LONG LIFE TO THEM.
DOWN GOES WHEAT.
WHAT WILL LABOR DO?
MACHINERY PLUS POWER.

You may hope that "the" young couple will live many years happily, and everybody knows that you mean Colonel Lindbergh and his wife.

There is happiness in being well known, and well liked for good reasons, and young Lindbergh possesses it.

Without exception, the entire world wishes him well.

The price of wheat dropped to 97 1/2 cents some days ago. Lowest price since 1914. For the Federal Reserve and the combined forces of usury to attack stock values makes no difference. Only wicked gamblers buy stocks.

But the conduct of the Federal Reserve will attract President Hoover's attention, if wheat, cotton and other far mproducts continue dropping.

It is embarrassing to take office on a "save the farmer" platform and find that your Federal Reserve is hitting the wheat and cotton growers on the head.

Labor appears to have won the British election.

British labor is socialistic, much of it communistic, but of mild communism.

Imagine the panic in dear old Wall Street and every well organized financial mind if Labor and Socialism controlled the government of this country.

But the British will manage. They "muddle through" because they have common sense and British Labor has honest, intelligent leaders.

Ramsay MacDonald is as good a man as there is in Britain, although not as great or able a statesman as Lloyd George.

The motto of the Pacific Coast seems to be: "If you haven't got a thing, get it."

The city of Stockton, the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys can produce enough food to feed a great part of the world.

But the place needs a harbor for ships, and will have it. Stockton, the State of California and the Federal Government this year will dig a deep water channel to the sea, and Stockton will have a harbor "big enough to hold 90 per cent of the ships that come through the Golden Gate."

No one knows what the future of the Pacific Coast will be, or what the size of inland harbors built will be, wherever men want them.

Mr. George E. Moore, of No. 52 Vanderbilt avenue, New York City, can tell about an electric shovel that digs fifteen cubic yards of earth at one bite. You can dig out another Lake Michigan with a tool like that. Given machinery PLUS POWER, everything is possible.

More Improvements

For Beth Israel Assn.

The work of completing the improvements at the Beth Israel Association cemetery near Ernton is progressing rapidly and a wall and gate, the newest innovation decided upon, may be completed by next week. Alex Silvers, Broadway merchant, is president of the Beth Israel Association and Morris Rosenthal, Broadway tailor, is the vice president.

Arrangements were concluded some time ago whereby ownership of half the cemetery plot in question was transferred to the Chesed Shalom Emott congregation of Perth Amboy. They will operate under the name of the Beth Israel Association so far as conducting the Ernton cemetery is concerned.

SCOUT EXHIBIT

As a stimulus to the permanent camping site fund of Raritan Council, Boy Scouts, being conducted now in this city, members of the local troop have placed a scout exhibit in the window of the store of D. A. Baxter at the corner of Broadway and Augusta street. The exhibit shows the various work done by the local scouts and is very interesting.

Interest In The Primary Elections Next Tues. Lags Here

Some Interest In Republican Contest For County Offices With Organization Candidates Favored

The annual spring Primary Election will be held next Tuesday, and the polls will be open from eight o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock at night, daylight saving time.

As regards the local candidates, there will be little interest shown in the primaries. The county race seems to be centered on the county clerk and the sheriff nominations on the Republican ticket. On the Democratic ticket there are contests for county clerk and tax collector.

For county clerk we find George Cothens, who has the support of the organization, Anthony Gebhardt of Highland Park, and Peter M. Kroeger, of Piscataway, who has been waging a strenuous campaign. There are five candidates, three to be nominated, for the freeholdership. They are Henry Berg, C. Raymond Wycoff, Louis Compton, Moe Koch and Alexander Bors.

However, the interest this year seems to be centered on the Republican ticket. Although there are contests for the three assembly nominations, it is likely that the three organization candidates, George R. Morrison, Joseph H. Edgar and M. Irving Demarest, will secure the nominations without much difficulty. The other two candidates are John J. Feher and Anthony C. Ritz.

A hands-off policy in the sheriff race was decided upon by Republican leaders and workers at a meeting in the County Record building in New Brunswick on Monday night. Rumors have it that the meeting was originally called for as a party organization endorsement for the candidacy of Andrew Keyes of Woodbridge. However, after the meeting got under way, and supporters for the other two candidates, Frederick Blodgett, of Morgan, and William R. Price, of Woodbridge, were heard, things began to change, with the result that a motion was made, seconded and passed, that the hands-off policy be adopted in this contest.

Mayor Andrew N. Kvist, who is a strong supporter of Blodgett, was present at the meeting, and it was largely through his arguments at the meeting that the policy was resorted to. He said there were numerous party workers who had gone to the support of Blodgett, and others who had gone to the support of Price instead of Keyes and that the organization ought to let it be an open contest.

The fight for the nomination as the candidate for county clerk is being hotly contested for by F. Wm. Hilker, the organization candidate, Arnold K. Kalanen, present assemblyman and William S. Hannah, present sheriff of the county. All three claim victories at the polls on Tuesday. The present incumbent, Mr. Hilker, is waging his fight on the record he has made while in office. Mr. Hannah is conducting a strenuous campaign and it would seem that the fight has simmered down between these two men.

Two candidates for coroner are to be selected and there are four candidates for the offices, August F. Greiner, J. S. Hay, Russell Hardy and Robert P. Mason, the latter two living in this city.

For the three freeholder selections, we find the strong organization candidates, Wm. S. Day, Walter G. Quakenbush and J. Fred Orpen, present incumbents. As an opposition we find Jack Wells, of Perth Amboy and Amos Wheatley, of Raritan Township. The organization candidates appear to be unbeatable.

There is only one candidate for the office of coroner on the Democratic ticket, he being Lawrence Kenney Jr. of Perth Amboy, formerly of this city. Mr. Kenney is connected with The Gundrum Service in Perth Amboy. It is generally understood that an effort will be made to write the name of Lee J. Thompson on the ticket next Tuesday, in an effort to make him the other Democratic candidate this Fall.

RETURN STOLEN CAR

Local police returned to Norman Dale of Jersey City, his 1924 Ford car stolen from him at Jersey City some days before, on Saturday afternoon when Dale came here for the car. The machine had been left at the service station at the corner of Bordentown avenue and Broadway while the fellows in it went off, so they said, to get a couple of tires fixed. They didn't come back and the incident was reported to police headquarters. Then an investigation developed the car had been stolen.

Miss F. Forgotson Graduate Of N. Y. U. With High Honors

Bar Examinations In October Only Obstacle To Entering Legal Profession.

Miss Florence F. Forgotson, of Washington avenue, this city, was awarded the degree of Bachelor of Laws at the graduation exercises of New York University held in New York on Wednesday before an audience numbering thousands of people. Last year she completed the ordinary course of the university and was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Science. She has attended the university for five years past.

Miss Forgotson has been serving the usual apprenticeship required of law students in the offices of John A. Coan, of this city. She has been clerking thus for the past year but owing to her carrying on her university work at the same time is credited with only six months of such work. Another six months service is required. She expects to continue clerking for the local lawyer during the summer months and will thus be ready for the bar examinations next October.

The young woman is no stranger to most South Amboyans. She participated in her first debate here at the age of ten years. She entered the local schools as a beginner at the age of five years and was graduated in 1924 from the local high school, as the class valedictorian. That year she was also awarded the Schuman Award for excellence in English in the local high school. She has taken summer courses every vacation in Rutgers University and at the University of Pennsylvania and long ago met the requirements for teaching in New Jersey. These requirements are among the highest of any state in America.

Besides winning high honors in her studies at New York University, Miss Forgotson found time to participate in the following university activities: basketball, four years; social committee, all four years; chairman second year; Round Table, second, third and fourth years; (vice president fourth year); Menorah, all four years; Executive Council, second, third and fourth years; Finance Committee and Student Council, second year; Fencing Club, second and third year; Woman's Varsity Debuting Team, all four years.

She was recently appointed supervising organizer of Jucuda, an association of semi-religious clubs with wide coverage in this state. She was born in Spotswood and came to this city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Forgotson, at an early age. She is now barely twenty-one and is the youngest child of a large family.

It is expected that after passing the examinations for admittance to the bar next October she will open offices somewhere near if not directly in this city. A brilliant future in the legal profession is being predicted for her by all who have known her.

New Registrations Way Below Normal

Suspect Lack of Cooperation by Parents In New School Idea.

Registration for children for beginning classes for the term opening next September in the public schools was held on Tuesday and Wednesday of the past week. The registrations did not come up to expectations and it is therefore feared that many local parents did not cooperate as fully as it was expected they would do. Twenty-four were registered for No. 1 school and twenty for the No. 2 school. The total of forty-four is thought to be about half the normal number for a new school term.

This is the first year that registrations have been held in June for pupils entering the schools in September. The object was to have the little tots given the medical examination to which all school children are subjected, then physical defects, if any, could be attended to during the summer months which is recognized as the best time of the year to have such things cared for.

Local Man Graduate Of Panzer College

Vincent Abbatello Gets Physical Training Diploma—In Charge of New Pool at Cliffwood Beach.

Vincent Abbatello Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Abbatello of Stevens avenue, was one of the one hundred and fifty students graduated from Panzer College in East Orange during the past week. Mr. Abbatello was a graduate of the 1927 Class of St. Mary's High School. During his stay at the physical education institute, Mr. Abbatello was a member of the football and soccer teams and president of the Outdoor Athletic Association. The local youth was also captain of the swimming team for the past two years and a member of the Phi Epsilon Kappa Fraternity.

During the Summer months, Mr. Abbatello will have charge of the swimming activities at the newly erected Cliffwood Beach swimming pool.

ASKS LOCAL VOTERS TO SUPPORT BLODGETT

Moe Clark, campaign manager for Frederick Blodgett, Republican candidate for Sheriff, through the columns of this paper, is making a personal appeal for support for Mr. Blodgett in the Primary Election next Tuesday. Mr. Clark was born in South Amboy, in the section that is or was known as "Fishtown", and he earnestly hopes that his many friends living here will answer his appeal and do all they can to help win the nomination for this section of the county.

Fine Exhibition Of School Work Here Yesterday

Demonstration Of Work Of Public School Pupils Is Largely Attended

The exhibition held in the Public Schools on Thursday afternoon and evening was one of the finest and largest attended in this city. The work was a demonstration of the accomplishments of the Manual Training, Physical Training, Household Arts and Arts Departments.

The Physical Training Department held exhibitions at 1:30 P. M. and 8:30 P. M. in the auditorium. These showed the skill and precision acquired by those taking part. The grades from the first through the fifth performed in the afternoon. In the evening the Junior and Senior High School participated.

Many excellent pieces of handicraft were on display in the Manual Training exhibit. Beautiful pieces of furniture were shown. Among the outstanding pieces were two cedar chests which were examples of perfect workmanship. The boys had also a unique score board made and designed by them. There were lamps, lockcases, end tables, aeroplanes, boats and an assortment of toys.

The Household Arts department had a large and varied exhibit. There were numerous dresses which ranged from the simple ones made by the sixth grade to the spring ensembles made by the twelfth year. There were oilcloth bags, purses and bookcovers made by the sixth year, as well as pillows and oilcloth bridge covers. The tenth year class in Foods served all guests with punch and cookies.

The Art Department had an excellent exhibition this year. The work of the grades were hung in the halls. A special exhibit was held in the art room. Here were seen various scarfs, bathed by the pupils; raffia bags; and posters of the various school events held throughout the year. The first, second, third and fourth grades had clay villages, depicting the customs and manner of dress of the various people, particularly were noticed the Indian, Dutch, Eskimo and Japanese.

Miss D. Forgotson is in charge of Physical Training. Miss Rue, Art. Mr. Thomas, Manual Training, and Miss B. Brinamen, Household Arts. The program follows:

First Grades, Line formation, Circle Rhythmic Games and Songs.
Second Grades, Shoemaker's Dance, Breckin Dolls, Miss Dwyer Class.
Third Grades, Norwegian Mat. March.
Fourth Grades, Free Hand Drill.

Brother Of Local Man Is Drowned

August Semoneit Being Buried This Afternoon—Was Boat Captain

Funeral services for August Semoneit, fifty-six years old, a brother of Fred Semoneit, of this city, are being held this afternoon from the funeral parlors of Undertaker Skrocki in Perth Amboy. Interment will be made in Monumental Cemetery, South River.

The deceased was a captain of a coal barge and met death by drowning. The last seen of him alive was at six o'clock Tuesday morning, when the captain of another barge moored at the stakes at the Lehigh Valley coal piers in Perth Amboy, saw him leave his cabin and go to the bow of his barge for a pail of water. He is thought to have suffered a stroke and fell into the water. At ten o'clock that night, the light in his cabin, which had not burned out since early morning, attracted the attention of the captain of the adjoining barge, he entering the cabin and not being able to locate Mr. Semoneit, notified the police. At four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, as a tug boat was churning the water, the body came to the surface.

Coroner Hanson was called and gave permission for the removal of the body.

Frog Hollow Man Under Heavy Bail On Serious Charge

Girl in Hospital With New Babe After Delicate Operation.

Alex Zulin, of the Frog Hollow section of Ferris street, was released from the County Jail yesterday under $3,000 bail. He was arrested by Roundsman McCormack Tuesday on a charge of carnal abuse against Stella Boodzak, of George street, preferred by the girl's father, John Boodzak before Police Justice Linwood Van Cleef, who committed Zulin to jail to await Grand Jury action. Zulin is about thirty-nine years old, married and has four children; the girl lacks four months of being sixteen years old. The child's mother was admitted to the New Jersey State Hospital for the Insane about two weeks ago.

The father is said to have been summoned from his work in the local terra cotta plant on Tuesday morning because of the sudden illness of his daughter, which was his first intimation of anything wrong with her. Dr. Meacham found the girl in convulsions and had her removed to the local hospital at once. A few hours later it was found necessary to perform a surgical operation to relieve the girl's sufferings and save her life, as well as that of her child. Both are now reported doing as well as could be expected. The intimacy between the Boodzak girl and Zulin is said to have extended back over a period of more than a year. The girl was a frequent visitor at the Zulin home and vice versa, it is said. Zulin is a carpenter by trade and secures employment among local contractors. He has retained Lawyer Smith of South River to defend him.

Scaffold Collapses At Melrose Plant

Keyport Man Dies From Injuries Saturday At Local Hospital.

Six victims of an accident at the Humphreys Chemical Company plant in Melrose were treated at the local hospital last Saturday. One of the six Charles Roberts, of Keyport, died on Sunday from injuries received. He sustained a fractured skull and an operation performed by Dr. Henry, of Perth Amboy, failed to save his life.

Three of the victims of the accident were from South Amboy. Louis Peterson, of 436 Ferry street, with lacerations of the head and face, was treated and discharged as was Geo. Lane, of 119 George street, who sustained a broken arm. Frank Kozowski, of Melrose, had a crushed foot. He and Michael Clamnitz, of Raritan avenue, Perth Amboy, who suffered head and face injuries and a fractured rib, are still confined to the hospital. Frank Kozowski, of Sheridan street, Perth Amboy, scalp injuries, was discharged.

Funeral services for Roberts were held at Keyport Tuesday afternoon and interment was made in Rose Hill cemetery, Matawan. He is survived by parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Roberts, of Hightstown.

The men were working on a scaffold which collapsed and they fell about thirty feet to the ground.

MR. LOCKER IMPROVING

The good news that Mr. Samuel Locker, of Broadway, is continuing to improve was given out at the local hospital this morning. Mr. Locker underwent a very serious operation several weeks ago. About town this week it was reported that his condition was unsatisfactory. At the hospital, however, it is stated that at no time has his condition been regarded as serious and that a steady improvement is evident. His many friends will doubtless be glad to learn this.

CONTRACTORS ENJOY BANQUET AT ELIZABETH

A number of local contractors and lumber men attended a banquet given by the Celotex Corporation at the Winfield Scott Hotel in Elizabeth on Wednesday night. Over five hundred men were present from different parts of New Jersey.

Among those from this city who attended were F. H. Lear, John L. Lear, Albert Bergen, Edwin Emmons, Ferdinand Tedesco, Charles Eppinger, J. Lee Lawe, George Mundy, Oscar Mundy, O. W. Welsh, Timothy Sullivan, Thomas Connors, John F. Connors and V. Jurewicz.

PAY FINES

Charles Warranwitz and Adam Cheasmoriz, of Perth Amboy, were taken into custody Sunday by Patrolman Kvist on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. A fine of $25.00 was imposed on the former and $10.00 on the latter, both fines being paid, at a hearing before Police Justice Van Cleef.

Plans to hold the next regular meeting of Monsignor John F. Brady Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, at San Alphonse Retreat House, West End, have been completed by Chairman John P. McGuire. An effort to have every member of the Assembly attend is being made by Mr. McGuire. An address by the Rev. Father Turner will be made after the luncheon.

Blue Front Stores Merged With Larger Body Of Independents

Local Chain Joins United Service Grocers—Statewide Independents Chain.

The Blue Front Association, an organization of independent grocers in this city, Perth Amboy and vicinity, officially passed out of existence on Tuesday evening. At that time the thirty-four stores that comprised the Blue Front answer to Chain store merchandising gave way to the "United Service Grocers," an organization similar to the Blue Front but one having a much larger membership, and covering a wider field. The thirty-four independents are now merged with over four hundred independents comprising the United Service Grocers.

The re-organization meeting was held at the Elks Club on Madison avenue, Perth Amboy and was attended by nearly all of the membership of the Blue Front Stores. The Blue Front has been functioning for just about a year and has proved very valuable to its members. The new and larger organization is expected to prove itself likewise. The Tuesday night gathering was quite enthusiastic over future prospects for added savings that could be passed on to the customers and housewives.

The United Service Grocers association has an extensive membership in the northern part of this state and down along the seashore and among the coast resorts. There are over four hundred independent grocers listed among the membership and the purchasing facilities of such a body is bulked for mutual benefit of the separate units. All of the local stores in the Blue Front are entering the larger body and shortly will have their store fronts repainted with the new colors that feature this independent chain. The standard colors are a light buff with a pale green trimming that gives a very attractive and stimulating effect.

The local stores in the independent chain are Eagle Tea Company, E. R. Brown, proprietor, of Broadway; D. Greenspan, also of Broadway; S. S. Sutter, Stevens avenue and Joseph Pribula, Pine avenue at John street.

Final Events In School Closing

Class Day At High School Tonight—Commencement Wednesday

Tonight at 8:15 the Class of '29 will hold its Class Day exercises in the Auditorium of the High School. It promises to be an interesting event. The members of the class have prepared an original program having as its central theme the "Banquet of Ideas." The rest has been shrouded in mystery but one may suspect that the members of the school will be "served" with some well seasoned remarks.

Next Wednesday evening the Commencement exercises will be held. Dr. Elwood, of Atlantic City will address the graduates. He is a splendid speaker and will be appreciated by those privileged to attend. Miss V. Rehms is the first honor of the class and will give an essay on the "Progress of the United States."

Eugene Dobrynski is the second honor and will give an oration on the Monroe Doctrine. He will trace the Doctrine from the time of its conception to the present.

Miss Mildred Stephenson is in charge of the music and has prepared four chorus numbers. Mrs. Fanny Parisien will be the accompanist. The choruses will be as follows: Come Where the Lilies Bloom.

Thompson Page
Dance of the Leaves—Ira B. Wilson
Happy Birds—Edward Holst
June Song—Rudolf King

FALSE ALARM ARREST

John Downs, of David street, was placed under arrest last Saturday afternoon by Officer Reiner. Downs is said to have turned in an alarm from Box 72 at 3:12 Saturday afternoon, summoning the fire department. Downs explained that he saw smoke rising from the house at 121 Stevens avenue and thought the place was afire. It turned out the smoke was coming from the chimney. No charge was pressed against him so he was released.

CLIFFWOOD BEACH SWIMMING POOL WILL BE WELCOME

New Attraction At Popular Beach Resort To Draw Local Patronage Ample.

A new swimming pool, the most modern in the state, if not the entire country, is almost finished at Cliffwood Beach and present plans for the pool bid fair to make Cliffwood Beach the mecca for every So. Amboyman not actually bed ridden during the next few warm months. The attraction of the pool; added to the already popular features of the beach resort, are to be even greater because a South Amboy youth is to be the manager of the new pool. The pool will be ready for opening to the public the latter part of this month, the opening date likely being June 30th. Vincent Abbatello, of Stevens avenue, a this year's graduate of Panzer College as a physical director, is to be the manager.

The new swimming pool is intended to offset the drawback of the changing tides, interrupting the swimming at the Raritan Bay Shore resort. Because the tide is not right at all times for the bathers there has been in time gone by a host of folks who desired to bathe and were not able to do so. The new pool will correct all that and more.

The bay water will be used to fill the new pool but not until after it has been filtered thoroughly, chlorinated and otherwise purified, by means of an elaborate installation of apparatus that will insure the pool being as pure as it is possible for it to be at all times. The water is to be filtered by gravity through a gravel and sand bed built out in the bay, pumped thence to a battery of three mechanical filter tanks alongside the pool. The water goes through the filter tanks under pressure, and coming out gets a chlorinating treatment, then goes into the pool at the sides near the bottom.

The pool varies in depth from three feet at one end to nine at the other and there will be required 368,500 gallons of water to fill it. The outlet from the pool is at the (Continued on last page)

Alumni Association Banquet Thursday

At New Woodrow Wilson Hotel In New Brunswick.

Members of the South Amboy High School Alumni Association and their friends will gather at the new Woodrow Wilson Hotel in New Brunswick, next Thursday night on the occasion of the annual banquet of the association. Members of this year's graduating class will be the guests of the association as usual.

