the sign of the cross, in order to show that it is only through the merits of Jesus Christ that any blessings are poured down on the earth. He then takes the censer from the hands of the acolyte and incenses the cross placed over the tabernacle; afterwards, the altar on the right and left sides; lastly all the upper and front parts, as if to surround the altar, a figure of Jesus Christ, with the perfume of incense, symbol of the belief of the Faithful and the fervor of their prayers.

This ceremony ended, the acolyte incenses the celebrant in order to do him honor as the representative of Jesus Christ. After the incensing the Priest sings, "Dominus vobiscum"—May the Lord be with you! Then the Faithful answer, "Et cum spiritu tuo.—And may He be with you!" Then follows the prayer of the Mass called the "collect," because it brings together, as it were, the prayers and desires of all present, in order to offer them to God. The Priest says again "Dominus vobiscum," and after this sign of peace and charity, the clerks invite the Faithful to praise and Bless the Lord, "Benedicamus Domino—Let us bless the Lord!" All the assistants answer, "Deo gratias—Thanks be to God." Thus ends this part of the evening service.

At the close, all together salute for the last time their tender Mother in Heaven, beseeching her to cast a look of mercy on her children, and to open her maternal arms to them. Is there, I ask, any asylum more secure than a mother's bosom? You then hear the vaults of heaven resounding with the Alma Redemptoris, the Ave Regina, the Regina Coeli, or the Salve regina, to which the Angels listen with delight, and which they hasten to repeat on their golden harps, in the Heavenly Jerusalem, at the feet of the Virgin full of grace, our Mother and their Queen.

Through Life's Pilgrimage.
And thus ever, by day and night,
under the sun and under the stars,
climbing the dusty hills and toiling along the weary plains, journeying by land and journeying by sea, coming and going so strangely—to meet, and react on one another, move we restless travelers through the pilgrimage of life.—Charles Dickens, in "Little Dorrit."

Making a Telephone Useable

The telephone instrument is less than 2% of the equipment required to give a subscriber telephone service.

Before that instrument can be made useable, it must have wires to a central office; the central office must have a switchboard; the switchboard must have a place to receive those wires; and an operator must be there to handle the calls that come over them.

Adding new telephones to one part of the system affects the whole system. You will want to call others and they will want to call you, and, therefore, the system must be enlarged to care not only for your demands, but also for the demands created elsewhere because you have a telephone.

When we added 44,000 new telephones to our system in northern New Jersey in 1920, we had to provide new apparatus and facilities to make these telephones available for calls to and from any of the hundreds of thousands of telephones already in service. We must do the same when other telephones are added in any considerable number. Such construction is the work of many months.

Time is a great factor in providing new telephone service. Time figures heavily at the factories working night and day to build new telephone apparatus, and time counts when we add this apparatus to the system.

Time weighs more heavily than ever today. The reserves of apparatus which we had maintained for promptly meeting normal growth were used up during the war and war-time restrictions forbade new construction.

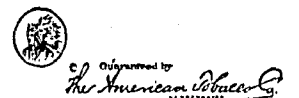

When we were able to begin enlarging the system we were fully two years behind our normal schedules of construction and we faced a tremendous demand for new service with an empty basket.

TAX REPORTS

Tax reports must be filed by individuals, partnerships and corporations before March 15th. Failure to file reports in time means a fine and penalty. Many taxpayers have unknowingly overpaid their taxes, not being familiar with the tax laws, or the numerous changes in the regulations and recent decisions issued by the Treasury Department, many of which are to the taxpayers' advantage. I am in a position to render valuable assistance in the preparation of your tax reports, and invite you to write, phone or call.

Just 12 short days to fill out your income tax report. Others may do this work for you—maybe it will be a clerk, or your lawyer, or perhaps—some money saver—But don't be foolish.—The Government won't! POST'S BASKETBALL TEAM

TRIMS THE ST. ANTHONY'S

Chris Mulrain's Hard Boiled Eggs, otherwise known as the Luke A. Lovely Post No. 63 basketball team, brought home the bacon again last Monday night when they smeared the oleomargarine all over the St. Anthony's of Perth Amboy, in the High School Auditorium by a 27 to 20 score. It was a decisive victory, for in spite of the fact that the visitors had a strong line up, the locals made eleven field goals to four by the Perth Amboys.

Halstead, the husky pivot man from Freehold, a recent acquisition to the ranks of the local post, made his first appearance with Mulrain's pets and made a fine impression on the local fans. He is a hard worker, a clever shot, and a "jump" man of first water. Jimmie Cantlon played a wonderfully fine game, making four goals from the field, of which three were spectacular shots.

The Saints started off in the lead, but when the Legionaires started off they were left far in the rear. At the end of the first half the score stood 17 to 9. In the second half the visitors drew first blood, but the result was never in doubt. Brownmiller was in great form at the foul line, making nearly every attempt count for a point, and eleven of the twenty points of his team were made in that manner.

Rufe Allen was out of the game for the local team, and his place was taken by Leo Whalen, who made a fine showing. Alf Roessler, the peppery little forward of Mulrain's aggregation, put up his usual fine game on the floor, and Anderson, playing at guard, made one pretty field goal and also held Brownmiller scoreless from the field.

Dry Dock Five Monday Night.

This Monday night there will be a fine attraction, for the Perth Amboy Dry Dock team, fresh from a big string of victories over nearly all the teams in this vicinity, will tangle horns with the Legion team. Halstead will again be at center, and with a fine lineup, the ambitious Chris hopes to win out.

Girls vs. Dotty Five.

The Independent Girls, who won out Monday night over the Roosevelt Girls' Five, by a 6 to 5 score, will play the Dotty Five of Perth Amboy, in the preliminary game this coming Monday night. There will be dancing in addition to the two games, music being furnished by Johnstone's orchestra.