Over one hundred reservations have been received to date for the affair, according to Howard Lambertson, who has charge of this phase of the affair. The committee is making arrangements with the artists bureau of the National Broadcasting Company for entertainment for the affair, but so far have not received the list of entertainers to be furnished. It is expected that the entertainment will consist of a male quartette, a monolog, several dancers and a number of well known vocalists. Music for the dancing will be furnished by Ralph Ellams and his orchestra. All reservations must be made on or before Monday, June 17th.

The following menu will be served, which in itself, should tempt many to attend the banquet.

Cocktail
Stuffed Celery French Olives.
Consomme
Pouched file of sole St. Charles.
Grilled Mignon of Beef
Hollandaise Potatoes Fresh Peas.
Neapolitan Salad, Russian Dressing
Albahama Ice Cream Surprise.

CARE OF TIRES NOT EASY TASK

Driver Wastes Much Money
by Not Observing Simple Motor Rules.

If American motorists gave their motor car tires as much care as they give their own shoes they would save hundreds of millions of dollars they now waste through carelessness. Experts say almost every driver wears out the equivalent of a tire a year because he does not observe simple rules which not only prolong the life of his casings but make for easier riding.

The main causes of premature tire ruin are: driving with wheels out of alignment, needless high speed, faulty use of brakes and improper inflation.

Brakes Wear Tires.

Paradoxically, the more the automobile is improved the harder it becomes on tires. Four-wheel brakes will stop a car almost as short as a stone wall, but they wear down tires at an appalling rate if they are habitually slapped on at high speed. Unevenly adjusted brakes scuff out tires as a small boy scuffs out shoes.

Increased speed also is hard on tires, yet the more cars in use the faster traffic must be kept moving, and the greater the wear on tires in slowing down and stopping. Recent tests have shown that a car driven at 35 miles an hour and stopped every quarter mile wore the tread design on a standard tire entirely away in a little more than 100 miles. Stopped only every mile, the tread lasted 3,000 miles.

Inflation Is Important.

The one important factor in tire wear that is completely under the control of the man at the wheel is inflation. Experiments made with identical tires on identical cars, one set properly inflated and the other only six pounds under-inflated, showed that firm tires lasted one-quarter longer.

Kicking a tire to test its pressure is about as sensible as taking strychnine tonic by drinking it out of the bottle. There is only one way to test tire pressure, and that is with a gauge. Four minutes once a week, spent on testing tire pressure may save at least the price of one new casing a year.

Find Misuse of Signals Growing in Many Cities

The misuse of traffic signals is increasing disregard for their meaning, says a recent report of the American Engineering Council, which has just concluded a traffic survey in 104 American cities.

Two fundamental errors have been observed in a majority of the cities. The council finds. The most important is the placing of the signals without first having an adequate survey of conditions to be handled, or without a thought of what may result at other intersections. The other fault is the placing of signals at corners not justified under the circumstances.

"The result of such error," says the report, "is that the public will recognize their error and have a consequent disregard of all traffic signs and devices."

Grease Cups Left

Grease cups have not entirely disappeared before the newer varieties of lubrication systems. On many cars the rear wheel bearings and fan bearing, at least, still are lubricated by the rather primitive cup. These are very vital parts doing a great deal of hard work, but because they require more time for lubrication than those parts which may quickly be reached with the gun, they often are ignored. It is a case of grease or wear.

Making Double Doors

Open at Same Time

The illustration shows a novel fitting for any double garage doors. It is designed so that when you open or shut the door at the left in the illustration, the other door will open or shut automatically. The material you need consists of a board of sufficient length, three bolts, a strong iron hinge, and wood screws.

As you open the door at the left, a connecting bar, pulled along with it, opens the door at the right by pulling on the end of the offset block. In closing, the thrust of the connecting bar closes the door at the right—Popular Science Monthly.

AUTOMOBILE NOTES

The tempo of this age is "open her up and step on it."

Sometimes it doesn't even at all anything to cross crossings cautiously.

Special motor car taxes pay one-third of the cost of roads in the United States.

The parking problem awaits the inventor who can tuck the spare tire telescope into the radiator.

The coming census will give the automobile salesman an insight to the few remaining possibilities that exist in his line.

The idea of the bill making automobile licenses payable July 1 is in part that Santa Claus and the tax collector ought to be kept as far apart as possible.

Hints for Motorists

Although an engine may seem to run more smoothly on damp days than on dry ones, it actually loses power because of humidity in the air. This may be offset by advancing the spark.

Some motorists seem to think that if an automobile has gas in the tank, nothing else matters. They neglect to have their brakes adjusted, for instance because unadjusted brakes will stop a car. Even when they don't cause a skid, however, they subject the tires to excessive wear.

This is the time of the year to inspect your tires for stone bruises, cuts and small punctures caused by driving over winter roads. If you have all the cuts, contusions and abrasions repaired, you'll keep summer sand and dust out of the shoes and lengthen their life.

Argentinian Territory

Patagonia is a name formerly applied to the whole south portion of South America, extending from the Strait of Magellan indefinitely northward to about the thirty-eighth parallel of south latitude. In its present use Patagonia has no political significance. It is generally restricted to the region lying east of the Andes and south of Rio Negro. This country remained unclaimed until 1881, when it was incorporated with Argentina.

"Very Latest"

By CECILE
Have you ordered your Beach Pyjamas? If not, you're lost, for no fashion-wise feminine bather is without them this season, you know. And how are they as to color? Gayest than the most vivid imagination can paint them; more bizarre than any Oriental ever dreamed they could become in the days of their creation.

Now and then, of course, one finds something striking, yet conservative, one of the nicest of these being the pyjama set illustrated—an original design by Frances Clyne. Tea rose pongee is the foundation fabric, with a three-quarter beach coat of the same color bordered in beige and variations of shade of rose.

Smart combinations of flame and chartruese with a touch of black; sailor blue with red; citron yellow with King's blue and an accent of parakeet green are among the novel combinations used.

Art and Fashion Join Forces

One of the most interesting developments of the current season is the union of contemporary French artists and leading couturiers of Paris. This group of French moderns has turned to the decorative arts and endowed us with a marvelous collection of designs for silk prints known as "Impressions Decoratives." And in turn, the couturiers have created a group of brilliant models expressive of each design and the particular flair of each designer.

The prints—all of which show the French understanding of piquante and delicate modernism, form perhaps the finest collection group of truly artistic patterns that it has ever been our good fortune to receive in one season. And much of the popularity of silk prints is credited to the work of this group.

The Secret of Many a Small Foot
Optical illusion, you may call it, but continuity of color effect in hose and shoes does ten times give a longer effect to the foot, while a sharp contrast in color between shoe and stocking gives the impression of a smaller shoe!

... conquer traffic

with that quality in improved "Standard" Gasoline that sweeps you to the forefront when the traffic light says "Go" . . . carries you on and cuts you in ahead of "lazy-motored" cars . . . reduces the necessity of shifting gears—and makes you proud of your mightier car.

NO matter whether your car be a saucy, speedy roadster or a stately, powerful sedan—this improved "Standard" Gasoline helps it conquer traffic. It's a richer gas, a more volatile gas. Limbers up like a sprinter and beats other cars to the "crossings." It's an all 'round flexible gas, too. Puts its back behind a ten-ton truck as easily as it skims the hills with a touring car. That's because its range of boiling points is carefully attuned. Improved "Standard" Gasoline is gassier. And yet it doesn't waste itself in flashy acceleration alone. In any situation it's dependable . . . it's the champion.

TECHNICALLY SPEAKING, "the rapid advance of high-speed and multiple cylinder motors to meet changed traffic conditions demand: 'quicker acceleration' or 'flexibility of control.' To secure rapid acceleration in traffic you need a richer mixture, a greater force instantly to push the pistons." It is in these brief instances that the improved "Standard" proves itself a richer and more volatile gasoline—it's the champion.

"STANDARD" dealers and attendants practice daily those little courtesies which have earned them the reputation of giving "service with a smile." But the free water for the radiator, free air for the tires, free road maps to show you the way, are all incidentals to that bigger service—the dispensing of clean, rich improved "Standard" Gasoline. It's clear as crystal. Sold everywhere at red "Standard" pumps with the familiar "Standard" globes.

NASH '400'

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

The Greatest Car in the $900 Field COMPARISON PROVES IT!

NASH engineers have created the greatest motor car ever built in the $900 field.

Its features prove it. Just examine all the outstanding costly-car attractions this car offers.

Its performance proves it. Drive it and experience the great flow of smooth power from its big, high-compression, 7-bearing motor, the lightning-like get-away, the world's easiest steering.

Its size proves it. Big, comfortable, and with extra head and leg room for all 5 passengers. Finished with the luxury and tastefulness usually exclusive to expensive cars.

Its beauty proves it. For the "400" body design is the style leader—beautiful beyond comparison in its field.

Its equipment proves it. There's no extra charge for front and rear bumpers, Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, outboard mounted, spare tire lock and tire cover.

And its value proves it. Just compare the delivered, fully equipped prices of other cars with the low Nash delivered, fully equipped prices.

Price Range (f. o. b. factory) of 23 Nash "400" Models, $885 to $2190 including Touring, Roadster, Coupe, Cabriolet, Victoria and Sedan Models

Sharp Practice

A seedy negro was borrowing $10 for one week, and on counting it discovered only $8, to which he called the loan man's attention. It was explained that $1 had been deducted as interest, and as customary was collected in advance. Blinking his eyes in amazement, he scratched his head and mumbled: "I've got' glad Ah didn't need dis money 'fo' ten weeks."

Heralry

The science of heraldry is of ancient origin. Some trace the antiquity of the use of crests to heathen divinities. Herodotus attributes it to the Carians. At first heraldry was designed from personal characteristics of the bearer. At length it became a science perfected by the crusades and tournaments. In the Middle Ages it formed the pomp and splendor of glorious chivalry.

"Graybeard" Recovered

Great interest has been taken Scotland in the finding of a "graybeard," or ancient drinking vessel which was brought up in a net by a fishing crew in the North sea, 60 m from Aberdeen. It stands nine in high, is of brick-colored ware, bears the representation of an old man with flowing beard. A family creel also shown. The vessel is better be 800 years old.

The Deferred Excuse

By A. W. PEACH

(Copyright.)

IT WAS not a happy world to John Stuart. He was trying to get his own breakfast. His house-keeper had been suddenly called away, and he was, as the expression has it, "on his own."

On his ascent from the cellar way he found the kitchen door had blown open, and wintry gusts of snow were cascading in. He closed the door and went about his labors, when an unmistakable "me-ow" warned him that he had a visitor. A scouting expedition revealed the visitor in his study, a kitten, decorated with a crimson ribbon. Evidently she had slipped in when the kitchen door had blown open.

After some skillful stalking, which did not make his world any the happier, he cornered the kitten. He had reason to believe it belonged next door, so he decided to drop it over the fence. He performed this act with due ceremony and retreated to his belated breakfast. As he entered the kitchen his doorbell rang and he hastened through the bungalow to answer.

He opened the door and found himself a slight figure muffled in a fur.

"If you have seen my kitten," he said, "get it."

He deposited a feline of the domestic variety over the backyard fence, and he replied with some coldness as befitting the time of the year, the subject, and a breakfastless man.

"Oh, you did!" the sweet voice said with increasing chill. "I thank you! But, if I am not mistaken, I just saw the kitten behind you!"

He looked around, exploded a mild expletive in his mind, snatched the kitten from under a davenport, suspended it by the nape of its neck and extended it to its mistress.

"You need not be quite so savage about it!" she said as she received the kitten, and turning sharply about went down the snowy walks, her small overshoes leaving quick imprints behind her.

He closed the door and retreated to his belated breakfast. As he ate, the unhappy world took on a rosier aspect, and he suddenly realized that the owner of the kitten possessed brown eyes of a remarkable depth and beauty, and her eyebrows, and the curve of her cheeks above the dainty fairs.

"By Jove, she was downright pretty, and I'm just awake to the fact!" he advised himself.

He was a newcomer in the neighborhood. Probably she lived in the attractive house just back of his on the other street.

"Now, if that kitten should come again, I'll have an excuse for going over, and perhaps I can make a better impression than I did this morning," he thought to himself.

He made his usual morning trip to the post office and returned by way of the street on which the pretty owner of the kitten lived. Her home was attractive, there was no doubt about that. He wondered if he could catch a glimpse of her.

The effort to do so was fatal. The deceptive snow sheltered an icy stretch made more icy by the sliding feet of schoolboys, and John cascaded down the walk in front of her house with more speed than grace.

He gathered up the outspread limbs of his six feet of extensive proportions and thought as he did so: "This is a grievous day. The Bible is right again; 'He was tempted and he fell.' I'll make tracks for home and stay there!"

Once more in his snug and comfortable study he set himself to work, and it was of little use. In front of the sheet in his typewriter he saw yrown eyes so deep his glance could not fathom them; the curve of rosy cheeks and the hint of heavy coils of brown hair under the fur cap.

The afternoon wore on to evening, he prepared and made way with a very satisfactory repast and was snoring a pleasing clasp when his heart impeded. At the kitchen door there under an unmistakable "me-ow!" he rushed to the door and gathered to himself the kitten that was to be his furred excuse.

He donned the proper garb and hurried. He walked briskly until he was in front of her house. In the shadows he saw something dark, reached across the walk where he had fallen. It was the girl, unconscious from the force of her fall on the icy-covered, icy walk. He gathered her up, thrilled at the sight of her, slight figure; then he entered the house.

He rushed to the door. There he found a confusion for a few minutes later the door opened and John looked into brown eyes that regarded him.

"What a lovely girl!" he said, "and—"

"What a lovely girl!" she said, "and—"

RADIUM DEATHS AROUSE PUBLIC

Three Women Dead and Another Dying.

Waterbury, Conn.—Three known, radium deaths, the approaching death of a fourth victim, and the possibility of other cases as yet unreported in Waterbury, have stirred public and legislative concern in Connecticut. What has aroused official cognizance of a "grave industrial wrong," as it is called, is the fact that the valuation of the life of Mrs. Mildred Curdow, the latest victim, as assessed by the clock manufacturing company for which she worked and the state compensation act, is $43.75.

The young woman worked one year in the radium watch dial department of the clock company, the largest and wealthiest producer of timepieces in the state. With the other 30 or more girls in the department, she had been instructed to point the brush, dipped in radium solution, with her tongue before painting watch faces of the kind one reads in the dark.

The instruction was given, according to C. H. Granger, first vice president and superintendent, by a woman supervisor, unidentified. Mrs. Curdow was paid $12.50 a week. She later left her employment to serve as a waitress in the Waterbury hospital, where she subsequently died.

Falling ill shortly after her marriage, recently, she complained of violent pains in her neck and head. Doctors at first diagnosed her condition as sinus congestion.

A regular meeting of the Common Council will be held Tuesday night at the City Hall.

A TRIBUTE

The finest example of military courtesy I ever have heard of, the most touchingly beautiful, was when the allied commanders conferred on Marshall Ferdinand Foch, the leadership over all the mighty hosts rushing to the defense of the great principle of world democracy.

Valiantly the little Frenchman had struggled, his back to the wall, confronted by a merciless foe. Modestly he accepted a position of supreme trust, of highest honor. And, he pledged the support of a soldier-citizen, to maintain the dignity of his exalted station. The eyes of the world were upon him—its prayers with him.

At his command the legions sprang to the conflict, against the most terrible fighting machine the world had ever known; a thousand years of history were written within the compass of less than half a bloody decade.

Then, the surrender—the armistice. Nobly he confronted personally his fallen enemy, dictating less of exactions than many considered fair to the conquerors. With dignity he retired to his home, his people, his duty well done. The world acclaimed but aroused no feeling of selfish vanity on part of its hero.

In his own allotted time he crept away, to lie down beside the unknown soldier, beneath the Arch of Triumph where both sleep, oblivious to the din and uproar of the cannon.

Another great soldier will repair once in awhile to the shrine near the great cathedral; he will doff his cap and remember the hour when the little marshal accepted the commission naming him the world's greatest commander. He will recall the trying, bloody hours of conflict; and, he will turn away with a swelling heart, for that's the sort of heart our own "old Jack Pershing" has.

Jury of Grecian Origin?

Trial by jury is generally conceded to have originated with the Greeks. In Athens a certain number of free men, selected by lot, heard and decided under the direction of a judge every case to be tried at law, a different group of men hearing each case. A similar system was adopted in Rome. The Normans made use of a primitive form of jury when they conquered England in 1066, calling them "jurats."

Deadly Gas

The most dangerous property of carbon monoxide gas, apart from its poisonous qualities, is the fact that it is colorless, odorless and tasteless. Consequently, it is difficult to detect and when inhaled a very small percentage of this gas in the air is sufficient to cause death within a few minutes. This gas combines with the hemoglobin of the blood, producing headache and dizziness, then asphyxiation.

FATHER'S DAY

June 16th is Father's Day, and we want to urge everyone not to overlook this occasion. For some reason, Mother's Day is much more widely observed than Father's Day. This is understandable in the light of the beautiful sentiments that are aroused by the very word "mother"—yet father need not be neglected, as too often he seems to be.

Father may seem indifferent to such an occasion as Father's Day. Probably, if asked, he would call it "nonsense" and ask his children to "forget it."

Father may seem austere, or too practical to care for such trinkets as you might be moved to purchase for him, or, in many cases, it might seem ridiculous to present him with a gift out of his own money.

But remember one thing! A man is only a boy grown up. Your father, no matter what his exterior, has hidden away in his heart a little boy. And that little boy will come to the surface and with father will retire to his room as happy about the red pair of suspenders, or the tie, or the box of cigars that you have given him, as any little boy would be about a box of marbles or a baseball glove.

Don't be fooled by your father. He likes little attentions just as much as mother does.

THE LIMIT OF MAN

There is no way of predicting the extent of developments in the radio field. Tests by the Canadian National Railway near Toronto indicate the futility of predicting the ultimate destiny of radio. It is possible now to talk casually from moving trains, to send telegrams from them, and to broadcast from them.

Years ago it was thought the ultimate was reached when phonograph records broadcast were heard over a comparatively short distance.

At that time anyone suggesting that broadcasts might be made from a moving train would have been considered insane. In ancient times such a prophet would have been burned at the stake for witchcraft.

Yet these miracles have come to pass, and do not doubt it, others are coming. There seem to be a very few limitations, to the ability of man to conquer the elements. But there is one very definite limit.

When Lieutenant Soucek sought to make a new altitude record, eight miles above the ground he had to breathe oxygen from tanks in order to keep alive. As it was, breathing was an agonizing experience. His adventure proved there was a limit to human progress in the sense that man is confined to the little globe in which he is born.

PASS THE ONIONS

Science has at last elevated the humble onion to its proper position among the floral wonders of the world. The onion, of Lilacea allium cepa, to give its proper title, throws off ultra-violet-rays, investigators have found. The exact effect of the rays on the human system is not determined yet, but undoubtedly it is beneficial. They must be intense rays, too. Often we have had to close our eyes when studying the anatomy of an onion at close range. Science should not give a thought to garlic, turnips, parsnips and peppers. They ought to throw off things too.

We recall that in many campaign speeches in the past when the tariff was under discussion that one of the vote getting clichés in the rural districts was that the tariff was designed primarily for the farmer. The tariff would provide a full dinner pail for the working man and the dinner pail would be filled with food produced on the farms with the result that with the enactment of the tariff, the farmer's troubles would be over and his prosperity assured. We do not intend to say here whether the farmer's troubles are over, and he is prosperous but it occurs to us that there is a pretty general belief that the farmer needs something more than the tariff also why all this farm relief business that is gumming up the wheels of congress and driving politicians to early graves?

It isn't the age of a town that makes it grow, it's the spirit of the people in it. A town grows or stands still as the people in it wish. Most of the towns that are known as live and enterprising are not so because nature or chance have especially favored them. They are progressive because there was at one time enough people in them who wanted them to be progressive enough to join together and work for the things that made them good towns.

Club Gives $300 to Kiddie Keep Well Camp Fund and $50.00 for Camp Site.

Speaking before members of the South Amboy Rotary Club at their luncheon Tuesday noon at Cady's, Dr. G. E. Sehlbrede, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, urged cooperation in civic improvements for South Amboy. Dr. Sehlbrede made a number of suggestions of what he thought might be done to better this community. By cooperation among the lodges, the service clubs, the churches and the civic bodies, he said, some plan might be worked out to make this one of the finest residential communities along the coast.

The speaker urged that a garden contest be held in the city each year, and that several prizes be donated to go to the contestants having the best gardens. He said this movement could be started by the local Rotary Club. He further pointed out the necessity of an effort to stop the destroying of gardens and flowers by the boys and young men of this city. He told of several instances of where flowers and bushes on the Presbyterian Church grounds had been deliberately destroyed, but the guilty parties were never apprehended.

During his talk, Dr. Sehlbrede said that he liked South Amboy a great deal, and would be willing to do whatever he could in helping to improve civic conditions here.

Give $300 to Keep Well Camp

Following the meeting, the board of directors in session, voted to donate $300 to the Middlesex County Keep Well Camp. This amount will be sufficient to send five kiddies to the camp for a term of five weeks each. During the past year, each member has contributed a small amount weekly, and with an additional donation by the board of directors, the above amount was made possible. The board of directors also voted to donate $50.00 to the permanent camping site fund now being raised by Baritan Council, Boy Scouts of America. Troops in the district not having their own camping equipment must attend Camp Burton in Monmouth County for their camping trip.

Farewell Shower

Honors Local Bride

Here Monday Eve.

Mrs. Norma Wortley Schuyler, Surprised by Friends at Tasty Party.

Mrs. Norma Wortley Schuyler, of Second street, this city, was tendered a farewell shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Coogan of Portia street, on Monday evening. The guests were composed largely of the office associates of Mrs. Schuyler from the tabulating office of the DuPont plant at Parlin, with a number of her close friends and relatives.

The honor guest's favorite colors, yellow and white, were used in a gay decoration of the rooms. A large umbrella of yellow and white crepe paper hung above the huge pile of gift remembrances gathered for the party, and contributed not a little to the completeness of the arrangements.

After a long succession of "Oh's" and "Ah's" accompanying the opening of the numerous packages the guests settled down to enjoying various card games and spontaneous entertainment numbers by volunteers among them. Later elaborate and delectable refreshments were served and an excellent time was enjoyed by all.

Among those present were Mrs. Florence Barker, Mrs. R. Kurwin and Miss Anna Kurwin of Freehold, Miss Meta Dickenson, Miss Katherine Nale, Miss Marguerite Wright, Miss Elsie Funk, Miss Lou Price, Miss Emma Parkenson, Henry Gesicki, Eugene Wruiski and Otto Howley, all of South River; Eddie Berdell, of Old Bridge; Mrs. Helen Megill, of Long Branch; and Mrs. Thomas Wortley, Miss Helen Wortley, Mrs. Norma W. Schuyler, Mrs. I. L. Reese, Miss Beatrice Sprague, Mrs. Mildred Hall, Mrs. Evelyn Corbin, Mrs. Evelyn Hardy, Miss Helen Oliver, Mrs. Sadie Dowdell and Mrs. Eleanor W. Coogan.

Prizes were awarded to Miss Meta Dickenson, Marguerite Wright, Helen Wortley and Henry Gesicki.

For Musical Drama

Next Tuesday Eve.

Three Section Program Promises Enjoyable House for Big Crowd.

"The Awakening of Elaine", "In the Palace of the King", and "Ruth, the Gleaner", are the three numbers on the entertainment program that will attract a huge audience at the John street Methodist Episcopal Church next Tuesday evening. The fact that it is the evening of Primary Day is expected to contribute instead of detracting to the attendance that is sure to be present.

The Point Pleasant choir will render the musical drama first named above. The choir will be assisted by the Sunday School of the local church. The affair is being arranged by the combined units of the church workers. Mrs. Linwood Van Cleef heads the committee of ladies in charge.

The various characters in "In the Palace of the King", which is a moral dialogue, will be portrayed by the following:

The Queen, Audrey Van Cleef.
The Proctress, Fielma Stratton.
Annette, Olivia Nelson.
Marie, Jeannette Van Cleef.
Kathryn, Josephine Mundy.
Louise, Dorothy Luman.

The other number, the beautiful biblical story of "Ruth the Gleaner", which has been dramatized in three scenes, will be rendered by the following:

Ruth, Audrey Van Cleef.
Naomi, Dorothy Stults.
Orpah, Jeannette Van Cleef.
Reapers, Olivia Nelson, Murie Nelson, Jeanne Spice, Ruth Van Cleef.
Prophetess, Jeannette Van Cleef.

NERVOUS DRIVER SASSES

COP; ESCAPES ARREST

At the corner of Main street and Stevens avenue during the week, an anxious driver in his haste scattered several persons who were attempting to cross the intersection. Officer Kvist, who happened along, stopped the car. He said to the driver, "You'd rather run over people than slow up a bit, would you?" "Yes", retorted the driver who was thoroughly alarmed over being stopped. Realizing the man was nervous, the officer reprimanded him and urged more care in passing street intersections.

ONE GOOD TERM

DESERVES ANOTHER

County Clerk F. William Hilker, who is seeking re-election this year on the Republican ticket is deserving of another term on the merits of his first term and judging by reports from every district in the county the majority of the Republican voters feel that way about it.

For five years he has served the county and no one who has held the position the past twenty years has had as efficient an administration.

During his term in office he has revised the entire system in the County Clerk's Office so that the business of the office has been handled in shorter time and more efficiently than ever before.

During his term in office he also directed the construction of the new addition to the building in order to properly handle the business of the office which has grown in leaps and bounds.

Persons who have not had contact with his office by filing various instruments with his office for recording on the county records cannot appreciate the work that Mr. Hilker has done in his first term as county clerk. Those who have had contact with the office during his administration have been loud in their praises of the efficiency of his office.

Before he took office he required from three to four months before the various instruments were returned to those who filed them. Today as a result of the new system which he installed in the office the instruments are returned within two weeks.

During his term in office he has received hundreds of letters from various lawyers, realtors and the general public commending him upon the efficient service which he has caused to be rendered in returning documents and other legal papers.

He has proved to be an efficient executive and has shown that he is always anxious to take care of the best interests of the public. His stewardship has been such as to warrant another term in office and the many voters about the county who think before they vote are supporting him in his campaign.

His has been purely a business administration, a careful handling of the affairs of the county. He feels that the people of the county consider service paramount and the fact that he expedites the recording of the various deeds and mortgages which represent nine-tenths of the wealth of the county, shows how vastly important it is to elect an experienced, faithful, conscientious public servant.

Paid for by Campaign Manager.

LOOKING BACK 22 YEARS

Issue of June 15, 1907

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stuart, of Church street, are visiting friends at Boston, Mass.

The celars for George Gundrum's two new houses on John street are being dug. Oscar Mundy secured the contract. These houses are to be modern in design and complete in arrangement. They will add to the appearance of the street.

Mr. H. C. Peirce, Sr., has sold twenty acres of the old Mundy tract to a company of capitalists of New York. The consideration is said to be $5,000. It is their intention to build twelve or thirteen handsome bungalows on the property next spring.

Miss Helen B. Brown, principal of School No. 2, on Tuesday presented each member of her class with a very neat souvenir. On the cover is the portrait of Miss Brown. On the first page is a photo of the school, and on the third page the names of the scholars are printed. The class values the memento greatly.

The commencement exercises of St. Mary's School will be held on Saturday evening, June 22, at St. Mary's Hall. The graduates are Master George Aloysius Kress, Master Peter Aloysius Ward, Master Edward Joseph Gallagher, Master Christopher Thomas Segrave, Miss Catherine Veronica Nagle and Miss Cecelia Conroy.

On Tuesday afternoon a birthday party was given to Evelyn, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McDowell, of Maxville. About fifteen little boys and girls' friends of Evelyn joined her in having a good time. The occasion was a very pleasant one for all, and marked a pretty reminder of her birthday that she may recall with pleasure in the years to come.

At the commencement exercises of St. Mary's school Miss Catherine V. Nagle will deliver the Salutatory, and George A. Kress the Valedictory.

Walter F. Mundy's horse ran away on Monday morning, while taking a load of furniture to the new house on Bordentown avenue. The furniture was scattered over the street, some of which was badly scratched and damaged, and a set of china that Mrs. Mundy prized highly and had treasured for many years was broken and destroyed.

The marriage of Louis Jolly, and Miss Ella Sylvester, of Old Bridge, will take place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. J. Sylvester, at Old Bridge, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Rev. William P. Hill, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Perth Amboy, will perform the ceremony.

The Firemen's Relief Association met on Monday evening and elected J. W. Mahoney, P. F. Kenah and J. J. O'Neil as delegates to attend the convention of the State Firemen's Relief Association to be held at Wildwood in September next.

On Monday evening, Hattie Coward, aged about ten years, started to cross Bordentown avenue, when suddenly three boys on bicycles came along. They had no lights nor gave no warning. One of the wheels propelled by a boy named Muldoon hit her and knocked her down. She was badly injured about the face and head and one deep cut on her lip will probably scar her for life.

On Wednesday afternoon Michael Walsh's grey working horse was returning with the wagon to the stables when it added a little excitement at the corner of Broadway and First street by introducing a kicking performance. The wagon was quickly converted into a wreck and the driver hastily escaped the ruins. The horse escaped with some severe cuts and bad strains.

Friday evening, the passenger engine and two coaches, of the Maritane River Railway started on the down grade from the shops toward the Central Railroad. There was no one in charge of it. John Nau, Jr., was on his way to the shore, and noticed that there was no one on the engine or the cars and as it was making for the other tracks instantly took in the situation, and climbed into the cab and shut off the steam. This action in all probability saved the company serious damage and possibly loss of life.

On Friday night, the 21st, a reception will be given to the graduating class of 1907, by the pupils of the High School. The graduates of 1906 are invited. The reception will be held in Borough Hall.

CONNELL-FARRELL

Miss Julia Connell, daughter of Mrs. James Connell, of Augusta st., and Mr. Edward Farrell, also of this borough, were united in marriage at St. Mary's Church on Wednesday morning by the Rev. Father Lavey, assisted by the Rev. Father Conn, of Brooklyn, cousin of the groom.

The bride was attended by Miss Nellie Sullivan, of Keyport, and Mr. Edwin Fleming acted as best man. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of white silk, with an egret hair, and carried a handsome bouquet of tea roses. The bridesmaid wore a pretty gown of blue silk with blue egret hair in her hair, and carried a bouquet of carnations. After the ceremony the guests retired to the home of the bride where a beautiful wedding breakfast was served. Many invited guests joined the festivities which were on a grand scale and continued through the day and evening.

A happy pair left town at noon for Washington, where a brief honeymoon will be spent. The bride is of South Amboy's most popular young ladies and has a wide circle of friends. Her wedding gifts were handsome and costly. The young couple will make their home in Jersey City.

It Will Pay You To Do Your Buying In South Amboy

Harry's, the city's leading tailor and clothes shop of growing popularity, shown herewith, is now in its sixth year of service to South Amboyans. The proprietor over five years ago came here from Brooklyn and bought the small shop of M. Kaplan. The business has grown continuously and today offers a dry cleaning service for anything as well as clothing for men, boys and coats for the ladies. Nationally famous lines are regularly stocked. Harry was one of the 33 that came back out of 250 in his company that went into the Meuse-Argonne battle back in 1928. He was with the A. E. F., 23 months, (13 overseas), and came out a corporal. He went over with the 77th Division, came back in the 82nd. He is still proud of his chevrons (and wound stripe). After the war Harry ran a ladies coat and suit factory in Brooklyn for 2 years. The venture ended with Harry pawning his tie pin to raise funds to meet the last payroll. Before the war he served with Franklin Simon Co., large N. Y. department store.

There is really not a thing you use or need that you can't get from your Own Home Town Merchants. They will be glad to serve you if given the opportunity.

QUALITY AND SERVICE OUR MOTTO

HOW YOUR TOWN LOOKS IS QUITE IMPORTANT

What is there that some communities have that others lack, which makes the difference between compliments and criticisms—"that something" that invites you or repels and oppresses you—that difference that so distinguishes from the ordinary? It is largely a matter of that which, for want of a better name, has been termed by the advertising profession as "atmosphere."

Lack of "atmosphere" in a town is that which is responsible for motorists going through your town with out seeing it, or remembering it. How often have you heard the remark, referring to business houses, places of amusement and even homes—"It doesn't appeal to me, there's no atmosphere?"

How your town looks is important, for while people weigh values, they constantly compare towns. There are thousands who would go out of their way to patronize your town if the surroundings were such that created "atmosphere."

"Atmosphere" attracts, induces, tempts, allures, fascinates and impresses—it sells your town; while the absence of it in any community creates a pall and silence that shouts to the world, including its own inhabitants, "This place lacks what you are looking for."

In every section of this great land of ours, cities, towns and villages have, to a greater or less degree, thought of, talked about, and in many cases, started a Clean-up Campaign. To what extent it has been carried out depends upon the wide-awakeness of the people.

There is something about the first few days of every spring that gives us mortals an urge to shed ourselves of drab surroundings—to sort of "brighten the corner where we are," so to speak. Full of pep, enthusiasm and with fine ideas of doing big things, we materially add to the joy of the paint store man, the seed merchant and the seller of garden and yard tools, and it is fine for everybody. But our hands are soft, our backs are weak, and our will not too strong, and altogether too soon the glamor and incentive of the first days becomes the fever of the weeks and the job is left half done.

Verily, in a few short weeks many now tidy and much boasted of gardens will be but weed patches, unattended and forlorn. Likewise, many a Clean-up Week, widely heralded, urged and exploited by a loyal press, will pass with the May flowers unless you and your neighbors and all of their neighbors' neighbors recognize the real value and keep at it until it is done—and well.

Do not have a Clean-up Week—make it the year 'round, for your customers, from whence they may come, are becoming more critical—they demand "atmosphere," and there can be none without cleanliness all of the time.

The Town Doctor, whose articles have been running in this space for several weeks, was once asked the question, "Who is the Town Doctor and just what does he do?" His answer was—

"The Town Doctor is a physician, surgeon and diagnostician to Sick Cities, Tired Towns and Vanishing Villages, administering inoculations, vaccinations and injections of preventives against community diseases of thought, deed, attitude and activities; prescribing antidotes, tonics, diets and exercises that will revitalize, invigorate, wake up and put pep into any community suffering from Civic Pride Paralysis, Low Citizen Pressure, "Contemptuous Familiarity," Civic Dizziness, "Chronic Knock-out-itis," and Myopia (short sightedness.)

"Mr. A. D. Stone, The Town Doctor, is a man who has spent his life in studying and analyzing towns, cities and communities. He has traveled over 400,000 miles of United States highways and byways, seeking causes and working out effects of every phase of community ways of doing things, during which time he has compiled what is considered to be the most complete, bona fide, usable territorial analysis system ever devised. He has served towns, communities, various associations, many of which were international in scope, both actively and in advisory capacity, to an extent that there are few, if any, men in the country better able or more qualified to write and speak on the subject covered in Town Doctor Articles.

Mr. Stone is the head of Dyckston, Inc., Chicago, who are specialists in Community Survey Work and Business Analysis.

This Town Doctor Article, one of a series of fifty-two is published each week in cooperation with the South Amboy Lions Club.

Ask the Blacksmith

In the window of a blacksmith's shop in an Abercrombie village a sign is exhibited, reading: "Teeth Carefully Extracted." The dentist visits the village once a week and uses the smithy as a surgery. How pleasant to reflect that if the dentist can not quite cope with one's stubborn molar, the blacksmith is there to lend a hand!

The shortest drama that has ever been written is contained in one little group of three letters—"S. O. B."—American Magazine.

Arctic Temperatures

Instances of temperature above 32 degrees Fahrenheit have been recorded in Arctic regions. In Spitzbergen the average temperature of July is 40 degrees Fahrenheit, at Lady Franklin Bay, 37 degrees. The distribution of the average temperature for July shows a circumpolar area of 35 degrees Fahrenheit, which lies mostly north of latitude 80 degrees between North America and Europe.

A Kitchen Convenience

NOW that the number of cans of food consumed in the United States has jumped another billion annually, it is more necessary than ever to know just how to handle the many kinds of food that come in this form. It's the simplest food in the world to handle, but one of the problems which the housewife runs up against is to know just what size can of any particular food to buy. If your recipe calls for two cups, for instance, of any particular food, you want to know what size of can contains nearest to that amount. The contents of most cans are stated in ounces on the label, and the sizes run by numbers, so that's no help.

Here's the solution. Paste it up somewhere in your kitchen, and you'll find it a great convenience in planning your purchases of canned foods. The following table, based on tomatoes in all cases, gives the sizes of cans you ask for at the store, their net weight and their contents as measured by a standard eight-ounce measuring cup.

Contents of Cans

Can Size	Net Weight	Contents in
No. 1	10 oz.	1 1/4
" 2	1 lb. 3 oz.	2 1/4
" 2 1/2	1 lb. 12 oz.	3 1/4
" 3	1 lb. 1 oz.	3 1/4 to 4
" 5	3 lbs. 8 oz.	7
" 10	6 lbs. 7 oz.	12 1/2

The use of this table will not only simplify your shopping, but enable you to buy more thriftily and have fewer left-overs. One good thing about left-over canned foods, however, is that they can always be combined with other foods in second day dishes, and they do not, therefore, represent waste. There are few other foods on the market, all of which can be used, except canned foods.

Once upon a time a woman had a comb and she had a brush and she had a mirror—and tucked away in the top drawer of her dresser there was a fat little brown bundle of kid curlers with which she tortured her hair into an exaggerated curl, a curl that rarely escaped plain "frizziness."

That was hair grooming a decade ago. But ten years change minds and habits, characters and customs, and to-day Milady has a set of military brushes (if she is wise), a magnifying mirror (if she is careful), and a permanent wave (if she is really up to the times).

On her dresser there is always a bottle of tonic, a dainty atomizer which holds her brilliantine, and in her bathroom cabinet the real secrets of her hair beauty are carefully tucked away.

What are they? First her shampoo, for all beauty depends most upon absolute cleanliness. The modern woman no more thinks of rubbing a cake of soap upon her hair than she does of washing it with benzine. And before we go further into the intricacies of modern hair grooming, I want to tell you something about washing your hair.

About a month ago I was in a small town in the middle west. The shower in my bathroom was not in working order, nor did I have an adequate spray, so I determined to try the local hairdresser for a much-needed shampoo. And the mistakes she made convinced me that the art of shampooing is none too well known in America!

I have given detailed instructions on shampooing in some of our previous talks, and there is not time to go into them again here. But I would like to mention a few little points that came to mind as my hair was being most inadequately washed.

When you wash your hair, learn to depend on the strength of your fingers more than upon the quality of the shampoo. If hands are soiled, you scrub them; soaking, unless it is by the hour, will not remove embedded dirt. If it does not work with the hands, why expect it to do so with the hair? The scalp needs cleansing just as much as does the hair itself, and surface latherings of soap are not sufficient. So after the hair has been wet with water, rub your shampoo well into the hair roots using the TIPS of your fingers, not the cushioned pads.

Do not be afraid of a little energy. The scalp is quite sufficiently resistant as it is. All your rubbing will not do more than awaken it to healthful animation—and that SHOULD be done anyway. It is not necessary to lather four times, as the young lady did to me. Twice is quite sufficient. Why waste the shampoo?

THE MIRACLE OF FOOD
It is often said that the age of miracles is past. Yet at every meal of which we partake, a miracle is being performed which is so mysterious that man has never been able to fully understand or to explain it.

You eat a piece of bread, a vegetable, a salad, you drink a glass of milk, and what happens? In a few hours they become a man. They begin to think and act. They take on all the characteristics of your personality. Soon they are guiding a pencil, tilling a field, passing down decisions from a judicial bench, buying or selling, making laws in Congress. Is not that a miracle?

You may say: "What does it matter what I eat—so long as it satisfies my hunger and does not cause indigestion?"

What does it matter? Your efficiency, your mental alertness, your health, and your future welfare are governed by the quality of the food you eat. Knowing that, can you afford to take into your body food that will give you a poor quality of blood, a second class brain, second class nerve tissue and make you a second class individual?

A stale vegetable, an over ripe piece of fruit, a wilted salad have lost their values as a renewing, refreshing, life-giving force. In trying to save fifty cents or a dollar a day by eating inferior food, you may be spending ten dollars in vitality, which in turn may cost you hundred reds of dollars in loss of business. And all because you did not have the mental grip necessary to concentration and courage and initiative. It may truly be said that as a man eats—so he lies.

The brain gets a great deal of credit that should be given to good health. For the roots of our spirits run clear through our material bodies and into food stuffs and into the soil—wherein lies the source of all power. We are of the earth, earthy. We come from Nature; we return to Nature. All life feeds on life, but that life must be at the highest peak of excellence if good health and mental vigor are to be wrested from it.

The man who accomplishes things in this world is the man who is able to make quick and vital decisions. Such decision is the child of strong vitality. The big thing in life is to keep one's self up to the highest point of efficiency at any cost. Whatever reduces the fire in the brain, lessens the ambition and energy, weakens the will power and produces a disinclination to work should be avoided as one would avoid a plague.

We have made splendid strides in the past ten years in educating people to know what is good for them and what is not. And yet, I am looking forward to the time when the food we eat will be guarded sacredly and scientifically by the government, because locked up in it is the secret of life and the future welfare of human destiny.

Catholic Daughters of America Notes

At the regular meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America held last night, plans were completed for the annual banquet and tenth anniversary of the local Court on June 24th. Miss Helen Monaghan, chairlady of the banquet committee, gave prices and menus from various places in this city. By a majority vote, the American Hotel at Freehold was selected. This is a new and up to date hotel, noted for its home made cooking and cheerful surroundings. The management promises a wonderful dinner, good entertainment, beautiful decorations and above all courteous treatment. A six piece orchestra will furnish music for dancing and the dining and dance hall will be strictly confined to members and their guests.

State and national officers will attend and clergy from different parts of the diocese have been invited. This celebration promises to be the most outstanding social affair ever held by the local Court. The banquet is not confined to members and anyone that wishes to attend may do so by securing reservations from Miss Monaghan who will be at the K. of C. rooms on Wednesday evening, June 19th, from 7:30 to 9:00, or from Mrs. Mary Noble on Thursday evening, June 20th, the reservations closing on this date.

Buses will leave the K. of C. at 6:15 on the night of the banquet. A good time is assured all who attend. Both men and women are welcome.

Ray Keech To Be In Woodbridge Auto Races On June 23rd

Speedway to Re-Open Under New Management for First Event of Kind Since World War.

Automobile racing over a circular board speedway under the auspices of the American Automobile Association's contest board is coming back to the Metropolitan area for the first time since the days of Sheepshead Bay ten years ago. Announcement was made Thursday by the A. A. A. that on Sunday, June 23rd, the rebuilt wooden speedway on the Lincoln Highway at Woodbridge would be reopened under its auspices by new ownership for the Eastern Championship 100-mile race in which most of the star drivers in America have been entered, and will compete under A. A. A. rules.

In the field of nearly a score which will contest, in this first event of its kind since the days of the world war, the Jersey-born record holder, Ray Keech, Indianapolis 500 mile international motor race winner last week, easily attracts principal interest. It will be Keech's first contest in the East since he won lasting fame and glory in Indianapolis on Memorial Day. His entry was received Monday by the A. A. A. contest board, and with it those of Jimmy Gleason of Philadelphia, third at Indianapolis; Chester Gardner, Los Angeles daredevil, fifth in the big race; Fred Winnam, of Philadelphia, who was sixth; and a dozen other stars of recognized A. A. A. races who have made records and risked their lives in this most hazardous of spectacular sports.

A large force of men have virtually rebuilt the picturesque Jersey speedway and when the contestants take the starter at 2:30 o'clock on June 23 the scene will bring to Eastern automobile race enthusiasts a realization that at last their favorite sport in this section has come into its own again.

Due to the track's smaller size and the fine seating and infield arrangements, spectators have had a more nerve-stirring closeup of the races as they came careening around the bowl than at any other track, not excepting Indianapolis itself. Unlicensed races and drivers have raced there in the past have tuned up their speed cars confronted by an element of hazard that made spectators gasp, and in the running of past races there, mediocre though some have been, the life-risking element was always paramount.

A force of Pittsburg engineers has refurbished the track itself and the grandstand and field seating arrangements have been made as modern and comfortable as technical skill and generous expenditures could render possible.

Parking space is now available for 10,000 cars and the Pennsylvania Railroad has completed arrangements to run trains direct to the trackside.

In addition to the placed contestants at Indianapolis other drivers as well known in the East are assured of competing two weeks from Sunday afternoon. These include Bob Robinson, Babe Stapp, Wilbur Shaw, by many considered the most daring driver alive; "Hoodoo Mike" Hickson of Pittsburg, Ralph Mulamud, Brooklyn star, and Sam Karatz, the Michigan Jewish driver, whose future in this sport, adepts predict, holds every promise of championship honors.

Officials of the A. A. A. contest board and a group of New York and New Jersey sportsmen, all prominent in A. A. A. affairs, who have financed the track to give to the East the calibre of automobile racing which captivated vast crowds during the Sheepshead Bay days, assert that its opening under their auspices will serve as a spectacular revival of automobile racing in this area which will long endure.

PROBLEMS YOUR POWER COMPANY CAN SOLVE

LIVING IS UP 70 PERCENT
ELECTRICITY IS DOWN
25 PERCENT

Electricity costs less than 75 percent of what it did in 1913, when most all living costs were at their lowest point for this generation. The United States Bureau of Labor, its latest report, says, the cost of living this summer is 70 percent above 1913. These are figures the electric light companies can point to with pride. Since the war began, automobiles are cheaper, electric light and gas are cheaper, and not much else is. Try to continue the list yourself and see. Things that are scientifically done in a big way are cheaper, that's all.

FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1929

CONGRESSIONAL
ITEMS OF INTEREST

News Gathered From Office of Congressman Hoffman in Washington.

In the Congressional Record of last Friday there appeared, under extension of remarks by Congressman Hoffman, a list of the permanent American cemeteries in Europe, and the official record of the graves of all American boys who are buried in France, Belgium, and England. Representative Hoffman obtained the record of American soldiers buried overseas from Major General B. F. Cheatham, the Quartermaster General, and it is understood that the Congressman's remarks and the list of names will be published in pamphlet form for distribution to service organizations and all those who desire to receive them.

The article also includes the text of the bill providing for the pilgrimage of Gold Star mothers and widows to Europe, enacted in the last Congress. Mr. Hoffman was a member of the Military Affairs Committee that favorably reported the measure. Commenting upon the names of hero dead offered for the record, Mr. Hoffman said: "Without boastfulness and in due appreciation of the fact that other States made sacrifices that were comparable to those of New Jersey, we are proud of the fact that the little 'Garden State'—small in territory, yet mighty in its contribution to the Nation's progress—upheld in 1917 the glorious traditions that had their inception in the dark days when the struggling little colony was known as the 'Highway of the Revolution'."

"The people of the State of New Jersey will march in memory beside the mothers and widows as they kneel beside the graves of the young Jersey men who sleep in Europe. With them we will renew our pledges of allegiance to the ideals that carried them overseas to fight by the side of their faltering allies and to offer up the last full measure of devotion to the country whose altruism and devotion aided in saving the civilization of the world."

Eleven applicants have taken the Civil Service examinations for rural mail carrier from Allentown, N. J. Post Office. No announcements have yet been made.

Among visitors in Washington from the Third District this week were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marks, of Manassas; D. H. Mancione, of Woodbridge; Glenn Berry, of Long Branch.

Edwin J. Messenger, the Bradley Beach youth who is at the United States Military Academy in West Point as an appointee of Congressman Hoffman's, is establishing a splendid record both in his academic work and in athletics. Besides standing in the upper quarter of the Class of 1931 in his studies, Messenger is a football star, having been selected by several experts as an All-American end. With Sprague, Hall, and Murrell, Messenger went to Des Moines, Iowa to the Drake relays in April and competed in the 440 yard relay against football relay teams from Nebraska, Notre Dame, Texas, Drake, Utah and several other teams. They won handsily, although averaging over 195 pounds, and were awarded a trophy, watches, and medals. Messenger also threw the shot, winning his second varsity letter, and is expected to make the varsity basketball team this fall.

One of the first Edison stamps issued from the Menlo Park Post Office on June 5th went to Congressman Harold Hoffman upon a letter addressed to him by the Postmaster General Walter H. Brown. The first three stamps went to the great inventor, President Hoover, and Henry Ford. Menlo Park is in Mr. Hoffman's district, and a few months ago he was instrumental in saving this office, after it had been recommended that it be abolished and rural delivery service given to the little community where Edison, a half century ago, invented the incandescent lamp.

At the request of Colonel George Kump, Commanding Officer at Fort Monmouth, Representative Hoffman will address the three hundred young men from the First and Second Corps Area who will take their oath of allegiance at the first Signal Corps Citizens' Military Training Camp on July 2.

Complicated Process

Rayon is a lustrous, continuous thread, formed by dissolving cellulose, either as cotton linters or wood pulp, in a suitable solvent, passing this fluid through a spinning machine, solidifying the product in a fixing bath, combining and twisting the resulting filaments into a thread, purifying and bleaching this thread, and finally transferring it into the type of package in which it is to be sold or used.

"THE MESS KIT"

BY "WOOD BURNS"

The famous Second Division recently held its annual reunion at Boston.

Major General James G. Harbour, commander of the division during the attack on Bellau Wood was the master of ceremonies during the meeting held in commemoration of the eleventh anniversary of the advance of the division toward Chateau Thierry.

During the reunion, first copies of a monograph by Captain John H. Thomason Jr. were distributed.

A movement is under way to invite Fidal, the interallied veterans organization to hold its next convention in this country in 1930 and another proposition provides for inviting the French World War Veterans to meet in this country in 1932.

"Sleep, Soldier Sleep", the national memorial song of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is rapidly gaining in popularity not only with members of the organization, but with the people in general.

The song, composed by Mrs. Dorothy Alexander, a past president of the Ladies Auxiliary of Post No. 409 of Salt Lake City, Utah, was introduced at the El Paso convention in 1926 and was formally adopted as the official song of the organization at that meeting.

Information has been received from the committee in charge of arrangements for the forthcoming state encampment which will be held at Somerville June 27, 28, 29, that arrangements have been made to broadcast the proceedings of the convention sessions over five radio broadcasting stations.

Letters have been mailed by the War Department to gold star mothers and widows concerning the proposed pilgrimage to France.

Widows who have not remarried and mothers of veterans buried overseas are entitled to this privilege of visiting the battlefields of France at the government's expense.

The first pilgrimage will probably be in 1930 and the last one in 1933. Special privileges will be accorded those who make the trip.

Although it is not generally known, the late William Jennings Bryan, who gained world wide fame as an advocate of "peace at any price", was a veteran of the Spanish American War and a member of the V. F. W. A direct contrast to his condemnation of everything military, was his burial at his request, in the National Cemetery at Arlington, with military honors.

Although complete reports have not yet been received from all sections of the country as yet, those already received by National Headquarters indicate the recent poppy sale was the largest in the history of the V. F. W.

The local Post, holding its first poppy sale this year netted over $300, which will be used for relief work and for the support of the National Home for widows and orphans of deceased veterans.

A public wedding of Kittie Mulhall of Chicago, the "Sweetheart of the V. F. W." to Charles V. Nolan of Clifton, will take place at the forthcoming national encampment at St. Paul.

The pair met back in 1919 when Kittie was presenting entertainment programs at Fort Sheridan, Ill., where Nolan was a patient.

The first child from the V. F. W. home at Grand Rapids to graduate from high school is Lily Opal Pollett who received her diploma from the Eaton Rapids High School last evening.

The career of a great soldier and a famous V. F. W. personage came to an end recently upon the death of Tom Ledwidge, past commander of Post No. 480 and Department Patriotic Instructor of the State of California.

Ledwidge, who was 49 years of age had served in the Spanish American and World Wars besides being a member of the Russian, Mexican and British armies and having seen active service at the front with each army.

During the Spanish American War, he carried a map secreted in a capsule under his arm pit to President McKinley and in the Boer War he was made a knight by the British Government and promoted from the rank of private to that of major in recognition of his heroic work.

The next two weeks will be busy ones for all members of the local Post. A busy session of the Post will be held on Monday evening, when plans will be laid for the post's activities at the state encampment.

On Tuesday evening a large body of local members will attend the county convention to be held at Perth Amboy and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the following week, a number of local members will be present at the sessions of the state encampment at Somerville.

Saws Save Post Office
From Village Fire

Musconogus, Maine.—This village has no fire-fighting equipment, but it has cross-cut saws, logging chains, and large automobile trucks, and these saved the post office from destruction by fire.

When fire broke out in a residence, a section of which houses the post office, the villagers sawed the two portions apart, hooked on their chains, and dragged the burning structure to a safe distance, where they let it burn. The blaze did not spread to the post office nor any adjoining farm.

ANDREW
... FOR ...
SHERIFF

Hon. Harold G. Hoffman, M. C.

Washington, D. C., May 18, 1929.

Hugh W. Kelly:

Shortly before the death of my good friend Fred Anness I wired him that I would be glad to join in support of Andy Keyes for the Republican nomination for Sheriff. That promise still holds good. I believe Mr. Keyes will make a strong candidate in the general election and that his nomination will be deserved recognition by the Republicans of Middlesex County for the splendid party service rendered by Woodbridge Republicans for the many years past.

Harold G. Hoffman.*

Hoffman expresses the sentiment of the majority.

Governor Morgan F. Larson holds the same view.

Men and women all over the county who have the best interests of the Republican party at heart are for Keyes, because—

1. He's the best qualified man for the office.
2. He'll be the strongest candidate in the general election in November.
3. He deserves the nomination as a reward for many years of faithful and efficient party service.
4. As the favorite son of Woodbridge township, his nomination is "deserved recognition for the splendid party service rendered by Woodbridge Republicans."

Think it over and you'll agree.

Vote for Andrew Keyes for sheriff at the primaries next Tuesday.

Paid for by the Keyes Campaign Committee.

Being known and designated on a map made by A. T. McMichael, Civil Engineer and Surveyor, as plot No. 1, more particularly described as follows:

WATERWAYS SAVE SHIPPERS $35,000,000 YEARLY, SAYS ARMY OFFICIAL

The improved inland waterways of the United States, not including the Great Lakes system, affect freight savings to the people of our country of more than $35,000,000 yearly, Major G. R. Young of U. S. Army declares in the 1929 Encyclopedia Americana.

"The annual cost to the United States of its improved inland waterways, excluding the Lakes system, is not over $20,000,000," the American authority estimates. "Annual direct freight savings work out at about $35,000,000, which is almost certainly small enough and may be as much as 50 per cent too small. It is therefore safe to say that our inland waterways... return to the people an annual dividend of at least $15,000,000, perhaps several times as much on the capital investment which the people, through taxation, have paid for their creation and upkeep."

"The above figures... disregard the incalculable factor of stimulation of trade and industry. They disregard the immense total increase in land and other values resulting from waterway improvements. They disregard the fact that many flourishing developments, agricultural, industrial and mining, would not be practicable at all were it not for the existence of water transportation. They disregard also such entirely non-navigational aspects as benefits of the Mississippi River improvements in the flood control of the lower valley, which in land figures can probably be evaluated at billions of dollars."

Complete justification of a national system of inland waterways such as has been proposed by President Hoover is made by Major Young who gives four important benefits of such a system to the general public.

He names (1) reduced transportation costs, by a movement by water inherently cheaper than the same movement by rail or other means; (2) reduced transportation costs on material which, though it continues to move by rail, moves at less cost through the reduction of rail rates to meet water competition; (3) increase in the value of land or other private investments; (4) general development of tributary territory.

"Of the above, the fourth is often of unquestioned importance," he says. "Large sections of our country would never have been developed to the point which they have reached today, without the use of natural or improved water channels. This factor, however, is necessarily not computable in definite terms."

"Benefit (3) may often be very great, but is likely to affect only a limited number of individual owners. Therefore the student of economics, seeking a conception of general waterway benefits expressible in reasonably accurate terms, must usually confine himself to (1) and (2)."

"Referring to (2), it is of course true that when a railroad in order to meet water competition, lowers its rate for certain hauls, all the shippers affected are benefited. Obviously, however, if the railroad does not raise its rates elsewhere, this benefit is at the direct expense of the railroad stockholders."

"If, as often occurred in the past, and as is mentioned above, the railroad does raise its rates elsewhere, the benefit to the favored shippers, at the expense, not of the railroad stockholders, but of the shippers in less favored non-competitive territory. Whether this shifting of money, so to speak, from the pockets of one shipper or of a railroad stockholder, to the pockets of another shipper, is equitable, must depend in any specific case on whether past and present rail rates are too high, or too low, or to what extent, before the change, they were equitably distributed as regards to the various sections which the railroad serves and the various goods which it carries."

"Many years ago," the Americana article continues, "the Government established the Interstate Commerce Commission as an agency for dealing with and regulating, among other things, rail rates. Such a Federal agency being in existence, empowered to regulate rates and operating under specific statutes and broad principles of equity, it is evident, that the Federal Government should not in logic undertake activities which have for their sole end the regulation of those rates by other means."

"Congress has therefore frowned on the policy of improving inland waterways for the purpose of forcing a modification of rail rates. Any waterways for the purpose of forcing identical effect; but the recommendations of the War Department, and the action of Congress on any project tend to benefit (1) above, namely the savings to the general public by commerce, which, as a result of the improvement, will actually move in the waterway at a saving in actual transportation cost."

TIRED MOTHER OF SIX KILLS BROOD AND SELF BY GAS

Discouraged Woman Turns on All Jets in Apartment and Waits.

New York.—Mary Pasos celebrated the first anniversary of the birth of her youngest child, Alfredo, recently. Alfredo was sleeping, as were the other five children, when Mary tipped silently through the three bedrooms and a kitchen they called home, on the third floor of No. 493 West street, turning on the gas.

When every jet in the three rooms was open—and there were five—Mary returned to the kitchen. She flooded the oven in the range with gas, then opened the oven door. She pulled a chair up to the white enameled table and sat down.

Husband Works Nights. Jose, her husband, hadn't come home. He probably wouldn't be home for hours, maybe not at all that day. Sometimes he didn't come for several days. When he finished his night's work on the dock across wide West street, where he earned $27.50 a week, he would go down to No. 350, where he helped his brother run a poolroom.

Mary was thirty-five. Fourteen years ago, when she was twenty-one and so much prettier than now, she had married Jose. A year later Celia came. Celia was thirteen now and such a help to her. In two years there was Beatrice, and in two years more Joseph was born.

It was four years more before there was another addition to the Pasos family, but Fate was dealing to Mary off a cold deck. Celia and George were born on the same day. Then, only a year ago, there was Alfredo.

Mary sat at the white table and stared at nothing. In six months there would be another child. Seven—she would not go on. Neither would she leave her four girls to live the same life she had led. The boys—well, maybe the boys could fend for themselves—but no. How could she separate them? How could she take the girls and leave the boys behind?

Neighbor Smells Gas. About five hours later, at 11 o'clock, Mrs. Mary Murphy, who lives on the floor below, smelled gas. She found Patrolman Joseph McEvoy on the corner. They went down and got Joe at the poolroom. The three broke in. Mary had fallen off the chair—she was on the floor with her feet under the table. In the bedroom next to the kitchen they found Alfredo and Fella in the same bed. The covers were pulled to one side and trailed from the bed. These were pulled back and Fella's twin brother was found doubled on the floor.

In the next room was another bed. Joseph and Beatrice and Celia were there. Beatrice and Celia with their arms entwined. All were dead.

"Poor girl," mourned Mrs. Murphy. "Six kids and another comin'—no wonder she got tired of life."

Miss M. Stockton To Wed Tomorrow

Former Local Girl Tendered Shower Here Tuesday Evening.

A miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss M. Stockton by members of the Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church in the basement of the church Tuesday night. Miss Stockton is the assistant superintendent of the Perth Amboy Hospital and a former local girl. She will be married to Robert Ritter, of Maplewood, tomorrow.

The decorations in the basement of the church were in a color scheme of pink and white and spring flowers. Among those present were: Mrs. A. M. Strusholm, Mrs. Thos. Spangenberg, Mrs. Peter Applegate, Mrs. Floyd McKenna, Mrs. Charles Stockton, Mrs. Nellie Albright, Miss Catherine Albright, Mrs. Frank Point, Mrs. Charles Pierce, Mrs. Lawrence Agan, Mrs. Miller Huff, Mrs. Lee Lawrence, Mrs. Alice Coulous, Mrs. Lawrence Corson, Mrs. George Everitt, Mrs. John Oliver, Mrs. Frank Fulton, Mrs. Russell Mathis, Mrs. E. Aurice Mell, Mrs. Sarah Sheppard, Mrs. Ruth Ryan, Mrs. John Applegate, Mrs. E. H. Jaques, Mrs. G. E. Sehlbrede, Mrs. Rogan, Mrs. A. J. Fenzel, Mrs. William Hammell, Mrs. Edna Ingraham, Mrs. Howard Bergen.

Rutgers Prep Has Two Local Youths Among Graduates

Chester B. Cox And Melvin H. Safran Awarded Sheepskins Yesterday

The Rutgers Preparatory School of New Brunswick celebrated its 103rd graduation yesterday by exercises in the University Chapel, at which a class of 26 recipients of diplomas from Headmaster William P. Kelly. The principal speaker was Col. John T. Axton, former chief of chaplains in the U. S. Army, now chaplain of Rutgers University. The highest scholarship honor was gained by Bartholomew Maxwell Howley, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. B. M. Howley of New Brunswick, who has consistently led his class ever since entering the primary grades.

The John V. Dorr Prize for the best all-around boy in the graduating class was awarded to Walter Ervin Wiggins of Interlaken, N. Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard S. Wiggins.

The Liberty Loan Prize for similar excellence among underclassmen went to Albert Leslie Wycoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wycoff of New Brunswick.

The Joyce Kilmer Prize in English was awarded to Charles Otis Brown son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland D. Brown of Rutherford. Among those from this city in the class were Chester Burnett Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Cox and Melvin Herman Safran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Safran. Melvin was manager of the golf team this year.

CLIFFWOOD BEACH SWIMMING POOL WILL BE WELCOME

deep end near the center, the pool emptying back into the bay again. The pool is fifty foot wide and 150 feet long and will offer relief for several hundred people at any one time.

By reason of the mechanical construction there will be a constant agitation of the water in the pool, the flow will be from the bottom to the top and also from the shallow end toward the outlet. As a further safeguard the management is installing a chemical laboratory where samples of the water in the pool will be taken hourly and run through a bacterial test to determine its purity. The ultimate result looks as though the ocean would be a dangerous place to bathe compared to the new pool as viewed from the infection possibilities standpoint.

The pool has been in process of construction since last September. It is now all but finished. Nearly a year was spent in investigating the swimming pools of the country before the present one materialized on paper. It will be lighted from above and also below the water so that bathing during the night hours will be even more enjoyable than during the day time. Mr. Wayne A. Becker, consulting engineer of the King Becker Engineering Co., of Cincinnati, Ohio, is in charge of the construction. He is also in charge of the pool projects of Westchester County (N. Y.), that county now spending $50,000,000 in the improvement of its recreational facilities.

A view stand for the public extends along the entire length of the pool on one side. The ends and the side toward the boardwalk are open to the view of the casual passerby. There will be a wire fence enclosure to separate the bathers from the non-bathers and a comparatively small charge will be made for indulging in the pleasure of the pool. The pool adjoins the Boardwalk near the bath houses that won such favor last year. Just back of the location is the fresh water lake and the pool is so located that the afternoon sun will not be directly in the eyes of the patrons.

To the school children of this city, Keyport and Matawan there have been issued cards entitling them to the use of the pool and four lessons in swimming instruction. The classes are to be organized shortly after the pool is opened. There is to be no charge for this initial service and the only requirement is that of being an accredited student of the school systems of either of the three places named; and, of course, presentation of one's self at the pool. If further instruction in swimming is desired arrangements may be made with the instructor to that end.

It was intended to hold the Canadian-American swimming meet at the Cliffwood Beach pool on June 23rd, but construction had not advanced sufficiently. It is planned, however, to bring nationally and internationally known stars to the pool for various exhibitions during the summer. Local folks will thereby have an opportunity to see the swimming stars of the nation before long. Nichols.

Director Dey Gets Parlin Road Work Under Way Again

Also Gets Lights For Narrow Busy Road in Madison Township.

Adding another to his long list of public improvements to this section, Director Wm. S. Dey of the Board of Freeholders, has under way the placing of electric lights on the Laurence Harbor road, extending from the state highway to the cross roads at Cheesequake. The improvement is badly needed due to the narrowness of the road and the increased automobile traffic during the past few years.

Mr. Dey on Tuesday was in consultation with a representative of the Jersey Central Power and Light Company, and work of placing the lights will start shortly. It is said that residents living in the vicinity of the road and others who use the road are especially enthusiastic over this improvement and no doubt Mr. Dey will be tendered a one hundred percent testimonial vote by the voters there next Tuesday.

Road Job Again Started
Due to the agitation of Director Dey at a meeting of the Board of Freeholders last week, Contractor Andrew Keyes of Woodbridge resumed work on the Parlin Road on Monday. Director Dey was the sponsor of a resolution to the effect that unless work was resumed immediately, the county would undertake to complete the job with the aid of other contractors.

Abbatiello-Palumbo

Many friends and relatives gathered at St. James Church, Jamesburg, on Sunday afternoon to witness the marriage of Miss Theresa Palumbo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vito Palumbo, of that place, to Anthony A. Abbatiello, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Abbatiello of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Mulligan at four o'clock. The bride had for her bride's maid her sister, Mrs. James Marelli, of New York City, while Salvador Abbatiello, a brother of the groom acted as best man. The bride was attired in a gown of white lace, with a train and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue and green, also carrying a bouquet of roses. After the ceremony the bride and groom were marching down the aisle, Miss Fanny Abbatiello, a sister of the groom sang "Ave Maria".

At seven o'clock a reception was held at Harry's Three Springs Grove, at Jamesburg, where refreshments and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour, when the grand march headed by the bride and groom concluded the affair. The happy couple were showered with gifts both useful and ornamental. After a short wedding tour they will make their home at 241 Henry street, this city.

Local Republican Ladies At W'bridge.

A number of local Republican women attended the session of the Middlesex County Women's Republican League held in Woodbridge on Tuesday. Among those who attended were Mrs. Thos. ## Honor John Grimes As Best Athlete At Class Night Affair

St. Mary's Hall Packed With Senior Class Friends and Relatives Wednesday Evening.

On Wednesday evening in St. Mary's Hall, the Senior Class presented their annual Class Night. As usual the affair was a most enjoyable one and the hall was packed to its capacity with parents and friends of the graduates. Members of the class presented a very enjoyable skit based upon a visit to the photographer's studio to have their class picture taken.

During the whole performance, a series of amusing incidents occurred. Francis Stanton, who took the leading part as a rector photographer, supplied the audience with plenty of action, while John Grimes and Margaret Coan showed exceptional talent in a vocal number entitled, "Where Were You".

Near the close of the festivities, as a fitting finale to four years stellar performance in athletics, John Grimes was awarded a gold medal for being the outstanding athlete of his class, the medal being donated by Mr. I. Levin, of Perth Amboy. The local youth nois the singular distinction of having earned thirteen major letters during his high school career. Dr. Griffin, in awarding the medal, reviewed John's athletic accomplishments but stressed, above all, his record as a gentleman. "It is only because I know that John will not lose his head," said Dr. Griffin, "that I say these things; but it is a well known fact that John is not only a good athlete, he is also a clean sport and a gentleman." After Dr. Griffin's address the graduating class rendered a vocal selection.

The following program was rendered:

Female Boozer Raps
Cigarette Smoking
As Very Unladylike

County Seat Colored Girl Prefers Chewing Tobacco—Goes To Jail For Month.

For many years most men have had the impression that "Veteran" a well known fine cut chewing and smoking tobacco, required a seasoned tobacco user to indulge in its use without unpleasant results. But in the police court here Saturday night local police officers discovered a colored girl that actually enjoyed a man-sized chew of it. Martha Brown, a very black skinned "lady", hailing from New Brunswick, was the female tobacco juice expert in question.

She had been gathered in by the police on a drunk and disorderly charge. With her at the time of the arrest was Harry Muldoon, a well known local character. The couple were enjoying the sights on Broadway about one o'clock in the morning and got too boisterous in their expressions of admiration and disapproval.

Asked in the police court what she was doing with a fresh paper of the tobacco mentioned, the woman said she liked to chew it. She went on to explain that she was a tobacco addict but that she no longer considered "lady-like" to smoke cigarettes so she had changed to chewing tobacco. She also held a poor opinion of South Amboy, in fact told the jailer at the Henry Hess, Mrs. Frank Stratton, city hall she wasn't going to come here again.

Given a hearing before Police Justice Linwood Van Cleaf Sunday she paid fine of $25.00 each. Neither had the necessary change so both went to the County Jail for a thirty day stay on Monday. Roundsmen McCormack drew the assignment of working them safely housed in the county institution.

TWILIGHT GAMES AT ST. MARY'S SOON

A group of interested sport lovers have taken it upon themselves to organize a number of former St. Mary's graduates for the purpose of staking twilight baseball games on St. Mary's school grounds. The idea is being looked upon with complete favor.

The money collected from the enterprise will be turned over to the athletic association of the school for the furtherance of sports in the school next season. The new organization will be known as St. Mary's Lyceum.

Edward Farrell Sr. has accepted a position as salesman with Charles F. Straub, Chrysler dealer.

JERSEY CENTRAL TO SUPPLY
POWER FOR LACKAWANNAWhippany Plant Will Furnish 8 Million Kilowatt Hours For 25 Miles of Road.

Engineers of the Jersey Central Power and Light Company, who have just concluded their calculations of the power requirements for the electrification of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad in northern New Jersey, estimate that the company's initial supply for this operation will be approximately 8,000,000 kilowatt hours, or the approximate equivalent of the electrical use of a town of 1,500 houses all served by electricity. The power requirements will be approximately 6,000 kilowatts of demand, and current consumption will increase as the plans of electrification of the road are extended.

Jersey Central will supply power for about 25 miles of the electrified line. The contract is for 20 years and is for all power requirements of the Lackawanna between Maplewood and Denville on one branch, and on the Passaic and Delaware branch from Summit to a point just south of Lyons which, in turn, is south of Bernardsville. Power will be supplied by the Jersey Central over its tower line from its station in Whippany to a sub-station at West Summit. There the Lackawanna will convert the alternating current of 33,000 volts to a direct current of 3,000 volts. The Whippany station of the Jersey Central Power and Light Company serves the northern division of the company, with headquarters at Morristown. It was constructed and put in service about two years ago.

The electrification of the Hoboken-Dover branch of the D. L. & W., which is the line covered in the present contract, is to be followed in the near future by the electrification of the line paralleling this trunk and running from Hoboken by way of Paterson to Denville. Jersey Central's share of this business will be from a point just north of Mountain View to Denville.

The principal stations on the line which is to be first electrified and which is to be served by the Jersey Central are Millburn, Short Hills, Summit, Chatham, Madison, Convent, Morristown, Berkeley Heights, Gillette, Stirling and Millington. The signing of the contract to electrify the D. L. & W. followed many months of negotiation, and the decision to use central station power was made by the D. L. & W. engineers after a survey convinced them that it would be more economical to contract for their requirements rather than to construct and operate their own power plant.

Mechanicsville

A very serious accident was narrowly averted Tuesday morning shortly before noon through the alertness of Charles Spezzi, local business man. A motorcycle with a side car attached running west on Raritan street crossed directly in the path of the Spezzi car, without any warning at all. Mr. Spezzi, witnesses say, probably saved the lives of the two occupants of the motorcycle, by his swiftness in swerving his own machine.

Only a spare fraction of an inch saved the motorcycle occupants. Witnesses to the affair were of the opinion that a smashup was inevitable. The corner of Ridgeway avenue and Raritan street is a dangerous one and even though the police have erected a stop street sign, many motorists completely ignore it.

The annual bus excursion to Coney Island under the auspices of the Mechanicsville Hose Company last Sunday was a complete success. About eighty persons made the trip. Those who made the journey were of the opinion that most of the fun was aboard the buses, where the happy party made merry every minute of the trip to and from the popular resort.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hart and daughter of Conover street have returned from a visit with relatives at Union Beach.

The Girls Scouts of this section returned on Tuesday from their week's encampment at Camp Neshanic which is located just outside of New Brunswick.

The Phillips family of Conover St. have purchased a new five passenger Chrysler car.

Mrs. Agnes Krueger and family of Conover street who have been vacationing at Brooklyn, have returned to their home.

Mrs. Charles Witz of Raritan St. is nursing an injured arm received at Jney Island, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scharolatta and children of Raritan street visited Sister M. Cecelia at Lodi, N. J. on Sunday. Sister Cecelia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scharolatta.

Mr. and Mrs. James Reilly of Conover street have installed a new up to date radio in their home.

Miss Irene Konazewski of Ridgeway avenue has returned home after spending several days at Dukes Farm.

Miss Anna Buck of Colts Neck is the guest of Miss Rose Dewan this week.

Friends from Hoboken spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bender of Conover street.

GUIDEPOSTS TO Health and Happiness
By Bernarr MacfaddenBATHS—INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL

Like many old sayings, "cleanliness is indeed next to Godliness," is well founded in truth, although in the sixteenth century when John Wesley, founder of the Methodist Church, spoke those words in one of his sermons, a bath was considered extremely foppish and a bath tub a needless luxury. In many countries that idea still exists, especially in those localities where water, even for drinking, is at a premium.

It is hard for us, who simply have to turn on a faucet and clear, pure water gushes forth, to imagine a situation of that kind. And yet we—with billions of gallons of bathing and drinking water constantly at our disposal—do not take advantage of such good fortune. Many people of course bathe because they have a natural abhorrence of dirt and because a bath is refreshing. Too few however realize what a salient factor water is in maintaining and promoting general good health.

The truth is that bathing is an absolute necessity. It is a powerful enemy of disease and a prolonger of life. And its modus operandi is simple and convincing.

The daily bath keeps the pores free from clogging and permits them to throw off impurities the system has accumulated in going about the business of life. The pores must also breathe, and in order to do this they must be kept clear, active and elastic.

Aside from the disease prevention insured by bathing, the use of both hot and cold water has many curative effects that intelligent people overlook. A hot bath relaxes the tissues and blood vessels and relieves congestion. A cold bath speeds up circulation and tones up the tissues and muscles in general, while the sitz bath, hot or cold provides an excellent means of relieving many internal weaknesses and disorders to which both sexes are subject.

Then there is the internal bath which is equally, if not still more important.

There are people who make a practice of taking a physic every so often—not the natural physic such as fruit juices, quantities of water, etc., but powerful purgatives that irritate the membranes and do not begin to cleanse. They call this "a good cleaning out." Such a procedure is nearly always followed by a period of constipation.

As against this bad habit we have the more simple, cleanly and hygienic process of flushing out the bowels with warm water. (Do not confuse this with the enema taken to relieve constipation. That kind of enema should be taken only in case of an emergency. If you are a sufferer of chronic constipation you need an immediate and radical change of diet.)

But the enema bath is only part of the internal bath. There is the entire digestive tract that needs washing and this is best accomplished through drinking quantities of water after a short period of fasting. Much

The public is cordially invited to attend the morning service and hear this man speak.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH PHYSICAL CULTURE?

"There is something all wrong with the idea of physical culture," a man of fifty said to me one day. "Why should it make the young man healthy and strong and the older man uncomfortable and sick? If it's so fine, why isn't it universally beneficial? Take me, for example. Every time I eat something that is supposed to be good for me it upsets my digestion. Tennis and swimming are out of the question—my heart won't stand it. A long walk exhausts me. Physical culture is a young man's game all right."

Many middle aged people will agree with this man. They have experienced the same trouble. They feel "better" when going along in the same old rut and taking no unaccustomed exercise. Therefore "something is all wrong with physical culture."

Something is all wrong—but not with physical culture. Ignorance and indifference are the real culprits. In the last fifteen years physical culture has taken tremendous strides, but the biggest stride of all is yet to be taken. That is the educating of people to the real meaning and purpose of physical culture.

In its truest sense it means to begin from the moment of birth to live as we were intended by nature to live. Eating bone and tissue building foods. Regular elimination. Sufficient rest and sleep. Wholesome play. A happy, healthful frame of mind. And a worshipful reverence of the human form—the earthly temple of the soul during the span of life.

Too many people think that physical culture means strenuous and unpleasant exercises, and denying oneself things that the appetite craves. They point with pride to the high standard of athletics in our schools and colleges and call that physical culture. To prudes it is synonymous with immodesty and sex. But those fallacies are gradually being destroyed.

Athletics is not the definition of physical culture; it is merely a part of the whole. In schools and colleges too much attention is paid to training chiefly the bodies of those who are already in good physical condition by making available to them special apparatus that is not available in everyday life. The weaklings are shoved into the background and forgotten.

Physical culture is NOT a young man's game. It is not a game at all. It is the free and glorious privilege of every individual of any age. The cureall for sickness of mind and body. The preventive of disease and unhappiness, when begun early.

It is the only necessary guidepost to health and happiness on our journey through life.

GAS

THE UNEQUALLED
FUEL FOR HEATING
WATER

EQUIP your home with the hot water comforts you enjoy at your club—at your favorite hotel. Heat water with gas. Be free from the work and worry entailed in old fashioned methods of heating water.

With a gas automatic storage water heating system in your home you have hot water at the turn of the faucet. And you are sure of having enough. No thought is required. No work or waiting involved.

Gas is the most easily controlled of fuels and responds instantly to automatic control. A thermostat regulates the fuel supply, keeping the water at the right temperature, reducing operating costs to a minimum.

For as little as $70 cash we will install a gas automatic water heating system. Some of our payment terms are as low as $5 down and $5 a month.

Special allowance made on old water heaters traded in.

STOWAWAY DANDY IS DECK SWABBER

Drops Mop, Dons Top Hat to Land Like Prince.

New York.—Hatches had been battered down. Derricks had been fastened. All passengers were on board. A goodly cargo was in the holds, and in the strong boxes was $4,500,000 in gold.

Weather was fine, and the good ship American Legion was on her homeward run after making a series of calls at South American ports.

The craft was one day out of Montevideo, and Capt. S. O. Hilton, commander of the Munson liner, was at ease in his cabin, when there came a knocking at the door. From the captain, came a cheery: "Come in."

The door opened, in stepped the answer to "what a well-dressed man should wear in the morning." Top hat, frock, cutaway coat, striped trousers, spats, patent-leather shoes. In one hand dangled a cane.

Captain Hilton arose, and bowed. What prince—what nobleman had he aboard his ship as passenger this trip? Then:

"You are the captain? Well, sir, I am a stowaway. I am a bit in financial difficulty and desirous of getting back to New York. I have no money, but I am willing to work at anything for my passage."

The visitor produced an American passport, showing that the bearer was Jules van Item, 29, of New York. Consular visas on the document indicated that he had traveled to practically every country in Europe. He went on:

"Since my graduation from Harvard, I have undertaken the study of as many foreign languages as it is possible to learn. Hence my extensive traveling. When I reached Buenos Aires, I ran out of funds."

Captain Hilton ordered him to swabbing decks. First the perfect morning attire was exchanged for a seaman's dungarees.

Captain Hilton said no stowaway ever worked as hard for his passage as did the language-studying youth.

When the ship docked Van Item was granted permission to land. Off to parts unknown he went, once more wearing his spike-and-span morning outfit.

The deceased was fifty-two years of age and was born in South Amboy. Besides a widow, Amelia, he is survived by one son, William, of Parlin.

Witchcraft Superstition

The Chinese or American Indians never conducted an organized campaign against witchcraft in any way comparable to that carried on in Europe in the middle centuries or in America in the early history of the country, but there is ample proof that the Jews from earliest times placed witchcraft under the ban of the law, and among the earliest laws given by Moses is the one "Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live."

Plan Another Match For New Cliffwood Pool This Sunday

Boys' Club of N. Y. To Put On Interesting Program At 3 O'clock

Next Sunday at 3 P. M. at the Cliffwood Beach Pool, many spectacular swimming events will be presented by the widely famed Boys' Club of New York City.

The Boys' Club is not a new enterprise but has been established for the last fifty years, in which time it has gained recognition throughout the Eastern states for the wonderful swimming champions that have been developed. For this reason, the Club is greatly in demand at the various pools in the East.

The Boys Club of New York was founded in 1876, and is the largest boys club in the world. Some idea of the calibre of the club can be realized by its management. Among the trustees are George F. Baker, Mortimer N. Buckner, Charles Hayden, E. Roland Harriman, W. Averell Harriman, Bernson S. Prentice, Percy R. Pyne, George E. Vincent, Philip Le Boutillier, Charles H. Sabin.

Included in the membership of the Boys' Club are such stars as George Kojacs, world's back stroke champion, Morris Gross, New York Metropolitan back stroke champ and free style runner-up; Frank Sullivan, trick and fancy diver, whose ability is second only to Jardeans, the Olympic champion; Fred Wall, intercollegiate free style champion for the 75 yard and 140 yard distances. The is also a water polo team consisting of ten star players, who have defeated all the leading water polo teams in swimming circles.

The water polo match part of the program will prove to be an interesting spectacle due to the fact that few from this locality have ever witnessed such a sport and those who already know the interest that is aroused from a match will be given an opportunity to see the best water polo teams in the East perform.

The program given by the Boys Club will see a champion in every event, coupled with novelty swimming races, such as the balloon race. This should not be missed as it will thrill one as well as keep one in a steady state of laughter all during the performance.

Sullivan, the trick diver, has more daring and comical dives than any man in the swimming game. His dives are a combination of many and are an interesting spectacle to see.

In addition many races will be given by the small tots from the swimming classes at the Cliffwood pool. In all there will be four races. One for tots between six and eight years old, another between eight and twelve years, another between twelve and sixteen years, and a fancy diving exhibition of girls who have completed their first course of ten lessons.

Those who are inclined to go may recall the wonderful exhibition given at the pool on the 30th of June, when the appearance of Kojacs and Nabolts were viewed with awe and wonderment. This attraction on the 14th of July will prove even more interesting, as it has many champions including the great Kojacs. It will give people another chance to see the champion swim in various styles. The exhibition is more interesting than the previous one and will please all to the utmost. There will be music and dancing before and following the exhibition.

Knife Operation Saves Friend's Life

Butte, Mont.—Prof. Ernst Pollock, noted pharyngologist, saved the life of his friend, Prof. Rudolf Ballat, at the Ballat home recently by using his penknife for a hurried operation. Ballat suddenly fainted and was suffocating when Pollock pulled out his knife and slit his friend's throat, saving him from strangulation.

HE SELLS JAIL TO FELLOW PRISONER

Salesman Closes Deal, but Sheriff Balks.

Grand Island, Neb.—Once upon a time the Brooklyn bridge was frequently sold to yokels, but the hustling salesman of a prisoner in the county jail here, who sold the jail itself to a fellow prisoner, overshadows the feats of the smooth-talking gentlemen of the past.

The salesman in this case was Charles W. (Tubby) McMillan, who became a county guest by calling a bootlegger from the local Y. M. C. A. The "purchaser" was Elroy Guy, a young farmer, who was charged with writing checks without funds.

When Guy arrived at the jail McMillan casually told him that the jail was leased from the county by Jailer King. The Jailer, McMillan said, had furnished equipment, such as bedding and tableware; but that the county paid him so much per prisoner—enough to make a nice profit.

Furthermore, said McMillan, Jailer King was anxious to go to California and wanted to sell the business cheap. Guy was deeply interested. With McMillan guiding him, he spent two days inspecting the equipment and checking over the figures.

"It's a good buy," he announced finally. "I'll be turning."

Guy told McMillan that he had $3,000 loaned on a second mortgage and that he could get some of the money to make a down payment. McMillan said the jailer would take $250 down and $1,000 more in monthly payments. Guy said he could get the $250, and would meet the monthly payments out of his profits.

McMillan assured Guy that the papers would be ready for his signature in a few days. Jailer King and Sheriff Palmer learned of the deal while it was in progress, but decided not to spoil the plot. Now they are wondering how to break the bad news to the prospective jail magnate.

Boys' Frank Almost

Costs Lives of Three

Berryville, Va.—A trick which two young mountain boys near here thought to play on a third who had gone "a-courting" for his first time, nearly cost the lives of three Alexandria men who were driving from their home to Winchester.

Willie Corder, twelve years old, and Andrew Jackson, Elsie, thirteen, were said to have made a dummy in the form of a person and placed it in the middle of the road the other night at the top of the Blue Ridge in Clarke county.

As Thomas McWhorter, Melvin Rambo and W. R. Wilson, all of Alexandria, rounded a curve they took the dummy to be a child and the driver swerved the car to avoid striking it. The car went over an embankment and turned over. The three men were injured. Wilson seriously.

Suits were filed by the Alexandria trio against the parents of Corder and Elsie. Owing to a lack of information, Magistrate G. H. Levi of Berryville, continued the cases for two weeks recently. H. Noel Garner, of Alexandria, represents the plaintiffs.

Inch-Long Gun Wounds

Youth, Jails Brother

New York.—A miniature pistol, about an inch long that ordinarily serves as a watch chain and which discharged a bullet about the size of a pin point in a friendly tussle between two brothers, recently landed Carl Malinberg in court on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Carl's brother, Lloyd, seventeen, made the complaint on which the youth was arrested.

Lloyd, his shoulder wrapped in bandages, appeared in the police station and deposed that his brother's pygmy weapon discharged accidentally as they were scuffling and lodged its diminutive shell in his shoulder. He thought nothing of it until the wound became infected.

Detective Bartholman asked Lloyd if he wanted to make a formal complaint of assault against his brother. The boy said he didn't, but the detective went around to the Malinberg home and took Carl in custody.

Nebraska Thieves Make

Way With 29,520 Eggs

Falls City, Neb.—Lee Peterson, deputy sheriff of Nemaha county is looking for 29,520 eggs and not one of them has been located. According to the deputy, the Auburn Fruit and Produce company loaded a car with eggs for shipment East. Some time during the night before the car was to start thieves entered the car while it was in the railroad yards and made away with the eggs. The thief amounted to 82 cases.

Naval Academy Custom

Above the altar of the United States Naval Academy chapel is one of the most exquisite windows in America. It is of singular beauty in lines and coloring and portrays the Savior walking on the water. His figure being one of remarkable tenderness and majesty. One of the traditions of service in the chapel is that each official service shall end with the hymn "Eternal Father, Strong to Save."

Twenty-Nine Girl Scouts Enjoy Annual Camping Trip—Are Now Home

Correspondent Gives Account of Daily Routine and Happenings of Trip.

The Girl Scouts of this city have returned from their fifth annual and also successful camping trip with a total of twenty-nine in the troop. They went to Camp Meiken on the Nescanic River, owned and operated by the District Girl Scouts of New Brunswick. The Daily Routine was as follows:

Up in the morning at 6:45 and ready for the morning dip at 7:00. Oh boy! how we rushed down the hill for the dip, especially in those real snappy mornings. Ask Peggy Hardy or perhaps Louise, Applegate, raising the flag took place at 7:30 A. M. and then we marched in the camp house for breakfast. Was there a rush and did Mrs. Peterson, the dietitian know her meals. Just put this question to Monta Cou or Jeanette Longstreet in regard to her baked beans. They did their share and how.

After breakfast each one in line to wash dishes and of course we did this in a hurry we just loved dishes. Perhaps Eileen Bolger can tell you she was always first in line, that is if the line would have reversed and gone the other direction. Then the big event, inspection. Of course Mary Dawson was the first one to have her bed in order. We will have to give Ruth Kamps credit for her tent sure did shine in this event.

I almost forgot to tell you that the tents were on a very high hill, most of the visitors know this but I think the best one to consult on this feature of the camp would be Peggy Gordon. You should know, Peggy went camp to reduce weight and she found out she could only dine the half twice a day and nearly went to tears. Peggy declared she lost ten pounds anyway.

After inspection came the swim. Everyone on the job for that especially Eunice Bowen. Can she swim? I'll say so. We have some real expert swimmers in our troop now such as Ruth Kamps, Ruth Kamps, Louise, Applegate, Blanche Neitopp, Edna Jensen and I almost forgot Dolores Newman and Adelaide Bowen.

After the swim what next? Eat—and could we eat after the swim. Dinner was followed by just an hour of rest and of course June Richmond liked this best of any other time. She rested all but her tongue. After rest hour we had time to correspond without Amboy people.

During the day the scouts had nature hikes, art classes and swimming instructions.

Also during the week we had a seven mile breakfast hike that is we had to walk 7 miles before we could eat and boy, what we did not do to that meal.

There was also an overnight hike Wednesday night and all the luggage was packed in the canoes and paddled up the river to await the nicks. They made their supper and the next morning made breakfast and then hiked back to the camp.

Fruity night was the straw ride. We started out in one of the negotiating farm wagons about 8 P. M. and taking a basket lunch with us returned about 10 P. M. This sure was a treat for every one. We had supper at 8:30, lowered the flag at 9 and ascended the hill and gathered around the camp fire for games, songs, etc. Taps at 9 A. M. and everyone under the covers carefully tucked away to await a new day.

Monday night the last night in camp we had a few more hours added on to our evening's entertainment.

Each tent (8 girls) had to give a stunt and sing an original song. This sure was amusing. After the stunts the officials of the camp presented honors to the girls who showed the best all around camp spirit and what do you know South Amboy sure did shine here for we walked away with five or six honors, those being awarded to Louise Applegate, Ruth Kamps, Jeanette Longstreet, Blanche Neitopp and Eileen Bolger and perhaps a few more.

After the events were over a good night song was sung and each returned to their cots for the last time this year at Camp Meiken. Early Tuesday morning each and their load on their way down the hill so they would not be missing when the truck arrived to carry them back to South Amboy office more. The truck arrived about 10 A. M. and each Scout and their new friends farewell for perhaps just another year.

I almost forgot that we have six girls who fell in love so deeply with the camp that we left them there for another week, these being Mary Dawson, Eleanor Dawson, Jean Snow, Blanche Jerwani, Dolores Newman and Adelaide Bowen.

Those who enjoyed this wonderful week of camp life were: Mildred Sanders, Jeanette Longstreet, Eileen Bolger, Edna Jensen, Ruth Kamps, Louise Applegate, Monta Cou, Blanche Neitopp, Dolores Newman, Adelaide Bowen, Eunice Bowen, Audrey Maithis, Peggy Hardy, Josephine Sunday, June Richmond, Peggy Gordon, Jean Snow, Blanche Jerwani, Mary Dawson, May Trowbridge, Margaret Snyder, Kathryn Conley, Dorothy Stegway, Emma Stegway, Eleanor Dawson, Marion Bowman, Ruth Reinuss, Mary Nicarro.

Mrs. Sarah O'Toole

Funeral services from Mrs. Sarah O'Toole, 65 years of age, widow of the late Thomas O'Toole, were held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gustav Hoppe, 1257 Boulevard, Bayonne, Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock, thence to St. Joseph's Church in Bayonne, where at nine o'clock a solemn high mass was celebrated. Interment was made in the family plot in St. Joseph's cemetery, Keyport.

The deceased was well known in this city, having for several years lived on lower John street where she conducted a boarding house. She later moved to Bayonne, where she has lived with her daughter and a son, James.

Two-Year-Old Baby Is Witness in Court

Butte, Mont.—The youngest witness ever used in a local police court was a two-year-old boy, Robert Clifford, who exhibited a long cut on his face as evidence that a defendant in a disturbance case broke the glass in the front door of Mrs. Clifford's home. The youngster incurred the cut from flying glass.

SHIP'S CREW KEPT ALIVE BY PRAYERS

Adrift Eight Days in Wave-Buffed Lifeboat.

New York.—Prayer and Bible readings sustained ten shipwrecked sailors through eight days of torture in a wave-buffed lifeboat, it was revealed when the yacht Amida reached port with survivors of the four-masted schooner, James E. Coburn.

Eleven men abandoned the Coburn when it foundered on a voyage from Baltimore to Martinique. They were without food or water after the first four days. Three of them were white men, the rest negroes. While amazing seas broke against the sides of their twenty-foot yawl each man prayed to his own conception of a deity.

One of the white men, W. E. Miliken, engineer, became temporarily insane and his hysterical mutterings added to the babel of prayers. One of the negroes, W. Sargent, sixty-year-old cook, died. His body was not thrown overboard because the other ten men in the boat were too weary for the exertion involved.

Capt. Jose J. Perelra, of the Coburn, was the only survivor who could give a coherent account of the terror-laden days before amoke from the yacht Amida curled over the horizon and the men in the lifeboats knew rescue was at hand.

Captain McLaughlin, of the Amida, said he was fifteen miles off course when he sighted the yawl. The survivors were not told that the rescue was made possible only by accident.

Canned meat and hardtack were put into the yawl when the schooner was abandoned. Salt water soured the crackers, however, and despite scanty rations the men soon were gone. Four days before they were saved there was no food or water aboard.

Majority Roadside Stands Unsanitary Says State Board

Necessity of inspection by local health boards shown by recent survey.

Trenton, July 11th: Necessity of inspection of roadside stands by local health officials was emphasized today by D. C. Bowen, director of the State Department of Health. After surveys by two state district health officers in two sections of the state, the director said they showed insanitary conditions of some kind usually exist at a great majority of such stands. Improper disposal of human waste and lack of adequate protection of the source of water supply, are the two potentially dangerous conditions most frequently found at such places.

The director said it is evident local authorities do not function on the inspection of such food vending establishments. Improvements in the facilities of the stands have resulted from competition and not from enforcement of health regulations. Adequate State inspection is impractical, because of lack of sufficient personnel and the wide distribution of the stands throughout the state.

Some fundamental change is needed in the organization of public health work in the smaller municipalities and townships, if the residents and visitors to them are to be the same degree of protection as disease, which persons enjoy in larger municipalities of the state.

Director Bowen said: "The State of New Jersey is peculiarly situated in that it lies between two of the larger cities of the country and has extensive shore line which attracts multitudes of people during the summer months. This location together with a vast network of improved roads creates an immense amount of automobile traffic across and within the State. This traffic in turn has created a demand for certain necessities of the traveling public, particularly food, drink, toilet facilities and automobile supplies and service. Overnight accommodations, outside the large communities or sea resorts, are not required to the same extent as in larger states, for tourists can cross New Jersey in a few hours. Hence, the tourist camp, common in some states, is not in great demand in New Jersey. Roadside refreshment stands, on the other hand, have increased to very great numbers, especially along the much traveled highways. It is easy to believe that food and drink dispensed to the public at such stands might have an important effect on the health of residents and visitors within the State and that the sanitation of such places is essential to public health.

"No one who has driven about New Jersey extensively in the last ten years will dispute the statement that a very great improvement has taken place in roadside stands in that period. This change is seen both in the construction, equipment and surroundings of the stands themselves, and in the methods used in keeping and serving the foods offered for sale. These improvements have resulted, more from competition to meet the demands of the traveling public than from the enforcement of regulations by health officials. The source has been within, rather than without, the business. Excellent as this progress has been, it has not been in many cases more than a cosmetic change which are commendable and serve to attract customers than to some of the unseen but highly important items which may have a direct effect on public health. Moreover, these improvements have not been universal by any means and one does not have to seek far to discover stands which are below the minimum standards of safety for any place where food is dispensed.

"The public is aware of the failure of certain stands to conduct business in a clean and satisfactory way. This is indicated by the fact that letters are frequently received at the State Health Department, complaining of insanitary conditions found at such stands. Many of these letters are anonymous while others often fail to describe the location of the stand in a manner sufficiently accurate to allow the matter to be referred to the proper local board of health, and this makes it difficult or impossible to give such complaints the attention which they may deserve. However, they do show that unsatisfactory conditions exist and that the public recognizes and resents such conditions.

"The large proportions of roadside stands are situated in rural sections of the State outside of incorporated municipalities. It is well known that local boards of health in townships as organized under the present health laws of the State ordinarily do not function in such matters as inspection of food vending establishments. Consequently little or no supervision of roadside refreshment stands is exercised by such boards in most parts of New Jersey. State wide inspection of stands by the State Department of Health is impractical. The great number of such stands, their wide distribution, the seasonal character of their activities and the fact that the State Department is unable with its present appropriation to carry on in an adequate manner work directly imposed upon it by law, all combine to show that any large program of inspection and re-inspection of stands must be carried out by local health authorities if it is to be done at all.

"Surveys of roadside stands have been undertaken in two sections of New Jersey. These were made by the two State district health officers in the employ of the Department. The survey in Monmouth County shows what was already believed to be true; namely, that insanitary conditions of some kind usually exist at such stands, and that improper disposal of human waste and the lack of adequate protection of the source of the two potentially dangerous conditions most frequently found at such places.

and a uniform enforcement of the provisions of the State Sanitary Code in respect to such stands coupled with the failure of local boards of health as now constituted to do this work, forms one more bit of evidence in the mass which has been accumulating for years, which shows that some fundamental change is needed in the organization of public health work in the smaller municipalities and townships of this State, if the residents of such places and visitors to the same are to be given the same degree of protection against the spread of disease, and of public health safety, which persons enjoy in the larger cities and towns of New Jersey."

Mrs. S. Dobrzinska of Feltus St. is leaving Friday for a two months tour, visiting friends in Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Canny Servants

SERVANTS, housewives say, are not so good as they used to be, nor yet so plentiful. Good servants are hard to find and their wages are so high that fewer and fewer people can afford them. Have you ever stopped to think that this mechanical age has accomplished a lot toward doing away with the necessity for servants? We have not yet evolved an efficient Robot who can dust, sweep and clean, and also have the presence of mind to say "hot at home" when you are not prepared to receive visitors. But we have something else.

The New Competition
Do you realize that more than 9,000,000,000 separate mechanical tasks which used to be performed every year in the home are now accomplished in the commercial canning factories in this country? Our population is, roughly speaking, 120,000,000, so that makes about 750 tasks per person, or 3,000 tasks for a family of four.

These tasks, performed in the home, would each take at least half an hour, for this means a saving of 4,500,000,000 hours of housewives' or servants' time in the course of a year. No wonder there are fewer servants. They can't find employment. And no wonder their wages are higher. So many of them have turned to other occupations that there is now a scarcity of them in this country.

But the best thing about these new canny servants is that they prepare safer and equally nourishing food according to the most eminent medical authorities. In this respect, certainly, they far excel the old.

There are so many problems of the hair that it is difficult to begin even to classify them correctly. The first and perhaps the most prevalent, is dandruff. Dandruff, contrary to current opinion, is not an exaggerated condition of dry scalp. Dandruff is an actual germ disease which has become tremendously widespread since women frequent barber shops as they do. And it is a disease that must be checked promptly if one is to preserve the health and beauty of the hair.

The most sanitary measures in the world do not seem capable of preventing the spread of dandruff. Fortunately, it is sufficiently disagreeable to manifest itself at once, and the only remedy for it is to attack the cause, the tiny long-lived germs which prosper and multiply so rapidly.

There are two kinds of dandruff—one, the dry dandruff (Sicca) and the other—far more prevalent and difficult to check—oily dandruff (Oleosa), where the glands emit an abnormal amount of oil. This condition reveals a red, irritated scalp.

In treating oily dandruff, frequent shampoos are advisable. A medicated scalp food will serve to nourish the weakened hair roots and restore normal, healthful activity to the glands. After this, the actual dandruff corrective may be applied, left on over night, and the hair shampooed the following day.

Dry dandruff may be treated in exactly the same way, except that a weekly shampoo will be adequate. It is important to remember that dandruff lotions must be medicated. Alcohol, which is very often a base used in inferior correctives, will not aid the condition.

Next on the list of hair problems is excessive oiliness, another highly unpleasant condition, and here is a simple home treatment which I am sure you will find very effective:

Separate strands of hair into parts and brush common salt into them. Go over the whole head carefully, shaking the salt into the uncovered scalp, and follow with a good herbal shampoo. Be sure to wash the hair and scalp very thoroughly, using several rinse waters, or better still, a good rubber spray, and later two or three times. Hot oil treatments are excellent, but be careful not to have the oil too hot for comfortable application. Very hot oil has been the cause of much hair trouble.

Falling hair can best be corrected through scalp food and scalp stimulation.

It is recorded that a meteor that fell at Dhurmsala, India, in 1880, was found coated with ice half an hour or so after its fall; in spite of the great heat generated by friction of the atmosphere the meteor had not had time enough to become heated through. In its interior it still retained the temperature of empty space, some hundred degrees below zero.

You Can Afford to Use Gas

MODERN development of appliances, recent adaptations to new uses, and improvements in methods of production and generation have made gas more than ever essential to comfort and convenience in the home and to efficiency and economy in the factory.

Automatic regulation of oven heat has given new cooking value to domestic gas ranges.

Automatic water heating by gas has been perfected so as to provide the best of hot water service in all homes where it is used.

Refrigeration by gas is established as economical, desirable and convenient.

Central house heating by gas is becoming increasingly popular as its convenience, freedom from all forms of dirt and automatic efficiency is better known.

Room Heating by gas as occasion requires; incineration of household waste by gas and many other domestic applications all add to the usefulness of gas the best of fuels.

Industrial use of gas is rapidly being extended to new processes.

Gas, providing heat in its most adaptable, most easily controlled and most convenient form, is destined to be as universally used for heat as is electricity for power and light.

Rates now charged for gas by this company, fix a price of 9½ cents per 100 feet for all additional gas used above 1400 feet, a substantial reduction from the previous rate for quantity use.

You can afford to use gas because of the results that you get.

Melrose

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Erickson of this place and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Seaman of Perth Amboy were Jersey City visitors on Sunday, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Garry.

On Tuesday Clark Harris, Bill Erickson and Frank Kosh, motored to Beach Haven, where they enjoyed a good day's fishing. Outside of receiving a good drenching from a thunderstorm, they caught twenty weakfish, four fluke and one blue fish. Clark caught a prize weak fish and Bill caught a nice bluefish.

The committee on the Melrose bus trip to Coney Island is working hard to put the trip across in first class shape. The trip will be made next month.

Joseph Jerome has installed a new up to date receiving set in his barber shop.

Members of the Melrose Accordion Band were kept busy during the past week end, furnishing music for the reception following the wedding of Stephen Wichowski and Helen Klinowski, both of Perth Amboy. On Saturday night six members of the band furnished music for the balloon dance of the Associated Veterans of Foreign Wars at Union Beach.

"Very Latest"

By CECILE

Both sensible and comfortable are the sports costumes that may go in to the tub and out again as fresh as only soap and water can make them. And this year the washable silks show more than usual character.

In the smart sports ensemble illustrated we combine two favorite fabrics—the cool frock of plain PK crepe—a new tub silk weave sponsored by Stehli, of Paris—and the jaunty little jacket in polka-dot design.

In a season when contrast is the order of the day this use of different weaves, variety in design, tunes in most harmoniously.

Lace Straws Uniformly

Flattering

With these filmy summer frocks there is nothing more becoming—and nothing more appropriate, of course—than the large drooping hat of lacey straw. This may be horsehair or one of the imported lace straws that are equally summery; but in all cases trimming is smartest when it is a simple band of ribbon or velvet in a harmonizing shade that accents the color of the straw.

Sometimes the wide brims are pressed in folds or a V toward the front of the hat, and this irregularity proves very effective for many types.

Broadcloth a Popular Summer Fabric

It seems that cotton broadcloth has established a definite place in the realm of sports wear. Its softness and high lustre commend it, for one thing; and then, too, this season the weavers have given us the most fascinating designs in plaided and figured broadcloths.

One may have these frocks sleeveless or otherwise, and with or without shorts, as the spirit moves.

The Versatile "Dyeable" Shoe

One strap slippers made of dyeable fabrics that can be tinted to match the dance frocks are fads of the moment. Heels are extremely high; straps ride well up over the instep, and one may have a tiny brilliant ornament at the buckling point, if desired.

Lightning Snatches

Man's Pipe and Ring

Williamson, W. Va.—A weird and uncanny story of the apparition of supernatural pranks played on Harvey Mounts, Ben Creek farmer, by a host of lightning recently, was brought to Williamson by Mingo P. Kendall county road engineer, says the Williamson News. While riding on horseback through a terrible rainstorm Mounts declared that he was struck by lightning although through a miraculous twist of fate, he was not killed or even injured.

However, a pipe which the man was smoking was burned to a crisp while a heavy gold ring that encircled his finger was melted and driven into the neck of his horse, inflicting a slight wound.

According to Mr. Kendall, Mounts has the charred pipe and the melted ring on display as tangible evidence of his remarkable experience.

"Journeyman" Defined

The word "journeyman," according to the best information, is derived from the French word "journee," meaning a day. Therefore, the "journeyman" is in reality a "day man" and may be defined as applying to one who, having served his apprenticeship to a handicraft or trade is prepared to work at it for a day's wages.

A Matter of Ranges

By WILL T. AMES

(Copyright)

FOR eleven months of each year Herbert Calhoun built bridges, dams, piers and additions to his reputation as an engineer. Each August he steadfastly refused to do any work at all, but reserved the month to the utter relaxation of fishing for tautog at a very precise point ranged by the steeple of Cave Harbor church and a certain blasted oak across the cove one way and the direction line of the Halliday family's private pier the other way.

For the same eleven months of each year Bernice Halliday, to the intense disgust of her mother, devoted herself to incurring the wrath of recalcitrant employers of women and children and to the leading of a strenuous and militant life generally. In her official capacity of state inspector of employment conditions for women and children.

The whole of the twelfth month she swam, canoed, danced and had on the whole, probably the best all around good time of any of the girls of the rather exclusive Cave Harbor summer colony.

Of course, of all things in the world the most natural and belittling would be that these two doors of things, the thirty-six-year-old engineer and the twenty-eight-year-old sociologist, both spending a month's vacation at the harbor every year, should be at least interested acquaintances.

Yet as Bernice sat on the end of the Halliday's pier in her bathing suit, swinging her trim legs over the water, and as Calhoun brought his stubby stick to an anchorage a hundred feet off the end of the pier, there was no sign of anything like enthusiastic sympathy between them.

"Conceded old prig!" Bernice was saying to herself. "If he were just an ordinary smarty, I'd tell him. But he isn't; he's a most extraordinary one. The idea of his trying to lecture me—me!—on the proper sphere of a woman! And sulking when I let him know that I considered my work just as important as his and didn't propose to give it up, ever, to be nothing but just some man's wife! And saying there were some things, like factory management, and his old engineering, that were actually as far outside the feminine understanding as fishing—if you please—and, of course, the woman hadn't been born who could give her mind to cause and effect in catching fish!"

"If that girl comes and sits on that pier tomorrow," inwardly foamed Calhoun, "and silently revels in my rotten luck, by thunder, I'm going to pack up and get out of here! Jeering at me, she is, because I said there were masculine stunts and feminine stunts—and that bridges and factories and fishing were masculine—and in my line, and writing verse and being mentally and spiritually as well as physically beautiful—and being my wife—were feminine."

Still not a fish bit. But into her heart was creeping a shadow of contrition. "Poor old boy!" she said to herself. "It's a shame, after all. He does so love to catch 'em. And if he should decide that it's hopeless and give up and go away altogether!" "Are you sure you're on your exact ground, Herbert?" she inquired as she floated close to the skiff.

"Certainly—Bernice. I have the ranges to a hair."

"That's what you meant," said Bernice, paddling slowly up to the boat and reaching for the gunwale. "When you said fishing was a masculine activity—something demanding study of cause and effect—yes?"

"Yes," Calhoun replied. "One of your ranges is a straight line out from our pier, isn't it?"

"Yes. A continuation of its center line."

"Well, old Mr. Methodical Calculation," said Bernice, as she launched herself backward from the other side of the boat, "there's a mere bit of what you probably call feminine intuition. Our pier was torn up by the ice last winter. When they rebuilt it they located it more than fifty feet further east along the beach. For ten days you've been fishing away off your ground. I'd have told you before but you picked a quarrel with me the first time we met this season. Here, help me into that tub of yours and I'll show you where you ought to anchor."

Between them, taking turns with Calhoun's sturdy deep water rod, they caught half a dozen of the rugged hard fighting, hard drying tautog while Herbert Calhoun's stiff-necked pride fought a losing fight with the fascination of the beautiful, competent but utterly feminine creature beside him. Then, with the preliminary of a long drawn breath he said:

"Bernice, I guess there are some prejudices that are about as hard to locate and about as tough and hard to kill as these cut-lived fish I've been an ass, with my cocksure theories about sex-wise division of quillies. If you'll just take me, you can go on fighting manufacturers and making reports as long as you can get yourself reappointed—it it's for ever."

Bernice gazed far down the bay. Then presently she turned and said in a tremendous little voice that no law evading factory boss would ever have recognized as that of the militant inspector. "I—I sent in my resignation last night, dear."

No Military Lodges

The grand secretary of the Masonic temple, Washington, D. C., says that American Masonry does not at the present time follow the policy of the Grand lodge of England in permitting organized military lodges to be incorporated within the regiments or in the naval service. During the Civil war one or two lodges were organized within the army following the troops as is the English custom, but these passed out of existence and there are not at the present time any left.

THE COURAGE OF PUBLIC SERVANTS

Much has been made of the fact that Alexander Legge gave up a $100,000 a year position as the President of the International Harvester Company in order to become the Chairman of the Federal Farm Board of President Hoover at a yearly stipend of $12,000.

Naturally this was a very courageous, a very public-spirited act, and we applaud it with the greatest enthusiasm, adding our thanks to the thanks of the nation.

At the same time we want to point out that, to the glory of our nation, the ranks of our public bodies are filled with others no whit less self-sacrificing and courageous.

Men sticking to public offices for years, who would have made fortunes in the business world; men working for the benefit of the country, who curtail the private activities on which they really "cash in". We applaud their patriotism.

It is one of the greatest traditions of this country—this willingness of competent men to subjugate their private interests to the interests of the nation at large.

It is a great and noble tradition that helps every one of us every day of our lives.

REST FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL HAND

The public receptions at the White House, formerly taking place thrice a week, were first reduced to two a week, then to one a week, and now have been abandoned for the rest of the Summer.

While we think that every citizen in the land should have an opportunity to meet our president, we cannot help but commend this decision.

So many persons line up before the White House merely out of curiosity, later seeking prestige by speaking of the "public reception" they have attended!

Since former times many additional burdens have been put upon the president, and at the same time the population has increased and the capital been made more accessible by improved transportation. All of which wrecks a dreadful hardship on the hand of the president, which certainly deserves a vacation after being vigorously shaken for so long a period by everyone, nearly, that visited Washington.

Citizens with a special mission must have access to the president. That is democracy. Others who seek prestige by contact with the hand of the President should be limited in their intrusion into his time and their demands upon his strength. That is good sense.

Building Swimming

Hole For Campers At
Kiddie Keep Well CampAlso New Outdoor Stage Keep The Work House Gang Busy

Improvements at the Kiddie Keep Well Camp in Metuchen include an outdoor stage in the process of being built, and further progress in damming up a swimming hole for the campers. A working gang from the county workhouse sent to the camp by Walter R. Masterson, warden, has supplied free labor and lumber has been donated by various Middlesex County lumber companies among them the Howell Lumber Co. of New Brunswick and the Middlesex Wrecking Co. of Danalen.

Further donations are needed to complete these innovations as there are no arrangements made for them in the camp budget.

Many gifts have come in during the past week. Irving Demarest of the Karman Mercantile Co. in Perth Amboy has promised an every Sunday treat of ice cream for the whole camp. Mr. Demarest has also supplied the youngest children with a sand pile.

P. J. Young's Department Store in New Brunswick donated three dozen pairs of socks, and many other New Brunswick merchants contributed to the welfare of the camp's children.

The worth of the work being done at the camp is best proved by the stories of actual cases encountered and aided through its medium.

To see one happy little seven year old playing around the camp grounds one would never suspect the record the cards show about him. Briefly it is: father dead, mother ran away leaving five little children to support themselves somehow on a small widow's pension.

Three brothers from New Brunswick average 14 1-2 percent underweight. They come from a family of eleven living in a four room bovel. Their father is too ill to work, so the mother washes clothes and two sisters still in their teens work in a factory to bring in the insufficient monthly income of seventy dollars.

One fourteen year old towhead has the facial expression of a man of thirty. As long as he can remember there has been no mother to take care of the other four kids at home aged twelve, ten, eight and five years old. He has acted as foster parent and housekeeper for the whole family.

His case is encouragement to the workers. He was at camp in 1927 and gained one pound. In 1928 he gained 4 1-4 pounds, and since last fall he shows an increase of ten pounds. He is still underweight but another two weeks of the Kiddie Camp's good food should show a big improvement.

Dr. William London of Perth Amboy, chairman of the medical committee, expects better results this year than ever before. He says "The camp has never been so well operated as it is this year under Director Gordon. All in all, there has never been a more competent staff, and the outcome promises to be everything we could wish for in the way of added pounds and improved vitality and spirit."

Train Is Saved
by Loyal Indian

Soperton, Wis.—A tale of the striking loyalty of an Indian, was brought into this small lumber community recently by a railway section foreman. Tom McAllan, the foreman, was through with his day's work and was bound for camp, he related, when from the platform of the gasoline car on which he was riding, he espied the body of a man prone on the rails.

As the gasoline car drew nearer, Jake Waubelay, a Potawatami Indian, seventy-five years old, arose from the track and motioned frantically toward the car.

McAllan found the old Indian was guarding a broken rail he accidentally had stumbled upon. Waubelay had resorted to ancient "ear to the ground" tactics to warn him of the approach of a train because his eyes were virtually sightless.

Logging trains operated by the company that frequently had given the Indian odd jobs, plied the road frequently and McAllan said a wreck certainly would have followed had a train struck the broken rail.

HELD UP SO OFTEN
HE IS USED TO ITNew Jersey Man Knows Just What to Do.

Newark, N. J.—"I used to run a store in New York. I've been held up so much it don't mean nothing no more." So said Arnold Dagman of 405 Myrtle avenue, Irvington, a delicatessen store proprietor who was robbed recently by two negroes with revolvers. They forced him into the back room of the store and took $35 from the cash register.

"Fifteen times I've been robbed," Dagman told Detective Leonard Sertaro, Jr., who was investigating the case.

"I wasn't even going to report this one, but I've only been in Irvington a year, and I thought this was a good chance to get acquainted with you police fellows.

"Chicago? Oh, you should see New York what they do there. Why, Chicago must be a peaceful village compared to New York. If I have to judge by my experiences. Of course, I suppose everybody doesn't meet as many holdup men as I have, but I certainly have had luck that way—mostly bad. I carried holdup insurance in New York, but I haven't any here.

"Why, I know everything they want me to do before they even tell me. All I have to see is that gun and I know what comes next. Into the back room and shut up.

"If you don't shut up you get a bat in the eye. So I shut up. The cash register rings out in front, then the door slams and then everything is quiet. It's all over, and you can come out and figure up in peace how much you've lost.

"Once I had a big store in the New York theater district. They held me up and took $200. The papers carried a story the next day telling of the $2,000 in the safe that the bandits overlooked. In a few days they came back and made me open up that safe, too. After that I gave up reporting holdups for a long while."

Six Dead as Result of Cave Man Tactics

Athens.—The Turk of today is proving himself the barbarian of the much older days. One, named Osmanli living in a town near the Persian frontier, fell in love with a beautiful Turkish girl. Consent to marriage with her was had from the girl and her parents, but before they were married Osmanli Pacha banned polygamy and this man had a wife whom he could not divorce without a lawful cause, which he did not possess. As weeks and months passed the girl's parents were obliged to promise her to another applicant.

Late in the evening of the wedding when the girl was led into her mate's residence Osmanli, who was still in passionate love with the girl, called on five of his wild friends and asked them to help him to carry her off before her husband had taken possession of her. Armed with short daggers, they lounged about the bridegroom's door till all the guests had left the house. They then walked into the house and the bridegroom was stabbed to death. His mother and two sisters rushed out, shouting for help but they were swiftly silenced with dagger thrusts in their hearts. Then the bride ran out and took the dagger from her first lover's hand and plunged it in his heart. She then dealt herself a blow and fell, making the number of dead six.

"Plane Sailing"

An easy task is "plane sailing," a phrase which has been corrupted from the navigational "plane sailing," the simplest sort of course plotting, where the surface of the globe is considered flat. It can be used only in coastwise navigation, when many landmarks may be easily referred to as a check on the calculations.

Nickel Steel Rail Joints

For increasing the comfort of the traveler and lengthening the life of the rails, the dips or hollows at the points where the rails connect are fused by electric arc welding. This melts the rail to a depth of one-eighth of an inch and fuses thereon a deposit of 5 per cent nickel steel, which is nearly 50 per cent harder than the rail itself.

LOOKING BACK 22 YEARS

Issue of July 20, 1907

The produce steamer James B. Collins made its first trip from the Cheesapeake creek for this season on Tuesday.

Some wagers have been made that trains will be running over the new railroad bridge before automobiles will be crossing the county bridge.

One of the greatest hauls of fish ever made on our shore was that of Walters and Henry on Friday night of last week. It comprised 37 barrels of weakfish, 27 barrels of bluefish and 450 bushels of menhaden.

The borough water has a sickly yellow color and the taste is something most disagreeable. It is stated that this is due to the fact of a break in the main at Runyon, and water is now furnished from the pond, the vegetable matter therein discoloring the water.

Edward Tice is attending Trainer's Private School at Perth Amboy.

Mr. James Dwyer and Miss Anna Sutliff enjoyed the pleasures of Coney Island on Monday.

James W. Rea was among those who attended the Elks' convention at Philadelphia this week.

Richard Dowling, our popular vendor of newspapers, was at Philadelphia Thursday and Friday witnessing the Elks' great demonstration.

The Misses Gladys Emmons and Josie James spent the past week in Orange, on a visit to relatives.

The company experimenting at the Otis Brick Works are wondering what has become of their superintendent. He went to the city for the 4th of July, and has not returned, and the company is in doubt as to whether he has not abandoned the enterprise.

Mrs. R. E. Rathbun, Mrs. Charles Blum, Miss Lucila Quackenbush, Miss Mabel Van Pelt, Mrs. M. N. Roll and R. E. Lee Morgan spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. LeGrand Hamilton, of Totenville. While there they attended the christening at St. Stephen's Church of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, who was named Alice Lee.

Mrs. John Gallagher and daughter Frances, and Miss Lillian Morgan have returned home from a sojourn at Wilmington, Del.

John Sutliff, George Gundrum and E. J. O'Connor were at Philadelphia on Thursday and participated in the big parade of Elks in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Mathis have returned from their visit to Jamestown and report that they greatly enjoyed the trip and the sights at the Exposition.

"Too Many Cheap Sports"
"There are too many cheap sports in this county playing for stakes they cannot afford to lose and then repudiating their bets," said Judge John E. Foster, on the Bench of the Monmouth County Court, in Freehold, Thursday, when he rendered judgment for Elias Goldsmith for $40 and costs against Abram Morris, the money having been lost to Morris in two poker games.

Morris had previously recovered $150 from Goldsmith, which the latter had won from him on a wager. Goldsmith is a wealthy merchant at Keyport, and Morris is proprietor of a livery stable at the same place.

The St. Aloysius Baseball Club
A photograph of the St. Aloysius Baseball Club of this city appeared in the above edition. The members were Nicholas Howley, Joseph Kazich, John Casey, James McDonnell, Walter Casey, Ferd Ruffner, Frank Delaney, John Hussey, Leo Coakley, Thomas Lyons, Luke Jovely, James Gordon, George Cheeseman Jr. and Jay Connell.

The writeup read:
The St. Aloysius Baseball Club is composed of youths from 13 to 15 years of age, but they have ginger enough in them to make nines of mature age take a back seat. They do some good ball playing, and out of thirty-two games this season they lost but one. They know how to handle the ball both in the field and at the bat. This team has been in existence for five years and during that time has played 250 games and has lost to date but five.

"What! You never saw them play?" "Say go down to Star Field today and see them play the St. Anthony's of Perth Amboy, and you will have a chance to see 'Christy Mathewson, Jr.' in working order."

"Harris" Covell, the famous rooter has promised to be on hand, so if you want to have some fun go to the game today.

The St. Aloysius club are after base for the Kilrato Baseball Club, of "Johnny" Hunt, who played second Perth Amboy, and if they succeed in getting him they will have a stronger infield than any team of their age in New Jersey.

ENTERTAIN LADIES' CLUBS
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watson of lower Conover street entertained during the past week two of the ladies' clubs in the Mechanicsville section of the city. Plans for an outing were discussed and a report of a recent outing made by the committee in charge.

A feature of the evening was a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Watson. Games, singing and dancing were enjoyed during the evening and a delightful lunch served at midnight.

It Will Pay You To Do Your Business In South Amboy

For some twenty years now, Mr. Samuel Medinets has been in the hardware business in South Amboy. The South Amboy Hardware Company is the name of the business now and the establishment located on Broadway at David street is shown herewith. Born in New Brunswick, Mr. Medinets was educated in the Public Schools in Perth Amboy. He came to this city and purchased a hardware store business from the Neiltopp Estate, then located in the stores now maintained by Alex Silver, furniture dealer. Not long after coming here Mr. Medinets took unto himself Miss Dorothy Bartnick of Liberty, N. Y., for a wife. The family have continued to make their home here. Mr. Medinets finds the general lines of hardware in demand now pretty much the same as in years gone by but automobile tires and automobile accessories now comprise an important part of the business done with volume in the other lines remaining almost stationary throughout the last two decades.

There is really not a thing you use or need that can't get from your Own Home Town Merchants. They will be glad to serve you if given the opportunity.

ANYTHING "RUN DOWN"

IS UNATTRACTIVE

You have often heard people speak of a community or a section of the city as being "run down". If you stop and look at the mental picture that "run down" creates in your mind, you will have a vision of unkempt, cluttered up streets, with mussy entry ways to store buildings and apartment houses, and yards littered with a little bit of everything.

Anything that is run down is unattractive—it repels rather than invites. It makes you say, "I wouldn't have that", rather than, "I sure would like to have one of those". In the case of a community, "run down" causes you to say, "I wouldn't live here on a bet", rather than to say "I like this part of town."

Anything done or allowed to be done that tends to clutter up a community is bad for the community and anything bad for the community drives business out of and away from the community, and when it is allowed to go on continuously, there is only one thing that can happen; the community runs down; people move out and business goes "floody".

Therefore, it is only good business on the part of the people who make up a community to see to it that any practice that tends to clutter up is eliminated.

One practice common to communities which is bad, is the distribution from door to door, from store to store, from yard to yard, from car to car, of all sorts and shapes and sizes of hand bills and dodgers.

There are many cities, communities and towns that will not allow it at all; others require a license fee sufficient to make it impractical, and are wise towns.

There may be an advertising value in these dodgers for those who use them, and certainly those who print them make a profit; but it is bad for the community, and unless the community is so fixed, financially, that it can maintain paper pickers and street cleaners in sufficient number to clean up the mess they make, it is poor business, and as far as advertising is concerned, the same money spent in other channels will undoubtedly bring greater results.

New Drivers Add To Traffic Jams

"Sunday Drivers" featured the traffic congestion in this city last Sunday evening. In the heaviest of the traffic no less than three cars with inexperienced drivers found themselves helpless to keep their machines going. Local people, where possible, helped and in some cases a little instruction started them on their way again.

A large bus was crippled at the corner of Stevens avenue and Main street at about the peak of the traffic. It was necessary to have the bus towed away. During the process of getting chains on the bus traffic had to be halted for awhile.

The police with the help of the extra force handled the cross street conditions in a remarkable manner.

Martha M. Munn

Mrs. Martha M. Munn, wife of Edward Munn, died at her late home, 353 Parker avenue, this city, Monday morning, about 8:30 o'clock, following a lingering illness. The deceased was born in Pointville, N. J., Oct. 2, 1869, and has made her home in this city for a number of years.

Funeral services were held from her late home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. E. F. Reed, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating. Interment was made in Alpine Cemetery, Perth Amboy.

Besides her husband, the deceased is survived by three brothers, Charles Fox, of this city; and William and John Peterson; also one daughter, Mrs. John McKelvey, of Perth Amboy.

Early Printers' Prices

There is record of two printers in 1478 according to publish 100 copies of the Bible. Just how long these Bibles were in preparation is doubtful, but the first record of sales in that locality, Venice, year 1492, and by the same printers gives the selling price at 6 to 12 denari, or $20 to $30.

Entertainment in Ant Hills

Scientists believe that, in addition to maintaining guests of usefulness in their homes, ants are found of keeping pots, for they collect often that shelter and abundant food in the home of an ant. However, too, with a peculiar fragrance that makes them welcome are often fed and sheltered in the hospitable home of the ant.

Women Swimmers To Stage Exhibition At Cliffwood Beach Pool

Racing Events To Be Staged This Sunday Afternoon At 3 O'clock

A group of forty-six swimmers all members of the Women's Swimming Association, will compete in a series of races and exhibition events at the first annual Cliffwood Beach swimming meet, this Sunday at 3 P. M. Leah Riley, former Senior Metropolitan and Junior National 100 meter free style champion is listed for the 100 yard free style handicap race, for which twelve other swimmers are also entered. In the 200 yard back stroke handicap race, the spectators will see Margaret Decker, junior national 100 meter back stroke champion.

Swimming enthusiasts will also be interested in the performance of Carin Nilsson, former national medley champion. Miss Nilsson is entered for the 100 yard breast stroke handicap event. Two other well known competitors for honors at the Cliffwood Beach events will be Eleanor Madigan, junior metropolitan 50 yard champion and Elaine Delany, junior metropolitan fancy diving champion.

The seven scheduled events will take place in the new Cliffwood Beach outdoor swimming pool where six lanes will be provided for the swimmers. Opening officially this Sunday the pool is conceded to be one of the largest in the East. It is 50 feet wide by 175 feet long, located just off the boardwalk in full view of the sea.

On one side of the pool is a comfortable seating arrangement for accommodation of spectators. Powerful flood lights ranged around the edge of the pool are provided for use during evenings, while an indirect lighting system under water gives an unusually beautiful effect to the water. Water flows in and out in two swift continuous cross currents. The latest and most approved scientific sanitation system has been adopted which maintains the water in a constant state of purity. The shallow end is three feet deep for children to wade, while at the other extreme is a nine foot depth with three diving boards.

The following entries have been received for Sunday's meet:

100 yard free style handicap. B Team: Leola Gottsamer, Elvia Miraglia, Nilda Miraglia, Louise Rosenberg, Ruth Tullis, Muriel Byrne.

100 yard free style, handicap. A Team: Leah Riley, former senior metropolitan and junior national 100 meter free style champion, Eva Bein, Maxine Bracker, Ruth Bracker, Rita Brereton, Mary Hagen, Frances Hanlon, Helen Hendry, Elizabeth Kompka, Kathleen O'Neill, Anne Rosenberg, Anna Schmitt, Emma Twaddell.

200 yards back stroke handicap: Margaret Decker, junior national 100 meter back stroke champion, Edythe Borchardt, Erna Kompka, Eleanor Kreutzer.

100 yards breast stroke handicap: Carin Nilsson, former national medley champion Dorothy Courtney, Lillian Irwin, Doris Lawson, Ella Molnar, Augusta Muller.

400 yards free style scratch: Eleanor Madigan, junior metropolitan 50 yard champion, Marion Vail, junior national long distance champion, Marie Berger, Jessie Conway, Dorothea Dickinson, Evelyn Hertle.

10 Yards free style: handicap, girls under 14: Constance Hanf, Rita Aussenhofer, Willa Horn, Jean Kolbe, Ruth Meyer, Helen Rosenberg, Kathryn Welch.

Diving Exhibition: Elaine Delany, junior metropolitan fancy diving champion, Mary Hagen, Frances Hanlon, Frances Meany.

Chinese Piety. The Chinese do not consider their ancestors as deities to be worshipped; they reverence them.

James L. Christiansen

James L. Christiansen, 28 years old, perhaps better known as Jim Johnson, a truck driver for Scott Bros., was found dead at his home at 138 Feltus street Sunday night by Steve Bonis, a youthful friend of the dead man. Dr. Meacham was summoned and expressed the opinion that the man had passed away about an hour before. The young man had never fully recovered from a severe attack it is said, of pneumonia that he had last March. He was very stout and death is thought to have resulted from a smothering of the heart.

Funeral services were held from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Melvin Bowman, of Conlogue Lane, on Wednesday afternoon at half past two o'clock. The Rev. C. E. Kennedy, rector of Christ Church Parish, officiated and interment followed in Christ Church Cemetery. Undertakers E. S. Mason & Son were the funeral directors.

The deceased is survived by his father, Yeppe Christiansen, and one sister, Mrs. Melvin Bowman, both of this city.

The Good Old Days. Members of the gold rush in the Black Hills are to be preserved in a museum given Dendwood, S. D., by W. E. Adams, pioneer merchant.

Hints for Motorists

If your car is not equipped with a backing brake, you may make effective use of your stop light by pressing your foot on the brake pedal just hard enough to make it glow.

If you bunk your car in a strange garage when you are on a trip, jot down the mileage shown on the speedometer so you can tell the next morning whether anybody has used the car during the night. If you do this somewhat ostentatiously, the men around the garage may see you and decide to leave your car alone, knowing that use of it will be detected.

As hot weather approaches have the charging rate of your generator changed for summer conditions. When batteries over-charge, trouble results.

Dents in your fenders may have an unfavorable psychological influence on the policeman with whom you get into an argument over some alleged traffic violation. He may get the impression that you are habitually a careless driver. On the other hand if your car shows no evidence of previous bumps or collisions, the influence may be in your favor.

GREER DEFINES GOOD DRIVERS

By Erwin Greer
(President Greer College, Chicago)
There are drivers who almost never get into the hospital or the police court. They are good drivers.

Accidents the good driver avoids with ease are:

Crashing into the car ahead because he keeps back his proper distance, and allows himself time to stop.

Rear-end collisions, because he uses his rear-sight mirror to keep a check on the man behind and signals him his intention of stopping, in time.

Sideswiping, because when he decided to pass the car ahead he announces his intention with the horn, to make sure the road in front is clear, and then swings out and around in a wide, easy curve that leaves the other fellow plenty of room.

Being sideswiped, because when the man behind sounds the horn to pass, the good driver gives him the road, and does not speed up in an attempt to "freeze him out", or swing over toward the middle of the road to squeeze him out.

Head on collisions, because good drivers are sure the road ahead is free from oncoming cars before trying to pass a car traveling in the same direction.

Good drivers do not pass cars on curves, or anywhere else where a clear view of plenty of road ahead cannot be secured.

Good drivers have their own headlights properly adjusted to avoid blinding the other fellow. If the other fellow isn't so considerate, good drivers have a non-glare visor for emergencies.

Going into the ditch usually occurs at night, and good drivers carry road lamps or spot lamps which enable them to keep on the road, in spite of fog, or the glare of oncoming cars.

Grade crossing smash-ups are avoided by good drivers by not trying to beat a train across, and by never merrily sailing around the car ahead which had the good sense to stop when it saw an approaching train which was hidden from the cars behind.

Ninety per cent of the day's accidents come within the foregoing category, and the good driver easily avoids 90 per cent of these.

Cuts Baby's Throat as Parents Attend Church

New York.—Because a negro maid they had hired two days before seemed fond of their daughter, Laura, three, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dorfman, of No. 215 East 161st street, the Bronx, left the child in the care of the maid last evening when they went to a nearby synagogue to attend the passover services.

Mrs. Dorfman, having a premonition that all was not well with the child, left the synagogue with her husband, a dress goods manufacturer, and twice telephoned to their apartment, but received no answer. Then they rushed home, found the apartment dark and the maid gone. They called to the baby, but no answer came. They switched on the lights in the little one's bedroom and saw her lying in her crib, her throat cut.

Mr. Dorfman called in a neighborhood physician, who rushed her to the Sydenham hospital, 124th street and Manhattan avenue. Later it was said the child probably would not survive the wound.

Detectives of the Morrisania station found that they faced an almost hopeless task of finding the negro maid because she had been employed only a few days before through an employment agency and the Dorfmans had omitted to obtain her name and address.

No valuables were missing from the Dorfman household.

French Treasury Gains as Andorra Pays Up

Paris.—France will have exactly $75,522 more in the treasury this year than she counted upon.

This surplus will offset $37.76, which she counted on and failed to receive. This startling sum is the annual tribute which the republic of Andorra has been paying for its sovereignty for a couple of centuries.

Andorra did not pay last year, but she has just sent a delegation to make good for her arrears and settle up for 1929.

Andorra is a tiny republic in the Pyrenees mountains between France and Spain.

Make Summer A Season Of Beauty

Will you make your summer a season of greater beauty—or will you let it be a period of neglect, when your good looks "go off" and your greatest beauty is submerged by the effects of exposure to sun and wind?

It can be one of two things for you—this summer season. It can be a time of reclaiming beauty, or it can be a time when you lose much of the charm and youth you now have. It is for you to decide to make it a period of beauty-reconstruction. Begin now to plan a summer beauty program that will add to your attractiveness and bring you to an autumn completely free of summer regrets.

In spite of the disadvantages of summer—the weathering and drying dangers of sun and heat-fatigue—there are some distinct advantages, from a standpoint of personal beauty. First of all, the summer is a splendid time to improve your figure, whether you want to reduce or to gain. For exercise will do either, and the very exercises that you take naturally and pleasantly in the summer-time are good reducing or gaining measures. Swimming, the favorite of summer sports, is perfect for developing beautiful, graceful bodies. And golf, tennis, riding, rowing, walking and dancing are all excellent aids to health and beauty.

Then, too, the diet that most of us prefer at this season is of the type that benefits both figures and complexions. Fresh vegetables, salads, fruits and cool drinks made with fruit juices all do wonders for your looks and your dispositions in warm weather.

If you are trying to reduce, live for six weeks on fruits, vegetables and dark, coarse breads, and see what inroads it will make on your girth. If you wish to gain, add to this diet plenty of eggs, milk, cream and cereals. But in any case, try to do without meat in warm weather, and all rich foods and sweets. Drink lots of water—it's good for your bodily health and your complexion. And drink fruit drinks—particularly lemonade—or ginger ale. They are excellent for you and are both easy and pleasant to take on a summer's day.

Above all—protect your skin, that is the first law of summer complexion care. We will suppose that you are carrying out your regular program of cleansing, clearing and toning, daily, with the proper preparations. Then add to it one or more protectives. If you "go in" for outdoor sports strenuously, use a sun and windproof cream that neutralizes all dangerous effects of outdoor exposure. Or if you may choose to, blend a sun-proof liquid powder, to be doubly safe and protected as well as becomingly made up.

Peas and Eggs

PEAS are appetizing. Eggs are rich. Peas and eggs together are rich and appetizing. Have you ever tried this combination? Here are some recipes for it which will doubtless suggest more to you. In the meantime, try:

Pea Timbales: Drain one No. 2 can of peas and press through a sieve. To the pea pulp add two slightly-beaten eggs, one-eighth cup butter, one teaspoon salt, a few grains of pepper, a dash of onion juice and one-half cup milk. Turn into well-greased molds and set in a pan of hot water. Bake in a very slow oven, like a custard, or until firm so that a silver knife comes out clean. The temperature should be 300° Fahrenheit, and the time from forty to fifty minutes. If cooked too long or in too hot an oven they will whey. Unmold on a hot plate, and serve with a white sauce (about six cups) with drained whole peas. This recipe will make four ordinary sized custard cups full.

A Delicious Omelet

Curried Pea Omelet: Make an omelet, as usual, with three eggs, three tablespoons milk, and one-half teaspoon salt. Combine one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, three-eighths teaspoon curry powder and three-fourths cup milk into a white sauce in the usual way. Add three-fourths cup canned peas to the sauce, and pour hot over the omelet just before folding it over onto the platter. This will serve four. In doubling the quantity for eight persons it is better to make two omelets rather than one large one.

There Are No Disappointments When GAS is Used to Heat Water

HOT water contributes so largely to nearly all our personal comforts and to the smooth running of our homes, that when it is lacking, we are seriously inconvenienced.

In restaurants, hotels and club houses interrupted hot water service detracts from the prestige of the house.

In modern homes and commercial houses, gas is used to heat water and interruptions in hot water service are rare.

Gas works most successfully under automatic control, and so well designed is the modern water heating appliance—so dependable is the action of the standard thermostat, that the owner of a gas automatic water heating system finds himself relieved of practically all effort in the operation of his water heating system.

There is no substitute for hot water, and gas, most adaptable, most easily controlled and cleanest of all fuels, is destined to be used as universally for heating water as is electricity for power and light.

Rates now charged for gas by this company fix a price of 9½ cents per 100 feet for all additional gas used above 1400 feet, a substantial reduction from previous rate for quantity use.

Considering the convenience realized gas is the cheapest fuel with which to heat water.

MAGNETIC MILKER PLEASES COW; SAVES WORK, MONEY

The Milking Job Made Easy and Pleasant by the Magnetic Milker.

New York—The milking machine, which has saved labor, reduced expense and increased production on countless farms, is about to make the milking job still easier and more profitable.

This is indicated from an announcement made here of an invention to milk the American cow by magnetic force.

After exhaustive research and tests, a device has been perfected, according to Ralph Stoddard of the De Laval Engineering Laboratories, which will triple the speed of milking the dairy herd, provide pulsations that will always be the same, and actually milk cows better than they can be milked in any other way.

"Through the use of the electro magnet, railroads operate complicated signal systems that assure safety and swift operation of trains," said Mr. Stoddard. "In the great pipe organs, electro magnets control the hundreds of valves. In the telegraph, telephone, steel and ore cranes—wherever positive control, lightning speed and dependability are needed—the electro magnet is used. We have now applied this same principle to the mechanical milking of cows in a way that will increase efficiency on the farm, save money and make cows happier so they will yield more.

"It is a well-known fact that a cow is more contented, will give more milk and quicker, if it is milked by the same man every day. It is necessary to please the cow to get the most milk, and it has been found that certain stimuli or methods of milking are most pleasing. The new magnetic device will milk the cow with the same touch the year round and will speed up milking operations, for one man with a magnetic milker will do the work of three hand milkers.

Among the benefits to the farm, Mr. Stoddard pointed out that generally speaking, the magnetic milker saves half the time of milking, which in the aggregate will mean the saving of millions of dollars, or millions of extra hours for doing other farm work and for rest and recreation.

Stewed Chicken in 35 Minutes

Most Economical Way Is to Cook Bird in Steam Pressure Cooker.

A stewed chicken has many reasons for appearing on the table at frequent intervals. Not only is it less expensive than a roasted chicken, but it is usually larger, which is an advantage for the big family. Also, cooking a chicken this way provides an abundance of rich, delicious chicken broth which can be made the foundation of another meal.

But stewing a chicken takes so long, women often say. That depends upon the way it is cooked. If a fireless cooker is used, ten hours will be required. This means putting the chicken on at eight in the morning for a six o'clock meal.

Then there is the old-fashioned stewing kettle. This method takes only four hours, but care must be taken that it does not boil dry. Moreover, the escaping steam allows a great deal of valuable mineral salts and flavor to escape.

Stewing a chicken in a waterless cooker is an improvement in time over the other two ways, since it requires only two and a half hours, but the most rapid and economical way of all is to cook the bird in a steam pressure cooker, which takes only thirty-five minutes. Put on at five minutes of six, the chicken is thoroughly cooked and tender and ready to serve by six-thirty. None of the flavor will be lost. The saving in fuel cost will be from a fifth to an eighth that of cooking by the other methods.

At the same time, peas and potatoes can be cooked in separate dishes above the chicken. Serve an apple or tomato salad with this dinner and a light dessert.

Homes Can Have Healthy Air Without Big Expense

While 50 years ago it was believed that the only demand for correct ventilation was that the air be free from carbon dioxide, the Holland Institute of Thermology of Holland, Mich., points out that present standards place emphasis upon air-supply, temperature, relative humidity and air-motion.

Adequate air-supply means that every room receives 30 cubic feet of air per minute for each person in it. Proper temperature is generally held to be from 68 to 70 degrees. With this, a relative humidity of about 40 per cent should be maintained. Finally, the air should be kept in constant circulation.

The modern type of "super-circulating" heating system completely changes the air in each room from four to six times an hour, giving more than the required 30 cubic feet of air per minute per occupant, and keeping it in moderate motion constantly. It also embodies an automatic humidifier, which makes the humidity standard easy to maintain, and, of course, it supplies adequate heat.

Babson Commends Home Cooling Idea

Roger Babson, internationally famous economist, predicts that in the near future automatic cooling of homes will be recognized as a standard thing in this country.

"Experience with automatic heating and mechanical refrigeration," states a recent issue of Babson's Reports, "has developed to the point where new homes are now being built in which the temperature can be automatically controlled all the year round. This will also include keeping the rooms at the proper humidity. Automatic cooling has for some time been successfully operated in theaters and department stores. In extending it to smaller buildings, both industrial and domestic, it is simply applying and extending the principles of electric and gas refrigeration which are proving increasingly popular."

In line with this forecast, says the Holland Institute of Thermology, Holland, Mich., the latest development in the warm air heating industry is the "super-circulating" system which propels cool air through the house to summer as well as warm air in winter.

PRICED TO GIVE YOU GREATEST VALUE

CONSIDER the delivered, fully equipped price of this charming Nash "400" Sedan, and you'll see immediately it is a car you certainly should consider, when you get ready to buy.

For here, at a delivered, fully equipped price much lower than you would expect to pay for a car of its size and character, is an Advanced Six "400" Sedan with the Twin Ignition, high compression, valve-in-head, 7-bearing motor—with the beauty and style that have made the "400" a heavy favorite among all the year's new cars—and with a host of other costly-car features never available before in this price field.

Such features, for instance, as Bijur Centralized Chassis Lubrication which oils 29 chassis points at the pressure of a pedal. And alloy steel springs individually designed for its size and weight, correlated with Houdaille, double-action, outboard-mounted, hydraulic shock absorbers. And the "world's easiest steering!"

These are only a few of the features of this Nash "400", but they give you an idea of its greater value and the extraordinarily fine performance you may expect from it.

The delivered, fully equipped price on this, and on all "400" models is lower, for the simple reason that all this equipment—Bijur Centralized Chassis Lubrication, Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire lock, and tire cover—is installed at the factory and included in the factory price. Some dealers charge as much as $50 to $60 extra for bumpers alone.

New Star Route May Start Sept. 16th P. O. Department Says

Chapman Tells What Patrons Must Do To Get New Mail Service

Congressman Harold G. Hoffman has been advised by the post office department that establishment of the rural mail delivery route for service to the outlying districts of South Amboy would be established on September 16th, 1929. The route will include service for Melrose, President Park, Morgan Heights, Bay View Manor and other outlying sections.

According to Postmaster Robert Chapman, all boxes must be erected by September 1st, and residents desiring this mail delivery service should act accordingly. The boxes to be erected must be of the new style and the largest size, and must be placed on the right hand side of the road of the route traveled by the carrier. Mr. Chapman would be glad to furnish any information desired by anyone living in the districts covered. The route will be covered by a carrier, leaving the local post office at eight o'clock in the morning and returning at noon. The delivery service will be effective every day except Sundays and holidays. The residents will also enjoy the privileges of parcel post service and money order service.

No civil service examination has as yet been announced. The local office, however, is in receipt of information that the salary paid will be $1,620 per year, with eighty-four cents a day allowance for gas and oil, the successful applicant, of course, must furnish his own car. It is estimated that the route covered is twenty miles. Success in securing this new mail route is the direct result of efforts of Congressman Hoffman and Postmaster Chapman.

The mail boxes erected should have the owners names thereon and later a number will be given by the post office department. Mr. Chapman expects to solicit the aid of organizations in the different localities to assist in organizing this route and in acquainting the people with the requirements to receive this service.

The following route has been designated by the post office department: Melrose; Scott Ave. north side; Ridgeway avenue, both sides; Fouratt avenue, one half on corner of Scott and Fouratt; Oak street, both sides; Kearney Road, both sides; Kearney avenue, west side; Roll avenue, east side; Clay street, north side; Perrine avenue, west side.

Washington Road, north side; Old Burlington Road, both sides; Coolidge avenue, east side; Harding avenue from Garfield to Harrison, both sides; Harding avenue, from Coolidge avenue to Washington Road, west side; Ernston Road, east side; Bordentown avenue, south side; Cheesequake Road, to Morgan plant gate, both sides; upper Main street, to Catholic cemetery, both sides.

Pine avenue, both sides; Wesco street, both sides; Lincoln street, to Woodland avenue south side; Lincoln street, Woodland avenue to end, both sides; Liberty street, Woodland avenue to Stevens avenue, both sides; Liberty street, Woodland avenue to Pine avenue, north side; Luke street, south side; Vineyard avenue, west side; Old Morgan Road to railroad, both sides; Applegate Place, south side; Morgan avenue, south of Applegate Place, west side.

Circle on Morgan Heights all residences on Cliff avenue must have boxes placed in circle; Second street, north side; Fearey Place, south side; Morgan Bench, west side; Morgan Road, Laurence Harbor to Cady's, east side; Main street, east side; Willow street, north side; Morgan avenue, both sides; Haussling Place, north side; Dolan street, both sides.

To acquaint the residents in these localities as to what they must do, the following is published:

What The Patrons Must Do
"Persons desiring the benefits of service on a rural delivery route are required to furnish, erect and properly maintain at their own cost boxes for the reception of mail to be delivered or collected by the carrier."

"More than one family, but not more than five families, may use the same box, provided written notice of such agreement is filed with the postmaster at the initial post office."

"It is a requirement of the Department that rural mail boxes shall be so placed that they may be conveniently served by the carriers without dismounting from their conveyances, and that they shall be located on the right hand side of the road in the direction of travel of the carriers in all cases where the traffic conditions are such as would make it dangerous for the carriers to drive to the left in order to reach the boxes, or their so driving would constitute a violation of traffic laws or regulations."

"Wherever several families reside in close proximity to each other and do not care to have their mail deposited in a common box they should group their boxes so that the carrier may serve all in the group during one stop."

"All boxes must comply with certain specifications fixed by the Postmaster General as to size, shape, and workmanship, and be approved by the Department."

"Each box must be equipped with some kind of signal by which the carrier may know there is mail in the box for collection. A list of the manufacturers of approved boxes, together with the prices charged by them for the two sizes, will be found in the Monthly Supplement to the Official Postal Guide, which may be seen upon application at any post office."

"The use of locks on boxes is not absolutely required but is encouraged as a measure of protection. If patrons provide locks for their boxes, carriers shall accept the keys and unlock the boxes when serving them. Patrons should cooperate to facilitate the carrier's work by notifying for each route locks of such patrons that master keys should be fitted to them. Master keys should be delivered only to postmasters at distributing offices who will place them in the hands of carriers."

"Postmasters and carriers are prohibited from assisting in the sale of any particular box, or acting directly or indirectly as agents for any box manufacturer or agent; but postmasters are permitted to order, for present or prospective patrons upon the patron's request, any approved box selected by the patrons, but must not receive any compensation or profit for such accommodation."

"Rural mail boxes are by law afforded the same protection from injury and depreciation as any other regulation box, and are regarded as United States mail boxes and should be used exclusively for the reception of mail matter. Mailable matter deposited in patrons' boxes is subject to the rules governing the mails, including proper addressing and the payment of postage at the regular rate."

"Persons neglecting or refusing to comply with these conditions will be regarded as not desiring rural delivery, and the carrier will be directed not to serve them."

"Patrons are expected to afford the formance of their duties, by keeping carriers every facility in the performance of their duties after heavy snowfalls and by using their influence with the proper authorities to maintain them in good repair."

"Postmasters will report to the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General the names of all patrons maintaining inappropriate, unsafe, or unsuitable boxes indicating kind and size of box; also the names of patrons whose boxes are improperly erected on routes, when such patrons shall have failed to provide approved boxes or made necessary repairs or changes in location upon due notice on Form 4056."

"Service must not be withdrawn from any box without specific instructions from the Department."

Little Traffic

Congestion Here

Last Week End

Officials Making Study of Traffic Conditions In This Section.

There was but little traffic congestion here over the last week end and local police found no necessity for making arrests or issuing summonses to drivers for infractions of the regulation. There was for a time a little congestion on the Victory Bridge, however, but it didn't last long enough to back up into this city.

With the attention that the conditions tending to cause congestion on the bridge is getting from several sources it is not expected that there will be any serious tie ups until the Labor Day holiday week end early in September. Then it is quite likely that there will be another tie up here nearly as bad, perhaps worse, than the one following the Fourth of July.

The State Highway Commission proposes to open the Keyport cutoff this week end to light traffic. The new road over the new bridge on the outskirts of the Monmouth County town is still unfinished, but the work has reached such an advanced stage that the light traffic is not expected to do any damage. The opening of the cut off will relieve one source of congestion, the narrow road over the Matawan Creek bridge just this side of Keyport. Incidentally it will enable the automobiles to reach this city in greater numbers and is expected to further complicate the situation at the Convery Place bridge in Perth Amboy.

The recent congestion that clogged the highways about here for miles in both directions recently has resulted in several investigations being ordered into conditions causing the tie-ups.

The State Highway Commission proposes to examine with a critical eye the Victory Bridge itself; Perth Amboy officials are studying the methods used in handling the traffic there, Sayreville is being importuned to do something about policing the bridge plaza, and State Troopers are considering what may be done. Various civic organizations are offering suggestions such as painting white lines on the pavement, elimination of all trucks from the highway during the heavy travel hours; more police supervision so as to lessen the number and seriousness of accidents; bridging of Smith street to carry the highway over top; widening of Convery Place road and Convery Place Bridge; rerouting traffic through Perth Amboy to use Amboy avenue the old highway, too; building a new road between Perth Amboy and Woodbridge; and the abandonment of the traffic light nuisances being among the suggestions offered.

State Troopers are waging a campaign throughout the state against reckless drivers and are centering efforts to some extent in this section during the heavy travel of week ends. Drivers that pull out of line to block the road or pavement against cars traveling in the opposite direction are particularly marked for prosecution. Careless parking and unwarranted speeds are also to be closely checked.

A local citizen suggests that a great deal of relief of the congestion along the neck of the bottle area on Convery Place in Perth Amboy would be afforded if there were no parking at all allowed anywhere along the road between the draw bridge and the Woodbridge line. This suggestion particularly applies to the vicinity of New Brunswick avenue intersection where there are usually several cars parked in front of residences or opposite the garage on the corner of the intersection. The no parking allowed regulation, regardless of tire or engine trouble, might be beneficially extended to include the entire Victory Bridge and the approach on both sides. The State regulations forbidding parking a car on the pavement under any circumstances should be enforced hereabouts, too, particularly during the heavy travel periods.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Maria Brynes

Funeral services for Mrs. Maria Brynes, who died at her home on First street on Tuesday, July 9th, were held last Friday morning, when a solemn high mass was celebrated at St. Mary's church. Dr. E. C. Griffin was celebrant, Father Faber, deacon and Father Marone, sub-deacon. The sermon was given by Dr. Griffin. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery, the pall bearers being nephews of the deceased; Joseph, William Roarke, of New York City; John George and Paul O'Neill, of Jersey City.

The deceased was the oldest living native South Amboyian and was the widow of the late Michael G. Brynes.
